Bound & Determined

Bound and determined. These words put together could bring to mind our school, Frankton. Bound is usually defined as destined, sure, or certain. Determined is defined as decided or settled. We are a small school and many think that we should combine with other small schools. Frankton is quite determined to remain the Mighty Eagles. We have proved ourselves in many ways by excelling in athletics,

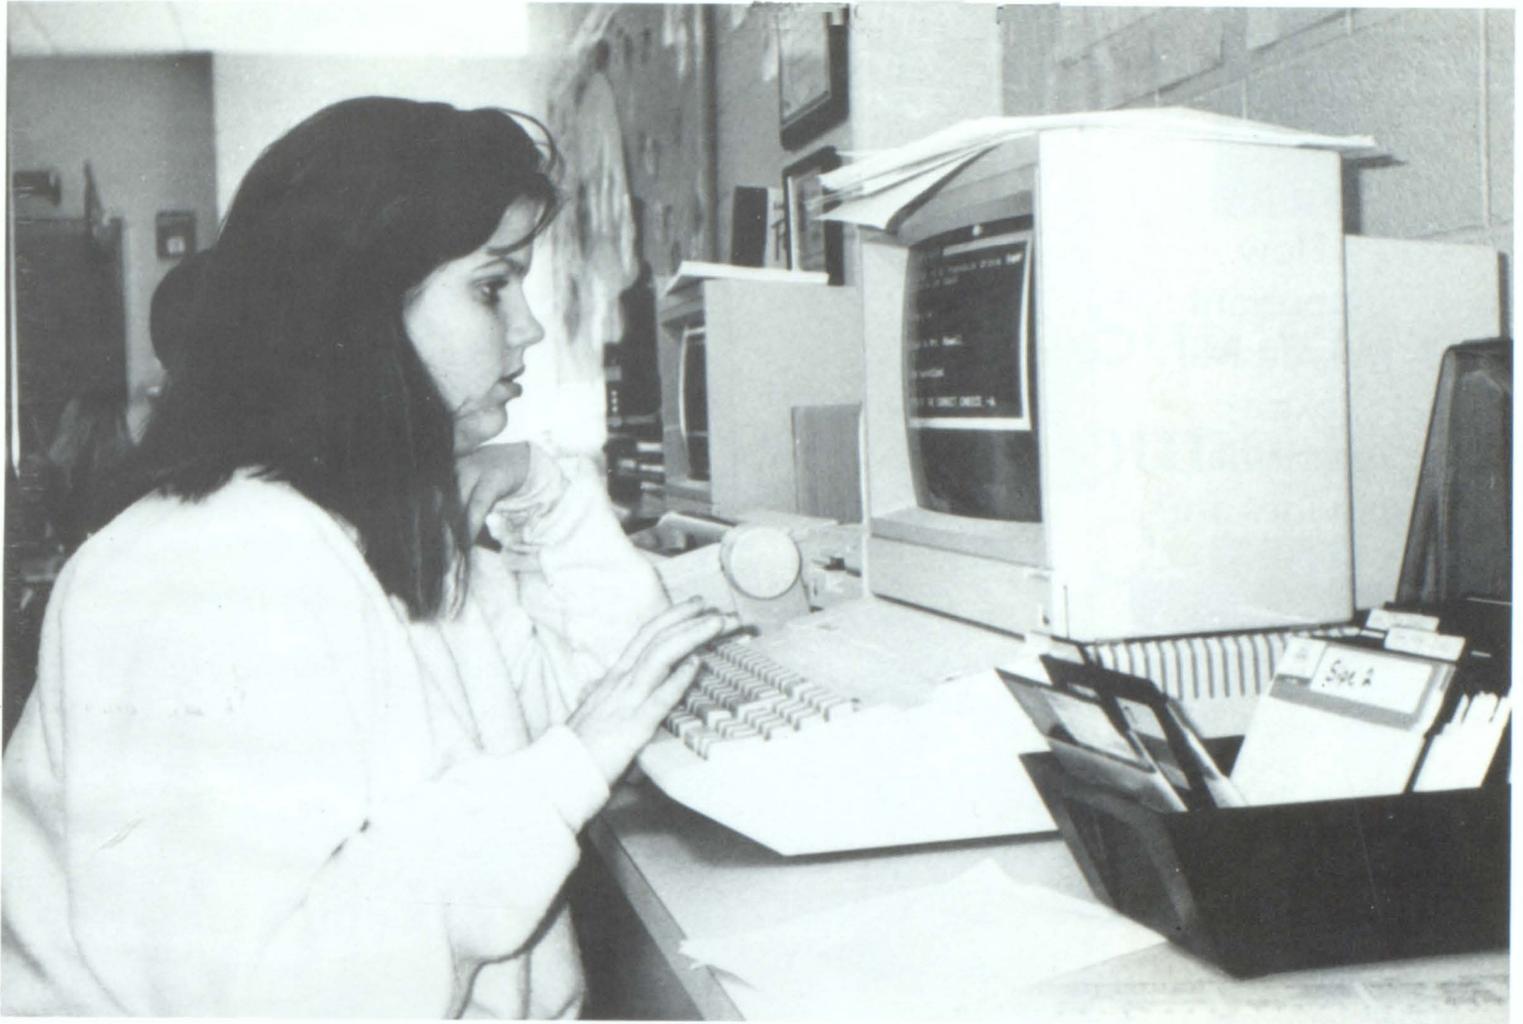

What do you do that makes you stand out from everybody else?

“I stand up for what I believe no matter what anyone else thinks. To me it doesn’t matter if everyone else disagrees with me. It doesn’t make them right.” Matt Philips academics, and showing off our musical talents. Although our school is on a smaller scale, we have stood through all the myths said about our school. We are a small secluded school, but our friendships and student-teacher relationships are a lot closer than any other school. We are determined to stick together and keep showing our school spirit whether it be in sports, academics, clubs, or drama.

Brandi Borum looks as though she is very determined to pass her EBS tests. EBS is part of every English class's curriculum.

Jason Rodewald is bound to have fun at his class party. The sophomore class party was one of the activities that the sophomores organized.

How important

extracurricular activities are?

because it helps you get into shape. ”

Student Life

Hocus Pocus! Robyn Jones dresses the part of the wicked witch for Halloween.

Steve Jackson puts the finishing touches on Chad Barr's haircut before a wrestling meet in Fort Wayne. This is an annual ritual for the wrestlers.

Hola! Caryn Watson, Brian Adams, and Kacy Garmen "cheese it" for the camera during Spanish class.

Students Bound to be Different

Student Life is a big and important part of our school. Student Life is exactly what it says, the life of our students here at Frankton Jr./Sr. High School.

Classes can be boring and without the extra Homecoming games, Sectional dress-up days, and Prom, school life can be very monotonous and hard to handle.

Although we are here to learn, many students still remember all the fun they had at after school activities rather than the classes that they took. Dances, games, parties, and friends will always be remembered and seem to be an important part of your high school years.

Friendship

Friends. There are many definitions of a friend. The people you hang out with, talk to, and laugh with. Some friends are better than others, and some come and go. They all have one thing in common, a soon cherished memory.

You will always remember high school, the people from high school. People are an important part of high school. A friend can be what makes high school seem so great.

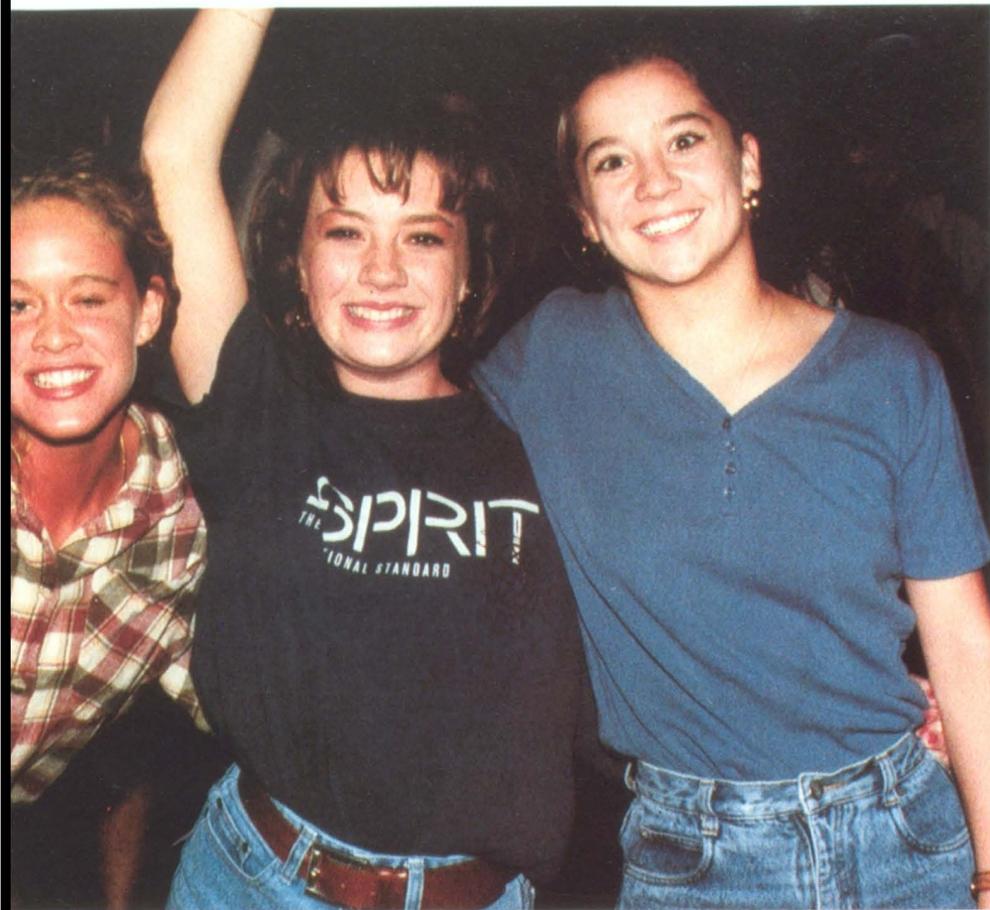

There is always a person that you never shared much time with, but always knew was your friend. This person you could tell anything, but for some reason never realized was your true friend. "You always believe that the people you see everyday are your true friends, but never realize the true friend is that one person who you never talk to, but then they are always there for you when you need someone," says Justin Turner.

In the years to come you will remember these times with people so long forgotten. You may laugh, you may even cry, but the best part is, you will always remember. Remember these times forever and always cherish in your heart the memories of friends.

Friendship is common at dances. Just ask sophomores Beth Henderson, Doris Leeman, Elizabeth Merritt, Sarah Wright, Lindsay Davis, Jamie Reeves and Alysa Burk.

The best of friends, Michelle House, Jenny Ifert, Nancy Means and Tricia Delphia stop dancing for a minute for this group shot.

Taking time out with friends. That is exactly what Amanda House and Jessica Tibbet are doing after a band competition in Florida.

New friends were made in Florida. Danielle Brashear, John Richardson, Michelle House, Jessica Hahn, Charity George, Brian Adams and Kenny Smith show this while standing in front of a palm tree.

Stresses of school

High school can be a very stressful environment, whether it be the tests, homework, faculty, or relationships. Some deal with stress very well and others have a hard time dealing with it.

Many think that your Junior year is the most stressful. Others, think it is your Freshman year. For all the other grades, I'm sure at times they think that they have the most stress. Maybe they are all right. Let's face it, high school can be a very stressful time.

Some teachers help decrease the stress factor of the students and others just seem to sky-rocket it. It always seems as though all the teachers pile on the homework all at the same time. You always feel like you have three written reports, two tests, and a quiz all in the same day.

Although stress can be very harmful, it can also be very helpful. We could not grow and mature as people without some kind of stress. Without stress, high school would not be the same experience and if it were totally stress-free then students would not be ready for the "real world."

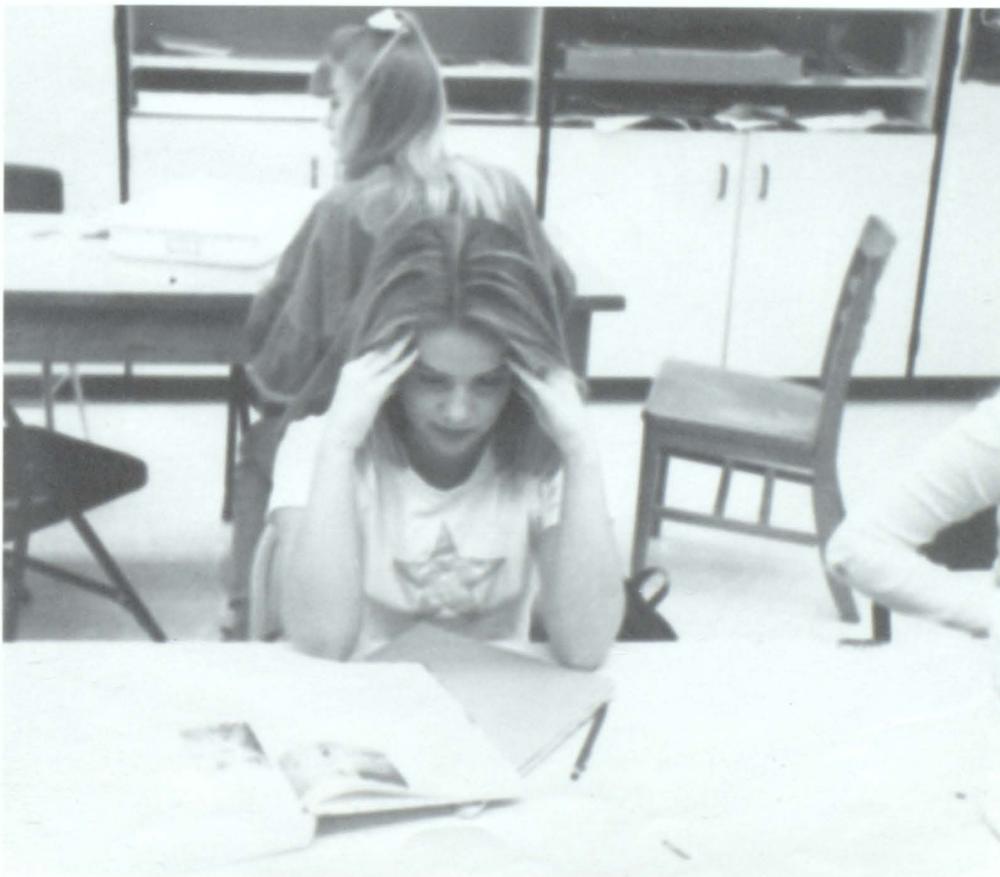

Christy McDonald finishes her home-work during Geometry. Using that extra time wisely can be stressful now, but may give free time later.

Looking confused, Honesty Hart, Steve Clute, and Josh Cox try to do their homework during their study hall. Study halls are very helpful in getting homework done to relieve students hectic schedules.

Christina Braden takes a break from her work by reading the newspaper. This is one way students can relieve their stress.

A frustrated Kelly Harrison tries to do her chemistry work during art class. School can be very stressful with all of the homework and tests that students have to go through.

What's in Style

Grunge, the baby doll look, barrettes, this is what you see as you walk down the halls of Frankton. Many trends have come and gone this year. From the flannel Kurt Cobain look, to the Courtney Love, baby doll look, we've seen it all.

Guys are going back to basics with T-shirts and pants that fit, while the girls are moving on to explore the fashion world to its height. We see the girls being more daring, wearing short skirts and thigh high socks. To those who were really daring, we see Mr. Boles asking them to cover themselves.

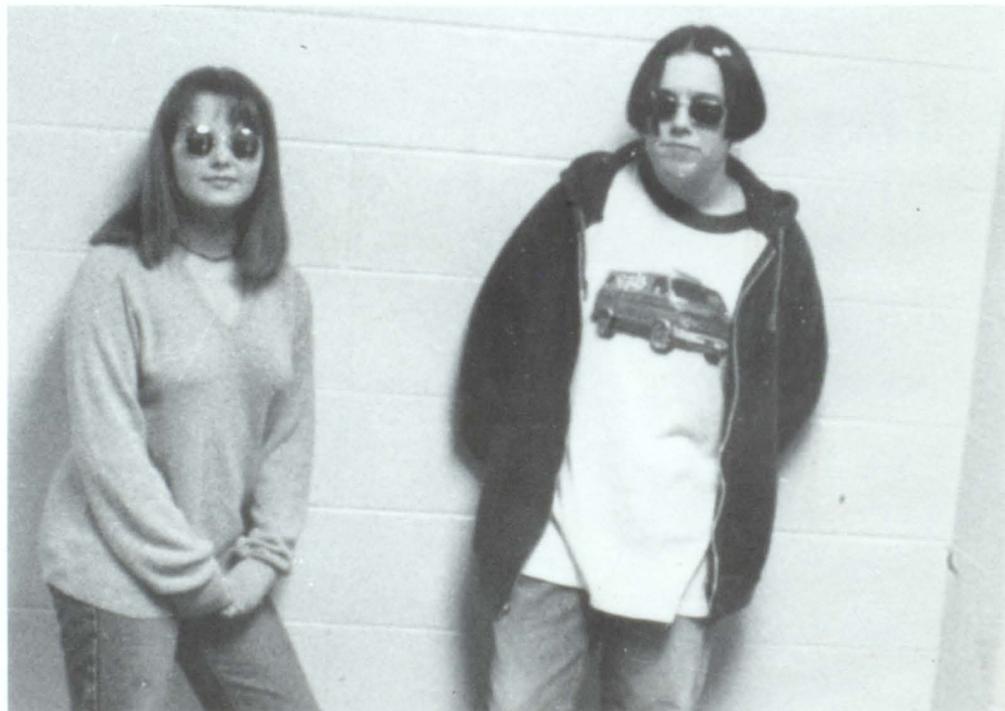

Now that the sagging phase is slowly fading out, we see the more basic fashion trends coming back for the guys. There are some guys who still wear the jeans, not sagging, but still a couple of sizes too big, and T-shirts down to their knees.

Most of the girls have gotten rid of big baggy clothes and traded them in for a smaller, tighter fit. Girls seem to be more self-confident this year, baring more and keeping less of themselves covered.

Another fashion trend sweeping schools including Frankton, are the heels of the shoes getting higher and thicker. To some this may appeal, but to others it's revolting and brings back the unwanted memories of seeing their parents putting on their old clothes they found in the attic. Just put up with it, it's just a fashion trend.

The school year has come to an end and another fashion trend has come and gone, we look forward to all the trends to come.

Grungemasters! Tawny Couch and Lindsay Davis show just how grunged out they can be.

Tiny T's and baggy bibs. Girls wore everything from tight and short to big and baggy, just look the Hobbs girls Mindy, Amanda and Stephanie.

Tiffany Zion and Amber Cross dress up for twin day. White and colored tights and thigh highs were very popular to wear with baby doll dresses.

Peace man! Joni Benefiel and Rachel Hall show that they are peaceful and drugfree ("The Shoes"). Tie-dyed T's were very popular this year.

Homecoming

Students go all out to show their school spirit

Homecoming was not as exciting this year as it has been in the past.

As the team walked from the field, the devastation of a striking 27-12 loss could be seen on each player's face. The loss to Yorktown was quite a disappointment for the football team.

The seniors, however, appeared to be the most devastated of all, having lost their last Homecoming.

The Monday before the game was Woodstock Day. A real show of spirit was seen as students arrived at school looking as if they had stepped out of 1969.

Tuesday was a day for hats, sunglasses, and boxers.

A day for dressing as the opposite sex and wearing your clothes any way, but the right way, was Wednesday.

Rainbow Day and Crazy Hair Day was on Thursday, which was a day of wacky braids, lots of hairspray, and wearing a specific color for your class.

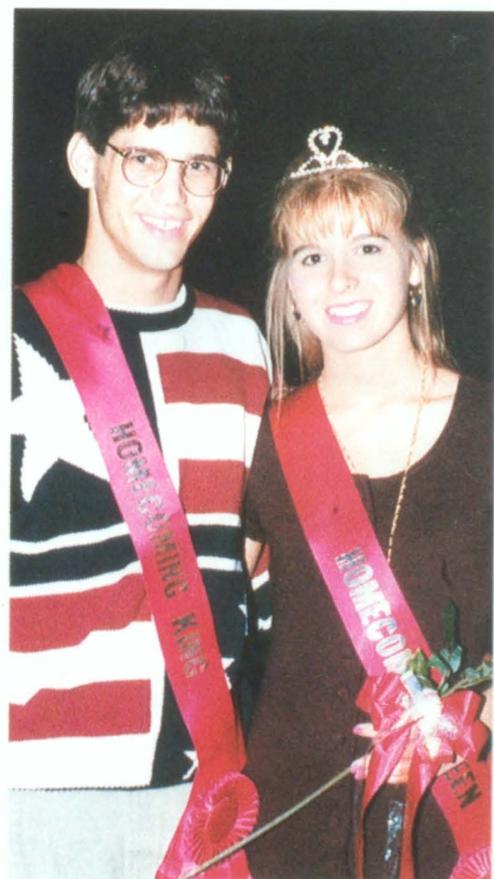

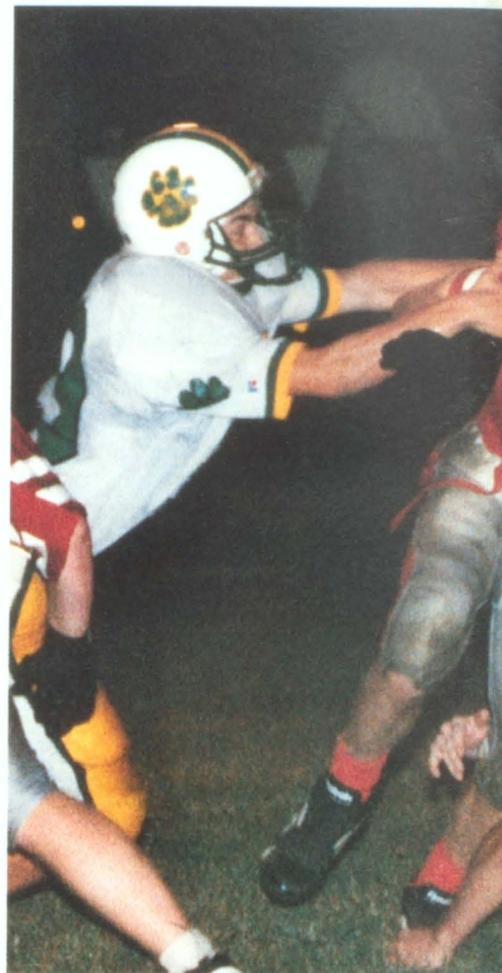

Friday, Red and White Day, was a day of paint with a lot of anticipation as the day crept by, coming to an end as the Homecoming games started the last two periods of the day.

Senior Jeremy Fetty, or as most at Powder Puff knew him, Fetina, was crowned Powder Puff Queen.

Eighth graders decorate their class float for the homecoming parade. Many classes and clubs showed their school spirit by participating in many activities during homecoming week.

Royalty at its finest. Mike McDuffee and Amanda Hobbs were announced as King and Queen during halftime at the game. The two were crowned at the Coronation Dance the week before.

Busting through some Yorktown tackles, Danny Elsten strains to gain yardage during the Homecoming Game. Elsten rushed for 1,202 yards during the season.

The freshman float shows that they are ready for Coach Cress and the football team to "hammer away" at the Tigers. Amanda Quimby donned the Eagle getup for the event.

Tiger meat was on the menu. Justin Shirley pretended to steam a Tiger on the junior homecoming float for a very hungry Jason Hobbs and Clint Hall.

Content and pacified. Juniors April Singer, Jason Hobbs, and Marc Henderson relive childhood memories during the games.

Alternatives to Dancing

The Junior High had many dances this year. Some of the dances that were: the Yearbook/Christmas dance, Valentine's, Halloween, Homecoming, and also a St. Patrick's Day dance that was for the sixth graders to come and meet some of the seventh graders to get to know them better before next year.

Some of the Jr. High students had different opinions about the dances.

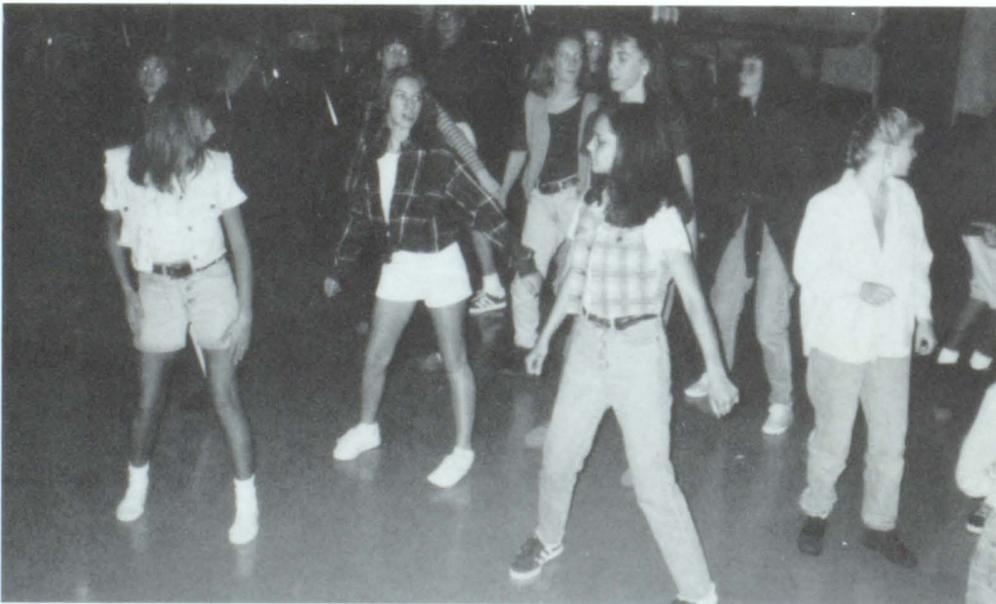

Amanda Talley said, "Our dances are boring, because there isn't anything exciting about them." This could be true to some students, but other students think differently.

