

ARCYLLS GOT THE BEAT

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses and income. The document also highlights the need for regular reconciliation of bank statements and the company's records to identify any discrepancies early on.

In addition, the document provides a detailed breakdown of the accounting cycle, which consists of eight steps: identifying the accounting cycle, journalizing, posting, determining debits and credits, preparing a trial balance, adjusting entries, preparing financial statements, and closing the books. Each step is explained in detail, with examples provided to illustrate the process. The document also includes a section on the importance of internal controls, which are designed to prevent and detect errors and fraud.

The second part of the document focuses on the preparation of financial statements. It explains how to calculate net income, gross profit, and operating profit. It also discusses the importance of understanding the relationship between the income statement and the balance sheet, as well as the statement of cash flows. The document provides a step-by-step guide to preparing each of these statements, including the necessary calculations and the format for presenting the information.

Finally, the document discusses the importance of analyzing the financial statements to assess the company's financial health. It explains how to use ratios such as the current ratio, debt-to-equity ratio, and profit margin to evaluate the company's performance. The document also provides a checklist of key indicators to look for when reviewing the financial statements, such as changes in revenue, expenses, and assets.

Student Life

It's hard to believe, but students do not spend their whole life in school. Students spend a lot of time working at their jobs, practicing sports, or attending club meetings.

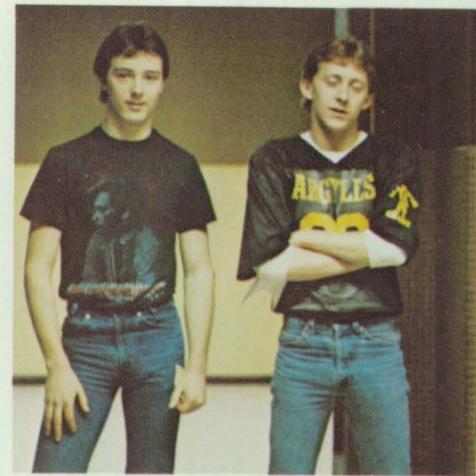

After practices and meetings are over, students have many more choices. Students can attend athletic events, choir programs, or school dances. At these activities students can meet with their friends, relax, and enjoy themselves.

During the weekends, Madison-Grant students may be found going to sporting events, movies, shopping, or "cruising."

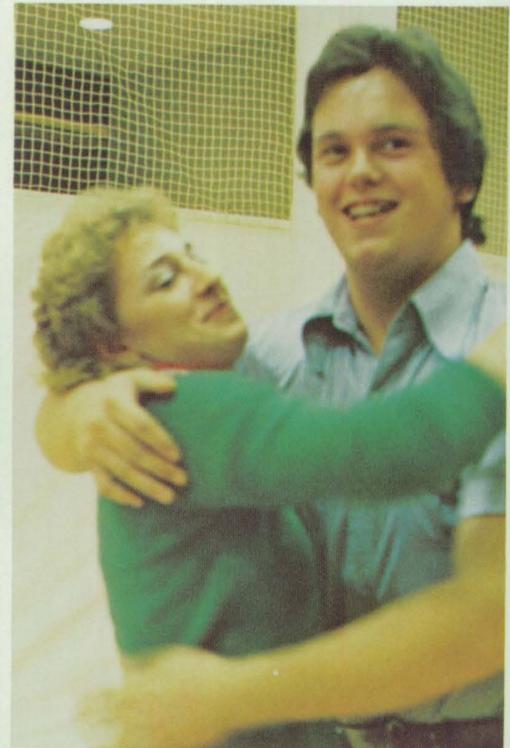

As the weekend hours disappear, and Monday morning is just around the corner, students find time to do homework and get ready for another busy week of school and friends.

Exchange Students

Lilli Patrikainen is interested in the literature assignment in Mrs. Hull's class.

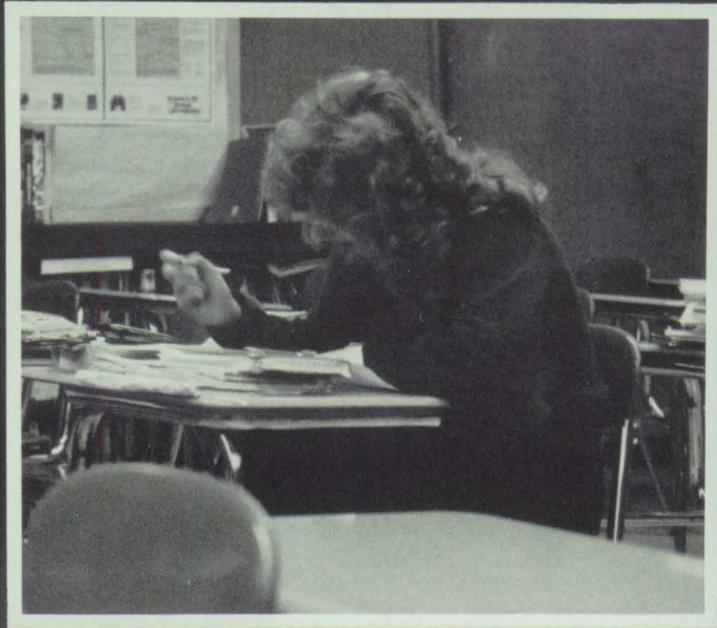

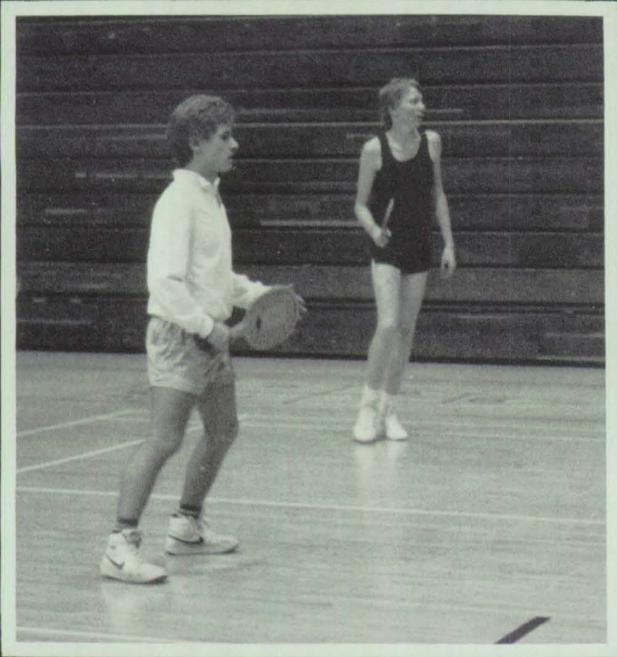

This year Madison-Grant had the privilege of having exchange students from four countries: Japan, Germany, Denmark, and Finland. Taro Tsusita is a Japanese student who says of the United States, "I love." He has enjoyed the students and the teachers here and has played on the golf team. He lived with Tad Guyre. Heike Urbanek is a West German student who has especially liked the extracurricular activities and the football games. She lived with Shelly Compo. Carsten Alstrup is a Danish student who also has enjoyed the students and the teachers here. More academically inclined, Carsten nevertheless believes that sports are only a little less important than his classwork. He lived with Leslie Davis. Lilli Patrikainen is a Finnish student who has appreciated M-G's school spirit because in Finland there are no cheerleaders and the band does not play at the sports games. She lived with the Coats family.

Homecoming

The homecoming candidates.

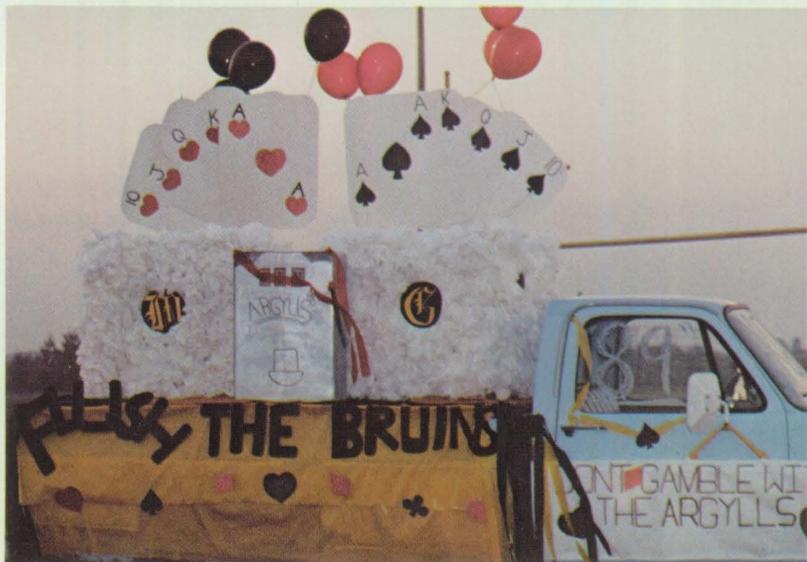

This year's homecoming was one of the most memorable yet. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors all waged a friendly battle against each other to see who would win the homecoming horseshoe.

Homecoming week is one of the most exciting times of the year. Students match their wits to see who can come up with the best hall decorations or floats or just to see which class can get the most people to dress (shush) New Wave!

The week's work doesn't go unrewarded, though. The juniors ended up winning the homecoming horseshoe with the title theme "Argylls' Circus of the Stars."

Half-time though, is the most special time of the week. It's the time when all fighting for the shoe is forgotten and homecoming king and queen are crowned. This year's queen was Stephanie Stookey while Mark Rogers stood gallantly at her side.

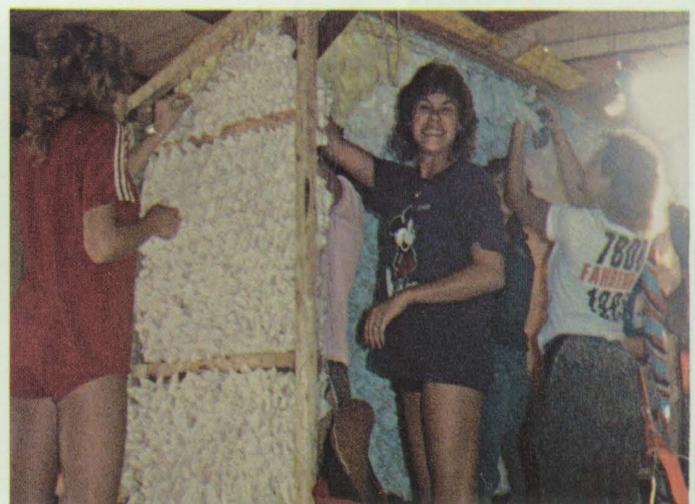

Other king and queen candidates were John Thomas, Jeff Miller, Cami Relfe and Dana Rhoads.

Academics

ARGYLLS GOT THE BEAT

Mr. Bach explains the new identities to Terry Treon and Scott Crow.

MATH

Students at Madison-Grant are now required to take one year of mathematics. Starting with the class of 1990, students will be required to take two years.

Pre-Algebra I and II, Algebra I, and geometry are the classes usually taken to meet requirements. Algebra II, trigonometry, analytic geometry, and pre-calculus are taken by college-bound students or students who have an interest in the math department.

