THE EAGLITE STAFF

The Eaglite is published yearly as a class project of the seniors. The staff is largely made up of seniors, however, it is not necessarily limited to members of that group. Juniors are called in to assist and thus get experience for their publication.

For the past six years Sterrett L. Nash of the English department has served in the capacity of faculty advisor for the Eaglite. Mr. Nash chooses the staff from those of the student body who have exhibited an interest and a willingness to give hours of their time to make the book a success.

FOREWORD AND APPRECIATION

In keeping with tradition, the Eaglite Staff presents this yearbook to the students, parents, teachers, and friends of Frankton High School.

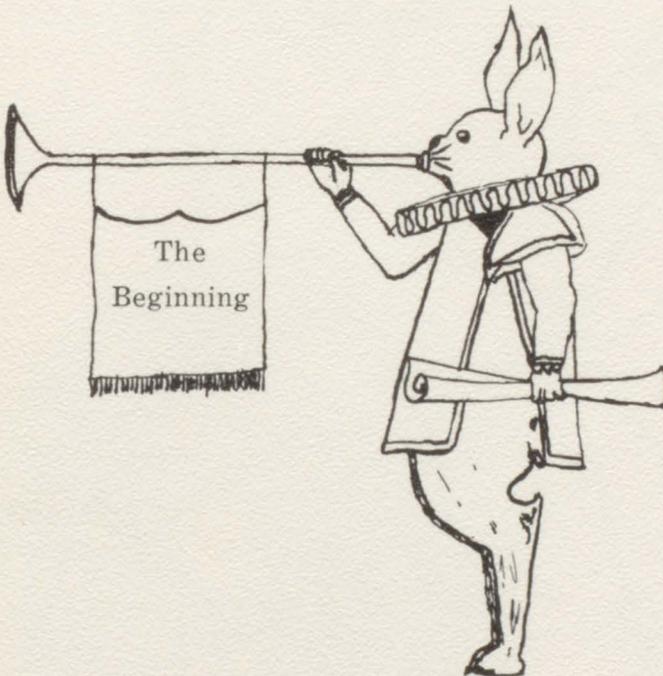

It has been our intention to present a few highlights of our school in picturebook form, that you, the reader, might be reminded of, or remember the happy days which you have spent in the halls of dear old Frankton High.

We, the Seniors of Frankton High School, dedicate this 1955 EAGLITE to our parents, who have through their efforts and perhaps sacrifice, made it possible for us to realize this our first objective — graduation from Frankton High School.

THEME

We all have taken trips in our minds
through make-believe lands, where all the strange things we can imagine take place.

Here is the story of the adventure of a girl named Alice in her wonderland.

We, the Editorial Staff of the 1955 Eaglite, wish to extend our apologies to Lewis Carroll, Alice, and all the inhabitants of her Wonderland.

"It's funny," said Alice, "how different people can be. Now, I don't see what good a book is without pictures and identifications. Ho Hummm...I guess I'll take a walk to see what I can see."

WE SALUTE OUR SPONSORS

Being a class sponsor is no easy task. Class sponsoring, a job in itself, is one of those "in-addition-to" tasks which is inherited by faculty members.

Teachers are selected for sponsorships by the principal on the basis of past records as a sponsor, prospects for becoming a good sponsor, etc. The initial assignment is made when a new class moves into the seventh grade. As the class progresses, that sponsor or sponsors as is now the case, moves right along with the class, directing the activities, giving advice where needed, curbing plans that are not for the well-being of the entire group, chaperoning class parties, etc.

We as students do not always realize the long hours spent by our sponsors in arranging the many activities connected with a class, especially a senior class — Junior-Senior banquets, class trips, markets, class plays, annual publication, etc.

"Muff" Davis and Erlynn Saathoff heads of boys' and girls' physical education departments respectively, have served us as sponsors for several years.

Even though members of the class did not always agree on every point among themselves, the class joins in agreeing that Muff and Erlynn have done a "bang-up" job of coordinating our activities with a minimum of misunderstanding, and it is to them the

that we give this salute. . . .

CLASS OF 55 HISTORY

The class of 1955 started as students the fall of 1942. Our first grade teacher was Mrs. Kimmerling, who started us on our way to education, and the hope of becoming Seniors. Other teachers who helped us attain our goal in grade school were (in succession) Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. Antrim, Mrs. Etchison, and Mrs. Wright to whom we are all grateful.

