Tell me About It!

Our high school years are a very special time. It's a period involving both the good and not so good. A time we students will stop to look back on to see what we have accomplished. Most of the memories center around the fun times, the crazy times, the embarrassing times, and yes, even the sad times. These memories involve friends, teachers, athletic team members, and that special sweetheart. Some of these memories include goofing off in the halls, classrooms with friends, special dates with that special someone, pizza after the games, sports events, parties, driving the "L", and finally graduation. The not so good times include the feelings of being rejected, not being accepted, and the feeling of failure. These memories will remain for a lifetime. Are you now ready to see What You Have Done?

Student Life

High school is not only classes, lunch, and homework. For most students high school will be remembered mainly for the exciting and crazy times that are shared with others. Activities such as dances, vacations, displaying spirit for athletic teams, decorating lockers and hallways, attending summer camps, practicing after school, and spending adventurous moments with friends are all ways that we can enjoy our high school years. Students have found a way to get their share of fun while still managing to receive an education. One can also gain knowledge from their many extracurricular activities. Our memories of this year will last a lifetime. Now, Look What You've Done!

Stone Selected

As Scholar

Junior Shelley Stone was chosen to represent Elwood at the Indiana Governor's Scholars Academy. To be chosen for this academy, Shelley had to submit a questionnaire and a personal essay. Shelley participated in formal debates, attended classes on improving her thinking skills, and had discussions via satellite with Senator Dan Coats. Although the camp was a lot of hard work, Shelley felt it was very interesting and worth while.

Star of ### Elwood

Junior Pat Rice has represented Elwood in the Star of Indiana Drum and Bugle Corps for the past two years. Pat was one of 800 students competing for only 20 spots in this corps. Throughout the summer this group traveled throughout the country performing and entertaining. Performing with this group gave Pat the opportunity to see many places and meet many people. Pat said this camp was hard but very rewarding.

Camps

When people think of summer vacation, that's just what they think of — vacation. No school, sleeping late, and catching up on the latest soaps. Many students, however, go right back to work attending summer camps which means getting up early, staying up late, working hard in the hot summer sun, and meeting a lot of new and sometimes life-long friends.

Camps are held throughout the summer and involve everything from sports to journalism to music to cheerleading. There are camps held for academics and even for school groups like student council and SADD. The majority of the camps are held on college campuses, but some are held in other areas such as campgrounds or even just at local high schools.

Camps range in price from $30-$300 and vary in length from two days to three weeks. Although camps are usually very busy and usually involve a lot of hard work and effort, students always enjoy them and look forward to the next summer when they can attend again.

Angie Morris makes the best of a much needed rest in between practices at volleyball camp at Ball State University.

Classes Compete

to Increase Pep

Pep sessions took on a whole new look and form this year at ECHS. The cheerleaders dreamed up ways to get the student body involved in the excitement, and class camaraderie was a new quality at the pep sessions as students competed in different types of competitions. Class battled class for position on top of the spirit pole in such warfare as jello-eating contests, tricycle races, and shopping cart races. Students always enjoyed pep sessions.

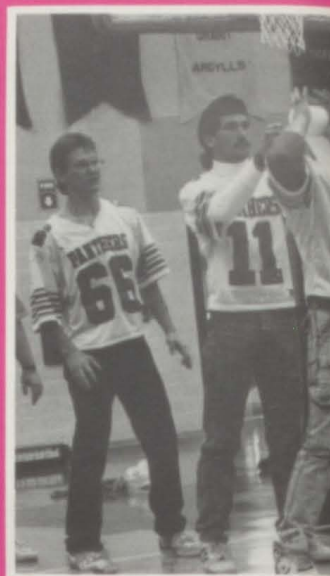

Senior Gary Coston gets into position to catch a grape in the grape toss competition.

Spirit

The juniors raise their hands and yell to motivate the football team to a victory.

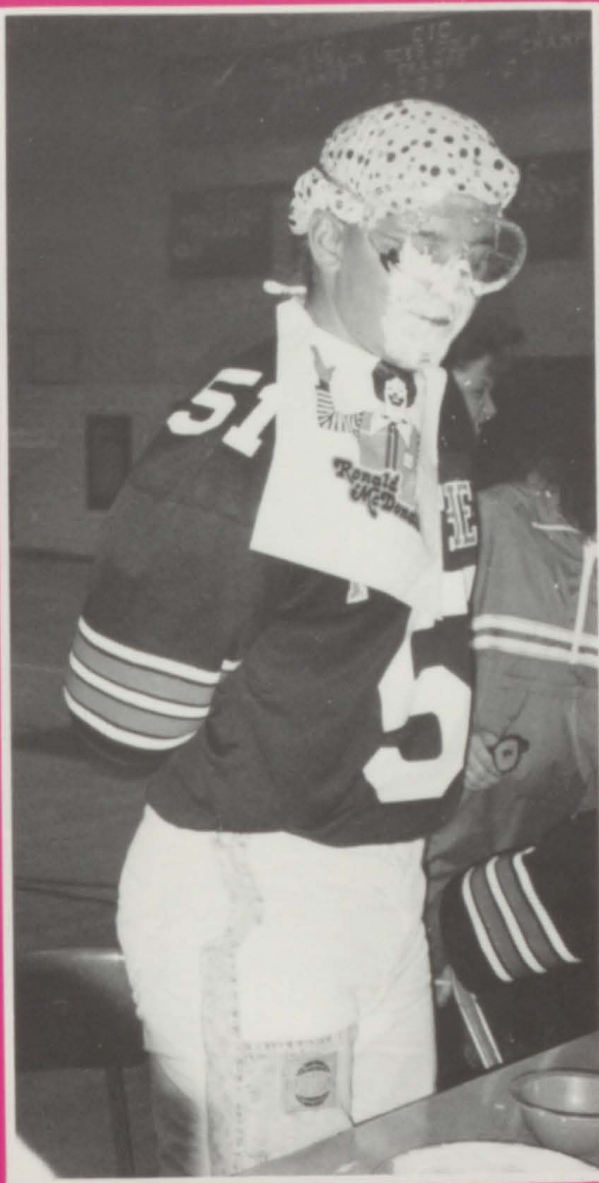

Roy Ploughe, Ryan Robinson, Shane Gibson, Sissy Beeman, and Angie Murray pull with all their might for the sophomores.

Senior varsity cheerleaders Kristi Bobel and Margaret Burke display a sign announcing that the tug-of-war contest is about to begin.

Gary Coston, Cale Martin, Chad Scott, Leo Borst, Jason Wheeler, and Jason Marcuson compete for the seniors in the toilet paper roll race.

Chad Scott rises after a messy victory for the seniors at the Homecoming pep session.

Sophomores Doug Elledge and Jason Springer and seniors Alison Scott and Michelle Welcher hustle to be the first to finish in the shopping cart race.

Junior Terry Paustenbaugh and sophomore Dennis Gerencser battle to see who can cross the finish line first in the orange swing.

Here's What

You Said

Seventy-seven percent of the students attended the Homecoming game while only 6% bought a Homecoming mum. When asked if students wore red and blue on the day of Homecoming, 83% did. Also, of the 17% who participated in the Powder Puff game, 48% made enemies. It is surprising to learn that of the 61% of the students who attended the Homecoming dance, 57% went with a date. ECHS students displayed their spirit with 37% buying a caramel apple from DECA, and 22% participated in the parade.

Kenny Sallee, Chad Scott, Scott Stanley, Bill Davis, and Bill Shallenberger block for Todd Conwell as he runs against a Blackford defense.

SWEET 16

A winning streak was on the line on the night of October 16 at Panther Stadium. The Panthers, 3-1 in the Conference, went into the game retaining fifteen consecutive Homecoming victories. The secret to the annihilation of the Blackford Bruins was mostly the result of Elwood's ability to capitalize on their opponents' mistakes, two blocked punts, and good field position. Junior quarterback Terry Paustenbaugh also played an important part in the victory by throwing three touchdown passes. Coach Jay Howk explains,

"We've had these opportunities in the past, but we'd always let some slip by us. Now we're letting fewer and fewer slip by us."

The king candidates for this year were Eric Caldwell, Kevin Blanton, Mike Davis, Jason Marcuson, Troy Powell, and Chad Scott. Mike Davis was crowned king during half-time of the junior-senior Powder Puff game. Anne Barnes, Julie Bastian, Sherae Smith, Kristi Bobel, Margy Burke, and Kathy Romig were the queen candidates for 1989.

Senior parade marshalls Chad Woolums and Alison Scott led the 1989 Homecoming parade.

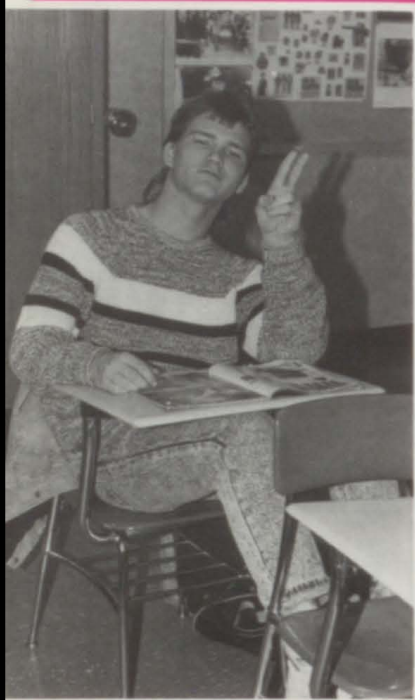

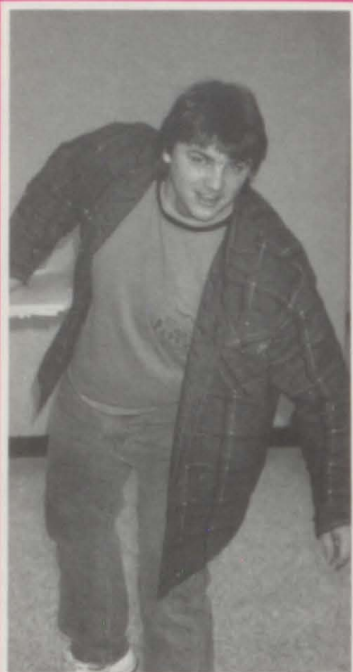

Bob Goins, Dena Haas, and Pat Rice march with the Panther band in the Homecoming parade.

Kristi Bobel is crowned 1989 Homecoming Queen during half-time of the Homecoming game by the 1988 queen, Daphne Kelich.

"A guy was chasing me, and I could not get home."

"I thought I saw someone come out of the back window of a building, so I followed him for three hours."

A Best Friend Is

"A best friend is someone you can go trick-or-treating with, go terrorizing in a Chevette, and dig you out of a snow drift with an ice scraper. Seriously, a best friend is someone who is there for you, someone to talk to, and understand you. A best friend is a person who can cheer you up during bad times and celebrate the good. A best friend is an important thing to have."

— Toby Rickabaugh

"A best friend is someone who cares about you and accepts you for what you are. She will be there through the bad times, not just the good ones."

— Michelle Farr

"A best friend is a person one can rely on for an ear or a shoulder. A best friend is a true virtue."

— Andy Crowder

"A best friend is someone to go places with and someone to act crazy with."

Time-out For

Chow Time

Lunch is the favorite period of almost all the students. It is a time to relax, talk to friends, and best of all, eat. Many people have a permanent table that they occupy everyday. Some students remain seated in the lunch room until the bell, go out in the hall to talk or do homework, play basketball in the gym, or play cards or chess. Lunch is also a time to get rid of frustrations by getting wild and crazy during this period of the day.

ime-out

Lockers are decorated for various reasons. Some are decorated just for appearance or to support our athletic teams. Still more are decorated so that their owners may have something different to look at when they open their locker. The interiors are usually filled with photos, stuffed animals, books, and magazine photos. Students also enjoy hanging decorative wrapping paper and clever signs.

