The high school years are a very special time. It is a time period involving both the good and the not so good. A time we, Elwood Community High School students, will always pause to remember.

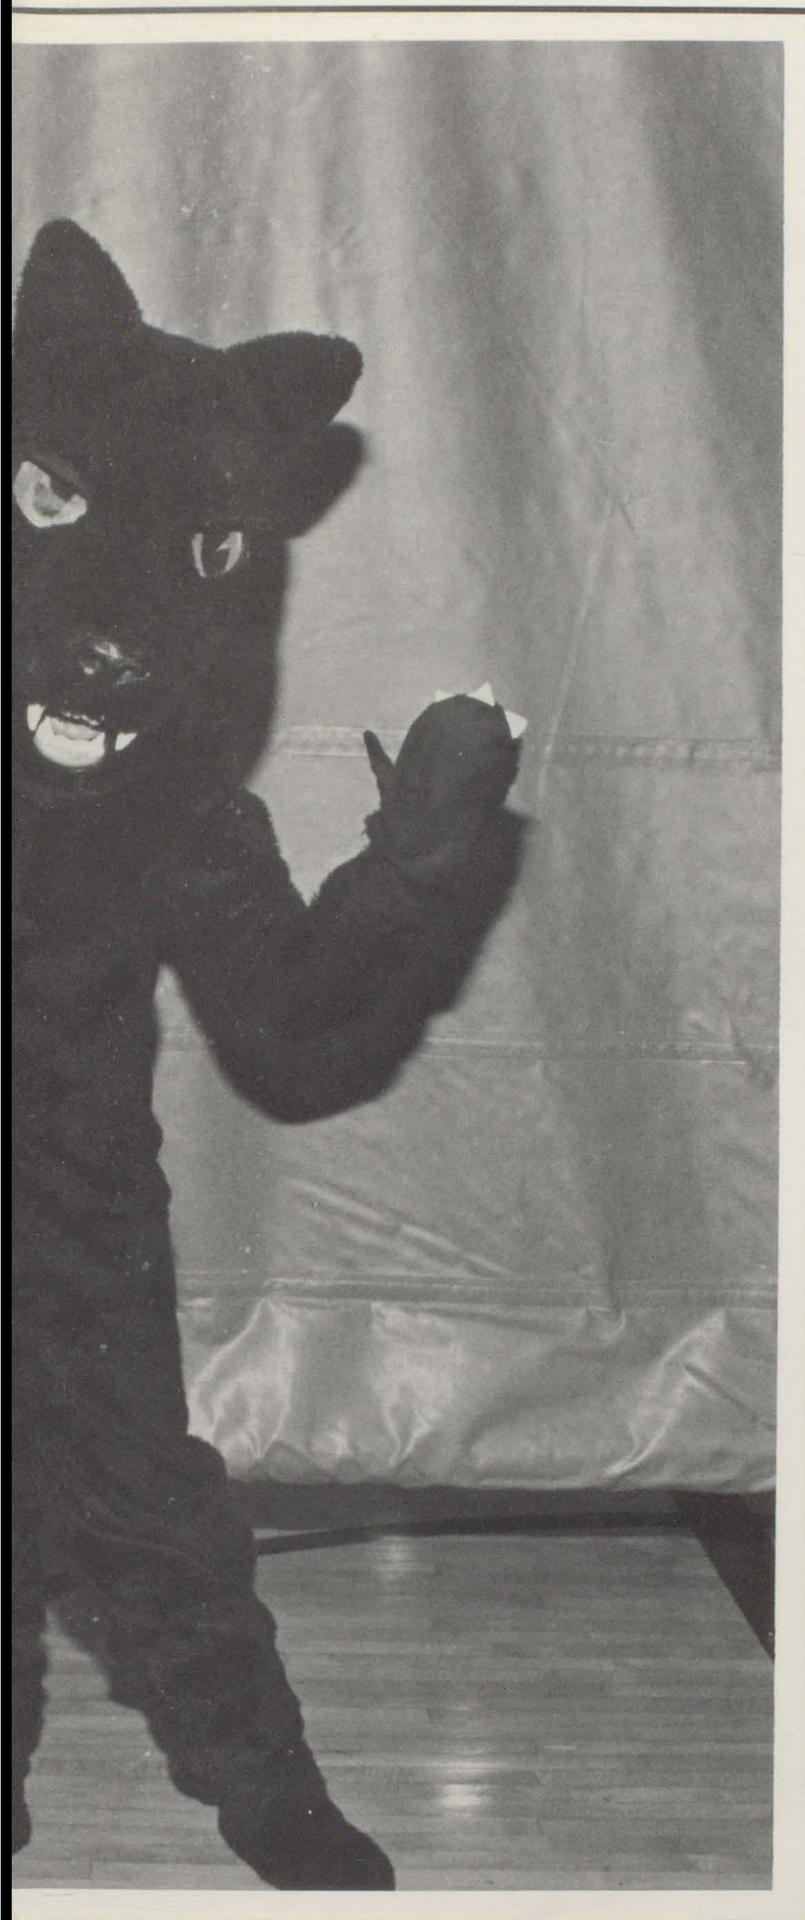

The "not so good" times of the growing-up years consist of difficulties and complexities. These include feelings of insecurity and a lack of confidence; the desire to belong, to be liked, and accepted; feelings of or the fear of rejection; fears of failure; the need for praise or acceptance from parents, teachers, and friends; and a concern with appearance. This period also consists of a time of self discovery and decision making concerning setting goals, working at those goals, and succeeding at those goals. This period involves the decision making processes involved in career decisions: career choice, career education, and career success. Yes, a difficult time period, and those difficulties are also remembered.

But, the high school years are special, consisting of many good times which are recalled, dreamed about, laughed about, discussed through the years, and paused to remember at several reunions.

One part of those good times are the high school classes. Oh, yes, they too are a part of our memories. Class time makes up the majority of the school day, and memories are made of this time also. Special teachers and administrators, the knowledge gained, the homework, that special A grade, and even that unexpected low grade are all a part of the academic scene. Learning organization, responsibility, problem solving, facts and statistics, and appreciation for literature, art, and music help make us a well-rounded, educated adult.

But, most of the memories center around the fun times, the crazy times, the embarrassing times, and yes, even the sad times. These memories involve friends, those wonderful, caring friends, and the special moments shared together. Whether it be driving the L, special dates with that special person, sports events, dances, concerts, parties, music, academic or sports competition, pizza after the game, long phone conversations, the prom, sharing a tragedy, just being together, or finally graduation, that's what high school memories are made of. These times can never be duplicated. They can only be cherished and looked back upon with laughter, tears, and warm feelings. Panthers, let's PAUSE TO REMEMBER the 1986-1987 school year at Elwood Community High School!

Senior football players, B. Phenis, T. May, T. Holliday, M. Bastian, M. Haskett, F. Short, B. Frazier, C. Hoover, P. Rice, and Coach Hughes show their Panther pride and strength. These athletes led their team with a lot of spirit and enthusiasm, but there are also moments for fun.

Taking a break between classes are Amy Dinken and Greg Zink. This couple is seen quite often in the halls of E.C.H.S.

Sometimes student life involves family as well as friends. Troy Hicks, Mrs. Austin's son and library aide, gets a hug to help him through the day.

The faculty is introduced to the students during the convocation. Mrs. McQuitty stands as she is introduced.

Summer ends, back to school

School begins with a convocation.

At 8:05 A.M. on August 26, the first day "back to school," the student body congregated in the gym for a convocation. The faculty was introduced, and school rules and the new Saturday detention program were reviewed by Principal Gordon Paquin. The highlight of the convocation was the distribution of academic letters to students who had earned the award during the 1985-86 school year. Mr. Compton, Mrs. Merritt, and Miss Mercer presented the letters to 92 recipients. There were 26 graduates, 37 seniors, 15 juniors, and 14 sophomores who received the academic letter.

Many Elwood businesses, professional organizations, clubs, and individuals donated the sweaters and academic letters. When the academic letters were awarded, the sponsor's name was announced. To receive a sweater and letter, a student must achieve a 3.5 grade point average for one entire year. Sweaters will continue to be awarded, and chevrons will be awarded for each additional year with a 3.5 grade point average.