Jessica Baker said, "Some of the dances were fun, there was a lot of our friends there to talk to and you can be yourself around them." Some students had a few ideas to make their dances better, like having a better variety of music and having an open gym, so if you don't want to dance you could go and play sports or just hang out.

Some people in the Jr. High think that dances are good for you to socialize with your class mates, to get to know them better. Some of them want dances to be shorter so they can have longer time for team activities. Just like Kevin Nichols who said, "I like the dances, but I would rather have a longer basketball season." James Thompson also said he would like to see this change.

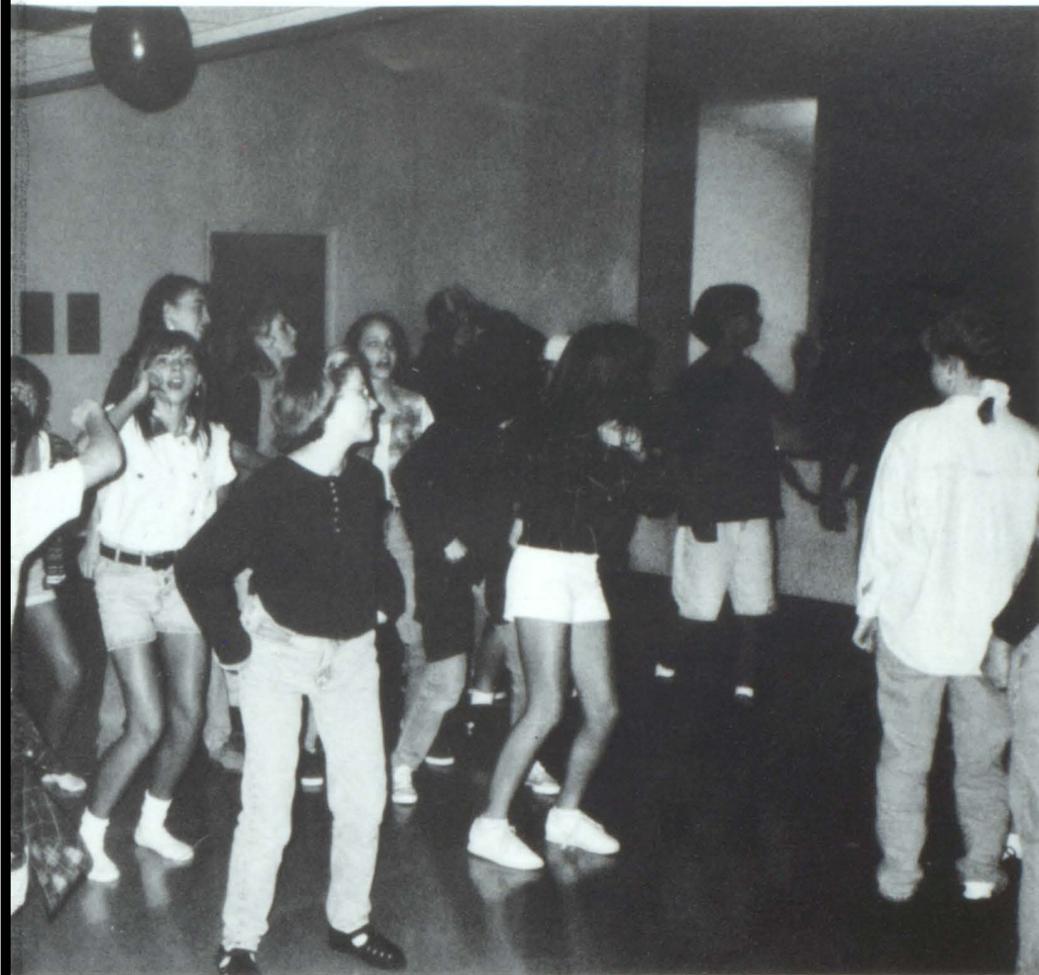

So should the Jr. High dances be changed or left the same? Well it's mainly up to the Jr. High student council members to decide if they should be changed.

No Dance or Not to Dance

What is there to do after the games besides "dance around for a couple of hours and get crazy, sweat, and then go home," said Clint Clark.

Many people have different opinions on the high school dances. Some say they are fun, but others think they are boring. "Dances are bad because we can never find a good deejay until the end of the year," said Mike McDuffee. On the other hand, you can be with all your friends and get crazy at the dances. Dances can also keep high school students from getting in trouble after the home basketball and football games.

We have many sock-hops during the year. Most of them are after home games. Then we also have dress-up dances for Homecoming and Valentine's Day.

Dances are also a good source of income for many clubs and groups. Clubs can sponsor a dance during the year and make profits for their clubs. So even if the dances are boring, you may be helping one of your clubs to do more fun things.

Steve Humphries sees how many pies he can eat during a pie eating contest. The contest was during a dance sponsored by Girl's Ensemble.

How low can ya go? David Blackford limbos while Kelin Flanders and Holly Bott hold the pole.

ound and Determined

Variety Show '94-'95

On May 23rd, many of Frankton's talented young singers, actors, and musicians came out to strut their stuff.

The show opened up with an introduction from the hosts Mike McDuffee, Clint Clark, and Todd Rodewald portraying the roles of Mr. Boles, Mr. Warner, and Mr. Phil Davis. Students displayed their ability to act by presenting many creative skits such as Charity George and Daniel Riley's "Dirty Dancing" and the fashion show that brought you clothes from the 20's, 30's, 40's, and 50's that you have never even seen in a discount store. "Model's Stink," was performed by Justin Shirley, Daniel Riley, Tawny Couch, Angie Thiel, and Tiffany Anderson.

Many also showed their vocal talent. There were solos sung by: Kandis Beardsley, Kevin Couch, Drew Beever, Mike Lawson, Charity George, and Carrie Benefiel. In a vocal trio of Tawny Couch, Tiffany Anderson, and Angie Thiel, Anderson wrote and composed the song, "Looks Like Rain". Loranda Cunningham, Cheryl Edgecomb, Nikia Denman, and Tiana O'Brien, a vocal quartet sang "Can You Feel the Love Tonight". A rock band of Zach Hinkle, Ty Conwell, Nick O'Brien, and Dustin Parks performed "Nirvana's" "On a Plane" in which Hinkle sang.

Jr. High Show Choir, Sapphire Silhouettes, and Frankton's showstoppers were also a part of the night.

Other performances such as a woodwind duet, a song from Allan Rhodes, and a very creative music video from the Music Theory class showed their talents. A percussion Ensemble known as "Black Eyed Peas" performed the "African Monk Redemption." The Ensemble consists of Sterling Grubbs, Justin Shirley, Peter Bales, Scott Epperly, April Singer, and Kurt Cooper.

Many students thought the Variety show was a hit and can not wait until next year's show.

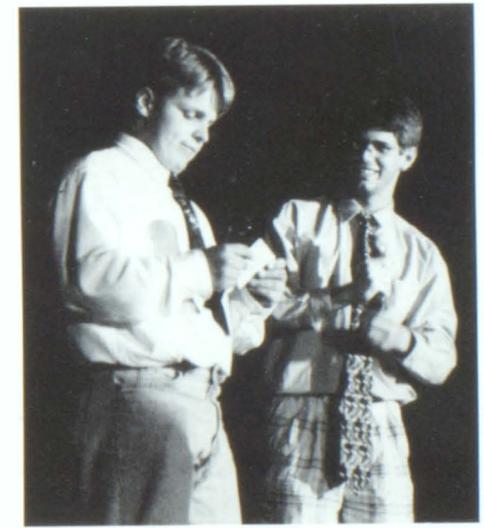

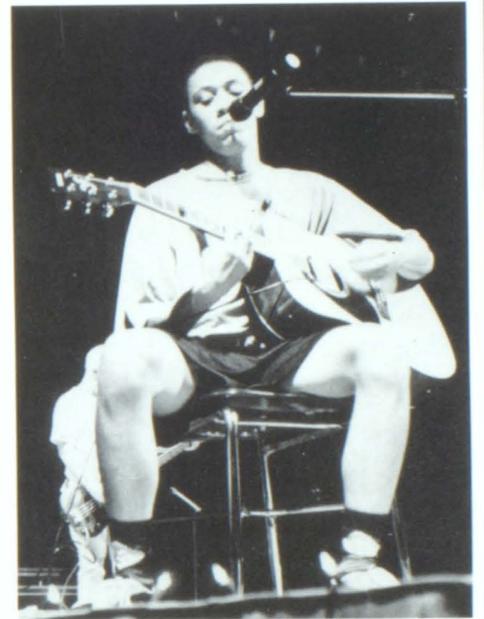

Kandis Beardsley, a 7th grader, shows off her vocal talent with the song, "Beauty and the Beast".

Dancing the Night Away

The MORP Dance has been a tradition for many years. It is usually held a few weeks before Prom and is somewhat the opposite from Prom. This dance gives girls a chance to ask the guys out, while giving the guys a night of not having to pay for everything. This year the dance was Friday, April 14.

Other than dancing the students could play volleyball on the net set up in the gym. There were pictures taken by Mr. Sipe and the Disc Jockey was Todd Rodewald.

.....

A waterfall running into a stream under a bridge, trees, vines, bushes, rocks, and flowers set the atmosphere of a rain forest for our prom May 6, 1995. The theme is "Forever You and Me" which is a line from the song "Chances Are" by Cher and Peter Cetera.

Nathan Hobbs and Jana Alexander were crowned King and Queen. Members of the Queen's court were Lesley Benefiel, Casey Sizelove, Mandy Surber, and Caryn Watson. The King's court included Nathan Juroff, Cody Kendall, Mike Maryan, and Clint Parsons.

The theme to post prom was "The Enchanted Forest." There were games and activities such as the bungee run, sumo wrestling, the Gyro, and Monte Carlo. There was also a wedding chapel and a food court.

After Post Prom some students spent the day at King's Island.

Justin Shirley takes his turn on the Gyro. Many people stood in long lines for a chance to ride on it.

Graduation

Saying Goodbye to the Class of 1995.

Saying goodbye to your class at graduation is all a part of high school. At one time or another we all have to move on and begin a new part of our lives.

The high school band started commencement off with the National Anthem. They also played the processional and the recessional at the ceremony. The choir dedicated a song to the late Mrs. Vicki Jones and Carrie Benefiel sang a solo.

Brian Adams, 3rd ranked senior, welcomed everyone to the ceremony and then turned the floor over to Clint Clark. Clint is the President of the class of '95.

Robyn Jones, salutatorian, gave a speech of how important friends are. She read a poem entitled friends.

Valedictorian, Todd Rodewald, ended his speech wishing the class of '95 goodluck.

Many seniors stood proud when Mr. Warner announced the senior award winners.

Amanda Closser, 5th ranked senior, closed the ceremony.

7 a D.C. or Bust!

A field trip is where you go to an educational place and also have fun while you are there. Years ago eighth graders used to go to Chicago for a day.

Now things are very different. The eighth grade goes to Washington D.C. for several days.

They began their trip with a long bus ride to Washington D.C. The first thing they did when they arrived was to go on a dinner cruise.

Throughout the rest of the trip they went to sights that can be found in our nation's capitol. They visited the Holocaust Museum, the Smithsonian Institute, and the Capitol Building.

Their visits to the Vietnam Wall and Arlington National Cemetery proved to be the most emotional moments of the trip. The students get to see what war is all about.

Overall the trip proved to be a great learning experience for the eighth graders. It gave them enjoyable memories that will stay in their head for several years to come.

Spring break. A whole week for tired students to unwind and forget about the pressures of school. This break is the most anticipated time of the year. Students spend months planning out where they are going to go and what they are going to do when they get there.

Several people from Frankton migrated south over spring break. A huge flock ended up in Panama City, Florida. They spent their time partying and conducting in other activities not to be mentioned in this story. They also went to the beach and ate at the fine dineries that Florida had to offer.

Other members of the flock ended up in other places of Florida. A few went to Disney World. They got to party with a mouse and a duck, much more fun than the people in Panama City had. (Yeah Right!). If you were in the area of Disney World you probably stopped by the Epcot Center, MGM Studios, Universal Studios, and Sea World.

Not everyone went to Florida. Some got to go to Evansville, Indiana. Namely the baseball team. They had the opportunity to spend the week playing teams from Evansville and practicing. Other sports were also in action that week, prompting some to stay in town and participate in their sport of choice.

The Show Choir went to the Bahamas for a contest. They went on a cruise and spent half of the vacation on the island. They got to meet exotic people and buy shirts that only cost $1.00. These are Experiences that will last them a life time.

The only other option for people was to sit home and vegetate. They had a chance to catch up on what was on Jerry Springer and Sally Jesse Raphael. They also got to catch episodes of Animaniacs that they may have missed during the school year. They probably put on a little weight over the period too.

After a long week students returned to school. They came back a little darker (as in having a tan, not being evil), and their head full of stories to tell about their trips. Everyone except graduating seniors now must wait for next year to live through those things again.

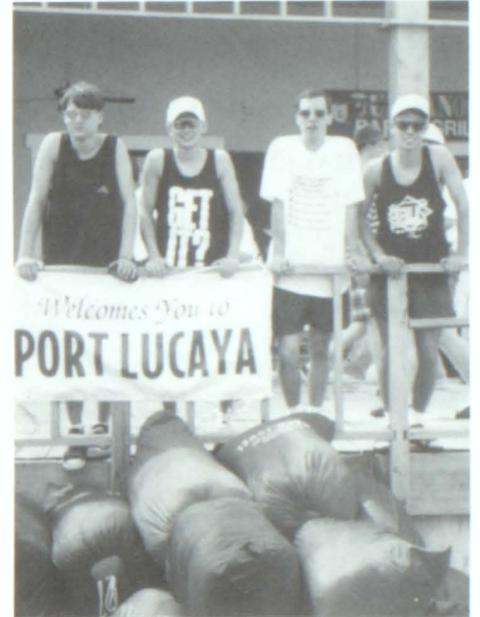

Heather Funk and Misty Hall clown around in an airport terminal on their trip to the Bahamas.

Record Breakers

The Class of 1995 can be considered as the most athletic class this school has ever had. Two examples of this athleticism are Donna Leeman and Jeremy Fetty.

Leeman was a four year starter for the Lady Eagles basketball team, a member of the volleyball team and the girl's track team.

She made her name as a basketball player. During her senior year she broke the scoring record set by her own sister Debbie. During a game against Yorktown Leeman scored her 1,040th point, four more than her sister's previous total. After that game she went on to score several more points to secure her hold of the record.

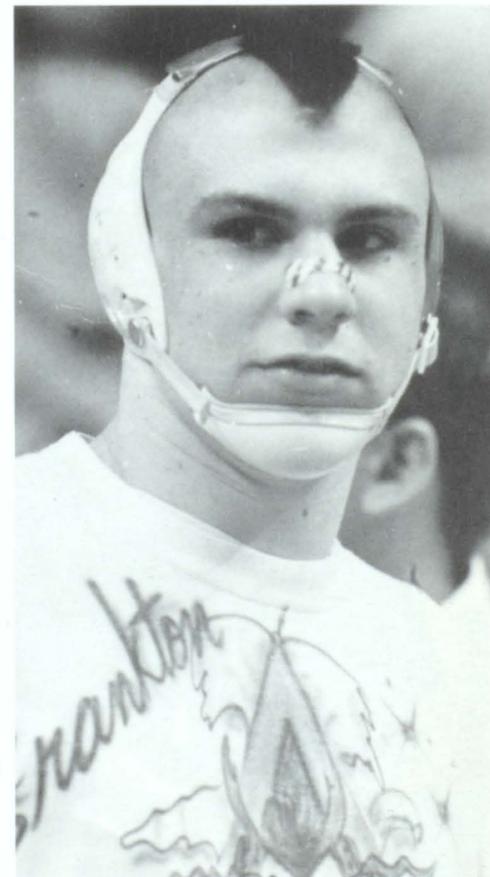

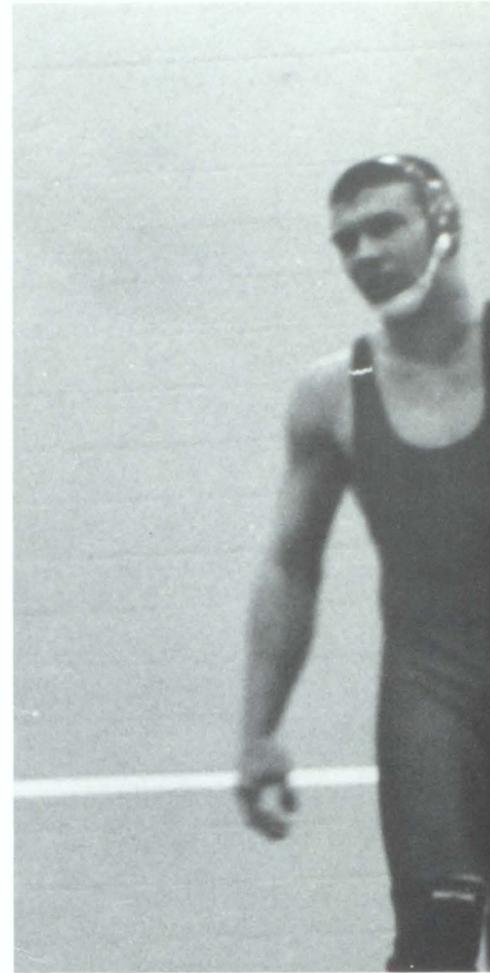

Leeman tries to take control of the game at the very start. She had control of most games during the year.

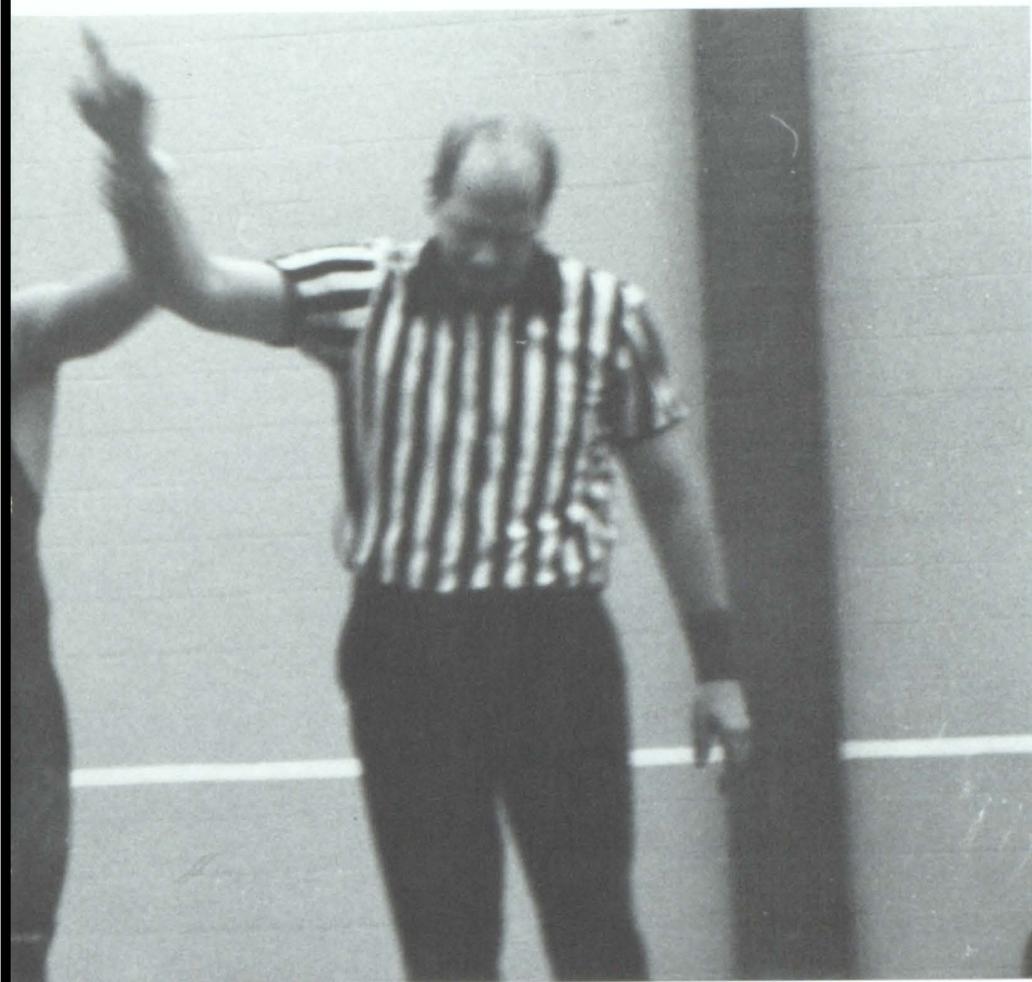

Jeremy Fetty was a four year letterman as a wrestler. He was also played football. But it was wrestling where he made his mark on the school.

Fetty grabbed hold of two records during his senior season. His first record was most wins in school history with 141 wins surpassing the former record holder Brent Mallernee. Fetty also holds the record for most pins in a season with 43. This is both a school and state record.

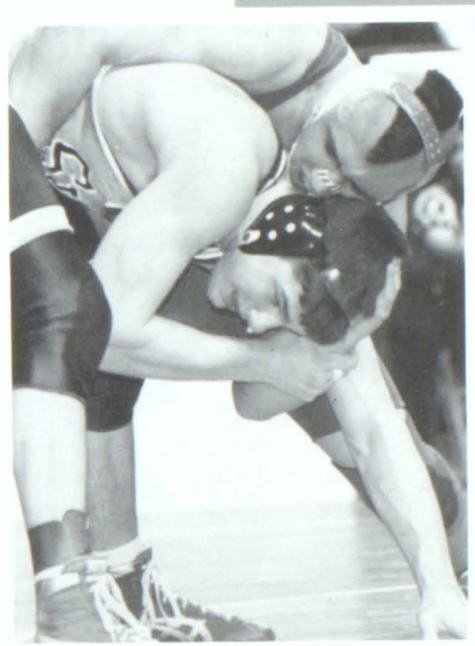

These two athletes symbolized what sports at the high school are all about. They both had record breaking years and led their respected teams to another level. Records that should hold for several years.

With a look of pure intensity. Fetty waits for his next vict...., excuse me opponent.

Fetty's number one, Fetty's number one. Fetty shows that he was at the top this year.

Fetty prepares to finish off an opponent. Fetty had most of his opponents finished early in his matches.

Leeman gets ready to pass the ball to the referee. Other teams had to foul her because she was unstoppable.

Goals Achieved!

Courtney Duncan claims state title

Courtney Duncan. That name will be forever etched in stone at Frankton Junior/Senior High. Some people might ask why that name is so important. Well they must have been under a rock for the whole year, because the reason the name Courtney Duncan is so important is because he claimed the first ever state championship for our school.

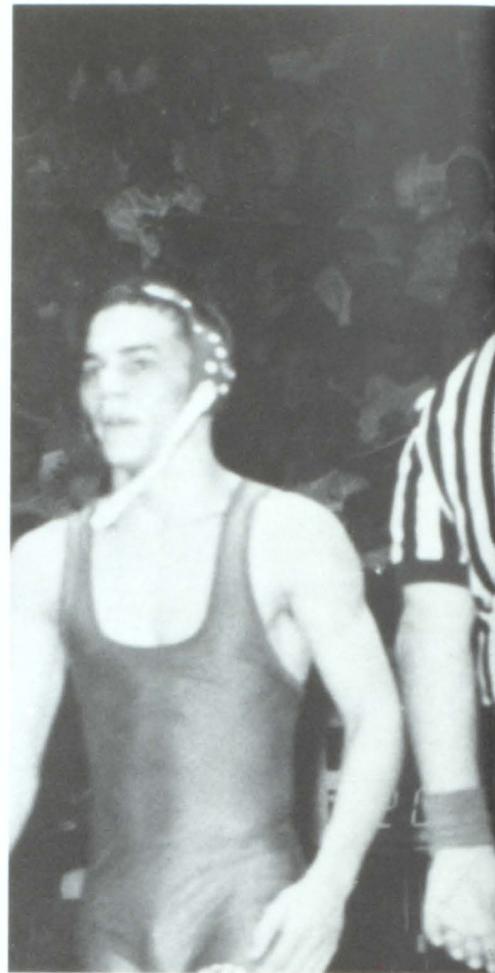

Duncan will stand out for the ages. He accomplished something totally unexpected of him. He tops the list of all the athletes Frankton has ever had. With four wins he gripped hold of his own place in history.

