... HEIRS TO A MODERN WORLD

Here we are--the 500 students of Frankton High School. In our world we go to classes and cram for final exams. We are members of organizations and Model UN delegations. We cheer our teams to victory, and we plan our proms. In our world big decisions don't have to be made yet. We find it easy to enjoy ourselves with the guidance and understanding of parents, teachers, and friends. One day we will walk across the stage wearing a cap and gown.

What is next? The world the graduates inherit is like nothing known to us before. It will be a world of speed--from computers to astronauts. It will be a world of research--from cancer cures to artificial organs. It will be a world of convenience --from direct dialing phone lines to electronic ovens.

Our world will be no easy place to live in. We will be coping with poverty-stricken slums, conflicting nations, racial strife, booming populations, and the evermounting difficulties of a democratic nation. Bearing in mind these challenging opportunities, Franktonites will become--Heirs to a Modern World.

STUDENTS CONTRIBUTE SERVICES

"Let's play booby trap "says Mark and Robby Cox as Cindy Hertle settles down to an evening of baby-sitting.

Danny Fosnot, our local D.J. spins a record for the enjoyment of the students.

Displaying an enormous amount of talent are the cast members of a "Guy From Venus," from the 1966 Spring Musical.

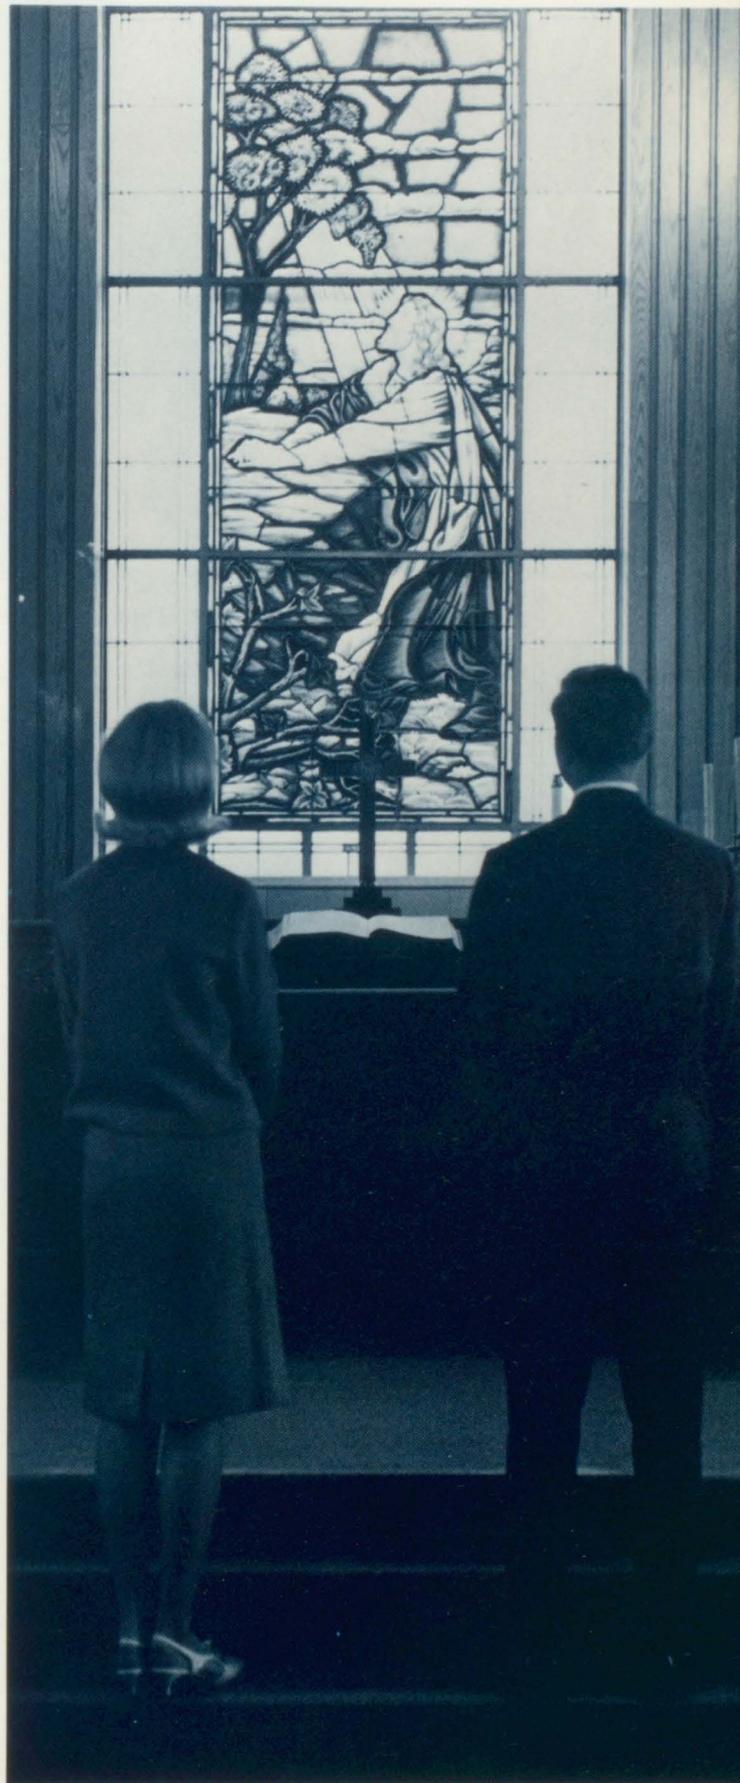

TO COMMUNITY

A world of unlimited opportunities challenged our future heirs. Students enlivened community life with their talents and services. Our band sponsored a birthday calendar and distributed it to the residents of Frankton. The senior class play and the spring musical added an air of culture to our little town. FHS students disc-jockeyed many of the town sponsored sock-hops. Having assumed the role of candy-stripers and Junior Red Cross members, our students brought faith and happiness into the lives of our citizens. Students involved in church and its activities have helped to stabilize the spiritual values of our world.

Using some sales strategy on Mrs. Gene Heniser, Mike Holder and Dan Smith ring up another sale on the calendar campaign.

The community of Frankton also means religious conviction.

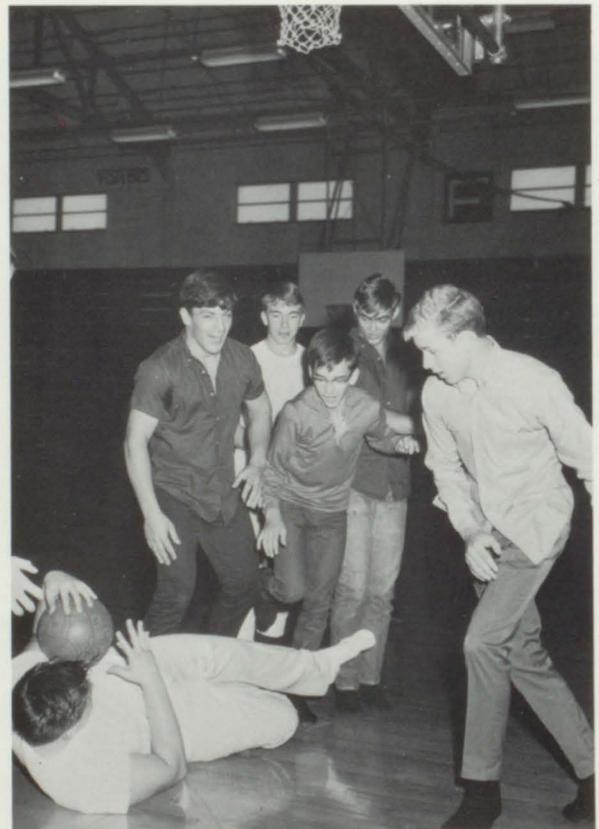

All lined up, the students riding motorcycles get ready to leave FHS in a hurry.

PERSONALITIES BECOME WELL-ROUNDED THROUGH VARIED

Combining football and basketball, boys enjoy a noontime activity.

In one of the rehearsal scenes from a "Guy From Venus," Carolyn Barker shows Ralph Zerbe the feminine mind isn't a bit confusing.

With a look of grim determination, Sophomore boys spy their cars around the track at the Hobby Raceway.

ACTIVITIES

Activities offered by FHS and its surrounding community have made it possible for our students to develop a well-rounded personality. Membership in our organizations prepared each student for committee work and leadership responsibilities. The spring musical and senior class play enabled students with drama and music abilities to develop their talents even more.

Even with basketball games, pep rallies, sock-hops, homecoming plans, and Christmas decorations, our students still had time for their own hobbies. Many of our boys spent their carefree hours at The Frankton Hobby Raceway racing their prized slot cars. During the warmer months, the students kept in shape by using the tennis courts north of the high school. Girls and boys alike contributed to the motorcycle fad, by sporting new Hondas and Yamahas.

"It was a blast off!" as Senior Drama Clubbers presented their annual play.