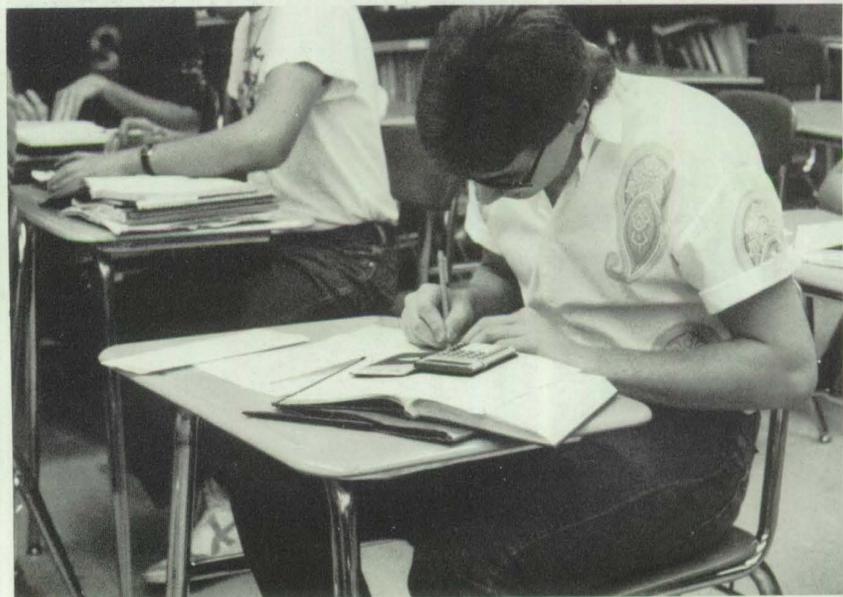

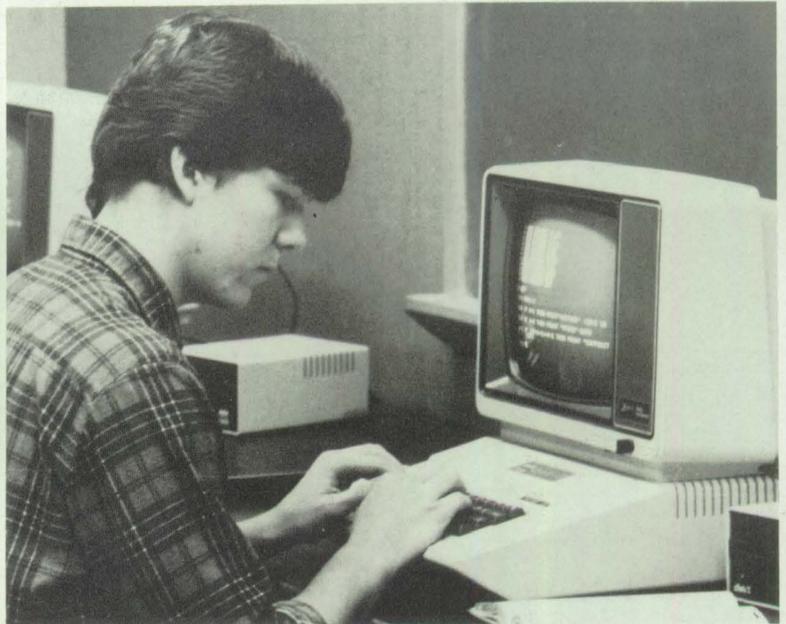

Computer programming consists of studying the components of a computer system, programming a computer, and learning assorted graphics problems.

On "shades day" Scott Crow peers through his shades at his trig problem.

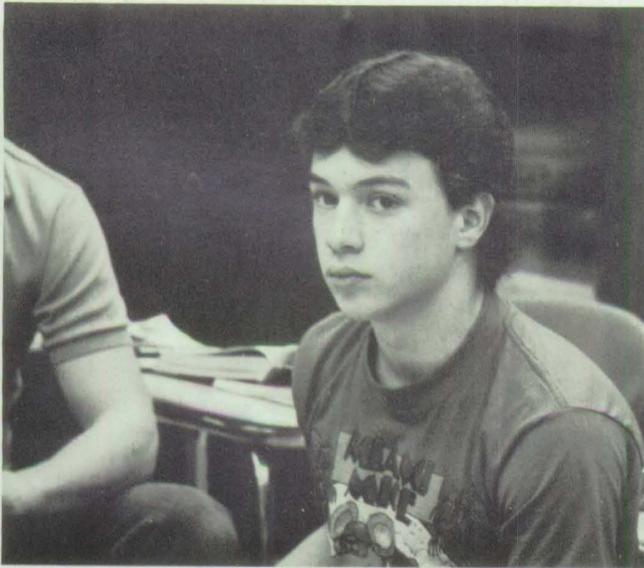

Mr. Earnest explains a lab problem to Sara Gaskin.

SCIENCE

CRUCIBLE, DNA, OMEBA, BISCOUS — if you find these words are familiar, it's because you've probably learned them in a science class at one time or another.

The science classes at M-G were full this year because many fields that students are preparing to enter require at least one year of science. Yet most students take three or four years for the challenge and to better prepare them for college.

Curt Hull attempts to understand the stoichiometry problems in Chemistry I.

Seniors Brent Ratliff and Tony Ratliff work on a lab for chemistry.

Eric McGraw tries to figure out what he's supposed to be doing.

English

English is divided into three main sections during high school — grammar, literature, and composition.

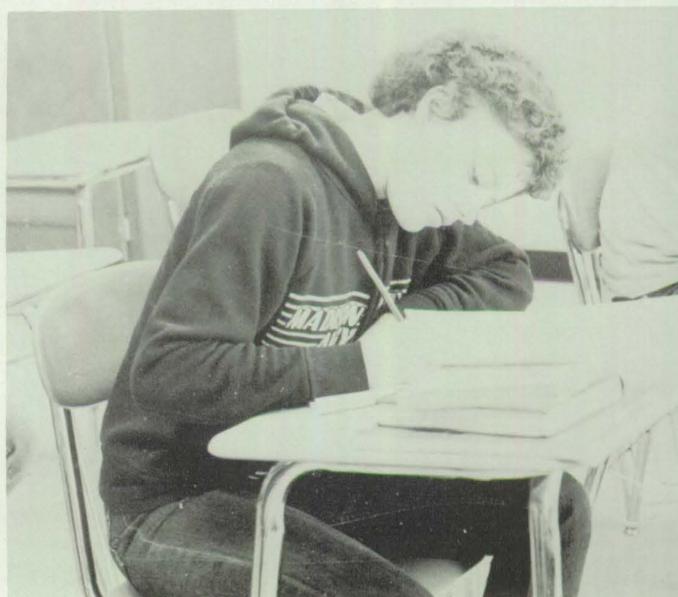

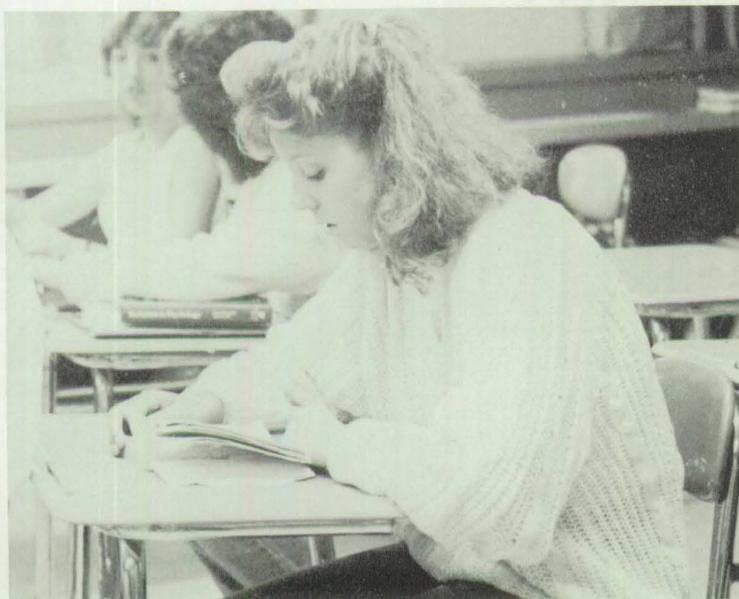

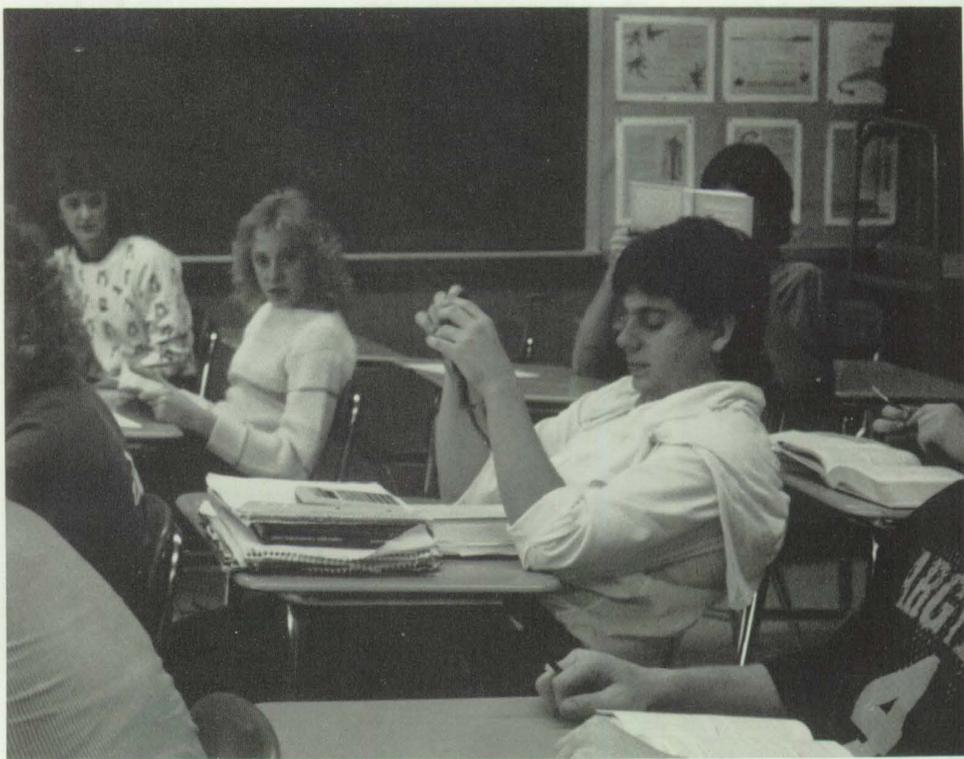

Throughout high school grammar teaches students extensive diagramming. Freshmen begin to learn important authors in American literature. Sophomores read a variety of plays and short stories. Juniors and seniors read many books and dramas, ranging from TOM SAWYER and THE OLD MAN AND THE SEA to MACBETH and OTHELLO. Juniors spend a large part of the year perfecting composition skills by writing themes. By the end of their senior year, students have written about twenty themes. This writing is to prepare students better for college.

Mrs. Herring's sixth-period class looks a little bemused by the end of the day.

Kent Wilson listens to a joke in English 9 during study time.

Marianne Welborn concentrates on reading HUCKLEBERRY FINN during Mrs. Hull's English class.

SPEECH

Speech is a class where the proper way to communicate is taught. Students learn how to present themselves in the right manner in front of a group of people or an individual. They give many different styles of speeches, such as impromptu, research, and demonstration. A large part of the grade is based on the way students present themselves during speeches.

Speech II is an advanced class designed to teach the student how to debate and do research. In this class students expand their knowledge and advance their communication methods.

Missy Bugby works on her worksheet in speech class.

Mrs. Richards and Angie Armstrong take a minute to laugh when thinking of how nervous kids get during a MERE 3-minute speech.

Mrs. Richards demonstrates the proper way to present a speech.

Speech I students work their way through another exciting day in speech.