Duncan joins a long line of wrestlers who have made it to the state finals, but he is the only one to win a championship. The only one to stand at the top of a podium at Market Square Arena and be honored for the greatest accomplishment for any student athlete.

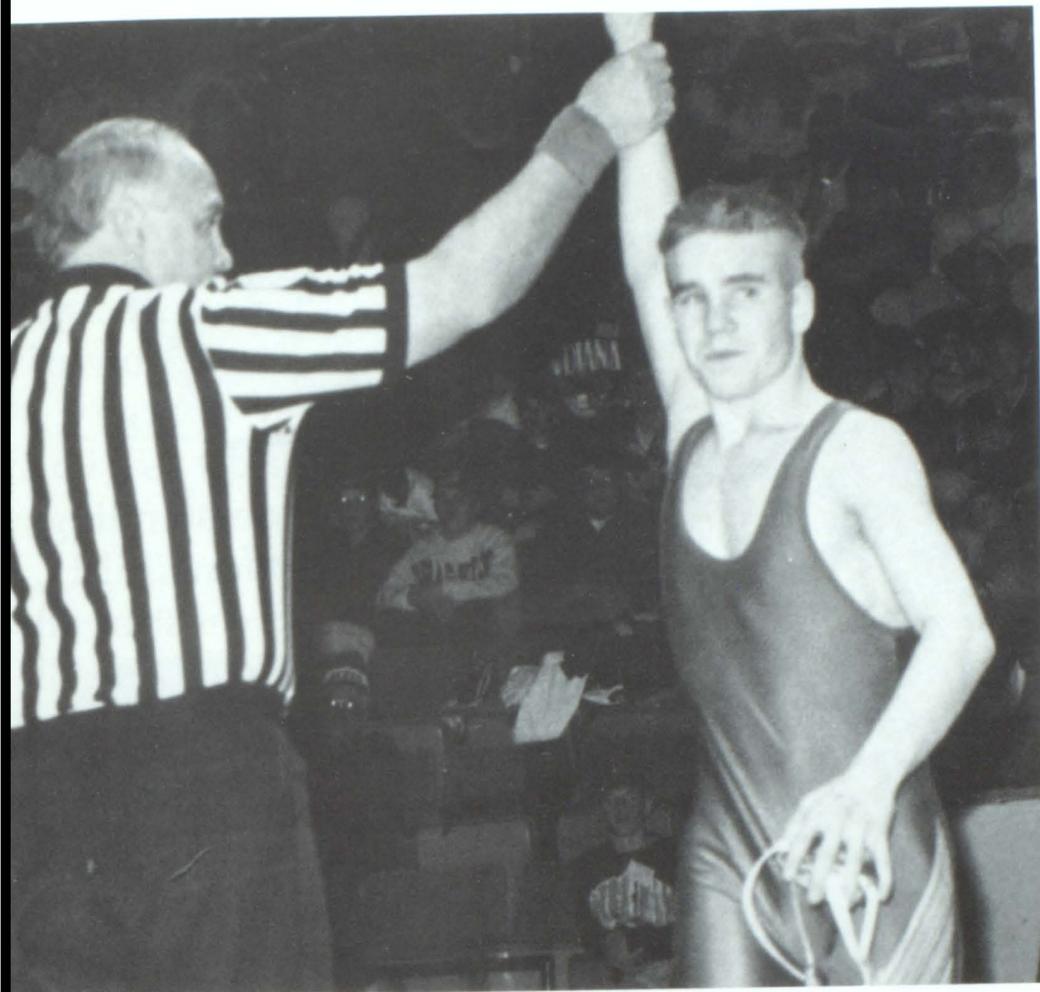

From now until our next champion Duncan will be the symbol of triumph at our school. He will be the one who will be looked at as an inspiration to everyone who strives to win a state championship.

What does Duncan think about his achievement, "I set my goal to win state way back in Elementary when I first started wrestling. I always wanted to be the first state champion in school history, because I knew the memory of winning a state championship would last forever. I hope that me winning state puts an inspiration on other athletes to set their goals high, because winning a state championship is the greatest feeling ever, and no one will be able to take that from you, for as long as you live."

On top of the world. That is how Duncan had to feel after standing on top of the podium at the state finals.

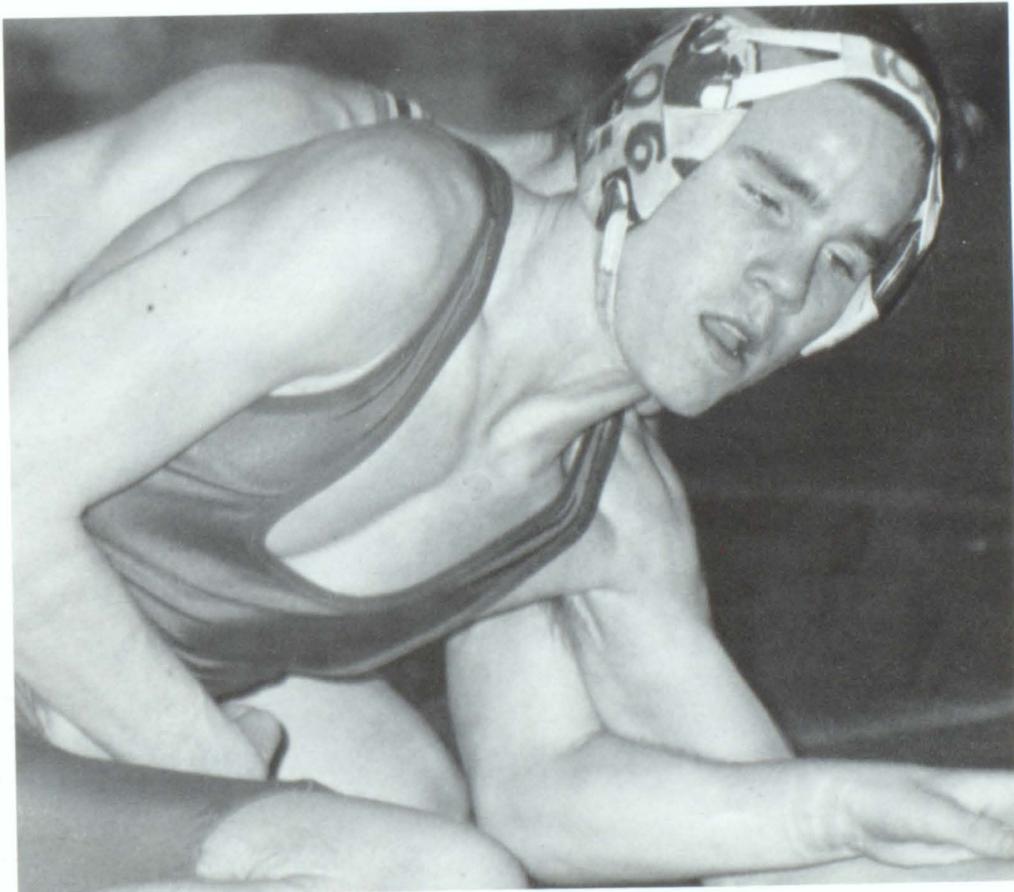

The winning moment. Duncan's hand is raised after winning the 106 pound weight class state championship.

Yet another victim is taken down by Duncan. This is a scene that most of his opponents have seen this year.

With a look of determination on his face, Duncan tries to break free of an opponent's hold.

Vicki Jones, a teacher, a mother, an avid churchgoer, and a friend never to be forgotten. The students that had her for health / P.E., quest, or from her days at the elementary school will always remember her. For many she made a great impact on their lives.

Mrs. Jones not only taught, but she was also a student council sponsor, athletic director, coached cross country, volleyball, girls basketball, and was a good friend to everyone around her. She will be missed by all.

Mrs. Jones contributed more than just teaching and coaching. She also brought a sense of humor to the school, a genuine interest in students, an endless flow of energy, leadership, understanding, responsibility, and most of all her laughter. All of these qualities will be missed as well. She was the type of person who believed in involvement with the students and was committed to her beliefs, values, family, and students.

Many of the students lined up along the road to pay their respects to Mrs. Jones and her family.

Do you feel that clubs are as important as sports and why?

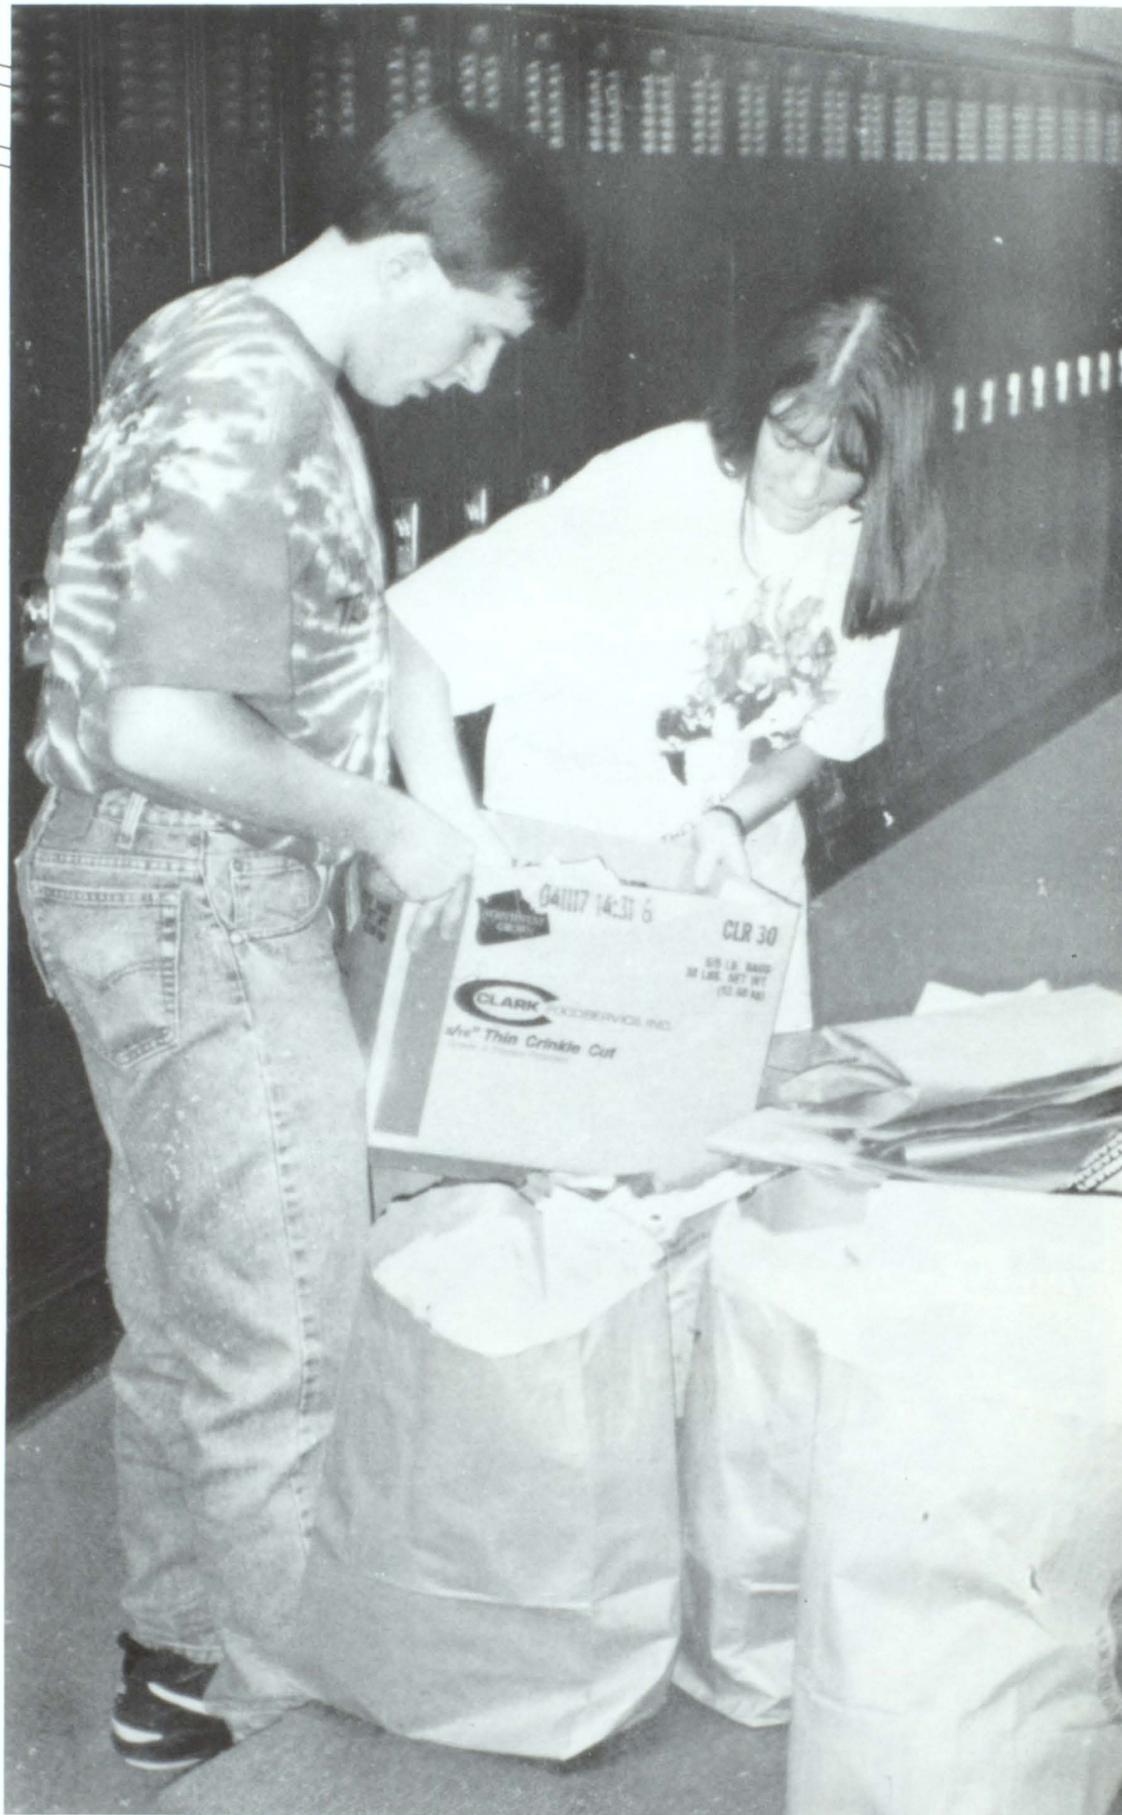

Peter Bales '96

Yes, because people who do not enjoy or do well in sports can be in clubs to show their talents and abilities.

Mandy Quimby '98

Sports are more important, because I think they are more fun and we participate more.

Clubs/Academics

Amanda Drake hands Doris Leeman a sucker during lunch. Sucker sales were sponsored by the choir classes.

Nancy Hall covers her ears while Mr. Coffman demonstrates a physics project.

Kasey Mauck and Todd Rodewald help collect paper for the Honor Society. February was recycling month in our school and sponsored by the Honor Society.

Clubs and Academics are an important part of High School. They give everyone a chance to join a group and be a part of extra-curricular activities. They can help to build social skills and they can also be a lot of fun.

There are many different classes you can take and many different clubs that you can join. Over the course of the year these groups do many things.

These groups can also be good for the not so athletic people. They can fulfill the place of sports and be just as rewarding.

Joining these classes or activities can bring many new friends and fond memories of your years here at Frankton.

Past & Present

English, Math, Science, & Social Studies

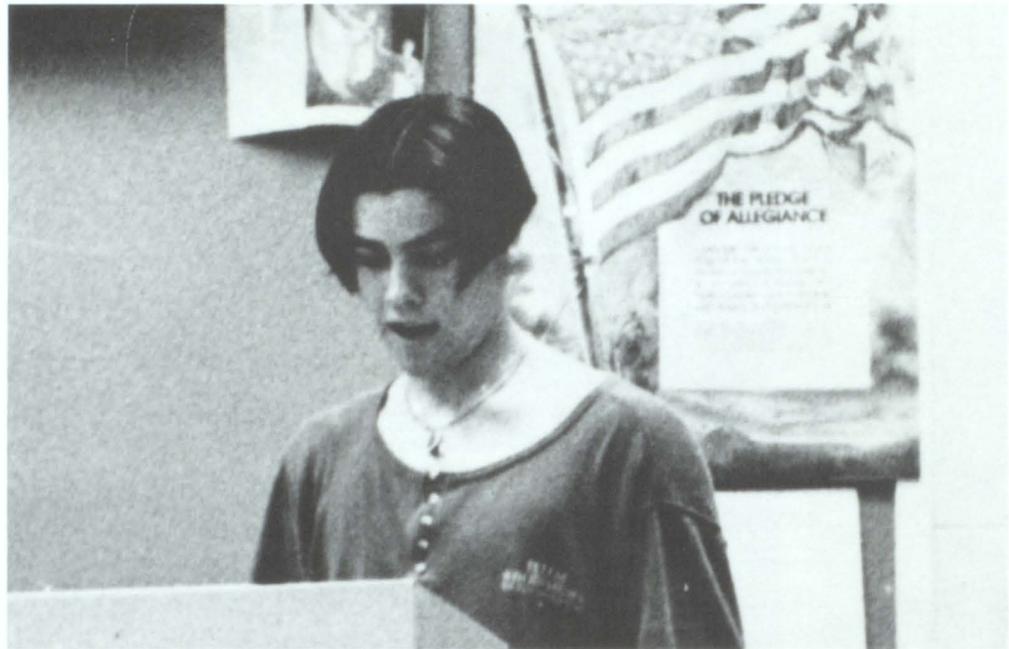

Math and English are two subjects that people would think are nothing alike but, an 8th grade student, Travis Beasley, participated, along with his classmates, in the "If I Were President" Essay contest. Mrs. Coryell required her students to participate. By writing a paper and drawing up a spreadsheet, with the help of Mr. Fry, he showed how he would deplete the deficit.

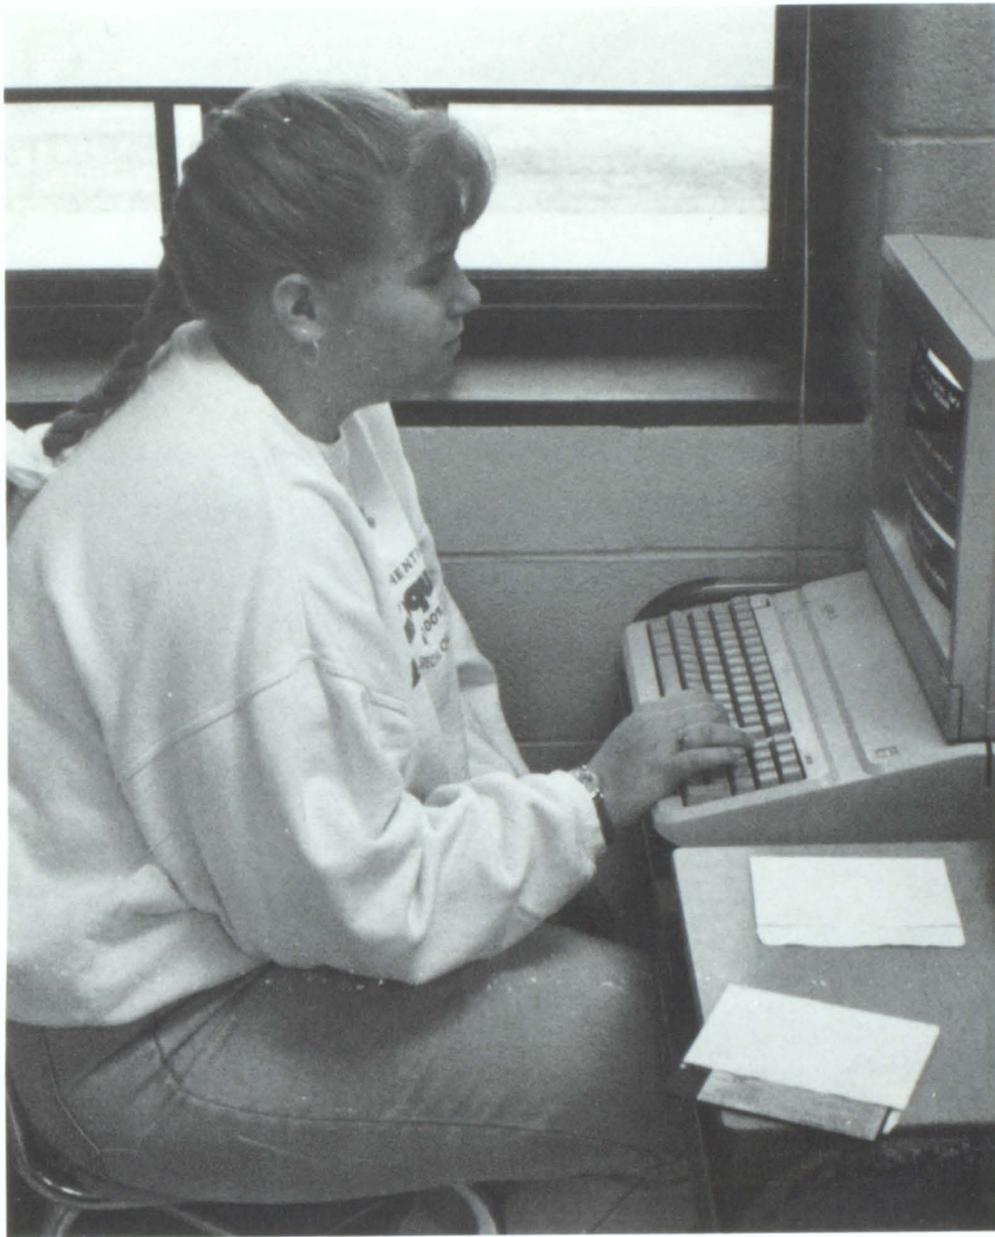

In the science department, the seventh grade Science classes created bug collections. The bug collections were put on display in the junior high section of the building. On the adjoining page, three students look at some of the collections.

In the world of Social Studies, things are quite the same. The students learned about different countries and about our own country as well. Also, there was a change in faculty from Mr. Davis to Mr. Fallis.

Some students choose to use their EBS time catching up on much needed sleep.

Sophomore, April Brobst, takes an EBS quiz on reading day.

Lisa Shores takes notes as Mr. Ritz lectures his 1st hour Social Studies class.

Exercise Your Mind & Body

Business, Health,
& Physical Education

Health, P.E., and business, are three classes that kept extremely busy this year.

There wasn't a second left for playing around in health class. They started with the section on the heart, respiratory system, and the circulatory system. Then, the section on first aid. The students were taught about rescue breathing, the Heimlich Manuever, and had the chance to be certified in CPR.

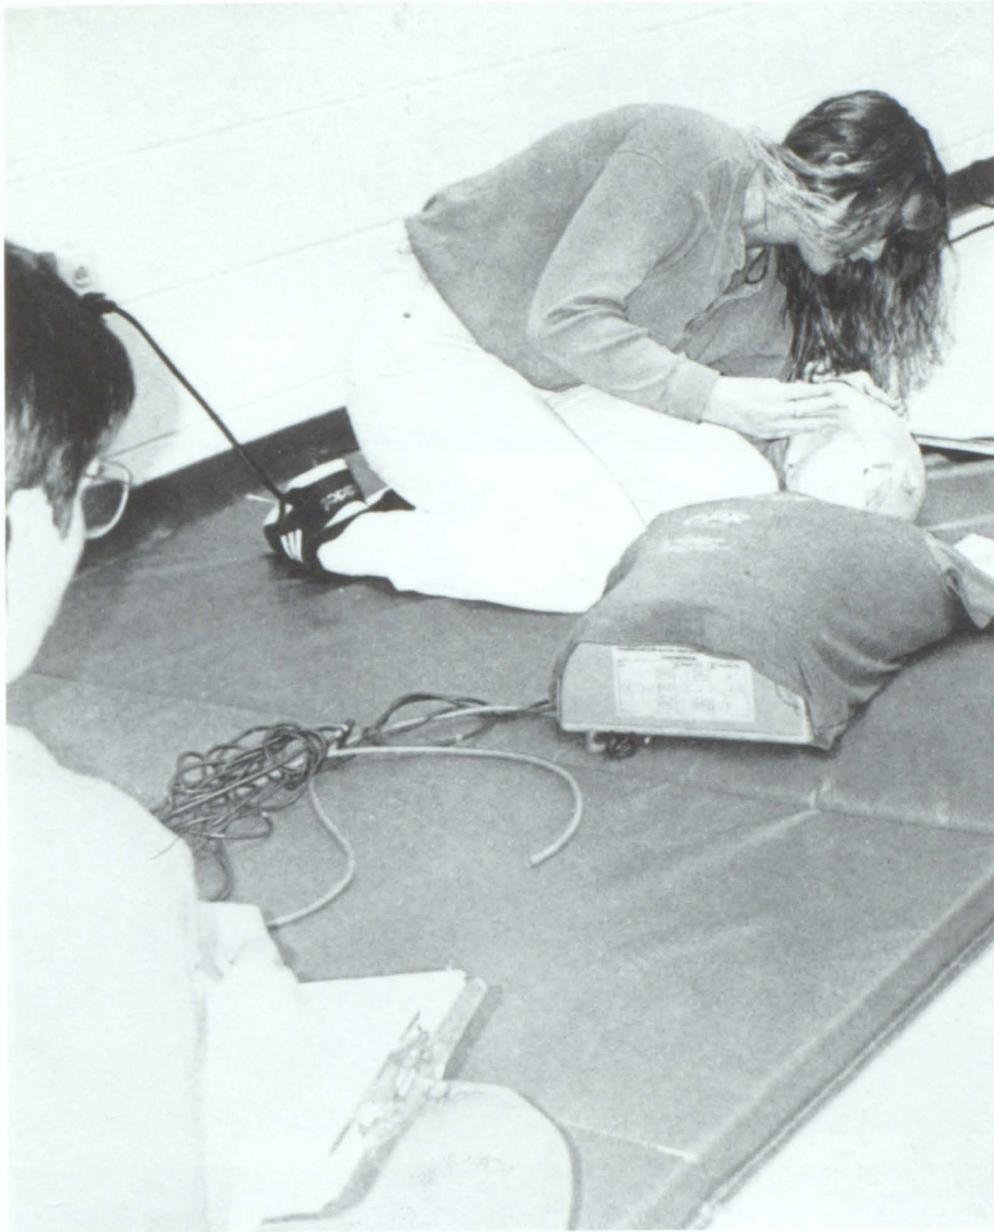

Physical education was another class that worked non-stop throughout the year. Between running in the freshman P.E. classes and weight lifting in the advanced P.E. class, the "Physical" part of physical education was definitely shown.

