Lunch time is one of the funniest times of the day. Robyn Gilliam, Tiffany Foster, and Holly Webb sit down and can't wait to start eating.

Jenny Bales and Christy McDonald flash their smiles while working the coat check. The coat check is a fund raiser for the National Honor Society.

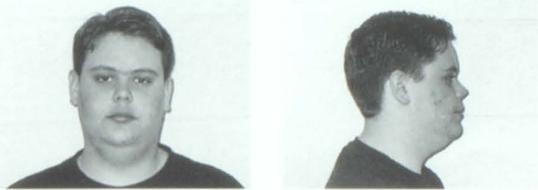

Wes Johnson

How did you break the limits this year and in what way did you break them?

"Nate shot the sheriff and I shot the deputy."

the Limits

Nick Chandler

How did you break the limits this year and in what way did you break them?

“Spent the year practicing delinquent activities.”

Shawn Ice leaps to help form the letter E. Shawn suffered many injuries due to the pep session.

How did you break the limits this year and in what way did you break them?

Nate Benefiel

“I fought the law and the law won.”

Aaron Davenport is caught sleeping on the job in Mrs. Clark's class. In the meantime, Whitney Mahoney is so proud of her shoe she just has to show it off!!!

Jesse Linville

What will you remember most about Frankton?

“Coming to school early for basketball practice and finding a dead body on the door steps.”

A win for the Juniors. They stomped the Seniors in the annual Powder Puff game.

Musical Chairs. It looks like Brenda Bowmer was the one to get stuck in shaving cream this year.

On your mark, Get set, Go! Katy Harrison tries to catch her balance as she gets ready to participate in the dizzy-run.

Homecoming

Homecoming week began with the naming of the Homecoming court. Members of the Homecoming court included Holly Bott, Kari Brummett, Heather Funk, Kelin Flanders, James Clark, A.J. Jones, Bracken Smith and Brandon Smith.

King and Queen Doug Westlund and Vanessa Coffey were named at the Saturday night Coronation Dance.

The dress up days for this spirit filled week were: college days, crazy hair days, twin day, rainbow day, and the annual red and white day on Friday.

Friday, the homecoming games began. The Seniors won overall in their categories. Some of the games included tug-o-war, an obstacle course, and the new pie eating contest for the teachers. Mr. Gordy chowed down and claimed victory of the contest.

The Homecoming parade was later Friday evening. The parade included class floats, past homecoming royalty, the present homecoming court, the cheerleaders, and other FJSHS clubs. The Senior class won the float contest. Homecoming was a blast for many of the students and faculty!

Vanessa Coffey and Doug Westlund were crowned Homecoming King and Queen earlier in the week at the Coronation dance.

Doug Westlund sets out for a punt. Frankton claimed victory at Homecoming with a score of 53-6 against the Wes-Del Warriors.

Homecoming candidates Holly Bott and Branden Smith wave to watchers as they ride through the Homecoming Parade.

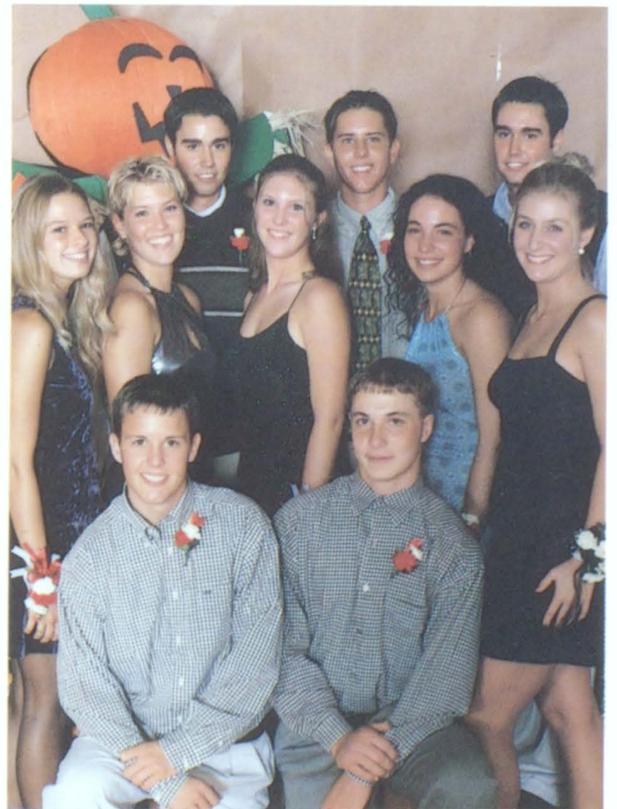

Heather Funk and Zach Hinkle are having a blast dancing to the cool tunes at the Coronation Dance.

Kristi Smith
Class of 1998

What are the things you enjoyed most about the Coronation Dance?

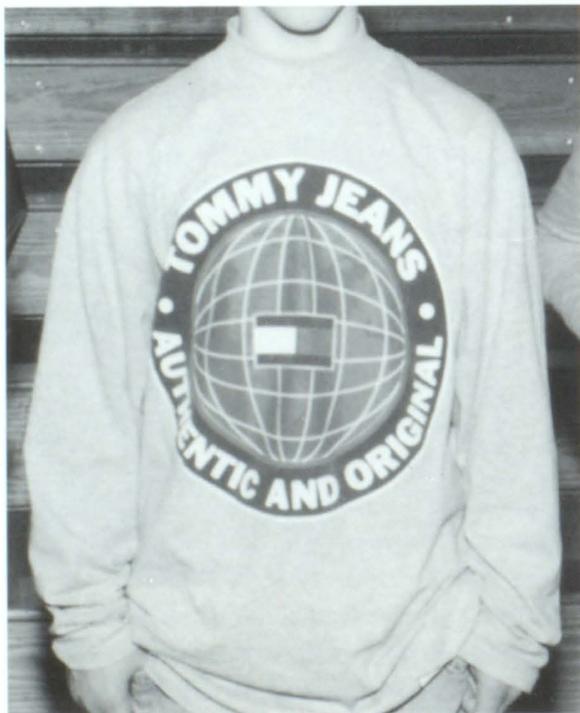

“I really enjoyed the music at the dance. It really got me into the groove. It was a blast!”

This year, FJSHS introduced Eagle I.D. Cards. According to Mr. Sipe, yearbook adviser, the cards were included in the new contract signed with Prestige Portraits. We now also received our underclass photos on CD Rom.

The I.D. cards included your picture, library scan bar, and actual I.D. number. The cards were used for identification at dances and replaced our old school library cards.

If you lost your card, there was a five dollar charge for a new one. If you lost it twice, you were charged 10 dollars. For third time card losers, (there were none at press time) a fee of fifteen dollars was charged and an application for a new card must be signed by Mr. Warner, principal.

Coming to America

Nineteen ninety eight was a very exciting year for Manuel Hernandez. He was the exchange student at Frankton Jr./Sr. High school this year. He arrived here on August twentieth. He stayed with the Copeland family, which he enjoyed a lot.

Life is definitely different here for Manuel. He is from Spain. He lives in Barcelona and in Menorca. He says the states are very different. For one he says the education is much easier here. Another difference is the food.

Manuel says he will miss all of the friends that he has made since he has been here a lot. He will be very sad when he has to return home.

We have all enjoyed getting to know Manuel. We wish him the best in the future.

Manuel sits in his swimming pool. Menorca is where he lives in the summer.

Manuel's family and friends at the sea. They are eating a big paella, which is also known as a Spanish rice.

Barcelona is where Manuel lives in the winter. It is on the outside of the city.

Manuel's sister Gabriela, and her friend are enjoying the sun while boating on the Mediterranean.

Nikki Craig and Sarah Best are living it up in North Carolina. They stayed at Carolina Beach.

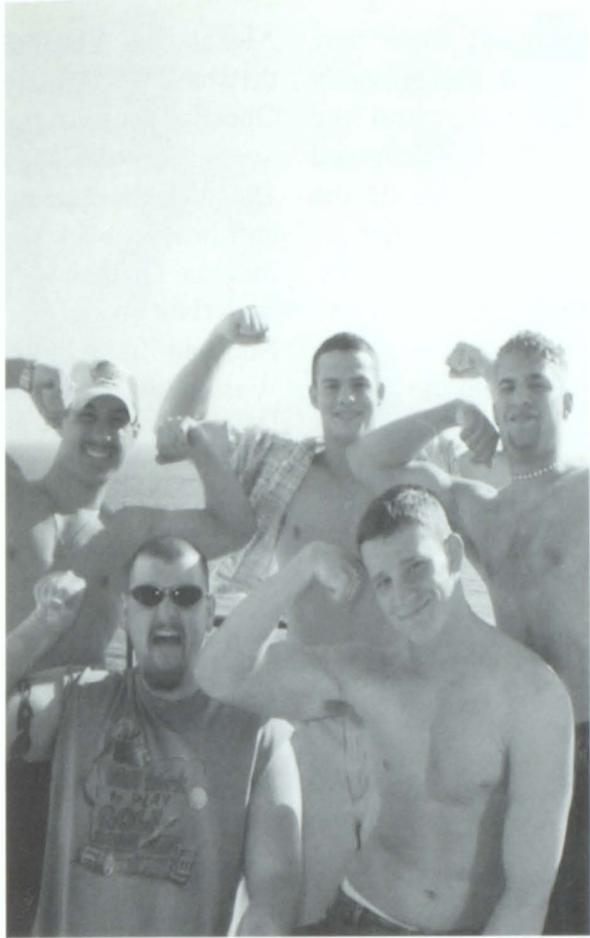

Spring Break 1998

Misty Huffman, Carrie Triplett, Katie Chandler, and Leah DeLong say you can still have fun even if you stay in Madison county over Spring Break.

Buff stuff! These guys show off their major muscles on the balcony of their Florida retreat.

Four Day 8th Grade Washington D.C. Trip A Success

The 8th grade left for their long-awaited trip May 12th at 9:00 p.m. and they came back on May 16th at 12:00 a.m.

Before they arrived in Washington D.C. they went to Gettysburg first instead of last like in the past years. They arrived at Chevy Chase, Maryland on May 13th around 3:00 p.m. where they checked into the National 4-H center. Wednesday they visited Capital Hill and they took a night view of Washington. Thursday they stopped at the White House for a class photo.

They also visited Ford's Theater, the Peterson House, the Holocaust Museum, National Air & Space Museum, Museum of Natural History, and the Museum of American History.

They also went to see the play "Oliver" at Toby's Dinner Theater. Friday, May 15th they went to Arlington Cemetery where they visited the Kennedy Gravesites and the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Two students, Joanna Lambooy and Ashley Hymes, put a wreath on the tombs. They then went to the Iwo Jima memorial and Mount Vernon. At Alexandria, Virginia they took the "Mostly Ghostly" tour.

Saturday, May 16th they checked out and headed back for Indiana. On their way back they visited The National Zoo and the Washington National Cathedral.

