The group traveled overnight by bus, arriving in the big city the following morning. They performed at Lincoln Center, toured the three buildings devoted to the performing arts, visited the exterior of the NBC Studios and waved signs at the "Today Show's" cameras, and during a ferry ride past Ellis Island toured the Statue of Liberty. The group enjoyed the performances of "Swing" and one of the last performances of "Cats" which had been on Broadway for almost 18 years. Teens are employed in a variety of businesses which include fast food restaurants such as Taco Bell, McDonalds, Hardee's, Dairy Queen, and supermarkets, like Carters, Harvest Market, or Marsh.

The Panther band, directed by Paula Simmons and Brad Scott, assistant director, consists of 37 members and 6 guard members. Band members began preparation for the season by learning the fundamental marching steps and the drill for the opening song of the marching season program at band camp which was held at Taylor University in Upland, Indiana, on July 22-28. Band members competed in marching contests at the Ben Davis Invitational on September 9 and at Fort Wayne High School on September 23. The Heart of Hoosierland Classic, an annual event hosted by the Elwood band, included eight visiting, performing bands with Elwood performing in exhibition. District contest was held at Muncie High School on September 30 with Elwood earning a Division II ranking. Members of the pep band perform at all home football and basketball games and many times include half time performances. A special performance occurred at the Hoosier Dome on the evening of September 9 when the football team played Eastbrook in the RCA Dome Invitational. Band members also participated in the solo ensemble contest on February 3 and the concert contest on April 21.

Josh Mort,

Long Lasting Friendships

The experiences of good times and bad times lead to

High school is a time for friends and fun, and teens often find a deeper meaning to friendship during their high school experience. A friend is said to be the best remedy for pain and sadness. A friend who can make a person laugh is the best friend a person could have.

"What interested me about Tina is the fact that she is different and very opinionated."

Tiffany Blackford - Jessica Ward

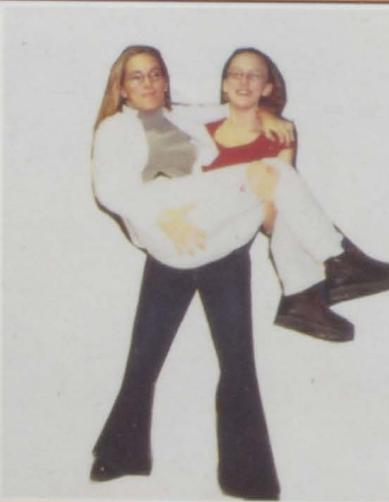

"I have known Tiffany since 8th grade, and we have been close ever since."

"I love working with students in a hands-on class and being able to view the creative results of the beginning journalists. Since we graduated six seniors from the 1999-2000 staff, we have a very young staff with only two seniors. A major difference in the format of the book is a seasonal look at the year rather than a divisional format of activities."

"I enjoy the opportunity to be the Megaphone sponsor for many reasons. The reason that stands out above the rest is the daily challenges. One challenge for me as well as the staff is learning a new computer program. We are striving to master the new software as well as working to put the Megaphone onto the Internet."

Covering and reporting all the activities that the students in our school are involved in is not an easy task, but many journalism students spend hours producing publications which record our history. The yearbook staff, sponsored by Mrs. Darren Paquin, consists of 14 students who produce a 200+ page publication. The newspaper staff, sponsored by Mrs. Andrea Canaday, consists of 17 students who produce nine issues per year. Both staffs incorporate assignments in ad design, photography, copy, headline, and caption writing, and the preparation of computer program pages. Producing quality publications takes the cooperation and hard work of many individuals.

Whether its participating in a lab, doing a class project, or just taking notes, students seem to keep busy in science classes. Our science department offers life science, physical science, biology, advanced biology, chemistry, advanced chemistry, and physics. Each science teacher conducts many labs per year to give students hands-on experience. Students also participate in various class projects such as wildflower, leaf, and insect, collections, mobiles, 3-D models, subdivisions, the measurement of the speed of sound, and hallway activities to measure momentum.

“What is your favorite activity to do in science class?”

Mr. Leonard Arbogast
Chemistry

The 2000 Panther football team finished with a perfect 9-0 regular season and went 4-1 in the post season. The team finished the season ranked #1 in the coaches poll and #2 in the AP poll. The Panthers broke school records in points in a single game (78), points in a season (524), passing yards (2039), touchdown passes (20), and most wins in a row (12). The team's only loss came on November 10 against the Roncali Rebels in the team's first regional since the 1987 state runner-up team. The Panthers led the CIC in points scored and points allowed. They also led the Metro area in total offense and defense. Seniors Jason Murray and Clint Williams both broke school records. Clint broke the single season passing mark by throwing over 1,800 yards and 20 TD's, and Jason Murray now holds the record for interceptions with 24. Starters Jason Murray, Brent Borders, Justin Frye, Greg Durm, Clint Williams, Jason Smith, Nathan Richwine, Matt Abel were selected All-Area offensive and defensive players of the year.