PROM ADDS GLAMOUR AND EXCIT

An "Evening in Ecstasy" was the theme of the evening when members of the junior class entertained the seniors, faculty, and guests on Saturday evening, May 21, 1966 in the Grand Ball Room of the Marott Hotel in Indianapolis.

As each one entered the ballroom, a memory book and a souvenir charm was presented to him.

Following the banquet, tension mounted as the Queen candidates entered the ballroom. Becky Wiggs was selected and reigned gracefully throughout the evening. Equally as lovely, the Queen's attendants were Jackie McCord, Mary Hervey, Cindy Hertle, and Jackie Daugherty.

The Hum-Bugs provided the evening dance music, and a special floor show highlighted their performance. Gene Bright and Tim Heller presented a skit entitled "First Prom Night".

Greeting the juniors and seniors to an "Evening in Ecstasy" are Phil Davis, senior class president and Terry Prince, junior class president.

TEMENT TO THE SCHOOL YEAR

Couples dancing at the prom made the evening one of rapturous excitement.

With tears of joy, Becky Wiggs is crowned Queen of the 1966 Junior-Senior Prom by Terry Prince, Junior class president, as her escort Steve Paddock smiles proudly.

Awaiting the next course of the banquet juniors and seniors are busily talking and signing memory books.

As heirs, we entered a world of learning--ACADEMICS. The courses offered at Frankton High School challenged each student to higher degrees of concentration. New philosophical concepts and the modern math system introduced the students to the complexities of our ever-changing world. Our students gained essential knowledge from the courses that lent itself to practical experiences. Having completed the foundation courses of Frankton High, our heirs will be better prepared for their inherited world.

ACADEMICS

LEARNING AND READING

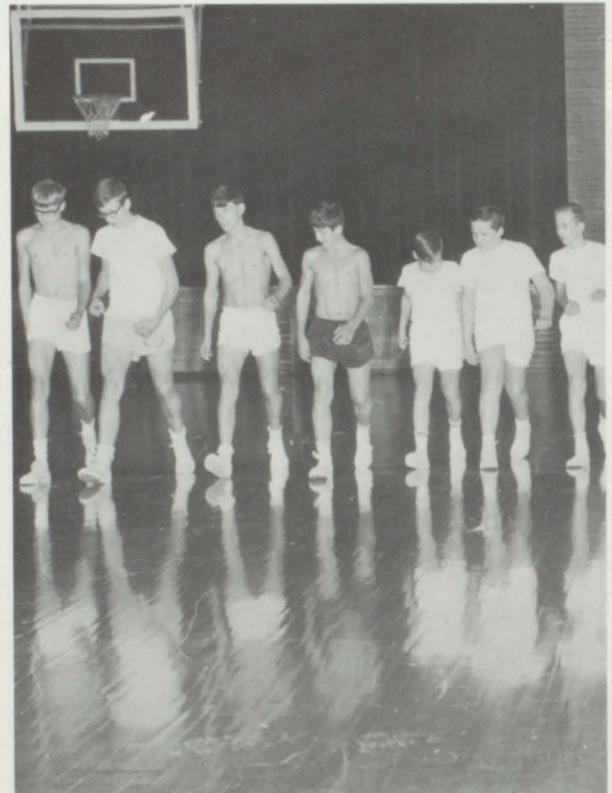

HEALTH AND P. E. PROVIDE

Putting the ball right where it belongs, are the freshman and sophomore girls, in the final scoot soccer game.

Just making sure it's still all there, Mrs. Hover points out the parts of the brain.

ACTIVITIES FOR FHS STUDENTS

With emphasis placed on the physical fitness program, FHS students participated in more physical activities in their education classes. Both the boys and girls used the outdoor basketball and tennis courts north of the school. Bright, and early our energetic athletes were out running their daily mile or were having batting practice before the big game. When the weather turned cold, the gymnasium was used for volleyball and tumbling. The girls formed a bowling league this year, and they held scoot soccer tournaments. The physical education classes were taught every three weeks with the remaining of the grading period spent in health class. With the aid of the "take-apart" model of the human body, the students understood more clearly the complexities of the body.

Making their last trip around the oval, the panting phy. ed. girls finish their mile run.

Reaching for the top, boys in physical education classes develop co-ordination.

Agriculture boys learn the fundamentals of soil judging by practical experience.

VOCATIONAL COURSES

The vocational courses were an important part of the Frankton High School curriculum. The homemaking classes gave the girls practical knowledge on practical homemaking skills, such as cooking, sewing, first aid, and nursing. More advanced classes specialized in child development and child care. The shop classes began electrical training with the arrival of new electronics equipment. The shop classes also included woodworking, metal, and simple mechanics. The agriculture classes consisted of judging and the learning of modern farm techniques. Students in mechanical drawing classes learned basic views of drawings. Later in the year, they learned shop techniques to be used the following year.

Shop boys begin their metal projects with the learning of welding techniques.

Sophomore Home Economic girls become more advanced by working with wool articles.

DEVELOP INDIVIDUAL PERFORMANCES

As future business administrators and secretaries, our students received vocational instruction at FHS. General business students explored the vast world of business techniques; while typing proved essential not only to business majors but also to college-bound students. Confronted with the task of balancing accounts, bookkeeping students put their mathematical knowledge to practical use. Specializing in office procedures, office practice students obtained general information in their future work. Recognition for outstanding students in the business classes were made known at the spring awards program.

Mrs. Sigler keeps her young business majors, Becky Goodman and Andie Neese, occupied with extra duties from her filing cabinet.

Debbie Gunn offers her assistance to Becky Conklin who may be having trouble balancing an account.

Pushing for more words per minute, students in typing class take a speed test.

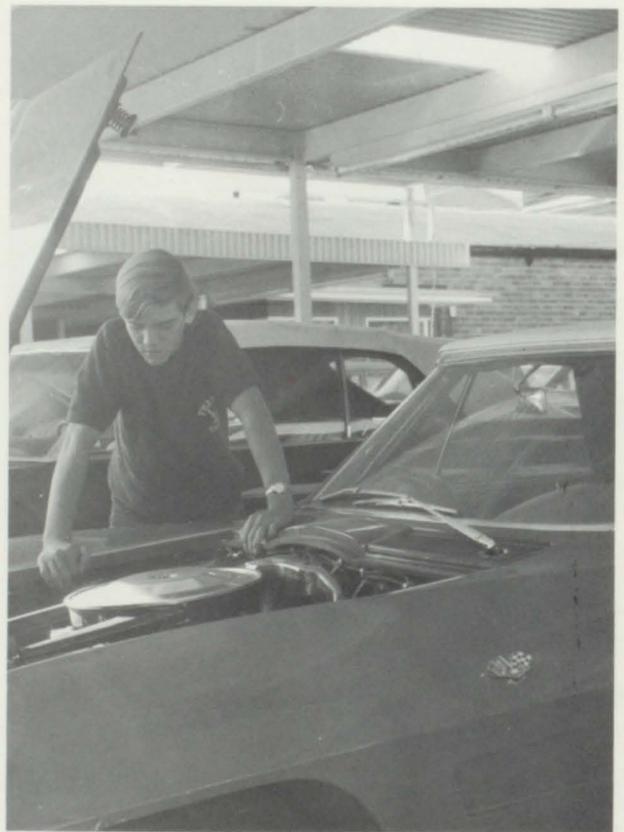

With an increase of cars on the road, parallel parking is stressed so the students will be able to cope with our crowded cities.

SUMMER CLASSES SUPPLEMENT FHS

Drivers' education students realize the many lives seat belts have saved. Checking over the belts are two of our young drivers.

Studying for a test over the parts of a car, Jim Borum is sure to pass after examining everything from the engine to the glove compartment.

ART THEORY EXPANDS KNOWLEDGE

Starting as early as seven in the morning till two in the afternoon, students in the 8 weeks' drivers' education classes received instruction and the experience needed for proper driving habits. B&M Motors in Elwood furnished the dual control cars, and several faculty members conducted the classroom instruction and "in the car supervision."

For the first time at FHS, a music theory course was offered to the students in addition to the summer band program conducted by Mr. Barker.

With 120 students enrolled in art, fine pieces of work were completed this year. In the fall students did outdoor sketching and still life studies. Figure drawing was also popular, along with art appreciation and the study of famous artists.

In art class, John Hood poses just right in the traditional Spanish style.

Future artists not only spend time designing their work but they have to display their finished products.

The art class display takes many hours of hard work.