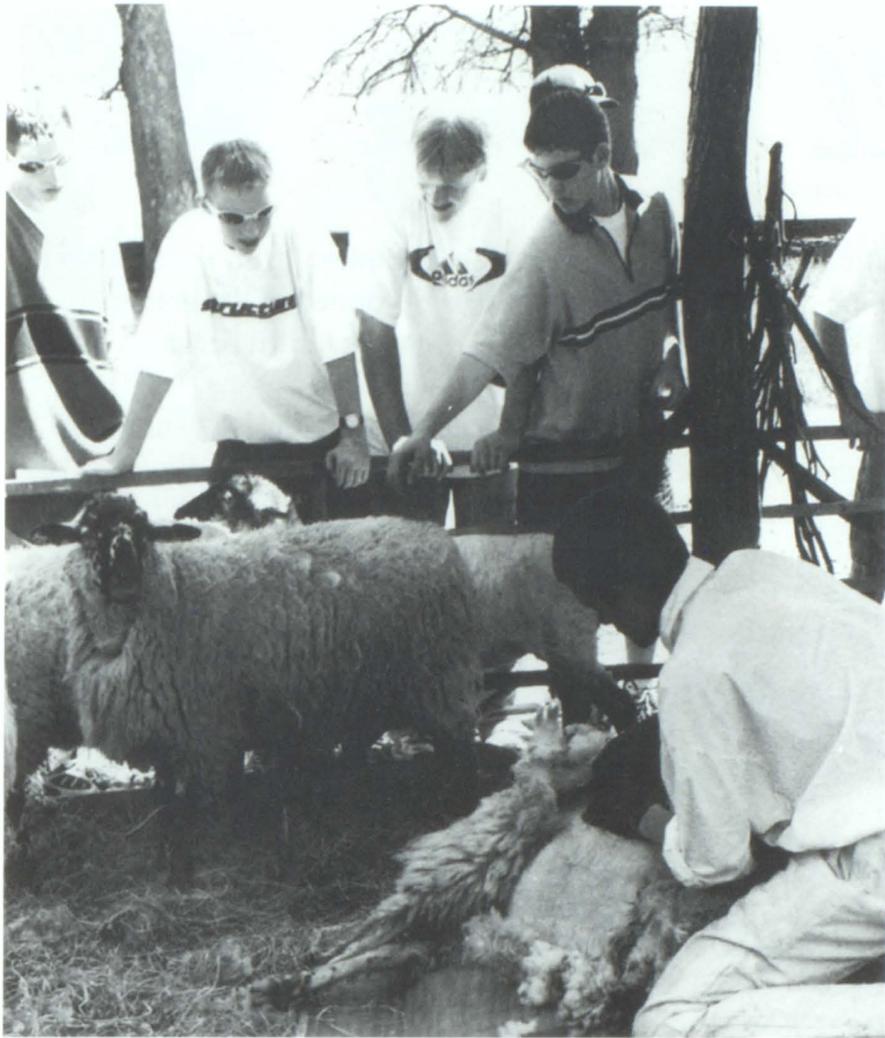

(Left) This tour guide explains what the students will be seeing.

When I Fall In Love

May 1, 1998 was an eventful and exciting night for many students at Frankton Jr./Sr. High School. For the first time, prom was held at the Paramount Theatre ballroom. It was decorated in the colors of peach, green, white, and yellow. The setting for the pictures were in front of the beautiful fire place on the second floor of the historic theatre.

Mindy Alexander and Solomon Dietzer were named the King and Queen of Prom '98. The other candidates for Prom Queen were: Allison Guthrie, Holli Mehling, Jenni Harrison, and Sally Wood. The other candidates for Prom King were Nate Cress, Neal Coffey, Pete Hobbs, and Jeff Wright. The newly crowned king and queen danced to "When I Fall In Love", which was also the theme of Prom.

When I Fall In Love was the theme for Prom. This lets everyone know of a wonderful night Frankton would be having at the Paramount.

Hurry, get out of my way! A.J. Jones needs a drink of water.

Jill Frantz is looking into the eyes of Daniel Humes as they dance to the theme song, "When I Fall In Love".

Come on baby, let's twist and shout. Brian Culbertson and Misty Huffman are really a hit on the dance floor.

Andrew Hubble and his date are relieved that he has the tickets.. For a minute they thought they were at home.

Post Prom '98

Just Clowning Around

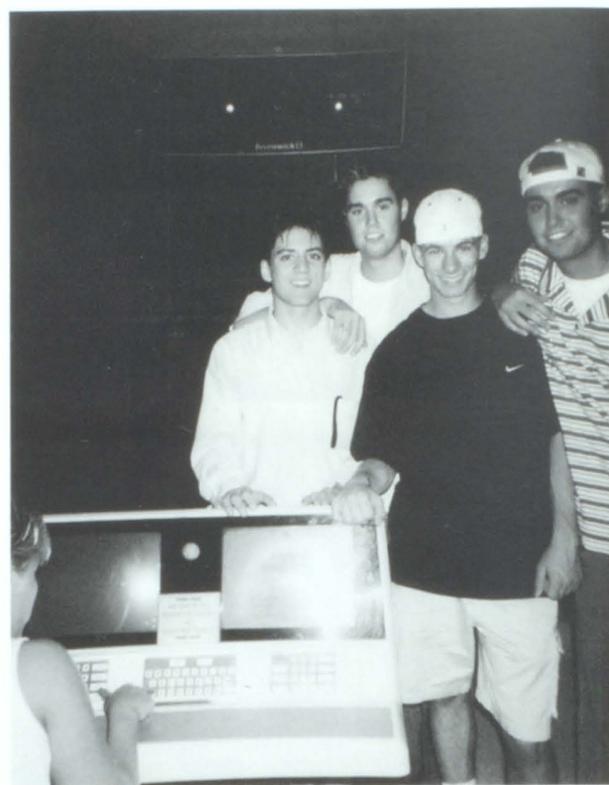

The 1998 Post Prom was May 2 from 1:00-4:00 a.m. This year Post Prom was unique because it was held at Cooper's Bowling Alley in Anderson.

The students had until 1:30 a.m. to arrive at Cooper's. Once the students were at Post Prom they had many activities offered.

There was a snack bar with donuts, nachos, drinks, and candy. The students also had the opportunity to bowl, participate in the bungee run, sumo wrestle or moon walk with other students, and play video games.

Parents also took pictures of couples and friends at Post Prom and delivered them the following Monday to the students.

Kari Brummett, Vanessa Coffey, Heather Funk, Jenni Purcell, and Mandie Quimby "clown around" at Post Prom.

Neal Coffey and Nate Cress feel macho in their sumo suits.

Nate Cress and Kari Brummett show what a fun time they are having at Post Prom '98.

Lolo Hernandez and D.J. Smith might be little hot in these sumo suits but, they sure are mighty.

Who is that gunman? Oh, that's just Nate Cress who evidently doesn't know the correct way to play a video game.

Variety Show Becomes "Pop's Concert"

The 1998 Variety Show had a twist to it this year. It had a new name "The Pop's Concert". It was very unique. Instead of just paying for your ticket and going to sit on the bleachers you had a choice to sit down at 48 different tables. During intermission the high school choir students went to their assigned table and took orders. All who attended had a choice between nachos, breadsticks, brownies, and sodas at one dollar each.

There was a variety of different acts. A freshman group called the "Madhatters" played Wipe Out. Solos were done by Bethany Rhodes, Eric Bailey, and Kandis Beardsley. All choirs also performed. The show stoppers made the pops concert a hit with the final performance. They danced to "Mission Impossible."

Kandis Beardsley looks professional as she sings her solo.

Graduation is a time to say goodbye to people who you might never see again, but others will remain life-long friends and others will attend college together. Many of the Seniors were glad to leave Frankton High School while others were scared to finally have to enter "The Real World." There were many emotions at graduation: some cried while others did nothing but smile.

The ceremony started with the National Anthem and Processional played by the high school band. Jenny Bales, the 4th ranked Senior, welcomed everyone to graduation and also said a prayer. Next was Katy Harrsion, the Senior class President, she introduced faculty and staff of Frankton High School. Kristina Odle, salutatorian, gave her speech and she was followed by Mike Harris, the other salutatorian. Christy McDonald, class valedictorian, gave her class inspiration with her speech. Jenni Purcell, 5th ranked Senior, finished the speeches in a unique way. She read "Oh the Places You'll Go" by Dr. Seuss. The ceremony ended with the class of '98 throwing their caps to show the relief that they felt of accomplishing one of the biggest goals of their life.

Seniors At Last

Class of 1998

It took 13 long years, but we are finally SENIORS. Everyone remembers how they wanted so much to just be a senior, and now it is here. As the class of 1998 we have many unique characteristics. True, according to most of the seniors, we lack a sense of unity in our class. This is for the simple fact that we are all very different. We are all independent and we like to do our own thing, but pulls together quite nicely. We the most part we are all friends. has and no other class has ever the Suicide Prevention Task niors, Levi Alexander, Dustin

As we get older we will school; going to basketball and our freshmen and sophomore screeching halt our Jr. year be- and we can't forget about all the out with our friends. We have years. We came into high school leaving as young adults. We need we had here at Frankton, because will be totally different.

Juniors Move Prom to Paramount

The Juniors' year started off busy and they opted not to build a float for the Homecoming parade.

They began Powder Puff practice early and it paid off in the end. This year's coaches were Nate Cress, Neal Coffey, Pete Hobbs, Jeff Wright and Matt Yates. The Juniors won Powder Puff with only one touch down by Angie Goodpaster.

The Class of '99 also started working on Prom early in the year. The theme of Prom was "When I Fall In Love," which is also the song for Prom.

This was the first year for Prom to be held at the Paramount Theatre in Anderson. The Juniors did not have to raise as much money to rent the theatre out. This is because only so much decorating is permitted. After Prom, students went to Cooper's Bowling Alley for Post Prom.

Angie Goodpaster runs from defenders in the Powder Puff game. She was the only girl to score from the Junior and Senior teams.

Sophomores build float, party, make plans for Prom

The Sophomores started out the year excited about burning the Warriors. Their homecoming float's theme was "Roast the Warriors." It consisted of Sophomores roasting a warrior mannequin over a campfire in the middle of their float. The class received second behind the Seniors in the class float competition.

The Sophomores then had a class party at the YMCA. They played ping pong, foosball, and raquetball. They also swam in the pool

The class then planned to have a car wash to help out with later expenses of their class, such as Prom and graduation. By the end of the year the Sophomores had paid to reserve the Paramount for their Prom. They are looking forward to working on Prom next year.

Following the Class of 2000

The Freshmen class has always been a very activity oriented group. For the first time in recent years, the Freshmen class is planning a class trip. They are making plans to go to Chicago in the 98-99 school year. Plans are in progress for the students to attend many of the great sites of Chicago. Other than making plans for the class trip, the Freshmen class has already started to discuss different possibilities for Prom.

Besides the usual construction of the class float for the Homecoming parade, the Freshmen also held an end of the year party. The Freshmen and sponsors organized the party to where it would be held at the skating rink. Instead of the usual "skating party", the Freshmen had a half skate, half dance party. The Freshmen class is very well organized, they set a good example for the future underclass men.

8th Grade Makes Good Memories, More To Come

As the eighth grade class prepares to leave junior high they also leave behind many memories. The 1997-98 school year was very eventful to say the least.

There was the long awaited trip to Washington D.C. which was filled with memories that they will take with them for the rest of their lives.

The class also went on several other field trips. One trip in particular was to King's Island for students who made A's and B's all year in math and science. They also went to the Cinedome three times to learn about different biomes.

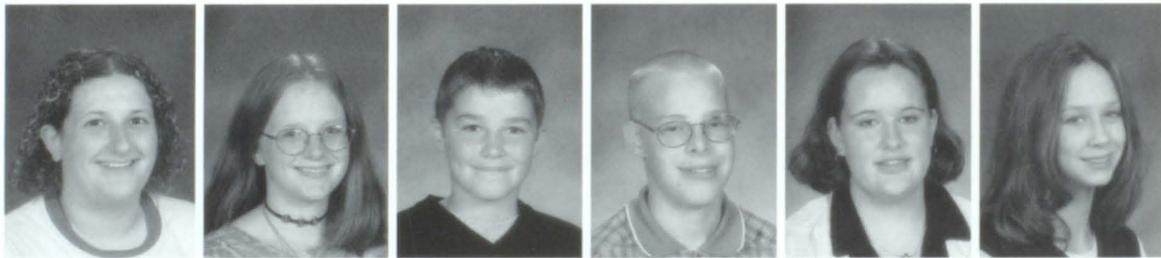

The class of 2002 participated in the Civil War Fair, something completely new to the junior high. They were able to see reenactors in full dress for the Civil War time period duplicate battles and they were able to get a very unique perspective on a page of history.