Mr. Compton was responsible for the initiation of this new program and designed the letter. He felt that if someone could be rewarded for athletics, then why not academic performance also. Mr. Compton stated, "The main business of school is education, and students who learn what they are supposed to learn should be recognized." He felt it was time that something be done about recognizing academic achievement. Students, teachers, and administrators are very pleased with this new program.

Mr. Compton announces the names of the recipients as Miss Mercer and Mrs. Merritt distribute the letters.

Miss Mercer presents an academic letter to Deanna Beecher during the convocation.

The foreign exchange students are introduced during the convocation. Gitte Vestergaard and Mauricio Alvarez say a few words in their native language.

Homecoming spectacular

If you were at the Panther stadium on the evening of October 3, 1986, you were at the right place at the right time to witness the mighty Elwood Panthers defeat the Madison Grant Argylls, 25-12, at the 1986 Homecoming.

The spirit of 1986 was greater than ever. "Even though the weather was bad, there were a lot of fans at the game to support the football team," stated Joe Rivers. The stands were filled with Panther alumni dressed in red and blue. Hundreds of red and blue balloons were released at the kick-off, after touchdowns, and also at the end of each quarter. Angie Morrow remarked, "Even though I wasn't cheering at that game, I noticed the crowd had a lot of spirit, and they supported the team during the entire game."

The Elwood Community High School Band provided entertainment for the evening during half-time with "Exaltation, Farandole, Friends" and "Exaltation Reprise," the music prepared for the 1986 ISSMA marching competitions, under the direction of Miss Paula Simmons. The band dedicated the half time show to the 1986 Homecoming queen. The guard made a royalty aisle with red and blue iridescent hoops for the queen candidates and their escorts to walk through. The aisle created a special effect as the crowd grew quiet since they were to witness the crowning of the queen. Teresa was escorted by her father, Jerry Mays. Teresa's court consisted of Heidi Cook, escorted by her father, Terry Cook; Lorie Hamm, escorted by Brian Haynes; Kristin McQuitty, escorted by her father, Bill McQuitty; and Angie Morrow, escorted by her father, David Morrow.

Homecoming enthusiasm reaches record high excitement

Homecoming was a big success! The powder puff game was postponed due to rain, but the bonfire, parade, and even the football game escaped the scattered showers. The Homecoming festivities were attended by many spirited Panther fans.

Many students decked the halls with great spirit outfits for Homecoming spirit week. The spirit week dress-up days were clash; Coca-Cola; punk; Hawaiian; hat, shades, and red and blue day.

The junior-senior powder puff game was excellent! The juniors won over the seniors, 22-16. There was a lot of suspense and excitement as the game went into double overtime.

Approximately 300 students attended the bonfire. The cheerleaders and football players led cheers from the top of a hay wagon while students responded with enthusiasm.

The pep session was a big moment for Chris Haas when he was crowned 1986 Homecoming king. The mighty seniors won the spirit stick, and the freshmen placed second in the class sound-off cheer. "It was one of the best pep sessions in a long time. Everyone showed a lot of spirit," stated Coach Hughes.

The band marched, the cheerleaders cheered, the alumni supported, clubs participated, and the parade marshal, Greg Zink, led the parade proudly. Along the route fans gathered to show their support.

The Homecoming dance was a success with approximately 250 people attending. Homecoming week was truly a spirited week!

EXCITEMENT

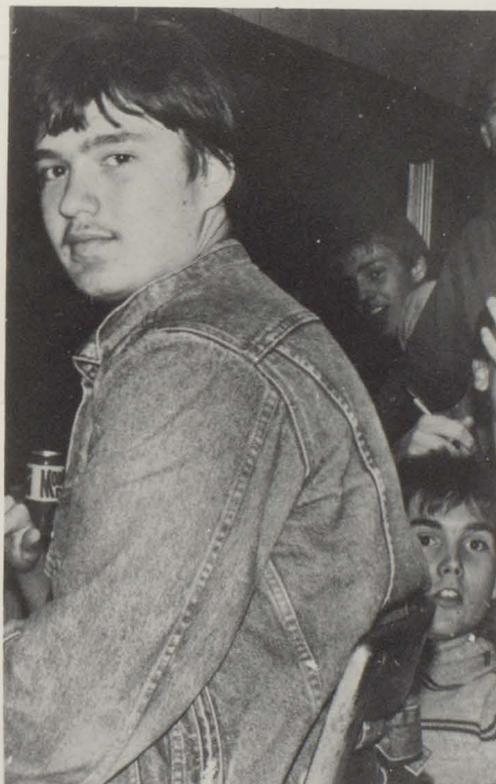

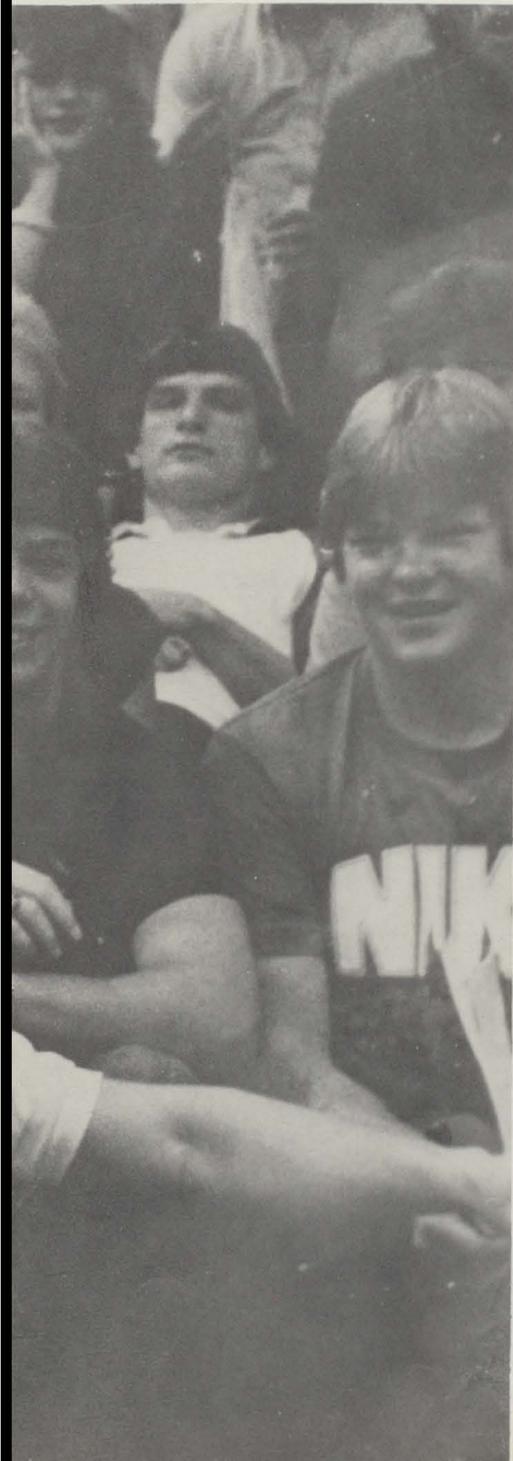

"I was very nervous before the game . . . When the game was over, I was glad we showed the seniors we could win!"

— Deanna Beecher

"I thought the bonfire was great! . . . I loved it when the football team sang 'Twist and Shout!'"

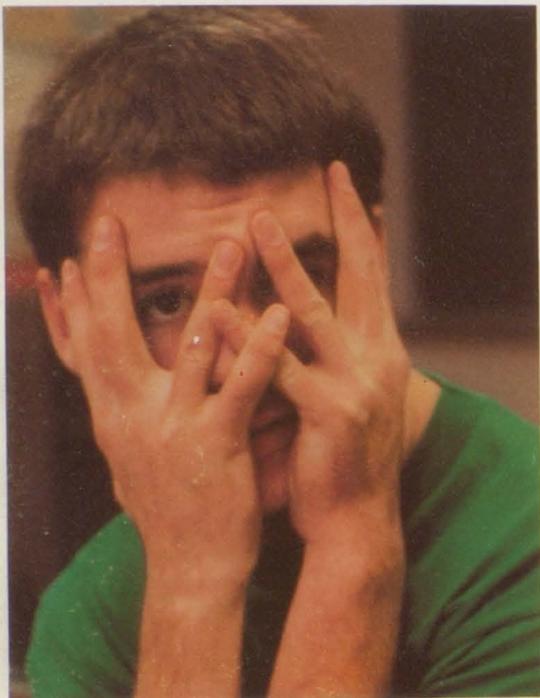

— Angie Morrow

Concerts, dances and a rock group make up the entertainment for ECHS students

That's entertainment!