FHS SCIENCE AND MATH STUDENTS

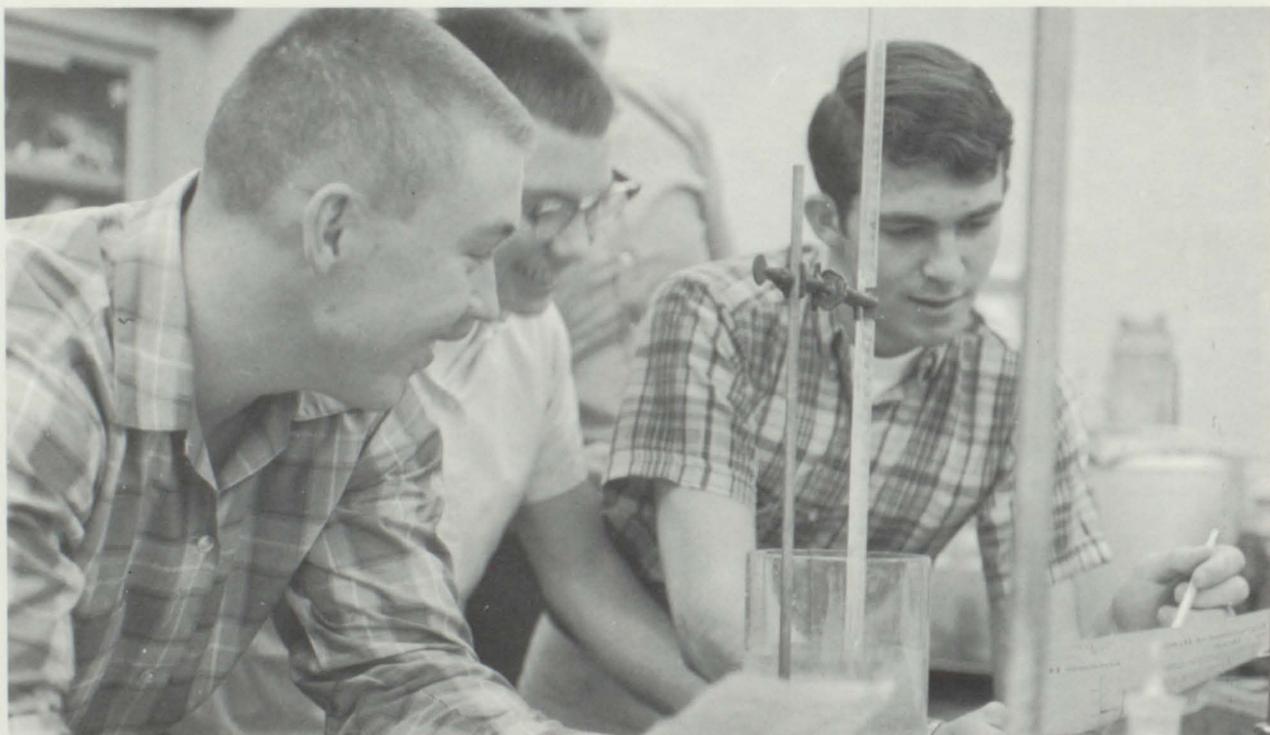

COMPETE

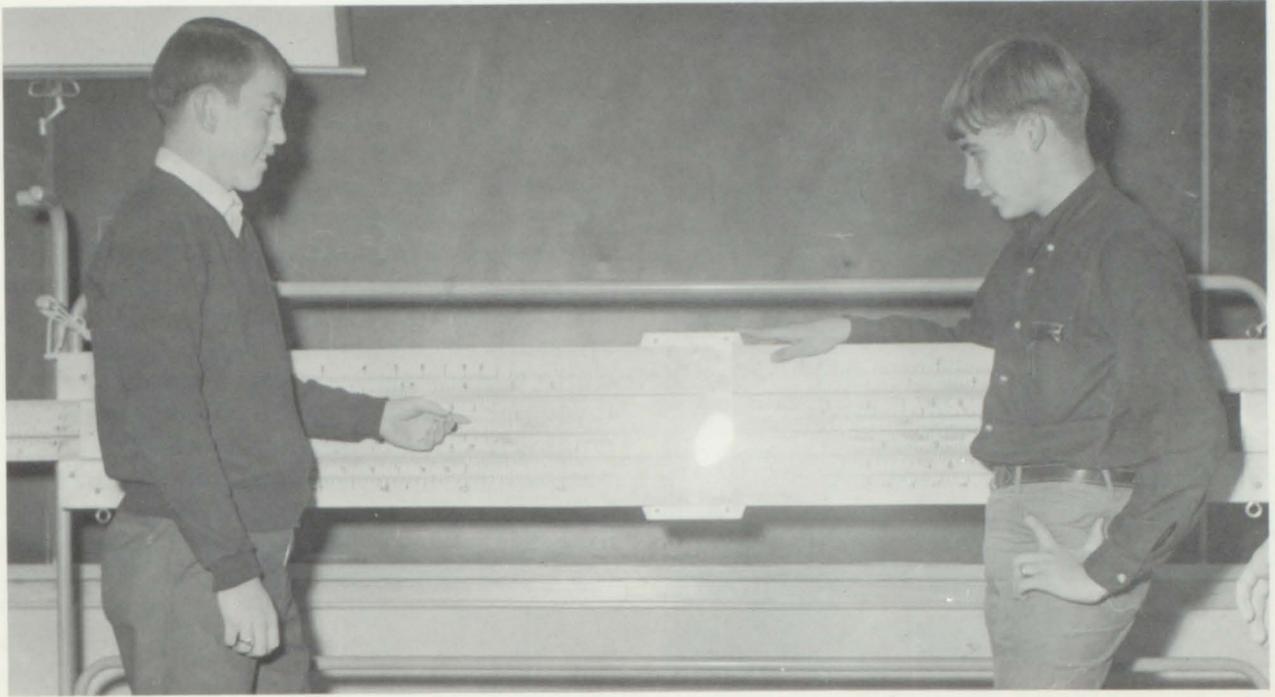

Electronic enthusiasts Jim Beck, Tom Naselroad, and Dan Fosnot check the amps current flow in a "do-it-yourself" capacitor as a part of their physics project.

Our future scientists and mathematicians prepared for their inherited scientific world this year. Freshman had a choice of general math or Algebra I, while sophomores struggled with geometry. Algebra II students were faced with the "new math" simplification methods. Those seniors with special interests in math advanced into trigonometry and calculus. With the adoption of new science books, chemistry, biology, and physics students ventured into a more detailed study of our scientific world. Chemistry turned out to be quite an expensive course for students with excessive equipment breakage and acid-eaten clothes. Lab sessions were more frequent for biology students where they were busy observing cells, and dissecting frogs, fish, and worms. Even though biology was required for sophomores, a group of Freshman on the college prep course took the biology instruction.

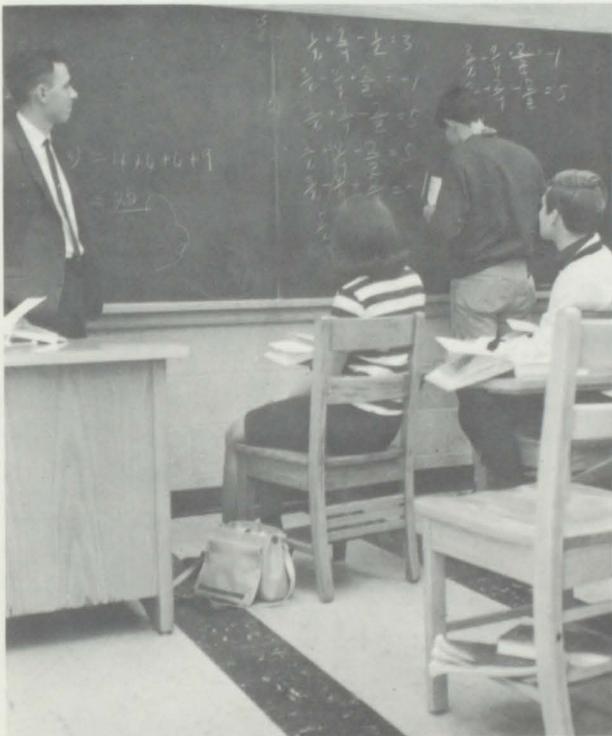

Future chemists Dave Pettigrew, Rick Pike, and Ron Sigler displace hydrogen over water in a eudiometer.

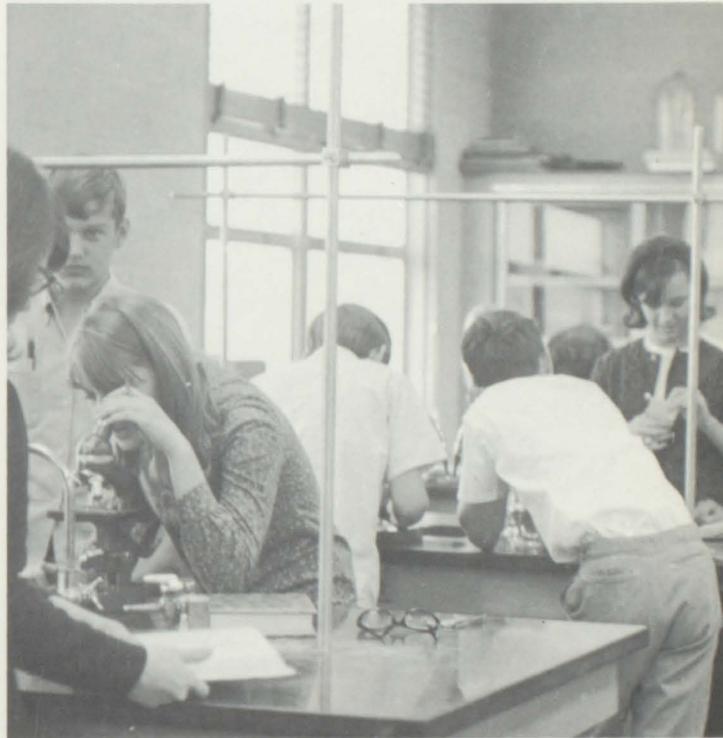

IN A HIGHLY-DEVELOPED WORLD

Mike Holder has a long way to go before he convinces Jerry Ehman that a slide rule is quicker in working problems.

