Sophomore Amanda Casas cheers loudly with her class during the spirit competition in the pep rally. "I think that when people cheer it makes you want to play hard for your school," explained Amanda.

Seniors Sara Stephenson and Kory Gipson take a break from dancing at the Fall Fantasy Ball and get refreshments. The ball was sponsored by the cheerleaders, and this year was the first time it was held.

The yearbook staff stops for a pose at a nearby cornfield for a picture. The cornfield played a big role in the theme of the yearbook because the school is surrounded by corn.

Before the homecoming wagon race begins, Sophomore C.J. Rodgers gets his plunger ready. For most people in the race, it was the first time they used a plunger for more than just a toilet.

All excited for the game, the junior Powder Puff team stops for a group picture. The coach of the team, Brad Austin, said, "I was really proud of the way the girls played. We may not have won, but we tried our damndest. We just played too rough."

Senior Josh Carey and Junior Kyle Van Matre get a little intimate at the pep rally. In the licorice competition, the players were to eat licorice until they kiss the person on the other side, which turned out to be one of their teammates.

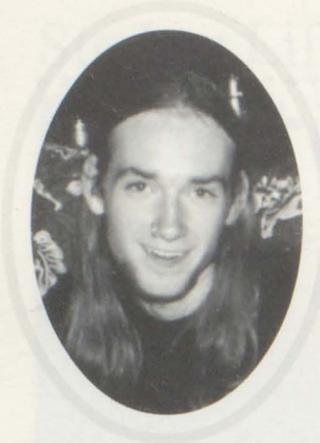

While cheering for the Argylls on Dome Day, the Pep Club members find time to smile for the camera. They made the shirts that they are wearing the night before the game in Miss Harbin's room.

Homecoming

"I like to make fun of all the outfits that everyone wears during homecoming week."

-Junior Jesse Johnson

"Homecoming week is fun for me because I get to stay after school until 8:00 p.m. every night."

-Senior Amanda Tomlinson

"Homecoming week is fun for me because it's a bonding experience between me and my peers."

-Senior Andrea Davis

"What I like most about homecoming week is acting crazy at school and the football games, dressing up, that sort of thing".

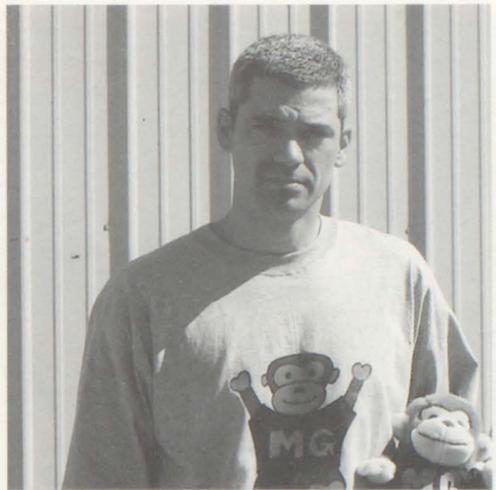

-Freshman Adam Chambers

Clearly not able to contain herself, senior Courtney Campbell jumps in front of the bonfire. "I was so ecstatic about the senior powder puff victory, I could barely contain myself. I was flippin' out," stated Courtney. This year, Madison-Grant held a pre-game bonfire to get everyone's homecoming juices flowing.

Math teacher Mr. Small holds his companion, Touchdown Monkey. Touchdown Monkey graced our school with his presence during homecoming week. "Well, the Colts had the Touchdown Monkey commercials, and I thought if anybody needed a touchdown monkey, it was our team," said Mr. Small.

Sophomore Amanda Flowers and freshmen Brittany Trimble and Krista Lainhart sport the lazy look on Pajama Day. Pajama Day gained its student and faculty popularity by being the only day that everyone can come to school right out of bed, relax, and just be comfortable in what they are wearing.

Sophomore Ashley Compton gets involved in the homecoming wagon race. Participants in the race were to sit back-to-back with a partner, and steer the wagon with a plunger. Although Ashley gave her all, the sophomores placed third in the competition.

Homecoming attendants and king and queen candidates: Front Row: King Josh Carey and Queen Brandi Tucker. Back Row: Abbey Carey, Brock Meyer, Courtney Campbell, Kory Gipson, Carrie Aschendorf, Aaron Young, Kyle Scott, Jerin Harvey, C.J. Rodgers, Meggan Peters, Brock Massey, and Brittany Trimble.

Seniors Brandi Tucker and Josh Carey are crowned homecoming king and queen and thus become the envy of all the young freshmen desperately searching for someone to look up to in life.

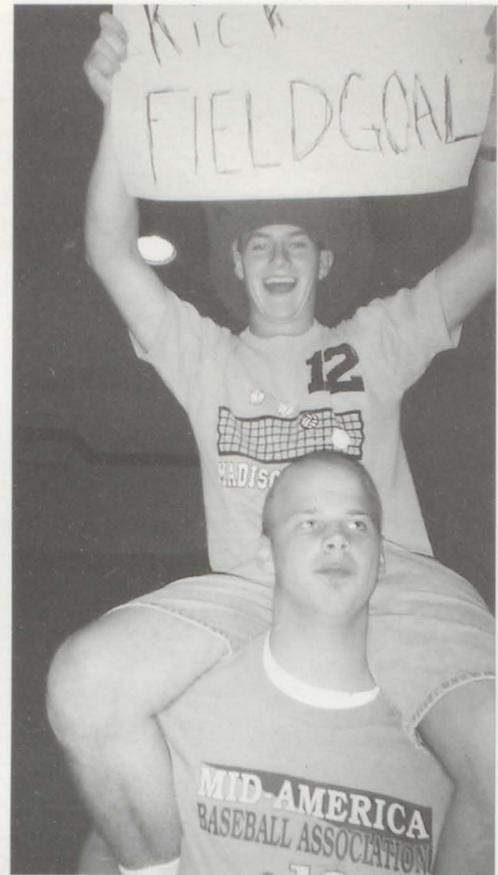

"Homecoming week is a fun week of competition between the four classes."
-Senior Abbey Carey

"The homecoming itself was fun for me because we don't have any of that back home in Germany."
-Senior Ruben Haas

People Fields of Friends

Crazy senior Zach Harold sits on the shoulders of freshman Shane "Moose" Bradford during one of the girls' volleyball games. "The volleyball team was down by two, and if they kicked a field goal, they would have been up by one," added Zach referring to his sign.

Somebody call Springer, because we've got some "white trash"! Seniors Michael LaPierre, Brock Meyer, Eric Avery, and Kory Gipson impersonate the Mississinewa cheerleaders for the skit the seniors put on during homecoming. "What can we say, we just pulled our skirts up and took care of business," laughed the guys.

Junior Karie Hiatt and senior Katie Williams know that Madison-Grant is #1. "It really felt awesome winning the first game in three years. It was really fun to cheer for," stated Katie. Madison-Grant beat Wabash for their first and only win this year.

Gather 'round y'all! A group of seniors take time out of their busy day for a chance to sit on Josh Carey's tractor on farmer day. Josh drove his tractor to school to show the true farmer in him. "In the words of my loving friend Zach Harold, 'They think my tractor's sexy,'" said Josh smiling.

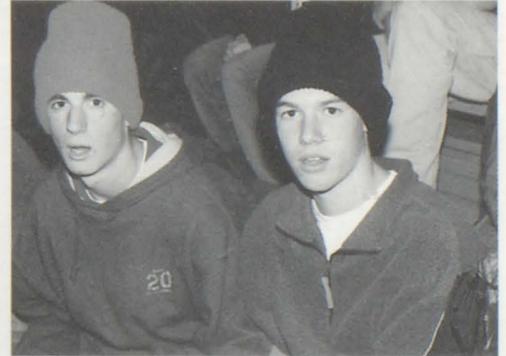

Gathering around for a group hug, the seniors take a break from their dancing at the Fall Fantasy Ball. After growing up with each other throughout their high school years, most seniors find their senior year of high school to be both sad and exciting. "The fun times like these, where we are all together and having a good time, are what I'm going to miss the most," commented senior Aaron Young.

Freshman Josh Gray, junior Greg Weesner, and freshman Donald Waymire attentively watch the girls' powderpuff game, which was held Wednesday night of homecoming week. "The best thing about the game was the girls being vicious. The best thing about the boys' game was that the chicks dig me," stated Greg.

Freshmen Brittany Trimble, Stacy Stephenson, Ashley Davis, and Lindsey Fansler dress up like cheerleaders in their skit during homecoming week. "Homecoming week was great! The skit crew had a blast working with Mr. Small. I look forward to next year's homecoming," said Brittany

Rooting for the football team and trying to keep warm are how sophomores Kyle Kurtz and Andy Miller spent most of their Friday nights during football season. "I think it's funny when people from the other team get hurt and they just lay there," remarked Andy.

Working diligently on her English assignment senior, Tabitha Dudley makes her teacher proud. "Tabitha is our new workaholic," proudly exclaimed senior English teacher, Mrs. Herring.