A Year of Rebuilding

Members of the volleyball team experienced a rebuilding season after losing nine seniors from last year's team. They won their first match against Lapel, and the season outlook was good for them. The win against Lapel was the first season opener victory that Coach Angie O'Donnell could remember. They also beat Tri-Central, Anderson, Frankton, Tipton, Sheridan, and for the first time in years, Blackford. They drew the bye for the sectional competition. They lost to Delta in the semifinals 1-15, and 2-15; however, they had one of their best games. Stacy Blair was selected to the All-county and All-Central Indiana teams. Jamie Coffman and Jamie Groover received honorable mention for the All-county team.

The Elwood Panther tennis team ended its season with a 16-3 record.

The Panthers were led by seniors Brent Walker, who led the team by his example and served as a positive role model; Bryan Green, who was very competitive; Jonathan Hartman, who displayed a hard working attitude; and Clint Whitson, who was a consistent team player. Other outstanding performances were by Brent Caldwell, who was very competitive, and Jordan Cannon, who is the newcomer on the team. Winning the CIC against Alex and winning the sectional against Anderson Highland were the most outstanding events of the season. Throughout the whole season the best part of the season was that no matter the outcome, team members always had fun.

Young Cross Country

Members of the girls and boys cross country teams had to deal with low numbers, youth, and injuries during the season. The two teams consisted of four freshmen, seven sophomores, three juniors, and two seniors. The boys had improved performances throughout the season. Lucas Moser consistently finished in the top ten in the large invitational meets, and Josh Faucett, despite having a late start in the season, had great potential of developing into a good runner with more devoted time. Jessica Parker, the girls team's number one runner, worked consistently and improved throughout the season. The strong point of this year's teams, according to Coach Henson, was "watching the young runners improve each meet." Injuries sustained by Lucas Moser, Ashley Moser, and Eli Henson hindered the team during the end of the season; however, the future of the cross country teams looks encouraging as attention is being concentrated on increasing numbers and depth.

Fears and Obsessions

"I am obsessed with Metallica. I have over 60 pictures of them, doubles of all their CDs, patches all over my backpack, stickers all over my car, and t-shirts for everyday of the week."

-Jer Gregg

"I used to like spiders, but a few years ago I discovered I was terrified of them. When I see a spider, I scream and cry until someone kills it."

-Crystal Goens

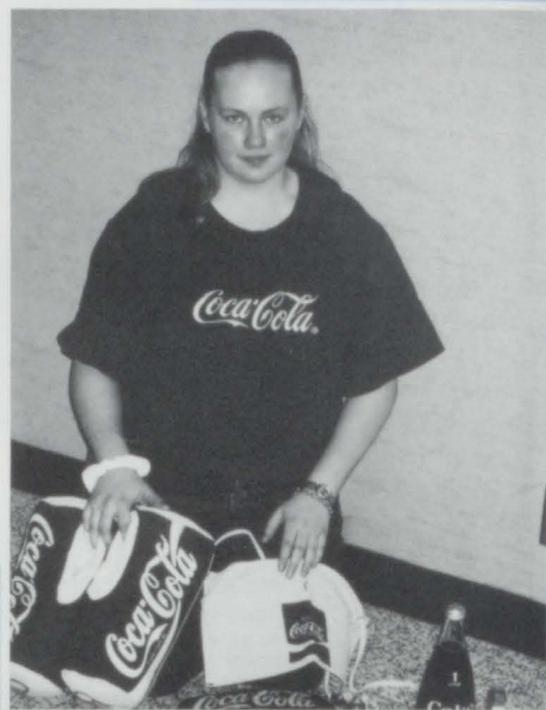

"I discovered my fear of heights when I almost fell out of a fair midway ride. I was so scared that I turned as white as a sheet."

-Natasha

Connors

"I discovered that I was claustrophobic when I went under my house to repair a vent cover and started to tremble and breath heavily."

-Derek Peck

Natalie Gillson has been obsessed with collecting Coca Cola products for 5 years and has collected over 1,000 Coca Cola products and bottles from Elwood to Germany, spending over $50 for one item. Photo by Brian Gillam

Katty Cheung has experienced arachnophobia, the fear of spiders, since she was a little child. To cope with her fear, Katty tries to never look at any spiders, and if she does see one, she runs! Photo by Mrs. Darren Paquin

Obsessed with the latest trend, Kasey Butler, Pat Finan, April Anderson, Chris Lambert, Dustin Morrison, Chelsey Foor, and Andy Boyland display their piercings and tattoos. Between the individuals in this group they have five tattoos and twenty-two piercings. Photo by Mrs. Darren Paquin