Another unique class, Business, proved to be very helpful. They set up a program to show students how to buy and sell stock. The class was divided into groups and each group received $10,000. They bought stock using New York Stock Exchange prices and saw the ups and downs of owning stock.

Art and Industrial Art

This year the art classes have accomplished a lot. They have learned how to make paper sculptures, new ways to draw, and also the history of art. Matt Allen and Mike Larimore even labeled the corner post in the halls to guide visitors around the school. Rick Kennedy said, "This art class has helped me improve my art skills by making me look at things in a different way."

Trains, robots, boats, and much more has kept the jr. high Industrial arts class busy. They have also been learning how to solve problems. The high school students on the other hand worked on individual projects such as tables, bookshelves, and candlestick holders.

Tim Buckman works a board through the planer very carefully to make sure his project is perfect.

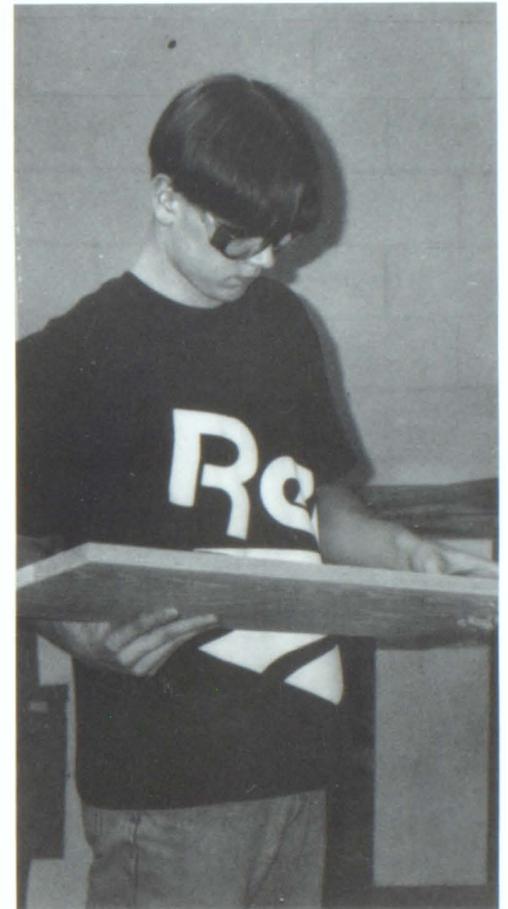

Elizabeth Merritt, Beth Henderson, and Amber Cross all put their finishing touches on their pots.

Online Deadline

At the beginning of the year, the Journalism students were assigned certain areas to cover, called beats, that were used to notify the Mass Media students of things they may have overlooked.

Most of the first semester was taught by Ms. Mann, a student teacher from Ball State University, but Mr. Sipe took over after Christmas Vacation.

The journalism students were assigned stories to write that were to be summaries of everything their particular clubs or groups did for the whole year.

This year the Mass Media students were very busy. The students struggled all year to get their stories finished, pictures taken, and articles printed out in time to meet the deadlines. On top of all their regular work, they also had to finish the 1994 Eaglite.

The Mass Media students worked with the Journalism students on the yearbook.

This year was a great year for ads. They hoped to make $2000 dollars in sales, but they passed their goal by over $200. The money made from ad sales is going to pay for printing costs.

Learning

Seventeen Seniors had the chance to see what it is like to be the authority behind the desk. These Seniors were Cadet Teachers. The jobs that these seventeen "Teachers" had ranged from teaching in the Junior High, at Leach and Frankton Elementary Schools, and just plain helping the Teachers grade assignments.

Cadet teachers were seniors currently enrolled in English 12A and were recommended by one or more teachers. Cadet teaching helped the students learn a better way to handle children.

The vocational classes were exciting and a big help for many seniors. There were 33 vocational students. 19 of them were in P.M. vocational and the other 14 were in A.M. vocational. There are many subjects to choose from for vocational students. With classes ranging from Autobody repair to hair styling there are many courses to choose from.

Helping One Another

The Media Club takes care of all the things that go on in the library. They worked on bulletin boards and had a different media assistant of each month. This award went to the person or people who worked the hardest during a particular month. They also sponsored an amnesty day in the library. On this day students could turn in overdue books and not be charged a fine.

The Health Club did many things this year to help others. They baked cookies for the visiting nurses. They collected sponsors and walked in the National Kidney Foundation Walk-a-Thon. They sponsor the blood drives and pass out cookies to people after they give blood. They are also involved in the special olympics every year.

Acting It Out

The Drama Club and Thespians had new sponsors, Mrs. Burgess and Mr. Fry, who took over for Mrs. Mills.

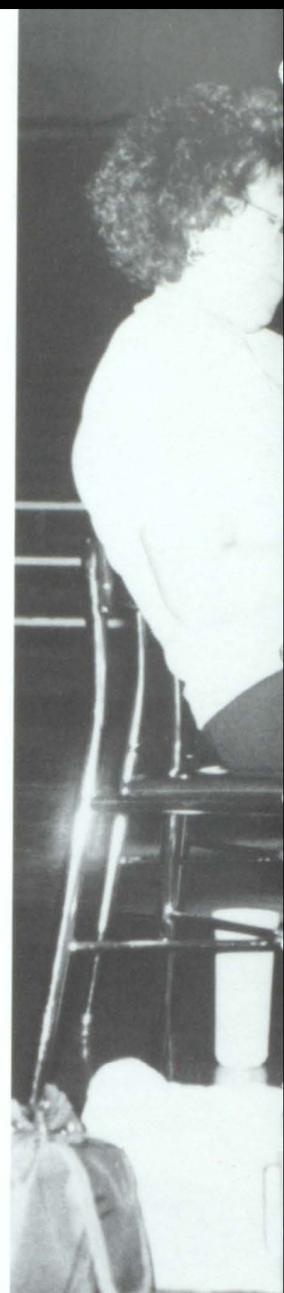

They got off to a late start, so they pressed really hard for the perfection of their play "Rumors," a comedy written by Neil Simon. The play was going to be in the old gym, but was canceled because they said that there was not enough time to work.

Working Together

This year the FFA group has been very successful. They captured the county forestry championship this year. On Feb. 22 the teams placed first, second, and third in the contest here at Frankton. On March 15, Frankton FFA captured the County Livestock Judging Contest. The teams spent the rest of the year competing in contests around the state preparing for area contests.

A bunch of high school kids getting together planning activities like baking cookies and planning fundraisers. What club am I talking about? Well, FHA of course. FHA had a few fundraisers this year such as, selling Skull Pops during lunch. They also had a clothing drive for the needy. FHA also had a Senior Farewell at Chucky Cheese Pizza.

Speaking a Different Language

The French Club held elections at the beginning of the year. Later they sponsored a dance after a football game, the attendance was better than expected. In May the group went to Chez Jean, a french restaurant in Indianapolis. Everyone enjoyed eating french food and experiencing a new culture.

Spanish Club hasn't done a lot of things this year. They attended The International Festival October 14th, where they watched foreign dances. Spanish Club also held a Christmas party December 8th, along with French Club. January 13th they held a dance to raise money for a scholarship. In the Spring they went out to eat at a Spanish Restaurant.

Playing the Music

It's the end of the year and the end of another band era. This year's band graduates never marched in the RCA dome during their four year career, but this year was the closest they have come to making State Finals! Only eight-tenths of a point kept the senior class from making their dream come true. The band's show was based on the Broadway hit "Guys and Dolls". The highlight of the band's year was their Citrus Bowl trip to Orlando, Florida where they participated in the Citrus Bowl parade, and the Disney World Spectromagic parade. The band also visited Epcot Center, The Magic Kingdom, and Universal Studios. During the fall the band also supported the athletic department. They made an appearance at every home football game and performed their show at halftime. During basketball season, the band presented the colors before every home game and played during halftime.

The Junior High Band participated in the annual homecoming, and the annual Heritage Day parades this year. They participated in ISSMA competition March 17, at Madison Heights High School. The band played three songs, Americans We, City of Glass, Cantabury Overture, and received a Division II rating. Many eighth graders plan to participate in the High School band next year.

Showing Your Talents

The Winter Guard performed to Jethro Tull's "Thick As A Brick", and "Living In The Past". This year the guard improved from ninth to second in the state. They performed in the MEPA circuit, which stands for Mid Eastern Performance Association, and became MEPA champions. The biggest contest is WGI, World Guard International, at Dayton Arena in Dayton Ohio. They made finals for the first time ever in Frankton's History. The guard competed against guards from all over the world, and took ninth place out of twelve guards. The guard competed so well this year that they will compete in a higher class next year.

This year the Fall Guard performed along with the band in trying to produce a great show. Their show was "Guys and Dolls" and the guard played a tremendous role in the program. They traveled to every show with the band and also went on the Citrus Bowl trip to Orlando Florida over Christmas Break.

Even though the Mixed Choir is a very small group and they only perform a few times, the members of the choir are glad they are in it. Mixed choir is a choir for students who would like to be in choir, but they can not fit the other choirs into their schedule, because of conflicts in the hours of the other choirs. Most members believe that though the numbers of performances were small they like being in it.

Mixed Choir: Danielle Davis, Kim Potter, Cale Sizelove, Nicole Buckner, James Clark, Tiffany Schildmeier, Chasity Derexson, Joey Hobbs, Katy Harrison, Staci Snider.

The Sapphire Silhouettes hard work paid off when they got the chance to perform at Lebanon High School in Lebanon, Ohio. The program was sponsored by Kings Island, and they stayed at the Kings Island Inn and attended the awards ceremony inside the park. Everyone in the group said it was a lot of fun and they hope they can do it again.

The Showstoppers were busy planning their cruise to the Bahamas. They had a chance to perform at Parliament Square in Nassau, Bahamas and they received a certificate from the Government of the Bahamas. Then they performed on the Big Red Boat where they received an average on the national level. They brought home a hard earned trophy, great memories, and something they will remember forever.

Show Stoppers: Row One: Tiana O'Brien, Heather Funk, Andrea Ramsey, Loranda Cunningham, Jessica Hahn, Tawny Couch, Misty Hall. Row Two: Alicia Idlewine, Carrie Benefiel, Wendy Clevenger, Cheryl Edgcomb, Cathy Hanes, Shawna Borum. Row Three: Angie Thiel, Joey Barr, Jason Hobbs, A.J. # Showing Off Talent

Junior High Choir and Junior High Show Choir proved that the high school is not the only musically talented group in the school.

Both groups put on a concert of their own and showed their talent to the school and the surrounding community.

Many members of the choir also are in the show choir. Giving them a chance to show off even more talent.

This year High School Student Council did many interesting activities ranging from fundraisers to planning school activities such as dances. Two of the major fundraisers this year were raising money for Joe Bair and Jake Hunter. Student Council does not always take place in the school, they went around town and picked up trash for trash pick-up day. The student council was also in charge of making the homecoming games a great event. The Student Council is a very important part of our school.

This year, the Jr. High Student Council played a big part in helping out our school and making it better. The Jr. High Student Council sponsored some of their dances. Every morning before school started, they would raise the flag. The Jr. High Student Council tries to work very hard to make our school better.

People make up Frankton Jr/Sr High School. There are people who teach, learn, cook, and clean. Without people there would be no Frankton and no place to learn.

People here at Frankton give the students a chance to get an education and become a responsible adult. Teachers and faculty are responsible for helping students to grow and further their education.

We all have someone that we look up to or admire here at Frankton. Many times this person has either helped you with a difficult decision or they were there to listen.

People are not only here to provide a service, they are also here to guide you and give a helping hand.

First Class

Yes, this is the First Class to graduate from FHS having attended all six years in the same building.

Most students liked the idea of going all six years at the new building. Sarah Burton said, "I don't think it is any big deal for the junior high kids to be here because they are totally separated from us. Also, they get to see what high school is like." Brian Culp agrees by saying, "By being here, the junior high kids get to have some good role models."

Here are some pictures through the years.

SENIORS

leaders of the pack

From no class colors to breaking sports records, this class has been unique. We had three record-breaking athletes in this class. Courtney Duncan won the State Championship in wrestling, for the first time in school history. Jeremy Fetty broke the state record in wrestling for the most career pins. And in basketball, Donna Leeman broke the school scoring record, formally held by her sister.

This year's senior t-shirts were very unique, too. They were red and white tie-dye with a Top Ten list of lies told at Frankton, including: I never saw that Civil War test! and Boles' rules do apply!?!

In a class of 104, probably a hundred will graduate. Quite a few will graduate with athletic scholarships. Indiana Wesleyan will be getting three Frankton athletes, Heather Disque will be playing volleyball, and Andy Avant and Danny Elsten will play baseball. Elsten also was asked to try out for the Chicago Cubs. Courtney Duncan will receive a scholarship to Manchester College should he decide to go there. Brent Brobston will be playing basketball for Lakeland Jr. College in Montoon, Illinois. Donna Leeman will be playing basketball for Kankakee Community College in Kankakee, Illinois.

Also, two solid Frankton students will be going into the Navy, eventually. Robyn Jones received a Navy ROTC scholarship and will be attending Purdue University. And Julie Graham will be attending the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland and will be playing Division I basketball for the midshipmen.

The class of 1995 made a real impact by being the first to attend at the new building, since seventh grade on. This class of seniors will always be memorable for the many things they have done.

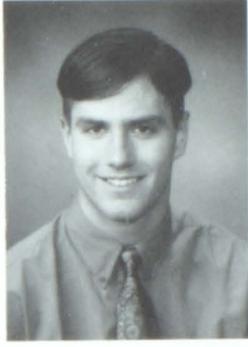

Mr. Warner summed this up by saying, "Of all my years in education, I do not recall seeing a class that has so many strong individual personalities that have the potential for doing so many great things in life."

Mike McDuffee and Amanda Hobbs mess around in the hallway, showing their individual personalities.

After this outfit, can you see Julie Graham in Navy blues?

Time to Move On, Time to Get Going

*It's time to move on.
It's time to get going.
What lies ahead I have no way of knowing.
Under my feet baby grass is growing.
It's time to move on.
It's time to get going.*

- Tom Petty

That chorus to the Tom Petty song "Time to Move On" probably best describes how the seniors of Frankton Junior/Senior High School have to be feeling now that they must step into the real world.

Questions linger inside their heads on whether they are actually ready to step through the door to a whole new life.

They have to decide which way to turn on the road called life. Do they go to college, or do they go straight to work!

They never know if the way they go is the right way until they reach their next turning point in their life.

It just shows that they are moving on. Heading straight towards something new, something different.

High school is now a memory to them that they will talk about from time to time, or at class reunions.

The night of graduation could have the last chance for some people to ever see each other again. They're going their separate ways and will be picking up new people to complement their lives on the way.

Ten years from now, the seniors will realize just how much they moved on. From time to time they will see each other or get together for a day to remember old times and talk about things currently going on in their lives.

High school is four years of life that helps shape what we are to become. When it ends we are prepared to step out into a world that we have never encountered before. Several things will remain the same, but some will be different.

No longer are the seniors stuck in the halls of this school. They are following what countless others are or have been doing for quite awhile. They are pursuing their next set of dreams and goals. They are going away. They are moving on.

Letting the hens loose. This chicken running free in the halls is a classic symbol for how the seniors must have felt on their final day of high school.

Our Dear Amber Leigh:

You bring sunshine and joy to our lives. May God grant you all the desires of your heart.

We love you,
Mother, Paul, Dad, Elaine, & John

Jeremy,

We are very proud of you!!
Good luck in the future and may all of your dreams come true!

JUNIORS

Class officers: Row 1: Lesley Benefiel, President; Mandy Surber, Vice President.
Row 2: Justin Shirley, Treasurer; Rachel Hall, Secretary.

The juniors proved they could roll up their sleeves and get down to business just as well as anyone. Throughout the year they had one setback after another. The year started off when their vice president, Jason Blackford, moved. They needed someone to replace Jason so Mandy Surber took his place, because she was the only one who ran against him in the election. Just as everything got back on track, they ran into another problem. They only raised $3,000 for prom. The money came from magazine sales and donations. The juniors worked hard this year and proved that they knew how to get things done.

This year the sophomore class tied for first place in the homecoming parade. The float had a skunk on it and the theme was "skunk um".

The sophomores also had a dance at the beginning of the year. It was successful and the sophomores earned nearly 300 dollars.

Mr. Sipe said the goal for the year is to, "unify the class and help everyone learn to work together in preparation of the next year's prom".

Being a freshmen can be frightening for some. You go from being the top dogs in junior high to the bottom of the ladder in high school and from the start of the year to the end of the year, you are lovingly known as little freshmen.

Despite this, the freshmen proved that they had the stuff to become a force to reckon with in the near future. They worked with upperclassmen, they helped rake leaves and pick up trash, they even organized a dance. "We speak when were spoken to" is what Heather Funk said about the freshmen class.

The class went to see some of the monuments at night, including the Lincoln Memorial. They also stood around a huge Civil War map that would light up as memorable battle locations were discussed.

The eighth graders are "a group who are just beginning to realize their potential," said Mr. Shelton, class sponsor

A Farewell to Arms

Business Teacher David Bartlow Retires After 34 Years

During the 94-95 school year the high school lost business and keyboarding teacher David Bartlow, who suffered a heart attack while at school, to an early retirement.

Bartlow is now enjoying retirement following a life-long career at Frankton schools.

During his tenure here, he served in many areas. Senior class sponsor, Athletic director, Association representative, NCA and PBA steering committees are a few of his accomplishments.

His career spanned from manual typewriters and erasers to computers and word processing.

Mr. Bartlow after teaching 34 years, retired during the middle of the year due to health problems.

A Farewell to Arms

English Teacher Phyllis Muse Retires After 6 Years

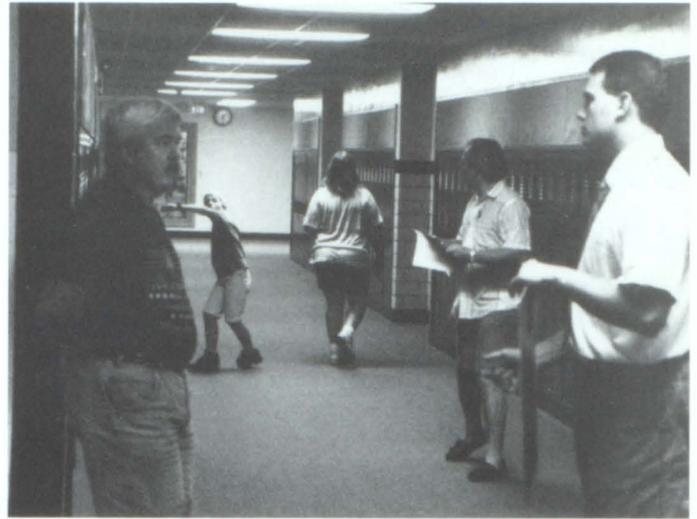

Frankton suffered a loss in the junior high area also. Phyllis Muse retired after teaching six years of junior high English at Frankton.

She has many things she hopes to accomplish after she retires. She wants to read more books, travel with her husband, and visit more with her daughters and little grandsons.

The greatest reward she has found in working with the students is helping them grow in maturity and gain knowledge of their language.

Mr. Boles and Mr. Sipe both take time out to stop and chat for a little while. Both of them, like many of the other teachers, had very busy schedules while getting ready for the new year to begin.

You can usually find Mrs. O'Neil at her desk in the guidance office. Here she helps one of the many students that come to her each day.

New Teachers, New Faces

Rick Fallis and Steve Coffman both had something in common this year. They were both new teachers at Frankton.

Mr. Fallis took over for Mr. Davis who became activities director. Mr. Fallis graduated from Richmond High School. He then attended Anderson University. His year at Frankton was better than he could have hoped for. "Everyone has been fantastic," Mr. Fallis commented.

Mr. Fallis has several goals he hopes to accomplish. He wants to have a good relationship with students and help them learn in a comfortable environment. For him history came naturally. He finds the subject fascinating. "Everything we do as people becomes history. We learn from it."

Mr. Coffman took over the physics and physical science classes for Mr. Sharpee who was on sabbatical for a year. He attended Tri-State University in Angola, Indiana.

According to Coffman his year here has been enlightening and frustrating. It has been enlightening because he has seen a full spectrum of students. It was frustrating when he saw people not living up to their potential (academics and sports).

Time for school to start already? Mrs. Small, treasurer, collects students' book fees.

Mrs. Huntsinger and Mrs. Mills enjoy taking a short break on their trip to London. They accompanied some of the Drama Club members on their visit.

High School Academic Awards

If the 1995 Academic Awards Program was a sporting event then Todd Rodewald and Robyn Jones would have been runaway victors. The Valedictorian and Salutatorian, respectively, went away with the most awards and scholarships. Angie Singer came up a close third winning several awards.

The biggest winner of the night money wise was Julie Graham. Graham was awarded a scholarship from the Naval Academy worth $250,000. She received a full ride to the Navy where she will play basketball.

In a special moment Stephanie Hobbs received the first annual Vicki Jones Memorial Scholarship. The award is in honor of the late Mrs. Jones.

Although all these people shined, in the spotlight clearly shined Rodewald and Jones. They were constantly being called to the stage and being honored for their achievement. Both students are going to attend Purdue University, Jones on a ROTC scholarship and Rodewald majoring in engineering.

Overall the program was a way for teachers and administrators to say goodbye to students who earned their respect. It goes deeper than just getting a good grade. You have to show you're something special to be rewarded with a scholarship or an award.

Nancy Hall is presented an award from Dollars for Scholars by Mr. Etchison.

Julie Graham was the big winner of the night. Julie received a scholarship from the Naval Academy worth $250,000.

Sarah Burton, Brian Culp, Angie Singer, Julie Richwine, and Brian Adams are presented an award for thespians.

Salutatorian, Robyn Jones, was awarded many awards and scholarships. Mr. Warner is seen adding to her collection on awards night.

Jr. High Academic Awards

Sometimes in the hectic life that is led in this building, certain people are forgotten or overlooked and sometimes looked down on. Most of the time these people are in the junior high. On May 31, however, the junior high was recognized for their achievements at their annual awards program.

Along with numerous academic awards there were also many special awards given. The first award given was the D.A.R. Top History Student. This award was received by Natalie Hendricks. Natalie also received the American Legion award.

Other winners of the American Legion award were Jeff Wright, and runners up were Alison Guthrie and Matt Yates.

Winners of the President's award for Educational Excellence were Mindy Alexander, Courtney Bott, Andrea Cole, Rachel Dyehouse, Alison Guthrie, Natalie Hendricks, Jeff Hobbs, Laura Hobbs, Tabitha Humphries, Charles Moore, Adam Pickett, Beau Reichart, Amber Sigler, Sally Wood, Jeff Wright, Matt Yates, and Josh Young.

Other major awards were all A's and perfect attendance. For the 7th grade Karalee Cage and Jenny Hendricks were honored for earning all A's all year long. Andrea Cole was the sole 8th grader honored for all A's.

The 7th graders with perfect attendance were Barbara Best and Holly Clausen. The 8th graders were Wendy Clausen, Natalie Hendricks, Philip Moore, Matt Wilson and Josh Young.

Also honored were Nick O'Brien for representing Frankton in the regional Spelling Bee and Jeff Taylor for winning the handbook contest. His design will appear on next year's handbook.

Jeff Wright is congratulated by a member of the American Legion. Jeff was one of two to receive this award.

Natalie Hendricks takes the spotlight. Natalie went home with several awards after the program.

Mrs. Coryell presents Sarah Anderson and Rachel Fox with an award. Mrs. Coryell is a second year jr. high English teacher.