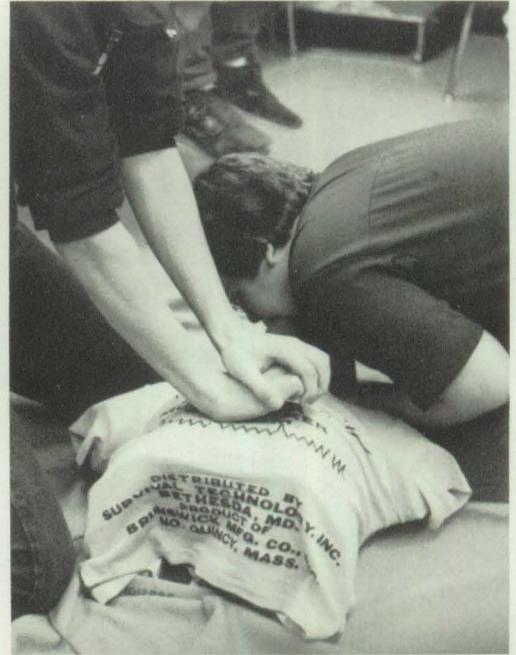

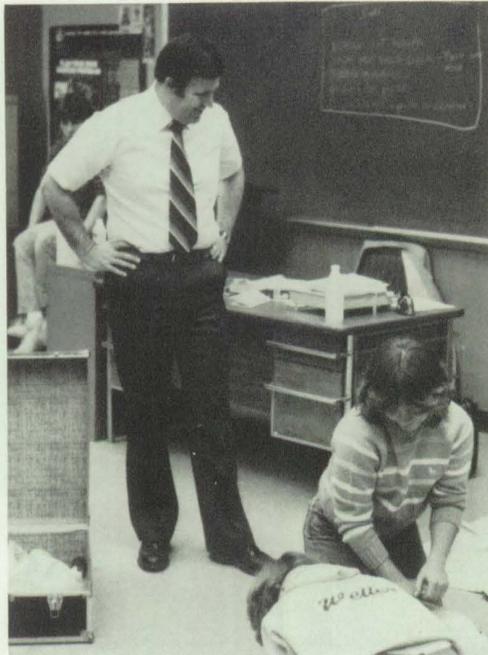

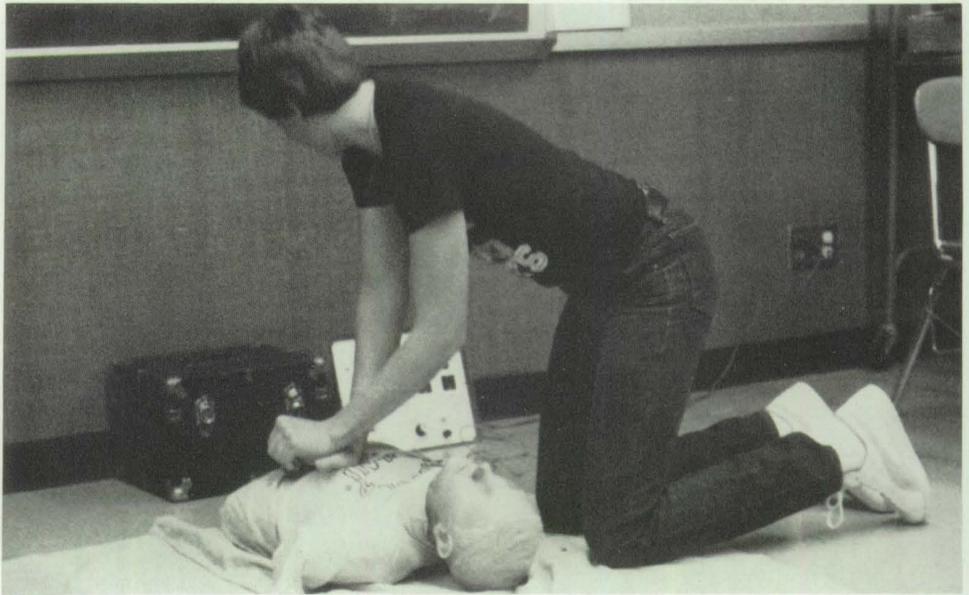

Rob Vctor performs CPR on Resusci-Annie.

HEALTH

Sophomores spend a semester studying many aspects of health. Anatomy and physiology are not the only things learned in health class. Students study the effects of drugs, alcohol, and tobacco. Family, dating, sex education, and marriage are other units which are covered also.

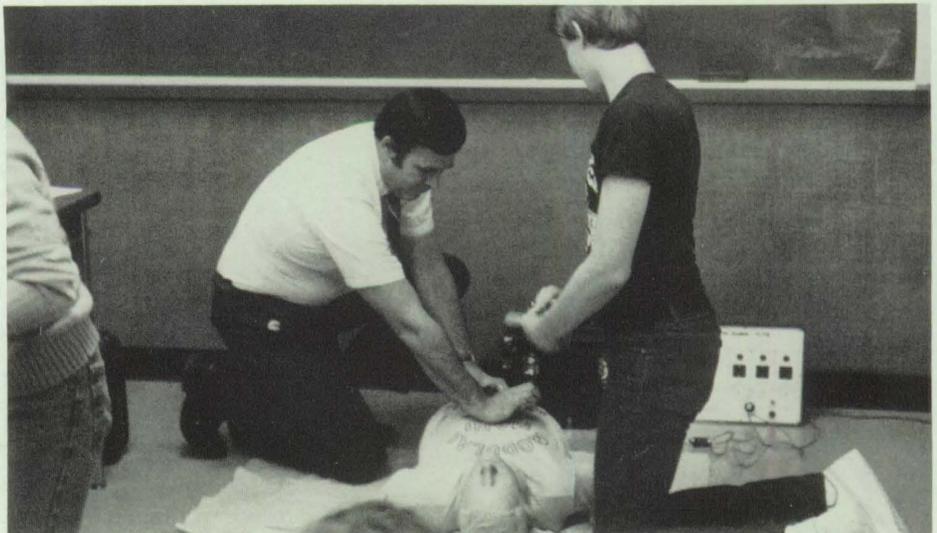

In the first aid unit, students must learn to administer CPR (cardio-pulmonary resuscitation) by practicing on a MANI doll which is a specialized resuscitation mannequin.

Lisa Parsons watches the mouth-to-mouth resuscitation procedure.

Resusci-Annie gets mouth-to-mouth again.

Rob Vctor watches Mr. Strasemeier.

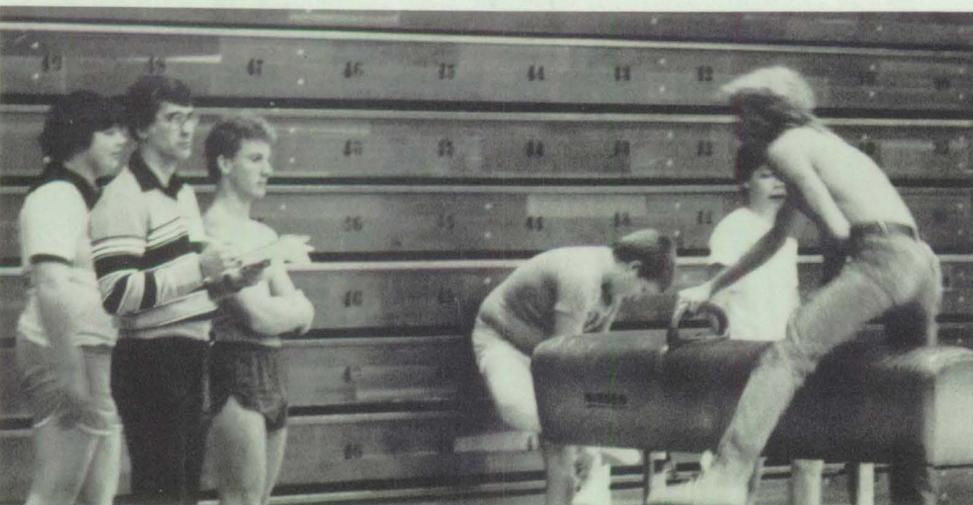

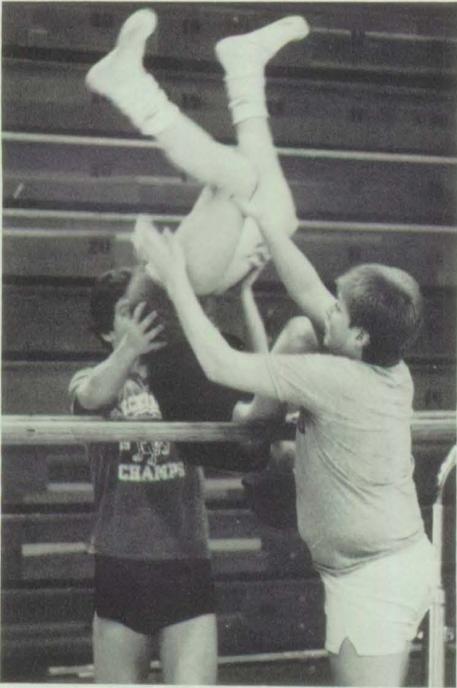

Physical education students play on the rings.

Physical Education

In the required two years of physical education, Madison-Grant students learn game strategies and benefit from the exercise. Students participate in basketball, track, tennis, baseball, gymnastics, golf, kickball, volleyball, and co-ed square dancing. As a result of this participation, they not only develop individual skills but also team cooperation.

Kent Wilson, and Ted Davis spot in gymnastics.

Mrs. Mercer grades a gymnastics stunt.

Mr. Miller grades Cully Voland on the horse.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Learning a foreign language does not only consist of speaking the language. It also consists of learning about traditions and cultures of that country. Madison-Grant offers two foreign languages — Spanish and French.

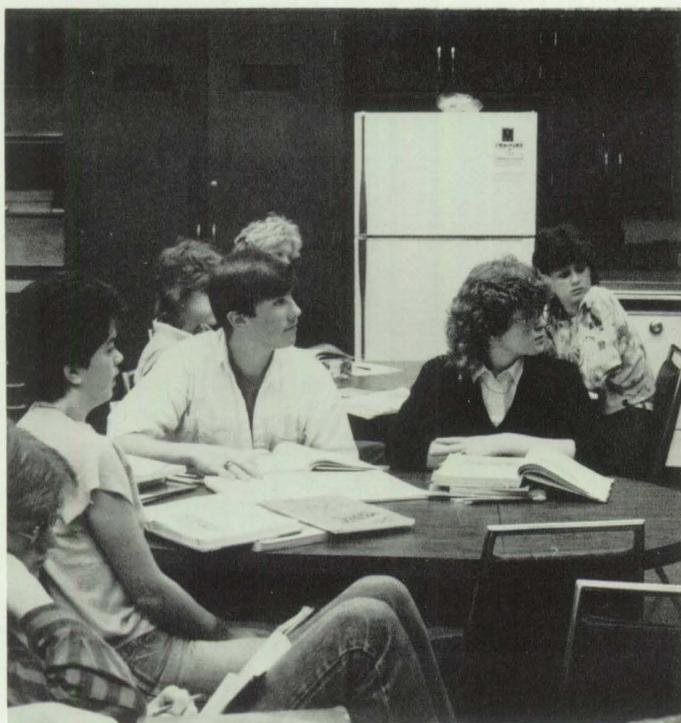

During the course of the school year, students in Spanish I and French I spend many hours learning the basics. A few of the basics, which are a necessity in learning to speak fluently, are verbs, numbers, adjectives, time, and the days of the week. Colors, weather, clothing, and room vocabulary are a few extras that are learned throughout the year. The three goals of Spanish and French I are speaking, hearing, and writing.

Second year French and Spanish have main goals of improved writing and speaking more fluently. Throughout the year, students conjugate verbs and expand their vocabulary. A vocabulary of food, occupations, and animals may also be taught.

During the second semester, the students in French II and Spanish II have six weeks of teaching in the elementary classrooms. The student-teaching program allows the students to use what they have learned in their two years of class and to experience what it is like to have to teach those skills to elementary children.

Students in French II listen to Madame Jackson's lecture.

Eric Johnson and Alisa Jones study their vocabulary in Spanish I.