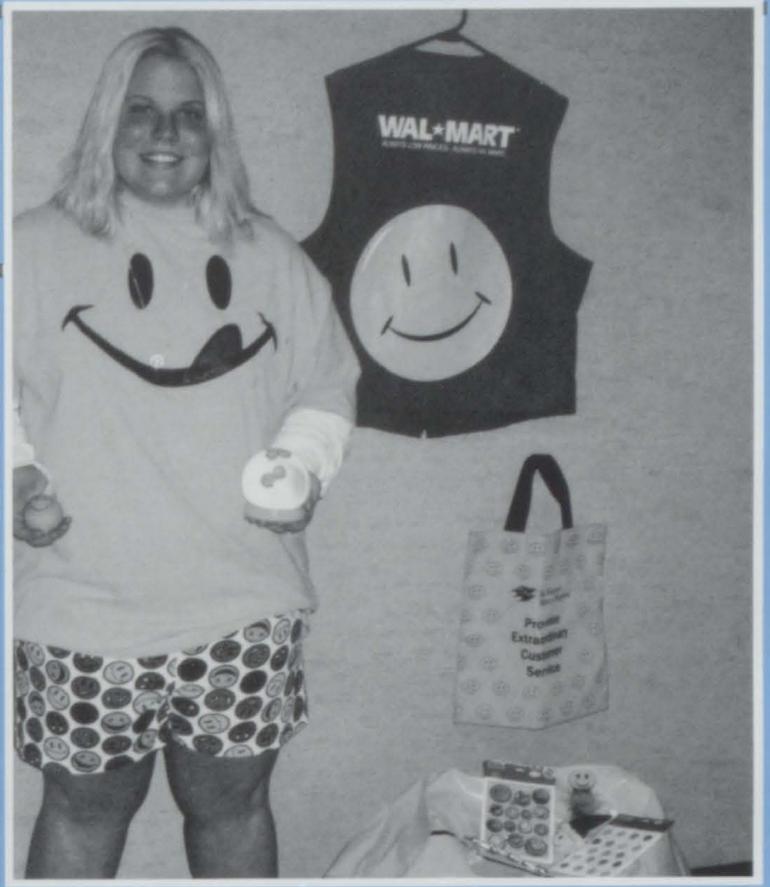

Angela Henderson developed a fear of clowns when she viewed the Stephen King movie "IT." She has gone to the extent of punching a clown in the face when she was 8 years old in response to her fear. She avoids carnivals or other activities which may involve clowns. Photo by Brian Gillam

Scott Reese has collected yo-yos for 9 years and has over 27 yo-yos. He has spent over $50.00 on one specific yo-yo and has won several recent yo-yo contests. Photo by Mrs. Darren Paquin

Senior Phoebe Alexander has been obsessed with collecting smiley faces for over a year, and whenever she sees a smiley face product, she has to have it. Her collection includes smiley face clothing, a Wal-Mart vest, a license plate on her truck, and other various items. Photo by Darren Paquin

Amanda Miller's obsession includes collecting PEZ dispensers with her cousin Kari since the age of 11. Together they have 250 dispensers, clothing items, flashlights, and key chains. Two special dispensers came from Germany and Costa Rica and have a value of $300 and $250 respectively. Photo by Brian Gillam

Matt Abel has been scared to death of elevators since he was in the 7th grade when he got stuck in an elevator in a Memphis, Tennessee hotel with his brother Ben, Tom Kessinger, and Greg Durm. The only way he will ride in an elevator is if he is helping an injured person. Photo by Brian Gillam

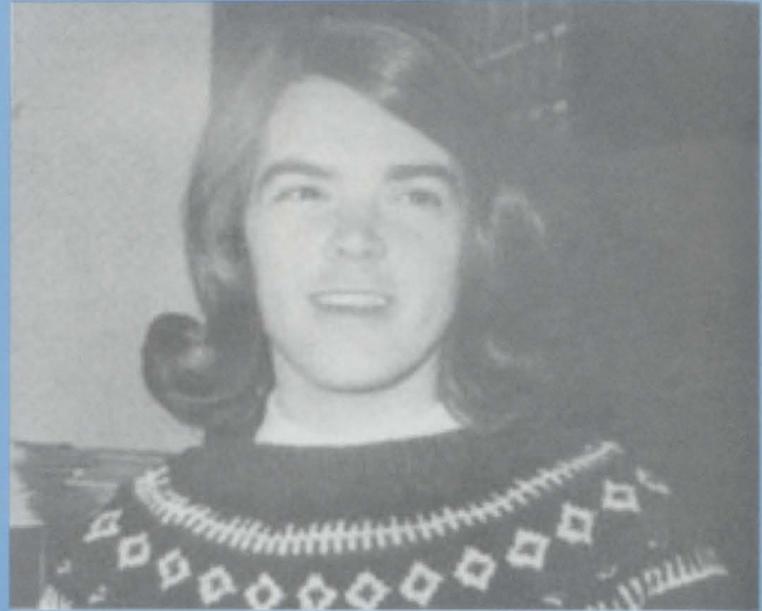

Mrs. Roberta Welker is retiring after 34 years of teaching at Elwood High School. She graduated from Thomas Carr Howe High School in 1963 and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in 1967 and a Master's degree in education in 1970, both from Ball State University. She chose teaching as a career because there were not many choices for women at that time, and she thought teaching was one option she would enjoy. Mrs. Welker has taught at the high school since 1967.

