SUBSCRIPTIONS NOW BEING TAKEN

"LIFE IN FAIRMOUNT" IS NOW BEING SOLD

The campaign for subscriptions to "Life in Fairmount High" began this week, and this annual has the first pictures of the extracurricular activities in their natural surroundings, indoors. Copy is now being prepared for the interesting story write-ups in the "Life" manner.

The staff wishes to point out that purchasers really get "double value," because annuals actually cost twice as much as one pays. Annuals are to sell at one dollar, payable in amounts of twenty-five cents or more.

Seniors may purchase annuals from Bob Scott, juniors from Merrill Phillips, sophomores from Jane Siegel, freshmen from Pauline Poe, and members of the seventh and eighth grade from Mary Howell.

Annuals that are not paid for before May 12 will be mailed after school is out on receipt of the balance of the money.

Remember, only 21 shopping days for "Life."

"BUY LIFE"

On Friday, April 4, the art class went to Muncie to see the Hoosier salon art exhibit which hangs in the gallery in the Arts building at Ball State College. Pictures were examined and discussed. The class was accompanied by Rupert Kilgore, teacher.

In Sympathy . . .

In behalf of the entire student body and faculty we wish to extend our most sincere sympathy to Leland Compton and his family because of the recent death of Harold Compton, who was a member of the freshman class.

CHAPEL SERVICES HELD EACH MORNING DURING WEEK IN OBSERVANCE OF HOLY WEEK

In the observance of Holy Week, chapel services were held every day last week except Friday in the auditorium of the high school building.

On Monday, April 7, the Reverend H. J. Reamy, pastor of the Baptist church of Summitville, spoke on the various kinds of education and their purposes in life. "America The Beautiful" and "Come Thou All Mighty King" were sung by the student body before Reverend Reamy's address.

Group singing of "Nearer My God To Thee" opened the service Tuesday, April 8, The Reverend Marie Cassell, pastor of a Friends church at Ludlow Falls, Ohio, spoke on "Building A New Life." The high school choir, directed by Rupert Kilgore sang "All In The April Evening." Adeline Mart Nail directed the singing.

"Love Divine, Oh Love Excelling" was sung by the students at the opening of the chapel service Wednesday, April 9. The choir sang two numbers entitled "The Lord Bless You And Keep You" and "Charibbean Song." The Reverend Marie Cassell's theme was "Christ Praying in the Garden."

A spiritual "Were You There?" was sung by the choir at chapel services on Thursday, April 10. The student body sang "Holy, Holy, Holy." Again the Reverend Marie Cassell addressed the high school, and her topic was "The Last Supper."

QUEEN AND ATTENDANTS ARE CHOSEN FOR RELAYS

Maxine Moon, senior, was elected queen for the Seventh Annual Fairmount Relays to be held here on May 9. Her court will consist of the following junior girls: Janis Helms, Ruthanna Sutton, Marjorie Trice, and Marjorie Crow.

There were 5 candidates nominated by the seniors. For one of these each member of the student body voted. The 5 candidates were Maxine Moon, Leona Doyle, Velma Hunt, Mary Howell, and Patsy O'Dell.

Maxine was one of the attendants to Donna Kesler, last year's relay queen. Other attendants last year were: Leona Doyle, Wanda Stephens, and Velma Hunt.

The queen will present the relay trophy to the winning team. She will be assisted by her attendants in presenting medals and ribbons to individual

Movies To Be Shown

In accordance with the educational picture program, the student body will meet in the auditorium on Tuesday, April 15, at about 2:45 when they will see 2 films: "Bicycling with Safety," and "The Middletown Family at the New York World's Fair." These films were scheduled for the Safety and Citizenship classes, respectively, but it was decided to show them to the entire student body.

Honor Society Meets

The Honor Society met Tuesday, April 8, the third period. Frederick Wood, sponsor, read the constitution of the society.

Mary Linville, president, appointed Marjorline Hughes to be chairman of the honor society convocation, and Jane Siegel to be chairman for a party to be held after the new members are taken in.