Jamie Curless asks Señora Melson a question. Aaron Mardin and Ryan Retherford look on.

The French class entertain students with Christmas carols.

Señora Melson explains the different forms of the verb TO BE.

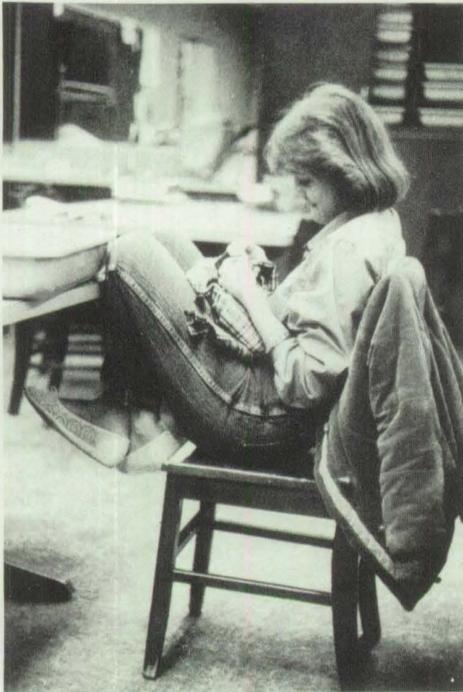

Madame Jackson expounds on the glories of the French verb.

Mrs. Clevenger and Shelly Jenny daydream about spring fashions.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home economics is much more than cooking, cleaning, and sewing. M-G's home ec department offers family management, child care, and home decorating as well.

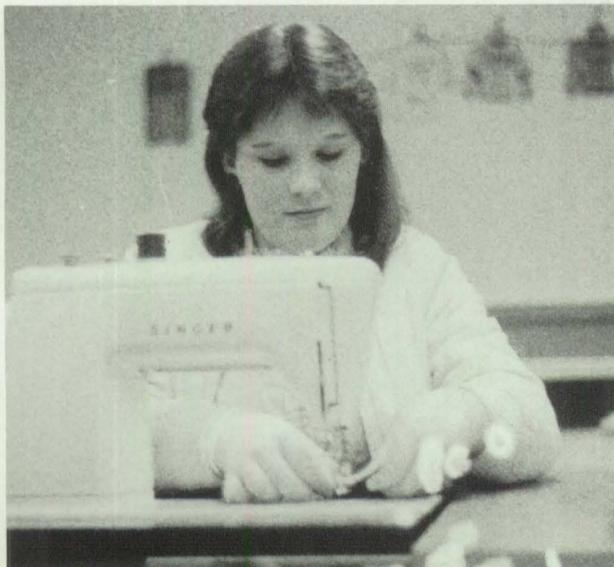

Cooking, sewing, and family management try to prepare students for life in the "real world."

Teresa Shrout works on her sewing project quietly.

Ty Kelly learns how to wash the dishes in home ec.

Sewing on the Singer in home-ec class is Shelly Howell.

Students in psychology class pick due-dates for their projects.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The History Department is a very important part of Madison-Grant. Students study from the beginning of civilization to our present-day President. There are a variety of classes to take, such as government, economics, U.S. History, and psychology.

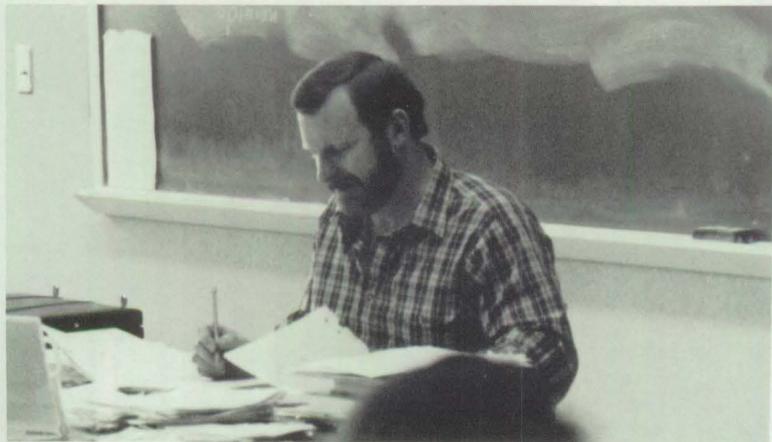

This year the History Department had the privilege of using new history books.

Missy Brunt uses her study time wisely during Mr. Knarr's U.S. History class.

Katie Stitt concentrates hard on her World Geography for Mr. Bennett's class.

Mr. Badger grades stacks and stacks of papers from his classes.

ART

The Art Department offers seven creative art classes. Basic art is a general art class that introduces the students to all the various media which can be explored further in another art class.

Drawing classes concentrate on extensive work with pencils and are aimed to help the serious-minded art student. Drawing skills are required for printmaking also because printmaking utilizes drawing skills while reproducing images.

Ceramics and craft design are fun classes that offer a change of pace from drawing and painting. Painting class consists of work in watercolor and oils.

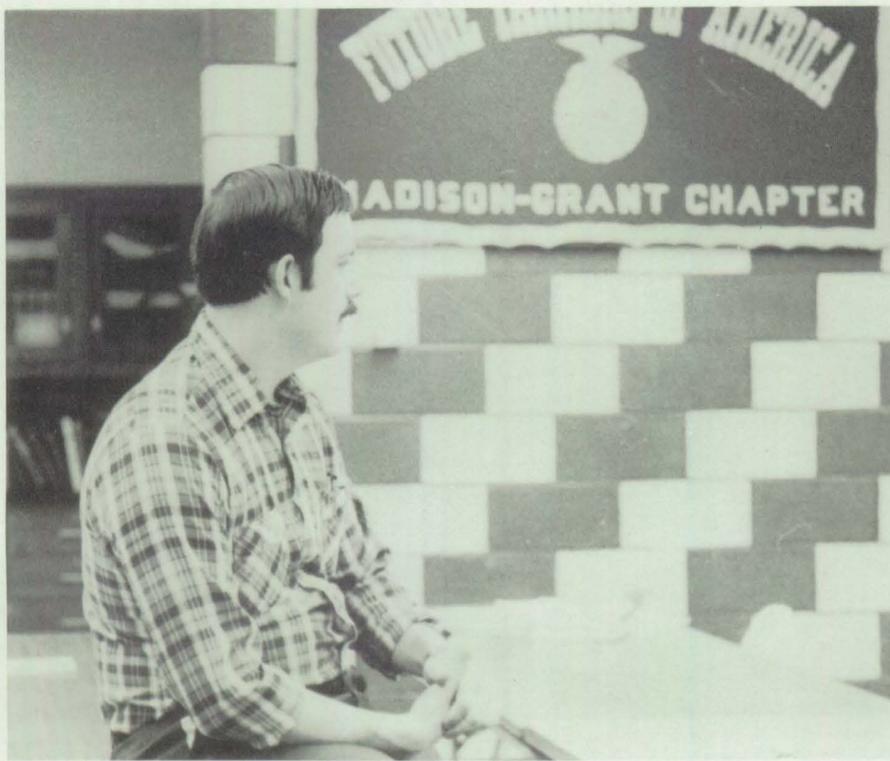

Mrs. McConnell demonstrates the assignment for Darlene Bowman and Terry Osborn.

AGRI- BUSINESS

The Agriculture Department at Madison-Grant offered these classes this year: Introduction to Agriculture, soils, crops, livestock, agriculture construction, farm power, and agriculture economics.

Even if the student wasn't planning on entering a field of agriculture or didn't live on a farm, he or she learned a lot — how to manage money and keep records, for example, which would be important in any career.

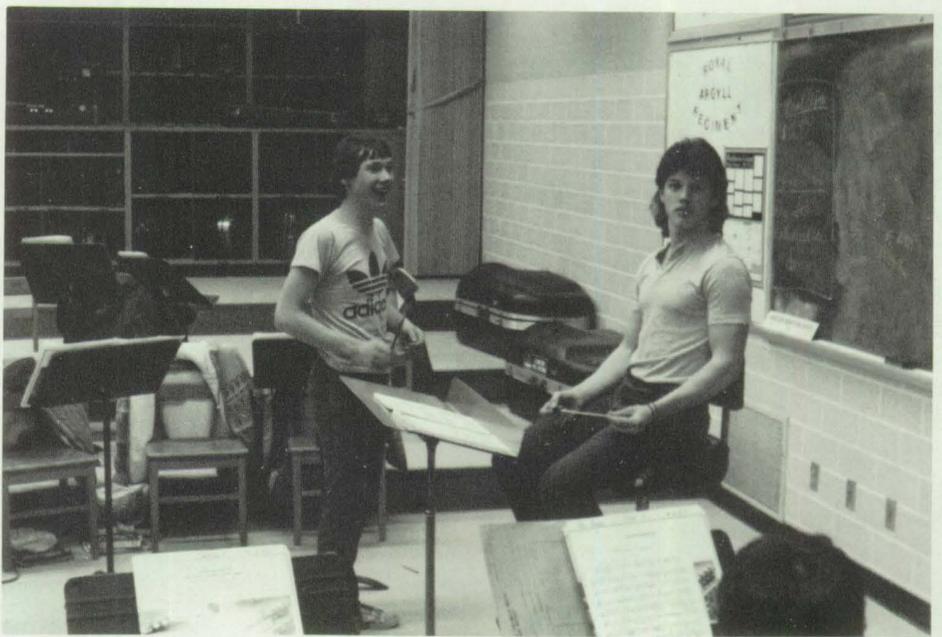

Mr. Kerkhoff takes a deep breath between classes.

BAND

Bands are becoming more and more popular these days. But between the preparations for concerts and ball games and the actual performances, well, a body just doesn't have time to do much of anything! That's just not the case with our Madison-Grant High School Band, though. They have been well-rehearsed and have polished off their performances to a "T." Mr. Donald Lamb, band director, takes much pride in the way his band plays.

Chuck Losure and Brent Brewer try their hand at conducting.

Band students take a few moments to tune their instruments and check the music.

Rochelle Hosier practices her flute section of a song.

CHORUS

The chorus classes at M-G teach students proper breathing techniques and vocal techniques.

The classes that are offered are beginning chorus, girls' chorus, concert choir, and varsity mixed.

All the choral students had performances to attend. And they were required to attend rehearsals and programs.

Elizabeth Peterson and Lynn Nelson are trying to high the right note.

A student in choir sings ever so sweetly.

Mrs. Sharkey joins in with the singing.

Arthur and Teresa show their talent during choir class.

BUSINESS

The Business Department offers a wide variety of classes ranging from typing for personal use to classes such as Shorthand, Business Communication, and Accounting, designed for the student interested in office employment. A very important part of Madison-Grant, this up-to-date department provides essential skills in the use of office machines and computer and an overview of business law which enables students to gain knowledge about law and the legal system. This department is a vital part of education at Madison-Grant.

Ron Stewart studies his copy seriously during a timed-writing.

Kelsey Byus learns how to use an electronic display calculator in Business Machines class.

Robin Bailey works diligently in Office Practice.

Industrial Arts

Students take classes in industrial arts for many different reasons. Most students in this department take introduction to industrial arts. This class is a combined class of what they will learn if they take a future class in this department.