Lisa Coner receives an award from the retiring Mrs. Muse.

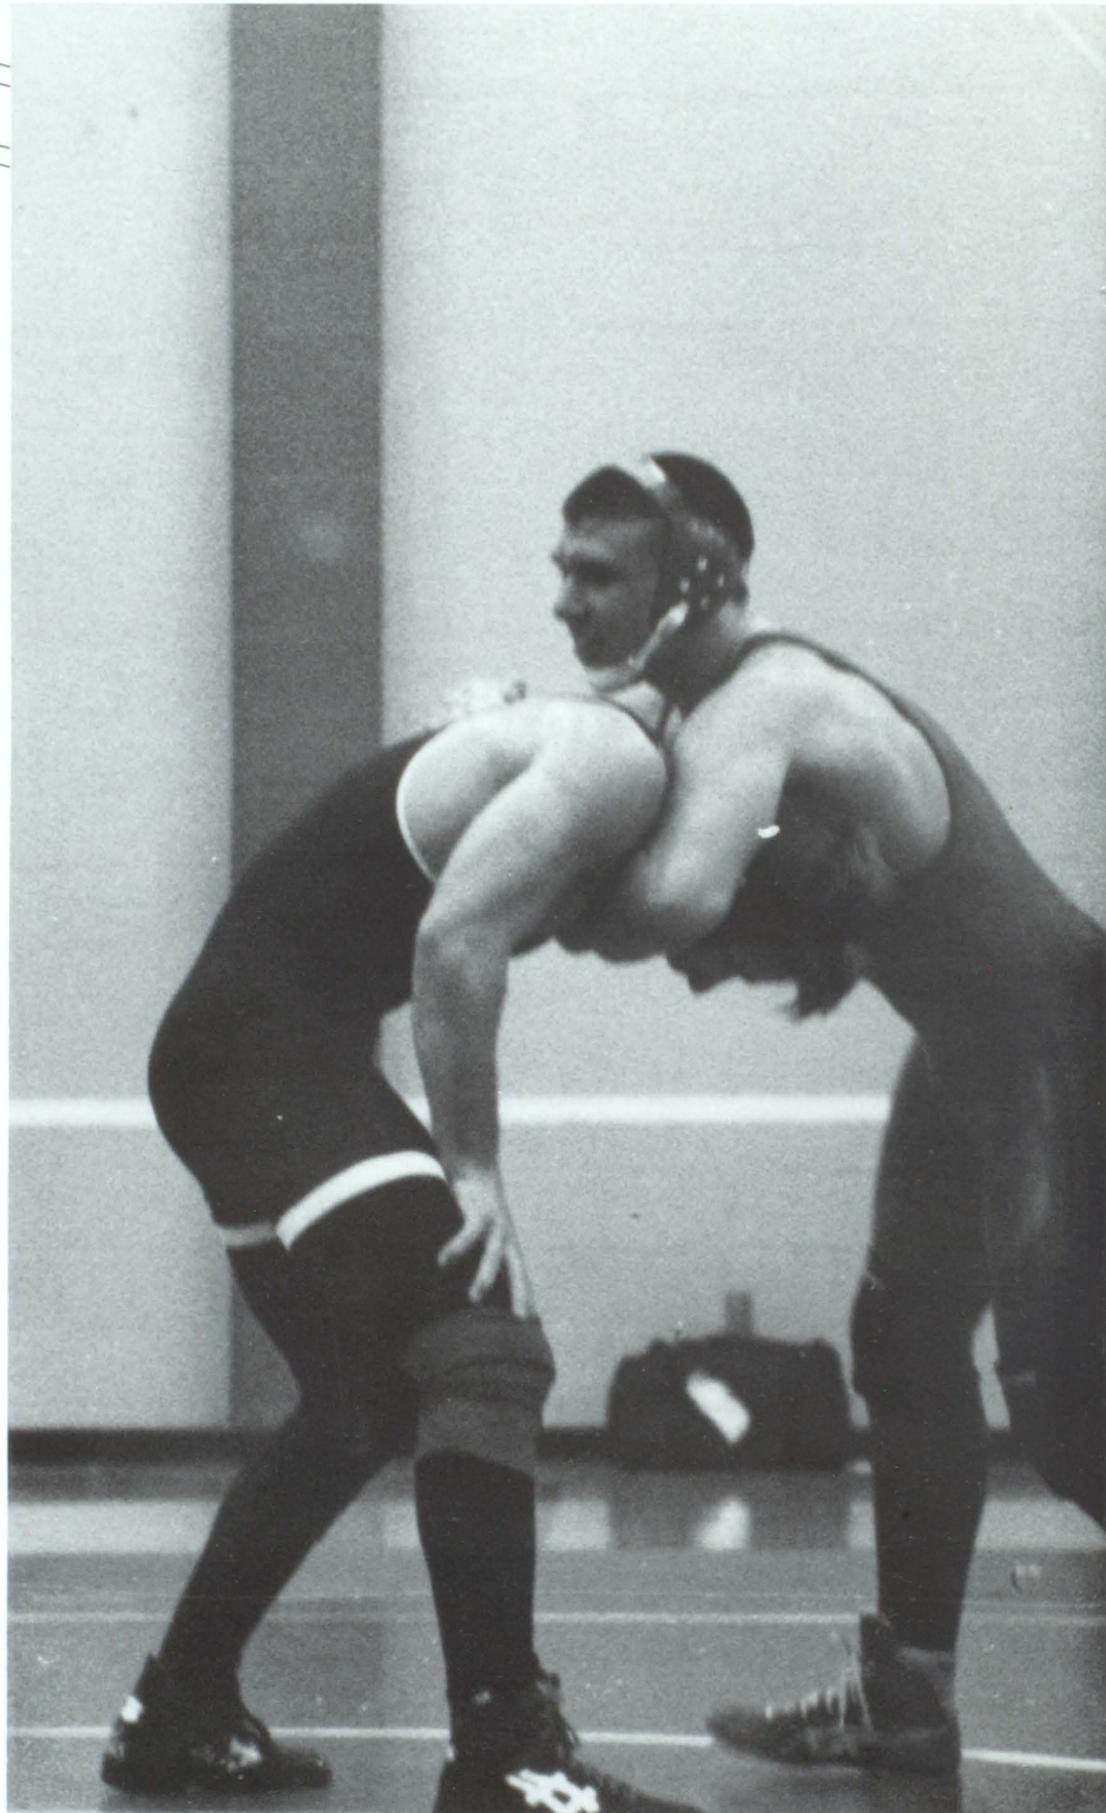

What new sports would you like to add to our curriculum?

Amanda Hobbs '95
It would be nice to have a swimming pool, swim team, and guys volleyball.

Nathan Marsh '97
I would like for Frankton to have a chess team. I think the competition would be stimulating.

Sports

John Richardson concentrates on the basketball game. John helped with the statistics during the season.

Matt Yates stretches out during a jr. high football practice.

Jeremy Fetty throws another one of his opponents into headlock. Fetty holds the State record for 43 pins in one season.

Sports are a big part of many students lives. Sports can help you learn many skills and make new friends. Sports can also help you acquire self-determination and responsibility.

Many of our teams as well as individuals have become very well known and successful. Others have stood behind and showed that they are willing to work hard to obtain their goals. Not all athletes can be recognized all the time. Many have to just keep practicing and working towards goals.

All in all, determination, desire, and discipline are the keys to a winning combination.

On Your Mark... Get Set... Go!

Cross Country Seniors Have Memorable Moments

Those are the words many cross country runners probably still hear in their sleep. The boys ended with a 4-3 record. The girls ended with a 0-7 regular season record.

The boys team placed fourth in the conference, and the girls placed third.

This year's senior runners for the boys were Jeremy Shepard, Jeff Shepard, and Courtney Duncan. The girls only had one senior runner, Honesty Hart. In their four years at Frankton they have many memories that stick out in their mind. Jeremy Shepard said "Going to regional last year is my most memorable moment."

Besides memories and highlights of the season the Eagles had a change in coaching staff. Last year Mr. Phil Davis was head coach of the team, this year it was Mr. Steve Coffman for the girls, and Mr. Tom Champion for the boys. Mr. Coffman said "Considering we only had five runners this year and we need five to field a complete team in cross country, I think we had a pretty good year. This of course, meant everyone had to be healthy. With injuries of various types throughout the season, we only fielded a complete team four or five times all season."

Despite the problems the team managed to place 6th at Tipton and 3rd (by one point) in the WRAC. Nearly everyone improved steadily throughout the season, with injuries being the only stumbling blocks.

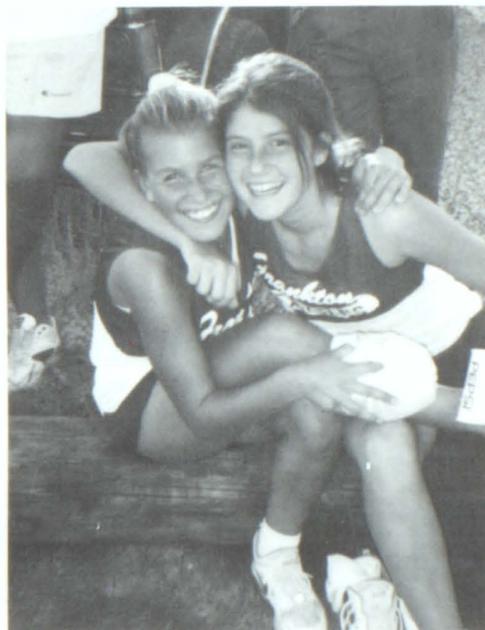

Josh Crisp and Courtney Duncan seemed to be pushing themselves to the limits. The boy's cross country team finished with a 4-3.

Girls Cross Country: Row 1: Amanda Quimby, Lesley Benefiel, Christen Oneil, Andrea Ramsey.

Despite a losing season, Christen O'Neil and Mandy Quimby seem to be having fun.

Boys Cross Country: Row 1: Jeff Shepard, Jeremy Shepard, Doug Gasner, Troy Davenport. Row 2: Kevin Lilly, Courtney Duncan, Josh Crisp.

Breaking Through the Lines

Eagles Run Over Their Competition

They're tired, but there is no time to complain.

The coaches are expecting them to do their best, the fans are expecting them to be the best.

They have to look past everything and focus on one thing the GAME.

How do they do that? Thousand yard rusher and team M.V.P. Danny Elsten said, "I get pumped up before the game."

Steve Westlund said, "I go home from school, put on some soft music, and take a nap."

Football in Frankton has a winning tradition, so how do the players on the team feel when they lose?

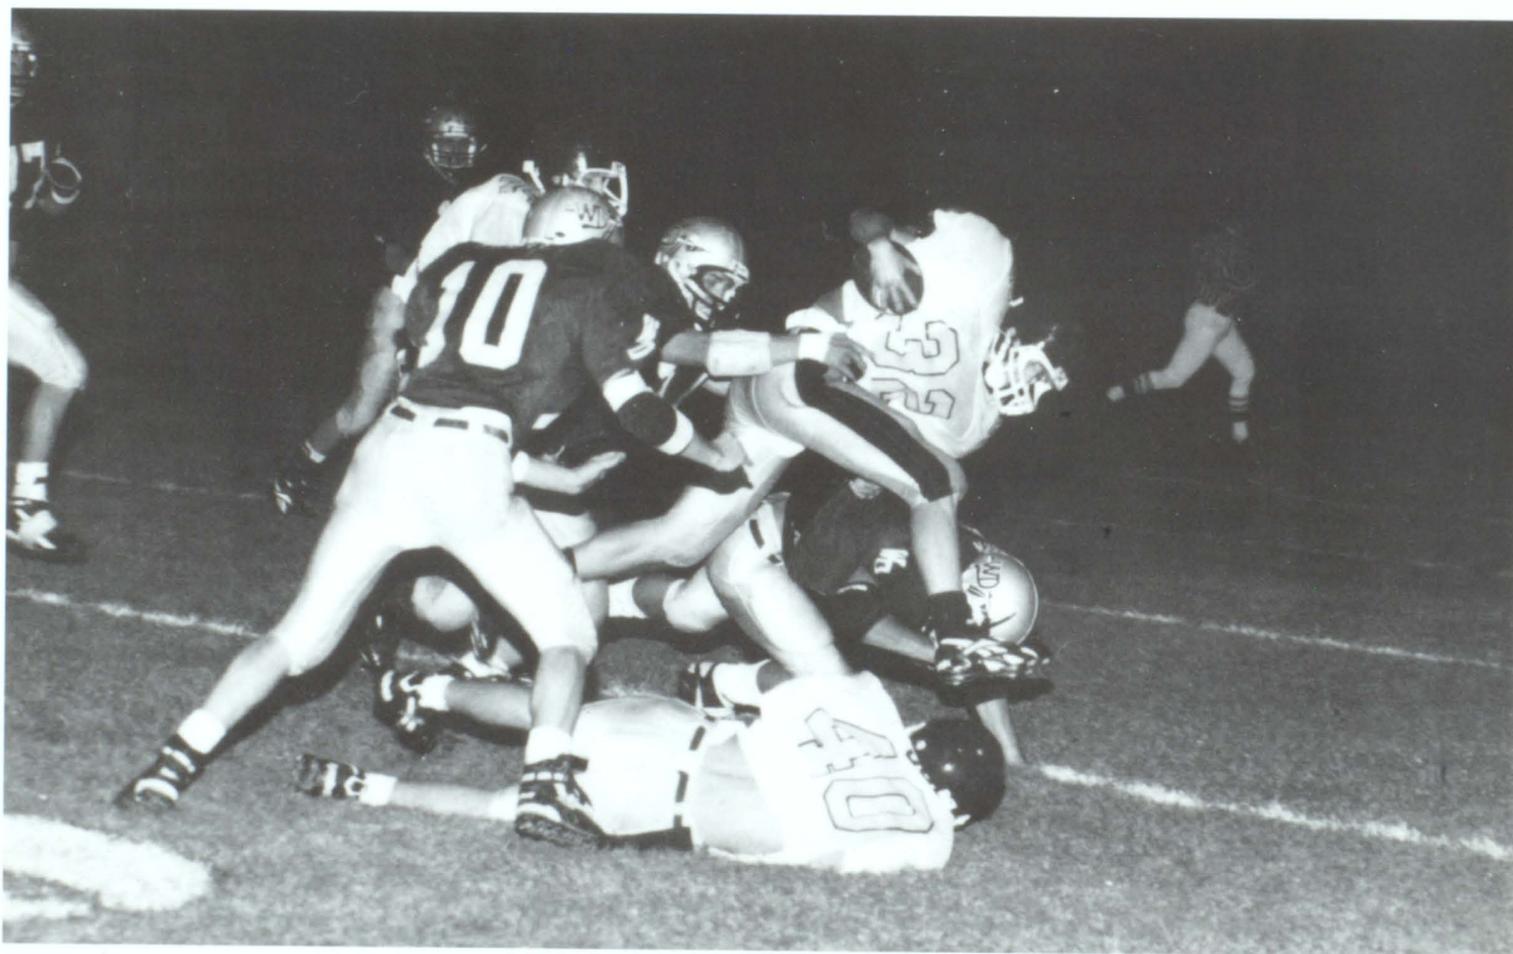

Chad Barr said, "Losing is hard to handle anywhere, but its harder to handle when your sport is the center of attention."

Losing may be hard to take, but the Eagles did not have that feeling very often while amassing their 8-2 winning season.

This was the tenth year in a row that the Eagles have gone at least .500 or better.

The effort put out by the players at practice and on Friday has to be 110 percent, and when the season ends the players walk away battered and bruised with their heads up high knowing that they have given their all for the team, coaches, and fans.

The Frankton, Wes-Del game is always a big rivalry. This year the Eagles ran over Wes-Del 33-7. Above Danny Elsten runs over and around Wes-Del defenders. Elsten rushed for 165 yards against Wes-Del. (photo by Lifetouch)

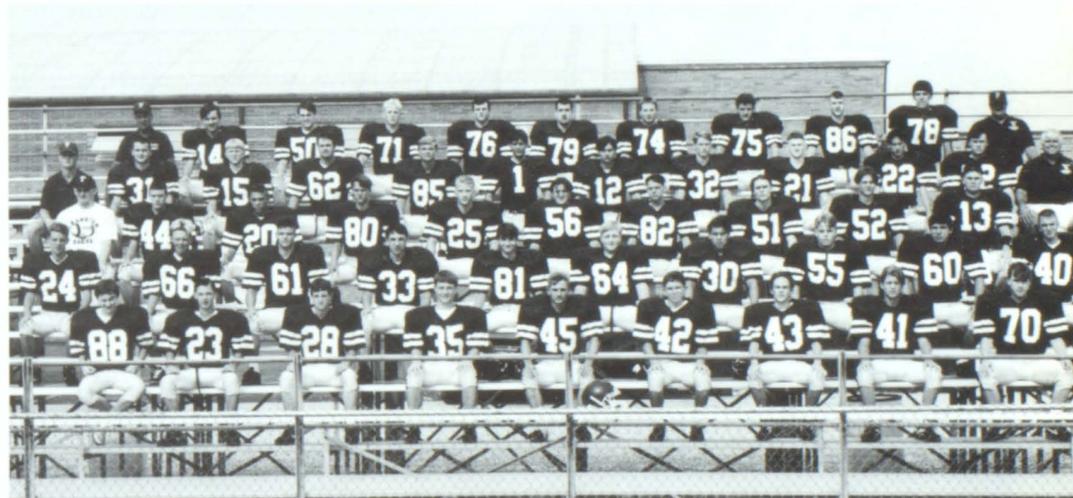

The Eagles lost a heart breaker to Yorktown during the homecoming game. Andy Avant pulls back to throw, while Steve Westlund guards his back.

Girls Have Best Season Ever

Volleyball Team finishes at 20-15

The season started with a bang, and ended with a second round loss in sectional to Lapel. The Lady Eagles had the best record any volleyball team has ever had at Frankton, winning 20 games and only losing 15.

The Lady Eagles made it past the first round of sectional by defeating the Anderson Indians. The Eagles could not look past their 2nd round match, because they would play Lapel, which they had beaten twice and lost once during the regular season.

Although the Eagles came up short, no one can say they did not try. The Eagles took the Bulldogs to three games and scores were 13-15, 17-15, and 13-15. This ended the Eagles season. In WRAC, the Eagles tied for third with Wes-Del, who finished behind Delta and Yorktown.

Special awards were given to outstanding individuals. Some of the awards were Most Valuable Player received by Donna Leeman, and Most Improved Player was Melissa Yates.

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team had a terrific season. Their only defeat was to Highland in the County Tournament. However, they defeated Highland in the regular season game.

Their record of 28-1 is the best J.V. record ever, beating last year's record of 18-7.

Serving up another ace is Stephanie Hobbs. She was named the team's best server. (Photo by Jeremy Fetty)

Tennis, More Than Just Wins and Losses

"Uh, uh, shut up Beavis."

"Uh, no Butthead."

"Walking is cool."

"Yea, real cool."

The boys tennis team had a very memorable season off the court as well as on the court.

Juniors Mason McCord and Clint Parsons played out the roles of Beavis and Butthead during bus rides to and from matches.

Every team has the "bus" memories and with these memories comes some fascinating stories.

According to Brent Brobston, "Brian Ice and Clint Hall were spraying water on the bus after a match and I grabbed them, just playing around, and Coach Davis told me to get off the bus and walk. I didn't take him seriously, but when I got off the bus, the bus left me and I had to walk home." Brobston did not have to walk far, but he did have to walk.

The players have their most memorable moments. "Going to regional with Brent Brobston my junior year was my most memorable moment," said Geep Harrison.

Player manager, Justin Shirley said, "Winning my match against Muncie Burris," was my most memorable moment.

Tennis is a serious sport like all others, but besides practicing hard, the players still have fun.

The Eagles finished the season at 12-4 which is the best record in the history of Frankton Tennis. Senior, Todd Rodewald hits the ball over the net during practice as his unconcerned partner senior, Aaron Wise watches. (photo by Brian Culp)

The Eagles Fly High

Team makes it to Sectional Finals, but loses by one

The basketball team had its ups and downs this season, but still made it a successful one.

The highlights of the season were claiming the WRAC title, and a trip to the Sectional finals against Alexandria.

The team had a great senior class to lead them through their season. Leading the way were the two stars of the team, Jesse Wright and Brent Brobston.

Both Wright and Brobston were leading scorers for the team and guided them through most of their victories.

The other seniors, Andy Avant, Corey Arrick, Darrel Holloway, and Chris DeSalle provided leadership and scoring support for the team.

The Eagles had an impressive WRAC record. They only lost to one team in the conference during the year.

Their drive to the sectional finals was also impressive.

They received a first round bye and faced Highland, who they handily defeated.

Then they took on the favored Alexandria Tigers. They played a close first half, but the Tigers pulled away in the third quarter.

The Eagles mounted a massive comeback attempt, but fell only a point short of claiming a first ever sectional title.

Looking for the open man, Jesse Wright dribbles near the baseline. Wright was a key factor in the success of the basketball team this year.

Going up with authority, Nathan Hobbs shoots a lay up. The basketball team had a successful 14-8 season.

Reaching a New Level

Both teams learn what it takes to reach the varsity level

Before you play at the varsity level you usually have to go through junior varsity. If you are a freshman, then your first basketball playing experience is with the freshmen team.

Both teams are very important. At any given game a member of the junior varsity could be asked to go play on the varsity level.

After the end of their season a few select freshmen get to go up to the junior varsity level.

Both teams learn the same type of offense that the varsity learns. Meaning that they are prepared to step in and not be behind anyone else in the line-up.

Both teams get the preparation needed to be an asset to the varsity squad years from now. The junior varsity practice with the varsity, while the freshmen practice at another time.

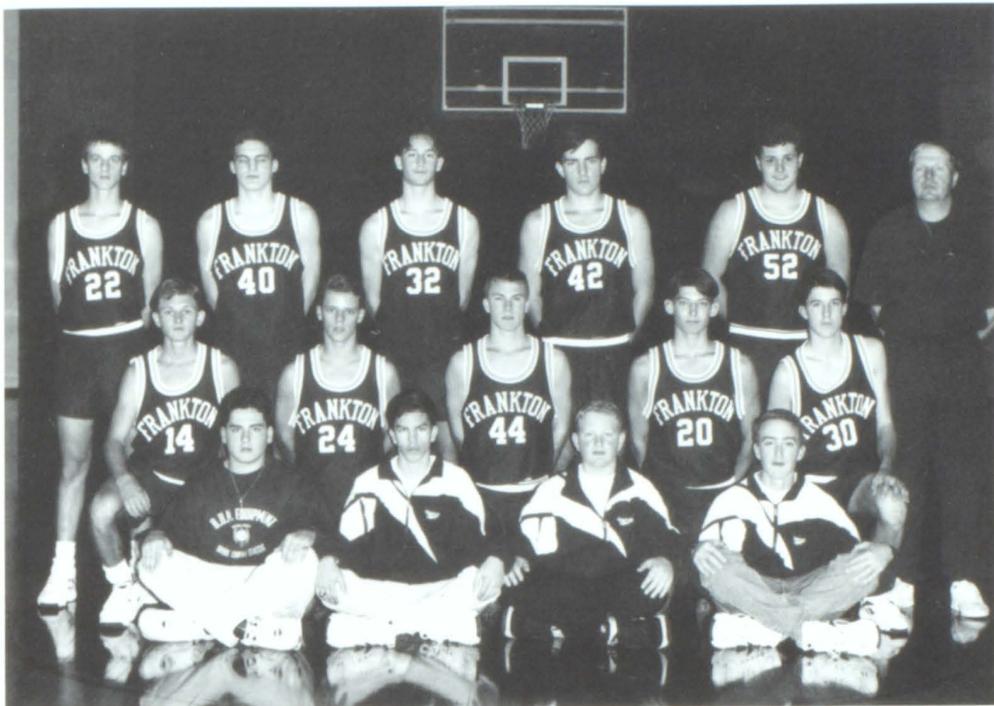

The teams also showed their own against players from other teams that they will likely meet in the near future.

The whole process of preparing junior varsity players and freshmen begins again next season.

New faces, take the place of others that have moved up to the next level to try to reach the goal of an elusive sectional crown.