"WHAT A LIFE" IS TO BE STAGED

"What A Life," the senior class play is to be presented in the Fairmount high school auditorium next Thursday, April 17, at 8:00 p. m.

Much time has been spent by the seventh period speech class in painting the set to be used in the play. It has been completely done over to make a fitting background for the play which takes place in the principal's office in Central high school in the spring.

John Mark Johns has the leading role of Henry Aldrich. He is an untidy, attractive, humorous, typically outspoken boy. He just can't memorize dates in Roman history. He wants to take his girl to the spring dance and has a terrible time trying to draw the necessary 2 dollars. Drawing, which is his favorite pastime, lands him in an embarrassing situation.

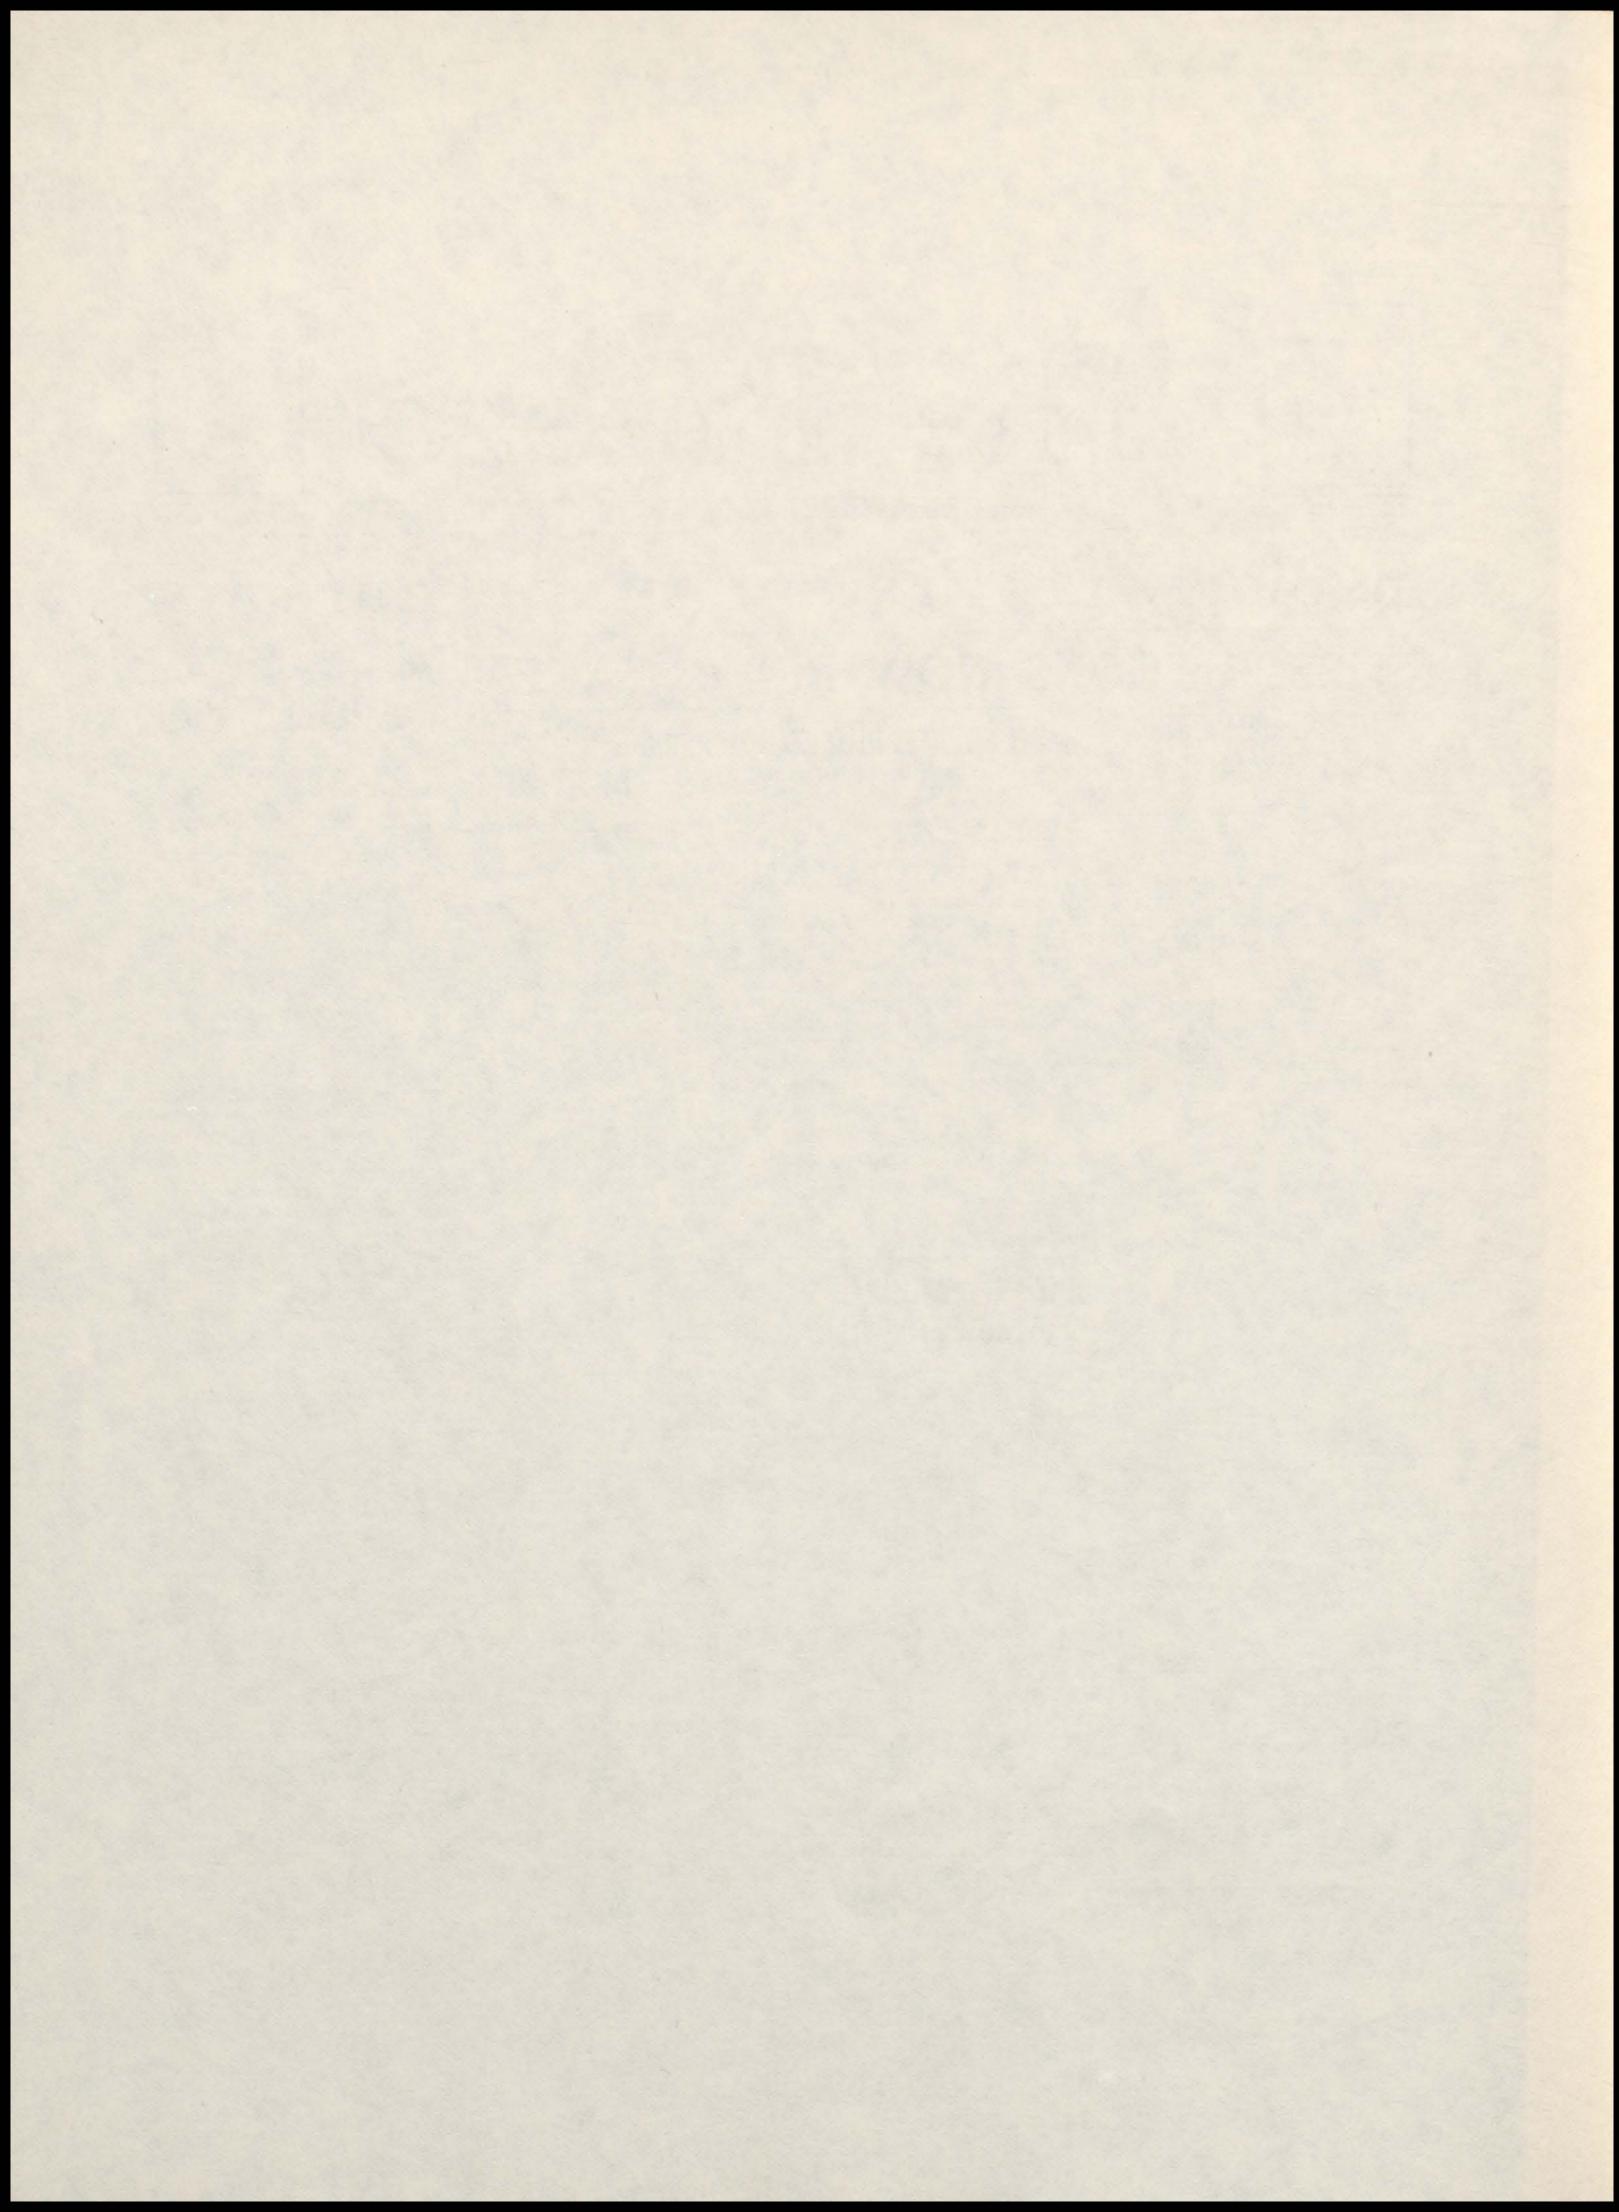

Barbara Pearson, played by Mary Linville, is a genuine young girl, who is first happy and then unhappy about going to her first dance. A complicated situation develops when she finds herself with 2 invitations.