The entertainment scene at Elwood High School ranges from club dances to our own rock group. Many activities were held this year for the students. The Spanish club sponsored the Belles and Beaus Valentine's Dance again this year, and the Latin club sponsored its first Fall Fantasy Dance. Also this year the Spanish club sponsored the Henry Lee Summer concert. This concert was a first for Elwood featuring a highly recognized musical artist. The students enjoy these extra activities and really get involved.

A group of talented students make up part of Elwood's entertainment scene. Token Debt has been together for four years. Russ Farr started the band in 1983 with Chris Haas and Tim Williams. Before the name Token Debt was chosen, the group was known as Exodus. Chris Aynes and Scott Ballenger joined the band one and a half years ago. The band plays at different clubs in Indianapolis, Elwood, Muncie, and Anderson. Practicing every day, saving the necessary funds, and meeting the right people at the right time led to the cutting of their first record. The song titles on their record are "Last of the Freeborn" and "Dear Lady." Token Debt plans to produce another record after they purchase new equipment and rehearse more. The future plans for Token Debt are to tour around the country, play every place they can, and be the best that they can be until they reach the top!

Elected officers participate as city officials in Youth and Government Day

Youth and Government Day, sponsored by the Elwood Elks Lodge, City Hall, and the social studies department, was held May 8, 1987. It was a big success. This experience gave our elected student government leaders an opportunity to participate in local government. The program consisted of lunch at the Elks, a presentation, a tour of government areas, and the assignment of city positions. The goal of Youth and Government Day is to instill student interest in public affairs.

Students taking part in Youth and Government Day were class officers and student council officers. The elected officers were Trent Hicks, mayor;

Puttin' On The Ritz

"Puttin' On The Ritz" proved to be one of Elwood's most elegant proms ever. Held on May 2, 1987, the juniors created an illusion of an authentic night club, New York style.

The class officers, co-chairpersons Kelli Collins and Michelle McQuitty, and other juniors, along with class sponsors Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Merritt, worked many hours making the 1987 prom a night to remember. For a change of pace this year, pictures were taken outside in front of a black carriage donated by Dunnichay Funeral Home. Also a bubble machine, emitting colorful bubbles, gave a special effect around the coronation area. Black and white decorations of balloons and shimmering tiny lights adorned building designs to light the avenue to the prom. Large black top hats, black and white balloons, chandeliers, red carnations, and streamers produced a festive atmosphere for the occasion. The prom was a huge success with 118 couples attending.

At 11:30 P.M. the grand march of the king and queen candidates began. Couples attending the prom elected Jeremy Jones and Joani Smith as the royal couple to reign over the evening. The queen's court consisted of Crista Allen, April Haneline, Cheri Mengelt, and Shaunn Wilson. The king's court consisted of Trent Hicks, Brian Phenix, Fred Short, and Greg Zink.

The after-prom was held at the Elks Lodge from 12:30-3:00 A.M. Everyone enjoyed all the pizza they could eat as they danced the night away to the latest hits.

A night of entertainment and fun shows the talent of many students

Puttin' on the Hits

On Friday, April 17, the Spanish club and student council organized another exciting lip sync contest. Several groups and solo acts entered the contest, making it a very entertaining evening for students and their families. During the night everyone's favorite stars were seen on stage including groups imitating the Beatles, Bon Jovi, Cinderella, Billy Ocean, and Elvis Presley. Cash prizes were given to the top three winners who were invited to do an encore performance of their winning acts. An act called "The Dizzy Duo," which was performed by Stacey Gosnell and Lynne Fettig, received twenty-five dollars for third place. The second place winners were Tracy May, Trent Hicks, Brian Frazier, and Marc Bastian who teamed together as "Marylou and the Swingin' Trio" and won fifty dollars. Stealing the show was our foreign exchange student from Sweden, Lars Christensen, who performed a song called "Loverboy" by Billy Ocean. Lars was awarded the first prize of one hundred dollars.

Other great acts were acts by Shane Arnold and Tim Faulstich. Shane performed to "Dancin' on the Ceiling" by Lionel Richie and electrified the audience with his dancing. Tim performed to "Suspicious Minds" by Elvis which proved that the King is still alive.

Another highlight of the evening was the introductory act by five teachers. Mrs. Scharff, Mrs. Yates, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Pearson, and Mrs. Weddell, dressed as raisins, danced and lip synced to "Heard it from the Grapevine."

All of the entrants did an excellent job and had a lot of fun. After the entertaining lip sync contest, a dance was held. A record crowd attended this activity and look forward to next year's performance.

Greg "Bon" Zink and Andy Hussong were two members of "Lace." The group performed "Run-away" by Bon Jovi. Other members of this group were "Frenchy" Rob Frye and Bryan Phenis.

Lars Christensen did a solo act to "Loverboy" by Billy Ocean. Lars captivated his audience with his debonnaire dance moves. His performance showed many hours of practice.

It's the King! No, it is just Elwood High's Tim Faulstich. Tim performed to "Suspicious Minds" by Elvis Presley. The legend of the king was brought back in the cafetorium as Tim devastated his audience with the identical appearance.

Lynne Fettig and Stacey Gosnell, the Dizzy-Duo, lip synced to "Crush on You" by the Jets. Their performance brought out their wild and crazy personality.

Festivities — Tragedies

The freshmen who were enrolled in Mrs. Merritt's world history honors classes were assigned the "dreaded" but very worthwhile Top Ten News Events project again this year. The students had varied choices, but Andy Crowder and Brandon Davis agreed that the space shuttle Challenger disaster was the #1 news event. "I ranked the space shuttle Challenger as the most important because it killed seven Americans and was a major set back in NASA. With this explosion it is back to the drawing board to build a better shuttle," Andy Crowder commented. Brandon Davis commented, "I chose the explosion of the space shuttle Challenger as the #1 news event of 1986 because it killed seven Americans and because of the destruction of expensive equipment. It also put a damper on NASA and space research." Kiley Como stated, "I chose Chernobyl #1. It affected thousands of people world wide. It killed some and hurt others for life. It also affected a lot of animals and food which were exported to other countries and spread radiation to even more people.

The city of New York gave the Statue of Liberty a big 1986 bash, a Fourth of July festival of song, celebrities, and fireworks honoring the great lady's first 100 years.

Among the celebrities who died in 1986 was Ted Knight, best known for his role in the television series "Too Close for Comfort." He died August 26 of cancer at the age of 62.

Mr. Rayshich Retires

His expertise will be missed

Our educator, director, and friend, Mr. Daniel Rayshich, retired after being employed by the Elwood School Corporation for 23 years.

Mr. Rayshich has met with much success since his childhood of poverty and depression. As a Serbian immigrant's son, Mr. Rayshich began the first grade unable to speak the English language. Because of prejudice against decent foreigners and the mistreatment in school that he endured, Mr. Rayshich knew at a very young age that his goal was to improve the concern for humanity in the educational system. Remembering the words of his parents, "Accept the tasks before you as a challenge," he decided to set his goals high. He became an honor student, was president of his class, and was captain of his basketball team and baseball team.

After graduation from high school Mr. Rayshich worked to put his three younger brothers through college. After 20 years of trade experience he terminated his employment and attended Purdue University where he received a masters degree and a bachelors degree.