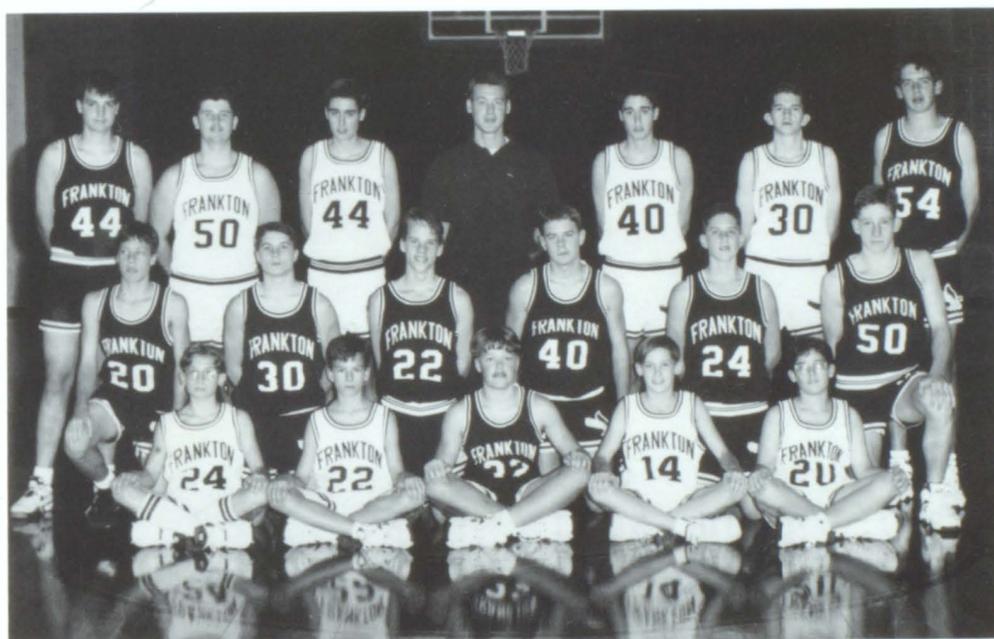

Waiting for the ball to hit the rim, Josh Crisp and Steve Humphries block out an opposing man to get a rebound.

Coming into Its Own

Girls go undefeated at home, Leeman breaks record

In this school there are a few sports that have come into their own. They have been successful and popular for several years. Girls basketball is becoming one of those sports.

Led by a solid senior class and some superb sophomores, the Lady Eagles stormed to a 15-4 record. They also dominated WRAC competition, and easily won the conference.

Two key factors to the team's great season were Donna Leeman and Julie Graham. They were the cornerstone of the foundation for this year's team.

Leeman had a record breaking season. During a game against Yorktown Leeman passed her sister, Debbie for the girls basketball scoring record. Leeman broke the record with her 1,039 points. She went on to score several more points during the season.

Graham continued the great play that has made her a four year letter winner. She was also awarded with the Dally Hunter Award.

The team is losing several valuable components to the team due to graduation. But as most good teams do they will not have to rebuild, just reloaded.

There are several junior varsity players ready to step up and plenty of capable veterans to fill the void left by the departing seniors.

This gives hope for another successful season for the Lady Eagles.

I got the ball, no I got the ball, no.... The Lady Eagles huddle up before a very big game. Team unity was impotant for the girl's this year.

Julie Graham launches a three pointer. Graham was a team captain this season.

Determination Pays Off

Grapplers break records, Duncan Wins State

The wrestling team had another outstanding season this year. Not only did they win a record 24 matches this year but they also produced the school's only state champion in Courtney Duncan.

Courtney wasn't the only outstanding wrestler this season. There was also Jeremy Fetty. He holds the state and school record for most pins in a season with 43 and he holds the school record for most wins with 141. Fetty also made it to the state finals. He finished in 5th place.

Duncan came into his own in the last two years of his high school career. He ended his career with the state title. Duncan defeated four opponents to win the championship at the 106 pound weight class.

As a whole, the wrestling team won its first ever WRAC conference title this year. They finished second at sectional, ending their two year run as champions.

But this year will always be remembered by the state championship won by Duncan. He has given the school the one thing that we have been desperately waiting for.

His success now leads to greater expectations for next year's team, and the hope for another state champion in the very near future.

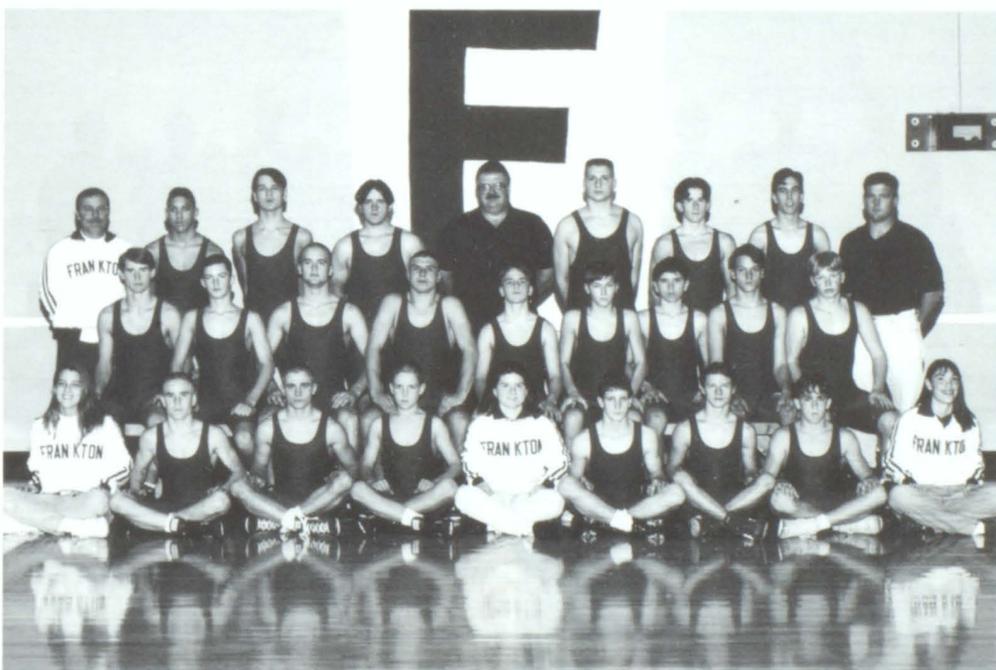

With a look of determination on his face, Jeremy Fetty prepares to hook up with an opponent. Fetty had a record breaking senior year for the wrestling team.

Senior, Steve Jackson teaches freshman A.J. Jones a few new wrestling moves during practice. Both Jones and Jackson had outstanding seasons.

Leaps and Bounds

Cheerleaders go through several changes

After being selected as a cheerleader for the upcoming year, the cheerleaders have a lot of hard work to look forward to.

During the summer they had many practices training for both the football and basketball seasons. They also had a camp at the high school sponsored by Cheer Limited.

This three day camp taught the girls learned three dances as well as a variety of chants and a floor cheer.

At the start of the year the cheerleading squad had a few minor setbacks.

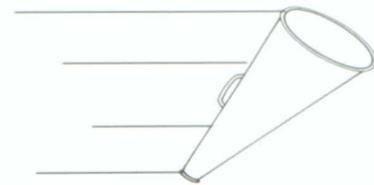

They changed from originally having a junior varsity and varsity. To a varsity squad consisting of twelve girls.

At first they compromised by having the junior cheerleaders cheer at the first junior varsity game while the sophomores would cheer next.

But things were not working out very well and changes had to be made to resolve the situation.

Finally they decided to split each game. The juniors would be cheering one half and the sophomores would be cheering the other half.

Despite a few minor difficulties throughout the season, the cheerleaders pulled through and ended up with a successful season.

Playing With Fire

Baseball team pulls off thirteen straight wins during the season

en fuego (en-fue-go) v. "on fire".

What does this definition have to do with baseball you may ask? Well those words perfectly describe how the baseball team played during the end of the season.

This was a year of transition for the team. They were being led by a new coach, Rick Fallis, and had lost some important players from last year.

The changes showed at the first of the season with the team struggling through their opening games.

Then everything clicked at the same time. The team began winning games right and left. They started a run that would last the rest of the season.

The team was hitting like a bunch of madmen. They were tearing into opposing pitchers.

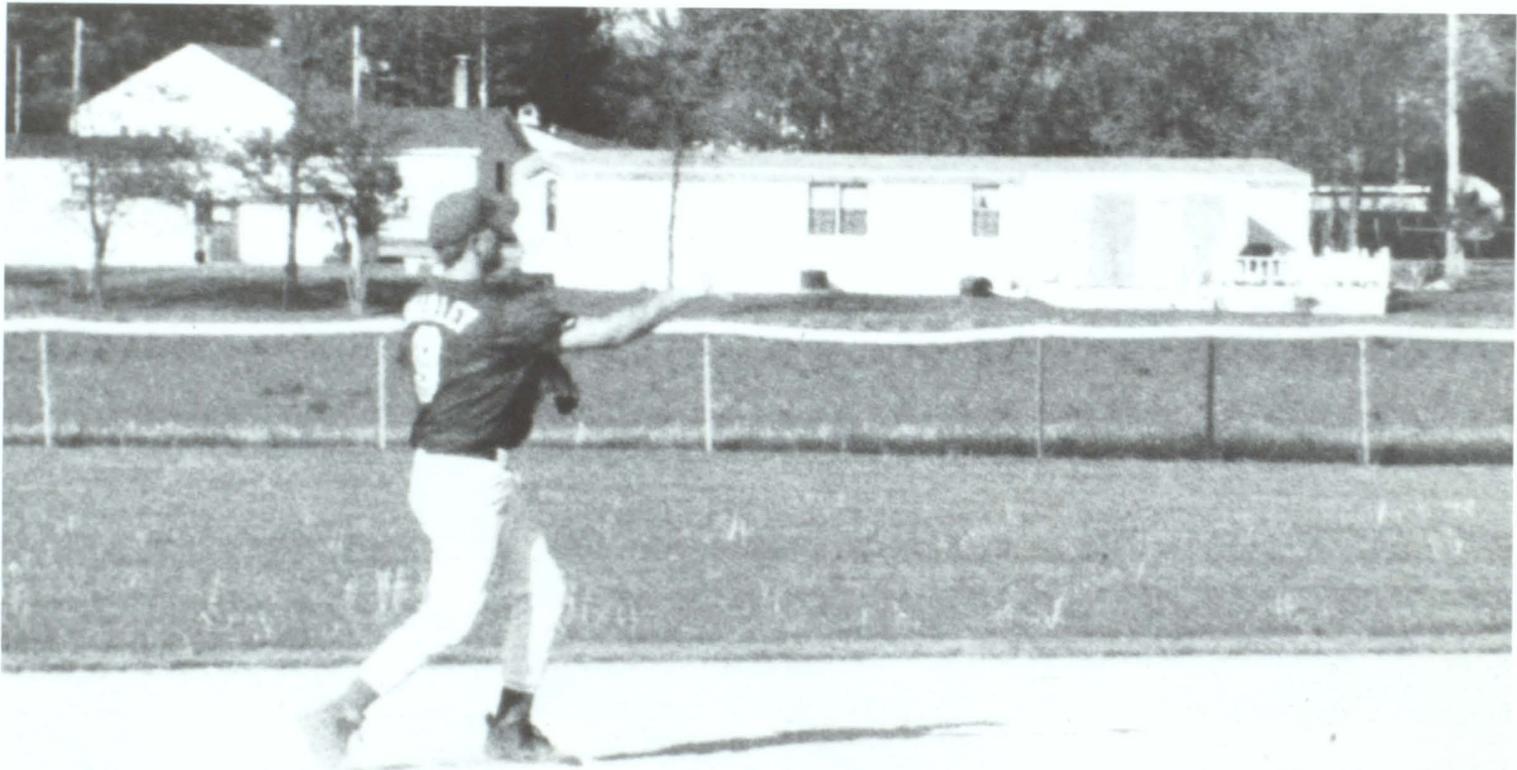

Jason Shirley led the team in home runs. He got to touch all the bases four times during the season.

The team won thirteen straight games before dropping one game to Highland.

They went into sectional heavily favored. They won their first game, but fell to Anderson in the sectional finals.

This ended what turned out to be a superb season for Coach Fallis and his team. Setting the tone for next year's team and other teams in the future.

Not only could Jason Shirley hit, but he could also field too. Shirley was one of the key factors to the success of the team on the season.

Here's the wind up and the pitch. Gabe Carson prepares to strikeout another foe.

SLUGGING THE COMPETITION

SOFTBALL TEAM WINS FIRST REGIONAL TITLE

Everyone thought it would be football. No one in the whole town of Frankton expected that any other high school team would win a regional title but football. Well everyone was wrong, because a team has finally done it.

Say hello to our first regional champion the girl's softball team. They won it the title in impressive fashion just like they did all season long.

The softball team had high hopes coming into the season. They had won the sectional title the year before and did not expect anything less this year.

They started the season by winning their first thirteen games. The only teams that they lost to, Pendelton Hts. and Shenandoah, were both ranked in the top ten.

After their only two losses the team went on to steamroll every other team that got in their path.

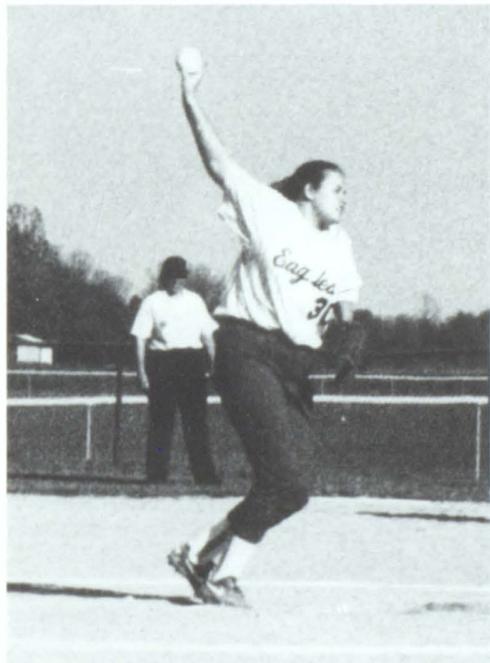

The teams did not even stand a chance, against the girls. They beat Elwood easily in the finals.

The competition was tougher in the regional but they were able to get through.

Unfortunately the girl's season ended in semi-state with a 1-0 loss to Shenandoah. Ending a record breaking year for softball.

I GOT IT!! Carole Robinette waits patiently for the ball to land in her glove. This was one of the few hits that the girls had to contend with during the season.

Hey even good teams can make mistakes. Even though there was an error the other still did not stand a chance.

Running to the Top

Graham and Hart advance to state finals

Slow starts plagued both the girls and boys track teams. They did not get off to the right foot in their first few meets.

The boys had the talent to get off to a good start, but had to face some of their toughest competition at the very start of the season.

After that they began to heat up a little bit. They placed third in the Pendelton Heights Invitational, the WRAC Finals, and the Eastern Invitational respectively.

Ben Graham advanced to the state finals in the pole vault where he placed sixteenth.

The girls major problem was the loss of Honesty Hart.

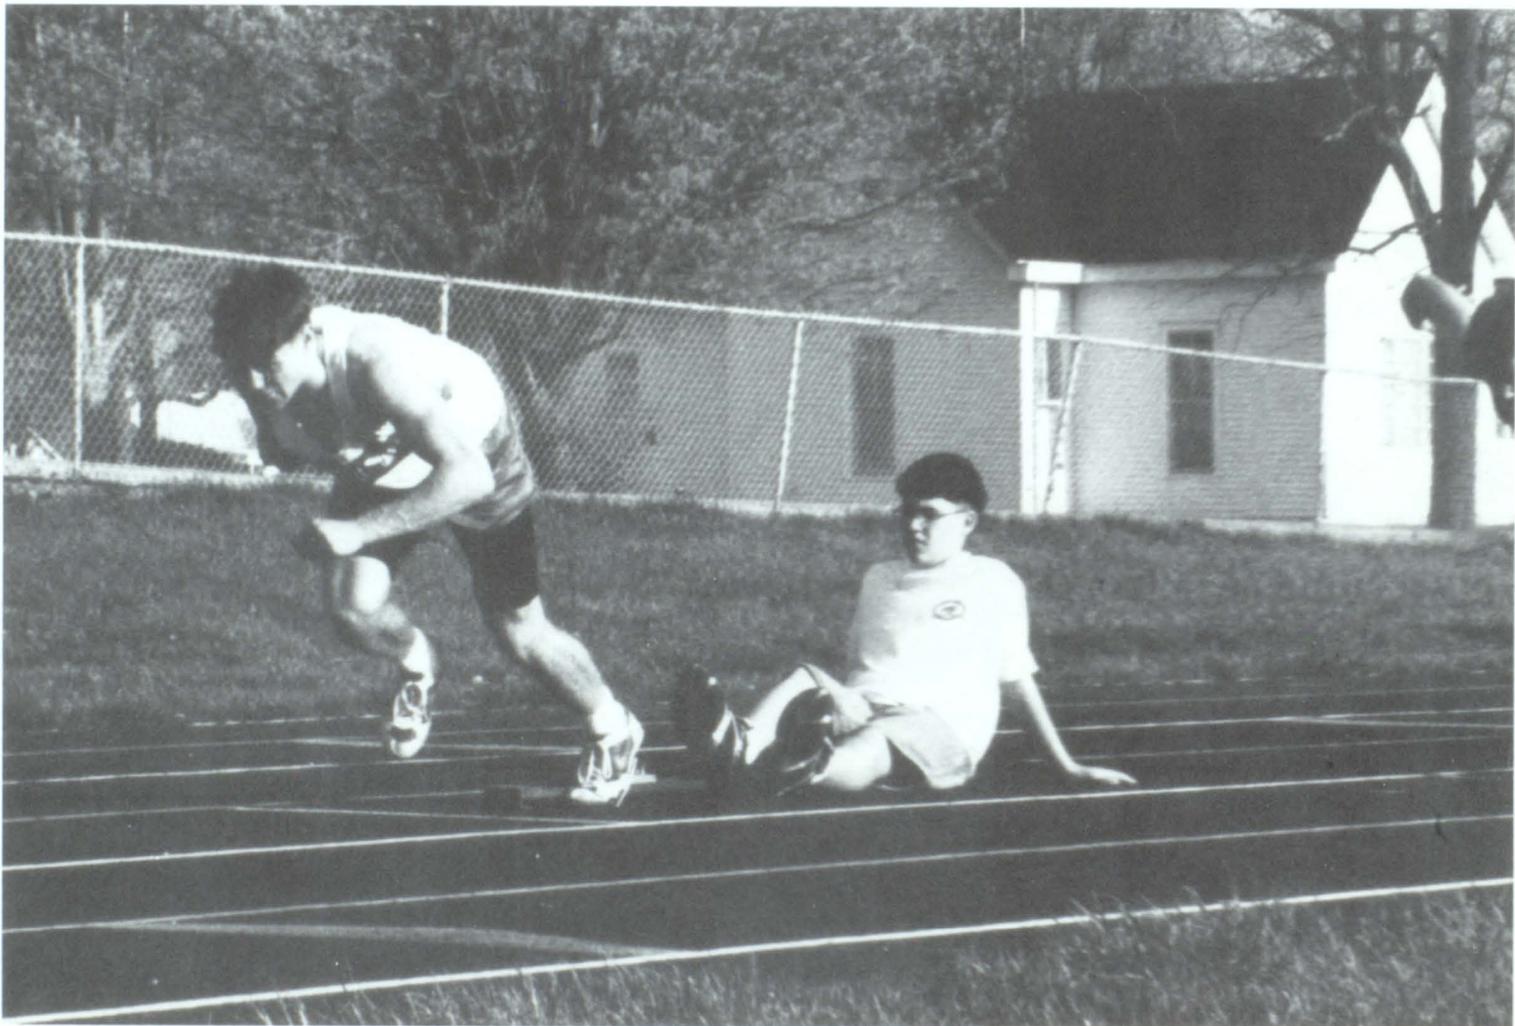

Hart who was a state qualifier the year before, was to be a major contributor for the team.

When she returned, the girls team got the added help they needed to salvage the end of the season.

Overall they finished third in the WRAC, second in the Eastern Invitational. The girls finished the season at 20-14 overall.

Hart advanced on to the state finals. She placed 21st in the 300 low hurdles, ending her track career at the high school level.

Getting a jump on the competition, Ben Graham starts his run to another first place. Graham was the boys track team's field event M.V.P.

Sinking the Shots In

Golf team falls five wins short of mark set during the last season

The golf team was coming off the finest season in several years. Their record last year was 11-12, the best record for the golf team since 1984. Expectations were high for this season.

Things did not pan out as expected for the golf team though. They struggled through most of their matches this season finishing with a record of 6-12.

One of the bright spots for team was the play of senior Ryan Andis.

He was the low man for the team in a majority of the matches this season.

Doug Gassner was two man for the team this season. He helped keep the team competitive in several of their matches.

The season started out great for the team. They were at one point 4-4 on pace to match or beat last season's record. Things fell through after the Tipton Four-Way, were they placed fourth.

The team could not come back after those losses. They only won two more matches this season.

The golf team only loses three seniors due to graduation and have plenty of young talent to improve on this season's record.

This year was somewhat disappointing for the golf team. Hopes were high for them to win more than the eleven matches from the previous year.

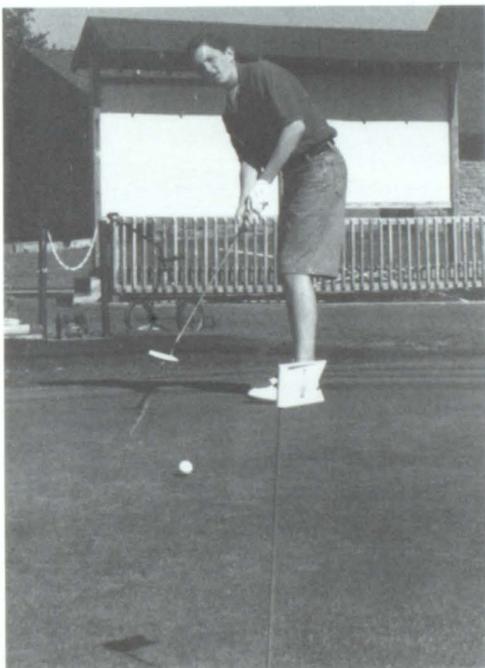

Steve Westlund concentrates very hard on his putt. Westlund provided senior leadership to a young team.

Game, Set, Match

Girl's tennis team shows improvement

A promising season last year, along with young talent gave the girl's tennis team hope for this year.

Experience was on the side of the team. They only lost three seniors and had several freshmen returning.

But the girls could not get over the .500 mark. They finished their season with a record of 5-7.

Leadership was provided by two seniors this year, Erica Ramey and Jenni Ifert. Both girls played in singles matches on the season.

Also coming on strong for the Lady Eagles was Cathy Hanes. She continued to improve on her performances from last season. She ended up at number one singles for part of the season.

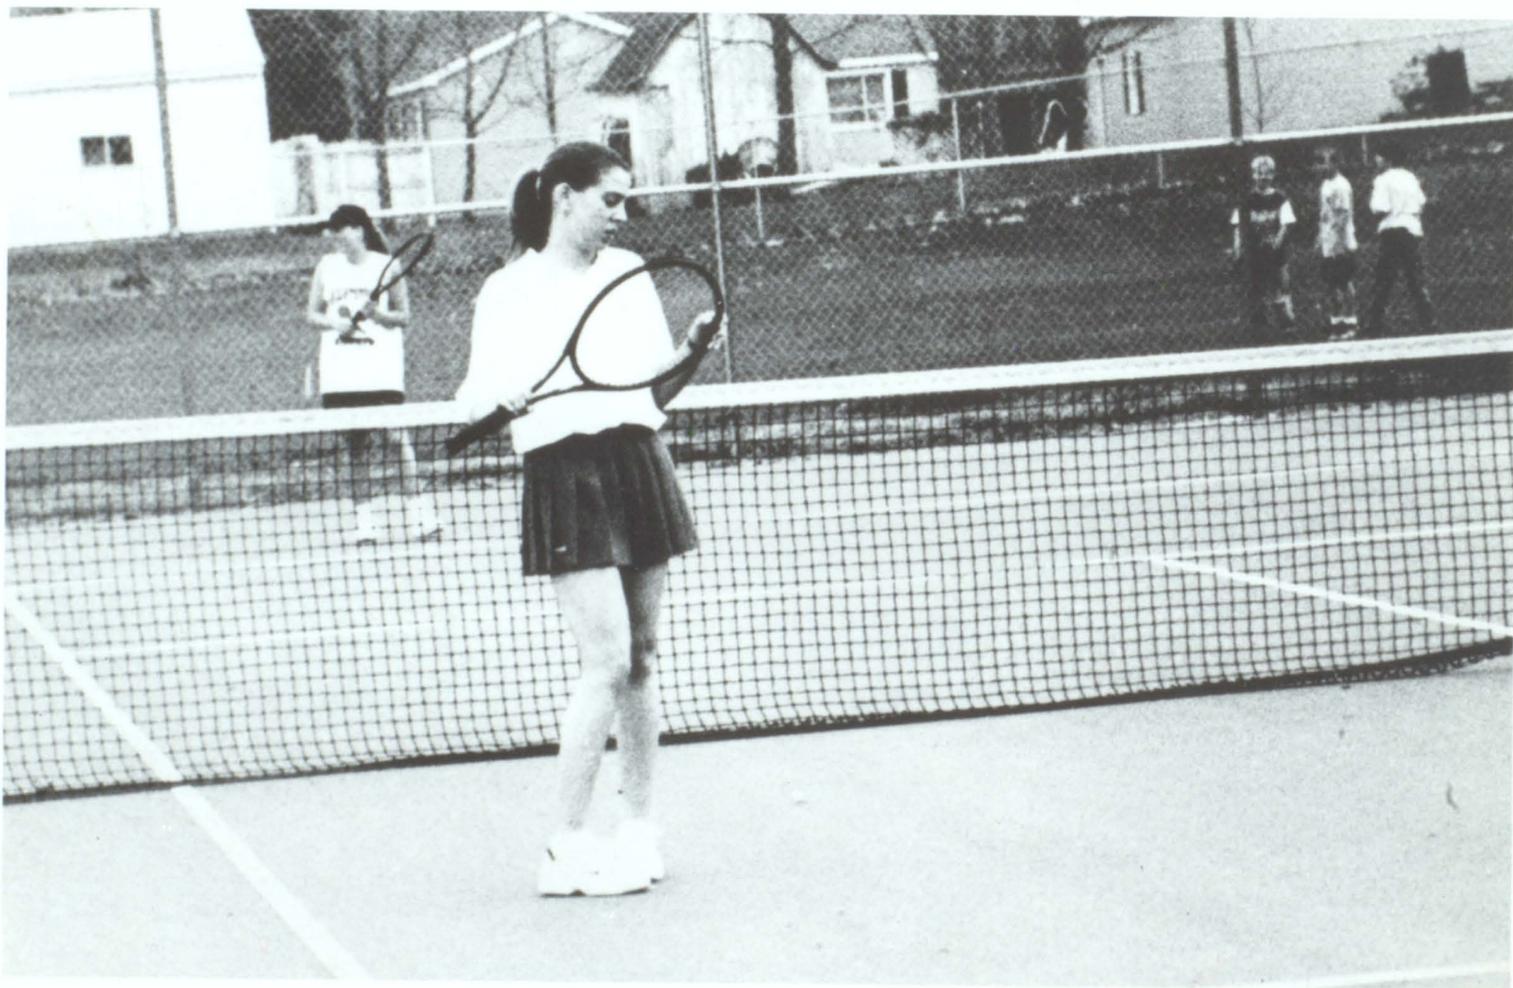

The doubles teams consisted of Michele Rydman and Rachel Simmons at number one doubles and Elizabeth Wright and Melissa Dyehouse at number two doubles. Sarah Wright also played in some varsity doubles for the team.