Mr. Nelson, a very understanding assistant principal, is played by Merrill Phillips. He has a sentimental feeling for Miss Shea, played by Mary Howell, who is in her late 20's, attractive and pleasant, but sometimes brusque. Millard Marrs plays the part of Mr. Bradley, who is the principal and a most authoritative character. Mr. Patterson, an absent-minded but serious character, is played by Arthur Ferree.

Miss Eggleston, played by Rose Anna Kempfer, is an efficient study-room teacher. Miss Pike, also a teacher, played by Jane Siegel, complains habitually. Miss Wheeler, a music teacher, is very fussy and excitable. She is played by Ruby Sperling. Wilma Hoppes plays the part of Miss Johnston, a gym-teacher who is bursting with energy.

Lucile Hoskins plays the part

HELP THE BAND

Won't our band look "swell" this summer? It will, of course, look that way if the members get their new uniforms. It now falls on each and every one of us to push the project till it is completed. For several years the band has wanted to play the concerts. Recently this ambition has been realized, or will be this summer. Then came the idea of new uniforms, which was so enthusiastically accepted. Now when the band starts its "Band Uniform" campaign, won't you throw in a nickle or a dime or a quarter or "whosit"? The band will appreciate any effort on your part.

SOMETHING NEW

Last week saw the beginning of the campaign for subscription to "Life."

The annual production staff appreciates the way the student body has taken up this new style book so enthusiastically. We of the journalism class believe this shows that Fairmount is becoming more and more progressive.

We believe that our school administration has been ready and willing to accept any new ideas when it is reasonably sure these are for the better. The same may be said of the merchants who have so willingly placed advertisements in this new enterprise.

A community which will accept nothing new will soon find itself in a poor position.

A cosmopolitan example of this is China, which in its early history was the richest nation on earth in natural resources. Yet China is one of the smallest world powers today, mainly because she is slow to accept new ideas.

Fairmount has been labeled as of Henry Aldrich's mother. She is a charming, stylish woman. Bill, played by Bob Arbuckle, is an eager young boy and Gertie, Jean Miller, is a fussy, stout girl. George Bigelow, played by Bob Gossett, is Henry's enemy. He is smirking, contemptible, and the school shiek. A big tough detective is played by David Mott. Phyllis Harvey plays the part of a colored girl with popping eyes. Mr. Vecchito, a parent, is played by Peter Velasquez.

This brief mention of the characters gives you some idea of the different kinds portrayed in this play. Rehearsals are progressing and "What a Life" is certain to be one of the outstanding productions ever presented here by a senior class. Don't fail to see it.

Queen and Attendants

Probable participants in the meet are: Fairmount, host and defending champs; Gas City; and Montpelier.

IT LIVED - - IT DIED

"You had a big day yesterday, dear. You are now to rest in the box. You were very pretty yesterday in church, dear. The lovely flower looked so brilliant, too. And that net looked so becoming. I thought you were almost a "goner", dear, when that big fat man nearly put his arm on you, but that long hat pin saved you. You know, that sharp pin stuck him on the arm and he nearly jumped over the counter. Then I came long, dear, and found you, and you are so much to me. "If anything should ever come between us, dear, I think I should take sick and die."

But alas alack a day, she placed that "old" Easter bonnet away and asked her husband for money for a new one.

a conservative town in the past, and there are several advantages of conservative communities, but we believe that some of the progressive steps taken recently are for the best.

Here I come
 Where from?
 Fairmount high
 Sigh, Sigh.
 And there will be a lot of sighing after you have read this column. If you can take it, read on.

It seems that Bob Trader is always teasing Marabelle Painter in first period speech class. Tsk. Tsk.