In 1964 Mr. Rayshich came to Elwood to start a machine shop. Since then he has become well-known and very well-liked in Elwood as well as throughout the state of Indiana. Mr. Rayshich developed one of Indiana's most outstanding machine trades and industrial cooperative training centers. In addition he has taught adult night classes, conducted summer workshops and seminars, and has authored four textbooks. Mr. Rayshich has served as the director of the Elwood Chamber of Commerce, the president of Elwood's Optimist Club, and the state district coordinator in vocational education. In 1979 Mr. Rayshich was named teacher of the year by a unanimous vote. In 1987 the Elwood Chamber of Commerce honored him as the Citizen of the Year.

The students as well as Mr. Rayshich's colleagues of the Elwood Community School System will miss his fine teaching, his wisdom and expertise, and his ever present smile. Good luck, Mr. Rayshich! You will be greatly missed.

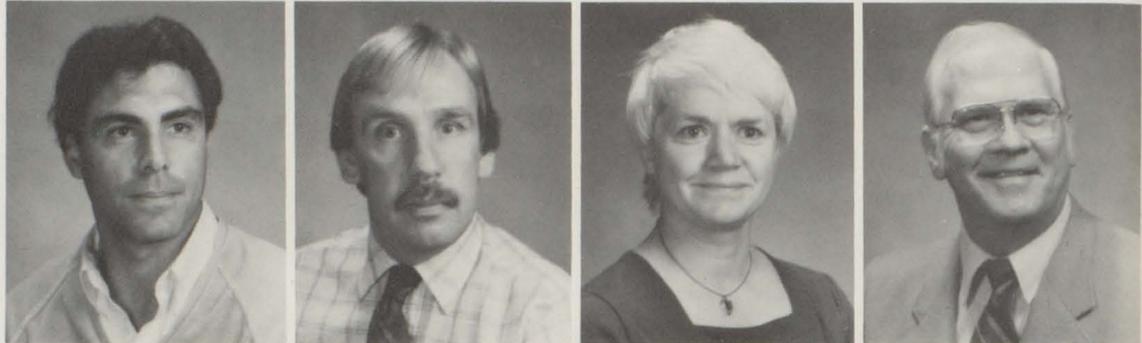

"I have never met an individual with as much wisdom and personal dedication. He gives all of himself to help others to become successful in their personal achievements."
Earl Watson

Mr. Morgan retires

After being a custodian at E.C.H.S. for eight years, Mr. George Morgan retired. Before coming to the high school, Mr. Morgan was a custodian at Edgewood School for two years, worked in the maintenance department for the community schools, was a plumber at Pace Plumbing, and a service man at Roy Smith Appliances. Mr. Morgan felt that an advantage of being a custodian is the feeling of accomplishment and pride in doing a good job. He also felt that there is a lack of respect of the students due to the type of work custodians do. Mr. Morgan commented that most of the students are quite pleasant and helpful. However, he would like to see the student body develop a more caring attitude concerning the facility. Mr. Morgan said that he would miss the teachers and most of the students as well as the challenge each day presented.

Mr. Morgan passed away on April 10, 1987.

Mrs. Mary Poole provides the fresh clean towels in physical education. Mrs. Poole has been a custodian for 10½ years and has worked in the laundry room for four years.

The faculty members held a party for Mr. Morgan's retirement after being a custodian for eight years. Attending the party was Mr. Morgan, Steve Savage, and Mary Francis Wright.

The students at E.H.S. depend on these ladies every day. Preparing hot lunches for the students are Jill Murray, Jean Stewart, Diane Daleure, Jean Caldwell, Glenda Slate, Molly Knotts, Denise Mosbaugh, Martha Bennett, and Rosilee Hancock.

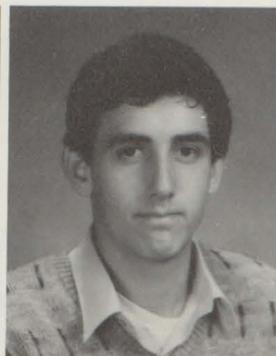

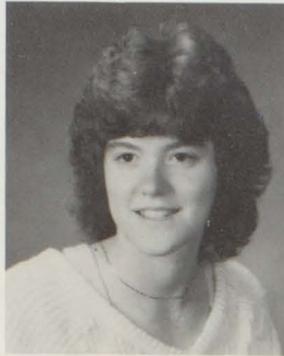

A very well-liked lady around the school is Mrs. Sue Bogard. Mrs. Bogard was the audio-visual aid supervisor until she resigned in January in order to spend more time with her family. Taking over Mrs. Bogard's position is Mrs. Jo Greenlee. Her main duty is to see that the audio visual equipment is in proper working order and that it is delivered to classrooms. Mrs. Greenlee's interest in students and books brought her to the library as an audio visual aid. Mrs. Greenlee's hobbies include crocheting, square dancing, and reading. When asked to comment on the student body, Mrs. Greenlee replied, "Everyone has been super nice! Students have been very nice and help when help is needed."

Some very important people in our school are our custodians. Front row: Hilda Duncan and George Morgan. Back row: Steve Savage, Don Plake, Rick Coleman, and George Thornberry. These people are busy at work every morning until late at night cleaning up after students.

When Tracy cannot attend an important meeting, Angie Morrow, vice-president, handles class business. The class secretary is Teresa Mays. Heidi Cook is class treasurer. These three girls have held their positions for four years. The officers are guided by Mrs. Austin, class sponsor.

Talented young Actors shine!

It is not everyday that a teacher receives a Christmas present like this! Four young men in Miss Mercer's first semester, seventh hour, American fiction class presented her with a Christmas card in video tape style. The movie was a recap of several events that had happened in class. Giving Miss Mercer the tape are Derek Paquin, Tracy May, Matt John, and Trent Hicks. All of the boys are seniors except for Derek, a junior. Matt produced the video. Matt has made several short movies with his filming talents.

Frosh had busy year

This year the freshman class decorated a truck for the homecoming parade. They also had a candy sale. The class members were given the opportunity to decorate the school's Christmas tree. The steering committee chose the class jacket that their classmates liked. They evidently made a wise choice because more than 100 freshmen bought one and are wearing them with pride. Benjamin Chad Jones

June 25, 1968-Oct. 28, 1986

Chad Jones, son of Ben and Kathy Jones, was a very outgoing young man. His favorite hobbies were playing sports, fishing, riding the "L," and being with his friends. Chad participated in many sports during high school, and he received many awards in these various sports. Although he loved to participate in baseball, wrestling, track, and football, Chad's favorites were football and wrestling. Chad won many special awards while on these two teams: a trophy for the most pins in wrestling, wrestler of the year, and in football he won all-conference defensive tackle and punter, all-Madison County defensive tackle, and the most valuable defensive lineman. Not only did he have an outstanding athletic record, but he also had an outstanding personality. He was a very friendly person and was considered a good friend by many. Chad will always be sadly missed.

Aaron Gregory Scott

Nov. 9, 1970-Sept. 13, 1986

Aaron Scott was the son of William Scott and Diana Hobbs. He lived in Elwood all his life except for when he attended fifth, sixth, and seventh at Point Isabel and Tipton schools. His hobbies were bike riding, going to concerts, playing electric guitar, swimming, listening to music, and camping. His favorite group was ACDC. He enjoyed playing family sports. Aaron was caring, outgoing, mellow, and honest. He had fun being with his friends. His best friend was Brad Griffith. Aaron will be sadly missed by his fellow classmates.

Youth for Understanding The Adventure of a Lifetime

Going across the world to live with a new family in a unknown city wasn't a problem if you were one of this year's exchange students. The six foreign exchange students in the Elwood community area were Mauricio Alvarez, Lars Christensen, Neisse Dobbin, Nobuko Morita, Marianne Munkki and Gitte Vestergaard.

Mauricio Alvarez stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Janiak and brother Steven. Mauricio really enjoyed his stay in the U.S. He said, "I love the school, my family and my teachers. I think the people here in Elwood are very friendly." Mauricio liked the American school system and the way of life. He found a little more freedom in the U.S. than in his home country, Mexico.

Neisse Dobbin, Brazil, arrived for second semester. She stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Rod McGuire. Neisse liked EHS, but she stated, "I think that by calling the teachers by Mr. and Mrs. is a way to show respect, but at the same time it puts a great distance between them and the students."