Solving linear equations can be a long process according to Greg Wiggs, Algebra II student.

Microscopic studies of small plants prove to be intriguing to Biology students.

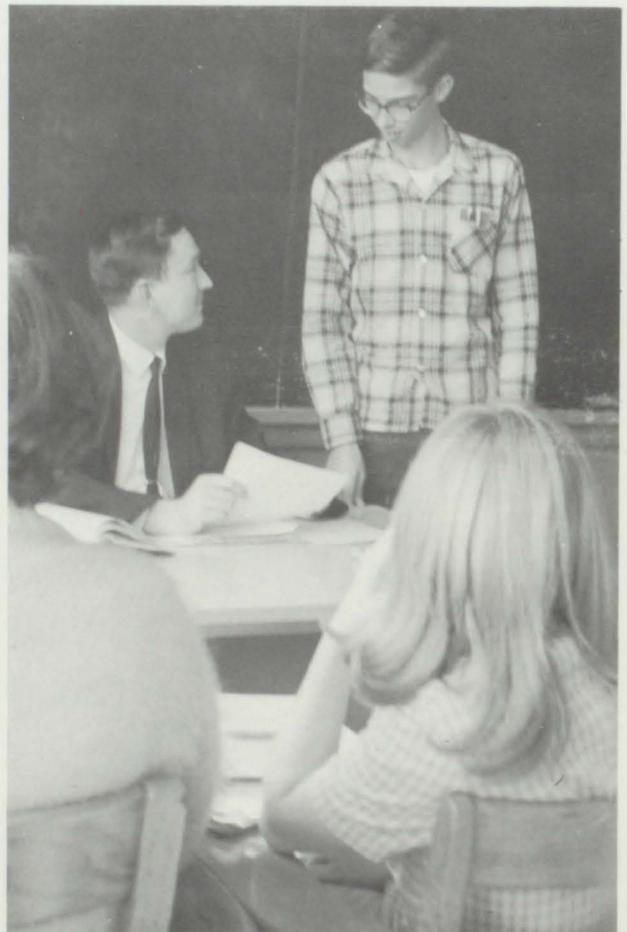

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN

FHA English classes were centered around composition and Modern and English Literature. Literature offered us an insight into our own problems. Reading good books gave us a better understanding of those around us. Classes were made more interesting by debates on questions aroused by Shakespeare, George Eliot, and Hawthorne. Grades nine and ten specialized in short themes and essays; while juniors and seniors struggled through research and the compiling of notes for their term papers. All the classes conducted public speaking that built up confidence in the students. Seniors had the privilege of announcing school news over the WBMP-FM radio station.

FHS library not only has books for leisure reading but also excellent resource materials. Janet Neese finds just what she needs for her term paper.

Senior English students presented the "Highlights of FHS" each day over the WBMP-FM radio station. Linda Vestal makes last minute changes before she goes on the air.

Dale Vancleave realizes now that little mistakes in composition can ruin the whole effect of a theme.

LANGUAGE BROADENS LINGUISTIC CURRICULUM

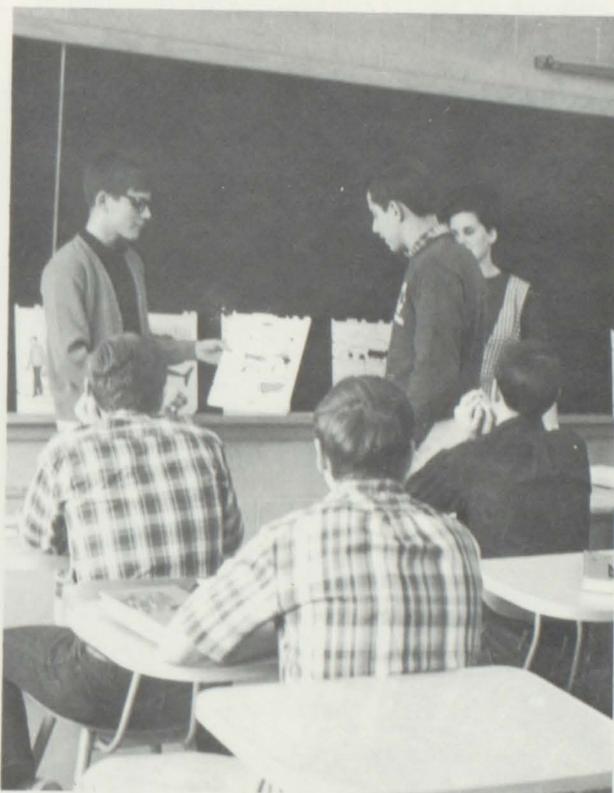

With the addition of German to our foreign language curriculum, FHS students had access to three foreign tongues. Latin I and II have been traditional at Frankton. Latin I students concentrated on the rules of declining Latin words and stressed the importance of the Latin-English derivatives; while Latin II students relived the Gallic Wars of Caesar through translations. Spanish has been at FHS for four years. Having obtained the basic principles of the language, the students conversed with each other with the aid of records and tapes. Students who visited Mexico last summer, shared their personal recollections of the Spanish people with their classmates. Instruction in German offered those students who had completed another language a new and challenging experience.

Reading "Life" and "Reader's Digest" in Spanish challenges the students and instructor Mrs. Harper.

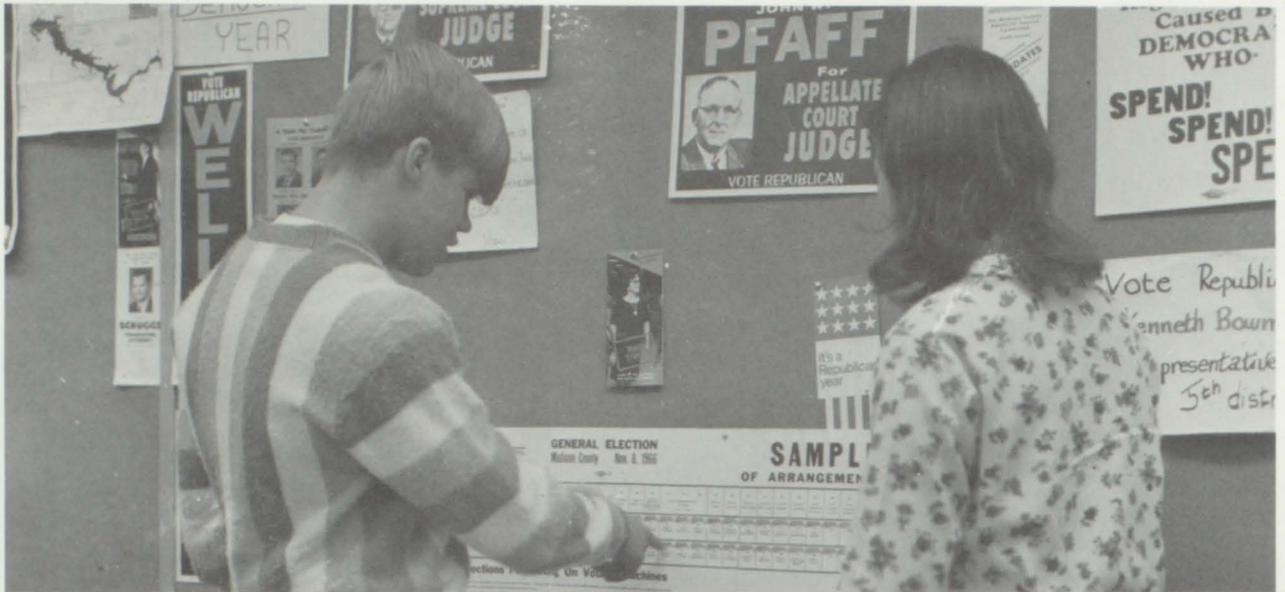

Debby Davis seems a bit puzzled about the signal carrier she is supposed to represent.

Practice makes perfect, as German students repeat their vowel sounds.

CONTINUATION OF DEMOCRACY STRESSED

Jeff Fike demonstrates how to split a ticket in the Nov. 8 elections; while Debbie Shively ponders over the candidates' qualifications.