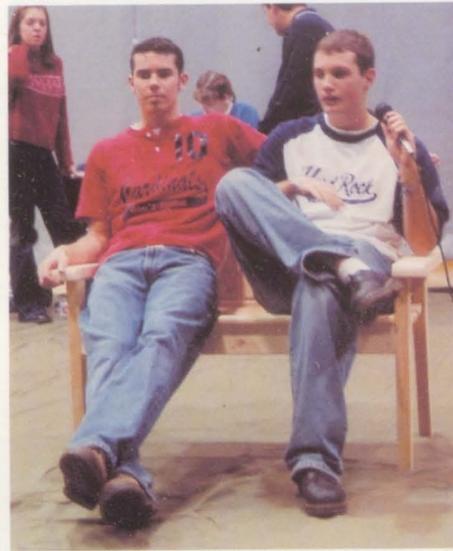

Proudly displaying the banner they made for the senior class, seniors Aftan Pierke and Kelly Monahan prove that hard work really does pay off. Thanks for all your hard work and dedication girls!

Celebrating a Madison-Grant victory, senior cheerleaders Katie Williams, Courtney Campbell, Sara Lainhart, and Shelby Freeman cheer on their team. "I was so proud of those boys! They worked hard all season and really deserved it!" stated Courtney.

Senior Angela Aslinger takes a break from Mrs. Clevenger's independent living class. This class is designed to teach students how to live once they're out on their own.

Homecoming King and Queen candidates: Courtney Campbell and Kory Gipson

Coming down with senioritis, senior Jill Dykhoff works on her French assignment. "Senioritis includes doing my homework in class the day it's due," laughed Jill.

Working hard to meet a deadline, senior Katie Miller maintains a positive attitude. "Knowing that this yearbook represents my senior year, I'm working hard to make it the best," commented Katie.

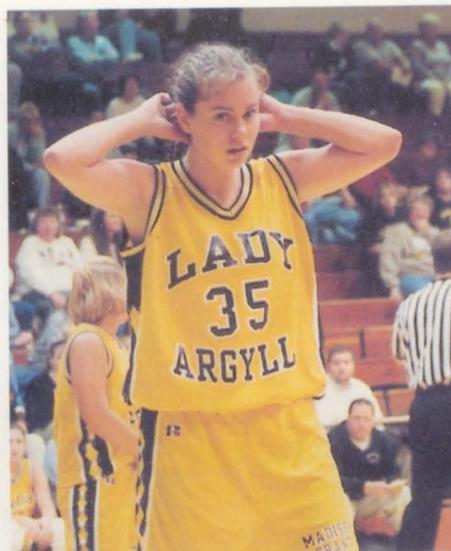

Cheering on the football team during homecoming the seniors take charge! "It's kinda funny that the seniors have won homecoming two years in a row, when we were once known as apathetic sophomores," remarked senior Leigh Ann Hasty.

Senior Kandace Dunlap takes a break from her duties as the football trainer. Along with being the football trainer, Kandace has been involved in many sports throughout her high school career.

Senior Carrie Aschendorf yells for the girls' volleyball team during homecoming week. The girls' volleyball game was also the spirit competition for the battle of the classes. That night the volleyball team went on to "Scalp the Apaches."

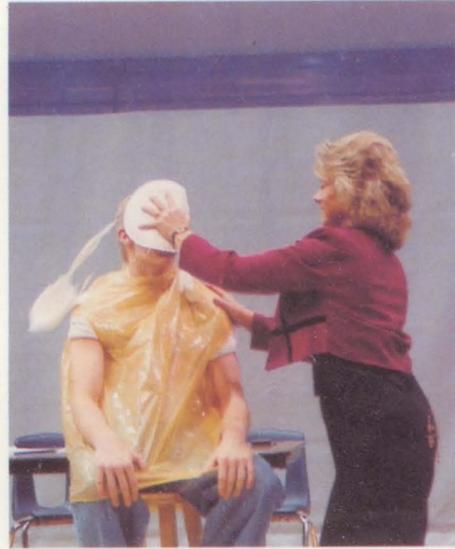

More interested in their own conversation than what's going on in English, seniors Brandon Zirkle and Andy Holloway have other things on their mind. "We were protesting English by not doing our worksheets," retorted Brandon and Andy.

Homecoming King and Queen candidates: Brandi Tucker and Aaron Young

Seniors Brian Bennett and Justin Crist reenact the roles of a husband and wife in Shakespeare's play, Taming of the Shrew. "I enjoy English class because it gives me a chance to branch out and do things I've never done before, like being a woman," said Brian.

Seniors Abbey Carey, Kandace Dunlap, and Sara Stephenson painfully wait for their first bid, during the Christmas auction. The final bid was made by a teacher we've all grown to know and love, Mr. Holloway.

"Powder puff was really fun because we got to decorate our faces, and take out underclassmen," said senior Andrea Webb. The senior girls won the powder puff game, after the juniors got disqualified for their absurd behavior.

Holding up the homecoming spirit stick to represent the senior victory during the week, senior Sara Lainhart, proudly displays the war hatchet. "My senior year is going by fast. Although I want to graduate soon, I still know I'm going to miss everyone next year," said Sara.

Getting the V.I.M. treatment, the senior football players get picked up in a limosine to be taken out to an elaborate dinner at Subway before the big game, which was also senior night. All week long the seniors got "special" treatment from their Very Important Moms.

Enjoying each other's company, seniors Teresa Cisney and Ryan Morrow look into each other's eyes. Teresa and Ryan have been a couple throughout high school. Whenever you see one, you can almost bet on seeing the other.

Having a good time at a school dance seniors Aaron Young, Kory Gipson, and Eric Avery serenade each other to Garth Brook's "Friends in Low Places." "We were having a good time, singing a good song," said Aaron.

Juniors

Junior Billy Williams volunteers to dress up for the skit during homecoming. Billy stated "I got to enjoy my feminine side without anybody making fun of me."

Sophomores

The best part about being a sophomore is...

"Being a sophomore rocks because you don't feel like you're new to everything anymore. Also, I don't get set on the water fountain anymore," commented sophomore Amanda Casas.

"I like being a sophomore because you know most of the people and you actually know where all your classes are. Plus, I just like not being a freshman anymore," stated sophomore Erin Leeson.

"The best part about being a sophomore is dancing with Señora Melson," said sophomore Zachary "Felipe" Melton.

"The worst part about being a sophomore is that you can't take some of the classes you want to take because they're only open to juniors and seniors," commented sophomore Justin Grose.

"The worst part about being a sophomore is that you get more homework because the teachers count on you more to get everything done on time," stated sophomore Amanda Flowers.

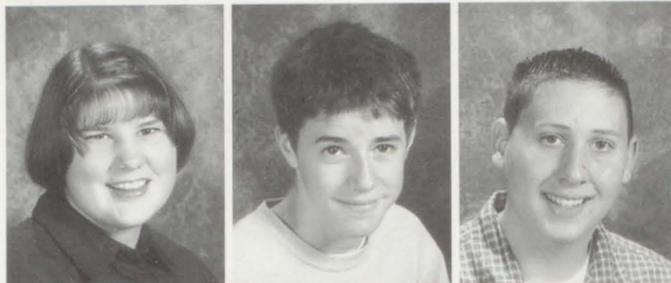

"The worst part about being a sophomore is that you are not a freshman anymore, so you feel sort of cool. Unfortunately, the older people still make fun of you," commented sophomore Bobby Yeagy.

The easiest sophomore class is...

"I think that art class is the easiest and most fun sophomore class," said sophomore C.J. Rodgers. He is pictured here as homecoming attendant, along with Meggan Peters.

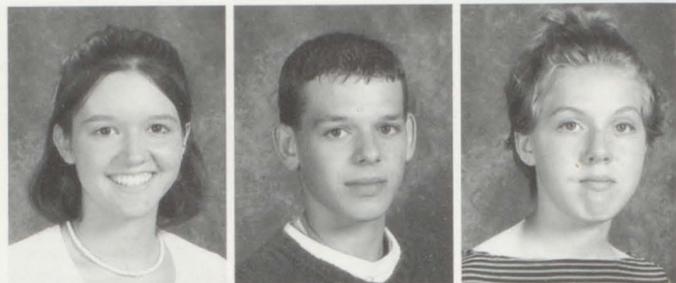

"I think the easiest sophomore class is choir. All I do in that class is what I love doing--singing," commented sophomore Kari Austin. Kari is pictured here dressed up for farmer day during homecoming.

The sophomore powder puff team is having a pre-game pep session. All the girls were very pumped up in their war paint and oompa-loompa shirts. The oompas were on the shirts because Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory was the sophomore homecoming theme.

Sophomore Amber Hurst, sophomore Megan DeVault, Senora Melson, and sophomore Amanda Casas "chill out" in Spanish II. Senora wore Amber's volleyball jersey in support of the team, and they all were dressed up for punk day. "I think it makes homecoming more fun when teachers get into it, too," commented Megan.

Sophomores Zach Osborn and Anthony Schultz sit listening intently in Mr. Tanner's environmental science class. These two sophomores really know how to manage their time wisely. For example, Anthony catches up on some sleep in class that he lost the night before.

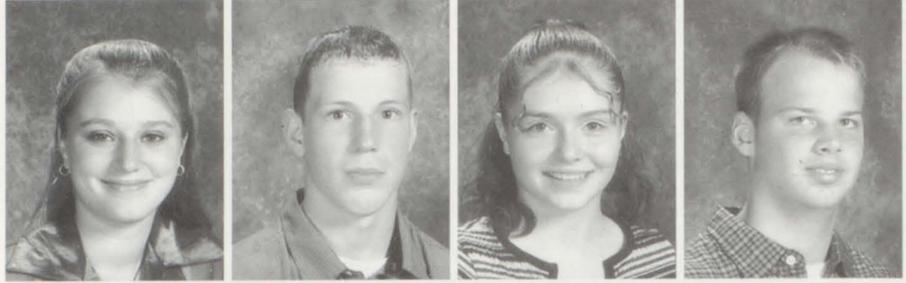

Sophomore Tina "Alicia" Harvey tells a spooky story to her friends in Spanish II. "¡Tengo miedo de la bruja Señora Melson!" said Tina. For those non-Spanish speaking people, Tina said, "I am scared of the witch Mrs. Melson!" Don't worry, though, Tina was just joking.