The weather was one of the major foes for the girls during the whole year. Several of their matches were cancelled or postponed due to rain.

This hampered their chances to gain more victories and experience for the younger players.

With the loss of only two seniors, and their doubles team solidified, the team can expect more improvement for next season.

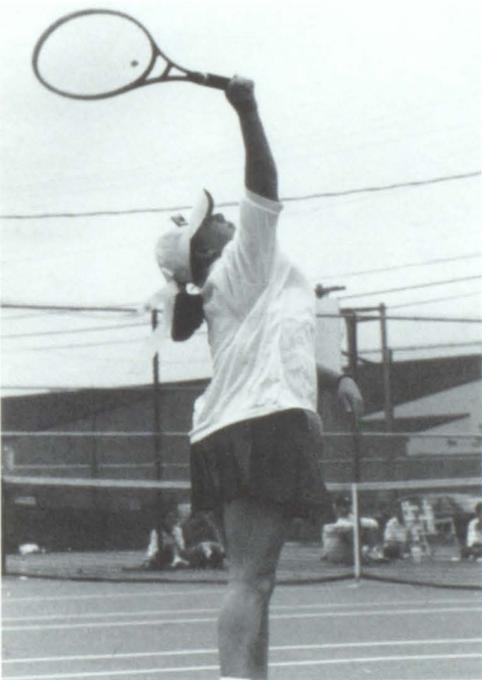

Michele Rydman fixes the strings on her racket while waiting for the next point to be played.

Learning to be Competitors

Jr. High Cross Country team working hard and having Fun

Across country? Hardly, but the Jr. High Cross Country team with a 5-13 record still hold their heads high knowing they tried their hardest.

There were not as many runners this year. Only 10 boys and two girls were on the team.

Coach Ritz said, "They were a good group of kids with good attitudes." The season started off well, but did not end on such a good note. They were up against some good competition towards the end."

Eighth grader Eric Chambers said, "I had fun and learned to be a good competitor."

While the team did not win any medals or trophies to show their hard work, they had fun and did their best and that's all that counts.

Upon asking students and coaches what running cross country had done for the students we came to the conclusion that, running keeps the students in shape and helps teach them discipline. Both of these can be used in the future whether they decide to run cross country or participate any other activities. It takes a lot of discipline to run and some may not think of it as very fun, but to these students it's a sport.

Runners and their parents stand around anticipating the meet. The team ran to a 5-13 record for the season.

Doug Huntsinger keeps up a strong pace during a Jr. High Cross Country meet. Keeping a strong pace is very important to a cross country runner.

Coming on Strong

Teams Show Improvement Over Previous Year

The Jr. High football teams had a tough season, both pulling out only one win a piece, but showed overall improvement from the previous year.

Both the 7th and 8th grade teams had a slow start but came on strong in the middle of the season.

Several of their games were exciting, especially the 8th graders' game against Alexandria. The Eagles had a big run late in the game, but still fell short of a win.

Josh Young the 8th graders best defensive player, said, "The season was pretty good and it was a lot better than last year."

Teamate Nate Cress agreed with Young, and said, "The season was all right. I had the most fun during defensive practices because I got to hit people."

Pete Hobbs was the 8th grade's offensive M.V.P. and the Team M.V.P. He was one of the bright spots for the team. Nate Cress received the mental attitude award and Mike McDonald received the most improved award.

The 7th grade most valuable player was Eric Bailey.

Nate Alexander won best offensive player. Best defensive player went to John Jackson.

Tanner Howells received the most improved award and Brandon Betz received the mental attitude award.

The 7th graders are looking to improve on their 1-6 year by winning more games.

The 8th graders will go into high school next and help contribute to the high school's success.

Junior High Volleyball, More Than Just a Sport

The 94-95 records for the junior high volleyball teams was 2-7 for the eighth grade and 4-5 for the seventh grade. Jenni Harrison and Kinzie Hobbs were named the most valuable players for the Junior High. Alison Guthrie and Robin Gilliam were named Miss. Hustle. Jamie Ray and Lyndsay Owen were named Miss. Mental Health.

The Seventh grade lost both games in the Madison County

Tourney, one each to neighbors, Alexandria and Madison Grant.

Seventh Grader, Shelly Barton says playing Jr. high volleyball "was fun and I got a learning experience."

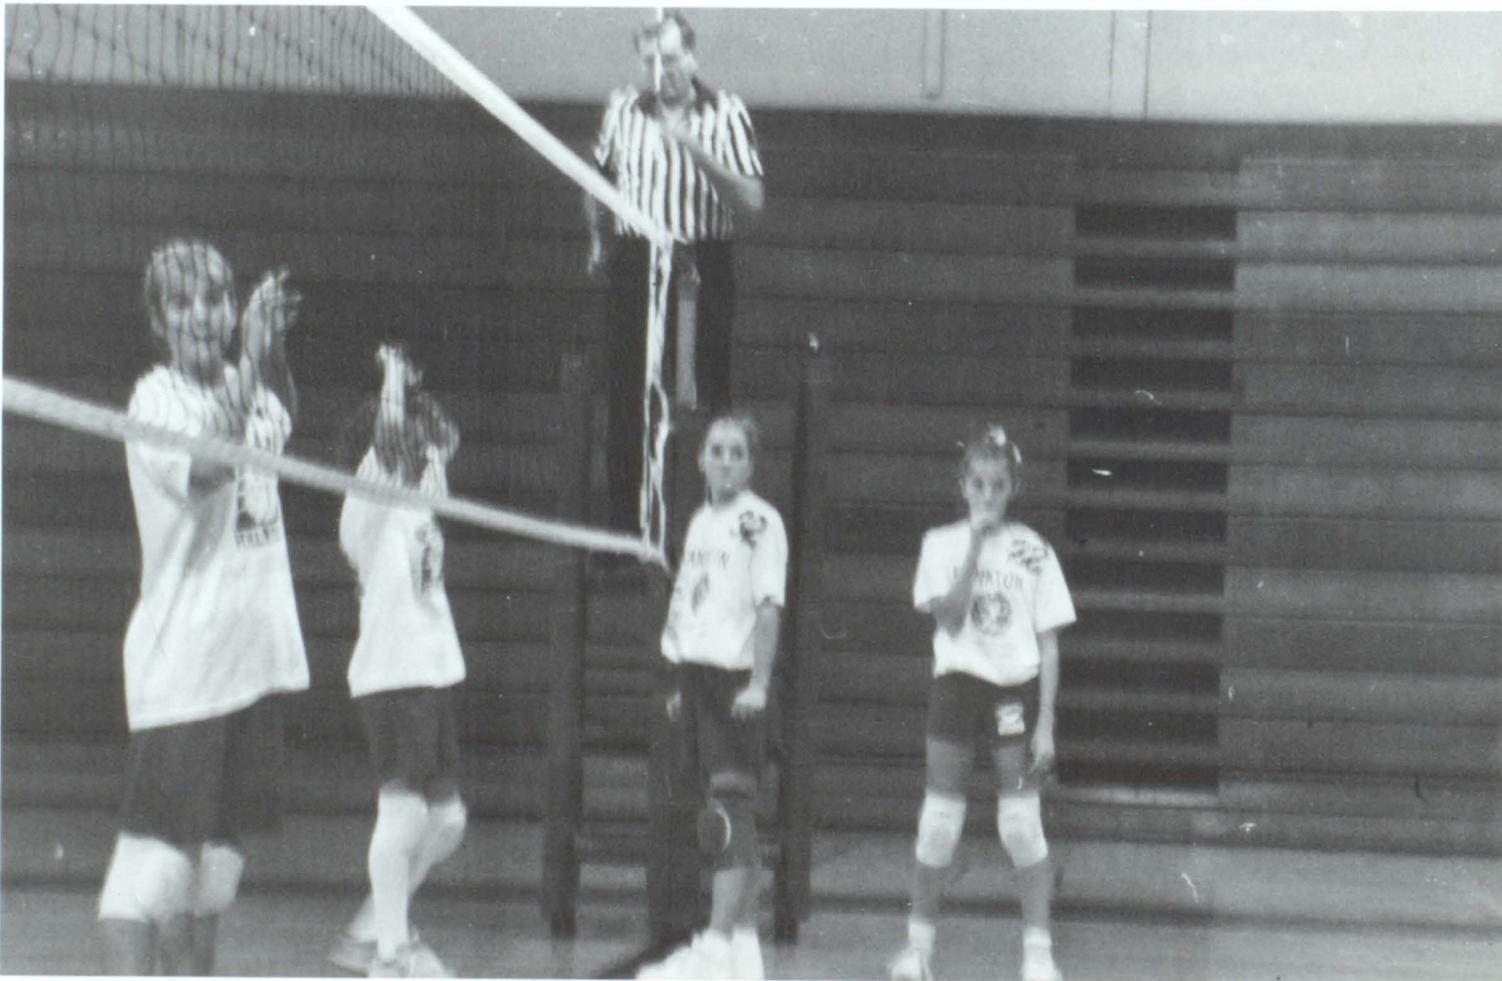

Eighth grader, Stacy Carson, says she liked playing best when she "served eight serves over in a game."

Eighth grader, Andrea Cole says "I just played because I liked the competition."

Having fun while playing is important also. If players do not enjoy the sport they are involved in, they will not try their hardest and will not be motivated to do their best.

Kinzie Hobbs, Seventh grade MVP, says the best thing about jr. high volleyball is "having fun" she also adds that "It was a nice learning experience."

Taking a Huge Step

7th grade win three games, 8th grade wins eight

Junior high basketball is the stepping stone for the young players to gain the skills and experience needed for the high school level.

The eighth grade showed that they are ready and willing to make the move on to the next playing level, while the seventh grade showed that they still need to polish off some of the rough edges of their game.

The eighth grade went 8-10 on the season. They showed considerable improvement from last season when they lost their final six games.

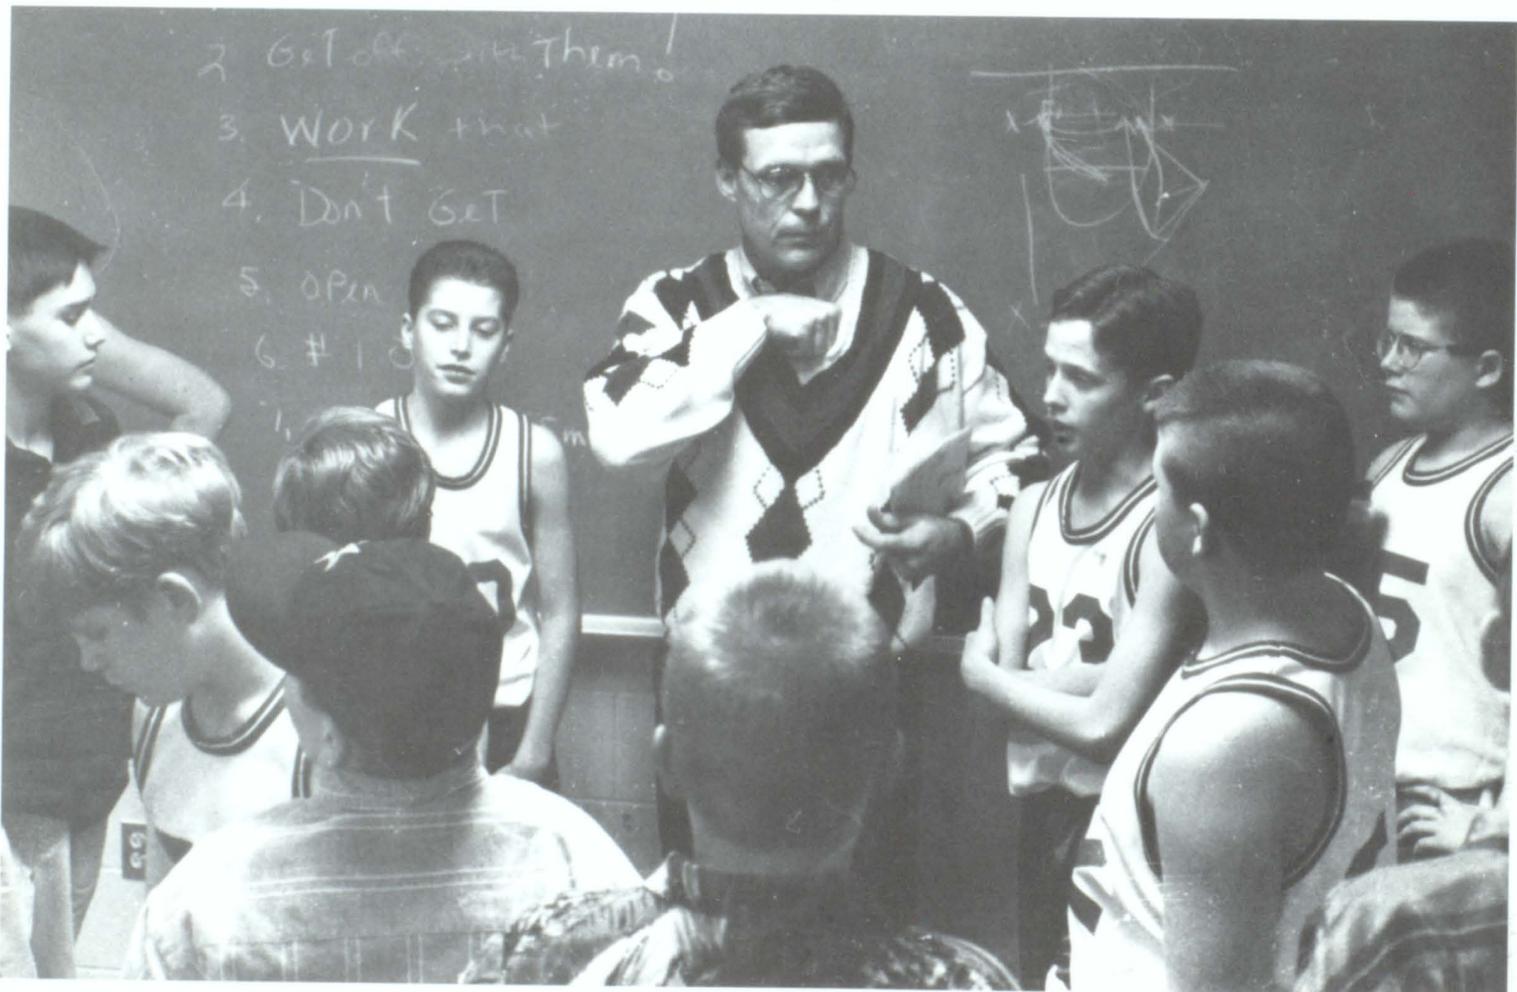

The seventh grade finished their season the same way the eighth grade finished their previous season. They failed to win their final nine games. Their record was 3-10.

Both teams had their bright spots during the season and certain players leading the way to victories for them.

The seventh grade had a variety of players leading them. They did not have a true standout player, but they played as a team and used each other to carry themselves to their three wins.

The eighth was led by Chucky Moore, Eric Stickradt, and Pete Hobbs. They were the team's M.V.P., best offensive player, and best defensive player respectively.

Seventh grade coach, Dennis Huntsinger, gives some last minute comments to his team. The team had a great learning experience this season.

Taking Home Titles

Seventh and Eighth Graders Take Both County Titles

They may be little people, but they sure know how to play the game. The game of basketball that is. The seventh and eighth graders, had a great season on the court.

The seventh grade went all the way undefeated with the record 13-0. They then defeated Pendleton 31-22 winning the county championship. They did work hard, but they had their own funny memories that they will never forget. Shelly Barton remembers one of her most funniest moments. "When I shot for a 3 pointer and the ball hit coach Anderson in the head!"

The eighth grade basketball team made it with a 10-6 record defeating Pendleton Heights 38-27 to capture the county tournament championship.

The eighth graders are ready to move on to high school, but there will always be the jr. high basketball memories that they will carry with them for the rest of their lives. There are many reasons for girls playing basketball, "Being out on the court with my friends," said Jamie Ray.

Whether they are out on the court playing for fun or for a challenge they will never forget one year of basketball.

Taking a very brief rest, Mindy Alexander waits for the ball to be inbounded. The junior high girls teams both had great winning seasons.

Down on the Mat

Wrestlers learn and have fun at the same time

"Junior high wrestling involves more teaching than coaching. The kids are still enthusiastic and self-motivated. They surprise you. You never know what they are going to do." These are the words that Coach Cress expressed about this year's junior wrestling team.

In junior high several of the kids that join the team have never wrestled before. This gives Coach Cress the opportunity to teach the kids the fundamentals of wrestling before they enter high school.

That teaching has paid off for several people already in high school and beyond. They gained the experience in wrestling techniques and learned what to expect when they go to high school.

This year the team finished at .500 with a record of 4-4. Their four wins were in close matches, giving them an idea of what it was like to be in a pressure situation where all the points count.

Next year the eighth graders will get to experience the strenuous conditioning and work it takes to wrestle in high school. They will learn new moves and how to eat right.

The seventh graders will return to work on their skills. They will also try improve on the 4-4 record from this season with they help of a new batch of seventh grade wrestlers.

2 Bits, 4 Bits, 6 bits.....

Junior High Cheerleaders Anticipate High School

V-I-C, V-I-C, V-I-C-T-O-R-Y,
THAT'S THE EAGLE'S BATTLE
CRY. S-U-C, S-U-C, S-U-C-C-E-S-S, THAT'S THE WAY WE SPELL SUCCESS.

This is just one of the many cheers used at the junior high activities that the cheerleaders use to get the crowds roaring.

It took a few minutes for some of the eighth graders cheerleaders to answer a question during their lunch. They were asked if they thought they would make the high school cheerleading squad?

Jenni Harrison said, "Yes, I have been in cheerleading for many years and I think that my hard work will pay off."

Jenni is very positive about herself, she said at first that she did not know and then she said yes, because of her ability in cheerleading and her hard work.

Holli Mehling said, "Yes, I have school spirit and I practice a lot to get better for next year."

Holli was kind of shy at first and did not know what to say, and she thought long and hard about her answer and threw together that she had school spirit and practiced often.

These two girls are positive that they are going to make the high school squad. By their spirit, and confidence, they will probably succeed in doing so.

Which way is it to Rickers? The cheerleaders point to the only way they can go and that is up.

Eighth Grade: Row 1: Alison Guthrie, Holli Mehling. Row 2: Jenni Harrison, Andrea Cole, Mindy Alexander. Row 3: Melissa Riley.

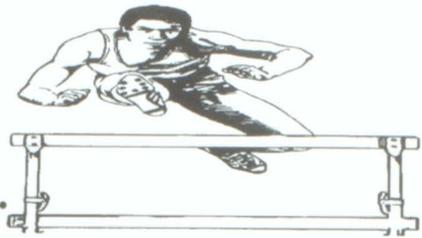

Hope Goshert and Leah Music talk to the other cheerleaders to prepare for their next cheer at a basketball game.

Mindy Alexander and Andrea Cole raise Jenni Harrison to new heights. The girls are hoping to raise up to cheerleading on the high school level.

Overcoming Hurdles

Track teams go in opposite directions this season.

The junior high boys and girls track teams went in opposite directions this year.

Both teams were full of young talent, but the girls talent did not reach the potential of the boys this year.

The boys record was 9-2. The only matches they lost were very close ones.

The girls finished the season with a record of 1-6. They won easily in their first meet but failed to win the rest of the season.

They also had two meets cancelled due to weather that were never made up and could have both been wins.

Kim Anderson raked in the most points for the girls on the year with Melissa Riley finishing second. Amy Ochoa was the the Sportsmanship award winner.

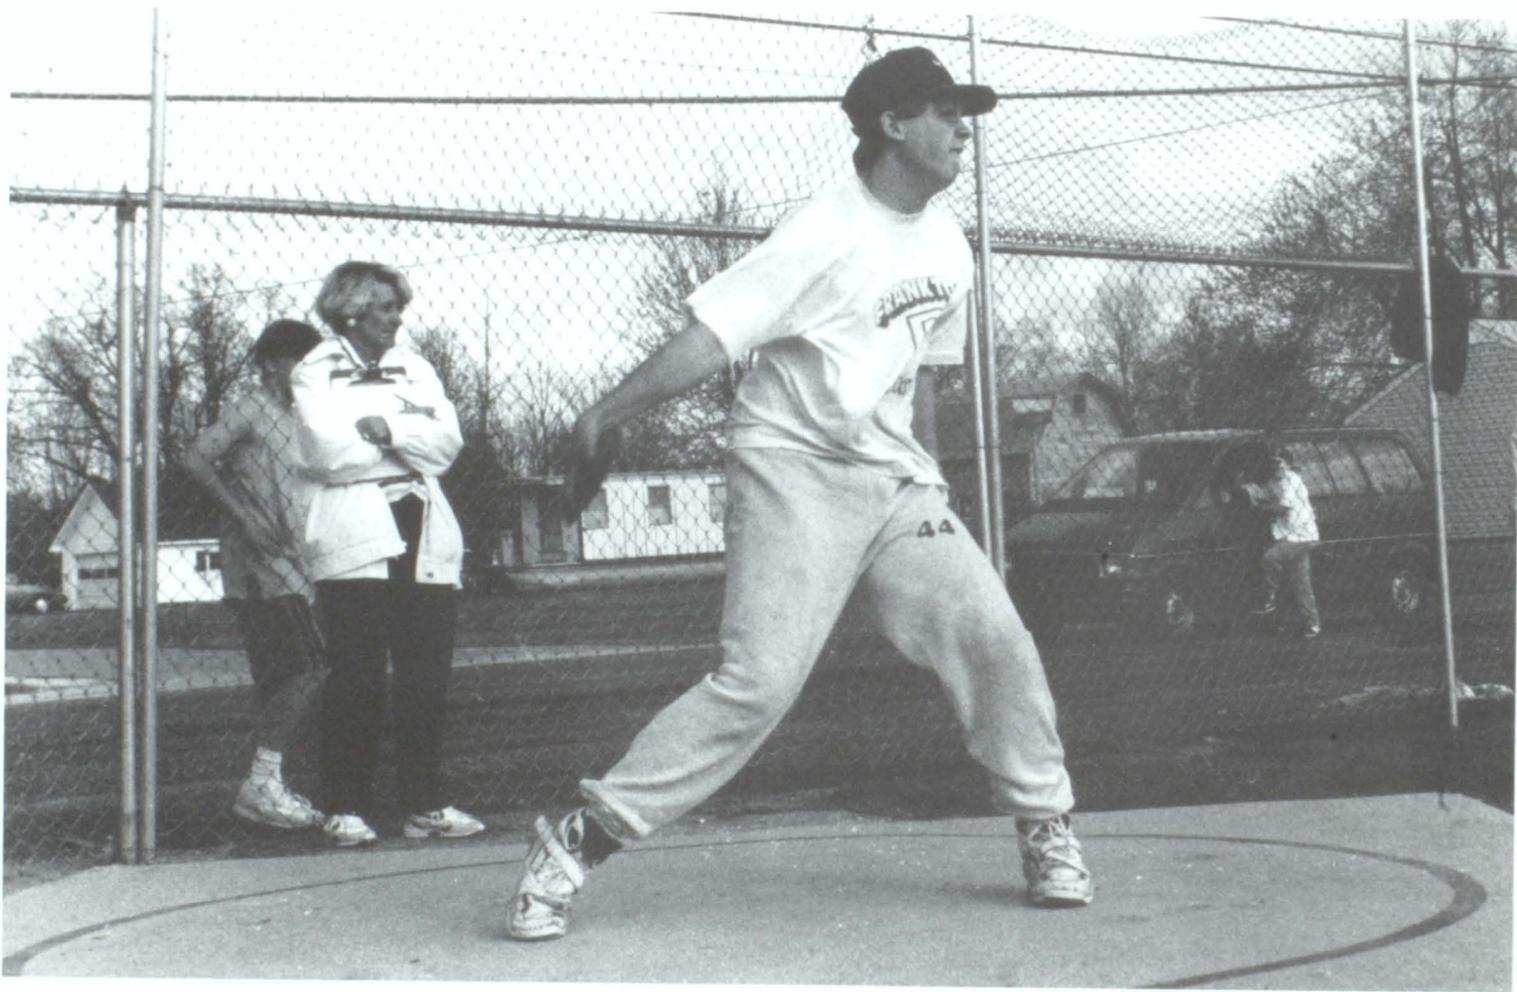

Adam Pickett was the leading point getter for the boys. He and Pete Hobbs were team captins for the boys.