Then came the 7th and 8th grades. To us this was a real experience. Things were so different, getting to classes on time, changing to different teachers, and trying to keep up with the upper-class-men made us feel important. Choosing our class officers and having Sponsors assigned was a thrill to us. Our sponsors, were and still are Erlynn Saathoff and Mulford Davis who have stayed true blue to us through our Jr. High and High School Days.

In our Freshmen year our class was enlarged by students from surrounding schools. Our class officers were: Pres. Mary Graham, Vice Pres. Phil Harvey, Sec. and Treas. Jerry Jackson, Bus. Mgr. Harold Kennedy. We sold pop-corn and potato chips. In our Sophomore year, officers were as follows: Pres. Patty Henderson, Vice Pres. Larry Canaday, Sec. Judy Heller, Treas. Gertie Fields, Bus. Mgr. Jim Beamer. We all took our turns at selling candy and looked forward to the day when we received our "class rings."

The "Highlites" in our Junior year were receiving our cardinal red and white sweaters, and giving our Junior Play, "Love Is In The Air." Class officers were: Pres. Jim Beamer, Vice Pres. Larry Canaday, Sec. Judy Heller, Treas. Larry Welborn, and Bus. Mgr. Bill Holder. Our "pop" machines were kept busy.

Our Senior year, with our goal closer at hand — we started working hard — first on our class play, "Inner Willy," which was given on October 8. This year we sold ice cream. Our Senior Class Officers were: Pres: Jim Beamer, Vice Pres. O. V. Truex, Sec. Patty Henderson, Treas. Kaye Boyle, Bus. Mgr. Bill Holder. As the year wore on and we ordered our invitations and caps and gowns, we realized graduation was near. On April 22, to April 30, we visited Williamsburg, Washington D. C., and New York on our long awaited Senior Trip. Baccalaureate was held on May 15, and Commencement followed on May 19. These then have been the steps used to attain our goal — "Graduation from Frankton High School."

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The music department of Frankton High School, under the direction of Miss Evelynne Dreger, participated in many programs throughout the year.

The Robed Choir participated in the County Choral Festival, Musicalities, and the Christmas program. Six members from the Robed Choir attended the State Choral Festival at Indianapolis.

The band is also quite active. They played at ballgames, pep sessions, and Christmas programs. They also marched in the Santa Clause parade at Anderson and at the Frankton Harvest Festival. The band played at Delco Remy and at the band contest.

Barbara Smith

Barbara and Judy enjoyed a week at Indiana University on June 27 through July 4. Upon arrival they were put into separate cities and from these cities, the 780 girls that attended Girls' State from Indiana, created a mythical state government. Barbara was sponsored by The American Legion Auxiliary of May Berry Post No. 469. Judy was sponsored by the Frankton Parent Teachers' Association.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was organized in the Frankton High School one year ago on popular demand of the student body. The chief purpose of the council is not governing but to coordinate student faculty relationships.

Last year the council inaugurated the Birthday Party idea and carried out their plans perfectly. The party held near the close of the school year was a success. The monitors appointed by the council proved to be very helpful. The monitors help to direct and control traffic in halls, check passes, run errands, etc.

In their 1954-55 basketball season, the Frankton Eagles made quite a record. High scores surprised even the larger teams of the county. After suffering set-backs because of illness among team members, the team made a comeback early in the year 1955 defeating Markleville by a score of 82 to 71. Fans nearly fell off their seats when the scores began to soar with Frankton scoring as high as 97 points in the game with Pendleton.

When Frankton scored 80 points in a game against Elwood with their 86 points, Anderson sectional fans began to wonder just what they might expect. That score with a similar one at Alex, 60-55 Alex brought new hope to Eagle fans.

At this writing, as the Eaglite goes to press, even the Anderson Indians, whom we play in the sectional meet, are stewing a bit.

Eighteen games in regular schedule were played with four wins against fourteen losses.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Athletic games in Frankton High School are not limited to boys. The girls in physical education find time to play a great number of very interesting games along with the regular gym work.

Much of the credit for a good cheering section for the basketball teams can be attributed to the work of members of this organization.

Mrs. Saathoff, in addition to a full schedule of classroom teaching, finds time to devote to the various activities connected with girls' athletics and physical education.