Physical education teacher Mr. Hunter has done it all in the mere two years that he has been here at Madison-Grant. He's been everything from our best friend, to male cheerleader, to...Survivor contestant! That's right, our very own Mr. Hunter nearly got a spot on the highly acclaimed show; unfortunately, he was turned down. He explained "I tried out for Survivor, but they said they didn't need another Casa Nova."

Mr. Bennett practices his "on the weekends look" at the first annual Coaches Drag Race at the homecoming pep rally. Coaches from all fall sports competed against each other in this race to see who the real man was. In the end, Mr. Bennett prevailed.

Mrs. Bragg, the freshman and sophomore guidance counselor, is always there to lend a helping hand. She helps students schedule classes, but also is always willing to talk about any problems students have. Mrs. Bragg also values education very highly. As a former English teacher, she enjoys reading and one of her favorite authors is William Shakespeare.

Mr. Badger lectures to his seventh period Government class. Current and international events are a topic often discussed in his classes, because students have the option of bringing in articles for extra credit. He is also very knowledgeable of United States Presidents, including Abraham Lincoln, his favorite of all.

Sophomore Tony Oleysyck and senior Courtney Campbell sit in their 7th period media class searching last year's yearbook for things to improve the very book you are reading right now. Tony later commented, "I enjoy Mrs. Click's class because of the Pepto-Bismol pink walls that put me to sleep." Courtney added, "Yeah, this class is so tired. Two tone pink, what could be tiderer?"

Cream of the Crop

While lighting a candle, senior Abbey Carey follows in the tradition of the National Honor Society Ceremony. During the ceremony, each member must light a candle and hand it to the new member. The candles represent their school environment, classmates, and themselves.

While helping wind the film in photography class, senior Kory Gipson decides to just sit back and watch. Kory doesn't usually slack off in his classes. He proves that by being one of the members of the National Honor Society.

Senior Aftan Pierce pays close attention to Mrs. Kirby during calculus class. "A lot of hard work and a lack of sleep is what it takes to be in calculus. I'm usually doing homework into the night," stated Aftan.

Even though he is just an assistant this hour, senior Brian Bennett works hard on his homework. Brian must work hard to keep all of his activities in order. He is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Senior Noah Meeks watches as Mrs. Kirby demonstrates a problem to her seventh hour calculus class. It takes a lot of dedication and hard work to be able to take calculus. There are only a handful of kids that take this class.

While being inducted into the National Honor Society, junior Kelli McDuffee carefully accepts the candle. It takes good grades and leadership to get into the society. Every person that got to join the society had to earn it by doing their best every year.

After just being inducted into the National Honor Society, junior Jerin Harvery smiles proudly. Jerin earned her position in the society by being one of the top students in her class. Not only is she smart, but Jerin is also a varsity cheerleader.

Excitement flows through these teachers as they try to arrive at the correct answer. Mr. Morgan, Mrs. Kirby, Miss Harbin, and Mr. Hunter all put their knowledge to the test when they faced the Madison-Grant Academic team.

Academics

Kandace Dunlap

"Mrs. Phipps [is the teacher who has influenced me the most]. She found many ways to make her class fun. She also found ways to make class easier."

Beth Hanna

"Mrs. Herring [is the teacher who has influenced me the most]. She's a great teacher but can still let her students have fun."

Senior Zach Harrold reads aloud about his favorite high school teacher, Mr. Bennett. "Mr. Bennett's a good guy, and his classes are a lot of fun," said Zach.

Sophomores Alice Bennett and Danielle Dowling work together on a plot diagram project in Mrs. Haviland's fifth period Academic English class. Even though it was homecoming and everyone was dressed up for spirit week, there was still work to be done by the students.

Freshmen Amber Zaragoza and Ashley Butcher inspect the skeleton of a blowfish in Miss Harbin's seventh period biology class. "Biology is a fun class. You get a lot of hands-on experience, which you don't get in other classes like math and English," commented Amber.

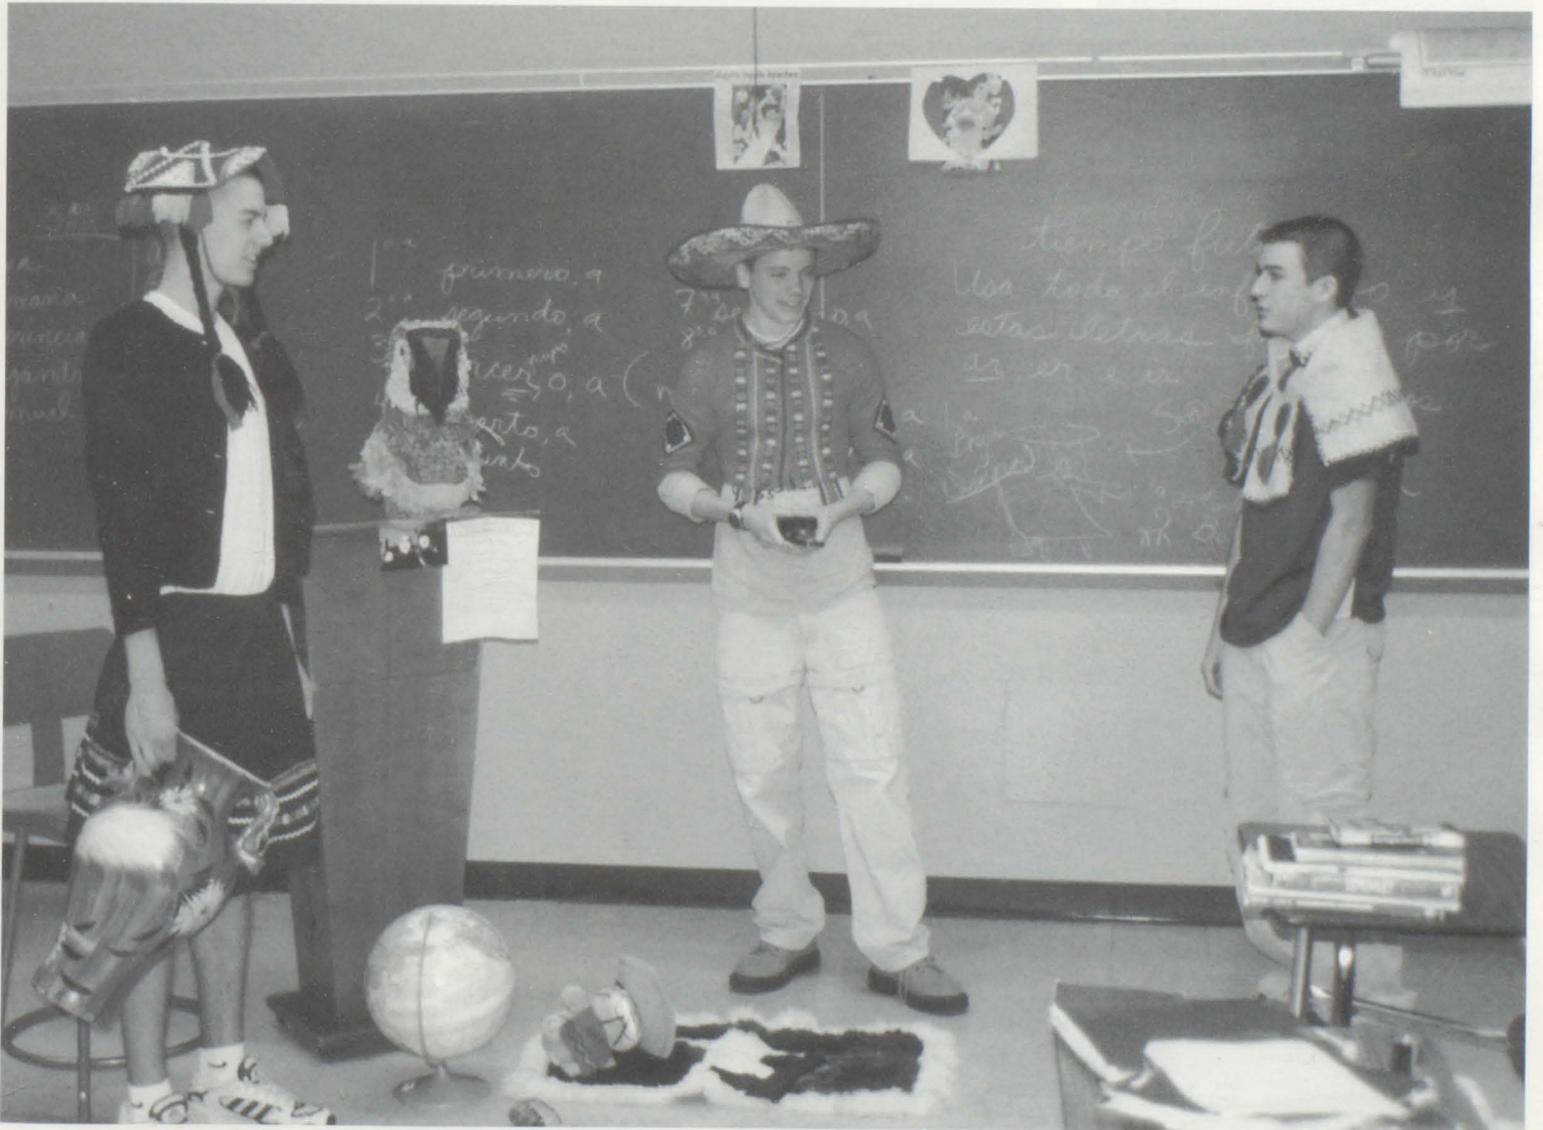

In her seventh period band class, sophomore Natasha Lambertson plays the drums perfectly. "I enjoy playing the drums, and I like the way that Mr. Lamb directs. Band is a great class to take, and it's a good environment for students," commented Natasha.