The class of 2002 will be moving on to high school next year and they will carry their junior high memories with them for the rest of their lives.

Largest Class To Go Through FHS

The one hundred thirty students that make up the seventh grade class made their mark in 1998. Not only is this the largest class to ever go through Frankton, but they also had to adjust to many different changes as they started junior high. 1998 was the first year that block scheduling was implemented in the junior high, quite a change for the students from elementary school.

Not only did the class have to adjust to a new schedule, but they had to accomplish many different fund raisers to earn money for the long awaited eighth grade trip to Washington D.C. Through market day and the town renowned "Dan's Fish Fry" they learned to work for what they really wanted. Dan's Fish Fry was an amazing success raising over $2,000 to add to their savings.

Perhaps the most remembered thing that the class of 2002 has accomplished is the donation of $156 for the purchase of a bench for the Vicky Jones Memorial. This will leave a lasting memory of their passage and help keep the memory of Mrs. Jones alive for many years to come.

Regardless of what happens today, the class of 2002 has many more days of high school to look forward to which will provide many more memories.

Teaching for the Future

Over the years, Frankton High School has had its share of teachers and staff members that have left his or her mark. Not only do we have great teachers, but a great support staff as well. This year Ned Speicher was named the new superintendent of Frankton Lapel Community Schools. Through his work with the school board many improvements were made, including the plans for the new elementary school. The dedication and hard work from the bus drivers can be counted on every school day. They are responsible for the safety and transportation of many students. Our cafeteria workers can also be counted on each and every day for a great lunch.

Teachers and staff members at Frankton have a lot of pride to carry on and a main job to follow. They are committed in giving the students the best quality of education provided, through using technology and the hands on approach. Many students are proud to say that they were educated at Frankton.

attending a small school The faculty have been well acquainted and have shared ideas. The "small school" label is well-represented. The school is family oriented and has many great benefits. There are less social issues in the staff and faculty. There is also more devotion in giving the student the deserved attention. Frankton is symbolized with good attendance and a great educational format.

Mr. Boles would rather keep his identity unknown.

Staff is Dedicated to the Task

Mr. Warner demonstrates "The Charleston" in Miss Sullivan's English 10 class. The class was studying the novel "The Great Gatsby"

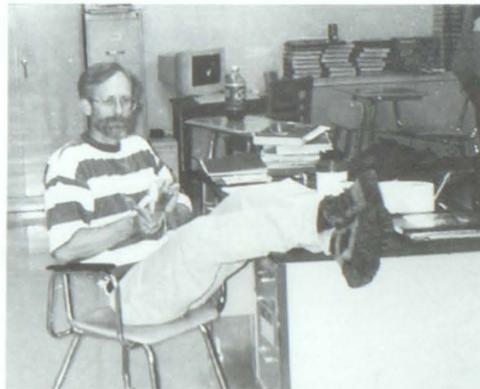

It is amazing how each day a teacher can come in to school and have the same attitude and motivation as if they just graduated to get their teaching degree.

It doesn't seem like the same routine get old for them. Now with block scheduling they may teach the same lesson two days in a row.

Students may wonder what the teachers really do on in-service days. We may go to Taco Bell and get a bite to eat. But the teachers go back to school. It is like an instruction day for the faculty. New programs are introduced and they review different ways of dealing with block scheduling

One teacher or administrator doesn't make all the decisions, but in fact the whole faculty are met with challenges of making the educational experience a relevant one.

This laid-back mathematician is the famous Mr. Householder.

Mr. Warner's 50th birthday offered a chance for this unique gift. Good's Donut's owners Gari and Desi Busby presented Mr. Warner with the custom pastry.

Not one to lag in the background when there is work to be done, Mr. Gordy dives into the pie eating contest at Homecoming games.

The New Faces at Frankton

There have been many new additions to the faculty during the '97-98 school year. Mr. Sims, Mr. Flewelling, and Mrs. Russell are among the new teachers.

Charlie Sims, graduate of Ball State, taught US History, American Revolution, and Civil War. Mr. Sims previously taught at Sheridan High School where he also graduated. Here at Frankton he helped coach football in the fall and led many cheers especially the ever so famous "Pork Chop" chant.

Wendi Russell came to Frankton from Indiana State. This was Mrs. Russell's fifth year of teaching. She previously taught English and Spanish at Madison Heights High School in Anderson. She teaches 8th grade English and reading.

Jerome Flewelling, is originally from Pennsylvania. This was his first year of teaching after graduating from Taylor University. He teaches astronomy, physics, and applied physics. He has introduced his classes to many fun learning experiences.

Reading was a class that was added at the Jr.High level. Reading aides Mary Bales and Vicki Hobbs taught most of these classes.

Mr. Fleweling gives his pint of blood at one of the two blood draws held each year.

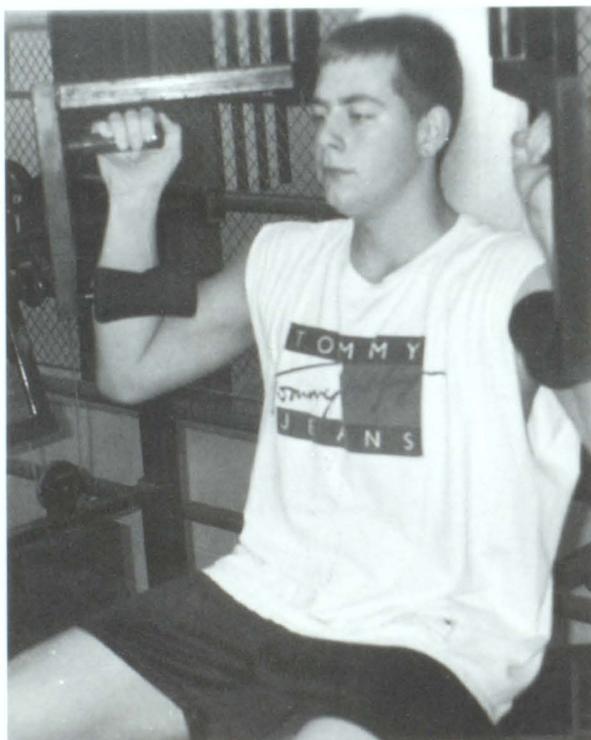

Mrs. Russell helps a student at his desk. Mrs. Russell taught her first year at Frankton in the '98 school year.

Mr. Sims looks to aid a student in need. He is known for his "Pork Chop" cheer.

CLUBS / ACADEMICS

Above: Is that the Village People? In Frankton? No, it's just Mr. Sims U.S. History class learning about the people of the early West.

Government projects are a big part of your senior year. Sarah Yust looks extremely proud of her work of "art."

What will you remember most about your years at FHS ?

I'll never forget the teachers like Mr. Harting, Mr. Householder, and Mrs. Mills, who were more than just teachers. They were friends.

Family and Consumer Sciences is the new name for Home Economics.

These 7th graders eat the food they cooked during their FACS class.

Facs stands for Family and Consumers Sciences Education. The unique focus is on families, work, and their interrelationships. Mrs. Whitsel teaches FACS. FACS consists of these classes: Nutrition and Food(NF), Interpersonal Relations(IPR), 7TH and 8TH grade FACS, Introduction to the World of Work(IWOW), Independent Living(IL), and Human Development(HD). NF consists of some basic nutrition information plus food service and lab skills. IPR consists of skills that help you get along with others, manners, communication, conflict resolution, and other information to help avoid destructive behaviors. IWOW helps students learn the basic information about work. HD helps students understand families, communication, decision making, conflict resolution, Love vs. Infatuation, engagements, marriage, and parenting. The students take the Baby Think It Over home. They also get to use the Empathy Belly. It lets the students know how a pregnant woman feels. The 7th graders cover interpersonal skills. They also learn the 3R's: Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle.

The final portion of the semester is working in the kitchen. The 8th graders start with child development and progress of child care. The second thing they cover is Consumers Economics.

Then the students learn about sewing and the study of clothing care and stain removal. According to Mrs. Whitsel, "Some students are interested and some aren't." The FACS department helps prepare students for family and work life.

Frankton has five Math teachers: Mr. Householder, Mr. Abernathy, Mr. Bauchert, Mrs. Miller, and Mr. Fry. Mrs. Miller teaches careers, Math 8, and Pre-Algebra 8. Careers is a class where the students explore their own personal interests and talents. Math 8 consists of basic skills, dealing with whole numbers, decimals, fractions, integers, algebraic equations, and percentages. Pre-Algebra 8 is to get students ready to take Algebra when they are in high school. Mr. Fry teaches Math 7. Mr. Bauchert teaches high school Pre-Algebra, Intro Algebra I and Intro Algebra II. Mr. Abernathy teaches Pre-Algebra, Algebra I, and Algebra II. Pre-Algebra teaches probability, predictions, counting, and arrangements. Algebra I teaches rational expressions and Algebra II teaches radicals. Mr. Householder teaches calculus, advanced math, and geometry. When asked if the students seem interested, Mr. Householder replied, “In recent years I have had fewer and fewer students who really are interested in what I’m teaching. Unfortunately, that takes a difficult subject and makes it impossible because the effort required for success is more than the students interest level will allow. However, there are always some who want to learn, and I feed off their enthusiasm.”

Mr. Flewelling was the new teacher to the department in his first year of teaching physics, physical science, applied physics, and astronomy. One day his astronomy class traveled down Clyde Street with fruits and marbles to represent the solar system. The applied physics class participated in an egg drop, constructed a tennis ball catapult, and built a bridge to support two pounds. Mr. Flewelling said, "I enjoy working at FJSHS. The students are good and I like the challenge of getting them interested in science.

Mr. Gordy's Environmental Science class started a recycling program that collected an amazing 2,500 pounds of paper in its first few weeks. In addition to teaching this class Mr. Gordy teaches Biology I and Life Science. When asked about teaching, Mr. Gordy said "I most assuredly do enjoy it. I enjoy teaching anything. I love to share, and that sharing ranges from the knowledge in my brain, to the lunch in my bag."

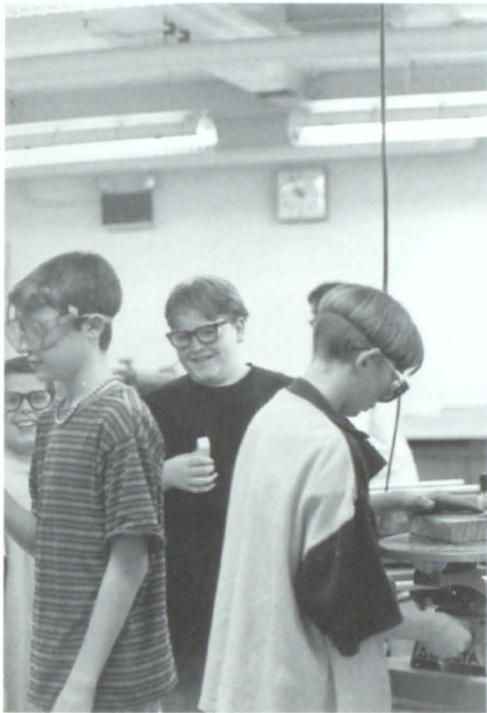

Mr. Canaday teaches Chemistry I, Chemistry II, Biology I, and Biology II. On the junior high level, students participated in numerous activities. In Mr. Shelton's seventh grade class, students grew plants from seeds, potato and stem cuttings. In eighth grade science, Mrs. Andis teaches the three branches of science: biology, physical & earth science.

TECH SYSTEMS

Woods, Metals, Material Processing, Design Process, Communication Systems, and the Junior High Tech class are the classes in Tech Systems.