Love birds are out as usual this spring. At least the following couples were seen at the basketball game Friday night: Marjorie Trice and Bill Beasley; Marjorie Crow and George Harting; Evelyn Jervis and "Gib" Mitchener; Charlene Perry and George Ice; and Joan Fields and Bob Winans.

Flash!! Flash!! and Surprise! Our younger set surely does get around. Barb Cox has gone and got herself engaged to none other than Jim Keirstead. Best of luck to you, kids.

Suzy heard that Joanna Love and her fiance were in Chicago last week end. They attended some interesting places while they were there. Joanna has a rare collection of match covers which she will be glad to show you. Also a huge diamond ring.

It is rumored that O. H. Rigsbee has fallen hard for Betty Weaver's niece.

Ruth Brown and a "guy" by the name of "Manafield" or something like that have been seen together lately.

Jim Baker seems to enjoy sitting next to Doris Jessup on the bus every evening lately. How does Doris take it?

Suzy wonders who Jack Fox took to see "Gone With The Wind" Monday night?

Our one and only Henry Aldrich stepped out of character Monday night and took Mary Howell, another character in the senior play, home. But Suzy later found out that he went to see someone else afterwards.

One of our senior girls was with a graduate Monday night. We mean Bonnie Mount and Bob Gift.

Suzy thought Peter Velasquez wasn't serious about any girl until she found out that the lucky girl goes to St. Patrick's high school in Chicago. Aren't you too far away from home, Pete?

"Willie" Peterson and Shorty Weaver and Maxine Morrish and Bob Gossett were seen at the mid-night show in Marion Saturday night.

Helen Smith said she hopes Eric Harvey takes her to the senior play. What about it, Eric?

Sunday afternoon Wilma Hoppes and Jack Murphy and Mary Holloway and Bob Van Matre went to New Castle. They had a picnic supper at Bob's uncle's house. Loads of fun was reported.

Bob Corn, a graduate of 1940, was out to see Mildred Reynolds Tuesday night.

Couples seen sitting together in the library at noon were: Martha Leer and Bob Leach and Katy Turner and John Lambert. Suzy is beginning to wish Katy would make up her mind.

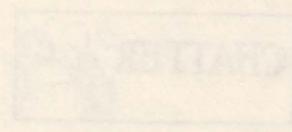

Beulah Ice seems to have fallen for sure this time. Anyway she is always tickled when she gets a card from California. She receives one quite often.

Suzy heard that Gene Owen and Wade Murray wanted to know the addresses of 2 girls who were visiting in Fowleron Tuesday night. Did you have any luck, boys? Suzy knows they live in Marion in case you still want to know.

Suzy wants more information about the owner of a wine-colored convertible couple which was seen at Ada Queary's house. All Suzy knows is that the driver is from Swayzee.

Well, this is all Suzy has to say except that she expects everyone to be dressed up for spring. Have a nice time and we'll be looking for you at the senior play.

SENIOR PROFILES

Mary Frances Linville was born on February 7, 1924. Her hobbies are sewing, music, and collecting photographs. Her best pal is Leona Doyle. Her birthday and Leona's birthday are on the same day, which doesn't happen to just everyone. She enjoyed the movie "Wuthering Heights" more than any other movie she has ever seen.

Millard Mays was born on January 21, 1921. He has a hobby which is quite interesting. He likes to go with girls and also to attend big league baseball games. His ambition is to become a millionaire and get married in 2 years. Millard was not born near here but in Bristol, Virginia. He has lived in many different states. He plans to go west for his health after graduation. Then he wants to get married.

Joan Virginia Meyer was born on March 26, 1923. We usually see Joan with Maxine Moon. The two started at the same time to school in the North Ward and have continued together for 12 years. Joan has an ambition to complete a college education, marry a young business man, and build a lovely home on a 45 acre estate near a large city. As a hobby she would like to raise thorough-bred saddle horses.

Jean Miller was born on March 1, 1923. She was born near Elwood. Her hobby is collecting what-nots. Among her best pals are Bob Hunt, Mary Linville, Janis Helms, and Ruth Brown. She enjoys driving a car and she says that a Ford is her pet hate. Her ambition is to sing with an orchestra.