Trying to beef up his brain power, sophomore Evan Rhetts studies his prefixes for Mr. Strasemeier's health class. As studious as he is, Evan still likes to hang out with his friends and have a good time.

Sophomores Andy Miller, Justin Grose, and Jason Houston show off how comical they can be in Señora Melson's classroom while doing a skit. Students love to hear the funny words that the boys always manage to come up with during a skit. "I enjoy having Señora Melson as a teacher. We have fun in class, but learn at the same time," said Jason.

Tony Oleysyck

"Mr. Morgan because of his mellow style and his outrageous sense of humor."

Who is your favorite high school teacher and why?

Chad Wilson

"Mr. Stasemeier because he's fun and jokes around with you. Also because he's awesome."

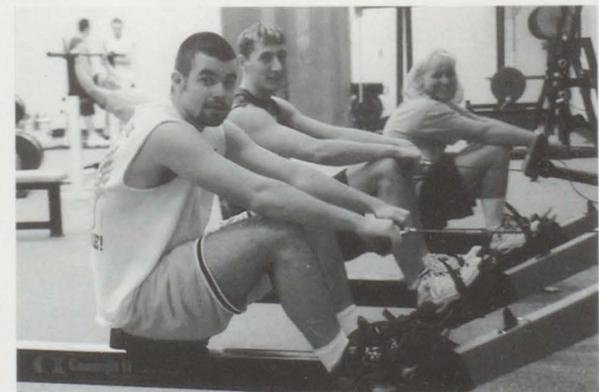

Disgusted by the stench of dead squid, freshman Megan Lighty watches as Miss Harbin explains how the dissection is done. Megan along with other freshmen dissected squid for Miss Harbin's biology class.

Sitting out in the hall, seniors Michael LaPierre, Katie Miller, Nick Roby, and junior Andrea Short take a little time out for themselves and skip class. "One of my favorite things to do is skip class," said Andrea.

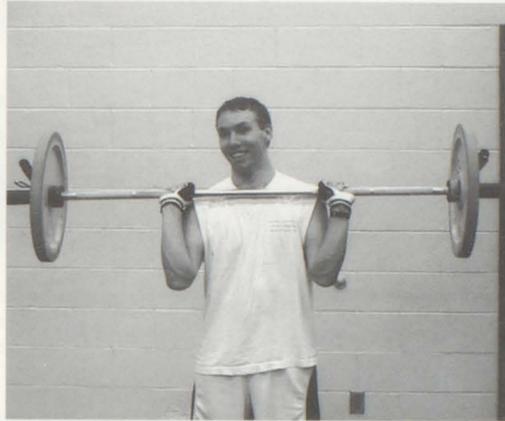

Cringing at the sight of a snake, junior Veronica Gomez smiles nervously at the slithering sight in front of her. The snake, which is a black rat snake, belongs to Mr. Martin and stays in his classroom.

Working on improving their body images, seniors Jason Knipp, Aaron Young, and Leigh Ann Hasty row on the rowing machines in Mr. Strasemeier's weight lifting class. "I just felt like rowing," said Jason.

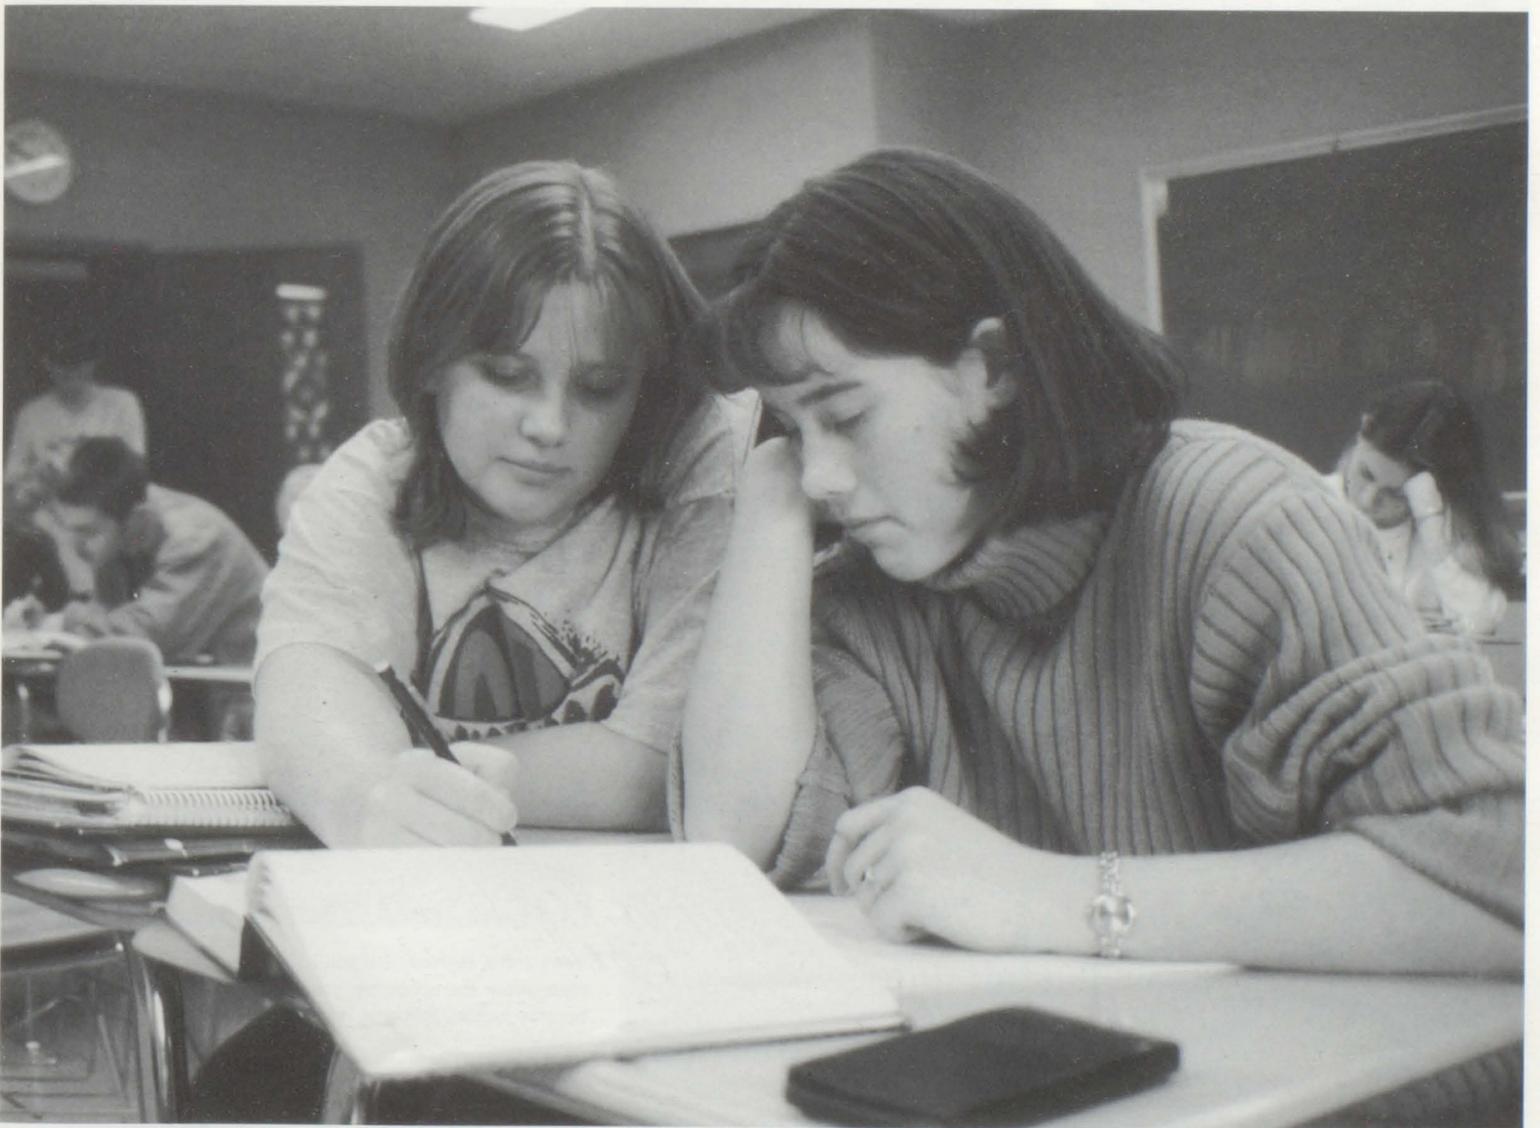

Sophomore Tara Webb practices her instrument in seventh period band class. Tara has been playing the clarinet since sixth grade. Along with being a member of the band, Tara is also the captain of the junior varsity cheerleading squad.