TECH SYSTEMS

Tech Systems is about about technology and systems. Students learned the problem solving and creative thinking skills needed in today’s workforce. The Woods classes designed and built their own shelves. Metals worked in groups and rotated in different areas. They learned gas and arc welding, foundry, bench metal, and machining. Material Processing is part of manufacturing. They study different materials and how manufacturing works. The class is more interested in the new product ideas rather than the finished product. Design Process is an advanced drafting class where the students use Computer Aided Drafting and explore Architecture, Design, and Advanced Mechanical Drafting. Communication Systems is a beginner’s drafting course. The students learn the different types of mechanical drawing skills, measuring, lay-out, sketching, and some design work. The Junior High tech classes explore the world of Industrial Technology. They deal with construction, transportation, communication, energy, and manufacturing.

We have several social studies classes: Geography, U.S. History, Sociology, Government, American Revolution, Civil War, and Economics. Government and Economics are required for seniors to graduate. Economics is taught by Mr. LeMaster. Economics consists of how to manage money and is business related. The students in Economics were required to complete a series projects in order to graduate. Government was taught by Mrs. Folsom this year for the first time in awhile. This class teaches the students about government branches and the judicial system of the United States. Geography is taught by Mr. LeMaster and is a class that involves land regions and different countries. U.S. History teaches the students about our nation's history. This class is taught by Mr. Sims and this was his first year of teaching here. This year the students were offered American Revolution/Civil War. Each class is only offered for a semester. These classes are also taught by Mr. Sims. The students learned the important points in those time periods. Sociology is taught by Mrs. Folsom and is offered only to seniors. This class teaches the students about real life situations. Mrs. Folsom had the students experience many interesting projects such as visiting a nursing home, funeral home and doing many community service projects.

Seniors are now required to take Government and Economics. They also have to complete numerous projects for Mr. LeMaster in order to graduate.

Mrs. Coryell teaches the 7th grade English class. There are approximately 140 students in the class of 2003. Mrs. Coryell said, "It takes longer to grade, record, and figure grades."

The students learned mechanics- such as capitalization, contractions, and apostrophes. They used basic skills to brush up their writing. According to Coryell, the students did well and seemed interested.

Mrs. Russell is the 8th grade English teacher. The students learned short stories and the basic parts of speech. The students seemed very interested. They also enjoyed doing the projects. Which makes everything alot easier for the teacher. EBS is part of the curriculum. This is where you read a book and take a quiz over it. Mrs. Mills also had a student teacher this year: Stacey Bell from Anderson University. Etymology was taught by Mr. Cress. The students learn the root of words and their origins. Speech Speech II and poetry were taught by Miss Sullivan. The students learned to write a speech and give it in front of the class. The class teaches basic public speaking skills. Speech II is more of debates than speeches. Poetry class teaches how poems are read and how to write poems. Composition was taught by Mrs. Mills. The class taught the students better writing and grammar skills for poems and stories. Mr. Sipe taught Mass Media and journalism. Those classes teach the basics of journalistic writing and are responsible for the production of the yearbook and newspaper.

They study art history every Friday. They also complete many different types of projects. They had to do worksheets everytime they read about an artist. Ceramics is for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. They made shoes, poured two items, and they were graded on their painting. They used the potters wheel to make bowls. Ceramics is only a semester class. The students were graded on their final projects. Painting is for sophomores, juniors, seniors and is only a semester class. There are four paintings students complete in this class. For their first painting, they paint with Bob Ross on video. The next two paintings they choose what they want to paint. For the last painting students report over an artist and paint in the artist's style. Calligraphy class teaches students how to write beautiful letters with a special pen. Design is for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. In this class, they design outfits and other things.

There are several health classes offered at Frankton Jr. Sr. High School. These classes include: Health 10, Body Maintenance, Safety, and Health II. All sophomores are required to pass one semester of health. In this class students began by studying the circulatory and respiratory systems. This prepared the students for their unit on CPR. Sophomores who passed the CPR course were certified by the American Red Cross. They also studied human reproduction and self esteem. Safety is a one semester class offered to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. In this class students learn how to care for the human body using basic first aid. They learned everything from CPR to treating insect bites. In Body Maintenance students spent half of the class in the class room and the other half participating in aerobic activities. In the class room they learned how to live healthy lifestyle. Health II or Anatomy is a class offered to junior and seniors. In this class students studied cells, body systems, and skeletal and muscular systems. They also learned about injuries and sports related injuries. On the junior high level, Mrs. Seager taught both the seventh and eighth graders. They studied many of the same things such as: physical health, mental health, social health, communicable and noncommunicable diseases, and first aid. Students also spent time studying drugs and alcohol.

The Health classes are: Health 10, Health II, Body Maintenance, and Safety.

(Other) Teams

These are the times that try men's souls. This seemed to be the recurring theme of the '97 Frankton Tennis Team. The team had quite a disappointing season posting an 0-16 record. The team was coached by Kip Riser.

The young and unexperienced Eagle Netters started out the season with strikes already against them. They returned only four players from last season, none of whom had played longer than three years. Help was needed and in came Manuel Hernandez, our foreign exchange student from Spain. Manuel jumped in and played number 1 singles for the Eagles, leading the team with six wins.

The rest of the team somewhat struggled throughout the rest of the year.

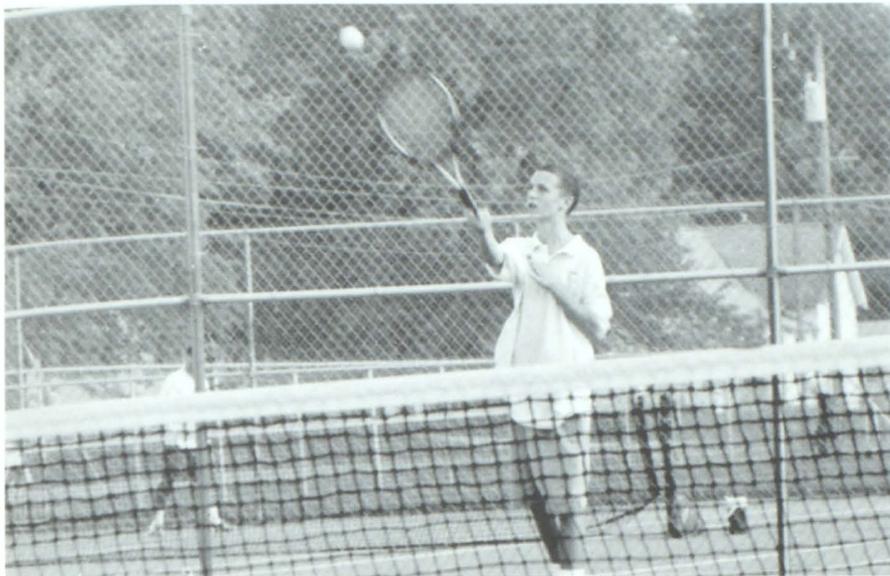

The team had three seniors: James Clark, Bracken Smith, and Branden Smith, all who were very inexperienced. The rest of the team were only sophomores.

On October 4, The Eagles duelled the Anderson Indians at Mays Park for the Anderson Sectional. The Eagles were out-matched however, by a much stronger Indian Team. The Eagles were defeated 0-5 and thus their great season came to a screeching halt before it ever began.

At the awards banquet Lolo Hernandez received the MVP award while James Clark received Mental attitude. The Netters didn't break any limits this year, but they did break a few racquets.

This year's football team was very successful! They Broke Limits by finishing the season 7-5, as well as reaching the final game of the sectional. En route to the sectional championship, the Eagles defeated Union City on a cold, wet night. Next, the Eagles went up against a ranked Tri High team and came out on top. In the sectional championship, the Eagles gave a valiant effort, but they came just short of the crown losing to a very talented Hagerstown team.

The year started out with two impressive wins against rivals Elwood and Lapel. This was the first ever win against Elwood! The Eagles then fell into a drought losing the next four games. They bounced back to win their last three games heading into sectional. The first win to end the drought was against Eastern Hancock. The Eagles then blasted West Del 53-7 on Homecoming, and man handled Shendandoah 42-7 on Senior Night.

During the season, Pete Graham dominated the competition rushing for over 1,000 yards. He was the first person to accomplish this feat since Neal Harper did it in 1991(2,344). His backfield counterpart, Pete Hobbs, was just short of rushing for 1,000 yards as well. Volleyball Vandalizes Vagabonds

This was the first year for class volleyball and it was not a positive change for the Lady Eagles. After winning their first sectional title in '97, it will be a challenge to come away with another title with Muncie Burris, one of the top teams in the nation, in their sectional. The Lady Eagles defeated Tipton in the sectional to advance to the championship game against Muncie Burris for the sectional title. However, the powerhouse Muncie Burris defeated the Eagles to end their season with a record of 14-16.

The varsity team was led by team captains Kari Brummett and Christy McDonald. The team consisted of three seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores. Receiving special honors for the team were: Blocks-Christy McDonald; Kills-Kelli Carter; Setting-Jenni Harrison; Serving-Andrea Cole; Aces - Jenni Harrison.

Making the '97 All-County team was Kari Brummett and Christy McDonald. Receiving Honorable mention was Holly Bott and Kelli Carter. Also making the WRAC All-Conference team was Kari Brummett and Christy McDonald. Kari Brummett also made the All-Metro North 2nd team and the Herald Bulletin All-Area 1st team, with Christy McDonald and Kelli Carter receiving honorable mention.

Basketball Bombs Badguys

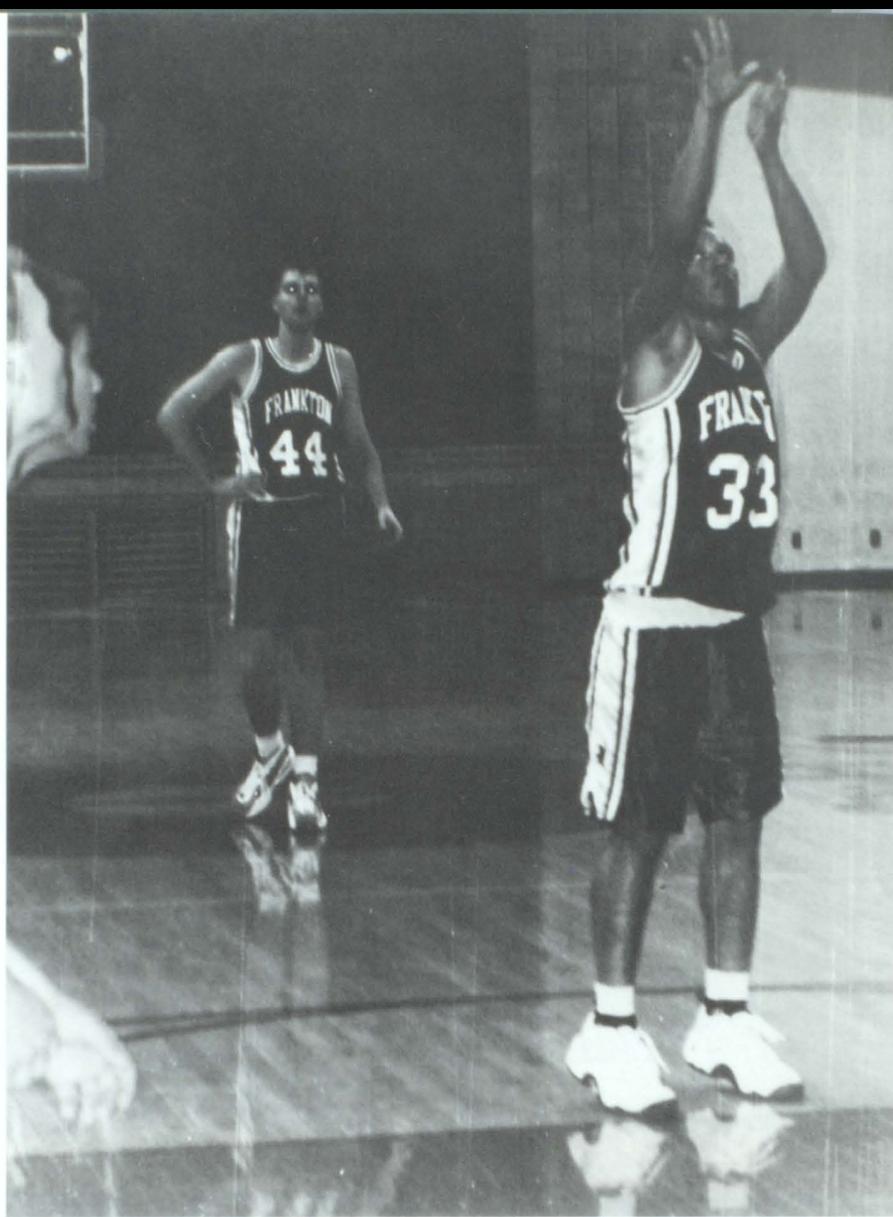

There was a major change in Varsity Basketball this season-class basketball. With sectional no longer at the Wigwam, it didn't have the same atmosphere, but it still had the same purpose.