Mrs. Welker looks forward to spending time with her family after she retires. Her husband Paul is a physics teacher at Highland High School and is also retiring at the end of the school year. They have two children; their daughter Becky is a junior at Frankton High School who plans to attend college but is unsure about her future career. Mrs. Welker's son Patrick graduated from Frankton High School, and graduated from Purdue University. He now works in Muncie as a mechanical engineer. Mrs. Welker's family will enjoy having her home.

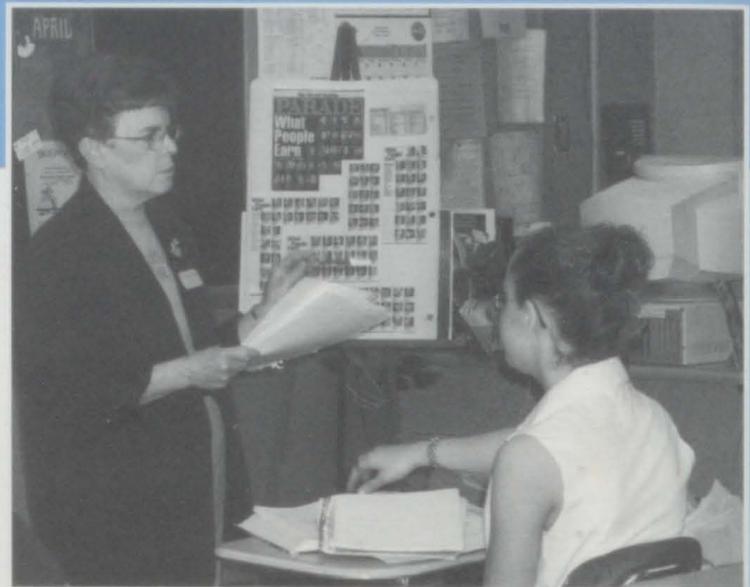

Mrs. Welker has many memories from Elwood High School. One of the worst memories is from her first year of teaching because she didn't have a classroom and had to travel between five classes. The only place she had to keep her equipment was the window ledge in the women's faculty restroom. She also hates when school is cancelled because of blizzards and ice storms because she has to push back her lessons. One of the best memories is also from her first year of teaching. She enjoyed teaching that graduating class more than any other because she remembers them like they were in school yesterday. Mrs. Welker's favorite course to teach is literature. She teaches that as a part of the freshman and sophomore English courses.

After her retirement Mrs. Welker plans to do many activities. She will enjoy time with her family, and she plans to travel after her daughter graduates from high school next year. Mrs. Welker has many hobbies she plans to pursue. She enjoys reading, working in her garden, and making crafts. After her retirement, she will enjoy a slower paced life. She will be missed by faculty and the student body.

Mrs. Welker is pictured here in the 1971 Crescent. This was her fourth year of teaching at Elwood, and she taught freshman and junior English. Mrs. Welker has taught at Elwood Community High School for 34 years.

Mrs. Roberta Welker checks to make sure that her students have completed the worksheet that she assigned over William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet during second semester.

These projects consisted of designing costumes, writing quotes from the play in calligraphy, designing book covers, or writing reports over William Shakespeare. Photo by Darren Paquin

Quotes

Do you like doing class projects in your classes?

"I feel that class projects are a good part of school. They help us get a hands-on experience and allow us to do something different."

-Jessica Burns

"I don't like to do class projects. I think they take too much time to do and some cost too much money."

-Jared Moore

"I only like some class projects. It usually depends on if I am allowed to choose the people I work with. I work well with my friends."

-Magen Idlewine

Students Express Creativity

The art department, led by Mrs. Laura Bubp and Mrs. Anna Nall, accomplished many challenging projects: 3-D projects, black and white photography, painting, drawing, and clay molds. Each of these projects took time, patience, and creativity. Mrs. Bubp and Mrs. Nall educated their students on the importance of neatness and craftsmanship when creating each project. They also participated in Project XL which was a state contest offered to the drawing and basic design students. Sophomores Ashley Moser advanced to the second round. The 3-D students displayed plaster sculptures in the cafeteria which portrayed "Life in Elwood." The art club, sponsored by Mrs. Bubp, enjoyed secret pal activities, pizza parties, sold doughnuts during first semester, and sponsored the Alley Cat Cafe.