Junior C.J. Rodgers demonstrates his strength while doing power cleans in weight lifting class. "I took weight lifting because I want to be big and strong like Stras," commented C.J.

Seniors Jacqueline Nance and Kandace Dunlap work on their precalculus homework during their seventh period class. "Even though Mrs. Dunlap is my aunt, as a teacher she doesn't treat me any different," said Kandace.

Academics

Tim Baughman
“The Roadawg, also known as Mrs. Kirby, is my favorite teacher because she is always here for help.”

Ben Duncan
“Mr. Martin is my favorite teacher because his classes are very educational and they are also fun.”

Junior Megan Matthews sits quietly as she is trying to figure out her pre-calculus assignment. Megan stated, “I like knowing I got the equations solved, especially with the linear programming stuff.”

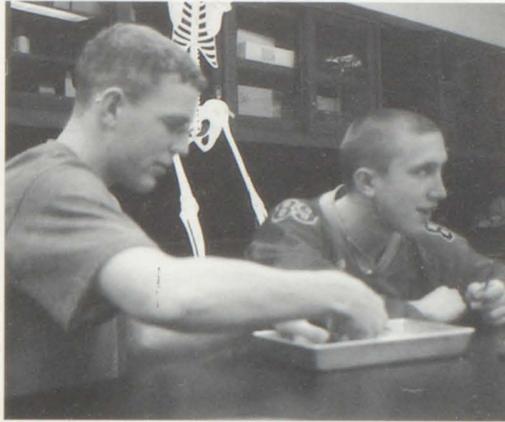

While trying to do some critical thinking in Chemistry II class, junior Shawn Barkdull and senior Ryan Nelson look very confused. “I like Chemistry II because we get to pick labs that we want to do. This year I made liquid light, and I am going to make ice cream for the class,” explained Shawn.

Sophomore Brittany Barkdull listens while Señora talks to the class about the upcoming years. Brittney said, “I like Spanish because Señora makes it interesting.”

Senior Kory Gipson gets a few pointers on his art assignment from Mrs. Solms. This is only Kory's first year of drawing, and already he is doing work like the advance drawing students.

While getting ready to dissect a squid, freshmen Jeremy Billings and Josh Michael examine it first. After the class is done dissecting, they got to eat some fried squid.

Sports

Plowing Through the Competition

Senior Kandace Dunlap uses precision and time to carefully cut down the net. All of the Lady Argylls got the honor of cutting down the net after they beat South Adams to win the sectional.

Senior Aaron Young tries with all of his might to overpower his opponents and get a touchdown. Even though the football team only won once, they tried their "dangdest" every game.

Freshman Kayla Holloway serves up the volleyball at a home game. Kayla was one of the two freshmen who got the privilege to play on the varsity volleyball team because of their excellent skill.

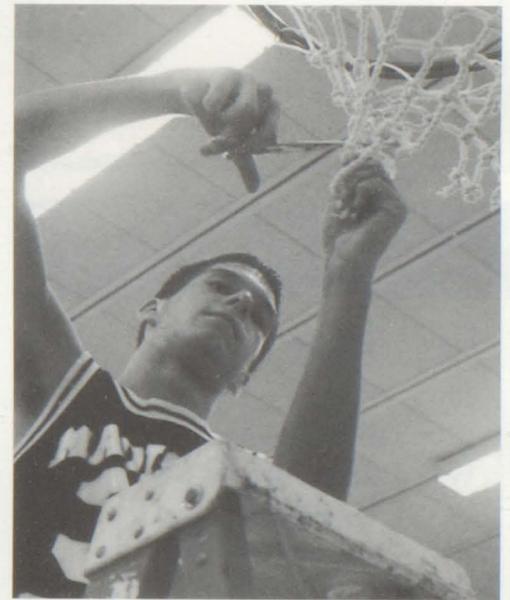

Sophomore Brad Hodupp puts his Marion opponent in a devastating head lock. Unlike football or basketball, wrestling is not only a group sport but also an individual one, too.

While gathered around their magnificent trophy, the girls' basketball team smiles with great enthusiasm. The team beat South Adams by one point, which made them known as the sectional champs.

Sophomore Adam Roth very slowly cuts down a portion of the net after beating Eastbrook in the final game of the Grant Four. Each player on the team got to cut down a portion of the net.

After winning the Grant Four, the junior varsity basketball team stands proudly with their trophy. After beating Mississinewa, the junior varsity team also had to defeat Eastbrook in the championship game.

Boys Basketball

Driving to the basket, senior Eric Avery makes the most of his last year. "The last four years have been a blast. I'm going to miss Coach, my fellow teammates, and all of those three out of four moments," stated Eric.

Getting some ideas on how to better his game, sophomore Andy Miller listens intently to Coach Summers. "It was a great experience for me as a sophomore to play with the great senior, Brian Bennett," said Andy.

Looking to score, senior Brock Meyer pushes his way by a defender to the basket. "The last four years have been very fun, but I would definitely say that my senior year was the most memorable," commented Brock.

Going up for a basket, junior Brad Austin overcomes the defender from Lapel. Brad's favorite part of basketball was playing with his friends and fellow teammates, Jason Dickey, Tyler Croaff, and Kyle Scott.

Taking it to the hoop, senior Brian Bennett looks for two points. Brian had an all time great game against Mississenewa in the Grant Four when he scored 21 points in the first half. "I've always loved basketball because it was the only thing to do down on the farm," stated Brian.

Bringing the ball up the court, freshman Brett Carey looks for the open man. The freshman team held an outstanding record of 15-1, and was the Grant 4 champs.

Girls Basketball

The girls' basketball team squirts Coach Small with their water bottles in celebration of their victory over South Adams, which made them the 2001 sectional champs. The celebration was followed by a caravan through Fairmount and Summitville and a party for all the players, friends, and family.

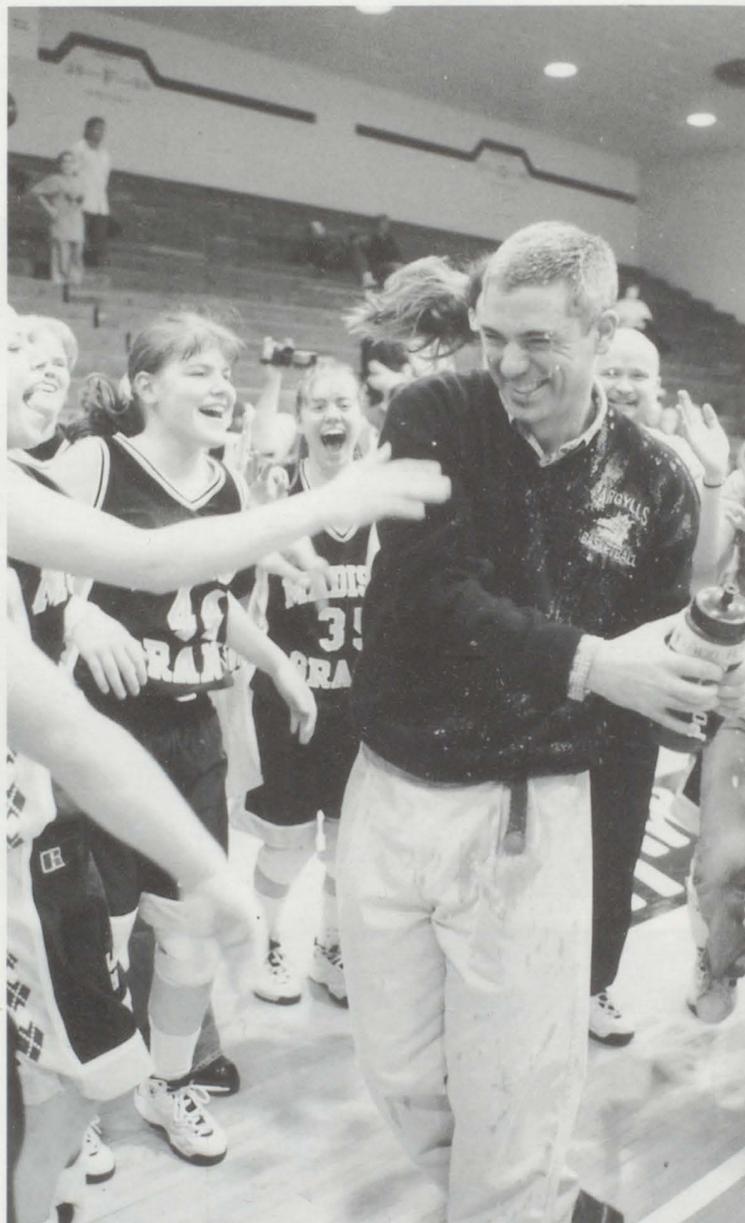

Freshman Kayla Holloway makes her way through other players to go up for a two pointer. Kayla did a great job during the game, and she also helped the team a lot throughout the season.

Freshman Katy Stephenson brings the ball down the court during a home sectional game. Katy was very nervous during the game, but despite all the butterflies, she still did a fantastic job.

Senior LeighAnn Hasty watches fellow teammate, sophomore Ashley Compton, shoot a free throw in a victory over Muncie Burriss. "This season was really fun and we accomplished a lot, including winning sectional, which we really worked hard for," commented Ashley.