This year's team had quite a few memorable accomplishments. They posted a limit-breaking 15-7 record while en route to a WRAC co-championship. This was quite a feat since they only had one home conference game. They also reached the final game of the Alexandria sectional. They were defeated 56-63 by eventual state champion Alexandria Tigers. Big wins against big schools such as Highland and Pendleton sort of offset the loss in sectional though.

The team had a slow start with three straight losses. They bounced back quickly, however, to win 9 of their next 10 games. "After we got on the winning streak, we got a lot more confident and better as a team," said senior captain Joe Hobbs. Coach Bauchert was very proud of this year's team and said, "The wins and losses are only secondary to the integrity of the players of the team."

This year's team made a name not only for themselves but also for Frankton High School. By playing excellent basketball, they showed that Frankton basketball is definitely a force to be reckoned with.

Junior Hoopsters Juggle Juggernauts

Junior Varsity and Freshman Basketball are both stepping stones that all future varsity players have to take. This year the J.V. team finished with a limit-breaking record of 13-7. The Freshman team finished 6-10. The J.V. was coached by Doug Drake in his final year. The freshman team was coached by his son, Mark, in his first year as head coach.

The J.V. was very successful this year. After losing their first four games, the team won their last 13 of 16 games, including a seven game winning streak.

The Freshman team might not have had the best record, but it was a season to learn from. On being asked about how he thought the year went, coach Mark Drake said, "It was a lot of hard work, being my first year. The team had a lot of ups and downs." "Everyone did improve individually, skillwise, and they seemed to achieve more knowledge for the game, even though they did not always play as a team."

Five of the team's wins came at home. The lone away win came against Madison Grant and was deemed by the team as the most exciting. With the game tied and no time left on the clock, Bobby Crawford drained a free throw to win the game. Mark Drake said, "My first year was fun because I learned a lot from being on my own and I had also had a lot of fun."

Females Finish Fine

Lady Eagles varsity basketball team ended the regular season with a 17-6 record. The team had no seniors, but finished with a strong season. The juniors, who were key assets, included Natalie Hendricks and Courtney Bott. Their biggest loss was earlier in the season against Lapel 61-46. Their biggest win was against Knightstown, 73-30. When Natalie Hendricks said, "I think that we had a very good season this year. Even though we didn't win sectional, most of the team had fun playing basketball together.

This year the Lady Eagles entered a new sectional, due to class basketball. They beat the host, Shenandoah 57-51, and fell short to Tipton in game two, 50-44.

The sophmores included Shelly Barton, Amy Davis, Kinzie Hobbs, Jenni Hendricks, Kelli Carter, Lyndsay Owen, and Freshmen Kylie Schmink. The MVP was awarded to two players, Junior Natalie Hendricks, and Sophomore Kelli Carter. The team has high expectations for next season.

The J.V. girls basketball team ended with a 7-10 record. Even though the Lady Eagles only won seven games, they gave it their all. The teams biggest win was against Wapahani 31-18.

Wrestling wracks wins

Losing ten pounds a week for three months. Putting your body through gruelling workouts. These are just a few experiences that the Frankton wrestlers have to go through.

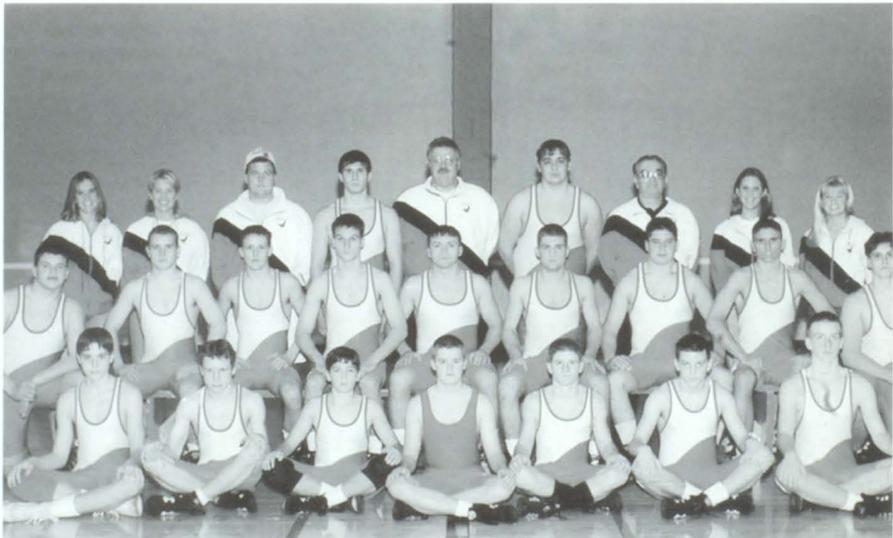

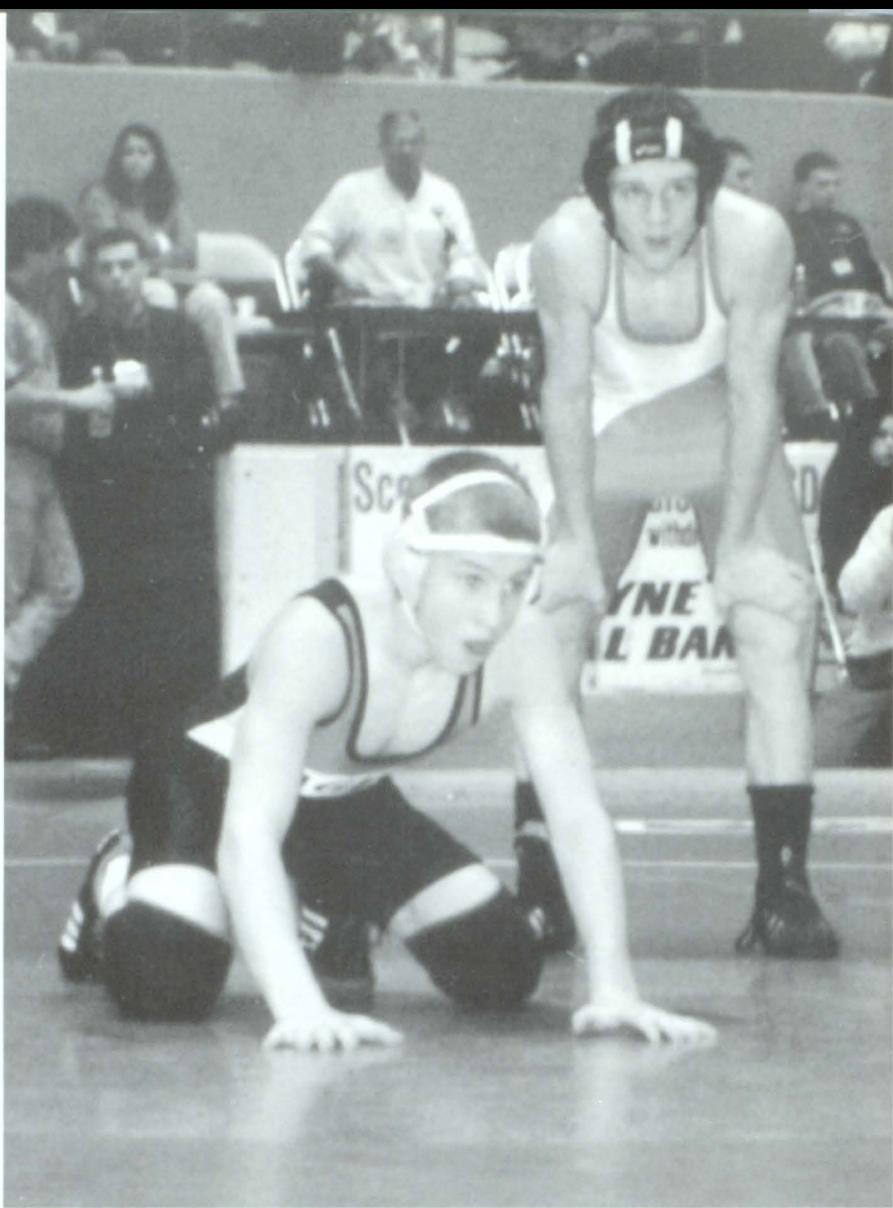

This year's team was a young team, but in the end came out with an acceptable record. The team finished with a 13-13 record, which is a .500 season and considered a winning one. The winning record marked Coach Otis Cress's 21st straight year with a winning record.

The team's success was triggered by the performances of two Juniors, Craig Adams and Nate Cress. Both of these wrestlers qualified for the state meet at Market Square Arena. Craig Adams was defeated by the potential state champion in the first round. Nate Cress won his first round match, he was defeated in his next two matches on Saturday, causing him to settle with a sixth place finish.

The team capped off their season with their annual banquet. At the banquet Coach Cress handed out several awards

Some of these were: Most Pins, Richard Spencer; Most Takedowns, Craig Adams; Most Improved, Wes Johnson; and Most Valuable, Nate Cress.

Varsity Cheerleading Takes on new responsibilities

First Row: Karalee Cage, Chastity Martz, Hope Goshert, Jennifer Alford. Second Row: Amanda Drake, Katy Harrison, Misty Hall, Vanessa Coffey. Third Row: Andrea Cole, Jenni Harrison, Holli Mehling, Mindy Alexander.

The Varsity Cheerleaders had many changes this year. Along with changes came two new coaches- Mrs. Davis and Miss Sullivan. Leading the squad were two captains- Senior, Katy Harrison and Junior, Mindy Alexander.

Some goals the coaches and cheerleaders set together included being more spontaneous and getting more crowd involvement.

On September 20 at the Heritage Days Parade, the cheerleaders placed first performing their dance to "Run Forest Run." This dance along with new cheers and chants were taught to the squad in a three day summer camp taught by the Ball State cheerleaders.

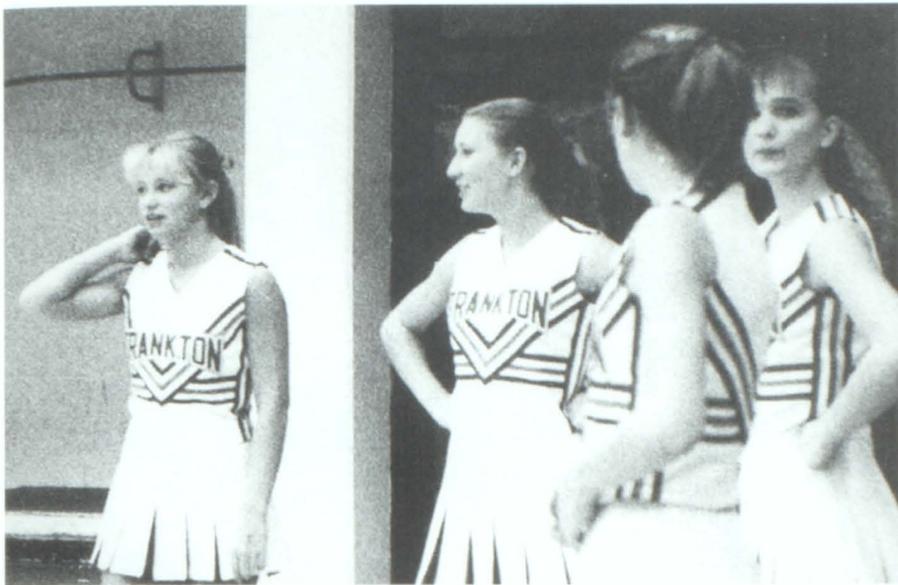

In October all the cheerleaders, including the Freshmen squad, held a breakfast for the football team to show their support for the Homecoming game against Wes-Del that night.