The boys dominated the county meet to close out their season. Only one team was really close to them when the final results were announced.

The girls on the other hand struggled through the tourney and finsihed a disappointing sixth place out of six teams.

Both teams have alot to build on for next year in hopes that the boys will keep their dominance and that the girls will regain the dominance that they once had and have a better year.

Chad Hunter prepares to throw the discus. Hunter had some major contributions to the team.

Jenny Carson starts her ascent into the air an over the bar. Carson had a great season.

Sectional '95

One shot away. Just one shot away from the Eagles having a storybook comeback and winning their first sectional title. This year was the second time Frankton was one shot away.

The first time this occurred was on March 2, 1991. Highland, was the team's opponent, had a two point lead over the Eagles with only seconds remaining. Jason Whitaker had only one last shot remaining. It just misses.

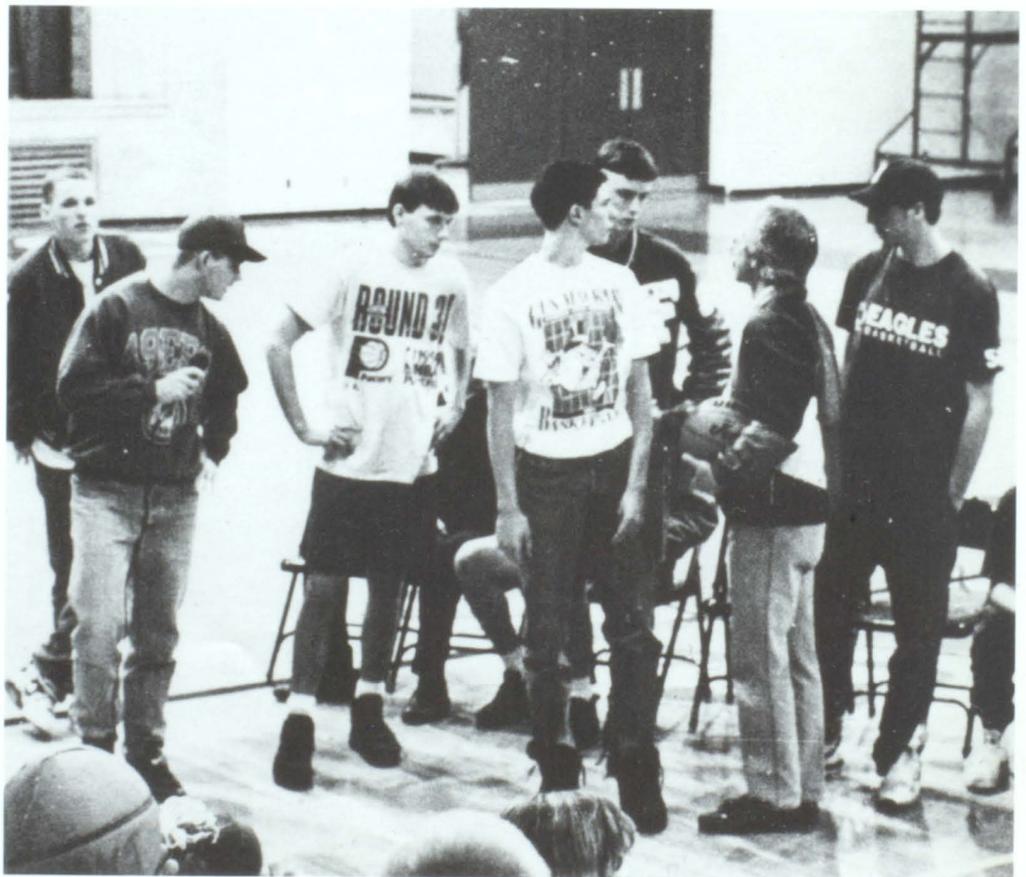

Things were a different story this year. The Eagles were facing Alexandria and were down by ten points with five minutes left. Jesse Wright hit a flurry of three pointers to pull the team within one shot of winning the title. But the team never got their chance. Alexandria won the game and the title 67-66. This was a devastating loss for the Eagles.

The Eagles ended their sectional escapade here at Frankton where they received their runner-up ball. Although it was a big accomplishment to place second in the sectional, it was also a big disappointment.

For the third time in school history, the Eagles end up with a runner-up ball.

This reminds us of how close we were to the biggest win in school history and motivates us to bring home a trophy and not another basketball. As the saying goes, "so close, yet so far away."

Frankton's six Seniors half-heartedly accept the runner-up game ball after a devastating loss to the Alexandria Tigers in the Sectional Championship game.

Brobston looks for a shot at the Sectional game against Highland. Frankton defeated Highland and advanced to the final game.

Driving through the lane, Nathan Hobbs, battles against the Highland defense to get the shot.

Editor's Note

Well, it's that time of year again. It's time for the end of classes, graduation, and summer jobs. But wait. The yearbook isn't finished yet. That's right, some of the yearbook staff will still be here long after the final school bell rings to put some finishing touches on the '95 Eaglite.

I would like to start by saying that although we seem to pull through every year with a different and unique yearbook to represent that year, it isn't easy. The yearbook is looked forward to by all students and our staff should definitely not be forgotten.

I would like to thank all of my staff for putting up with me and my deadlines. This was a learning experience for me as well as an adjustment for them. It is quite unusual to have a junior for editor and it was sometimes hard to make everyone look up to me when I had to be in charge. I feel like we all cooperated well and even though we had some minor problems we seemed to get through all the major ones together. The next person we should all thank is Mr. Sipe for listening to all of our ideas and helping me to learn as well as teach my staff. He had some important input and was very patient with me, even when I asked the really "stupid" questions. I would like to thank my staff again, but I feel that some individual recognition should be given.

Adonica Paschal started out to be student life editor. This has always been a big job and even when we piled on extra student life pages in the yearbook she kept her head up and did the job. As I said before, I had to learn things right along with my staff. Adonica made my job a lot easier. She became my assistant and did a lot of my work for me. I don't recall ever hearing her complain about the things that she did for me. I don't think we would have been finished without her.

Megan Ead and Heather Eddy should be mentioned together since it seemed as though they got through their sections together. I have never seen so much teamwork. Megan was faculty editor and Heather was underclass editor. These pages were the most reworked ones in the book and I'm sure these girls are glad to be done. Thanks for all your hard work.

Julie Graham was elected senior editor. This seemed to be a fairly simple job. Not! Julie worked with these pages for many weeks. She did a great job and I'm glad she hung in there even though graduation was approaching.

Jeremy Fetty was elected sports editor and I don't think he was very happy about that at first. He tried his hardest anyway and it turned out that he did a really good job. Although we had to push him everyday, he seemed to get the job done for us when it was needed the most.

Our advertisement staff consisted of Carole Robinette, Casey Sizelove, and Mandy Surber. I would like to give special thanks to them. Advertisement and sales are our only way of funding our book. Without them running around town selling ads, we would not have a book this year.

Indexing is a very boring job, but Rachel Hall did a good job of keeping up on it. Indexing is a last minute touch and she helped to get it done early.

This year has been a long, but productive year. I know that I can not please everyone in this school. I'm sure that there are things that you won't like in our book, but if you look hard there are some interesting changes that I think you will be very pleased with. I am just really happy that we have produced a yearbook that we are proud of and I hope you will be too.

Sincerely,

Rachel Simmons

Editor and co-editor, Rachel Simmons and Adonica Paschal, smile for the camera knowing that the yearbook is almost complete.

The Eaglite staff hams it up for the camera. The staff is usually not included in many pictures, so when they get the chance they are always ready to smile big. Oops! Sorry Megan, even the best photographers cut people out sometimes.

Friends Forever

---

You have to be a real friend to let one of your friends shave your head. Steve Jackson puts his trust in Jeremy Fetty as he shaves his head.

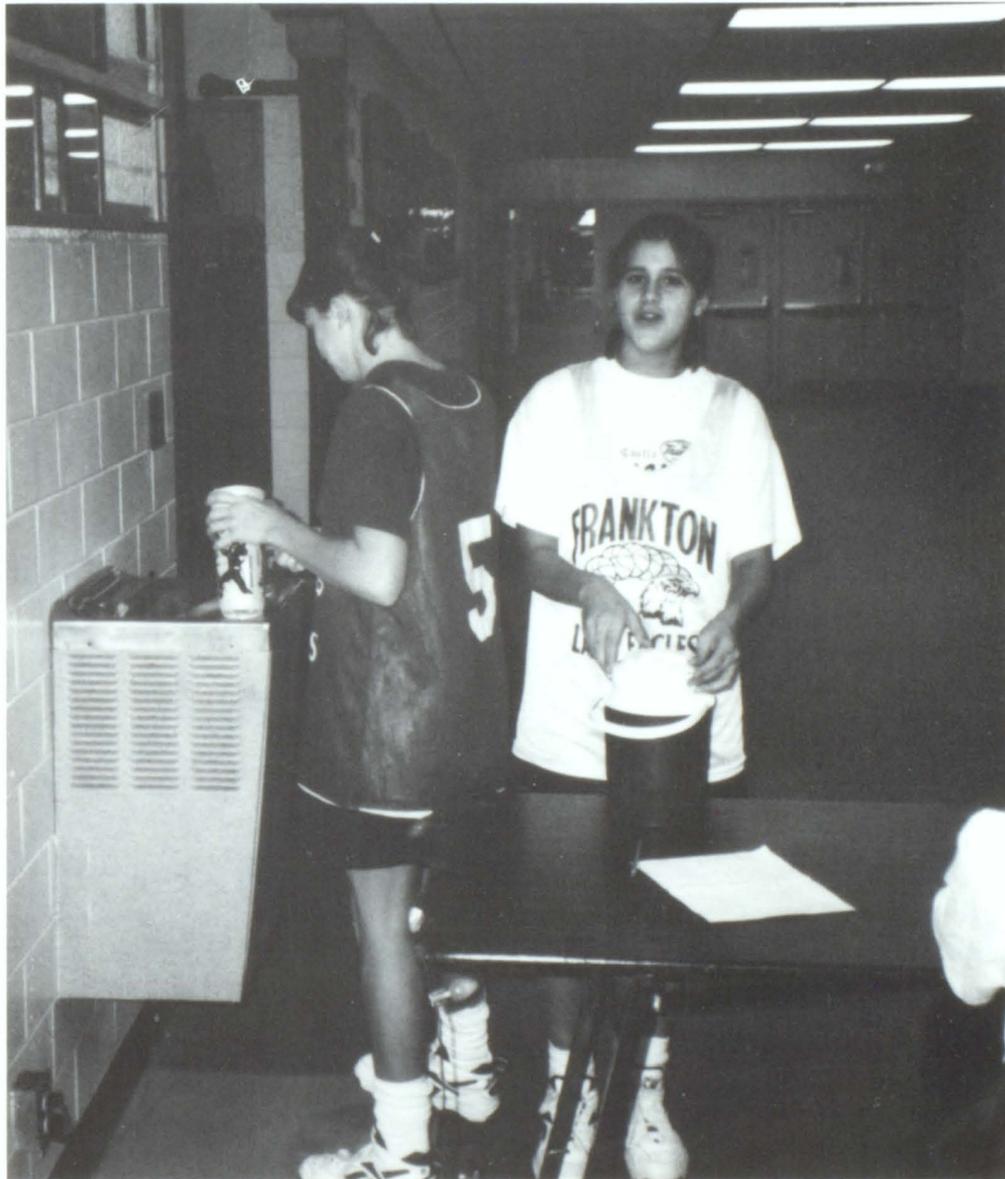

This group of senior friends eat lunch together everyday in the cafeteria.

Bound & Determined

Once again it is time to end another year and say goodbye to another graduating class. Many things have occurred for most of us in '94-'95. You may not remember everything that happened to you this year, but we hope that this yearbook might help you to remember the good friends and fun that you had.

As we close our yearbook and say goodbye, we would like to include one final quote from the seniors on yearbook and newspaper staff. Sometimes they are forgotten in the process and since they were so BOUND AND DETERMINED to get their names in the yearbook one last time, we thought we would give them a chance.

What will you remember the most about your years here at Frankton Jr/Sr High School?

"I remember all the fun at practices, and winning the softball sectional." Julie Graham

"All the great times that my great friends and I have had during these last four years. Especially meeting Huffman at Aaron's house." Ross Priest

"All the great friends that I've made and the good times we've had. Especially spring break '95" Josh Cox

"The friends I made, the trips I took, the teachers who were special to me. Drama is something I will always remember the inside jokes with my friends. I'm glad for my time here." Holly Brunson

"All my activities which have all taught me something very valuable I will use in the future, my special friendships, my difficulties, and especially all the fun times I had. I'll be glad I made the decisions that were right for me, rather than always going with the flow. I have a lot of special memories." Sarah Burton

"Most of all, winning state in wrestling. But also spring break in Panama City. Having the most spirit at the boys sectional and our class being the best ever in school sports history." Courtney Duncan

"Everything has been great, mainly going and partying with friends, Panama City, great football and wrestling seasons, and having my vocabulary extended by Mr. Maish. Mainly fighting authority and just plain getting crazy!" Jeremy Fetty

"I've had lots of good times my senior year, being accepted to college, getting Academic All-Sate in football, and being accepted into the National Honor Society" Brian Culp

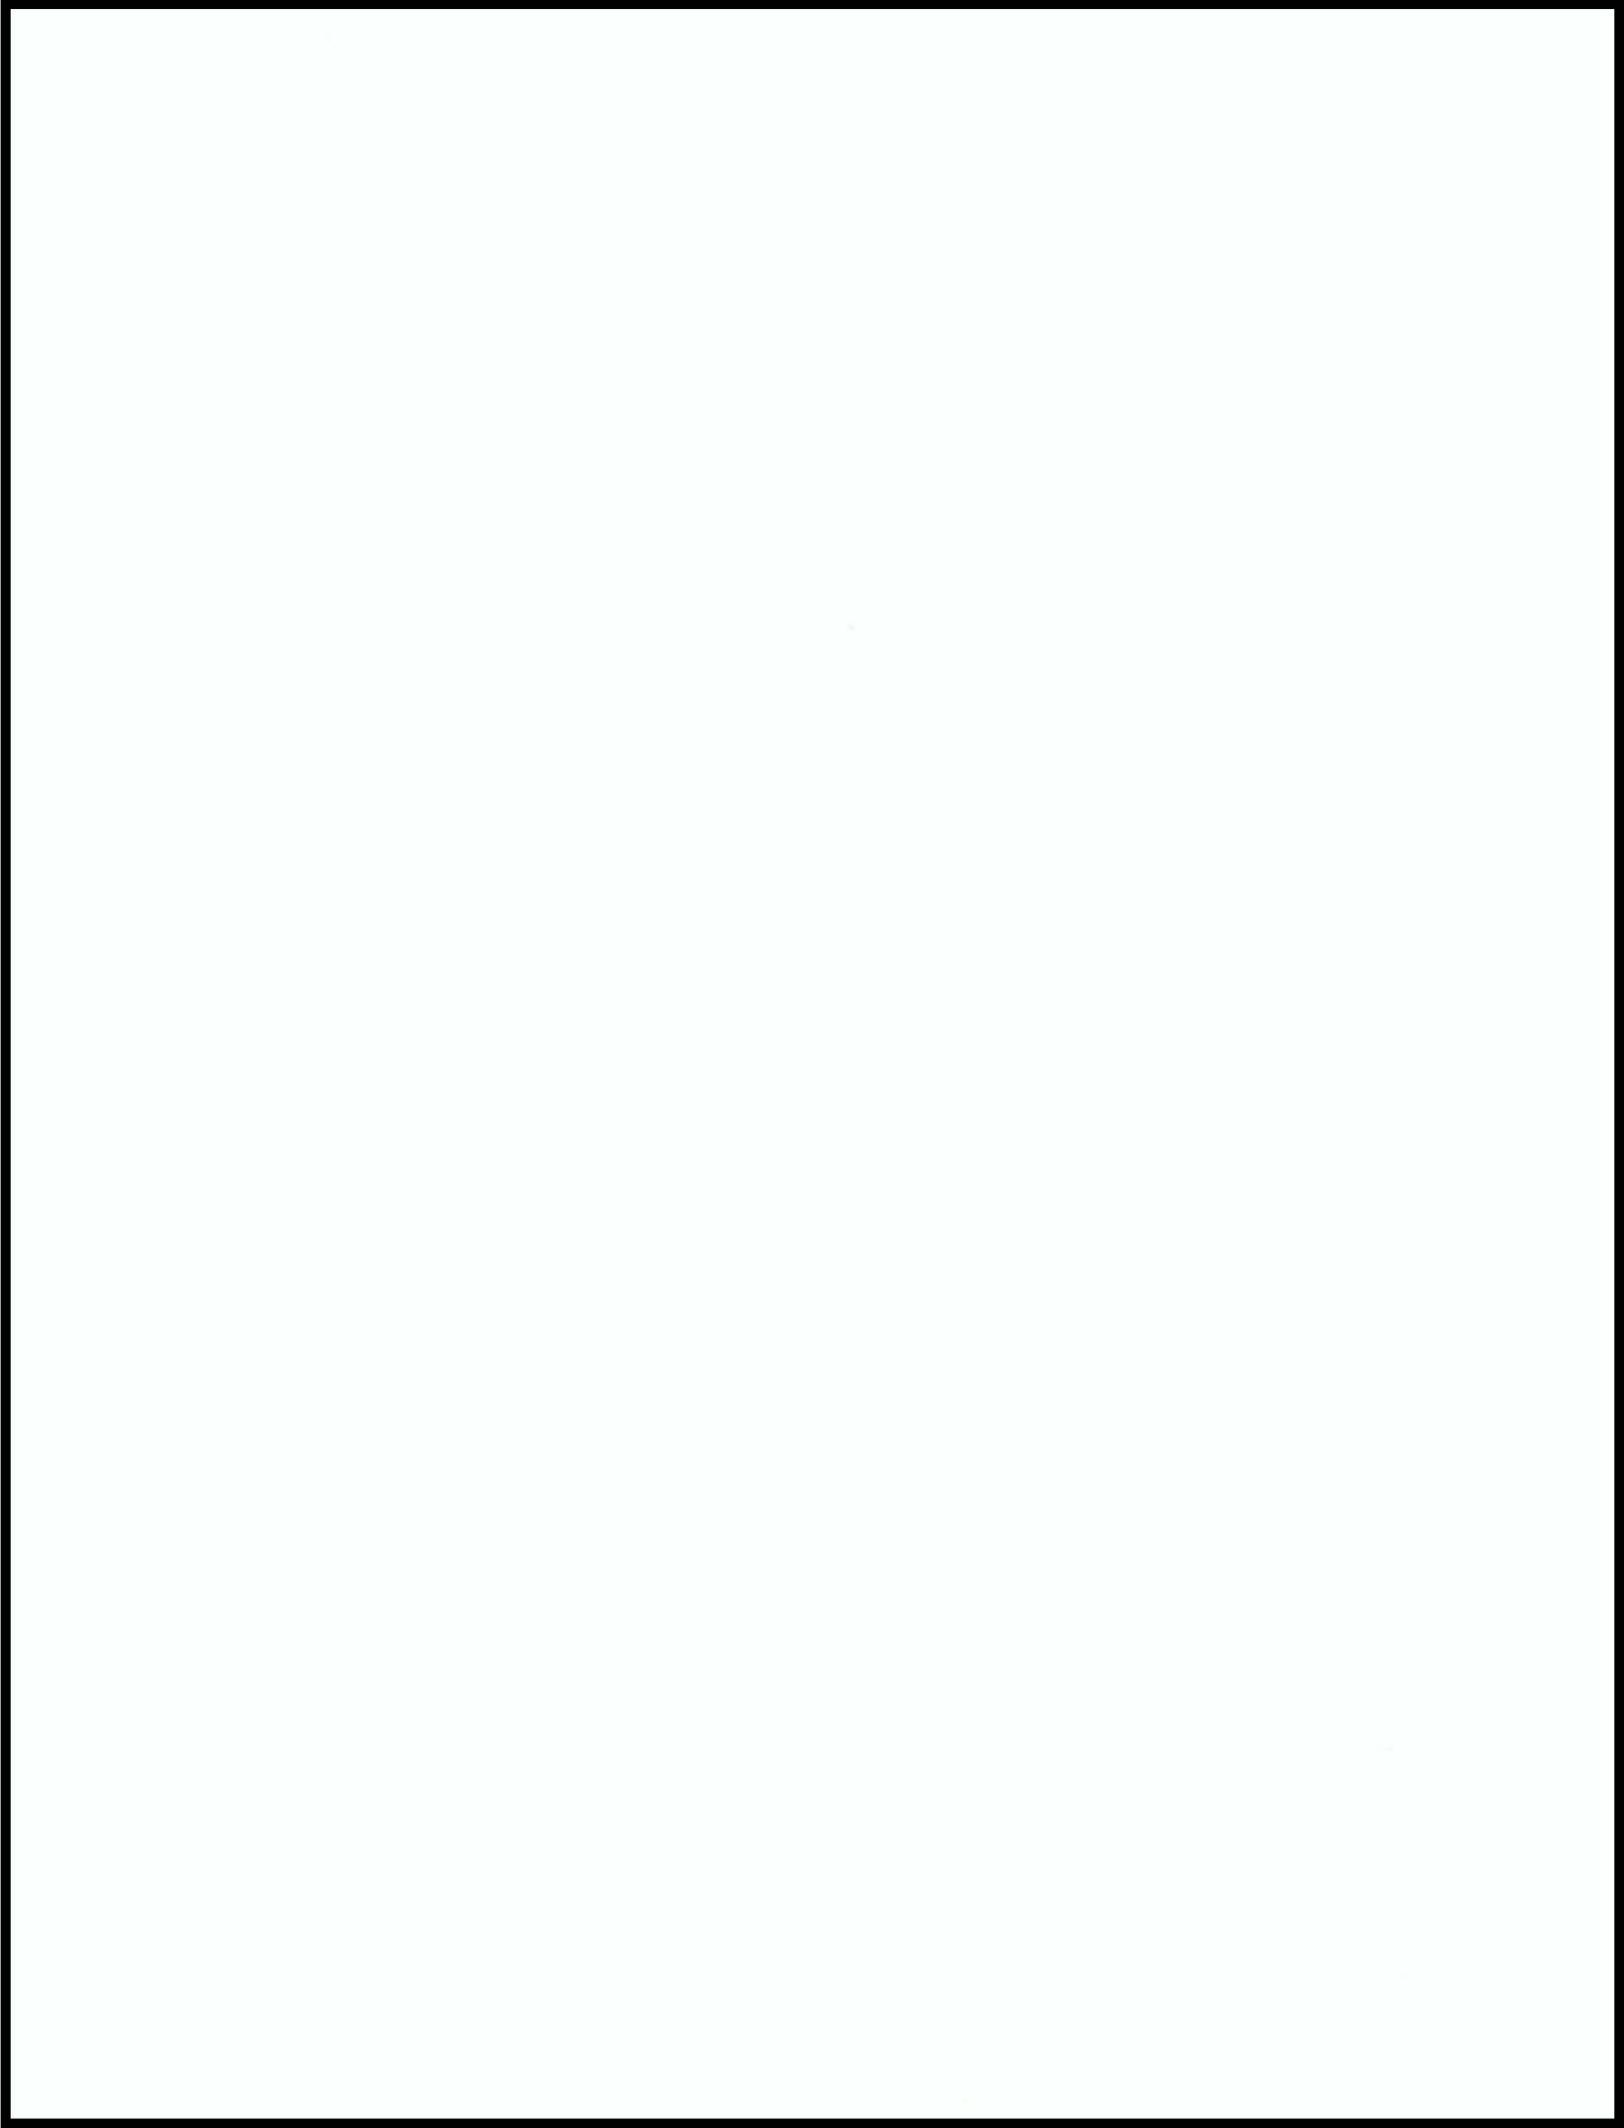

Seniors Brent Brobston and Rob Barton bury old memories by the tree as they move on after graduation.

Students say goodbye to homecoming '95. We all have to say goodbye to the '94-'95 schoolyear memories as our year and book comes to a close.