Senior Kandace Dunlap, junior Shawn Barkdull, sophomore Amanda Casas, and freshman Jessica Gipson watch the players on the court during a home sectional game. "I have never been so nervous in my life. Us girls on the bench just kept telling each other that we could do it, and we held hands and prayed until the final buzzer went off. It was awesome!" said Jessica.

Football

After their valiant effort at homecoming, the football team gathers to sing the school fight song. This new custom at MGHS, is sure to be a tradition for years to come.

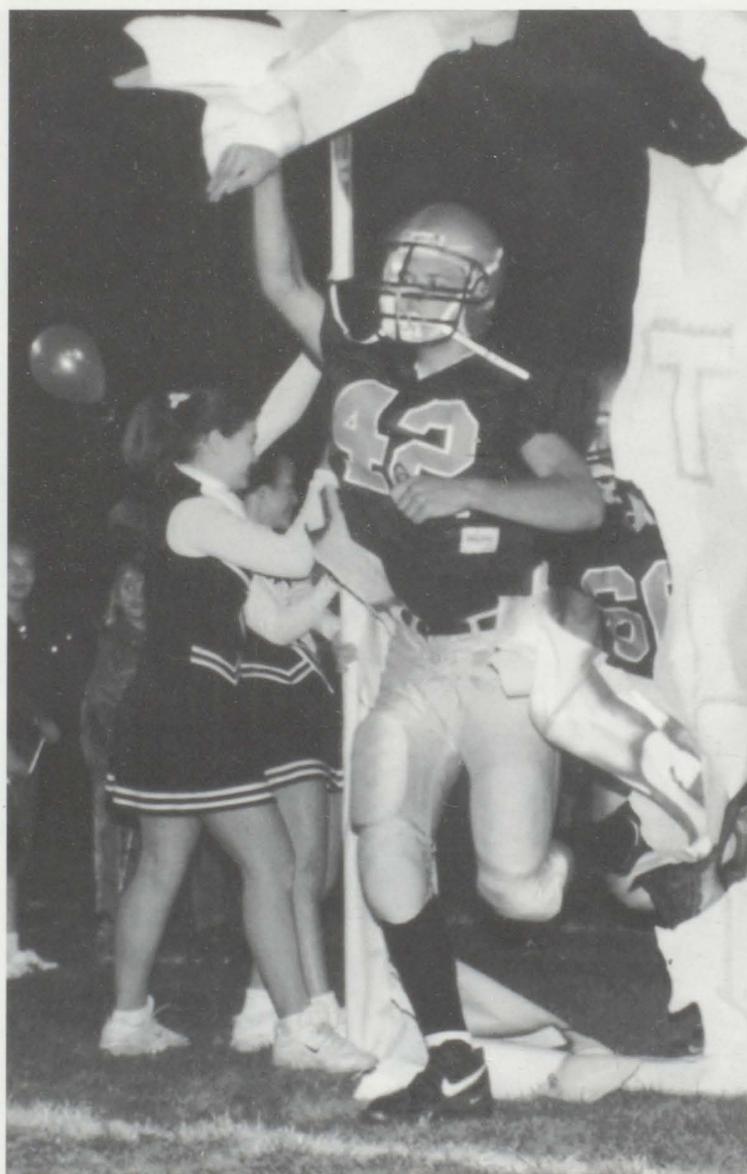

Tired and recuperating from a tough play, the football team tries to figure out their next move on the field.

Senior Brian Bennett and sophomore Adam Roth fight off the butterflies as they get ready to run their routes. The big RCA Dome game was a huge game for all the players, and since it is only every four years, for a lot of people, it was their moment to shine.

Volleyball

The varsity volleyball team huddles up for a pre-game talk. The team always did this after warm-ups to help get pumped up for the game. Many of the team's games were very exciting and close, even though their record doesn't show that.

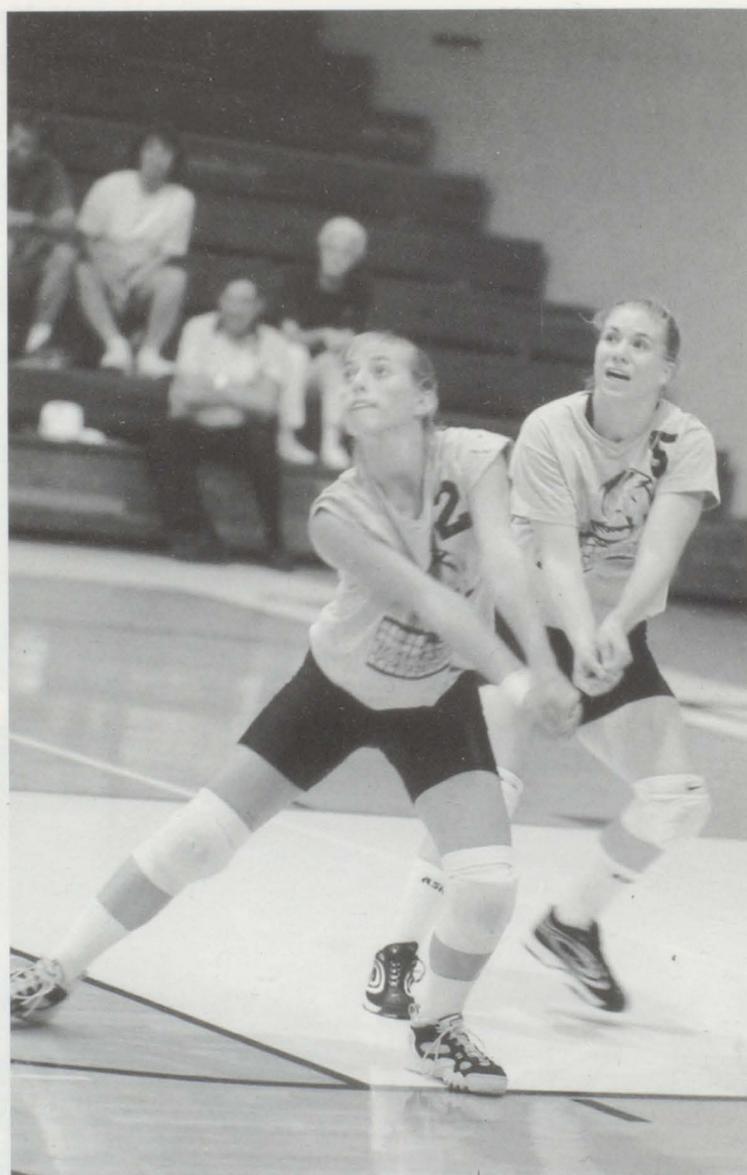

Varsity volleyball players celebrate an ace made by the team during sectionals. Pulses were racing and beads of sweat were dripping during the exciting game against Eastbrook.

Senior Leigh Ann Hasty serves the ball in the August 29th sectional game against Eastbrook. Leigh Ann has been on varsity all 4 of her high school years and has been a large part of the team.

Senior Betsy Matchette and freshman Ashley Davis are determined not to let the ball hit the floor. Betsy and Ashley were both a major part of the team's defense this year. For only being a freshman, Ashley did a great job, and she really helped the team.

Junior Karie Hiatt, freshman Katy Stephenson, senior Katie Williams, senior Abbey Carey, and sophomore Amber Hurst watch the varsity sectional game hosted by M-G. "We didn't exactly have a perfect winning season, but we had a lot of fun," said Amber Hurst.

Cross Country

Many people think that cross country shouldn't even be a sport because it is boring and pointless. Junior runner Tim Baughman stood his ground by saying, "Yes, it's boring, but sometimes it can be fun."

Junior cross country member Shawn Barkdull attempts to pass an opponent at the Oak Hill Invitational meet. She didn't win this one, but she was the top girl runner on the girls' team, and she showed it by advancing to regionals for the 2000 season.

Throughout the cross country season, sophomore Amanda Casas was able to encourage other teammates with her peppy outlook on running, and life in general. "It's real fun because of all the things that we do as a team, Fazoli's runs, haunted houses etc. We are all really close friends and that makes it so much more fun," Amanda explained.

Boys Cross Country Team Front

Girls Cross Country Team Front

Row: Jenn Burch, Shawn Barkdull, Lindsay Hickman, Amanda Casas, Adessa Spangler Back Row: Coach Stan Davis, Tara Morrison, Amanda Hummer, Holly Austin, Brandi Tucker, Cassie Horn

Freshman Darrin Brown attempts to catch the lead pack at the Oak Hill Invitational meet. When asked about why he likes to run, Darrin replied, "Because it's an easy way to get a varsity letter."

Tennis

Freshman Luther Selby struggles to hit the ball during one of his tennis matches. Luther has been a great addition to the boys' tennis team. Luther sometimes played doubles and sometimes played singles.

Sophomore Anthony Schultz serves the ball at an away tennis match. This was Anthony's first year on the team, but he still was a big part of the team. He played doubles with Luther Selby and also played singles.

Wrestling.

A Marion wrestler tries to take sophomore Brad Hodupp to the mat. This was Brad's second wrestling year, and he has improved a lot. Brad stated, "Getting to wrestle Zach Harrold for first spot every week and getting third at sectional were my favorite moments of wrestling."

Freshman Caleb Freeman struggles with his Eastbrook opponent. With a determined look on his face, Caleb waits to put him in a devastating move.