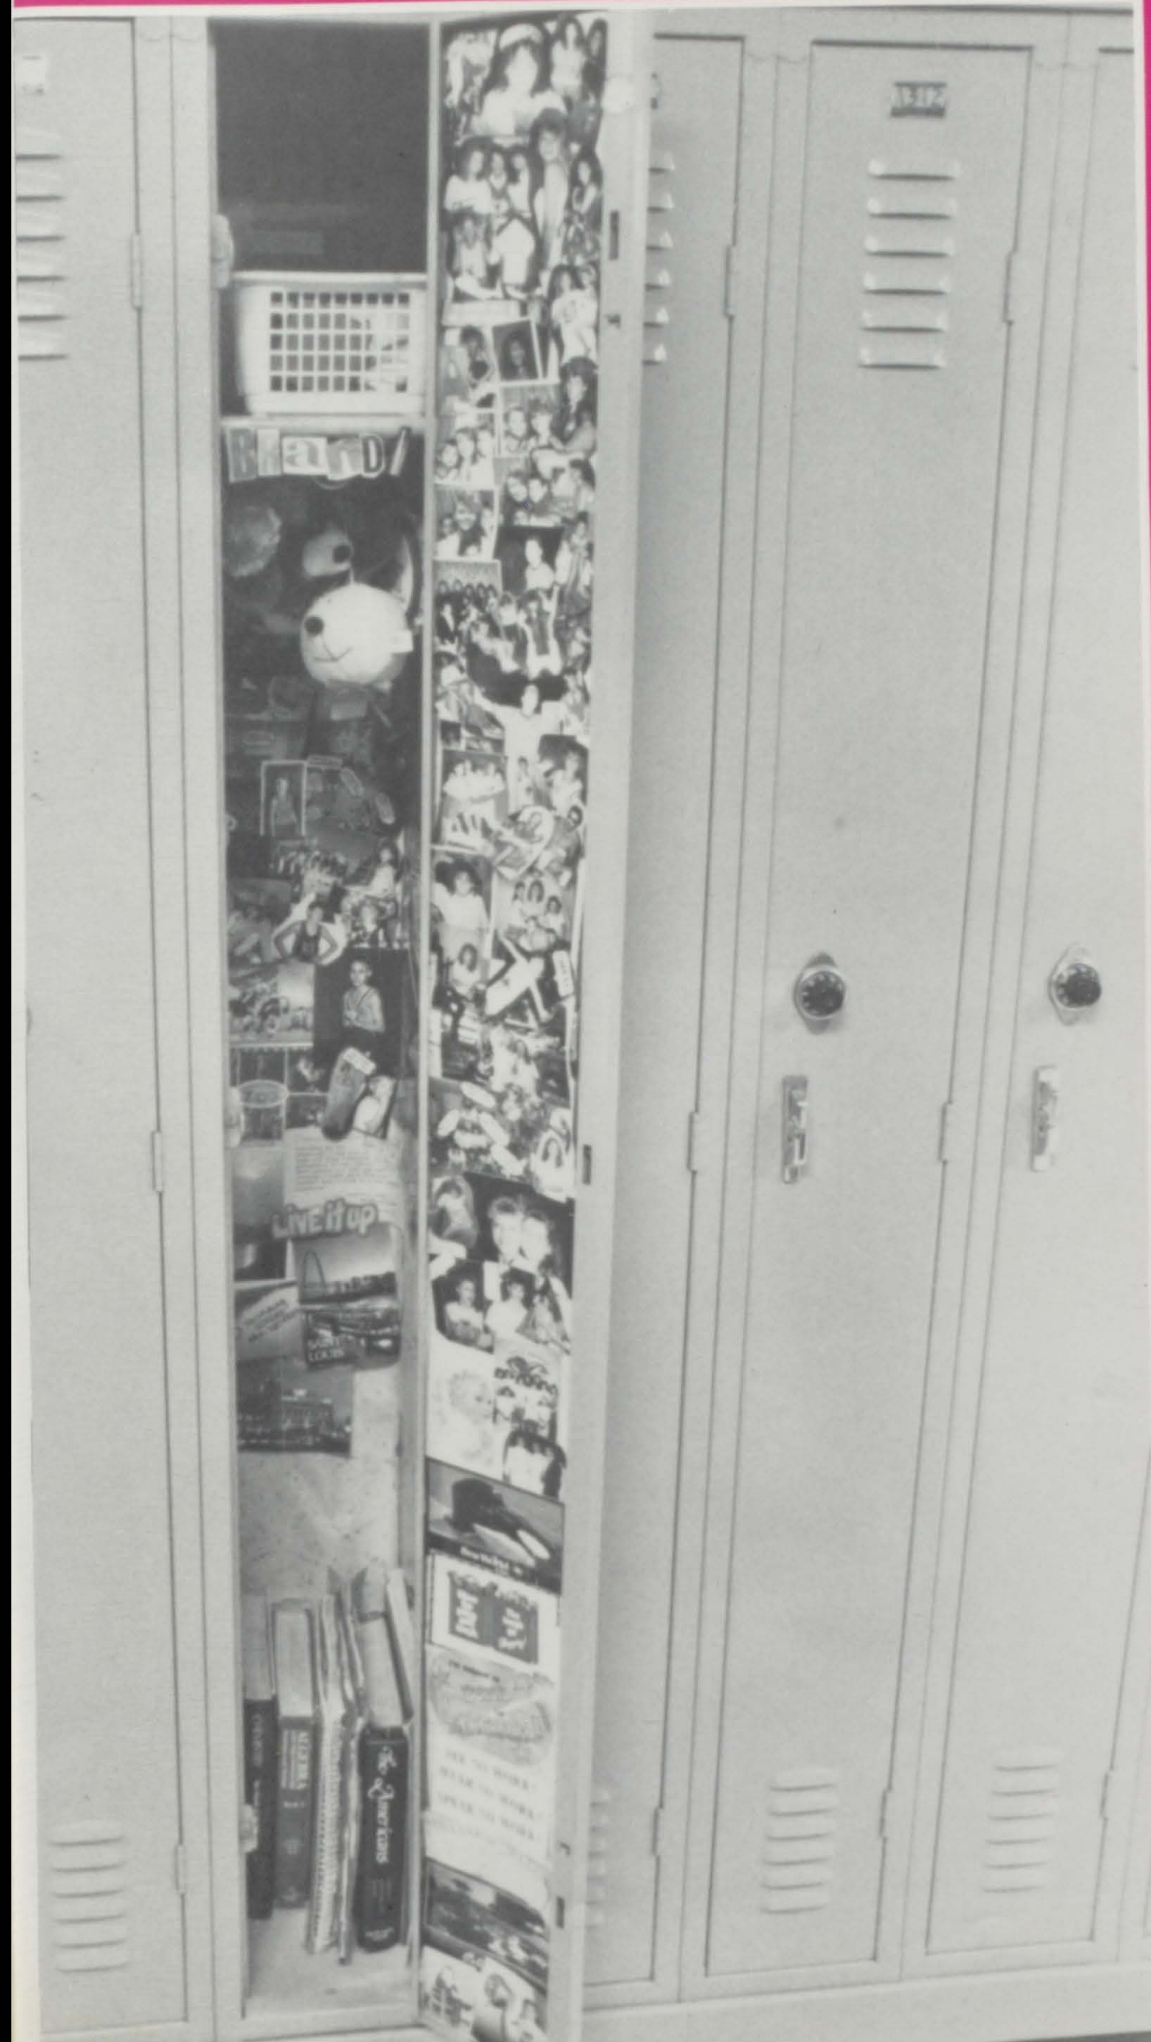

The hallways are often decorated many different times during the year. All halls were decorated during Homecoming week. A contest was held to decide which class's hall was the best: seniors, first; sophomores, second; juniors, third; freshmen, fourth. The halls were decorated to support sports events as well as various other events that happened during the year, and some classes decorated their halls just for the fun of it. Students used crepe paper, posters, streamers, and computer printouts. Many memorable experiences occur in the halls and at the lockers at Elwood High School.

Junior Brandi Watters' locker is filled with pictures, stuffed animals, and signs that she has collected throughout the year.

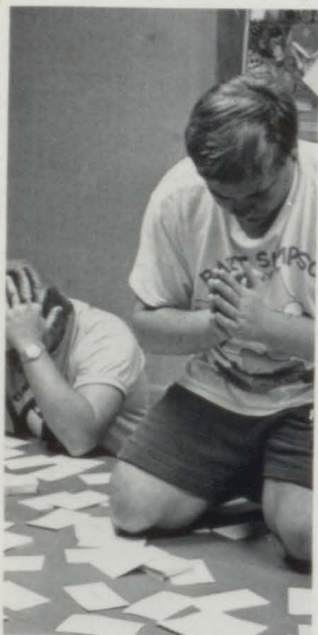

Seniors Tiffany Crandall, Michelle Welcher, and Michele Shallenberger sit in the hall at lunch, discussing the day's activities.

Mark Fernung and Chuck Bell are stressed out as they try to sort their advanced comp. index cards.

Alison Scott has Cale Martin sign her T-shirt as a way of remembering her classmates.

Senioritis

As the year passed so quickly, the seniors' excitement and procrastination got more intense. When one began high school, it seemed like a never ending task. Then on August 22, 1989, the class of 1990 were seniors. What an eye opener! The leadership was now in their hands. Senioritis was shown when they would shove underclassmen out of the line at lunch, call the freshmen "nerds," and strut down senior hall. Senior hall was theirs.

Senioritis is a condition that every senior experiences. There is a sense of superiority, closeness, and the feeling to do nothing academically, all combined together. They also feel that they must make every minute count. The closeness of the class grew greater, and their friends meant more.

The end of the school year arrived. Happiness and sadness were expressed together. Trucks were filled with seniors yelling and celebrating this day. When graduation day arrived, tears were shed, knowing this would be the last time that they would all be together, and senioritis too would be a thing of the past.

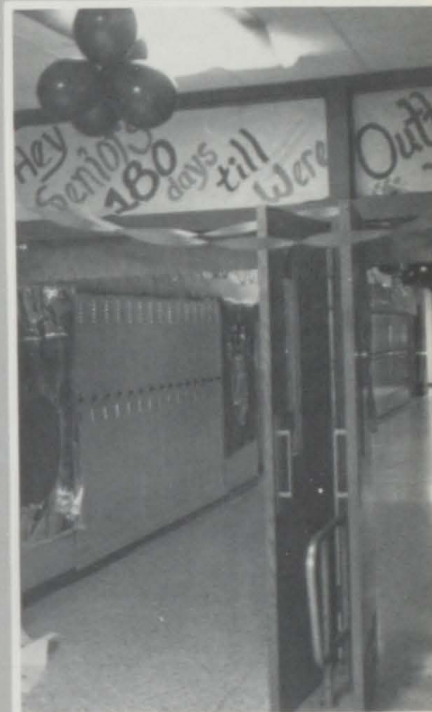

As the bell rings, Michelle Welch-er, Michelle Farr, and Sherae Smith rush out the doors to celebrate the end of high school.

Cheryl Wallace expresses her senioritis by dozing off in class.

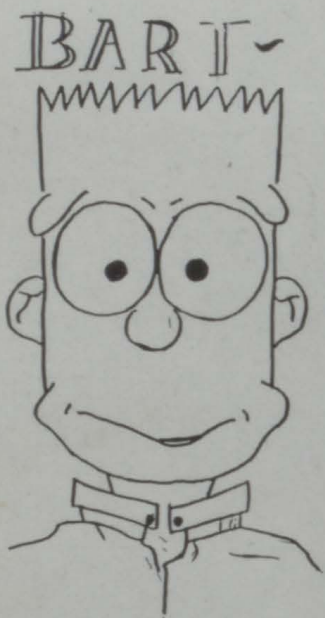

Senioritis began on the first school day with the sign, "Hey Seniors, 180 Days Till We're Outta Here!" that hung above senior hall.

On the last day for seniors, excited, future graduates, celebrate on top of Jason Wheeler's car.

Greg Mengelt shows off his "new" hairstyle. Shaving his head was done as a prerequisite to the swimming season.

Shoes, ever popular in the 1990's, are available in many different styles ranging from the popular tennis shoe to casual dress shoes.

Style!

Many fashion statements have been displayed this year. One exciting element was the involvement of the male students who made bold statements by piercing their ears and shaving their heads. Greg Mengelt and Toby Rickabaugh, whether for sports or a bet, received a great deal of attention in February by shaving their heads.

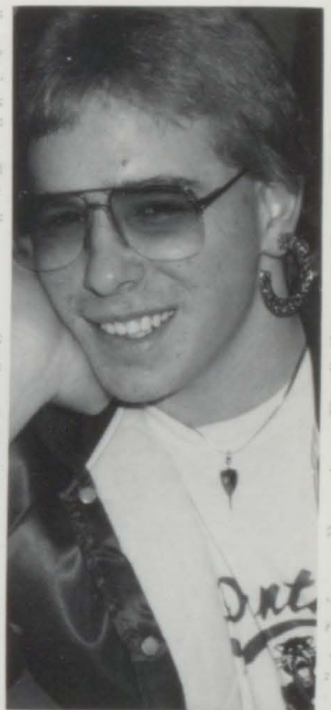

Girls displayed their fashion sense with ensembles and matching accessories. Bright colored vests with eccentric designs were often viewed. Bright colored baggy pants were also in style.

Accessories were important for girls; purses were a big item, especially if they were Liz Claiborne. Jewelry, a popular item, came in all shapes, sizes and colors with coin jewelry being the most popular. Earrings in wild shapes, along with bracelets, were also displayed. Shoes, also a big accessory, were available in styles such as loafers, pumps, flats, boots, and tennis shoes.

Fashion is important to high school students, and this year was no exception. E.C.H.S. students know what's hot and what's not.

Intriguing jewelry, a fad for the 1990's, is available in all shapes, sizes, and colors.

Mark Fernung displays an exaggeration of the popular earring fad.

Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. McQuitty, and Mr. Merritt participate in the song "Homeowner's Guide," playing a sweeper, a blender, and a hair dryer.

Senior Kathy Romig delights the audience by singing "Through The Eyes Of Love," the theme song from the movie "Ice Castles."

Announcer Anna Barnett introduces the following act as announcers Tammy Morris and Anne Barnes wait for their turn to speak.

Using her unique talent, Stasha Burton does a baton routine to the song "Cortez" played by the Panther band.

Afterprom Uses

Carnival Theme

Many changes were made in the format of the 1990 afterprom. The Elwood Optimist Club sponsored the event with the assistance of the Elk's, Lions, Kiwanis, Tri Kappa, Sigma Alpha Chi, Delta Theta Tau, Beta Sigma Phi, Beta Phi-Xi Gamma Sigma, and Beta Sigma Phi-Perceptor Alpha Xi. From 12:30 A.M. to 3:30 A.M., miniature golf, basketball, ring toss, limbo contests, a popcorn stand, fortune tellers, monetary awards, and an ice cream booth set the scene.

Neon!

Neon colors set the scene for the 1990 prom "Light Up the Night." The sponsors, Mrs. Beverly Austin and Mrs. Vicki Blair, the co-chairpersons, Brian Blankenship, Jody Champion, and Lisa Ochoa, and the entire prom committee made this year's prom very successful. Two hundred fifty-seven students and 35 chaperones attended, the most since 1985.

The hallways as well as the cafetorium were decorated with neon helium balloons provided by Mrs. Cathy Goins of the Paper Chase in Anderson. Neon glow sticks and balloon trees added the extra touch to this year's prom. The main decoration consisted of a large balloon tree set in the middle of the cafetorium with six helium balloon arches extending out of it.