This hat was designed by Mr. George Ray, a former teacher and scorekeeper of the boys basketball games in the early 1970's. The teachers had contests to see who could show the most spirit during sectional week. Mr. Ray plugged the electrical cord into the wall, and all of the lights lit up. The hat has had many owners since then including Mr. Jim Pearson, members of the athletic department, and the boys basketball team coaches. Kreig volunteered to wear the hat to support the boys sectional this year. Photo by Mrs. Darren Paquin

The 2000-01 activities were donating food to the George Morrisett Center during Thanksgiving, donating money to "Shop with a Cop" at Christmas, donating to the "Just for Joe" fund, working at the Oakland carnival, participating in the homecoming parade, sponsoring a Christmas party, visiting the Fort Wayne Mall, and assisting with Super Saturday classes. Officers this year were Sabrina Lewis, president; Kurt Loser, vice president; Chad Huffman, treasurer; and Amanda Miller, secretary.

Latin Students Carpe Diem

The 2000-2001 school year was an enjoyable learning experience for students enrolled in Latin as well as for those participating in the Latin club. Latin students not only studied the language; they also learned about the history of the Roman empire. In addition to learning about the culture of the ancient Romans, Latin students enjoyed a pizza day, a traditional Roman banquet, and chariot races. As the second largest Junior Classical League chapter in the state, Elwood set an example for other chapters by actively participating in projects within the school including the Fall Fantasy Dance, a weekly recycling program, and providing spirit for the sports teams by making posters. Outside of the school, the Latin club participated in certamen meets, conferences, the state convention, and the national convention. During the national convention held at the University of Oklahoma in August, Elwood received 8th place nationally for publicity.

John H. Hinds Career Center gives high school students the opportunity to learn by doing. Every vocational class in the career center involves hands-on work such as the construction of a house, repairing an engine, or baking a cake. The career center's philosophy maintains that "learning is a partnership of commitment between the community, school, students, and parents. The programs are designed to maximize each student's potential while providing a skilled work force for the community." John H. Hinds Career Center's teaching philosophy "encourages development of self-esteem through skill mastery. This development provides a successful school-to-work transition or the transition to postsecondary education." James Pearson, the career center director, commented, "All people in the community, not just students, learn better and retain what they learn longer through hands-on experiences."

Learning by Experience

Elwood high school offers a multitude of hands-on experience to students. To keep the attention of students during 80 minute class periods, teachers have chosen to add a variety of project work to their curriculum. A few of the many projects that took place this year included the construction of Roman houses, mosaic tile pictures, and beeswax tablets in Mrs. Diana Garner's Latin classes. In Mrs. Barbara Yate's biology classes students collected wild flowers, leaves, and insects and also dissected four different types of animals. Skits, presentations, posters, and class work were projects in Mr. David Hoffman's world history and U.S. history classes. After Mrs. Darren Paquin's freshman English classes read Romeo and Juliet and The Odyssey they did projects to review what they learned. Classroom projects help students get involved in hands-on learning.

Boys

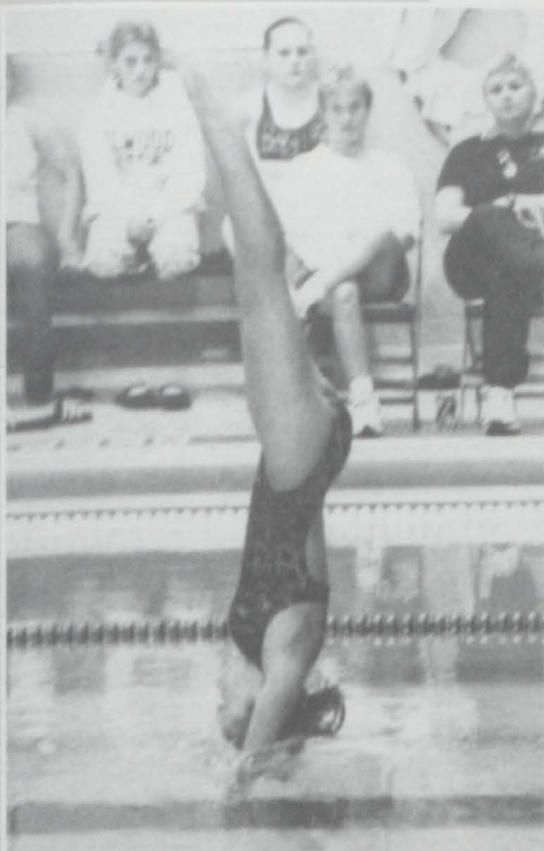

The girls and boys swim teams both had exceptional seasons despite a limited number of swimmers. The girls team ended the season with a record of 3-10 while the boys produced a 7-8 record. The highlight of the season took place during the sectionals, which were held at Hamilton Southeastern, when Lucas Moser, Cory Bohlander, Nick Turlik, and Michael Ischay broke the school record in the 400-yard freestyle relay by nearly two seconds with a time of 3:47.15. Lucas Moser also broke the records for the 200-yard and the 100-yard freestyle with respective times of 2:02.27 and 54.42, and Michael Ischay set a record time for the 100 backstroke, 1:02.40. Ashley Moser established a new 200-yard freestyle record with a time of 2:18.84 during the girls sectional. Michael Ischay, Lucas Moser, and Sarah Hartley also competed in the consolation round of the sectional meets.