Nobuko Morita, Japan, stayed with Mrs. Mary Ann Brown and sister Kim. Nobuko enjoyed her stay in the U.S. even though it was a lot different from Japan. Nobuko said, "In Japan friends are more important than family, so they spend a lot of time outside of the family." Nobuko continued, "Here, family life is the center of your life, and you share a lot of activities with your family."

Marianne Munkki, Finland, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brummett and sister Angela. Marianne enjoyed the extra activities the school provided. In Finland the school concentrates on studies and nothing else. Marianne would like to see a longer break between classes so she would have more time to talk to friends and get some fresh air.

Lars Christensen stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cole. The school spirit made a big impression on Lars. In his home country Sweden the only thing students do in school is study. Lars thought that the teachers here give the students too much "busy" work. Lars said, "Teenagers in Sweden have a lot more freedom than American teenagers."

Gitte Vestergaard, Denmark, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tyner. Gitte said, "Both teachers and students do so much for the school, and that really impressed me." Gitte continued, "You can be proud of this school!" Gitte liked the American school system, but she disliked getting grades on everything assigned. Gitte found the American people very friendly, and she misses the American attitude.

Youth For Understanding
International Exchange

Lars Christensen was a great help on the Elwood tennis team. Lars also was in the spring play "The Lion in Winter."

Neisse Dobbin found time to smile for the photographer while working on a typing class assignment.

Marianne Munkki was a member of the Megaphone staff. She also was a member of choral company, science club, Spanish club, art club and S.A.D.D.

Gitte Vestergaard was a member of the Crescent staff. She works hard on one of her lay-outs in first period yearbook class. Gitte was also a member of choral company, Spanish club, science club, art club and S.A.D.D.

Mauricio Alvarez is working hard in his first period Spanish class. He is doing very well in this class.

Nobuko Morita is having fun in her computer programming class. She enjoys this class very much especially since this is her first experience with computers.

A state of mind —

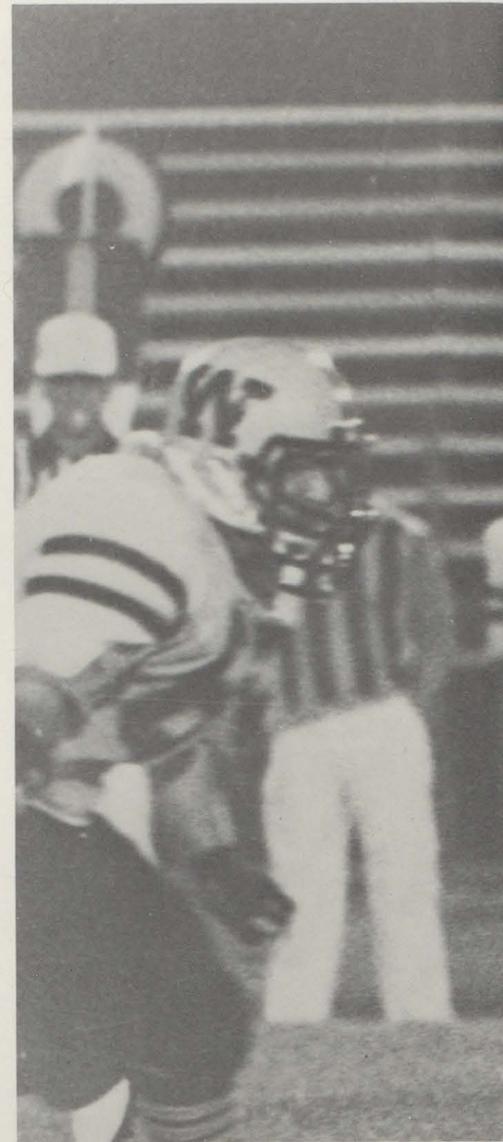

Desire and dedication is the key factor

This year the varsity football team showed a lot of teamwork and dedication even though their record may not have shown it with a 4-5 season. They displayed leadership, especially the tri-captains, Fred Short, Marc Bastian, and Tracy May. Additional leadership was exhibited by Chuck Hoover and John Etchison. Even though the Panthers had a losing season, Coach Hughes liked things he saw and said that the inexperience that they had this year shouldn't be a factor next season and should help them accomplish a lot of goals. When asked about the highlight of the season, Coach Hughes remarked about defeating #1 ranked Jimtown, 27-13. He also commented on again winning the homecoming game and keeping the string of 13 homecoming wins alive. He was pleased with the efforts and dedication of the whole team and was greatly impressed by the improvements of Brian Frazier, David Tunnell, and Bryan Phenis. Coach Hughes also stated, "We went from a running team to a passing team after losing many of our running backs to injuries, but if we can stay healthy, we should get back on track and have a winning season next year." He also added, "I enjoyed very much coaching the seniors this year."

There were several awards given: Chad Jones and Chuck Hoover, All-State Honorable Mention; John Etchison, Chris Noone, and Tony Hoover, Junior All-State; and Chuck Hoover UPI Honorable Mention squad.

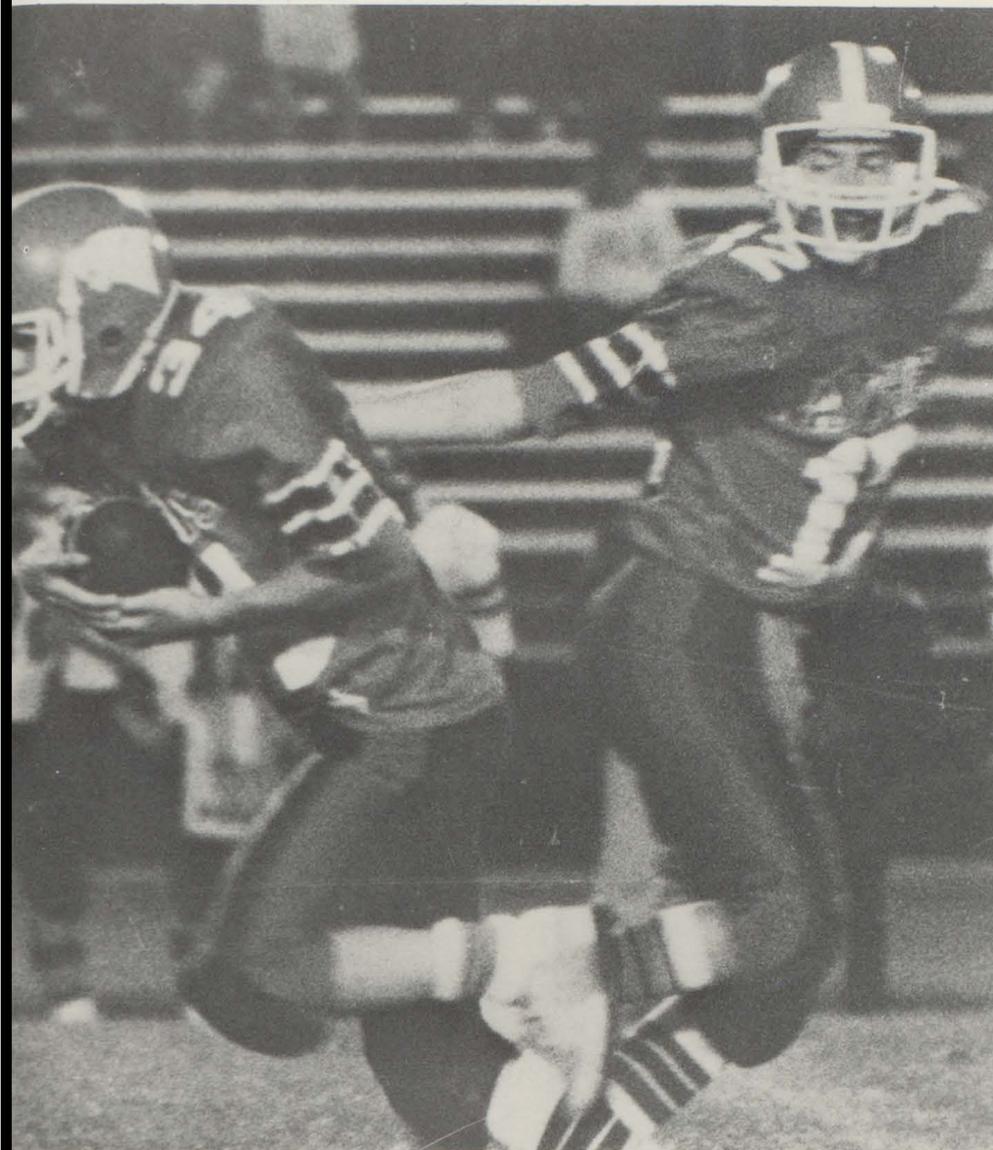

Team awards were also presented this season: Chuck Hoover, most outstanding receiver; Chad Jones, most outstanding defensive lineman; Tony Hoover, outstanding linebacker; Chris Noone, outstanding offensive back; Rob Morrow, outstanding defensive back; and Brian Frazier the most improved player. C.I.C. recognition: Chuck Hoover, Chad Jones, and Tony Hoover.