The king candidates were Jeff Bennett, Kevin Blanton, Brian Cox, Andy Crowder, and Mark Fernung. The queen candidates were Leigh Baker, Alison Scott, Cheryl Wallace, Michelle Welcher, and Kim Wesseler. Danielle Peters, junior class secretary, and Amber Nance, junior class treasurer, crowned Brian Cox and Kim Wesseler 1990 prom king and queen.

G RADS!

On June 3, 1990, 147 seniors graduated from Elwood Community High School. It was a day full of joy, sorrow, relief, and self-pride.

The senior class interjected two new ideas for this year's ceremony. The first was a slide show production showing each graduate as a child and as a senior. The other new addition featured a teacher as a speaker. Mr. Phil Brown spoke about his personal love for the Class of 1990.

The Crimson Suite sang "The Wind Beneath My Wings," featuring the senior members of the group. Soloist Kathy Romig dedicated the song, "That's What Friends Are For" to the senior class.

Mr. Gordon Paquin awarded Margaret Burke and Chad Woolums valedictorian honors and Tiffany Crandall salutatorian honors. Commencement speakers were Tiffany Crandall, Lee Hall, and Kim Brown.

Jason Marcuson, senior class president, addressed the class before announcing, "Seniors . . . Graduates." Colorful red and blue balloons were then released as the seniors expressed their joy for successfully completing four years of hard work. Class of 1990, now look what you've done!

Many students show their spirit at a pep session during Spirit Week!

Panther Hysteria

The following are the responses received when students were asked, "What are your feelings about Spirit Week?"

"I think it does the team a lot of good because it shows them we're behind them." Jennifer Gaddis

"I think Spirit Week is fun to participate in, and brings out the rowdy people of our school." Laura Graham

"Participating in all the activities during Spirit Week showed the team that we were backing them up." Cindy McCord

SPIRIT

This year students displayed spirit in several different ways. Decorating halls, attending both pep sessions and ball games, and participating in Homecoming and sectional festivities were just a few ways spirit was demonstrated.

Halls were decorated for class competitions which were held during Spirit Week with each class participating to make their hall the best. Streamers and balloons were draped from the ceiling, and posters were hung on the walls. The seniors even went as far as using prom decorations to spruce up their hall.

All four classes displayed their spirit by participating in the Homecoming parade. The freshmen and sophomores cheered from trucks decorated with streamers and signs. Juniors acted out a shotgun wedding, and seniors were represented by the only float. Also, during Homecoming week, Panther pride was shown with special spirit days: red and blue day, farmer day, and twin day.

Throughout the year spirit was shown by sending flowers and balloons to wish players good luck on special game days. The 1989 school year proved that Panther pride is stronger than ever.

Junior Lisa Ochoa displays her spirit for Homecoming with red and blue fingernails and an original Panther T-shirt.

Spirit is shown by sending flowers and balloons to athletes. Carrie Hoppel and Angie Murray prepare to make deliveries for the Homecoming game.

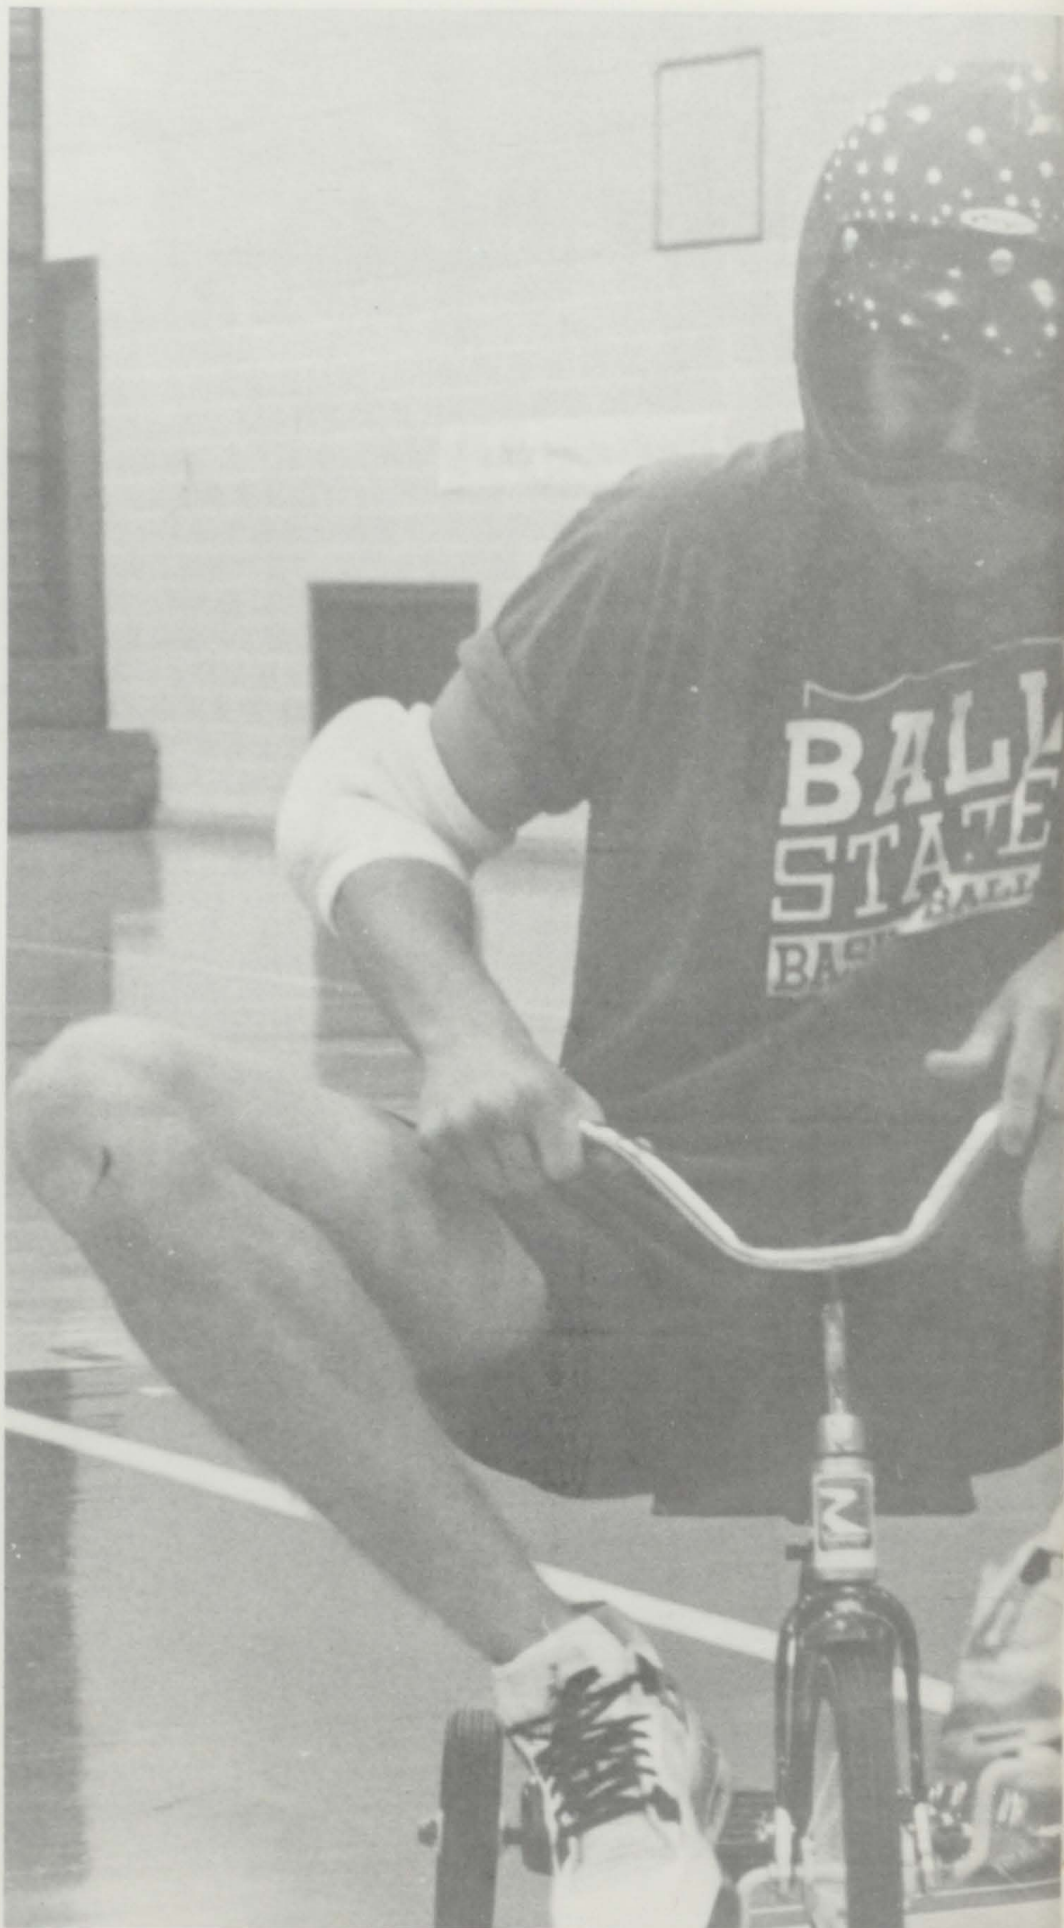

Julie Bastian and Anne Barnes show their spirit by posing for the camera on Twin Day.

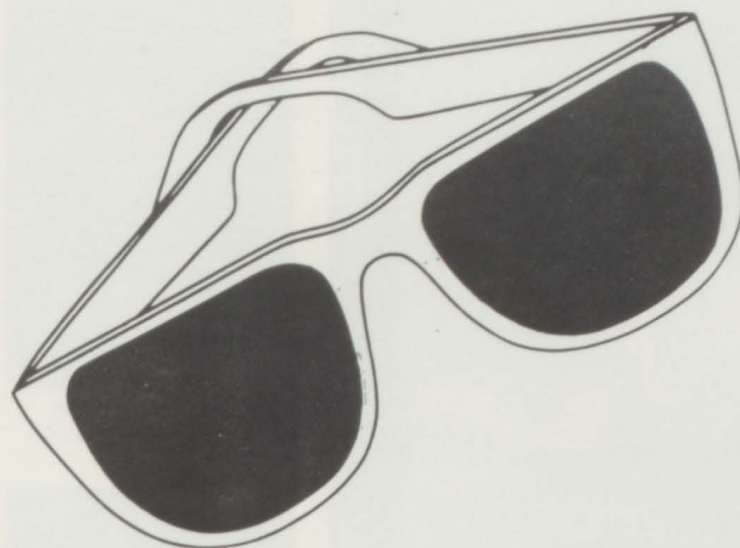

Senior Brad Arbuckle peddles his way to victory during a pep session. Brad added to the seniors' score with a decisive win.

Juniors display their pride during a pep session. Although they never captured first place in this division, they usually came in a close second.

People

Faces come and go at E.C.H.S., and all of them play a very important role in our school. The faculty has the responsibility of teaching the students as they continue their education until graduation. The students who have walked the halls for four years, to the ones who have just experienced that feeling, have shown that they play an important role also. The freshmen experienced their first high school picture and as sophomores their second time. Juniors had their last school pictures taken, and seniors had theirs taken during the summer. Well, students, faculty, and administration, "Look what you've done!"

The main concern for the junior class this year was planning and finalizing the annual junior-senior prom. The junior class sold candy bars to help raise money for an extravagant prom.

They organized committees to take care of handling the theme, decorations, and also refreshments. Juniors not involved in the steering committee had the opportunity to get involved in prom planning through different committees.

SOPHOMORES EARN MONEY FOR PROM

The sophomore class completed various activities this year. They had a fall selling project that was successful with over 60 students participating and helping the class to raise funds. The money will be used next year at prom and the following year for graduation. The sophomore class sponsors, Mrs. Trowbridge and Mrs. Parker, organized a swim party to reward the students for their efforts. During the second semester the sophomore class sold candy bars. This was a big success, and it was another way for sophomores to earn money.

Leading the class activities were sophomore class officers: Julie Tunis, Kristin Richwine, Angie Morris, and Carrie Hoppel

A SPECIAL SPOTLIGHT

Pride of the Panther Grid

A well respected man around Elwood High School is Mr. Troy Lee Rich. Troy Rich has been employed by the Elwood Community School Corporation for six years in the maintenance department. Troy is responsible for the maintenance of the football field and truly does an excellent job. Some of his responsibilities are mowing, setting up before the football games, lining the field, and basic upkeep of the stadium area. Mr. Rich graduated from Anderson High School in 1965, moved to Elwood in 1971, and has been a resident since. His hobby is fishing. Troy is married to Alma Rich and has two children: Jeff, 21, Carol, 17. His favorite football team is the Chicago Bears and, of course, the Elwood Panthers. When asked if he enjoyed being around the football players, he replied, "Yes, I get acquainted with them quickly, and if they win, I enjoy it. If they lose, I feel it also." Mr. Rich's work is appreciated by all.

Cooks Diana Daleure, Denise Mosbaugh, Margaret Arehart, Martha Bennett, Millie Vanbuskirk, Molly Knotts, Mona Moss, and Glenda Slate work hard to prepare meals as well as help students enjoy lunch. The cooks show their spirit as they dress in Halloween costumes.

Some very important people are our custodians. The custodians are front row: Don Plake, Rhonda Foor, Tom Williams. Back row: Steve Savage, George Thornberry, Rick Coleman, and Karl Gregg. These people are busy at work every morning until late at night maintaining a sparkling school image.