For the cheerleading squads the year was filled with camps, competitions, car washes, and games. The year began with morning practice from 6:00 a.m.-8:00 a.m. to prepare for upcoming summer competitions. After three weeks of practice and weight training the squad attended UCA camp at Evansville University on June 27. During the summer the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders competed at the 4-H Fairs Fort Wayne, Clinton County, Madison County, and Marion County. On August 19 the varsity squad competed in the small varsity division and the junior varsity competed in the junior varsity division at the Indiana State Fair. Both varsity and junior varsity squads placed fourth at the fair. On August 4 the ECHS cheerleaders sponsored a youth clinic for boys and girls, age 6-14, to learn basic skills in cheering, dancing, and tumbling. With the help of sponsors Kay Marcuson, Alexa Harlow, and Dina Krug, the junior varsity and varsity cheerleaders supported athletics throughout the year.

Dedication Leads to Success

The boys basketball team ended the season with a 15-7 record. The team was the Central Conference Champ with an untarnished record of 7-0. The Panthers' explosive offense was led by senior guard Greg Durm with 18.6 points per game and forward Clint Williams at 14.3 points per game. On the defensive side of the ball Greg Durm, Jason Murray, and Jason Smith were all in double figures in steals on the season, 22, 32, and 15 respectively. Justin Frye and Clint Williams dominated the offensive and defensive rebounds. The Panthers averaged 65.7 points per game and only allowed 59.5 points to their competitors. Coach Dave Henson commented, "The team's success was due to our great senior leadership and unselfishness on the court." Earning first team All-Conference were seniors Clint Williams and Greg Durm. Junior Justin Frye received Honorable Mention All-Conference.

A Year For Rebuilding

The 2000-2001 Lady Panthers were 5-17 for the year; the fact that they were a young team and down in numbers contributed to that record. The girls entered the preseason in excellent shape and displayed very good attitudes and hard work ethics, starting the season strong by winning three of their first four games, but the girls struggled towards the end of the season with a 15 game losing streak. The "no senior" team was led by the captains Lyndsy Whetsel and Jaime Coffman, the only varsity players with varsity experience. The highlight of the year was winning the first sectional game against Muncie South, 51-36. Coach Taylor commented, "I really enjoyed coaching this group. In their eyes they might not have thought this was a successful season, but indeed it was very successful. We laid ground work for next season. They hung tough through the hard times and showed a tremendous amount of class and sportsmanship."

Conquering Rome in Competition

The theme for the 2001 Ameritech Academic Superbowl competition was "The Grandeur That Was Rome." The theme provided a connecting focus for the six subject rounds: English, science, fine arts, mathematics, social studies, and interdisciplinary. The English teams covered literature written between 148 BC and 225 AD as well as Latin etymology. The science team studied areas that experienced interest during the era: anatomy, metallurgy, simple machines, star chart navigation, and volcanology. The art team observed the visual and performing arts of the period with emphasis on sculpture and architecture. The social studies team examined the rise of the Roman Empire as well as its decline, and the math team concentrated on calculus and geometry themes, paying special attention to the influential mathematicians of the period. The social studies, English, and interdisciplinary squads advanced to the state finals which was held on May 5th at Pike High School in Indianapolis. The social studies and interdisciplinary teams both placed fifth, and the English team placed seventh. The teams celebrated with a dinner at Pastariffic, an Italian restaurant in Kokomo.

Members of the Crimson suite, concert choir, and show choir worked hard to delight audiences throughout the school year. Crimson Suite members performed at the Elwood Optimist Club Christmas party which was held on December 2, 2000. All members performed at the Madison County Choral Festival, which was hosted by Elwood High School on March 15 and was attended by 480 students from Alexandria, Elwood, Madison Grant, Lapel, Highland, and Frankton high schools. Practice began at 12:00 p.m. with the performance beginning at 7:30 p.m. LaMonte Clusky from Carmel High School was the guest conductor. Miss Simmons and Kurt Loser attended the 2001 IMEA (Indiana Music Educator's Convention) held in Indianapolis, Indiana, where Kurt sang in the All State Men's chorus, and Miss Simmons received the IMEA Distinguished Service Award. Many performers advanced to the state competition at Lawrence Central High School. Shannon Short and Kurt Loser advanced in the vocal soloist category, and advancing in the mixed sextet were Brandie Blunck, Shannon Short, Sabrina Lewis, Amber Satterfield, Corby York, and Kurt Loser. Members of the Crimson Suite, concert choir, and show choir have worked hard to host the annual recital night in the auditorium on Monday, February 15 which included high school and middle school students performances as well as the performances of the directors Miss Simmons, Miss Harlan, and Mr. Scott.