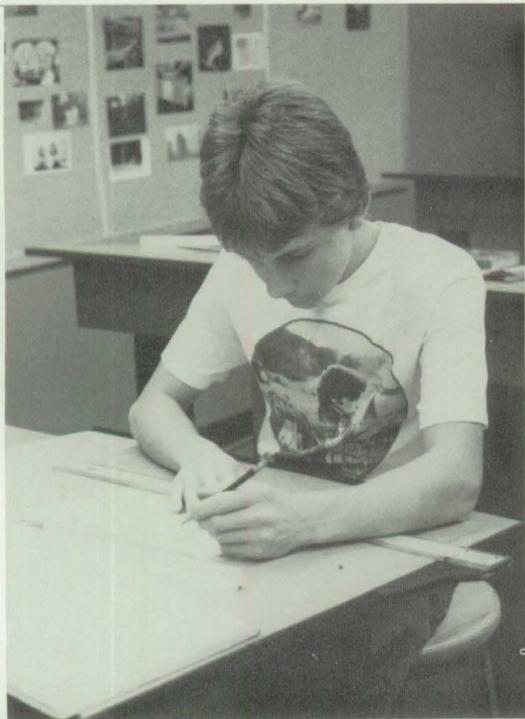

Students who are to have a career in carpentry might take basic woods and advanced woods. A person wanting a career in electricity might find a class for light construction, basic electricity, or electricity and electronics.

Metals and mechanics classes help a student looking for a future in mechanics or just wanting mechanical knowledge. Drafting classes help to prepare students for architecture or excavating.

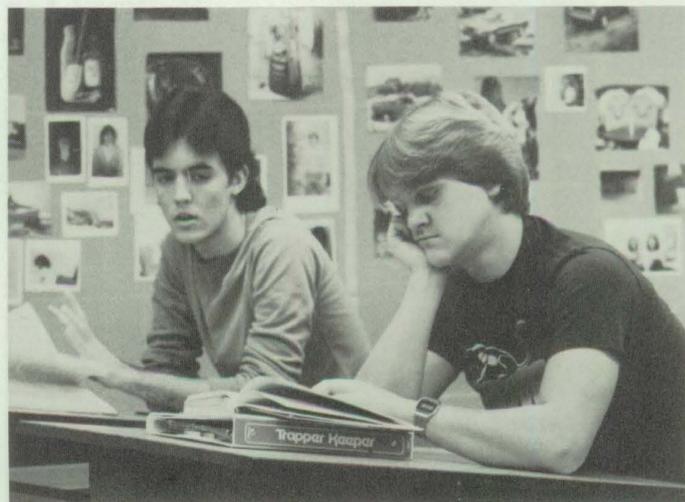

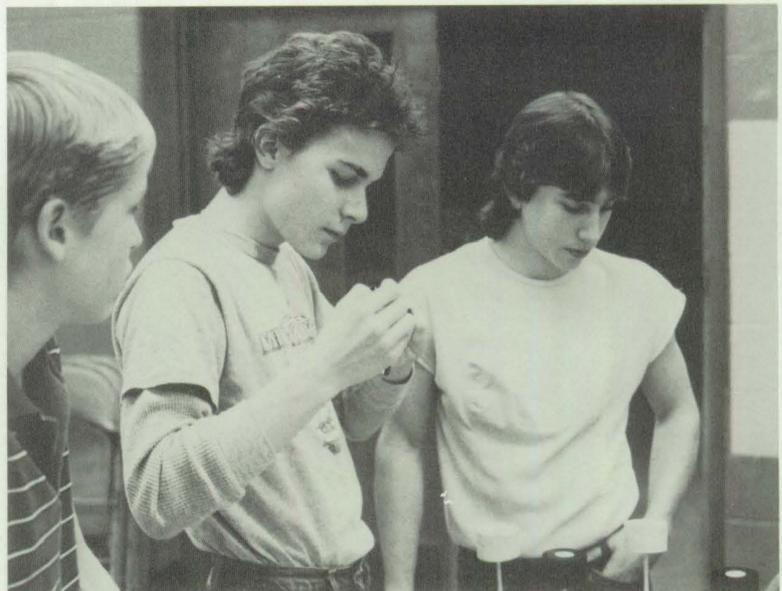

Photography gives students a basic understanding of how to use a 35 mm camera. These students also spend time learning techniques in the darkroom.

Mike Beeman and Kevin Lewis help each other in woods class.

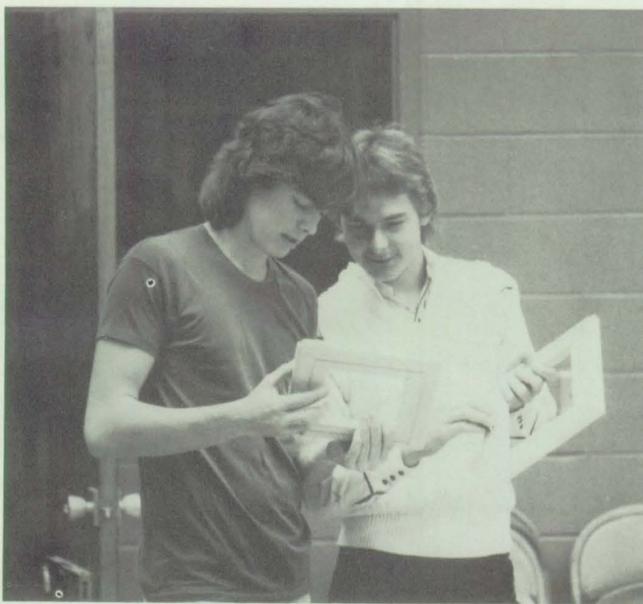

Dennis Fisher studies his drafting until it is perfect.

Dale Jeffries, Terry Clements, and Scott Garrett get some help from Mr. Rickard in woods.

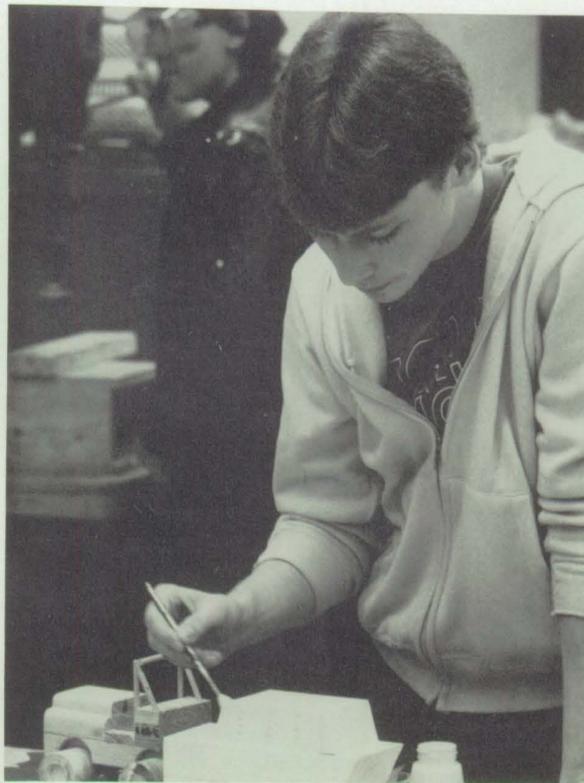

Another studious day in electricity for Jim Blackburn and Robert Leach.

Jay Byrd asks Pat Beeman for some assistance on his frame.

Steve Frye uses the sander in Intro. to Industrial Arts.