FOR SPECIAL PEOPLE!

A very special, caring, and important person in our school is Carol Sue Courtney. She retired after being employed as a secretary for the Elwood School Corporation for 29 years.

Mrs. Courtney was born on February 28, 1930, in Fortsmith, Arkansas. She has two brothers and four sisters. Upon graduation in 1947 from Wendell L. Willkie High School, she worked as a department store clerk and a telephone operator at Bell Telephone Company. Mrs. Courtney began her career at Wendell L. Willkie High School in 1961 and at Elwood Community High School in 1973. Mrs. Courtney commented, "I think the students from our community are very fortunate to have a caring school corporation and faculty and all the new facilities and curriculum that had been added in the 29 years that I have worked here."

Mrs. Courtney's duties consisted of serving as the treasurer of the high school extra-curricular accounts, administering the GED tests for adults who haven't completed high school requirements, and serving as the secretary to the principal. She has been a member of IAES (Indiana Association of Educated Secretaries) for 29 years. She was chosen the Indiana Association of Educational Office Personnel Secretary of the Year and was nominated for the national award. She enjoys fishing, bowling, sewing, cross-stitching, and reading.

A highlight for Mrs. Courtney has been the excuses that students give for being late to class. Another highlight of her career was working with different people and seeing the children of the parents who were once students.

After retirement Mrs. Courtney plans to spend time with her husband Lloyd Courtney, who is employed at Steel Slitting, and her family. Mrs. Courtney has two sons, Brian, the principal of Oakland Elementary School, and Kevin, the district manager of U.S. Gypson Company in Chicago, Illinois. She has three granddaughters: Darcie, Adrianne, and Andrea, and one grandson, Blake.

Mrs. Courtney, thank you for your contributions to the Elwood Community School Corporation. You will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Courtney smiles as she enjoys her work. Mrs. Courtney has worked at Elwood Community High School for 29 years.

Mrs. Courtney plans to spend time with her grandchildren upon retirement. Adrianne and Darcie take time out for a picture.

"I have seen so many of our students who have gone on to be successful people in business, medicine, teaching, etc, and that is an indication of a school's success!"

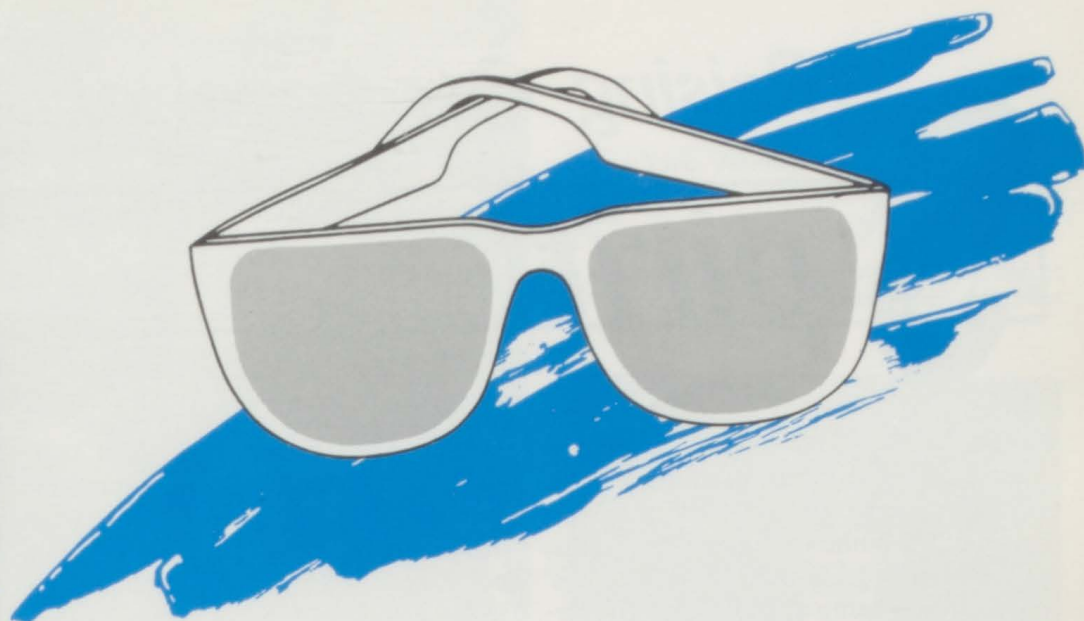

Heidi Huntsinger strokes her way to a victory in the 100 meter backstroke. Heidi holds the school record in this event with a time of 1:13.9 seconds.

Coach Kevin Frye discusses strategies with Pat Creamer during the Homecoming game. The Panthers went on to win the game, 34-7.

DONE IN . . .

Sports

To some people sports serve as something to occupy their time after school or as something to keep them in shape. To others sports are more than just a game. They are challenging, rewarding, emotional, and above all, give their participants a sense of pride. These people see their sport in a different way, even perhaps as a career in coaching or as a professional athlete. At Elwood Community High School these athletes are given every opportunity to participate in a variety of sports where they are encouraged to reach their individual limits. Because of this attitude, athletes struggle, compete, grow stronger, and most of all, win. Now, let's look at what you've done in 1990!

Raising Our Level of Spirit!

The 1989-90 cheerleaders experienced a very busy but productive year. They began the season by taking tickets at all of the home spring athletic events. They attended Universal Cheerleaders' Association camp at Ball State University. At this camp the cheerleaders learned two dances, several cheers and chants, four band cadences, and many ideas to spur on school spirit. The week was topped off by the junior varsity receiving the trophy for the best chant performance and Leigh Baker being named All-Star Cheerleader. The squads competed in the Madison County 4-H Fair competition, and the freshmen then traveled to Gaston to compete in late August. The girls spent many hours having early morning practices and taking gymnastics lessons. For fundraisers they held private clinics for local squads and then held a general clinic for elementary-aged girls.

Throughout football season the squads practiced three times a week and decorated the halls and the team's locker room. They made cookies for the team members and presented scrapbooks to the seniors. The highlight of the season was cheering at the Hoosier Dome for the Elwood-Tipton clash appropriately called, "Rivals on the Rug."

Their work continued through basketball season with weekly practices and decorating sessions. Along with other duties the cheerleaders also made scrapbooks for senior sportsmen.

The girls culminated the year with a big return to the Anderson "Wigwam" for very exciting, basketball sectional action. They viewed this year as successful because they felt they initiated a lot of school spirit and pride.

Mrs. Kay Marcuson, a math teacher at the middle school, has served as the cheerleaders' sponsor for two years. She attends every event that the cheerleaders work and perform at and dedicates a lot of hours of her free time to the cheerleaders.

Alicia Yates, Jennifer Mason, Anne John, and Anita Harrison cheer the Panthers on at the dome.

Varsity Cheerleaders — Leigh Baker, Alicia Yates, Anne Barnes, Kristi Bobel, Margaret Burke, and Kathy Romig.

Freshman Cheerleaders — Anita Harrison, Anne John, Tammy Adams, Sarah Marcuson, and Jennifer Mason.

Back row: Kristy Creamer, Angie Morris, Kristin Richwine, Julie Tunis, Jody McQuitty, and Amber Noone.

Team Sets Goals To

ust Do It!

The 1989 girls' varsity volleyball team finished its season with a record of 9-19 while the junior varsity ended its season with a record of 17-5. The co-captains for the varsity team were Julie Bastian and Kris Slayton. The three seniors on the varsity team were Anne Barnes, Julie Bastian, and Alison Scott.

Members of the varsity and junior varsity teams started their season by conditioning throughout the summer. The players began weightlifting and running in early June, and they began to practice in early August. Players who accomplished their required amount of conditioning practices were recognized as 100% players.

Other awards given to players for the 1989 season were outstanding passer,

Anne Barnes; outstanding defense, Kris Slayton; outstanding hitter, Julie Bastian; outstanding blocker, Stephanie Stewart; mental attitude award, Amy Scott; and most improved player, Jennifer Etchison. Most points to be scored from a serve were 152 points by Anne Barnes, 114 points by Julie Bastian, and 102 points by Kris Slayton. These players were chosen as members of the 90% club. Selected to the All-Sectional team this year were seniors Julie Bastian and Anne Barnes, and Angie Murray received honorable mention. Julie Bastian was also selected to the C.I.C. team and the All-County team. Stephanie Stewart was given honorable mention on the All-County team.

The junior varsity team worked extremely hard on improving its skills and cooperated with positive attitudes. The most valuable player was sophomore Julie Tunis who set a new junior varsity record for having 57 kills in one season. Julie was also the leading hitter and blocker for the junior varsity. Gina Hobbs led the team in serving with 95% accuracy while Angie Morris was named outstanding setter. The best passer on the team was Kristin Richwine, and Anne John was the best defensive player.

Although the 1989 volleyball season had some negative moments and tough matches, the returning players will have the desire to improve upon their skills for a better season.

Young gridgers work hard and Score!

It was a sweeping season for the Panther freshman football team. They ended their season with three wins, two losses, and one tie against Madison Grant. The freshman tailback was John Wilson. John played for the junior varsity also. The coaches commented that John will be a big help in future football seasons.

The J.V. team ended its season with three wins and four losses. They had five outstanding team members: the sophomore quarterback, Shane Gibson; sophomore center, Eric Robinson; junior defensive tackle, Shawn McGuire; junior defensive end, Jim Peters; and junior linebacker, Brett Mosbaugh.

The major strength of their season was being prepared to play their games while a weakness was when they were not ready to play. The beginning of the season started out very slowly; then the action began. The freshmen won three games in a row: the first against Eastbrook, the second against Alex, and the third against Mississinewa. Then at Madison Grant, they ended in a 12-12 tie. Their last game of the season was against the Blackford Bruins.

The J.V. team had its most outstanding game of the season against Peru. The Panthers won this game over the Tigers by a score of 41-6. Offensively, they had over 400 yards, and defensively they held them to three 1st downs. The J.V. team ended its season with a big bang. They had a loss over Sheridan and then came back to sweep the Black-ford Bruins 8-0 for the last game of the season.

Coach Marty Wells was asked about his feelings concerning coaching this group. He stated, "I thought our teams really came together after our Tipton game. I enjoyed coaching this group a great deal."

These two groups of men worked hard this year and stuck together, but neither one of these teams achieved its goal this year, which was to go undefeated. The Panthers did a great job at trying to obtain this goal and next year will be much improved. In their coming high school years they may even contend for conference and sectional championships.

Harriers Go The

Extra mile!

This year junior Daniel Pantos was the top runner, averaging just slightly above freshman Chad Bozell. Daniel and junior Mike Barnett strengthened the team with their leadership.

Coach Craun was pleased that six runners returned to the team from last year, and he expects more dedication and has a good outlook for next year. One of the strengths that helped the team was the fact that they had twelve runners this year. Some of the weaknesses of the boys' cross country team according to Coach Craun were the lack of a serious approach to practices and summer conditioning and the team's illnesses; only Mike, Chad, and Pat Gordon ran all fourteen meets.

Coach Craun and the cross country team do have some memorable experiences. For example, Chad Bozell made a wrong turn at the Tipton Invitational, thus earning him his nickname, "Wrong Way." One outstanding event of the season was Russell Dockery placing twelfth at the sectional with a time of 17:36.

The girls' cross country team ran well as a team and stuck together throughout the season. Leadership that strengthened the team came from junior Julie Bannister, sophomore Carrie Hoppel, and senior Ruby Simpson. "Ruby's ability is superb," stated Coach Craun. She placed sixth at the sectional and thirteenth at the regional. Her time at the regional was 15:32 which tied her school record. Ruby has unrelentlessly dominated the Tipton and Highland Invitationals since her freshman year. Ruby Simpson was selected to travel to Germany due to her past performances in cross country.

"Some of the weaknesses of the girls' cross country team were the lack of commitment to the team, lack of conditioning during the summer, and the fact that most of the girls were involved in other school activities or had jobs," stated Coach Craun. They seldom had all of the runners at practices and meets because of other activities. Although the girls' cross country team loses Ruby next year, it looks very promising. Many girls have shown a great desire to become part of the team next season.

Senior Ruby Simpson paces herself to win the race. Ruby won first place in this three-way cross country meet.

S Netters Are Ready To Smash It!

The 1989-1990 boys' tennis team, coached by Max Hoppel and Jim Pearson, had a winning season with nine wins and seven losses. There were two outstanding events in their season. One was winning the Western Boone Invitational for the third year in a row, and the second was when Brian Clary won the number three singles championship in the C.I.C.

Team members had many goals throughout the season that they wanted to accomplish. Their goals were to win the Western Boone Invitational, to place in the top three in the C.I.C., to improve throughout the season, and to advance to the finals in the sectional. Three of those four goals were accomplished. The accomplishments were winning the Western Boone Invitational, placing in the top three in the C.I.C., and team and individual improvement throughout season.

The main strength of the team was the senior leadership of Chad Woolums and Jason Marcuson. "They did their jobs as seniors. They provided great leadership on and off the court," said Coach Max Hoppel.

The girls' tennis team had a losing season, ending with a 0-9 record for the varsity and 3-4-1 for the junior varsity.