"The seniors are a delightful group. They are very bright and have been wonderful to work with. Many have shown true compassion for others who are less fortunate. One of the best memories I will have from this year is the Christmas Party at Greg Durm's House. It was fun to watch them interact with one another, and it allowed me to see a different side of the students that I don't see in the classroom."

Twenty-one provisional members were "tapped" on March 20, and thirty senior members were inducted into the National Honor Society at a banquet and ceremony sponsored by the Lions Club. To be inducted in National Honor Society students have to meet many requirements. A student must have earned a 3.5 or higher grade point average, be involved in the community, display good character, participate in extracurricular activities, and possess leadership skills. National Honor Society members participated in a car wash, sold raffle tickets for various items during the Glass Festival, and enjoyed a Christmas party in December. They also prepared survival kits for Teacher Appreciation Day, filled baskets for the needy during the Thanksgiving season, worked at the George Morrisett Center, and helped students at Edgewood and Oakland Elementary Schools through their "Adopt a Classroom" project.

MOONLIGHT

and Roses 2001

The theme of the prom was "Moonlight and Roses." The formal event was held at The Garrison at Fort Benjamin in Indianapolis, Indiana, on April 28 from 8:00p.m. to 11:00p.m. Music was provided by Heartbreakers DJ Inc. The menu consisted of shrimp, cheesesticks, cheese and crackers, cocktail hot dogs, meatballs, and vegetables and dip. Indiana School Pictures provided a formal photo session. Two special additions to the evening were the garter ceremony and the crowning of the king and queen. The night would not have been possible without the help of sponsor Vicki Blair and the junior prom committee.

LADY PANTHERS

Serving up a Victory

The girls tennis team ended its season with a record of 5-9.

The senior leadership presented by Amber Satterfield, Ashley Beeman, and Sabrina Lewis was an excellent example both off the court academically and on the court with their methodical approach to the game. The most outstanding event of the season was placing third in the CIC. The strengths of this team were the ability to beat all the teams in the conference that were at Elwood's level, and the success of this team came from the time devoted to hitting balls during the summer and winning the close matches. Coach Hoppel stated, "I was happy with the conference play, but I always expect more." The teams's biggest weakness was not being able to "put people away," according to Coach Max Hoppel. Even though there were many times that the girls were ahead 5-4 in a set, they still lost. The future success of this team depends on how much time is dedicated to summer practice.

The 2001 golf team wrapped up the season with a record of 39-20. Senior leaders Nathan Badger, Jonathan Hartman, and David Savage led the team with averages of 42.875, 54, and 45 respectively. Coach Phil Huffman commented that Jonathan Hartman was the silent leader who worked hard and improved during this season. Coach Huffman stated, "The most outstanding event of the season was placing second in the conference meet." Senior leadership will be expected next year from juniors Tyler Nichols and Adam Cosby. Junior Tyler Nichols ranked first among the Elwood golfers with a season average of 38 and was the only player who made the All County team as a junior. The team placed 8th at the sectional held at Harbor Trees Golf Course in Noblesville.

The boys' track team ended the season with a 4-6 record. Personal bests were set at the CIC by Justin Frye, shot put, 46' 6.5"; Jake Turner, discus, 127' 7"; Jason Murray, pole vault, 12' 3"; Josh Parker, 400-meter dash, 54.06; and Jay White, 1600-meter run, 4:58. The 4x800 relay team of Josh Parker, Lucas Moser, Josh Pavese, and Jay White set a school record of 9:17. "The team's success at the CIC made the hard work worthwhile," said Coach Leonard Arbogast. The Panthers advanced to the regional competition in four events: Brad Stewart, 300-meter hurdles; Jason Smith, 200-meter dash; Jason Smith, long jump; and the 4x100 relay, Jason Smith, Justin Frye, Brad Stewart, and Jason Murray. Much of the success of the season was contributed to senior leadership, particularly Jason Smith who led the team in scoring, and "the boys' hard work, dedication, and the mentality of knowing that success was possible," according to Coach Arbogast.