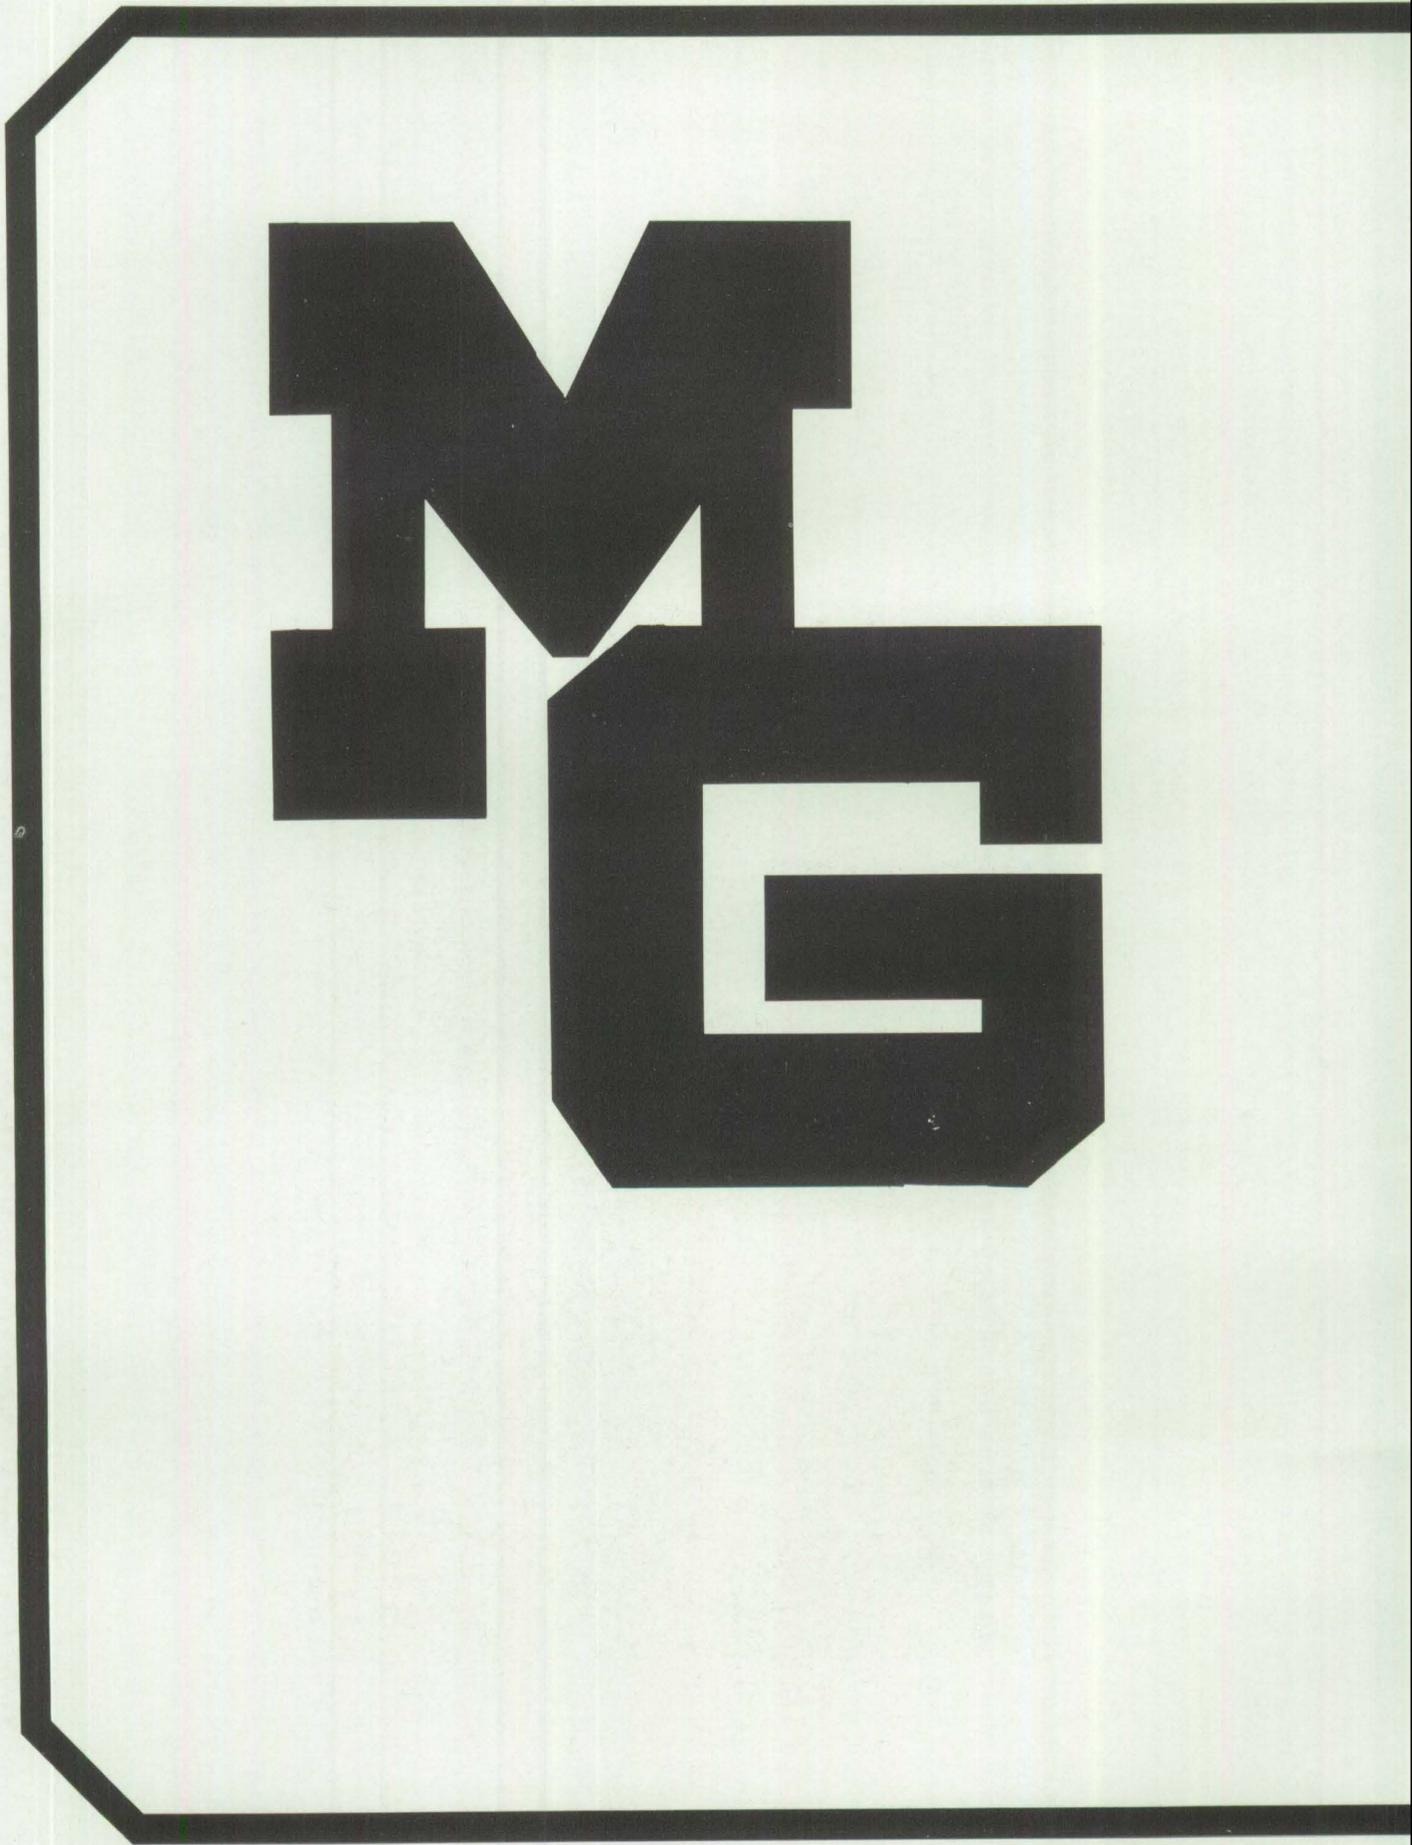

Jim Blalock paints his woods project.

Pat Beeman and Bob Rushing spend time working on their woods projects.

Janson Sullian tinkers with his car in woods class.

Organizations

"Push!", exclaim Campus Life members as they lift senior Jane Huntzinger.

Campus Life

The largest and most popular of all the organizations at Madison-Grant is Campus Life. Every year more and more people get involved with Campus Life. As usual, Campus Life held their annual Burger Bash in the fall and this year they sold candy bars and pizzas as their fund raisers for their annual Florida trip over spring break. Brent Ratliff, Missy Phillippe, Tad Guyre, Brad Idlewine were school representatives. Mr. Leon Earnest is the sponsor.

Fiesta is one of the Spanish Club's favorite words. During the year the club goes to Chi-Chi's, has a Christmas party at which they carol, has to decide on their club shirts, and many other exciting things. In order to be in the Spanish club, students must have two years of Spanish or be currently enrolled in a Spanish class. Señora Melson is the Sponsor for the Spanish club.

FRENCH CLUB

"Soyez si vous palez Francais!" or in English "Smile if you speak French!" was the phrase on the French Club's shirts this year. The "cercle de francais" participates in a number of exciting activities throughout the year. The club has crepe parties and takes a trip to La Tour restaurant in Indianapolis. They also look forward to selling carnations every February for Valentine's Day. To be a member of French club, you must have taken two years of French or currently be enrolled in a French class. Madame Jackson is the French club sponsor.

Bands

Where's that funky music at the basketball game coming from? It's coming from Madison-Grant's own pep band. The band spends a lot of their time practicing for each game. The pep band gets everyone fired up to win the game. The music ranges from the Rubberband Man to more up-to-date music. Donald Lamb is the sponsor.

Argylletes and Pep Band

The Argylletes are a one-of-a-kind group. The skills of rhythm, dancing, and flag twirling go a long way with these girls. They work hard during the summer months and all year long to perfect their talent. When they are practicing, they are fun-loving girls who give the corps captain a hard time. But when performance time comes around the bend, watch out, people — here come the pros.

Speech Team

The M-G Talking Argylls highlighted their year with a trip to Harvard University. The team competed with 109 other schools from all across the nation. The Argylls were the only Indiana school at Harvard.

The team has done well this year, placing at every meet except one.

Last summer, Madison-Grant was represented at the National Forensics League National Tournament in Eau Clair, Wisconsin for the first time in Madison-Grant's history.

Art Club

Sketching, drawing, ceramics, print making, painting, and air brushing are some of the things that people with artistic talents enjoy doing. # Cheerblock

"Beat 'em, Beat 'em, Rah, Rah, Rah!" At the home basketball games, the fighting Argylls could always depend on the cheerblock for their support and enthusiasm. The cheerblock had duties of making run-throughs, producing school spirit and enthusiasm, and most of all cheering for the team. Mrs. Linda Atkins is the cheerblock sponsor.

SADD

"Don't Let Friends Drive Drunk."

The Madison-Grant Chapter of SADD was formed once again this year to help dissolve drunk driving. The chapter wore buttons to show how much they are against drunk driving. They also gave out bumper stickers to show an outward, outside-of-school support. Before Christmas, SADD collected a donation to buy a wrecked car to show everyone, "You drink, you drive, you die!" President was Christian Fox and Advisor was Mr. Dave Strasemeier.

Student Council

"Vote for me!" Every year students vote for offices to represent their class on Student Council. Five students are chosen to represent each class. Student Council meets and discusses ways to make the school a pleasant place for everyone. They sponsored the Annual Senior Citizen's Banquet in November, an event which both the students and the guests found enjoyable and rewarding. Mr. Kenn Knarr is the sponsor.

Yearbook & Newspaper

"Who has my article!?"

"The deadline's WHEN?!?"

These exclamations were heard in I hallway near 206. The sounds were coming from wide-eyed staff members as they worked to meet deadlines.

The newspaper staff put out five regular issues and the annual Senior Edition. Through hard work and lots of worrying, the Staff got the work done. The advisor is Dr. Barbara Heavilin.

National Honor Society

In a candlelight ceremony on the afternoon of March 19, 1986, nineteen juniors and three seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society. Each member must have at least a 3.5 grade point average. They are also chosen on the basis of leadership and character. They participate in the Special Olympics, a student teach-in in which the students teach a class for a day. At graduation the junior NHS members form the candlelit aisle through which the seniors walk. Mrs. Herring and Mrs. Burnett are the sponsors.

ArGuys & Gals

"Step, two, three, four, kick!" The Ar-guys and Gals swing choir heard these words everyday as they practiced for their many performances during the year. Their practice paid off as they won first place at the District Solo and Ensemble Contest at Ball State University and a place win at Butler University for the State Solo and Ensemble contest in February. Other activities during the year were Swing Choir Workshop, Fall and Spring Concerts, and Swing Choir Contest.

Concert Choir

"Do Re Mi Fa So La Ti Do." This familiar sound can be heard every day as concert choir members work for their grades and performances. This year Madison-Grant was host for the annual Madison County Choral Festival. Eight Madison County school choirs got together and performed various songs from classical to pop and religious. Every year the Concert Choir holds the Fall and Spring Concerts. This year Concert Choir went to Ball State on February 8 for the District Solo and Ensemble Contest. Concert Choir officers are President, Patty Fields; Secretary-Treasurer, Cherie McKinley; Historian/Reporter, Dorothy Suttles; and Librarian, John Thomas.

SOPHOMORES

Settling down into the old high school routine, students in the sophomore class take the Iowa Basic Skills Test to measure scholastic skills, sign up for driver's education, and purchase class jackets. Some also begin to plan for the future and to make career goals. Those planning to attend college buckle down to their academic studies. Those planning to develop technological skills may sign up for vocational school, which they will attend during their junior and senior years.

This was the year, however, when influenza attacked their class harder than any other. The list of sophomore absentees during the first nine weeks of the second semester was longer than the list of any other class.

JUNIORS

The Junior year is a very special one. Those students who plan to go to college take the PSAT and begin to receive information from colleges. Those who do not plan to go to college begin to think about career goals and employment after graduation. In addition to planning for the future, Juniors also have a busy year raising money for the prom by selling magazines and Kleinhem products.

As their theme suggested, prom itself was "A Night to Remember." The pool at the Marion Inn was lighted by blue and silver candles which left shimmering reflections on the water. The tables were bedecked with silver fans and slender, light blue candles. After the prom students swam, ate pizza, drank pop, and generally enjoyed themselves until 3:00 a.m.

Mrs. Herring, Mrs. Melson, and Mr. Palmer are the Junior sponsors.

SENIORS

The seniors of 1985-86 were the last class to observe graduation ceremonies in the high school gymnasium. All classes after theirs will graduate in the new auditorium. Whether they plan to go to college or to work, they will remember their last year as the one before the opening of the new junior high school and the use of the new auditorium.

The social event of the year was the prom and the after prom which the juniors planned for them. Held at the Marion Inn, this event was elegant and formal. Students got to see one another in formal attire and to get their pictures taken by Bill Myers. It was an event they will never forget.

Bon voyage, Seniors. Best wishes as you discover that there is still life after high school.

In Memory

James

In our hearts he made a place
With his gentle smiling face.

He filled our hearts with love and joy,
But he died so young, just a boy.

He was a young boy of seventeen,
So handsome and nice, one of the best human beings.

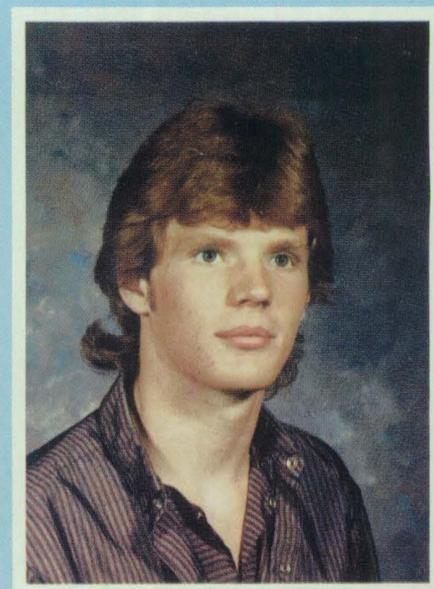

He always had a Pepsi in his hand
Singing along with Willie and his band.

But now he's gone far away
To a different land in a different day.