Young Panthers

Future looks bright after a good season

The junior varsity football team ended the 1986 season with a fine 4-2 record. Their only losses came to C.I.C. rivals Tipton and Peru. The highlight of the season was against Blackford when they defeated the Bruins in double overtime, 20-12.

Their successful season was the result of a lot of desire, dedication, and leadership. The important players who showed leadership this season were Randy Burris, Shane Arnold, Sam Mireles, William Haas, and Joel Kleyla. At the awards banquet Randy Burris and Sam Mireles received awards for being the most valuable players. Also, Coach Burdsall mentioned that Mark Richwine and Jim Sowash were the most improved on the team.

Coach Burdsall's goals for the team were to have fun and to prepare the varsity for their upcoming games. He had fun coaching and said that the kids were very easy to work with. He also stated, "The whole team, varsity and junior varsity, is a family, not just during football but the whole year."

The goals of the freshman football team were met this season as they enjoyed playing and learning the system of Elwood Panther Football. Everyone improved and showed desire to play Panther football. They had fun and had great attitudes throughout the season. They ended the season with three wins and four losses.

Three players were acknowledged with special awards. Cale Martin was the most valuable offensive player, and Gary Coston was the most valuable defensive player. Also Chad Scott was chosen as being the most improved player. All three of these players showed leadership, and it would have been difficult playing without them.

Coach Goins had fun coaching and enjoyed watching each player get better as the season progressed. He looks forward to next year so he can introduce more students to the Panther program.

Boys Finish 1-10

Look forward to next year

Many positive accomplishments occurred during the boys' cross country season which were not indicated in a 1-10 record. Good attitudes, dedication, improved times, and leadership were the team's winning points. Although the team had a harsh season, they were able to maintain a good attitude which improved during the year. "There was plenty of desire and a lot of dedications shown by these young men, and I was pleased by it. Our goals for the season were to improve last year's times and to be more competitive in the conference which we have accomplished," commented Coach Hobbs.

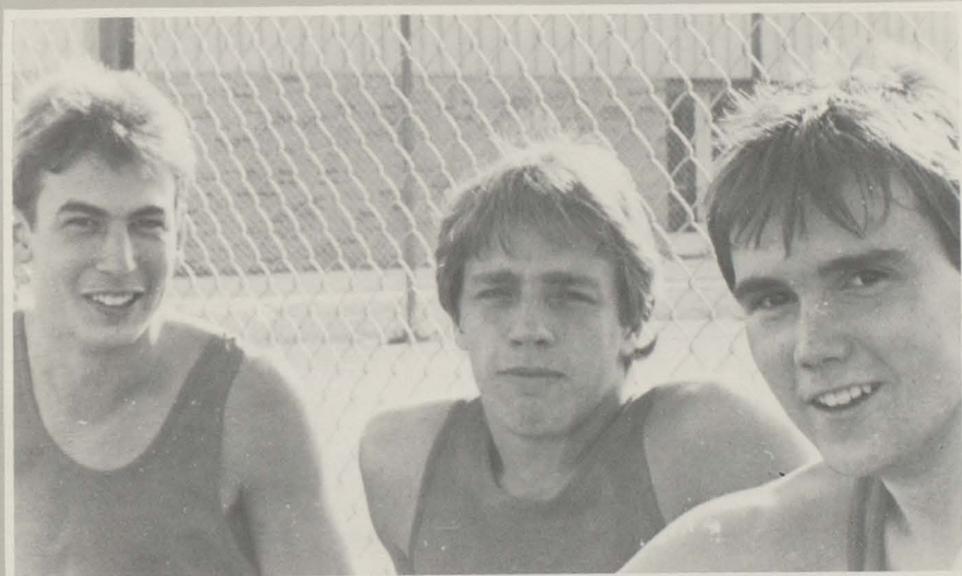

Another positive aspect of the season was that the younger runners displayed a lot of promise for the future because of their ability to improve their times week after week. Juniors Dino Balser and Derek Paquin were the true leaders of the team and encouraged and helped the other members when they needed it.

Dino Balser, Derek Paquin, Trent Hicks, Matt John, Rob Morris, David Emery, Rob Frye, and Rich

Champion received varsity letters. Rob Tippey, Kiley Como, and Chad Martin received reserve awards. The most valuable runner on the team was Dino Balser. He received the award for being the top male cross country runner. Most improved runners were sophomore Rob Morris and junior Dino Balser. We look forward to the efforts of these two runners next season, as well as the efforts of their teammates.

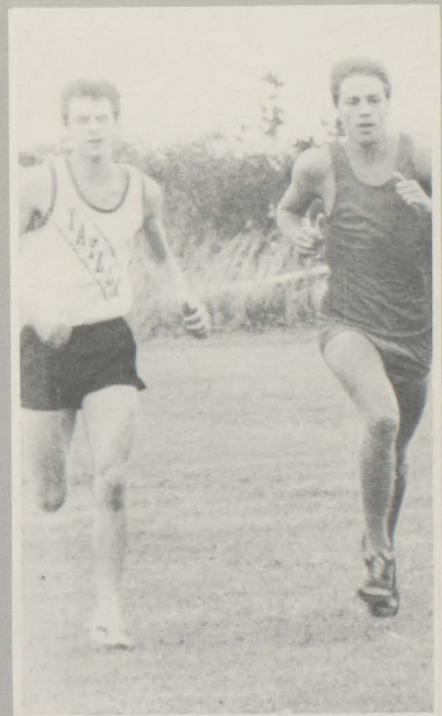

Coach Hobbs commented, "One of the reasons we did not do as well this season was that we were not physically prepared. Next year we must concentrate on training during the summer months." He also added, "The goals for next season will be to place higher (4th) in the C.I.C. and to continue to improve personal times."

Coach Hobbs commented, "I enjoy working with young people, and although the team and myself didn't meet with great success this season, I truly admire the young men who were a part of the cross country program."

Senior Trent Hicks and Juniors Derek Paquin and Dino Balser try to smile and relax before running in their meet.

Ruby Simpson trails Melanie Tolle for a second and third place finish at Peru in a conference meet which led to the C.I.C. victory. Their hard work and dedication really paid off.

Sophomore Stacey Hoppel and Coach Hobbs discuss strategy before an important meet. This was the first time that the Elwood girls had captured the C.I.C. crown.

Girls Capture C.I.C.

Finish with a 10-1 record

This year was the first year that Elwood High School had enough members for a full girls' cross country team, and the result was the C.I.C. championship.

The lady Panthers' overall record was 10-1 with their only loss, Oak Hill, in a three way meet. Coach Hobbs felt that in the beginning there was not a lot of desire and dedication, but it improved greatly as the season went on. There was a coming together of teammates as the season unfolded which in turn helped boost the confidence level. Another thing that improved with each meet was the attitudes of each of the six ladies, some of whom didn't realize that cross country could be so hard.

"At the beginning of the season the team members didn't get along with each other. This was a minor problem that they were able to overcome," stated Coach Hobbs.