In November the cheerleaders tried a new way of earning money. They went to different businesses and asked if they would like to become a sponsor. There were three categories- bronze, silver, and gold. If a business qualified in the gold category, that meant that the business donated $75.00 or more. These businesses also received the most recognition in Frankton papers and had their company or business' name announced at junior high and high school games.

In November the junior high got new uniforms. This year's junior high as well as Freshmen cheerleaders are also sponsored by Mr. Davis and Miss Sullivan.

Another change that took place this year came in the form of equality. Not only did the Varsity take responsibility for the original boys games, but they also took on the responsibility of cheering at some of the girls games.

Varsity Baseball Finishes 10-13

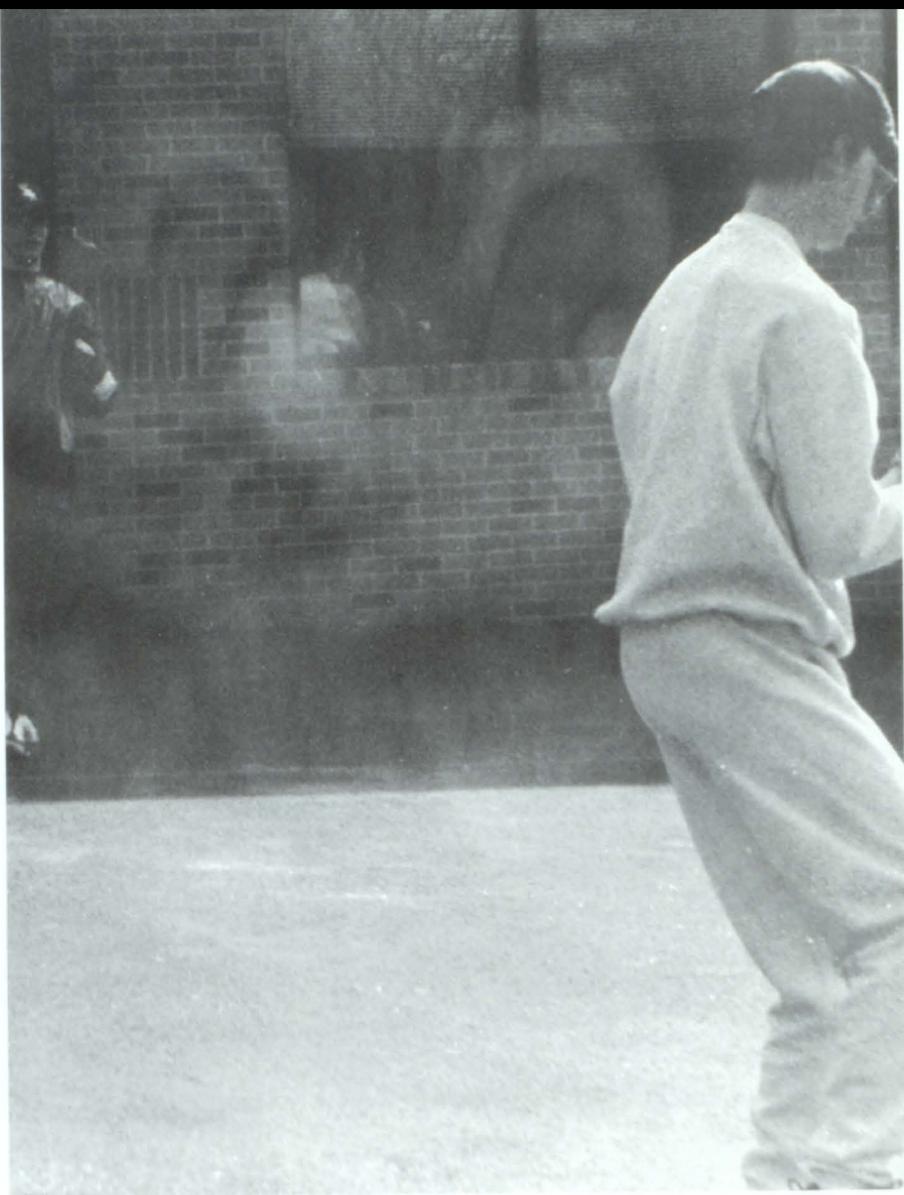

Baseball finished the season with a 10-13 record under head coach Greg Granger, assistants: Otis Cress, and Doug Furnish.

The first win came after three losses and then wins and losses came with winning streaks of two and losing streaks of no more than three.

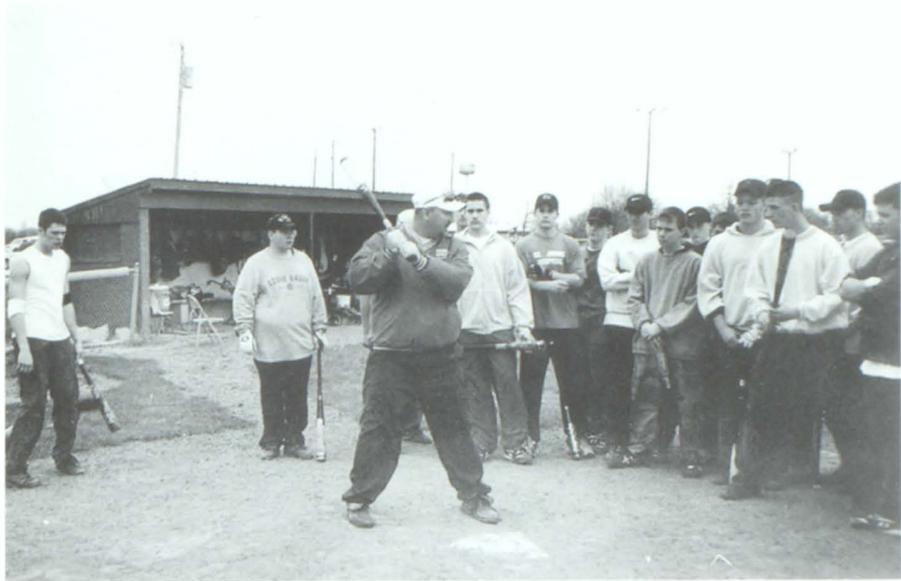

The team lost in sectional to Alexandria, eventual state champions.

Team awards were: Most Hits, D.J. Smith; Best Avg., D.J. Smith; Most Runs, D.J. Smith; Most RBI's, Nate Cress; Most Doubles, Kevin Nichols; Most Hr's, D.J. Smith; co-MVP (infield) Nate Cress and Chris Eden; MVP (outfield), Jayson Smith; Team MVP, D.J. Smith.

Golf Guts Good Greens

When one thinks of the two words: golf and Frankton one usually sinks into utter depression. This year however, things were quite different.

First of all, the team was good. They even beat Alexandria on their "home" course.

The team also had a new coach the famed Craig Brunhammer.

There was no group picture taken, so that's why there is none directly to the right.

The year unfolded slowly, but the school was amazed as they listened to announcements in the morning and heard of their continued success.

Softball Wins Fifth Straight Sectional

The Softball team is definitely building a winning tradition. They are the only sport at Frankton to win five straight sectionals. Besides making school history, they also ended up with a record of 16-5 for the season. This was a great accomplishment because they had such a young team. The team consisted of only two seniors and two juniors.

This was the first year Frankton experienced class softball. The sectional was held at Frankton. In the final game of the sectional Frankton defeated Lapel which had previously beaten the Lady Eagles in the first game of the season. Frankton did not, however, advance to semistate. They lost with a close score of 1-0.

Frankton had six players make All-Conference and Casey Clutch and Jenni Purcell made All State.. They only lost two seniors so the future looks great for the Lady Eagles.

Varsity Track Sets Records

The Boys track team had a great season at 36-9. Coach Morehead always told the team of their potential, but they didn't realize it until they got second place in the Madison County Meet. The team continued their winning way by dual meets and placing high in invitational meets. The team will need to replace four seniors and their talents: Pete Graham 100, 200, 4x100 Relay; Doug Westlund, pole vault, 110 HH; Jim Hellman: shot put, 100, 200; and Shawn Ice, pole vault. The girls track had a record of 26-10. This included a third at the Madison County meet, a second place at the WRAC meet and a third place at the sectional meet.

The team was once again coached by Tom Gordy, Chrissy Aynes and a newcomer, Stacy Bell.

The girls did really well for having such a small team. Christy McDonald really stepped up in the sprints, relays and long jump. Heather Funk helped with hurdles and relays. Katie Jones did well in the 3200m and along with Tabitha Humphries, Amber Sigler and Sara Robinson broke several school records in the 3200m relay. "The team surpassed my pre-season expectations," said coach Tom Gordy.

Cross Country Captures Win Loss Seasons

Ahh, the gasping for air, the intense pain, the feeling that every muscle in your body is about to collapse. Yes folks, that's cross-country and this year a select group of Junior High boys and girls did just that. Both teams were coached by Mrs. Seager. The team also had a new course to run this year.

The girl's team was very successful this season posting a limit breaking record of 7-3. Their only losses came to Tipton, Muncie Burris, and Eastside. At the county meet, the Lady Eagles got second out of six teams. Receiving awards for the team were Ashley Hymes (8) for most-improved and Claire Jenness (7), receiving the sportsmanship award.

The boy's team, unfortunately, was not quite as successful this season posting a disappointing 2-8 record. Their only wins came against Mad. Grant and Elwood, which were the first two meets of the year. Then they went on a tailspin, losing their next six meets. At the county meet, they placed fifth out of six teams. Receiving awards for the guys were Brian Etherington (7) for sportsmanship and Brandon Kittle (8) for most-improved.

Junior High Football Posts Winning Seasons

The tradition starts at the lower levels for the football program. The lower levels are the two junior high teams.

Both the seventh and eighth grade teams had productive seasons. The seventh grade finished with a 4-3-2 record while the eighth grade finished with a 5-4 record.

The seventh grades four wins came over Elwood, Wes Del, Lapel and Alexandria.

The team was led by running back Jesse Beardsley and quarterback Billy Salazar.

Beardsley was named the team's offensive player of the year, for leading the team in rushing, while Salazar was voted the team's MVP. for his outstanding efforts throughout the whole season.

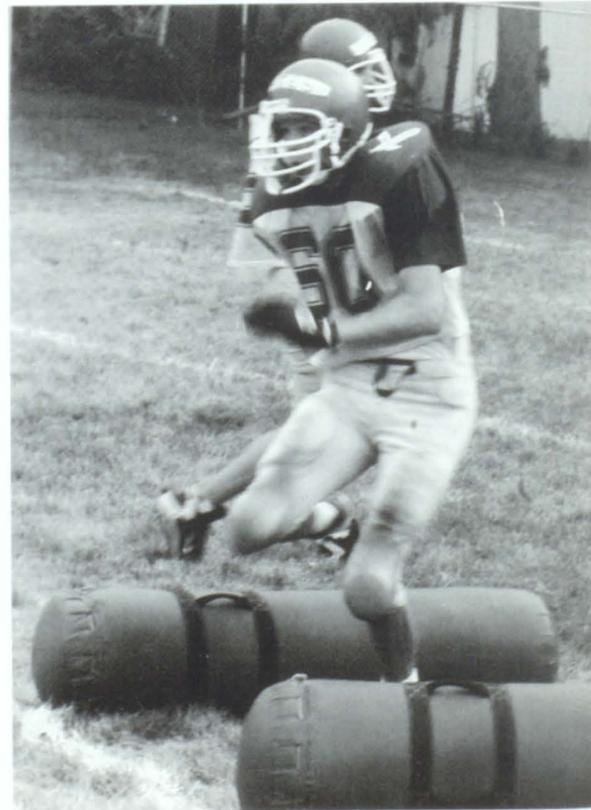

The eighth grade's five victories came over Tri-Central, Wes Del, Lapel, Pendleton Heights and Alexandria.