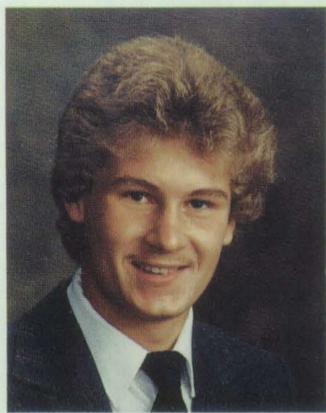

We miss him now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by, we miss him more.

His loving smile, his gentle face,
No one can fill his vacant place.

Faculty

In the past few years, the faculty has taken on new changes in their line-up. This year Madison-Grant has three new teachers and a new vice-principal, Mr. Garry DeRossett, who is a graduate of Anderson College. The social studies department's new addition is Mr. Kenn Knarr, a graduate of Wabash College. The new biology teacher is Mr. Wayne Davis, a graduate of Indiana State. Miss Linda Hellmann, a graduate of Ball State, is the new special education teacher. The new yearbook and newspaper advisor is Dr. Barbara Heavilin. She received a Ph.D. from Ball State University. Each member of the faculty has an extraordinary talent for teaching and is to be commended for his or her hard work.

ARGYLLS GOT THE BEAT

Volleyball

The 1985-1986 Varsity Volleyball team started its practice in August to prepare for the '85 season. The Argyls worked hard on the fundamentals and teamwork.

Head coach Karen McClurg commented on the season: "The Varsity team graduated 7 seniors from the 1984 team. Therefore, this year was a transitional period for us. We will be losing our only senior and Most Valuable Player this year, who is Dana Rhoads." The Varsity finished at 10-20.

The Junior-Varsity finished the year at 5-11. The Junior Varsity had a lot of freshmen on the team, so with a little experience these girls should be competitive in the next couple of years. The Junior Varsity was coached by Cheryl Hackney.

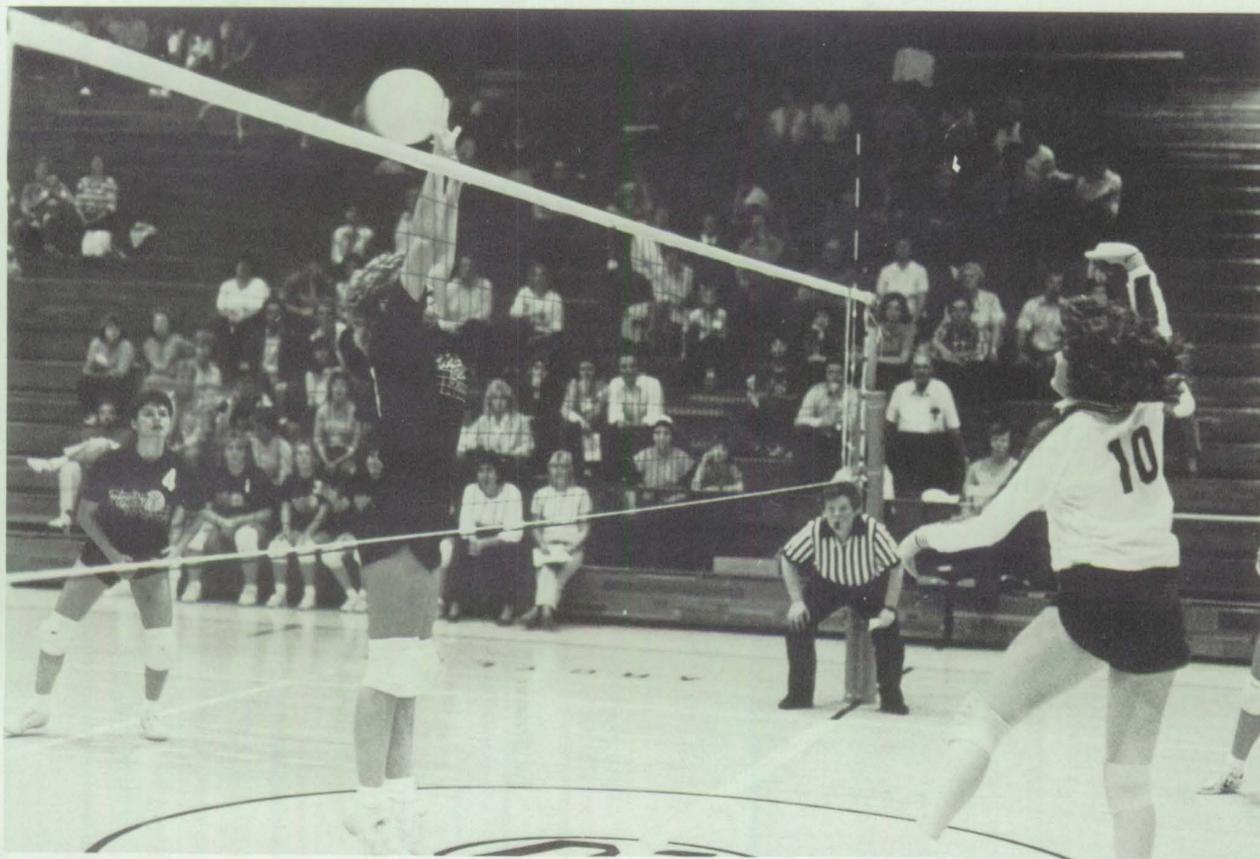

Dana Rhoads skies for a spike.

Varsity team: J. Devore, J. King, B. Brewer, A. Hoppess, S. Treadway, B. Soultz, R. Nelson, R. Scott, J. Kelich, J. Dunlap, D. Rhoads, Coach McClurg.

Jenny Dunlap sets one for the kill.

Junior Varsity team: M. Reeves mgr., B. Soultz, A. Gibson, A. Hayes, K. Hiatt, S. Gaskin mgr. Row 2: Coach McClurg, L. Coulter, C. Pulley, A. Simpson, A. Chastain, G. Gough, J. Baldwin, J. McGibbon mgr. Row 3: S. Chidester, R. Amonett, A. Alexander, H. Bratcher, S. Jarvis, H. Bratcher, P. Allen

Coach McClurg instructs the team during a time-out.

Girls' Basketball

The Madison-Grant Girls' Varsity Basketball team, dominated by juniors and sophomores, finished at 8-10 this year.

M-G was led by Robin Scott who became M-G's all-time leading scorer with 764 points. Scott also was most valuable player of the County Tourney, and of the all-county, all-conference, all-sectional, as well as his own team's most valuable player, and Grant County Co-Player of the year.

If the Argylls can find someone to take the place of departing senior Dana Rhoads, watch out, Marion.

The Junior Varsity finished 3-12 under Lisa Rockenbaugh.

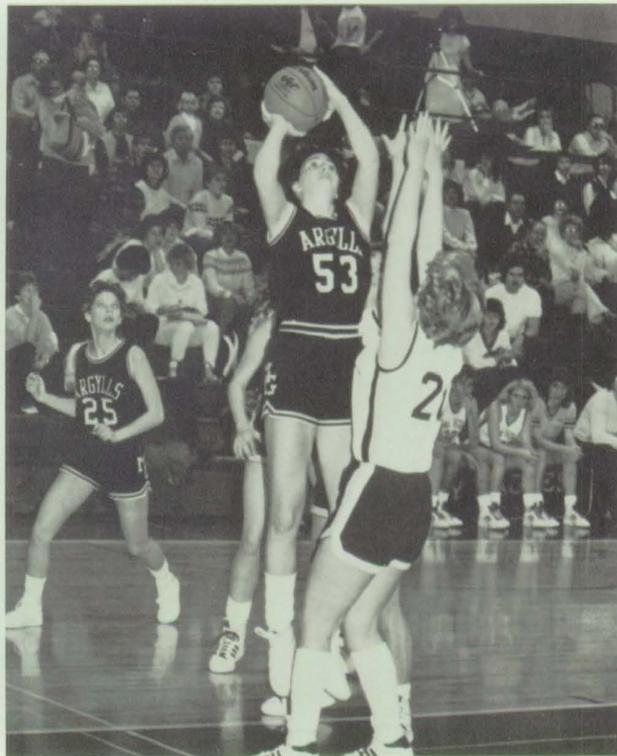

Varsity team: A. Whybrew, mgr., A. Hoppess, T. Bach, D. Rhoads, J. King, S. Treadway, L. Coulter mgr. Row 2: Coach Rockenbaugh, R. Scott, R. Nelson, J. Kelich, J. Dunlap, K. Wilson, M. Rogers mgr., Coach Holloway.

Kim Hiatt eyes the basket, as Amy Hoppess follows for the rebound.

Robin Nelson shoots over the defending player.

Robin Scott drives up the floor, while the defending players wait for her attack.

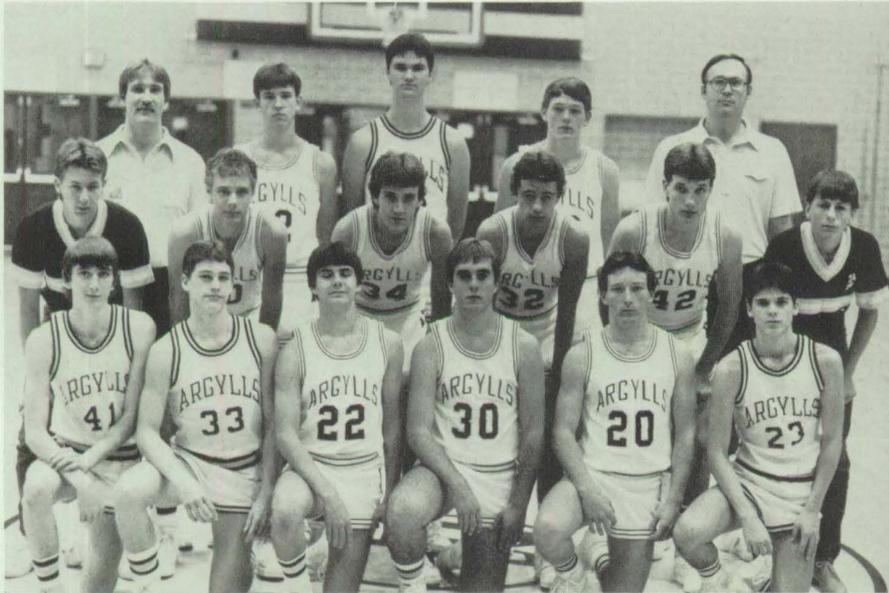

Junior Varsity team: M. Fields mgr., A. Alexander, A. Armstrong, K. Hasty, A. Pence, M. Bunch, L. Patrikainen mgr., Row 2: C. Gibson mgr., A. Chastain, M. Reeves, L. Butler, K. Hiatt, S. Morrison, S. Underwood, Coach Rockenbaugh.

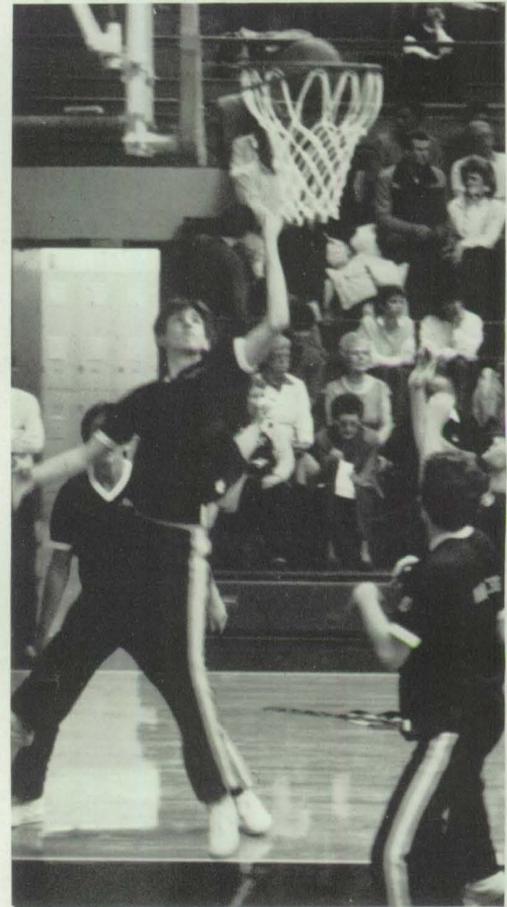

Rick Martin shows that no one can block his shot.