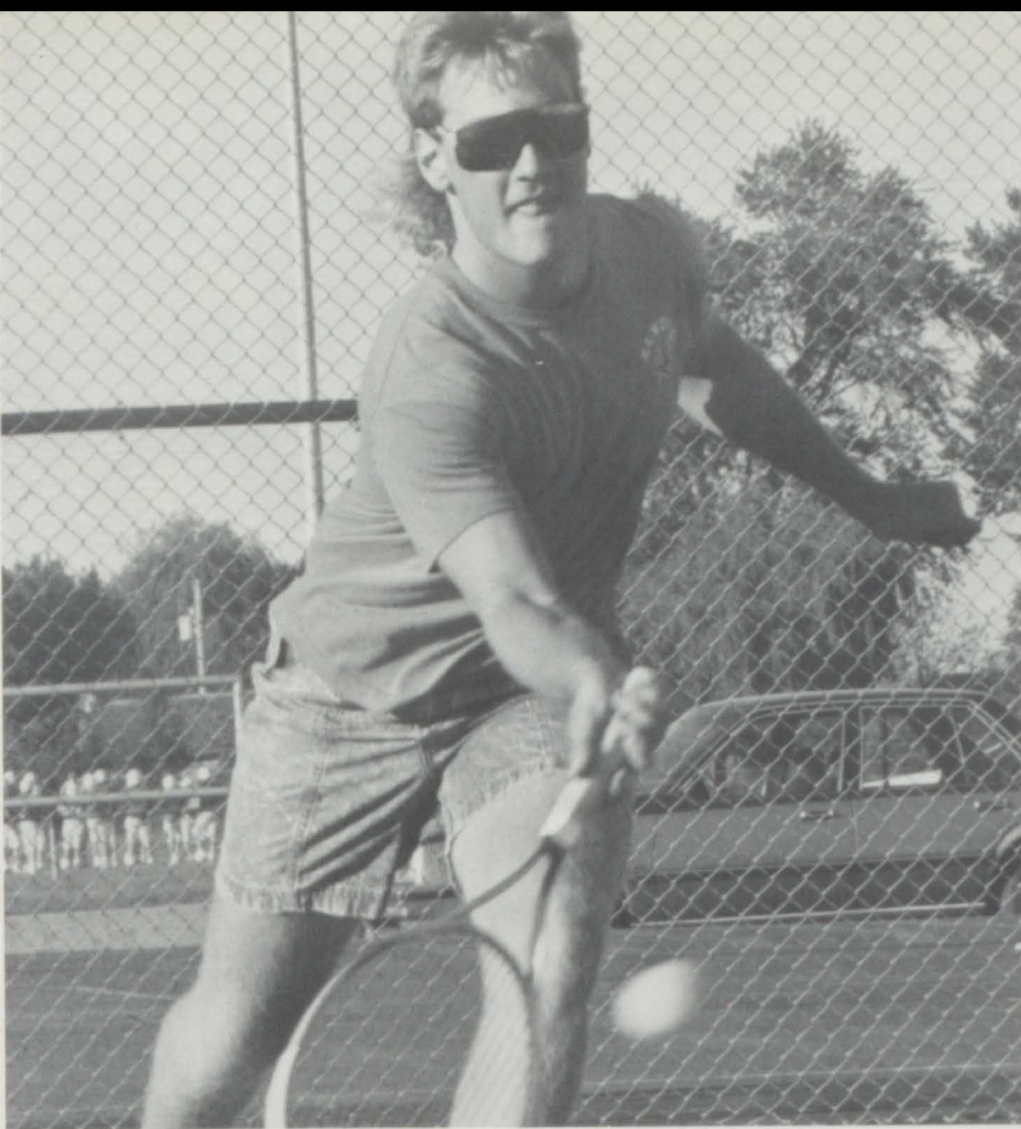

Although the team experienced a losing season, "success could not be measured on the scoreboard this year," stated Coach Hoppel. "This was a learning year for everyone, and we ended the year on a very positive note in the sectional," Hoppel stated. The individual progress of the tennis players was the most outstanding event of the season. The two weaknesses of the team were the lack of experience and the youngness of the team. The future outlook for this team is good. Hoppel stated, "It looks as if we're two years away from possibly being very competitive."

G oal Line!

Another exciting season of Panther football came to a close during October. The Panthers finished with a 7-2 overall record and finished second in the CIC. It was definitely another successful season in Elwood. The team underwent a new look; however, former Eastbrook Coach Jay Howk continued the program that Mark Hughes has built into a conference powerhouse.

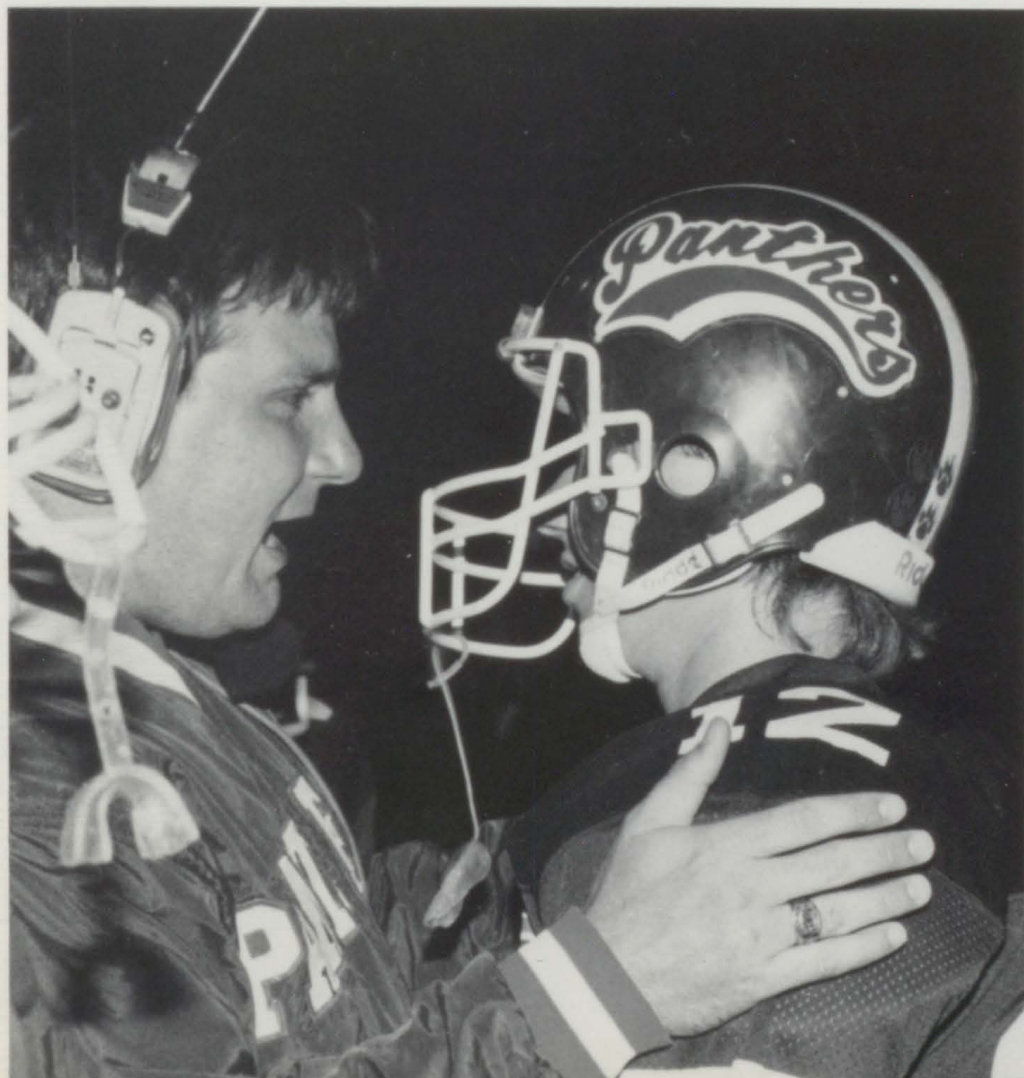

The senior leadership made it easier for Coach Howk. Howk commended the efforts of Jason Wheeler, Eric Caldwell, Chad Scott, and Scott Stanley as the leaders of the team. Also, Troy Powell, Gary Coston, and Brian Cox were prime examples of defensive leaders. The Panther defense only allowed 48 points this season. It also had four shutouts and held teams to only one touchdown twice. Coach Howk said that this was the strong point of the season. The offense was very productive, averaging 28 points a game and scoring over 40 points three times this season, including 52 points over conference rival Madison Grant. Next year the offense will undergo a rebuilding period. Nearly the whole offense graduated this year with only one offensive lineman returning next season.

The most memorable event for the team came against Tipton in the third week of the season. The game was played in the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis and was one of the most physical games ever played between the two teams. After beating the Blue Devils last year, Elwood fell to Tipton 17-7 and was handed their first defeat of the season. This loss was the first conference game Elwood had lost in the last two years.

For the second straight season Elwood was defeated in sectional competition. This year Elwood was paired against New Palestine in the first round, offering a good match-up of two strong teams. The game went into overtime tied at three. New Palestine was successful on a two-point conversion and pulled ahead by one to win the game, 11-10. The Elwood Panthers are expected to be a very strong team next season.

To The Hoop, Shoot, Score, Victory!

Another successful junior varsity basketball season came to a close this winter. The team finished with a school record of 17 wins and 3 losses. The only losses the Panthers suffered were to Lapel, Alexandria, and Tri-Central. The team had two outstanding wins over Madison Heights and arch rival Tipton. Coach Williams said that playing together as a team was the key to such a memorable season. Coach Williams also commented that the consistency of the offense was the strength of the season. The team averaged 45 points per game while giving up 38 points. The success was due to the hard work that each player put forth. The future outlook for the team looks very positive with each player having a chance for a varsity position next year.

The freshman team ended their season with a 2-15 record. The two wins came against Marion Bennett and Eastbrook. The win over Eastbrook was the most memorable event for the team because it was the last game of the year. The weaknesses of the season were due to poor ball-handling and the lack of consistent shooters. The leading scorers were Eric Glotzbach with seven points a game and Paul Boyer with six points and also pulling down six rebounds a contest. Coach Morris stated that each player will have to spend a lot of time in the gym this summer to improve his game. The goals of the season were to have a winning season and to win the Tipton tourney which Elwood had won the two previous seasons. Neither goal was met, but hopefully there will be good results from the team in the future.

Down The Court . . .

Swish!

The 1989-1990 varsity basketball team has proven that hard work and determination can lead a team to success. This year the team ended its season with a 13-9 record which has improved over last year's record of 6-14. Coach Hamilton had many new goals for the team: to put in a new system and run it, play hard in every game, and to play good defense. The team met all these goals.

The team consisted of four seniors who led the team in leadership and statistics. Brad Arbuckle played strong defense, averaged 16 points and 8.5 rebounds per game. Jason Wheeler played strong offense and defense, averaged 14 points, 3.5 assists, and 2.5

steals per game. Jeff Bennett was a great all around player who averaged 9.0 points and 3.5 rebounds per game. Kurt Tucker was an excellent ball handler and a strong defensive player. Coach Hamilton enjoyed coaching these four seniors, and he wishes that he could have them another year. All four seniors are going to continue their education on the college level.

Coach Hamilton stated, "We were very competitive in most games, but lack of experience hurt us early in the season. Late in the season we found ways to win close games." Elwood played well against Madison Heights through the entire game and was able to hold on and win in overtime with a score of 53-47. Elwood participated in the Anderson sectional and played well. The Panthers beat Frankton in game one with a score of 44-43. In game two Elwood met with Anderson and played very competitively. Unfortunately, that game ended the team's season with the score 46-67.

Coach Hamilton was very pleased with the athletes he coached this year. He felt that every player worked hard and did the things that he asked. Coach Hamilton feels that there is a great deal of talent coming up in the next few years. Coach Hamilton and the community is looking forward to next year.

Driving Straight To The # Victory!

The 1989-90 girls varsity basketball team proved to the coach, supporters, and themselves that they could work together as a team. Even though the girls finished the season with three wins and twelve losses, the girls displayed great strides as the season progressed. Patricia Jones and Michelle Welcher were the two seniors for the lady Panthers. Coach Hoppel commented, "I have the greatest respect for these two young ladies. They were cut as sophomores, but they came out and worked hard last summer which helped them make the team this year."

Stephanie Stewart broke the season scoring record which was 446, with 483 points and the rebounding record with 181 rebounds. She also made the All Conference Team and All Madison County teams. The most outstanding event for the teams was the positive ending to the season. Coach Hoppel now believes that the girls have some understanding of what it takes to compete. He feels that they can no longer just participate; they must compete. Coach Hoppel stated, "Inconsistency, the lack of experienced guards, and the inability to make adjustments were our biggest weaknesses." Coach Hoppel commented, "This is the smartest and nicest group of girls that I have ever coached. They are some times too nice.

They want to win, but their off season work ethic must change. But they finished the year with very good physical and mental effort."

The top three goals this year were to have a winning season, to finish in the top half of the conference, and to win a game in the sectional. One of these goals was met. The lady Panthers defeated Lapel in the first round sectional game but then were beaten by Highland in the next game.