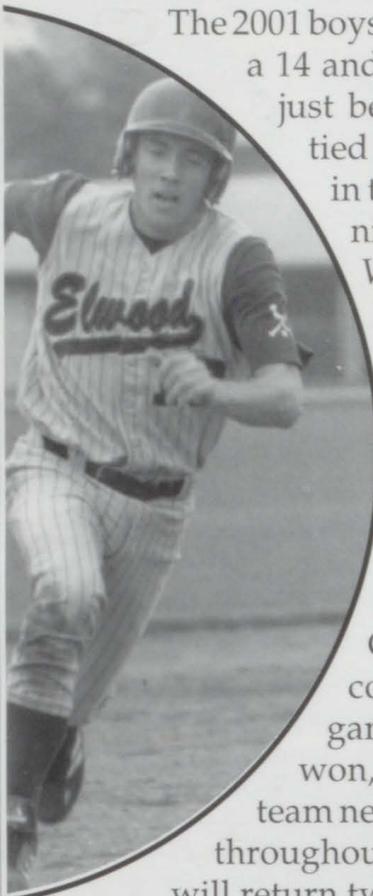

The girls track team had one of their most successful seasons, despite their record of 3-7 and numerous injuries. Five members qualified for the regional competition which was held at Lawrence Central High School on May 22nd: Whitney Whetsel in the 200 meter dash, Casey Scott in the 300 meter hurdles, and the 4x100 meter relay consisting of Lindsay Cole, Laura Rebuck, Stacy Blair, and Whitney Whetsel. The future looks promising for the Lady Panthers next year as only three members will be graduating. Seniors Lindsay Cole, Laura Rebuck, and Casey Scott helped to bring the team together with leadership and positive attitudes throughout the season.

VETERAN Hitters

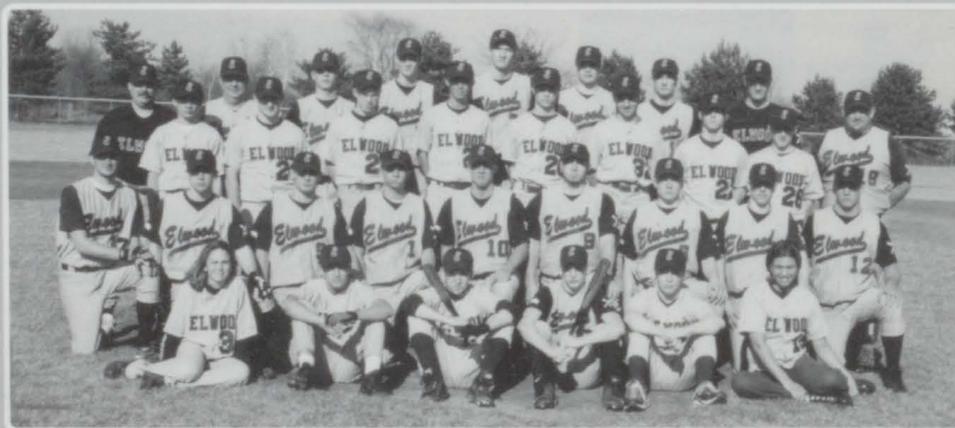

The 2001 boys varsity baseball team finished with a 14 and 10 record. The Panthers finished just behind the Eastbrook Panthers and tied for second with the Frankton Eagles in the Central Indiana Conference. Seniors John Gregg, Kreig Kaiser, Clint Williams, Matt Abel, Elijah Ramey, Mike Coflin, Patrick Cooper, Clint Whitson, Shane Kelly, and Greg Durm exhibited great leadership and a good work ethic. Throughout the season the team's weaknesses were fielding the ball error free and a solid pitching staff performing well day in and day out. Coach Greg Granger commented, "Despite losing some games that we probably should have won, the seniors along with the rest of the team never gave up and showed enthusiasm throughout the season. Next season's team will return two seniors.

A SEASON OF STRUGGLES

The 2000-2001 season was a rebuilding year for Elwood's softball team. With a record of 4-17, returning coach, Mitch Kirkwood, stated, "We are a young team and our inexperience played a large part in our inability to win." Seniors Kim Everling and Jessica Johnson contributed great leadership to the team. The highlight of the season, according to Coach Kirkwood, was the 12 inning game against Northwestern pitched by veteran Kim Everling. Kim scattered eight hits and walked only one batter while pitching a complete game, only to lose 2-0. The close games against Blackford, 5-4; Madison-Grant, 5-4; Tipton, 6-4; and Anderson, 5-4 were the strong points of the season. Coach Kirkwood stated, "We played very good softball against good teams, committing few errors, getting timely hits, and scoring runs. The main weakness of the team was the inability to get timely hits and too many errors which resulted in lack of run production." Eight returning lettermen and several promising junior varsity players returning next season will contribute to a promising season.

My Life

*My life is like a never ending battle,
Or like you are going up a river with no paddle,
Whenever you start feeling down,
You should never look to the ground,
Whenever you think it's going bad for you,
You should always take another view.*

Kyle Rodriquez-1997