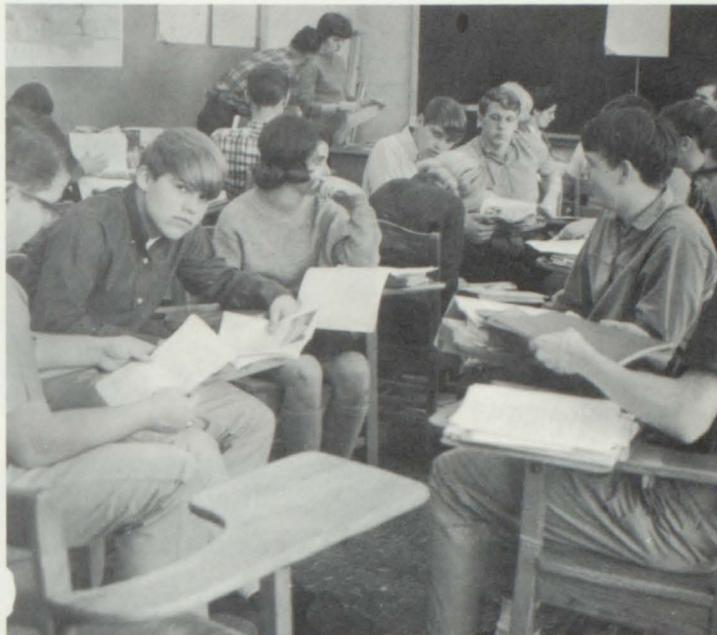

Terry Crull and Janice Lee clear up the troublesome spots in their income tax forms, before they hand in their final sample form.

Maps are an essential teaching aid, as Mrs. Barker shows Vickie Hiatt that tracing the Nazi aggression on a map is more effective.

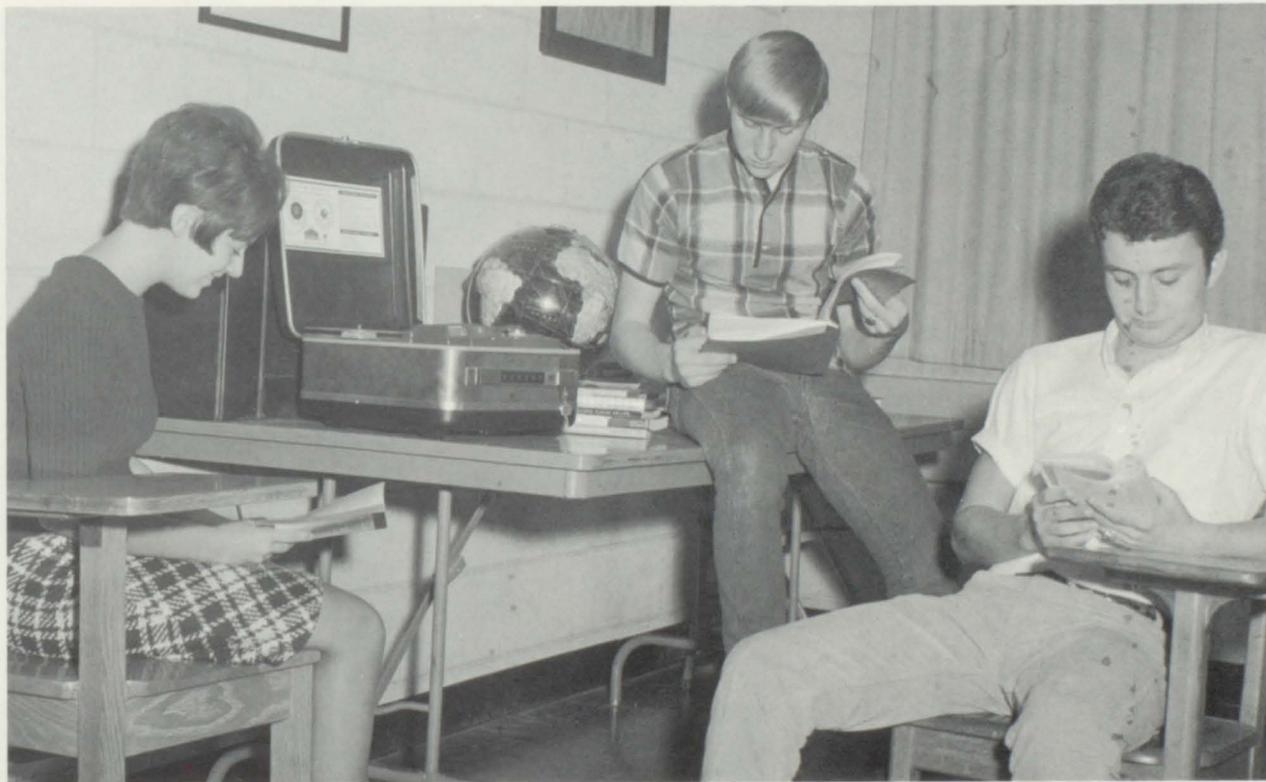

IN FHS SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASSES

Required for all juniors, U.S. History presented a knowledge of America's past and activated a lively interest in her future. For those who wished to sharpen up on the biographies of our nation's forefathers or America's part in the World Wars, extensive reading materials were available in the school library or instructor Lida Barker's personal book collection. Normal class routines were enlivened with historical skits, taped Supreme Court decisions, and turn-about days when a student became the teacher. Civics and economics, which the seniors studied one semester each, concentrated on the structure of both the national and state governments with emphasis placed on the economic system of the United States. Using TIME magazine as a supplementary text, sociology students were deeply aware of the national and international events.

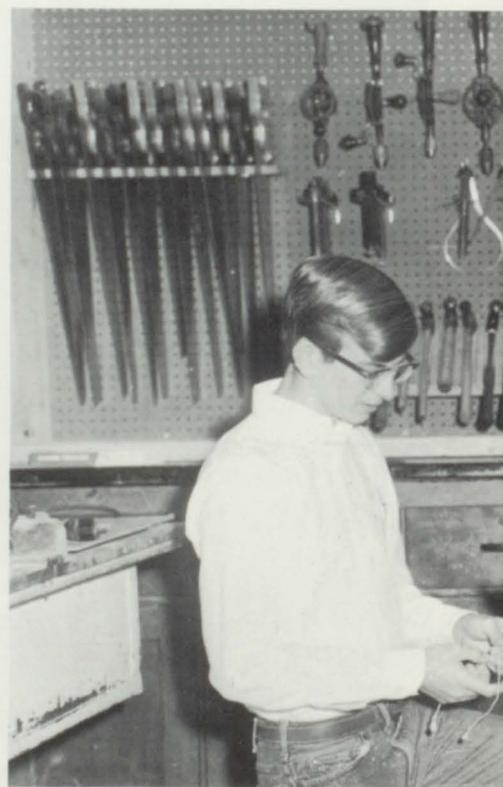

Committee work in Sociology class enables more material to be covered and a change of atmosphere for the students.

Marcia Kirby, Mike Davenport, and Dan Smith relive a Supreme Court decision with the aid of a tape recorder.

ORGANIZATIONS

As heirs we entered a world of conducting business ORGANIZATIONS. The organizations of FHS encouraged creativity of expression, development of appreciation, and expansion of interests among our students. With the tasks of enlivening the school's atmosphere to aiding the people of our community, our organizations functioned in many areas throughout the year. Because of the skills we have learned and the confidences we have cultivated in organizations, our heirs will be better leaders tomorrow.

FHS LEADERS GAIN RECOGNITION

Debbie Miller checks Tom Hervey's coat at the homecoming basketball game.

Induction into the Eureka Chapter of the National Honor Society is the highest honor bestowed upon a student at FHS. Students with a "B" average or above with a record of good character; a willingness to serve; and an ability to stand in the place of leadership were eligible for membership. The society sponsored the coat check for basketball games, hosted the annual open house, and conducted the spring awards program. Assuming the duties of a Roman slave, Becky Busby complies with the wishes of Sheela Whitten.

Membership in the Latina Societas was open to those students enrolled in the Latin classes and previous Latin students. Organized since 1958, the club has created interest and promoted scholarship among our Latin students. Christmas carols in Latin and plates of cookies were all a part of the club's Christmas Carol Party. In the spring, members dressed in Roman costumes, and attended the annual Roman Banquet. The coffee table at the basketball games was the club's money-making project. Under the leadership of president, Cindy Cooper; vice-president Carolyn Barker; secretary, Becky Horn; treasurer, Linda Davis; and sponsor Winifred Owens, meetings were centered around the Roman people.

NEW INTERESTS IN OUR WORLD . . .

The former Spanish Club and German students interested in the formation of their own club joined forces to create the Foreign Legion of F.H.S. President, Becky Wiggs and Sponsor, Mrs. Dana Harper centered the meetings of the club around the cultures and customs of the Spanish and German people. Vice-president, Jerry House, secretary, Connie McClelland, and treasurer, Mary Jane Hervey assisted the president in the activities of the club. Sponsoring a record-hop following the Windfall-FHA game, a Christmas party, and a Spring outing were the projects of the Legion for the year.

A Soc-Hop always means that each person attending shall be properly marked. Ron Sigler whoops it up as he awaits the "branding."