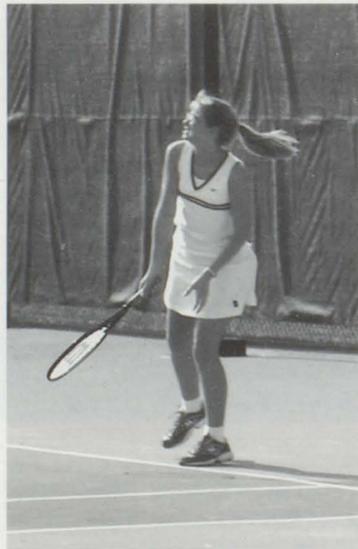

While pondering what his next move should be, junior Greg Weesner tries to hold off the opposition. Greg stated, "My toughest match was the one at regionals. Although I lost during the match, I did get to crossface him. Besides, how do I look?"

Senior Sara Stephenson waits for the return after serving in a singles' tennis match. Sara really enjoyed tennis as she said, "It was one of the highlights of my high school career. It's the only sport that I really played."

Coach LuAnn Randol and senior Aftan Pierce look on as Sara Stephenson returns the ball during her number one doubles match. Sara has been a two year Varsity member of the team, playing doubles both years.

Cheer

Back Row: Katie Miller, Sara Stephenson, Jill Dykhoff, Kelly Monahan, Aftan Pierce

"Kelly Monahan and I have a blast playing together. We had a lot of matches that lasted a long time, but 'Killer' and I usually pulled through."

-Senior Aftan Pierce

"I loved having Sara as a partner because if it wasn't for her, I wouldn't have had as good of a season as I did."

-Senior Jill Dykhoff

"We had a lot of rain-outs, and that stunk, but I enjoyed it because I just enjoy tennis. There's nothing more to it."

-Freshman Amber Zaragoza

What, in your opinion, was the best part of the tennis season?

Cheerleading

Hanging out in the hospitality room, the cheerleaders fuel up for the second half. The cheerleaders went to dance competition at the Converse fair and got first place this summer. They also received third place for their dance at cheerleading camp. They also sponsored the Fall Fantasy Ball, and got new uniforms. The cheerleaders have had a busy year.

From pacifiers, to acting out skits, is how the freshmen spent their first year at cheerleading camp. Freshmen initiation is part of a long running tradition that was started by seniors long ago. Not only is it entertaining to watch the freshmen perform skits, but it also helps the freshmen to feel more at ease.

Trying to get the student body involved with the cheer, cheerleaders Stephanie Sizelove, captain Courtney Campbell and Jerin Harvey cheer at a pep session. "The best part of being the captain of the cheerleading squad is the constant consonant of cheerleading captain Courtney Campbell," commented Courtney.

Making some extra money for cheerleading camp, the varsity cheerleaders washed cars in Driskill's parking lot. "My favorite part of cheerleading is getting off the bus for an away game and finding some not-so-cute boys to wave at with my pal Courtney," stated Jeryl.

Track

Future track star Holly Austin competes to try and win the discus competition at the Argyll Relays. Holly showed her star power at the CIC track meet, dominating her competition and winning first place.

With nerves of steel, sophomore Jordan Zirkle high jumps over the bar and into the mat below. Jordan excels in both high jump and the 200 meter dash.

Sophomore Amber Hurst soars with the greatest of ease during the Argyll Relays. Amber enjoyed her first year of track because she "got to jump a lot."

Sophomore Adam Roth is virtually a track star, scoring over half of the boys team total points. "I'm good at track, so I do it. I like baseball, but I'm just better at track." Adam proved this by being the only Madison-Grant student to advance to Regionals in track.

Baseball

With a practice swing to get him warmed up, sophomore Brody Stitt prepares for the pitch. Even though Brody was only a sophomore, he contributed greatly to the team.

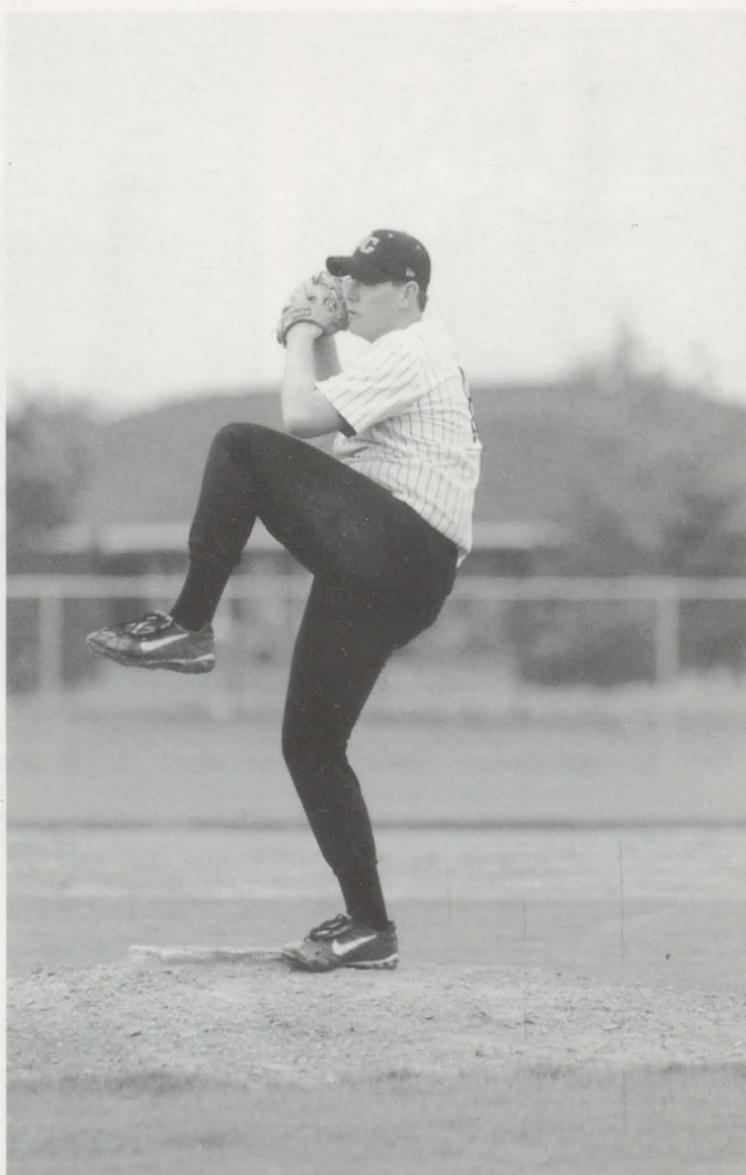

Getting ready to pitch a strike, junior Brad Austin pitches with perfection. Brad has played baseball for three years and has been on the varsity team for two years.

In a game against Frankton, senior Josh Carey swings with all his might to try to get a homerun. In spite of team effort, the Argylls lost to the Eagles.

Catching the ball as fast as he can, junior Tyler Croaff gets ready to tag a runner out. Being a catcher is very important to the team, because not only does Tyler have to catch every pitch, but he also has to cover homeplate.

Softball

Varsity softball players celebrate after winning the final game of the Grant Four, making them the 2001 Grant Four champions.

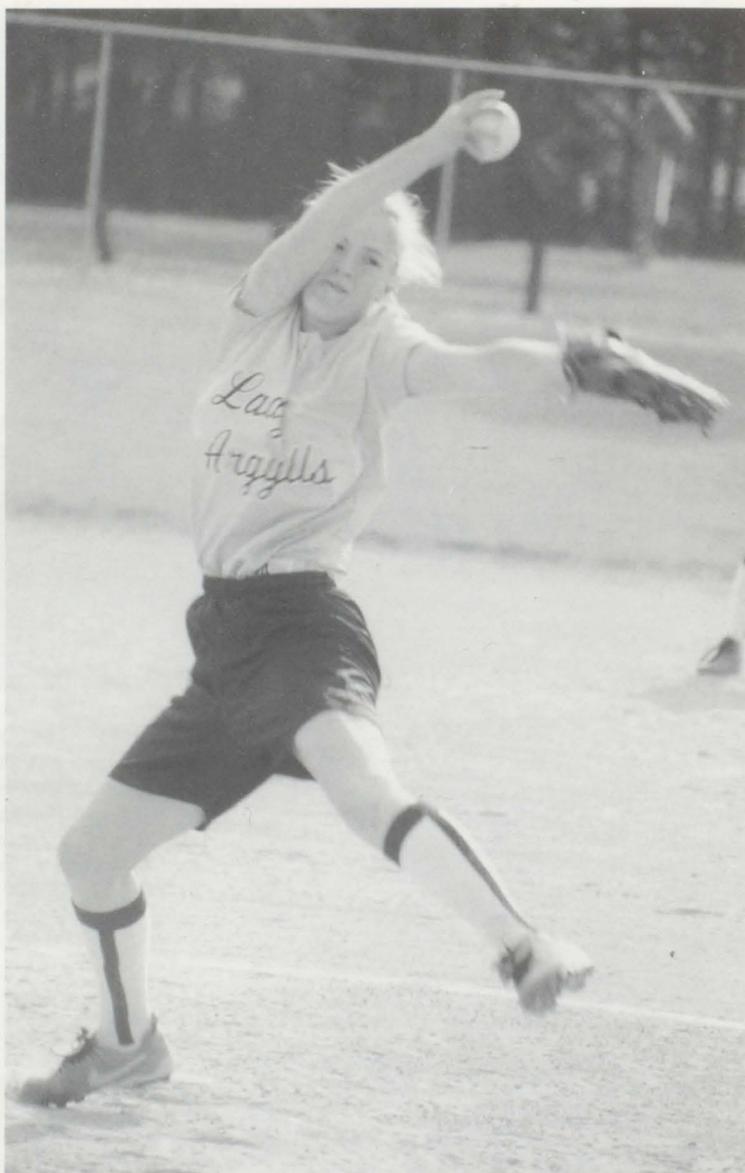

Sophomore Ashley Compton is down and ready for a grounder from a Lakeview player at Matter Park. This was Ashley's second year on varsity, and she is looking forward to the years to come.