All six runners showed leadership and ability to win, but the most improved runners were Lisa Knotts and Tracie Wheeler. The most valuable runners were all six girls, but the top three runners ran well all year. They were Melanie Tolle, Ruby Simpson and Linda Simpson who were named All-Conference. All six young ladies received varsity letters, and Ruby Simpson was recognized for advancing to the Regionals.

Our goal for this season was to just compete in the conference since this was our first full team, but things just meshed together and took off from there. Our goals for next season are to repeat as C.I.C. champs and to place high in the sectional.

"I think that the weakest part of our season this year was that we needed more young ladies to our depth. Hopefully, we can get more people out for the team next year," said Coach Hobbs.

The only senior on the team this year was Linda Simpson. She performed to the best of her ability.

"As a coach, I had a lot of fun teaching the girls, and hopefully, more young ladies will help to make it an enjoyable season in the future.

Tennis improves

Girls place 2nd in C.I.C. — Boys 6th

The 1986-87 boys' tennis team ended with a 4-5 record. Coach Hoppel felt that the highlight of the season was his team winning three more games than last season. Coach Hoppel credited junior Troy Hicks and senior foreign exchange student Lars Christensen as being the leaders on this year's team. Desire and dedication helped this year's team succeed in having a 4-5 record and almost a .500 season. Throughout the season Coach Hoppel saw all the players improve with every match and hopes each player will continue to improve his skills. The goals for next year's team, which will return all but one starter, include having a .500 season, winning C.I.C., and placing in the top five at the sectional.

The weakest part of this year's team was not having an exact game plan on how to defeat the opponent.

Coach Hoppel hopes this will change in the years to come.

The 1987 girls' tennis team finished with a 3-6 record and a second place finish in the conference. Daphne Kelich was noted as being the most valuable player. Only a sophomore, Daphne played number one singles and ended with a 9-2 record, won the C.I.C. singles championship, and advanced to the regional at Ball State only to lose to Highland's Leah Woolridge. Senior Crista Allen was the number two singles player, and Julie Romig played number three singles.

Coach Hoppel hopes that more girls will play on next year's team as the team is in need of doubles players. For a successful season next year each player needs to improve her skills and have the dedication and desire to win and be successful.

Two players selected to special teams were Amy Groover and Diane Mitchell. Amy made All Sectional, and Diane made the Madison County Team.

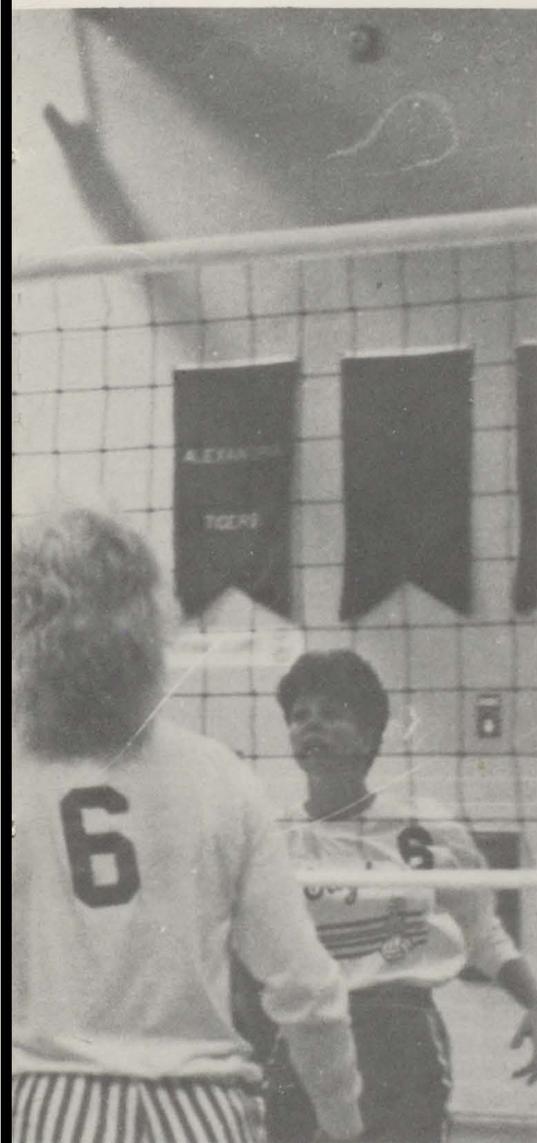

Girls Show Improvement

Young team has much success

This year the varsity volleyball team met its goal by showing a lot more dedication than in the past. The girls also worked extremely hard in practice and showed desire to be successful. The girls became much stronger and quicker because of their strength training during the summer. They ended the season with 11 wins and 15 losses which was a big improvement over last year's record. Each player's attitude was good, and they worked well together. Joani Smith, Angela Higgins, Michelle McQuitty, and Daphne Kelich were players who showed leadership and helped pull the team together. Diane

Mitchell was selected to the Madison County Volleyball Team, and Amy Groover was selected for the All Sectional Team.

The team was young with Joani Smith being its only senior. She received a special award for playing all four years of high school and will be missed next year. Next year's co-captains will be Angela Higgins and Michelle McQuitty. Coach Personette had a great time coaching and feels that the team will do well next year. She hopes to be conference champs and to make it to the finals during sectional playoffs.

Young Panther Pride

Youth & experience should lead to success

The 1986 junior varsity volleyball season proved to be a rebuilding year as the team consisted of eleven freshmen. Even though they ended the season with 6 wins and 18 losses, the girls seemed to improve their skills a great deal throughout the season. Coach Mindy Parker had only three goals for her team this year: each player improve, learn, and have fun playing the game. She felt the weakest part of the game was that they were a young team playing against older and more experienced players. Shannon Hook and Amy Smith were chosen as co-captains and displayed a lot of leadership and the desire to win. Almost every girl showed dedication and desire, and even when they were losing, the girls never gave up.

The highlight of the season was almost beating Pendleton Heights at the county tourney. Even though the girls lost, they did not give up. Coach Parker was very pleased with her team's unity. "They were always planning things together. They even planned a surprise for me. I loved coaching this team! I've never had a team so young and willing to learn. It was great!" stated Coach Parker. This year's team was young and inexperienced, but with eleven returning players, Coach Parker is counting on a more successful season next year.

The girls' junior varsity basketball team ended the 1986-87 season with a record of 1-15. This year's team consisted of freshmen and sophomores, so this young team should be successful in the future.

Coach Hoppel felt that the junior varsity's man-to-man defense improved greatly throughout the season. Coach Hoppel's goals for his team were for them to improve throughout each week of the season. Freshman Patricia Jones was tapped by Coach Hoppel as being the most improved player on the team.

Coach Hoppel felt that his team's ball handling and shooting were their weakest part of the game, and he hopes to improve their free throw percentage to 50% and their field goal percentage to 40%.

Coach Hoppel stated, "This was the hardest that I have ever worked with a team."

Amy Groover takes an outside shot while Blackford players watch, and Jeanne Armstrong hustles for position.

Sophomore Rae Anne Curtis concentrates on the hoop as she prepares to shoot a free throw.

Girls Improve

And show us what hard practice will do

The 1986-87 girls' varsity basketball team proved to everyone that they could work together as a team. During their game against Frankton, late in the season, they fought hard and only lost by four points. The girls played great defense during that game which was a big reason for the closeness of the scores. Another reason they lost that game was that our girls just couldn't seem to get their shots to fall. That was a problem in other games also.

The Frankton game was a fun night for the girls, but it was only part of their season. Even though they finished with 4 wins and 16 losses, our girls made the improvements they'd hoped for, and it started to show as the season progressed. Joani Smith, Linda Simpson, and Angie McGuire were the senior players who provided leadership and helped pull the team together. Their hard work and dedication will be missed next year.

Coach Johnson said their most improved player was Angie McGuire. "Angie was a fantastic practice player as well as a game player," stated Coach Johnson. Also improving was Linda Simpson who played tough inside, played good defense, and pulled down more rebounds this season. By improving her rebounding, she broke the school record for the most rebounds in a single season, finishing with 201.