THE INDIANA JUNIOR HISTORICAL SOCIETY provided an opportunity for students interested in local, state, and national history to share their knowledge. Indiana history was emphasized this year by president, Tom Bauner, vice-president, Carolyn Barker, secretary, Cherie Welch, treasurer, Jerry House, and Sgt-at-arms, Jackie McCord. A "Graveyard Search" and a spring social event with a Roaring 20's theme highlighted the club's activities.

MATH, I.J.H.S., AND F.T.A. STUDENTS

The Radicals better known as the Math Club was formed in 1964 and has been open to all students who have completed first year algebra. President, Kelley McClelland, vice-president, Jackie McCord, secretary-treasurer, Debbie Shively, and sponsor, Doris Waymire coordinated the meetings around the use of the slide rule, probability, and computers.

WIDEN THEIR SCOPE OF KNOWLEDGE

The Future Teachers of America affiliated with the I.S.T.A. and N.E.A. has been in existence at FHS since 1962. This year each one of the twenty members journeyed to the Grade school once a week for four months to observe and participate in their chosen field of education. Meetings centered around the teaching professions were conducted by Mike Clear, president; Bob Back, Vice-president; secretary, Nancy Busby; and treasurer, Steve Poe; Mrs. Marjorie Andrew assisted the members with helpful teaching aids.

FUTURE LIBRARIANS, FARMERS

Since the fall of 1959 there has been a Library club; however, in 1962 the name "Magliabecchi" was chosen for the club in honor of Antoni Magliabecchi, librarian to the Grand Duke of Tuscang. Eight student library assistants were busy throughout the year improving the library service of the school and stimulating more reading interests among our students and faculty. In the spring, the club planned special activities for National Library Week. Miss Emma Alspaugh, head librarian, assisted Pat Knauer, president, Rose Drake, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer Marilyn Lucas with the activities of the club.

Miss Alspaugh can always be found in the library assisting our students. Steve Davenport and Dan Bennett confer with the dictionary just to be sure.

club's programs. Activities were formulated by president, Janice Lee, vice-president, Linda Swan, secretary, Jan Heniser, treasurer, Linda Cawthorne, hostesses, Linda Blaylock, June Billbrey, and sgt.-at-arms, Carolyn Bell.

Upon popular demand of students interested in nursing and the allied health fields, a Health Careers Club was organized in May of 1966. Officers elected were president, Jackie McCord, vice-president, Bobby Wiggs, secretary, Debbie Davis, and treasurer, Peggy Johnson. Mrs. Marjorie Andrew, faculty sponsor, and Mrs. Ruth Bahler, school nurse, guided the group in its activities. The girls have adopted a patient at Muscatuck State Hospital in Butlerville, Indiana. Each week the members took turns writing and sending gifts to him. The girls also donated their spare time to the Red Cross and T.B. Society by serving on their committees.

SCHOOL PAPER INFORMS STUDENTS

The publication of the HI-LITES gave the advanced typing class experience in gathering, writing, and processing news for typing on a stencil and then using the ink duplicator as the final step. Karen Drake, editor, Wanda Baldwin, artist, Juanita Burchett, printer, and advisor Mr. David Bartlow assisted by thirty reporters, published six issues of the paper.

Juanita Burchett and Dave Cloud are busy running off the final sheets of the paper; while Ron Covington gets a quick glance at the final copy.

J. Shrock, W. Baldwin, G. Voss, K. Adams, S. Cramer, and R. Covington seem to be quite amused at this issue's gossip.

Staff members J. Lee, K. Drake, C. Hertle, K. Jones, C. Bush, J. Smith, L. Swan, T. Di Ruzzi, P. Cox, C.

Bell, S. Richardson prepare to distribute their first issue of the Hi-lite.

YEARBOOK STAFF POSITIONS

Solicitors for the 1967 EAGLITE were: FRONT ROW-- Jerry House, Debbie Miller, Pat Knauer, Nancy Busby, Mr. Nash; SECOND ROW-- Tom Bauner, Brenda Hutcheson, Linda Davis, Sheela Whitten, Debbie

Davis; THIRD ROW-- Mike Holder, Becky Conklin, Sandy Fisher, Mary Canfield was a solicitor also but was absent when the picture was taken.

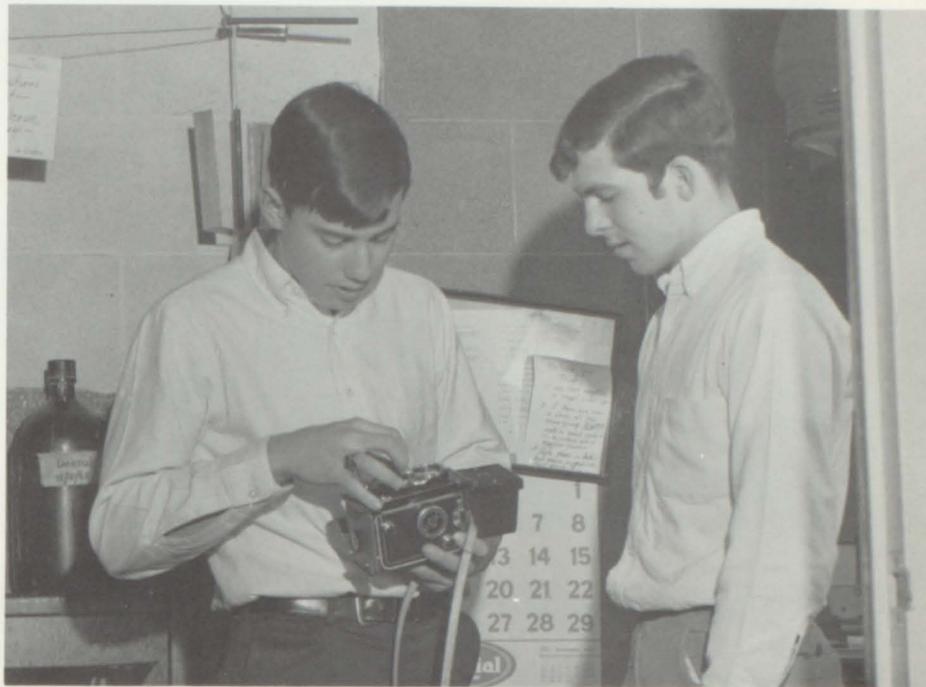

Gregg Wiggs, Chief photographer and Jackie McCord, Editor-in-chief of the 1967 EAGLITE prepare to return home after two weeks of intense study at Indiana University.

Debbie Miller, Business Manager, and Pat Knauer, Subscription Manager, check the Eaglite account with Advisor, Sterrett Nash.

HEIGHTEN STUDENT INTERESTS

The publication of the 1967 EAGLITE marked the 18th Volume at FHS. Much time and effort was displayed by not only the staff members but those who weren't listed as staff members. Staff members started preparing in early summer for the long road that was ahead of them. Jackie McCord and Gregg Wiggs attended the Yearbook Institute at Indiana University during the month of July; while Gregg Wiggs, Jerry House, Ron Sigler, and Sterrett Nash attended the N.S.P.A. Convention over Thanksgiving vacation. Solicitors began their work in the month of July and continued through September.

Taking pictures for their favorite publication is both a privilege and a joy to staff photographers Gregg Wiggs and Ron Sigler.

Staff members for the 1967 Eaglite are Shella Whitten, Sophomore editor; Jackie McCord, Editor-in-chief; Donna Lucus, Freshman editor; Nancy Busby, Senior editor; Debby Davis, Sophomore editor; Jerry House, Associate editor; and Bob Lee, Freshman editor. Gene Voss served as sports editor.

SPORTS

The dreams of becoming a champion can never be fully realized until the athlete is willing to do more than what is asked of him. He must be willing to run that extra lap or refuse that piece of chocolate cake. But most important, he must be willing to give 100% effort at all times. Whether the athlete is winning or losing, his effort must be constant. A true champion is so acclaimed not by an impressive list of victories but by his performances his very best effort at all times.

The value of sports is not determined by winning or losing, but by what the individual athlete gets from the sport. He is taught not to strive for victory alone, but for sportsmanship, fair play, and a better understanding of his fellow teammates. When these traits are learned, the average athlete becomes above average and is on his way to becoming a champion.

At Frankton High School the coaches endeavor to teach the boys the value of sports. The young ball clubs are steadily improving. The coaches have perfected the teams into co-ordinated units.

Not only are the young sportsmen striving at Frankton. From behind the sound of crunching popcorn and gurgling cokes come the muffled voices of the spirited student body. Win or lose, these voices are backing the teams.

The champions at Frankton are the coaches, teams, teachers, and the student body.

The athletes were off to a good start this year as they brought home many impressive victories to F.H.S.

YOUNG RUNNERS

With the setting sun casting shadows from the back, Bob Ayres and Roger Davis, FHS runners, lead the pack in the Hamilton Heights Meet to bring a second victory of the season to the team . . .

Ron Sigler demonstrates the speed and determination which won for him this year's "Most Valuable Runner" award.