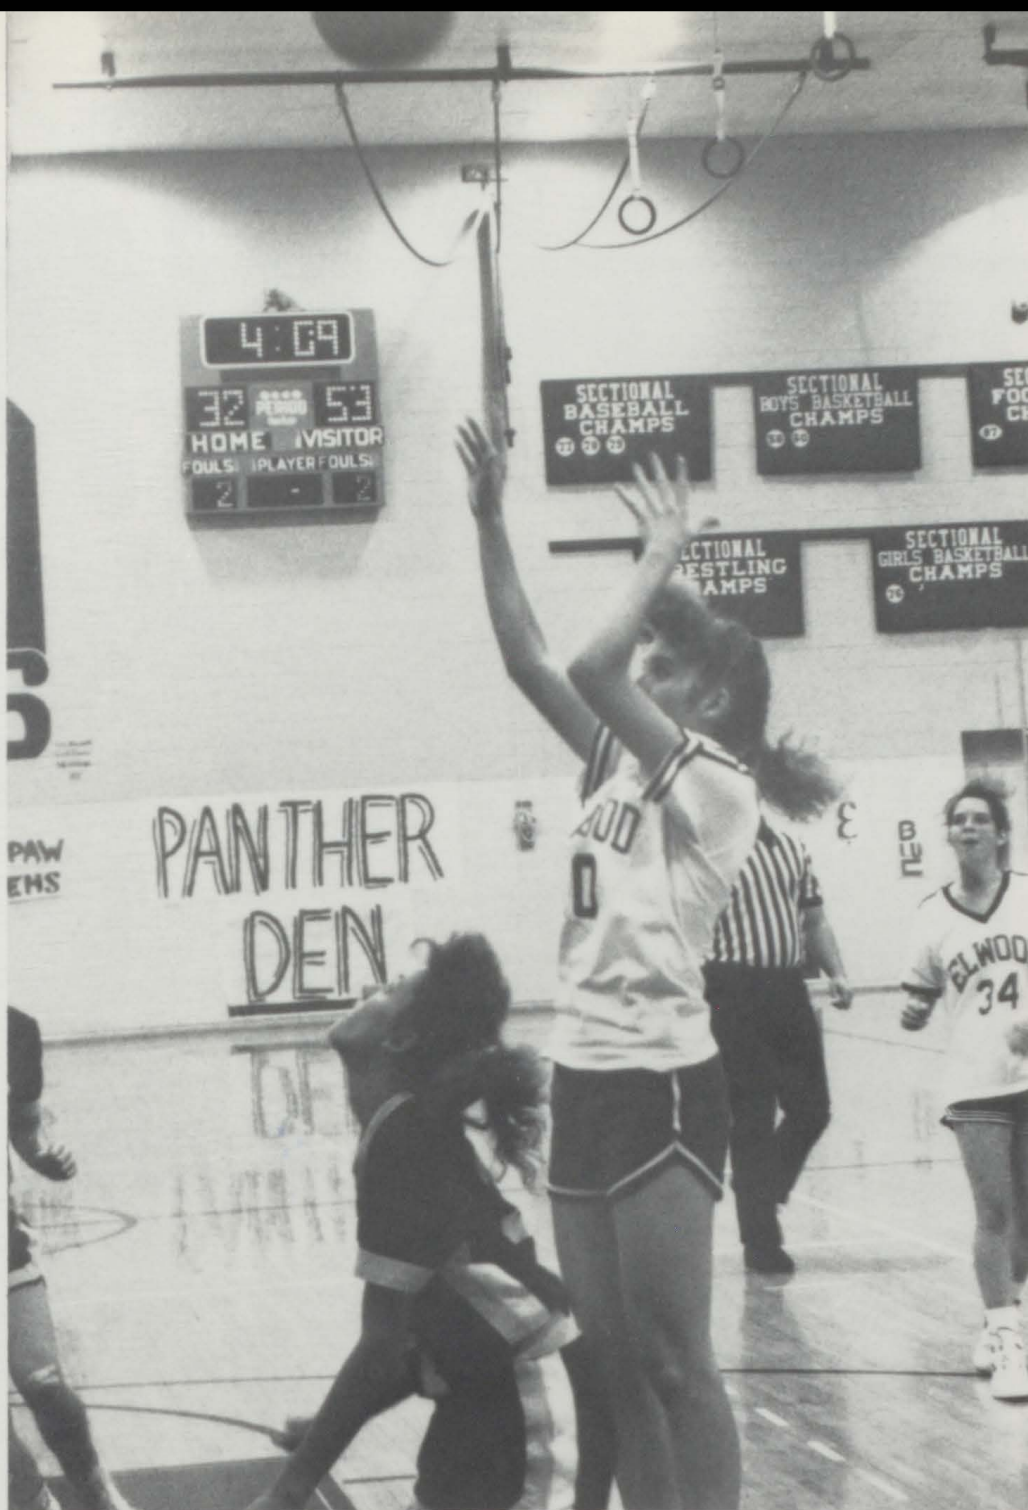

The coaches expect a bright future. They will have ten of the top twelve back next year. There is also a good freshman class coming in.

Running With the Will to Win!

The boys' and girls' teams were successful due to much practice and determination. The girls' team, which had a record of 3-5, was led by the senior leadership of Julie Bastian, Ruby Simpson, Alison Scott, and Gesine Drews. "For each girl to improve at her event was the biggest goal for the girls this year," commented Coach Yates. Ruby Simpson and the 400m relay team consisting of Gesine Drews, Rachelle Harris, Sissy Beeman, and Julie Bastian advanced to the sectional. Ruby placed fourth to get edged out of going to the regional in the two mile run. The 400m relay team carried on the tradition from last year and advanced to the regional with a third place, 53.2. They ended their season at the regional by getting their best time of 52.3.

The boys ended their season with a record of 7-9. The team was led by the senior leadership of co-captains Mark Fernung and Scott Kleinbub. Coach Craun stated, "All seniors demonstrated outstanding leadership. I was very pleased with their attitudes and wish I could have 20 others like them." John Wilson, Chad Bozell, Juan Galan, Ken Vehikite, and Kenny Altherr were the top freshman runners. Dennis Gencenser was the best JV runner. Jason Brooks and Greg Mengelt were the top two point getters, and they will be returning next year.

When Coach Craun was asked what the most outstanding event of the season was he said, "Winning the Mississinewa meet which appeared to be our first in over 10 years and placing 4th in the C.I.C meet." Jason Brooks showed his ability in tying the 6'4" high jump record. Several members qualified for the sectional: the 400m relay team of Daniel Pantos, Doug Elledge, Greg Mengelt, and John Wilson, and Jason Brooks in the high jump and long jump and the 1600m relay team which consisted of Scott Kleinbub, Doug Elledge, Brian Parker, and Daniel Pantos. Greg Mengelt was the C.I.C champion in the 200m and qualified for sectional in the 100m and 200m.

P Drivers Aim High, Putt With Style!

This year's varsity golf team ended its positive season with a record of 7-3 and placed second in the C.I.C.

The team was guided by the strong leadership of three seniors, Kiley Como, Jason Marcuson, and Rob Tippey. Each senior contributed greatly during the season.

Mr. Garry Nelson served his first year as the coach of the Panther golfers. He stated, "I was impressed with what I had to work with. The seniors acted like fine gentlemen both on and off the golf course which was a fine attribute to me because they showed the other players how to play and act by their actions."

The Panther golf team's season suffered this year from poor course management and the short game. This is a common fault of other high school golfers and their teams. Elwood's players needed to improve the skill of getting the ball in the hole in as few strokes as possible and not trying to hit the ball as hard as possible.

Leading this year's team was sophomore Matt Huffman. Matt led the varsity team with the lowest average score. Another positive feature of the Panther golf team was that several underclassmen received quality playing time on the varsity level. This experience is a strong asset to next year's team. Two outstanding junior varsity players who showed their leadership abilities were junior Jamie Swick and freshman Ryan Burton.

Coach Garry Nelson and his team worked extremely hard to accomplish their goals this year. After realizing the talent of his team, Coach Nelson helped his players to achieve a successful season and place second in the C.I.C.

The 1990 golf season was very successful due to the positive attitudes and the strong leadership abilities of the players. According to Coach Nelson, "Next year will be a very enjoyable and prosperous year for the golfing Panthers."

S Making A Big Splash!

The 1989 girls' swim team finished with three wins and two losses. They defeated Blackford and Tipton, the only two CI?C teams with swimming programs to become CIC champs.

The girls finished seventh in the sectional. They placed two individuals, the medley, and free relay teams in the semifinals. Gesine Drews received tenth place in the breaststroke, and Heidi Huntsinger finished eighth in the backstroke. Both relays came in seventh overall.

The foreign exchange students competed on the girls' swim team. Gesine Drews received seven individuals first places throughout the season. Mette Hansen and Kirsi Virte added depth to the team. All three showed leadership with their desire to learn and improve.

The female divers, although inexperienced, added the extra points necessary to defeat archrival, Tipton. The divers included Rachelle Harris, Sissy Beeman, and Nora Bowyer. Shelley Stone also competed in diving and showed leadership by teaching the other divers some diving techniques.

The team captains were two sophomores, Anna Barnett and Heidi Huntsinger. The girls' swim team is looking forward to the future as they have a number of sophomores with many years of experience behind them.

The boys' swim team finished with two wins and three losses and the boys placed twelfth in the Kokomo sectional. There were five seniors on the team. Three are mainly divers, Joe Rivers, Willie Dehart, and Mike Leisure. Rob Tippey and Chris Smith were very successful, placing either first or second in every event that they swam. Rob was undefeated in the breaststroke during the regular season and placed fourteenth out of 36 swimmers in the sectional.

The boys' team will graduate five seniors. Although they will have several very talented individuals returning, they need to recruit new divers and swimmers.

Sluggers Swing Into Action!

The varsity baseball team ended its season with a 8-12-1 season. The tie came against C.I.C. rival Tipton. The Panthers were led by the senior leadership of Chad Woolums, Jason Wheeler, and Gary Coston. All three were returning starters from last year's team. Coach Bomholt said, "They were a good group of kids to coach."

The team fell short of its goal of having a .500 season. Inconsistent pitching and the inability to make the routine plays was one reason for the losing season. Errors and walks were another thing that came back to haunt the team the entire season. The strength of the team had to be its hitting. They compiled a team batting average of over .300. The team also had a lot of depth. Several sophomores started throughout the season. The most memorable event came when the Panthers came back to beat Marion after their ace pitcher was put in. With only three seniors leaving, the future looks very good for the Panthers next year. Look for the team to make a running at the C.I.C. title.

The junior varsity baseball team ended the year with a 7-4 record. The team was led by Eric Robinson, Toby Rickabaugh, and Shane Gibson. The highlight of the season came during the Alex tourney. After beating Mississinewa and Madison Grant, the club was defeated by Highland in the championship game. With a team batting average of .370 and an average of ten runs per contest, the Panthers were very strong offensively. The weakness had to be the pitching. The team had a lot of pitchers with little experience. Gary Drew was the team's leading pitcher.

The goals of the team were to win the Alex tourney, have a winning season, and to improve as the year went along. They met all of these goals except winning the Alex tourney, but the performance was considered a success. The success was due to the hard work and the fact that they didn't give up. Coach Holtzclaw thinks that each player will become a good varsity player in the future.

Vitality!

Success was what the Panther wrestlers were searching for, and that's what they found. They started out their season at the Northwestern Tourney where they won four out of five meets. In the Madison County Tourney and the sectional they placed runners-up, winning the C.I.C. title for the second year in a row. The C.I.C. was their most outstanding event of the season. Winning 1st place in their weight classes were Chad Conwell, Bill Shallenberger, John Reese, and Allen Hatfeild.

The varsity ended its season with a big success, 19 wins and 6 losses. Starting out their season, they achieved four wins in a row. The coaches feel that the future outlook for this team will be the best ever. Eventhough they will graduate four seniors, the team will return with seven juniors.

There were two outstanding freshmen members: John Wilson, who wrestled on the varsity team all year and did an excellent job and Kenny Myers, who wrestled on the varsity team part of the year and also had a good year.

Sophomore Allen Hatfeild wrestled in the 103 weight class on the varsity team. Allen set the state and national record for the quickest pin set, at 4 seconds.

The junior varsity also had an outstanding season. They finished with eight wins and three losses. They beat Wabash in their first meet, and then beginning with their fifth meet against Muncie Central, they won their last seven meets in a row.

Jason Springer came in 1st in his weight class at the Newcastle and Kokomo Tourney. Also Matt Cast, Shawn Yeary, and Mike Robison came in 1st place at the Kokomo Tourney.

Battles Are Fought With Bats and Arms!

The 1990 girls' softball team ended its season with a record of 2-14. Despite the record, there was a great deal of competition between Elwood and the teams it played. The team went through a tough conditioning program at the beginning of the season to prepare for the games. The team's speed and strength improved greatly. Coach Kronk wanted to see the abilities of the players since it was her first year coaching. This was to help her decide where players would perform best. The team gained a lot of experience this season. The team had a very strong defense that also improved throughout the season.

There were changes made often in the beginning, but the right positions for the right player were found eventually. Unfortunately, the team lost its starting pitcher at the beginning which caused a problem.

The team's most outstanding game was against the number 10 ranked team, Anderson Highland. The team pulled together and played strong offense and defense. "Everything was working for us that night," said Coach Kronk. Unfortunately, Highland went ahead at the end, 9-8. "We had them worried," Coach Kronk said. This year the team only lost one senior, Kristi Bobel, which means all but one of the team will be returning. Coach Kronk feels good about next year, and she says there will be some changes made which will be good for the team. Coach Kronk gives a lot of credit to those players who did not have much playing time but stuck out the season. They learned more about the game and will see more playing time in the future. "I had a wonderful first year coaching experience because of this group. They were helpful and patient, and we learned the sport together," said Coach Kronk. The team will be looking forward to next season to better its record.

Academics

This year proved to be a year of many changes. New clubs and organizations were formed along with new sponsorships. Mr. Craun became the new sponsor of S.A.D.D. and also organized a chess club. The Latin club hosted its first State Certamen meet, and Kevin Cassidy, a Latin club member, was voted the state Junior Classical League president. Also Mr. Hobbs began a baseball card collecting club. A new art class, the gifted and talented art class, was offered to all students this year. Now Look What You've Done!

Anna Barnett, playing the part of Charlie's psychiatrist, and Matt Hussong, playing a retarded man who gains intelligence in an experiment, are discussing Charlie's feelings about his newly acquired intelligence in a scene from "Flowers for Algernon."

Carter Herndon and Debbie Croy act out a scene from "Flowers for Algernon." Carter portrays Charlie's doctor, and Debbie plays Miss Kinnian, Charlie's teacher.