The eighth grade was led by the outstanding tailback, Tony Marshall, who was voted both the team's offensive player of the year and MVP.

Junior High Juggles Juggernauts

The Junior High are the future basketball players of the high school. In junior high you get a lot of experience, have a lot of fun, and learn a lot. The seventh and the eighth grade teams had quite different seasons this year.

This season the 7th grade basketball team had a streak of bad luck with the season ending at 4-13. The team had their largest margin of victory against the Muncie Burriss Owls. Coach Huntsinger said, "I had some good kids to work with and I had an enjoyable season. It was the smallest team that I have had in the last five years." Receiving awards for the team was Billy Salazar (Most rebounds), Nate Cunningham (Mr. Hustle), and Josh Polly (Most Improved).

The 8th grade team consisted of 15 players. The A-team season had a winning campaign at 9-8. They finished their season against Elwood in the County Tourney. The B-team however, had only 2 wins and 6 losses. Tony Marshall received the free-throw award and the honor of MVP, while Matt Guthrie received the Hustle Award. The 8th grade team had a pretty good season and shows great potential for the future.

As with the boys, junior high girls basketball is an excellent learning experience for young players. It gives them the vital experience that they will need for the high school years to come.

The eighth grade girls had a splendid season this year posting a limit-breaking 14-3 record. The teams' three losses came from Alex and twice from Elwood.

The team did however, win their home tournament. The girls played well together and always encouraged each other to keep trying, even in the face of defeat.

The girls agreed that playing for coach Tod Windlan was great. Many of girls look forward to playing next year in high school.

Junior High Wrestling Successful

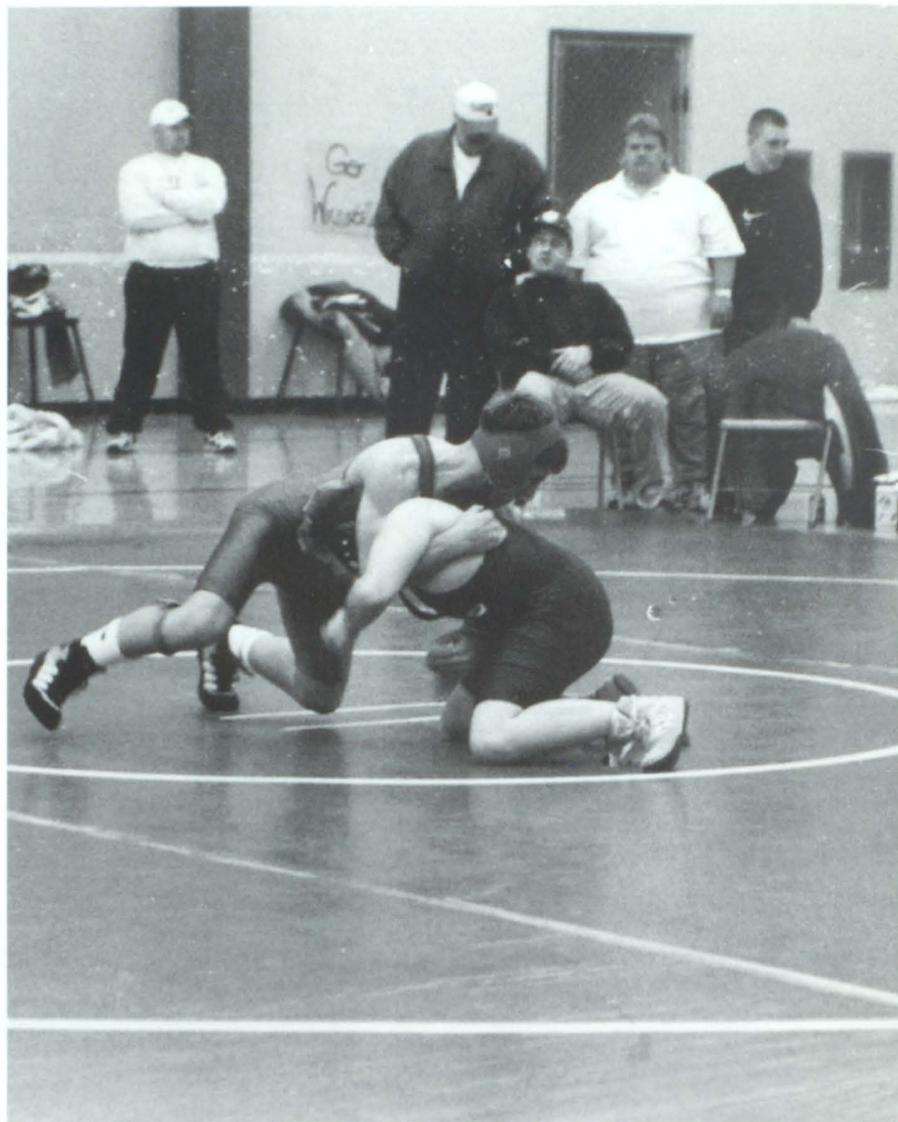

Junior high boys are seen wrestling sometimes is forgotten because of its late start in the season of winter sports, forgotten, perhaps, but don't count them out.

Wrestling at the junior high level gives the students a chance to try their "hands" arms and legs in a grueling sport.

Soon after the high school wrestling season winds down, the boys are seen running the halls of the school getting themselves into shape or trying to trim their weight to a particular weight class.

Coach Larry O' Bryant also makes room for sixth graders and the occasional fifth grader all in the spirit of making an opportunity for the students to be exposed to this sport

Jr. High Follows In Varsity's Steps

The 8th grade cheerleaders tried out for cheerleader in the spring lead by the senior cheerleaders on the Varsity squad. They were taught cheers, chants, and a dance that the Varsity had learned from the BSU cheerleaders. After the Varsity cheerleaders had their camp with the BSU cheerleaders, two Senior cheerleaders came and taught them what they had learned.

The 7th grade cheerleaders got a late start on their year but it was so they could get adjusted to the many changes of 7th grade. Mrs. Davis said that she wanted the girls to get used to the change of going from elementary to junior high. Mrs. Davis and Miss Sullivan were the Junior High cheerleading sponsors as well as the Varsity sponsors. The 7th grade try-outs were also ran by the Senior Varsity cheerleaders. They were taught chants, cheers, and a dance.

Since the 7th grade cheeleaders were not chosen until the fall, the 8th grade had to pick up some of the slack by cheering for 7th grade football games. One of the biggest problems that Miss Sullivan and Mrs. Davis had was finding uniforms for everyone. They ended up buying new uniforms for the Jr. High cheerleaders after trying new fund raising. They went to businesses around Frankton and surrounding areas and asked if they would like to be a sponsor. They had different categories of who donated the most money and they were the most recognized at junior high and high school games, with their names being announced over the speaker.

The Junior High cheerleaders did many of the same things that the Varsity squad did. They all had practice at the same time and the Senior Varsity cheerleaders worked with each group during practice to help them with anything. The Junior High also made posters for the hallways in support of the Junior High athletics.

Junior High Track Triumphs

Junior High track had a successful year with both teams posting winning records.

The girls team was very successful losing only to Eastside on a make-up meet at the last of the season.

Tom Gordy was the coach with much help from Tami Davis and Bobbi Seager, when available.

The girls dominated all the teams that they beat. Their margin of victory ranged from 4 to 51 points.

Top contributors for the girls: Megan Sharp, Ashley

Hymes Joanna Lambooy and Rachel Woodard.

The boys team, with a few less runners, was coached by Brian Sanders.

Their wins were against schools our size and larger and their four losses were all from the larger schools of Hamilton Hts., Shenandoah, Eastside and Alexandria.

Constant point winners for the team were: Matt Miller in the sprints and long jump, Jared Olde in distance and long jump and Craig Dickey in the hurdles.

Varsity Swimming Competes at Elwood

For the second year in a row, Frankton has has a swimming team. You might be wondering how that is possible considering Frankton does not have a pool.

But, thanks to the kindness of Elwood High School, sophomores Abbi Campbell and Doug Huntsinger were able to practice and competewith the Elwood team.

They were coached by Elwood's coaches, Dana Culp and Kevin Stephens. Abbi and Doug were able to compete in exhibition races throughout the season.

At the end of the season Abbi and Doug were able to represent Frankton in sectional.

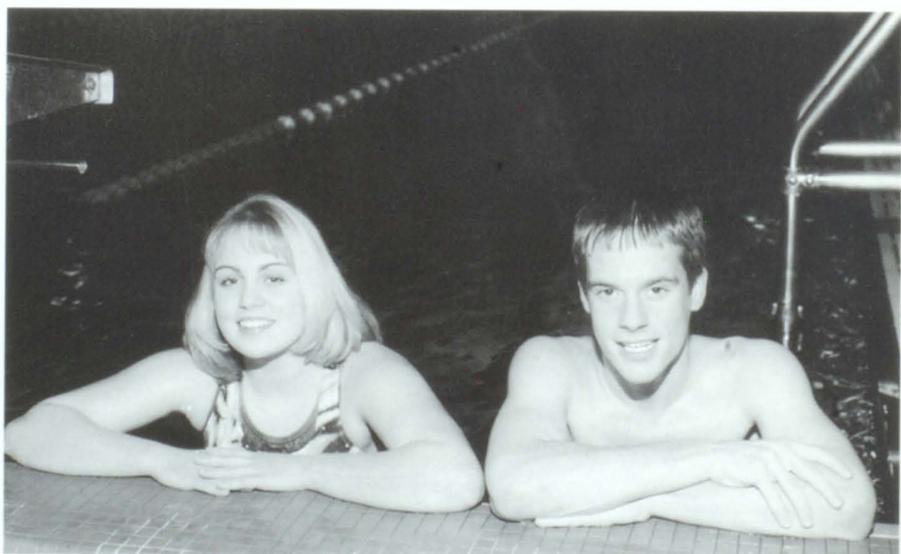

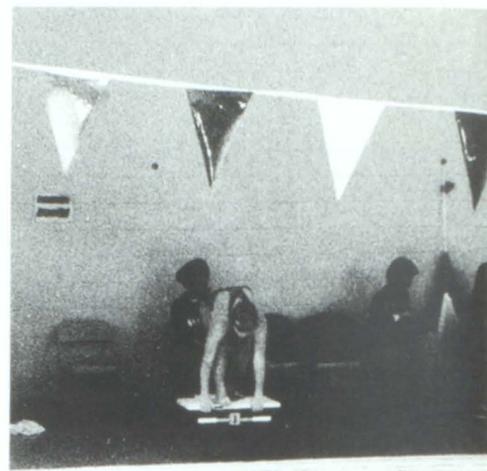

Abbi competed in the 100 meter butterfly and 100 meter breaststroke in sectional.

Doug swam in the sectional the 500 meter freestyle and the 100 meter breaststroke.

Letter from the Editor

I've been waiting to say these words all year long and now I get the privilege of saying them, "The '98 yearbook is finished!" I think this yearbook has been completed in record time. This is due to the fact that the '98 staff had to finish the '97 Eaglite first. Some people probably thought it would never get finished, but a select few came through and worked together to fabricate a product we can all be very proud of.

I would like to say thank you to everyone who contributed and put forth effort into the '98 Eaglite. I really appreciate Katie Chandler (Student Life Editor) for helping me out and answering all of my questions at the beginning of the year. Sarah Richie (Co-Editor) assisted me through the year and shared with me her creative ideas.