In Coach Ted Harbit's first year as Varsity Cross Country Coach, the Eagles ran their way to a respectable record of three wins and nine losses. The team did defeat arch rival Alexandria by a score of 19 to 38. This year's team was composed of young boys. Standouts were Freshman Bob Ayres, Most Valuable Runner Ron Sigler, and Captain Gene Voss. The team looks forward to next year with a lot of enthusiasm.

Over hill and dale, bridges, etc., Cross Country teams never want for a sameness in scenery when they are involved in either practice or meet . . .

PACE CROSS COUNTRY TEAM.

The EAGLES 1966 Varsity Cross Country Team was held by FRONT ROW: Bob Ayres, Ron Sigler, Bruce Singer, Wilf Alexander, Roger Davis. SECOND ROW:

Coach Ted M. Harbit, Gene Voss, Tom Baumer, Randy Ashton, Manager, Steve Humphries.

A "lucky ladder" holds four CHEERful misses: Cindy Hertle, Janie Hervey, Bobbie Wiggs, and Beckie Wiggs--Varsity cheerleaders.

EAGLES BOUNCE BACK AS SCHOOL

With the return of five varsity starters, the Eagle basketball team, under the watchful eye of Coach Paul Davis, improved greatly upon the record of the 1966-67 season.

Although luckless in WRC play with only two wins and five losses the team showed their strength against those from outside the conference.

The Eagles lose Ashton, Bauner, Johnson, Miller, and Voss by graduation but hope to see victories next year with the addition of Junior Varsity men in the line-up in addition to the five returning varsity men who remain.

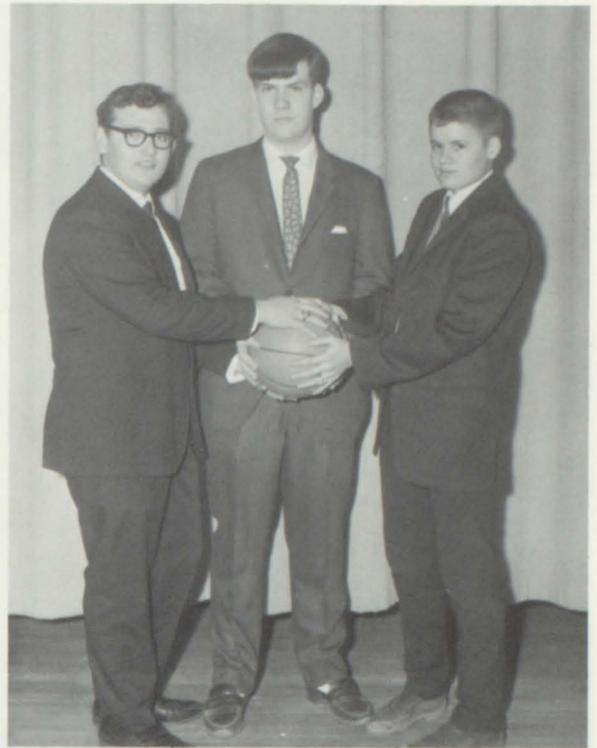

Although not the only sport at FHS, basketball sparks perhaps more interest than some largely because of the great amount of action involved. A lively pep group, a rousing band, plus energetic coaches and team members gave the crowds all of the excitement they needed each game.

Another candid by Burris caught men lined up as for the game of "hand-e-over" as Ashton fakes before attempting a shot from the side.

The Junior Varsity team had the loyal backing of cheerleaders Jan Heniser, Becky Horn, and Connie McClelland.

With a record of 9 wins to their credit as this copy goes to press, the Junior Varsity team was the envy of the other teams. Prospects for the '67-'68 year look good.

Spirit was unlimited with the Freshman cheerleaders Ann Bogard, Cathy Hertle, and Ruth Altherr.

Tall opposition did not discourage Mike Blackford as he jumps high to get the tip in the Mississenewa Junior Varsity Game.

GOOD RECORD

THE FRESHMAN SQUAD was composed of Keith Simmons, Gary Hobbs, Bob Ayres, Dennis Trice, John Tomey, David Benefiel, Gary Hosier, and Coach Ted M. Harbit.

Taking the decision of the ref graciously is a valuable part of the experience in basketball.

A high jump and Ashby lays the "big egg" right in the basket.

Sheward just grits his teeth and stays right in the fight for what he thinks is right.

BASKETBALL MAKES

Ron Miller and Wilf Alexander fail to see the humor in the attempt of the opposition to hide the ball and make haste to get the ball back into play.

An outstanding jump shot by Johnson netted two more points for the Eagles.

Making the right move at the right time and keeping the eyes on the object--the ball--made the difference between a win and loss in the game pictured above.

LIVELY BOYS MEN . . .

When we say "time out!" we want time out. This candid by Sigler was snapped at the right moment for no fouls were called and the men were up before the crowd was aware of what had happened.

Dave Benefiel, freshman, lays up another shot to help the "little Eagles" have a successful year.

The Frankton track and field team, coached by Bill Brown, again enjoyed a successful season. The Eagles' cindermen downed eight regular season opponents while losing to only four. The team also placed third in the Pendleton Invitational, third in the Frankton Relays, and fifth in the White River Conference meet.

Outstanding performances were turned in by hurdler Randy Ashton and sprinter Gene Voss. With a nucleus of returning lettermen and stand-outs from a fine reserve team, the Eagles are looking forward to another successful season in the spring of 1967.

Davis pushes a victory in the two mile run.

FHS TRACKMEN RACE WAY

Sigler and Bauner get a good handoff as the clock ticks off the time.

A few last winks between events may have helped at the WRC Meet.

Ashton displays the form which earned for him the honor of being the two time conference hurdling champ.

Alvey concentrates on the bar before clearing it at 10 feet.

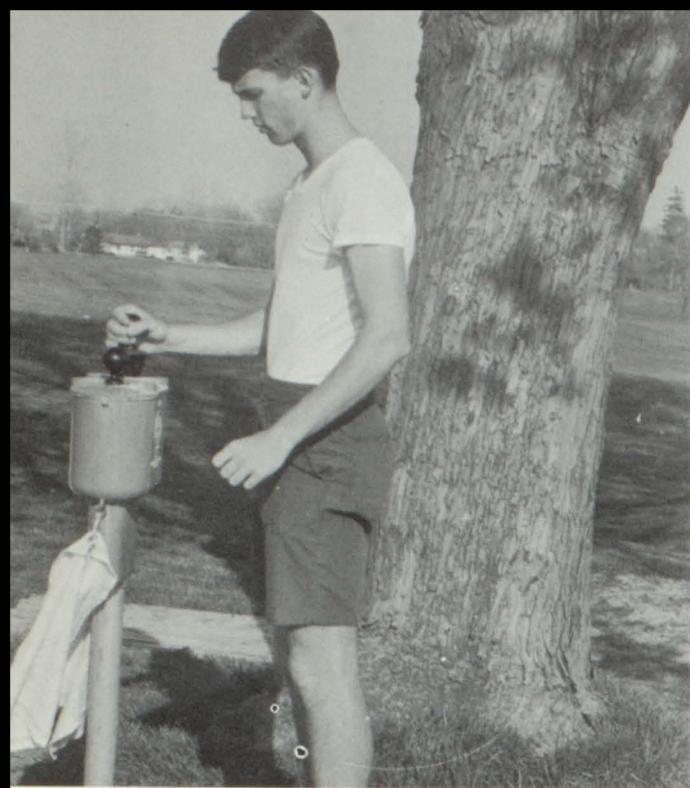

TO SUCCESSFUL SEASON

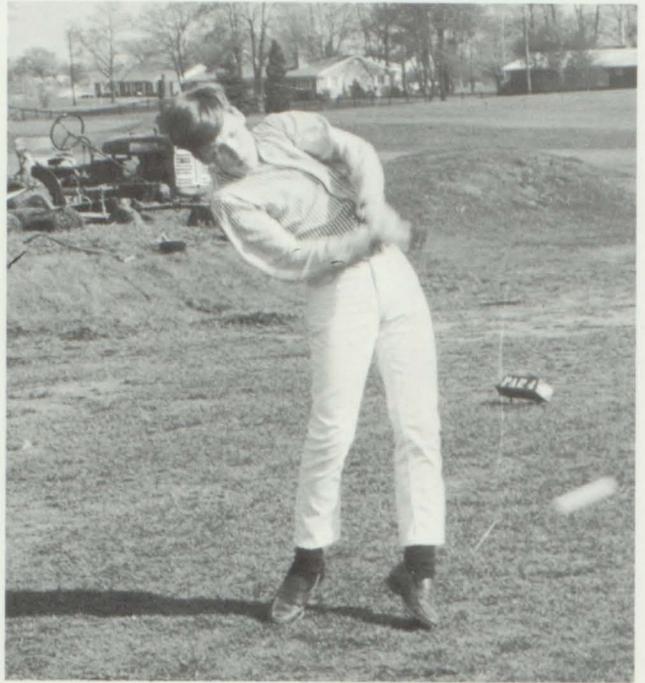

McClelland shows his style and form as he pulls down a blue ribbon in the broad jump.

Johnson pushes the "shot" to a large victory.