Serving as a pinch runner, sophomore Stephanie Sizelove gets ready to take off from second base. Stephanie was often used to run in place of others.

Seniors Tara Morrison, Betsy Matchette, LeighAnn Hasty, and Kandace Dunlap show of the Grant Four champion trophy. The girls worked very hard for this win and finally achieved it.

Senior Kandace Dunlap slams one to the outfield in an away game. Kandace has played softball all four of her high school years, and she has been coached by her dad those years, too.

Golf

Senior Eric Avery stares in admiration as he watches his ball sail into the horizon. Eric is one of the only three seniors on the golf team, and that position comes with a lot of respect from underclassmen.

Sophomore Andy Miller takes a swing while playing some "free golf." He commented, "Golf is fun for me because I get to play for free everyday."

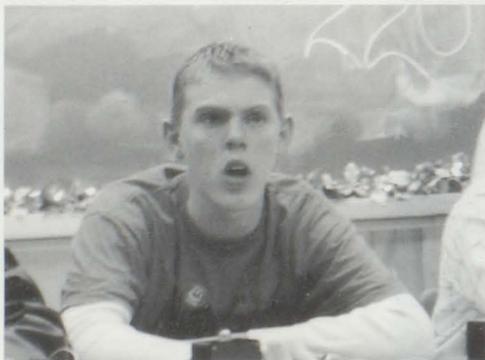

"Just go to your home!" thinks senior golfer Michael LaPierre as he drives the ball long and hard. Michael has been part of the golf team all four of his high school years, and when he isn't in school, you can usually find him out on the course.

Harvesting the Crop

Junior Jordan Teague helps his team out in the academic meet against the teachers. The students didn't win the meet against the teachers. Could college degrees make a difference?

While celebrating Cinco de Mayo, sophomore Megan Buffo gets the confetti out of her hair. Cinco de Mayo, which is supposed to be celebrated on May 5, was celebrated on May 4 due to the weekend.

Sophomore Anthony Schultz stops during innings to get some pointers from coach Shugart. This was Anthony's second year playing on the team and, just like all of the younger players, he contributed greatly with his talent.

Peter Pan

and elementary student
Lance Grubb

Sophomore Alice Bennett

Sophomore Meggan Peters is literally all tied up. Meggan played the part of Wendy in the school's production of Peter Pan, where she was held captive on the pirate ship. The pirate ship was one of many of the props made by the stage crew.

High school cast members

Elementary cast members

Peter Pan, better known as Joni Ayers, sings of her victory over Captain Hook and his pirates. After only having played a small role in Wizard of Oz, Joni took on the challenge of playing Peter Pan.

Senior David Long, a first year drama club member, is well known in the play as Captain Hook. David fit the part perfectly. He had a great time being one of the children's most favored characters.

Junior Sheila Mahoney, also known as Tinker Bell, pouts because she's mad at Peter Pan. Sheila sang various songs from the musical version. She also pretended to fly and flutter about the stage.

Elementary student Kylie Justus, junior Anthony Dent, senior David Long, and senior Noah Meeks get riled up as they chant "To the ship, to the ship." These four people played a very important role as pirates in the play.

Awards

How do you manage to juggle your time between academics and extra-curricular activities?

“Well, I’m not involved in many extra-curricular activities and I have no life, so that leaves plenty of time for homework.”

-Junior Lesley Jamieson

“I never have homework so I don’t have to worry about it. Plus, Ben Harvey ‘helps’ me with it.”

-Junior Jason Dickey

“I really don’t have time to answer that question, I’m too busy juggling.”

-Senior Kory Gipson

Sophomore Joe Greentree flashes a smile as he accepts his academic award. The awards are based upon a student's performance in academics, by keeping a 3.5 grade point average or better.

Counselor Mrs. Bragg and teacher Mrs. Shock give "service with a smile" at the Scholastic Awards ceremony. Parents and students attended the program honoring the school's scholars.

Senior Sara Stephenson graciously accepts her award for academic achievement. This was Sara's third year for receiving an award at the program.

Using his refined speaking abilities, Principal R. Larry Martin lets the students know how very proud he is of their achievements.

The MG Jazz Band puts on a "jazzy" little show for the award recipients and families at the Scholastic Awards ceremony. Mr. Lamb's Jazz Band performs every other year for the ceremony.

Imagine

Junior Karie Hiatt

Junior Zac Ray

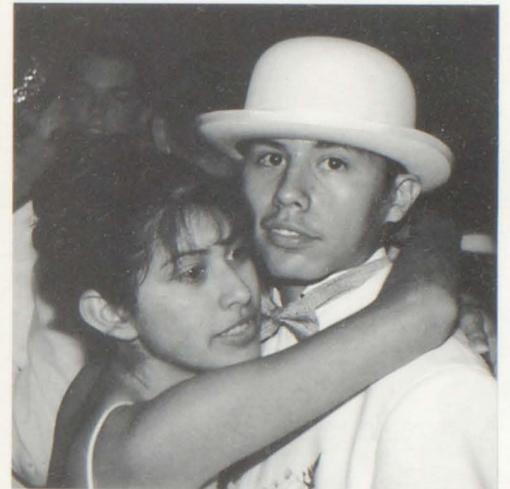

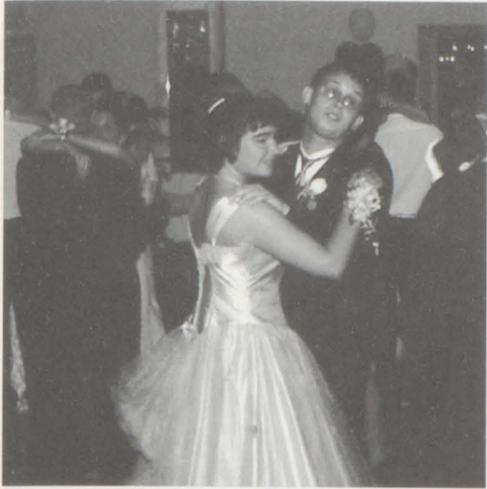

After being crowned prom king and queen, seniors Aaron Young and Tiffany Shockey dance to the prom theme "Imagine." Days before the prom, the junior class voted on the candidates. Clearly, Aaron and Tiffany were the favorite choice of the class.

During the 2001 prom, seniors Shawnzy Howard and Adam Thurman dance the night away. This year Shawnzy and Adam were nominated for prom king and queen. The prom was held at the Radisson Hotel which is located in Muncie.

While all the excitement still rages on around them, senior Aftan Pierce and sophomore Audrey Ball take a break. Audrey was one of the many underclassmen who got the privilege of going to the prom.

While the blinding lights flash in their eyes, junior Veronica Gomez and her date manage to keep dancing. Not only did students have fun at the prom, but they also had fun at afterprom. The afterprom was held at Madison-Grant High School, and the theme was Mardi Gras.

Seniors Abbey Carey and Brian Bennett stare deeply into each other's eyes while dancing. This year Abbey and Brian were voted the cutest couple of the senior class.

Junior Megan Mathews takes a break from dancing and sits back to relax. All of the students had a great time dancing, but most of the students were exhausted by the end of the night.

Junior Eric Fernung at drama rehearsal

Students having fun at a dance

Drama members at dress rehearsal

Media specialist Mrs. Gough and home-ec teacher Mrs. Clevenger sure look like geeks! Actually, the two dressed as nerds on purpose. In honor of the Academic Team going to State, students and teachers dressed up to show their support.

Members of the Academic Team take a break from all their studying. Teachers decorated Mrs. Kirby's door and all the Academic Team members' lockers for good luck at the state meet. Many of the members also dressed up to get themselves excited.

Senior Sara Stephenson and her date, Jimmy Roberts, a Mississinewa student, seem to be having a ball laughing it up at prom. Sara agreed to go to Jimmy's prom if he agreed to go with her to Madison-Grant's.

Friends

Juniors Jeff Solms and his girlfriend Kelli McDuffee dance the night away at the Fall Fantasy Ball. This was the first year the dance was held and was widely attended by many Madison-Grant students.

Faces in the crowd

Caleb Freeman and Jennifer Pyle

Zack Melton plays up a storm at one of the football games during the 2000 season. Not only can Zack play the trombone, he also plays bass guitar and is the lead singer of three bands in his spare time.

Beaming a smile, math specialist Mrs. Kirby holds her roses given to her by her friends. Mrs. Kirby coached the Academic Team to the state tournament, where they were defeated.

Anxiously awaiting the art show, sophomore Justin Grose, freshman Amber Zaragoza, and junior Ryan Kropuenske sit in front of Mrs. Solms' art board. All three students had pieces in the show and were very proud of their work. Each of these artists won the following awards: Justin Grose-Certificate of Merit; Amber Zaragoza-American Vision Winner, Gold Key, and Silver Key; Ryan Kropuenske-American Vision Winner, Gold Key, Silver Key, and Certificate of Merit.