Varsity Basketball

The Varsity Basketball team had a successful season this year. This was a rebuilding year with many underclassmen contributing to the team's record. M-G set a new team free-throw percentage record, shooting a sizzling 75%. Tom Brunt set an individual free-throw record with 94%. The team finished fifth in the Conference and was runner-up in the Grant-4 Tourney. Losing only seniors Scott Craw, Bill Robbins, and Gary Frye, the future looks bright for the Argylls.

Basketball

The Madison-Grant Junior Varsity completed a successful season despite a deceptive 8 wins and 12 loss season under Coach Dave Strase-meier. Of the 12 losses, 10 were by fewer than 7 points, and 5 losses were by 4 or less points. The J.V. outrebounded their opponents by 70, but the inability to put the ball in the basket cost the Argylls some wins. Watch for these kids to come on next year.

The Argyll Freshman A-team finished with a 7-6 record under head Coach Brian Kirkwood. The highlight of the year was bringing home the trophy from the Eastbrook Tourney. The Freshman class should add to the outstanding basket-ball being played at M-G. The B-team finished at 2-8.

Football

The 1985 Argylls, led by new head coach, Wayne Davis and assistant Kenn Knarr, continued to show improvement throughout the season. The Argylls returned only 5 starters from last year. The progress of the team was highlighted by their homecoming victory over Blackford and culminated by the surprising upset victory over the highly regarded Muncie-North in the football playoffs.

The Argylls will lose 16 lettermen including starters: Bill Robbins, Mark Rogers, Scott Strasemeier, Davis Irwin, Joe Gibson, Chris Welborn, Tim Chapel, Brad Collins, Allen Wise, Charlie Williams, and Terry Treon.

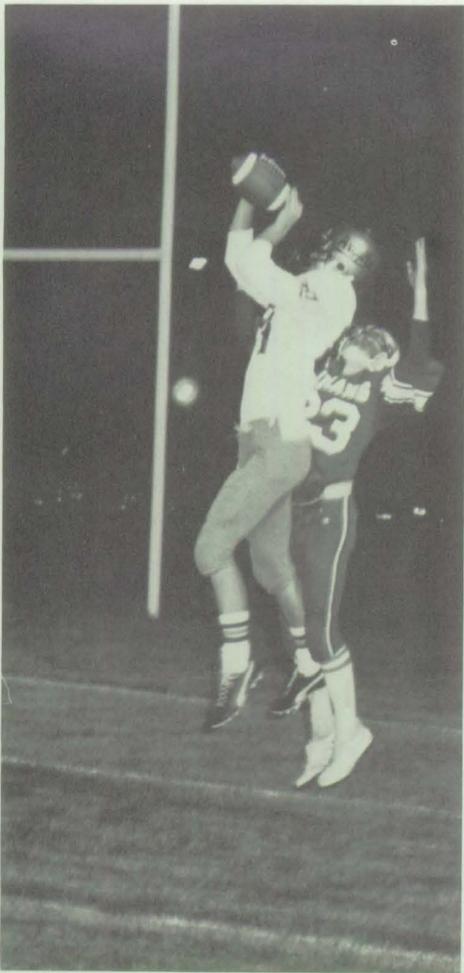

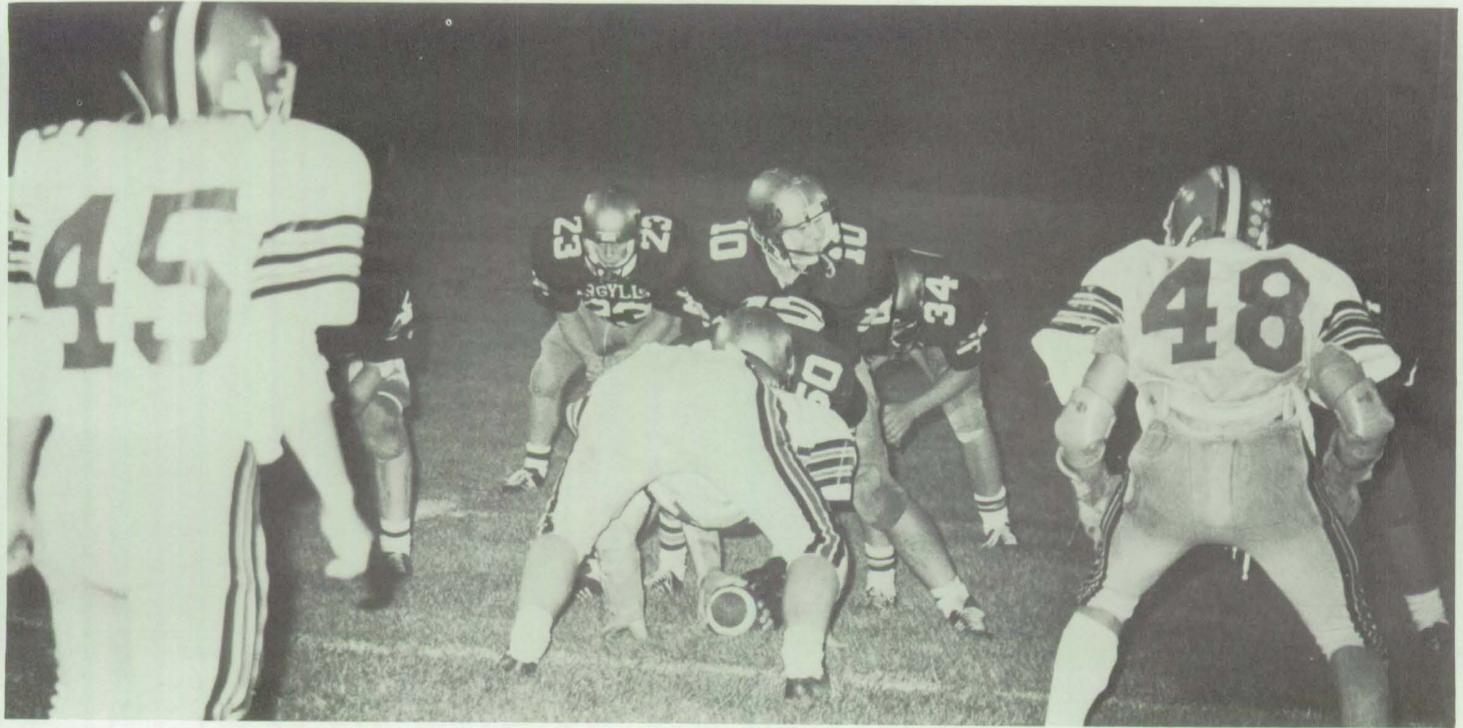

But with 7 starters and 19 returning lettermen, the future looks bright for the Argylls.

The Freshmen team finished with a 1-6 record. Even though the Freshmen won only one game, they were only blown out once. Coaches were Chris Tanner and Tom Bennett.

Office and Staff

Administrators, counselors, secretaries, and staff all work together to make Madison-Grant High School function efficiently. They help to make the teacher's task easier and more effective. Everyone works together for the good of the most important people of all — the students themselves. And the students and faculty appreciate everyone's effort to make their school a good one. Thanks to each of these deserving people.

A Night to Remember

May 3, 1986, was a "Night to Remember" for most students at Madison-Grant High School.

The junior class of 1987 hosted the senior prom at the Marion Inn. Approximately 275 tickets were sold. Tickets were $10.00 for junior students and $5.00 for seniors. The prom started at 9:00 p.m. and lasted until midnight, followed by the after prom which ended at 3:30 a.m.

The prom committee went to the Marion Inn at about 1:00 p.m. to decorate the pool room, where the prom was to be held.

Decorations consisted of silver fans on each table and floating candles on the pool. Each student received a glass cup that had the prom theme written on it, blue napkins, and blue memory booklets.

At the after prom there were seventy pizzas provided by Little Caesar's Restaurant, and pop was also supplied.

Dana Rhoads was crowned queen, and Scott Craw was crowned king. Other candidates were Scott Royal and Marshall Wallen for king. The other queen candidates were Cami Relfe and Rhonda Holloway.

Graduation

Commencement exercises took place on Friday, May 23, 1986, at 7:00 p.m. in the Madison-Grant gymnasium. This was a nostalgic occasion because it was the last commencement to be held in the gymnasium. Next year these exercises will be held in the new auditorium.

Following the processional, Karen Renée Underwood gave the invocation. ArGuys and Gals and the Concert Choir sang "No Good-Byes," and Mark Alan Rogers introduced the senior speakers, Dana Michelle Rhoads and Joel Wilson Hunt. After the band played "They Went Thataway," diplomas were presented. Jane Ann Huntzinger gave the benediction. Valedictorians were Dana Rhoads, Karen Underwood, and Kathy Coffey. Salutatorian was Joel Hunt.

Good Luck
And Best Wishes To The Graduating Class

Construction

This was a year of improvement and construction. The halls and the cafetorium in the high school building were tiled and carpeted. The figure of the Argyll warrior now adorns one of the cafetorium walls. The building is now brighter, providing an pleasanter atmosphere for students, staff, and faculty.

Still under construction, the middle school will be ready for occupancy next year. This addition will bring better facilities for the high school as well as for the middle school. Both groups of students will have access to the new gymnasium and to the new auditorium.

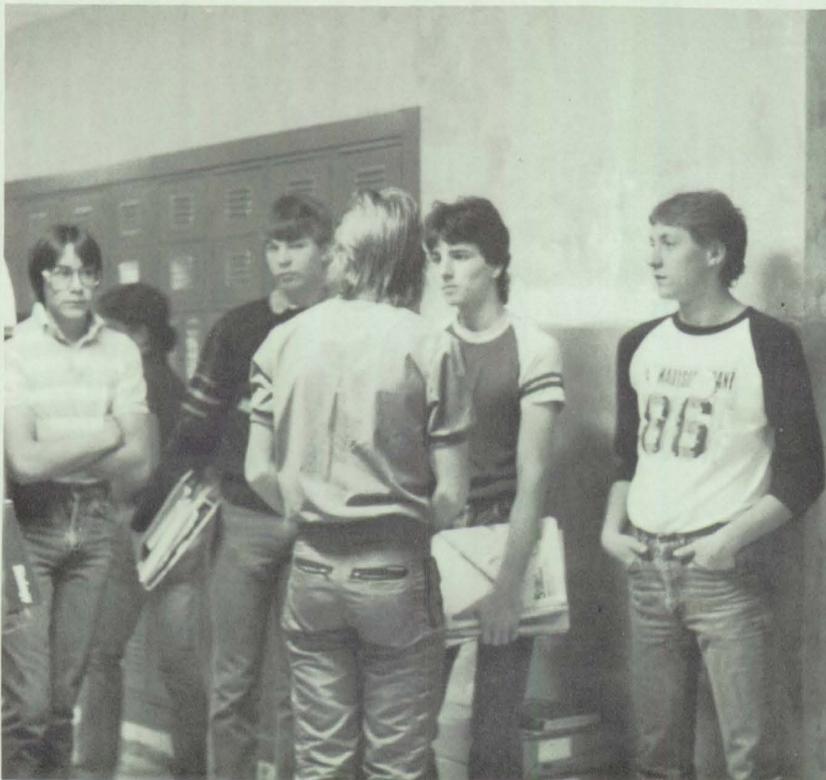

The construction worker carefully prepares the tile to put on the wall.