Tom Bauner, senior member of the team, prepares for a victory at the first "T" by getting the "pellets" clean and shiney.

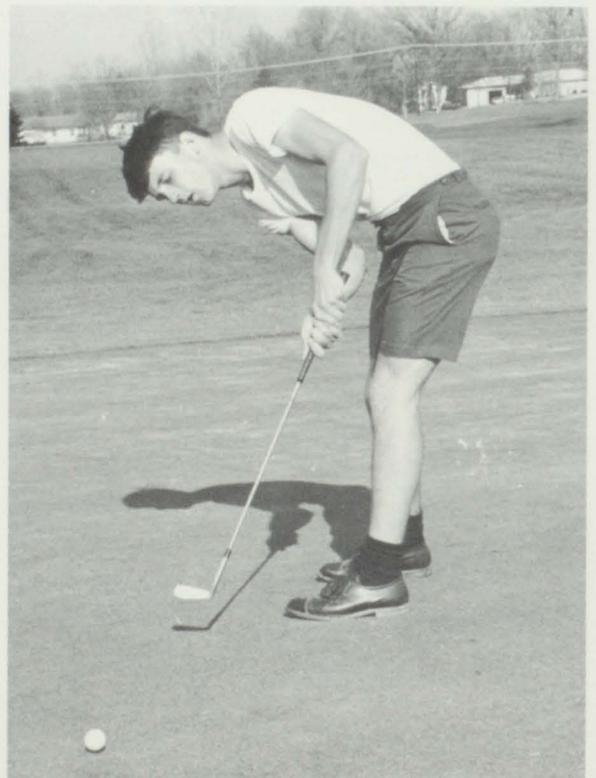

Jerry House displays his "ability," or is it "form," as he tees off for a Par 4.

GOLF TEAM BRINGS SEASON TO CLOSE WITH A 6 WIN

The Eagles' golf team showed a decided improvement over previous years at FHS.

Coach David Bartlow had the pleasure of seeing the golf team defeat Lapel in two meets with scores of 6 1/2 to 3 1/2 and 9 1/2 to 5 1/2. Frankton also edged White River Conference rivals Markleville and Yorktown. The 1966 team was sparked by Mike Hannah, George Altherr, Tom Bauner, and Jerry House.

Golf will be shelved for a time at FHS, however, the fellows hope to see it again added to the sports agenda in a very short time.

Bauner "teases" the ball to get his par.

House attempts to get on the green after teeing off.

4 LOSS RECORD . . .

Having a lovely caddy, or is it "caddette," in this case makes for a smooth and easy afternoon of golf for teammates Mike Hannah and Tom Bauner when they have the services of Becky Wiggs and Debbie Miller.

A little "pep talk" from the top man was just what the team needed.

BASEBALL

Strike! Kerry Hiatt, a junior gives the umpire something about which to yell.

Roger Ashby was safe at home but only by a narrow margin.

Swifty Remington makes it safe to first in spite of the fact that the baseman reaches high for the catch.

The Eagles 1966 baseball team, though finishing with an unimpressive record of six wins and twelve losses, displayed a great amount of ability and desire. During the season the Eagles were both a hot and a cold team. They seemed to have trouble pulling out the close games as was shown by the records. In more than one instance, the Eagles were edged out in the last few innings of play. They failed to score at opportune times in the Markleville and Middletown games. A "heart-breaker" that could have found either team winning was the see-saw affair between FHS and Pendleton.

Looking back over the season at the close games with the thought that there are a large number of underclassmen returning, including Wilf Alexander, All-Conference catcher, Coach Paul Davis anticipates a fine 1967 season.

TEAM STRIKES OUT FOR A 6 WON— 12 LOSS SEASON . . .

1966 Summer Baseball Team was made up of FRONT ROW: Manager Tom Pruitt, Phil Webb, Larry Davis, Mark Wiggs, Doug Holder, Rick Pike, Dallas Canfield,

PERSONALITIES

The people at FHS have brightened the halls and molded the spirit of our school. These people are the seniors--who are now the leaders of our school and tomorrow the leaders of our nation, the juniors and sophomores--who are inching their way up the ladder of success, and the freshmen--who are braving their new world with high hopes. The faculty and personnel are the people we all admire and respect for they are preparing us for our inherited world. With four years of friendly experience behind them, our heirs will be able to enjoy their lives in a modern world.

The people that made up the Frankton High Faculty this year were a devoted and highly-experienced group. To many the life of a teacher included classroom instruction, sponsoring the newly-organized club, and guiding the students down the right path. Outside of school, the lives of our teachers changed somewhat. Several faculty members were also expanding their educations. A stranger might be surprised to some of our faculty members driving a tractor, painting a house, or tinkering with a race car. A faculty member was a parent who played baseball with his children or surprised her family with a new cake recipe. The life of a faculty member was full of travel: from each coast of the United States, to south of the border, and across the wide oceans. The faculty members of FHS had many outside interests and hobbies often times sharing them with the students of Frankton High.

DEDICATED SCHOOL PERSONNEL

Our sixteen bus drivers, Marion Thomas, Ronnie Smith, John Nance, Bill Wiggs, Ralph Drake, Harold Ebert, Ray Mills, Arthur Drake, Elmer Murffin, Bill

Spoo, Leonard Dickinson, Lester Litsey, George Welborn, Joe Smith, Austin Mays, and Richard Fox stop for a breather before delivering our students.

Making sure the building stays clean as a pin is Custodian Carl Henderson.

Our matron, Mrs. Lona Henderson, performs many varied tasks for the benefit of FHS.

AID FHS STUDENTS

The school personnel of FHS worked in many capacities this year for the benefit of our school and students. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henderson have been the custodians ever since the high school was built. With the task of keeping the school and school grounds spotless, the couple spent many long hours working after everyone had gone home. Our four cooks prepared the noon lunches served in the cafeteria and brightened everyone's day with their smiling faces. New to the position of District School Nurse, Mrs. Ruth Bahler made sure all of our students were in good health by conducting the TB, vision, and hearing tests. FHS students from Pipecreek, Lafayette, and Jackson Townships were transported to and from school by sixteen bus drivers. Some of our drivers spent extra time driving booster buses.

Mrs. Ruth Bahler, school nurse checks the students off as they receive their TB tests.

Edith Waymire, Selma Huth, Alberta Land, and Pearl Whetsel prepare a tasty lunch for National School Lunch Week.

ALPINE SYSTEM

ADVERTISING

In our expanding world, progress is being felt throughout our school area as the boundaries begin to bulge with increased population--housing developments--super highways--shopping areas--etc. Even the once well-defined "city limits" have crept until one can scarcely tell when he leaves one shopping area and arrives at another. For that reason, we must say that the shopping districts for the people of Frankton are just extensions of our own MAIN STREET.

What makes a more nearly perfect trio than a new car, Jim Borum, and Jim Burger? Whether it is an O.K. Used Car from the lot or a new one from their wide selection from which to choose, you can't go wrong when it is a car from

"What do you know about automation?"

First came the adding machine . . . then the computer. Thus passed the bookkeeper with his green eye shade, high stool and heavy handwritten ledgers.

Yes, automation has reduced the tedious labor of keeping the records of business.

Automation creates more jobs than it destroys.

It's the free enterprise way and has given us the highest standard of living in the world and the greatest degree of individual freedom.

At I&M automated methods have enabled us to provide many more new jobs, improve our methods of generating and delivering electricity and provide our customers with improved, low-cost electric service in the bargain.

Which circle is darker?

Sure. You could make a guess. With a 50-50 chance of being right.

But you know that success, in this age of science, takes more than guesswork. It takes careful observations. Accurate comparisons. Logical analysis. Sound deduction. These are traits we value at our new Engineering and Research center in Anderson—and we have the tools to implement them.

For instance, if a real closeup of something is desirable, we pop it under our electronic microscope and magnify it up to 200,000 diameters. If we want to analyze materials for their metallic elements, we use a spectrograph, accurate to a few parts in a million. These help us in designing new ignition systems for cars. Or control devices for missiles. Or a new kind of generator.

Look us up, after college, if you think you'll be at home in our field. Right back home in Indiana.

(Oh, yes, if you used your scientific insight and folded the page to compare the circles, you discovered the answer.)

With the deadlines all met and the material all in, Jackie McCord presents Jerry House with the working materials for the 68 EAGLITE.

On behalf of the EAGLITE staff, I would like to extend my appreciation to those people who have made this publication possible. Credit goes to Mr. Bill Wright, American Yearbook representative; Mr. and Mrs. Forkner of Elite Studio; and Mr. Doyle Fox of Delmar Studio. To the faculty and administration of FHS, thank you for the cooperation you have displayed to our staff. To the businessmen of Frankton and surrounding communities, I thank you for your continued support. I personally want to thank Mr. Sterrett L. Nash, Eaglite advisor, for the many hours he has devoted to this publication; photographers, assistant editors, typists, and advertising solicitors. Finally my appreciation goes to you, the reader, for without your continued interest in this publication, there would be no purpose for the EAGLITE.