Debbie Croy, who played a teacher, and Brian Blankenship, who played one of her colleagues, were the leading characters in "Up the Down Staircase."

Shawn Parker, Andrea White, Madonna Hahn, and Jason Fortner portrayed the members of Charlie's childhood family in "Flowers for Algernon."

Determination

Produces Creative Writing

The 1989-1990 Crescent yearbook staff, sponsored by Mrs. Darren Paquin, worked extremely hard to successfully complete this year's yearbook. The sixteen member staff created a spectacular book filled with spot color, four color, dominating pictures, and graphics for all faculty and students to enjoy.

This year's editors were Julie Bastian, Anne Barnes, Shelley Stone; photography editor, Terry Paustenbaugh; computer editor, Kristi Bobel; advertising editor, Michelle Farr. Julie Bastian, Anne Barnes, and Shelley Stone attended Josten's Yearbook Workshop this summer at DePauw University which helped the editors to create the basic layout design for the entire book.

In order to raise enough funds for the cost of the yearbooks, the Crescent staff held their annual dance, sold ads, and promoted their yearly book sale. This year's staff worked very hard to record this year's history while handling many responsibilities.

Our monthly source of school information is the Megaphone newspaper, sponsored by Mrs. Joanne Sullivan. The 20 member staff worked constructively for many hours each day to produce seven editions of the newspaper all year. The Megaphone staff members raise their funds for the printing of the papers by selling advertisements to local businesses, and they also help with the dance sponsored by the yearbook class. The newspaper is uniquely promoted by the staff. Members often make creative announcements before the sale of an edition, and they also make a lot of posters that are hung on walls all over the school for every student to see. The hard work put into our journalism department has certainly paid off. Now look what you've done!

Honors Activities

Medieval Banquet — Oriental Festival

As a part of the honors curriculum the freshman classes study the literature, culture, and history of the Orient. To terminate the unit, Miss Joan Mercer's honors English class and Mrs. Reanna Merritt's honors history class reenacted an Oriental festival for the Edgewood Elementary School second graders. The festival began with an authentic Chinese greeting ritual which honored students and was taught to the second graders. The children then viewed slides from the Orient and listened to a panda story written by honor class students. Next the second graders learned about sumi art, Chinese tea ceremonies, Yoga, and Philippino stick dances. They also played pin-the-tail-on-the-dragon, took a Chinese garden ride, and learned how to perform origami. The festival closed with a dragon play, and each child took home a fortune cookie.

Another segment of the honors curriculum is the Medieval banquet. After studying the Medieval period, the students engage in a pilgrimage followed by a feast. The pilgrimage began with a visit to a cobbler, merchant, lawyer, and a priest. Following the pilgrimage, the students attended a dinner at the Elwood Country Club with Henry VIII, Mr. Kenny Brown, and Anne Boleyn,

Mrs. Janet Trowbridge, his third wife. The feast included performances by Miss Paula Simmons, the musician; Mr. Bob Tippey, the fool; and Mr. Stephen Short, the wizard. The pilgrimage ended with the Medieval games. The sophomore honors class, taught by Mrs. Betsy Hern-don, challenged the freshman to four contests: archery, banana joust, juggling, and human chess.

Cara Frye and Tammy Adams teach the Edgewood second graders about the Chinese tea ceremony.

Mrs. Merritt concentrates on styling Jenny Bomholt's hair as authentically as possible.

Positive Attitudes

Make The Difference

The Elwood music department took on a brand new look this year with positive student attitudes which seemed to brighten the atmosphere for our talented musical students. Junior Matt Hussong served as drum-major for the 1989-1990 band year.

The band, consisting of 36 members, attended band camp at Fort Wayne Concordia Seminary. They learned their music and field show competition drill for their marching band contests. The band performed in the contests to the musical selections: "Cortez," "Samba Cielito," and "Londonderry Air." Throughout the year the band also participated at games, the annual Christmas program, variety show, and commencement.

The Panther guard consisted of ten members and was instructed by a new teacher, Mrs. Leann Short. She helped the guard with their routines for parades and marching contests.

The choir, which increased its membership to 51, performed at many events including Union Station at Christmas, Madison County Choral Festival, and the variety show.

The Crimson Suite performing group kept very busy, and they also increased their number of members by having a total of 22 girls in the ensemble. They performed at banquets, special dinners, and school programs.

One memorable event occurred when the girls' performing group sang at the opening ceremonies of the new E.L.S.A. Corporation. The girls had the opportunity to tour the factory, and each received a St. Clair Glass pen set for their contribution to the ceremony.

The band and choir students also participated in solo and ensemble contests. Pat Rice and Amber Young advanced to the state contest for band while Peggy Becker, Chris Heim, Amber Young, and several ensembles including the Crimson Suite advanced to the state contest for choir.

The Panther band, cheerleaders, and several middle school helpers present the American flag at the Hoosier Dome in the football game against Tipton.

Beinvenidos to Spanish Club

Spanish club was originated to reinforce the teaching of the culture and lifestyle of the Spanish people. Mrs. Jane Scharff, sponsor, plans activities to encourage student involvement. Mrs. Scharff works with Spanish club officers, Brad Arbuckle, Tiffany Crandall, Heather Miller, Amy Hancock, and other select members of the club to plan these activities.

This year was an active year with monthly activities for Spanish club members. On September 15 and 16 members joined together to celebrate Mexican Independence Day. They cooked and sampled a variety of Mexican-style dishes; they also honored the Mexican people by speaking Spanish the entire day. The room was decorated, and announcements were made in honor of the day.

In October the members joined with Latin club members for the annual fall party. This was an evening of fun which included a bon fire and a hot dog roast.

In November the members traveled to Indianapolis to sample a Mexican smorgasboard at El Toritos. They also went to the Fort Wayne Mall for ice skating and Christmas shopping.

In December Spanish club members held the annual Christmas party which included pizza, pop, and a traditional pinata which was filled with prizes and candy. The pinata was broken open near the end of the party.

In February Spanish club sponsored the annual Belles and Beaus Valentine Dance. The members decorated the high school cafetorium with red and pink heart balloons. Approximately 250 students attended the dance.

In March a few members took some time out to attend a Pacer's game at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis. Then in April members went to Chi Chi's in Kokomo to sample some Mexican-style dishes.

Spanish club offers many activities and social events. Joining Spanish club is a good way to meet people and to make new friends.

Latin Club

An Organization On The Move

Latin club has been involved in many activities throughout the year. At the beginning of the year the club sponsored two fundraisers to help finance its yearly activities. The club sold candy and Currant stationary which has been sold every year because of its success. With these funds the club was able to have its annual fall party with the Spanish club as well as its successful Fall Fantasy dance.

State Latin week offered many activities. To start the week Kevin Cassidy, State Latin club treasurer, witnessed the signing of the Proclamation by Governor Evan Bayh. Students went ice skating at the Pan Am Plaza and to Union Station for lunch. Later in the week students went to Lucky Strike Bowling Lanes where only members of Latin club could bowl.

On Presidents Day, Carmel High School held a state meeting which was attended by several Elwood students. This is held every Presidents Day at the school where the state Latin club president attends school.

Elwood's Latin club has been very active in Certama meets. Certama meets are academic competitions among students from all over the state concerning vocabulary, mythology, grammar, and culture. Members attended a practice Certama meet at Ball State University, then competed at Brownsberg, and hosted a competition on February 24, 1990, here at Elwood.

In the spring many students traveled to Indiana University at Bloomington for the state convention. In this competition Anna Barnett competed in the speech competition, and Dena Haas competed in the graphic arts category where she entered her model of a Latin home. Other students competed in the academic and Olympic competition.

Mrs. Garner, club sponsor, hopes that next year as many students join this academic organization and continue to participate in all the available activities.

Sophomores Chad Altherr and Anna Barnett concentrate on the question given at the Certama meet.

National Honor Society

Minds at Work

Honor society members enjoyed a year in which they participated in many activities. In the fall they enjoyed a cook-out with the Tipton honor society members that was held by Mrs. Nina Huntsinger, the Tipton faculty sponsor. The members then took part in a new tradition, "secret smarties." On both Christmas and Easter the members anonymously drew the names of a fellow member. They spent the week before the holiday doing special things for their "smartie" and revealed their identity on the last day.

On February 14, thirteen juniors and eight seniors were victims of "Tap Day" activities. They were informed by a senior member of N.H.S. of tasks to be performed throughout the day.

On April 3 the junior and senior members attended a banquet sponsored by the Elwood Lions Club in the ECHS cafetorium. The following week on April 10 the members participated in the induction ceremony.

Requirements for membership include application, completion of five semesters, and a minimum of a 3.5 GPA. The categories of scholarship, character, service, and leadership are the criteria used for voting for students who wish to be members.

Jason Wheeler and Shelley Stone participate in Tap Day activities.

Academic Field Trips

Highlight of the Year

Art Club is an organization that most art students wish to participate in. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Anna May McQuitty, who is also the chairperson of the art department. The art club members do many activities during the school year. After school work is just one of the activities the art club member may participate in. Other activities include a trip to the Eitel Jorg Museum in Indianapolis. The art club also had a fundraising project. It consisted of selling various types of stationery. This money went toward the purchase of new art work with which to decorate hallways and open areas! The goal of the art club is to provide cultural opportunities and experiences for the students who enjoy social activities which originate from interest in the arts.

Science club is sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Yates. Many students in each grade participate, but the senior members are the most active. They took a field trip to Eli Lilly. There they saw the packaging and labelling of various drugs as well as the making of penicillin and insulin. This year the science club is represented by three senior leaders. Kiley Como is the vice-president, Michelle Welcher is the secretary treasurer, and Margaret Burke is the president.

The Old And New

Have Successful Year

Chess club is a newly formed organization. The members attended one regional meet in Lafayette and placed 13th out of 24 area schools. They are planning to attend additional meets next year. They practice every day during lunch and after school and have improved greatly since their first meet.

The baseball card club is also a newly formed organization with Mr. Hobbs as the sponsor and twenty-one members. The members attend meetings during activity period where they trade cards and keep each other up-to-date on "hot prospects". The baseball card club attended a card show in Marion on April 21 to purchase, sell, and trade cards. Mr. Hobbs said,

"New members are welcome any time."

Future Business Leaders of America was organized in 1966 and has been an active group since. This organization gives its members the opportunity to compete in contests in various categories such as business math, Accounting I and II, Keyboarding I and II, and business law. This organization is sponsored by Mrs. Henkle and Mr. Hoppel. Scott Duffitt and Brian Ritchie attended the F.B.L.A. State Leadership Conference in Indianapolis competing in accounting and business law. They attended work shops and were the local voting delegates. Scott Duffitt placed third in Accounting II.

A Different Culture Of A Different Land

Living for an entire year in a different country is only a dream for some high school students, but for five foreign exchange students this dream came true.

Gesine Drews is from West Germany. At ECHS she is involved in drama club, science club, Latin club, the girls' swim team, the manager of the boys' swim team, track, and S.A.D.D. Even though in West Germany her favorite food is Jagerschnitzel, a type of steak, her host family, Bob and Vicki Savage, has introduced her to Mexican food which is her favorite. Gesine's biggest dislike of America is its high teen pregnancy rate.

Mette Hansen, who is residing with Dave and Barb Abernathy, is from Denmark. She is involved in swimming, Campus Life, Latin club, drama club, choir, and S.A.D.D. While Mette likes tacos and cheeseburgers, her favorite food is Danish rye bread with hot liver pate and cucumber. One aspect she enjoys about America is feeling welcome wherever she goes.

Jose (Pepe) Hurtado's native country is Spain. There he is involved in basketball, soccer, and some theater. He is residing with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brumett and enjoys watching MTV and NBA basketball. Pepe likes fast food, pizza, and hamburgers. A complaint he has about America is the fact that a car is necessary to do almost everything. Pepe feels restricted because foreign exchange students are not allowed to drive.

Els Veerman is from the Netherlands. She is staying with Don and Sue Loser and participates in Campus Life, drama club, S.A.D.D., and Latin club. While Els enjoys Pizza Hut food and being with her family and friends, one drawback is the fact that she is not allowed to drive.

Kirsi Virta is involved with the swim team and drama club. She is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tyner, and her favorite foods are corn and meatballs. She enjoys the fact that there are so many activities offered in school, but one dislike of America is the waste of things that produces a lot of garbage.

Christina Marinho, Brazil, resided with Jeanne, Edgar, and Gloria Spearman during the second semester of the school year.

Pepe Hurtado, Spain, was hosted by Connie, Angela, Jacque, and Bill Brummett.

Don, Sue, and Carla Loser hosted Els Veerman of the Netherlands.

Gesine Drews was hosted by the Savage family: Chad, Bob, Vicki, Zachery, and Andy.

Kirsi Virta, Finland, resided with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tyner during her stay in America.

Academic Teams

Make The Grade

There were three academic competitions: the Spell Bowl, the Academic Decathlon, and the Super Bowl. The Spell Bowl was held at Anderson High School in October. The Academic Decathlon was held at Anderson in January. To prepare for this meet, students studied the elements of speech and interviewing skills. The Super Bowl team participated in three meets. They hosted one meet on March 15, 1990, with eleven schools participating. Four schools competed in Class I and seven in Class II. There were five subjects in which the students were tested. The subjects were social studies, mathematics, English, science, and fine arts. Elwood placed fifth overall out of the seven schools. The second meet was at Whitko High School. Twenty-five squads competed, and Elwood placed in the upper half overall. The English squad, however, placed fourth out of the twenty-five squads and received a trophy. The third meet was at Anderson High School in which four schools competed in Class II. The social studies team placed fourth; math, second; English, second; science, third; fine arts, third; and all-around, fourth.