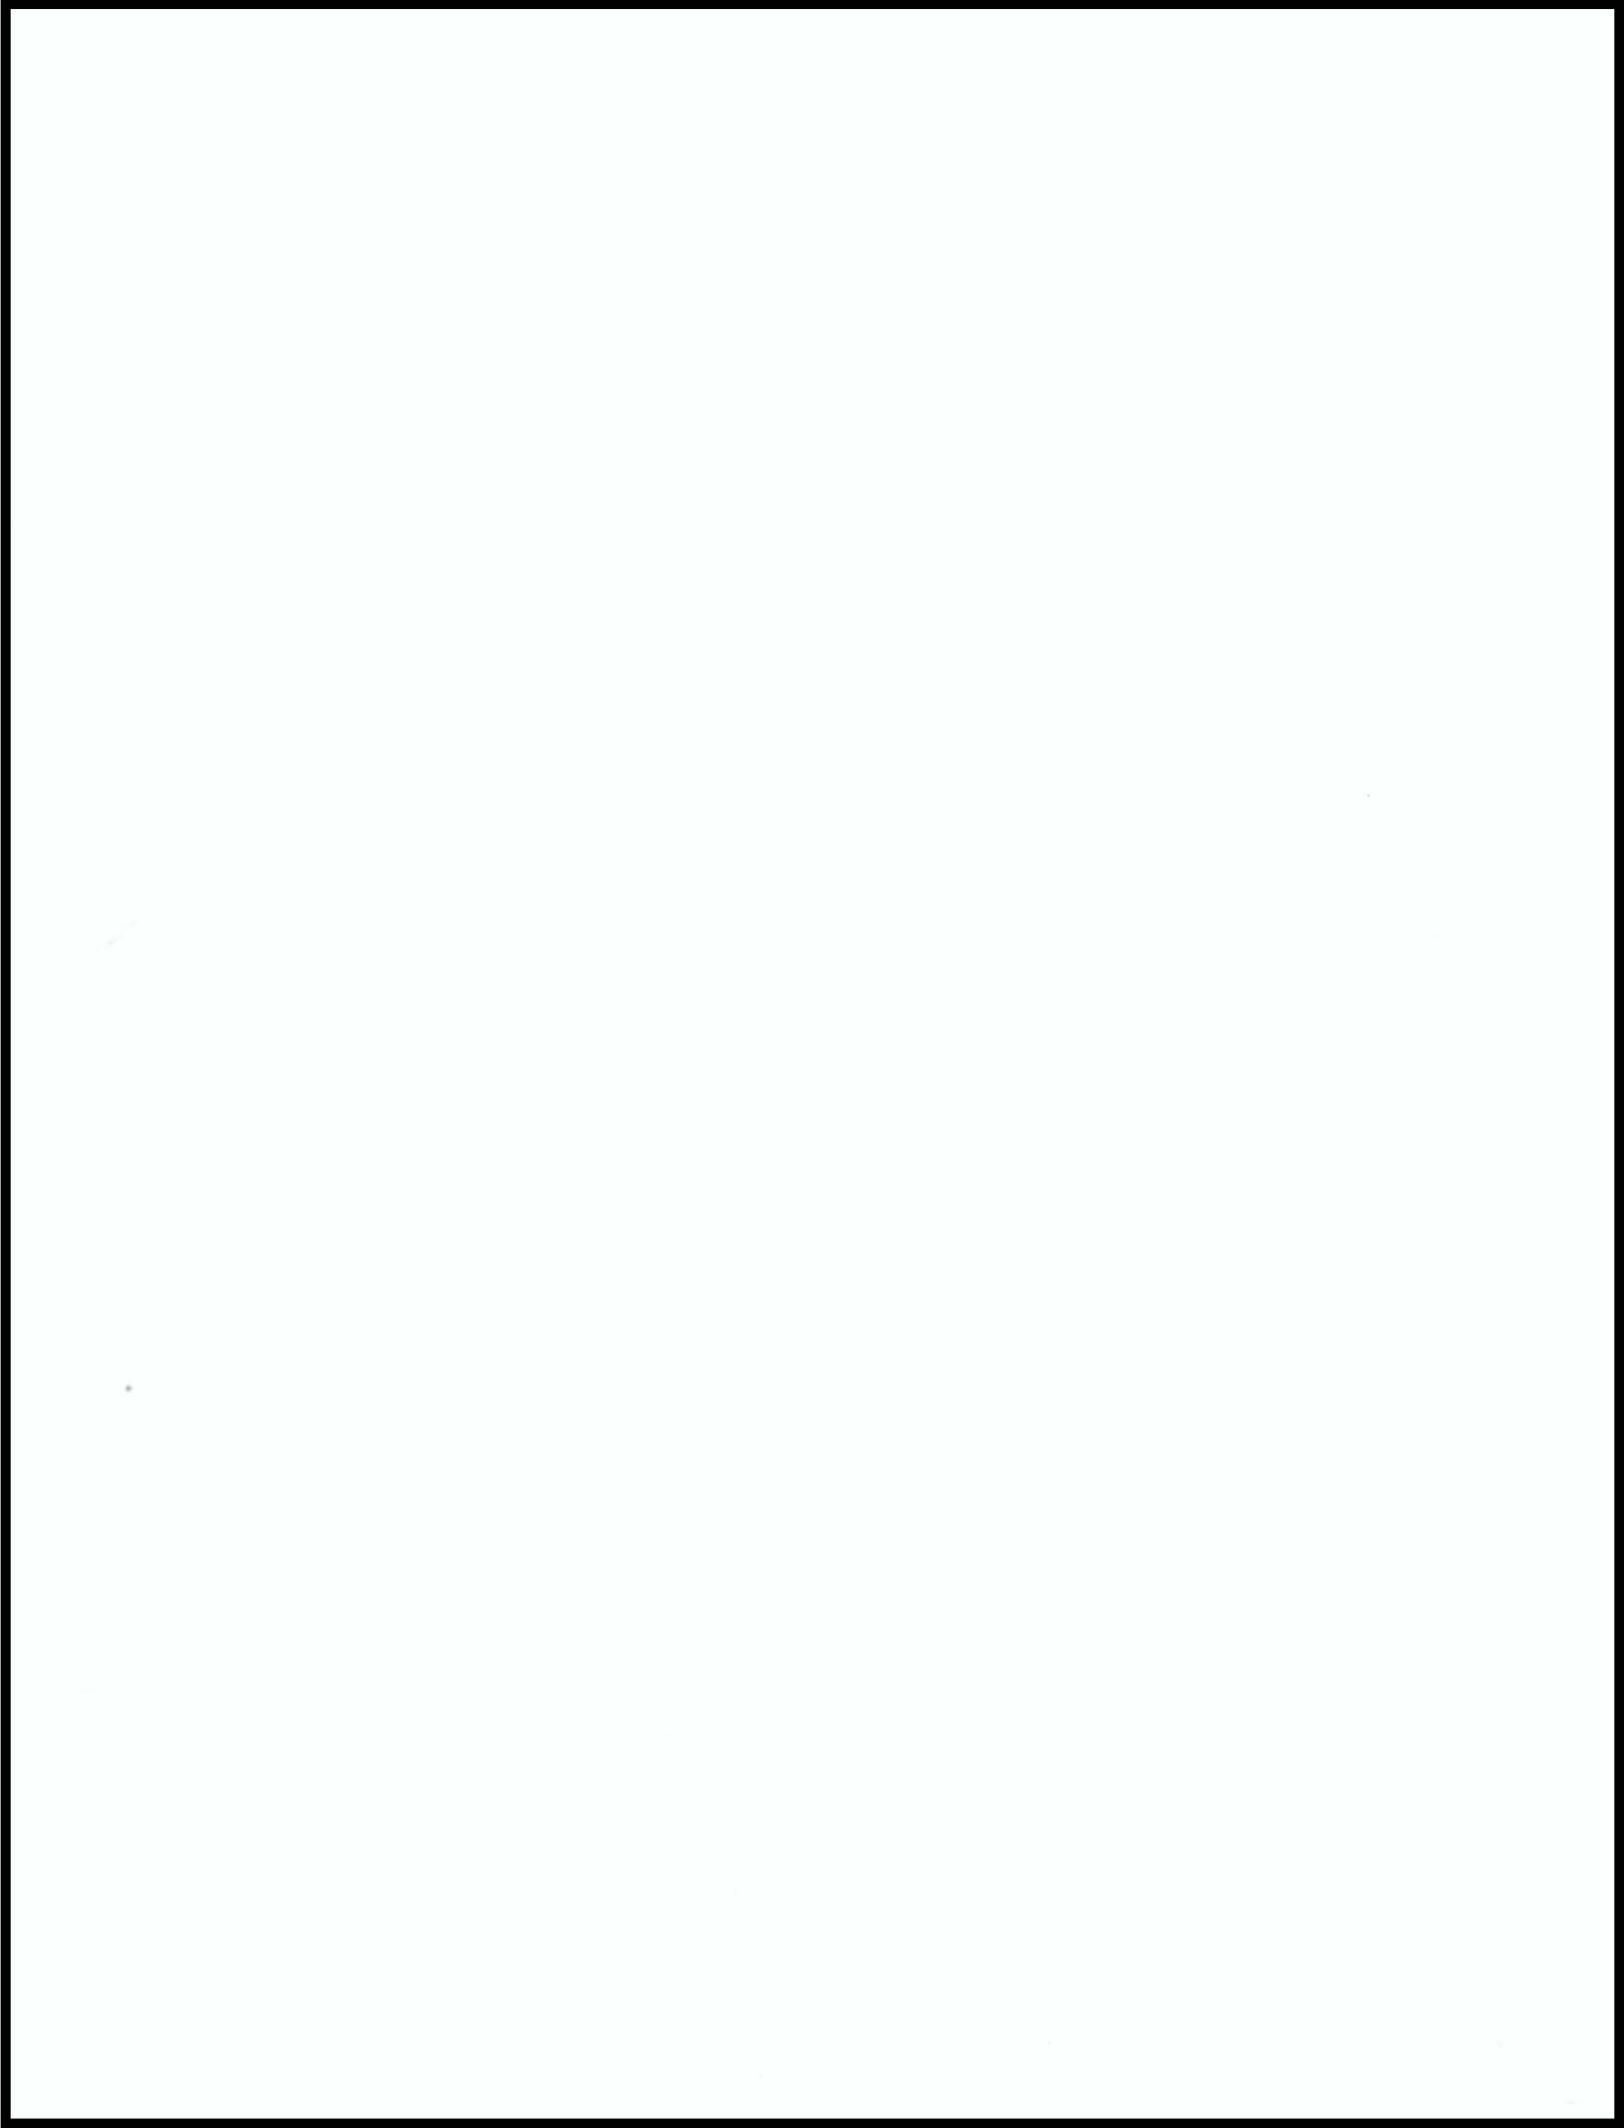

I would like to mention a couple of people who came to work on the yearbook in the summer. I would like to thank James Clark (Sports Editor) even though I had to literally drag him out of his house a couple of times. Kari Brummett (Clubs Editor) helped out tremendously even though sometimes she didn't want to. A BIG thank you goes to Vanessa Coffey (Underclass Editor) who completed her Underclass pages and still continued to work on the yearbook. She also came in to work on the yearbook in the summer on her days off!

I would like to thank Heather Junk (Senior Editor) for completing her pages before everyone else and sacrificing many lunches in order to meet her deadline. Rhett Schmiedel and Steve Neese (Photography Editors) put up with everyone and spent a lot of their free time developing photos to meet everyone's needs. I'd like to say thank you to Mr. Sipe for enlightening me on how to create a yearbook and putting up with my complaining. Last but not least I cannot forget Rick Kennedy for helping with the yearbook, even though it wasn't his area, and for cropping all those pictures.

I truly believe this yearbook should please many people, but not everyone will be happy with the results. Maybe those people who aren't satisfied can help in some way next year to improve the flaws. Once again I would like to say THANK YOU to everyone and say the '98 staff did a great job!

Thanks,
Jenni Purcell