Both the Academic Decathlon and Super Bowl teams are research oriented. They spend many hours in the library studying outlines and researching topics. Miss Ronda Winger is the sponsor. This is the third year that the academic teams have competed. The number of people participating has increased during these years, and each year the overall results have improved.

Super Bowl members: Kristen Rodewald, Debbie Croy, Heather Rogers, and Anna Barnett. They placed fourth in the English competition at the Super Bowl meet.

Leadership and Preparation

Build Our Future

The 1989-90 school year was a very busy year for the student council. Student council officers were Chad Woolums, president; Alison Scott, vice-president; Chris Smith, secretary; and Michelle Welcher, treasurer. The 45 member group was sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Yates. Student council members sponsored after-game dances and the Homecoming powder-puff game. They also were responsible for the Homecoming week and sectional basketball week. These days included scum day, red and blue and hats and shades day, summer day, college day, and pajama and teddy bear day. At Christmastime the student council sponsored a food drive for needy families which was a big success. This year the student council purchased signs for the main streets with "Elwood Community High School" printed on them. These signs were necessary to indicate the location of the high school to people searching for it. Student council members were also selected to help select cheerleaders at try-outs. Student council will continue to play a leadership role in guiding, helping, and teaching students to become more involved in school activities.

The annual PSAT exam was given to high school students on December 2, 1989, by the high school guidance department. This testing session was designed to help prepare those students who will be taking the SAT in the year ahead. The SAT is necessary for any student who is planning to attend college. The SAT is composed of two sections, verbal and mathematics. Therefore, the PSAT was a helpful guide to all students who took part in the test.

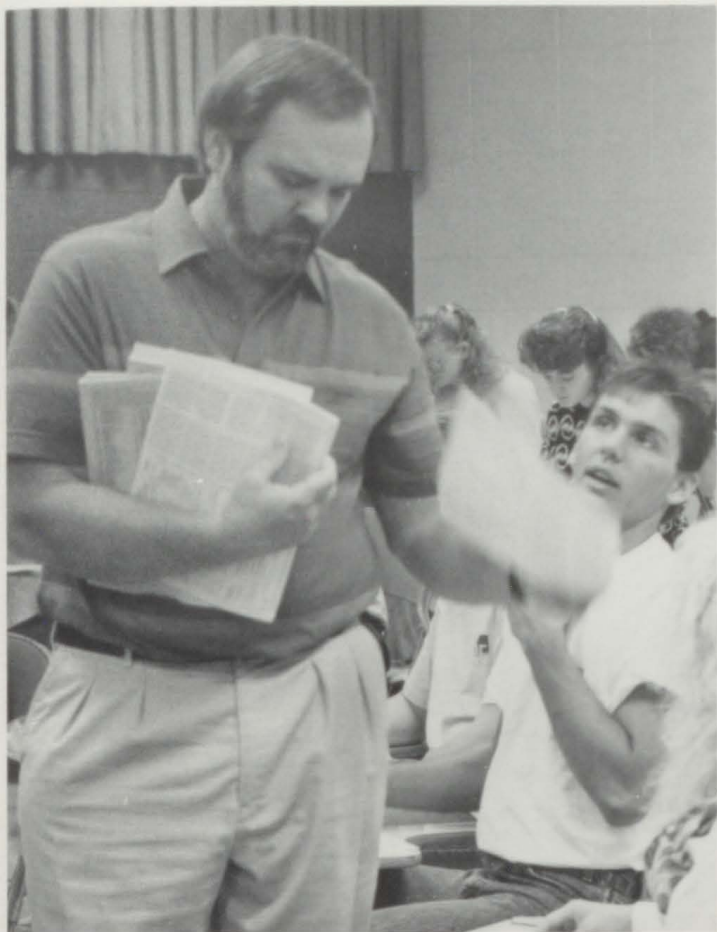

Freshman Bob Goins works diligently on the PSAT test.

Juniors Matt Fox and Jason Fortner take a break to stretch before getting back to work on the PSAT.

Mr. Phil Huffman distributes the PSAT forms before the beginning of the test.

Time Out . . .

To Get Involved

S.A.D.D. was organized in 1985 by Julie Johnson. This year 182 students were members of S.A.D.D. with Mr. David Craun serving as the sponsor. S.A.D.D. sponsored two dances: after the Alexandria basketball game and before the lock-in took place. The music was provided by Carl Gregg. Eighty members attended the lock-in. The overall winners during the night were Rob Tippey, Mike Leisure, Julie Bastian, Tonya Heater, Jennifer Etchison, Matt Davis, Geoff Cook, and Regina Hobbs. Winning the lip sync contest were Doug Elledge, Jason Wheeler, Marcus Lee, Alison Scott, Mike Barnett, Tammy Whitenack, Jody McQuitty, and Tammy Adams.

S.A.D.D. also sold class mugs full of suckers in February as a fundraiser.

Campus Life, the Youth for Christ group, has been an active organization for three years. The sponsor is Mr. Larry Hobbs, and there are 35 members. Many activities were held during the year, including seven breakfasts at various churches, bowling outings and parties held at Mr. Hobbs' home. Seven Campus Life members went on a hiking trip in October with the Madison County Campus Life.

The highlight of the year were the new T-shirts with the slogan, "Get a Life, Campus Life," created by Matt Fox, which were provided to Campus Life members. Jennifer Pavan and Emma Fox did the printing work in the vocational printing class.

Government Day, sponsored by the Elks Lodge, was held on May 4, 1990. The government positions were Chad Woolums, mayor; Alison Scott, secretary to the mayor; Julie Bastian, engineer and planning director; Michelle Welcher, clerk; Chris Smith, department clerk; Sherae Smith, assistant clerk; Anne Barnes, Pipecreek Township Trustee; Daniel Pantos, Elwood City Water Company; Matt Hussong, city street department; Jason Marcuson, chief of police; Danielle Peters, Amber Nance, Angie Morris, Chief of Fire Department; Carrie Hoppel, Kristen Richwine, and Julie Tunis, sewage department.

Chad Woolums was mayor for the day for Mayor Blair Engelhardt on May 4th, and Alison Scott was the secretary to the mayor.

Differences In Home Economics

Future Homemakers of America and the home economics classes offer many learning opportunities. Home economics is not only the traditional foods/nutrition and clothing/textiles classes but also classes that teach skills to help cope with the responsibilities of the home and family.

The foods/nutrition classes enable the students to understand the daily food requirements and to plan, purchase, prepare, and serve complete meals as well as individual dishes.

The clothing/textiles classes are designed to stress the importance of wise selection and the care of clothing. Laboratory time is used to study fibers and fabrics. This year students conducted various tests on fabrics to study and identify their characteristics. A fashion show was held on May 3, 1990, showing the clothes that the students made for themselves.

The consumer education class is a class to help students learn skills to help them as individual consumers. A general overview of economics is used to introduce the course, followed by steps of decision making and problem solving.

The interpersonal relations class is designed to aid students in gaining an insight into the thoughts and actions of others. Main topics of this course are developing a positive self-image and coping with and reducing stress.

Child development deals with prenatal care and child care. Basic skills taught deal with safety, discipline, home nursing, and planning a play school for three-four year olds.

The family relations class is a course to prepare students for the challenges and joys of family life. Dating and marriage are also studied.

Independent living is aimed at preparing for college or single living. Skills and concepts learned in this class can be used in almost any life-style situation.

Holly Collier and Jennifer Super add links to the spirit chain in the cafeteria. The money raised supported the March of Dimes.

IPC and Printing Students

Prepare for a Career

The printing class at the John H. Hinds Area Vocational School, taught by Mr. Fortner, helps students to develop a wide variety of skills. The students learn to create art for advertising, improve their typing skills, and learn desktop publishing. They also take pictures, develop film, and develop their own prints. They print T-shirts and work with the offset press.

There are seven basic areas of study in the printing class. They include image design, image composition, image conversion, image carriers, image transfer, finishing, and economics. All printing students must show a minimum standard of achievement in each of the seven areas of study.

All printing students are members of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) which is a national organization that allows students to compete in leadership and trade skills contests at the local, state, and national levels.

The Information Processing Center (IPC) allows students to develop business skills and knowledge. It is a three hour class taught by Mrs. Poole. The class offers individualized instruction in such subjects as business computer applications, typing, filing, letter writing, telephone techniques, communications, and focuses on the career objectives of each student. Two hours each day are spent on work station rotations. Students may work as an office manager, receptionist, payroll clerk, inventory clerk, word processing operator, or various types of secretaries depending on their career objectives.

All students in the IPC class are members of the Business Professionals of America (BPA). They compete in district, state, and national level contests to develop professionalism.

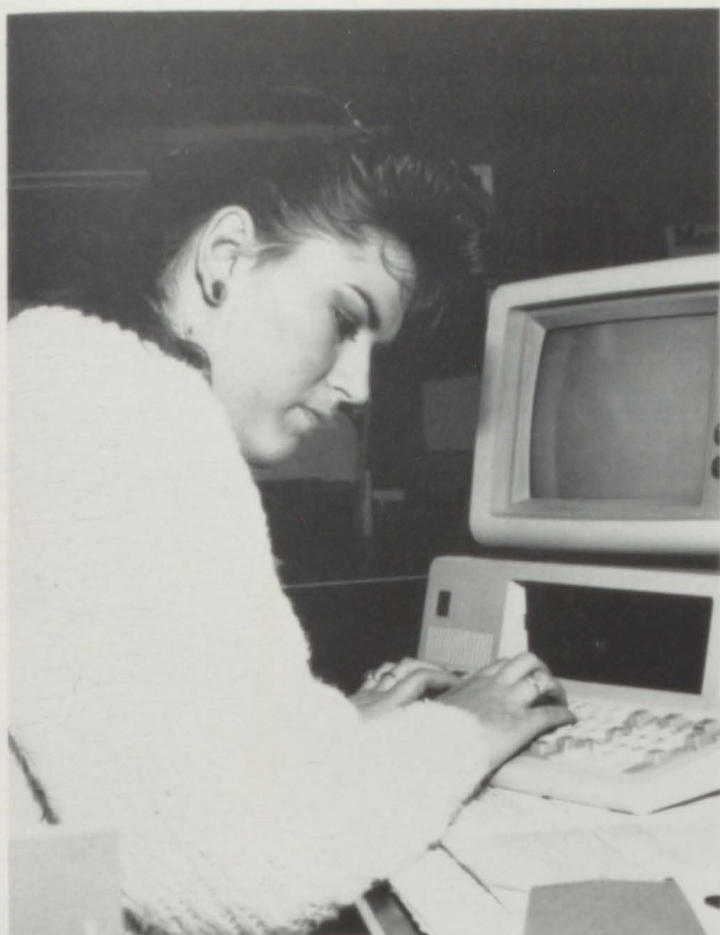

Junior Jennifer Pavan is composing type on the computer using the Desktop Publishing program during printing class.

Juniors Shawn Steffler and Paul Casto are printing basketball programs with the offset press.

Myra Edgell is busy finishing a word processing project on the computer during her IPC class.

Angie Clark explores her future career with the help of Patsy Baker from Airfoil Textron during "Career Partner Week."

Christi Jones, a student in the IPC class at the vocational school, works diligently on the computer.

Emma Fox is enjoying herself while working with the offset press during printing class at the vocational school.

A Cut Above The Rest

Building trades and machine trades are both vocational classes offered by John H. Hinds Area Vocational School. The building trades class prepares students in the construction trades in carpentry, masonry, drywall, bricklaying, electrical wiring, plumbing, painting, and heating and ventilating. On-the-job experience is provided through the construction of a residential home or garage that is sold to defray cost and provide funds to begin another project house or garage. The class receives its jobs by advertising in the paper and by word of mouth. The class has a strong reputation for doing excellent work. Each project takes at least one year to a year and a half. All training of the students takes place as the project is being built. The students do all the jobs related to the house, and only the heating is contracted to another firm. The building trades class offers a morning and an afternoon class, each three hours long.

The machine trades technology students learn the machining and processing of metals on actual industrial machines. Classes include instruction concerning drill press work, lathe metal cutting saws, grinding, electrical discharge machines, and numerical control as well as shaper and milling operations. The students have a wide variety of projects to choose from. Some of these include cannons, vices, angle plates, hammers, punches, and surface gauges. The class had 46 students including both morning and afternoon classes. Of these students, many are from neighboring schools. Tipton, Frankton, Alexandria, Madison Grant, Tri-Central, Hamilton Heights, Clinton Central, and Kokomo each have students involved in the machine trades course.

Scott Hartsock and Tracy Griffey apply the finishing touches to the side of an outside wall in their p.m. building trades class.

Several building trades students take time-out to pose for a yearbook picture on the second floor of their project house.

Junior Mark Thornberry stands over and carefully eyes the material about to be cut on the horizontal milling machine.

Randy Lewis leans over and gets a closer look at his project that he set up on the engine lathe in his machine trades class.

Senior machine trades student Troy Powell closely eyes the work that he prepared on the vertical milling machine.

Senior Richard Beeman carefully pencils out the measurements on a wooden beam in his building trades class.

Elwood community, let's take a Look at What You've Done. The addition to Pizza Hut, the construction of the new Elsa Corporation building, new establishments such as Creative Weddings, the Emporium Yogurt Shop, Fiesta Hair Shop, and the new Consignment Shop at T-Way are all new additions to our growing community. The building trades classes constructed a two story, three bedroom home. In addition to adding and changing places, some areas have been demolished such as the Wendell L. Willkie High School, the old junior high building, and the Chamois building. All of these changes have given a positive look to our community.

A very special landmark of our community is the Wendell L. Willkie arch. This arch continues to stand even though the old high school has been razed.

Several building trades students from Elwood and surrounding areas have worked many hours to build this two story, three-bedroom home. This project has been a continuing project all year.