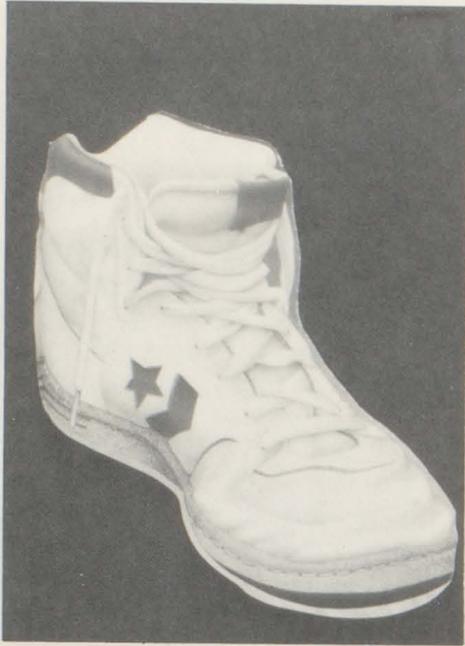

The coaches expect better shooting in the future. They hope that younger girls will become more dedicated to basketball and that they will work on their skills all year long. "The weakest part of our game was the inability to put the ball through the hoop," commented Coach Johnson. "If the girls can take 200 shots a day, five days a week, they will improve."

The coaches and returning players are planning on more improvements for next season.

After making the steal, senior Joani Smith brings the ball down the court on a fast break.

Daphne Kelich drives to the basket and goes for two during a varsity game against Blackford.

Members of the boys' varsity basketball team rejoice after their 104-59 victory over Marion Bennett. What makes this group of boys so special is that they are not only dedicated team members but best friends.

Records Broken

Best season since 1969

The 1986-87 season proved to be the year of the Panther as "Hoosier hysteria" swept through Elwood, and the Panther basketball team enjoyed a fine 16-5 season.

There were many highlights this year for the Panther basketball team, but the one everyone will remember is the defeat of Noblesville on their home court to stop their home court winning streak of 43 games. The thrill of winning 16 games and defeating area teams such as Alex, Tipton, and Frankton were other bright spots. The reason this year's team experienced so many great moments was because of the desire and dedication from the team members and the leadership of the five seniors. Another highlight was the change seen by Coach Larry Hobbs. "For the first time since I took over the program, the team expected to win when they competed against other teams."

Defense seemed to be the weakest part of the Panthers' game this season. "I feel that we should have played better defense during the course of the season. Along with better defense, we should have blocked out better," stated Coach Hobbs.

Also Coach Hobbs felt that the team's free throw shooting could have been better. Even though they improved to 70%, he felt that they should have been shooting 75%. Coach Hobbs hopes for a more successful season next year, but he knows that it will take dedication and leadership from next year's seniors. It will be difficult to replace the five seniors from this year's team who contributed athletic ability, leadership, and dedication to the Elwood program.

Coach Hobbs felt that everyone on the team was the most valuable player. "Without each and everyone of them in practice and during the game, we wouldn't have had such a great season. If you are a member of an Elwood basketball team, you are very valuable to the program," stated Coach Hobbs. The coaches were very pleased with the attitudes of each player. "Without good attitudes we couldn't have accomplished the things we did this season," stated Coach Hobbs.

There is a very positive feeling about next year's returning players, and they have a lot to strive for to have another successful season at Elwood Community High School.

Young Teams

prepare for future success

The junior varsity team, coached by Mr. Joe Williams, had a great season with sixteen wins and four losses. Those losses were at the beginning of the season against Daleville, losing by one point; Madison Grant, losing by one point; Pendleton, losing by seventeen points; and Shenandoah, losing by four points. The weakest part of the team's game was the free throw shooting. In some games the free throw shooting was below 50%. The team worked very hard though and improved a great deal throughout the season.

Coach Williams commented, "I saw players develop into good team members. They accepted a role, and it paid off for them. We had no stars. Everyone worked well together. Everyone on the team showed leadership in some way or another."

The goals for this year's team was to gain experience. They did this and excelled in the process. As for the goals for next year Coach Williams stated, "I hope to continue the winning streak and have another big winning season!"

The freshman basketball A team ended its season, 4-11, while the B team ended its season with 4-4. Coach Chip Morris, commenting on the reason for the losses, stated that a lot of close games were probably lost due to tiredness in the fourth quarter. Coach Morris felt that at the freshman level, the team members don't realize how much dedication and desire is needed, but this will increase as they mature. Many of the team members did mature throughout the season which brought them to the highlight of their season, an exciting 52-47 double overtime win against Eastbrook.

One of the most important goals of this year's team was academic in nature. As a team, the members decided not to make a grade below a C. For the most part they did a good job achieving that. As for next year's goals, Coach Chip Morris stated, "I am hoping for a winning season and hope to build upon an existing successful basketball program."

Bright Future Ahead

Many young wrestlers look promising

The 1986-1987 wrestlers did an excellent job during the season. Even though their record was 7 wins, 13 losses, and 1 tie, they still showed great talent and hope for next year. They proved that they were better than their record showed when they placed second in sectional and advanced nine wrestlers to the regional. Everyone worked hard and improved throughout the season while growing closer to one another as a team. Coach Boley stated that they worked harder than any other team he has been associated with in his seven years of coaching.

The team as a whole was young and inexperienced, but by participating in A.A.U. wrestling and with weight training, they should improve during the off season. Coach Boley has high expectations for next year. They hope to improve their record, do well in conference meets and reach the state championship.

Some wrestlers accomplished individual goals as well as helping out the team. Fred Short was the M.V.P. and was crowned "king of the mat." Fred was a hard worker and finished the season with 20 wins and 10 losses. He and his teammate Mike Haskett, captains of the team, will be missed next year.

The junior varsity wrestling team also has a good season, finishing with 5 wins and 6 losses. Coach Burdsall was very happy with his team this year. He said that he was proud of every wrestler who made it through the season. "They all seemed to mature physically and mentally during the season," stated Coach Burdsall.

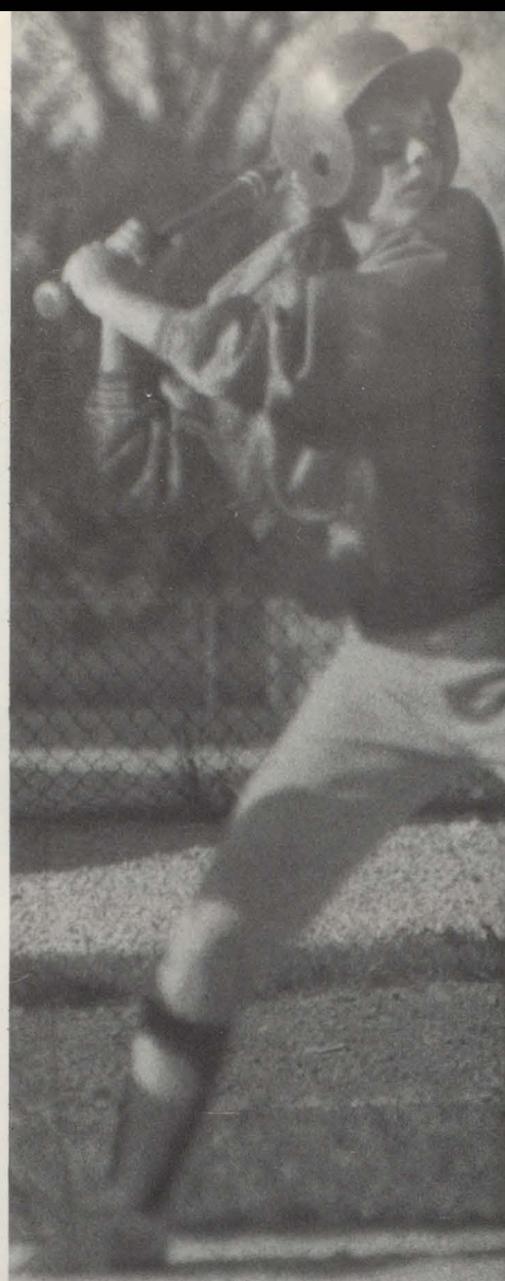

"A meet that will probably be remembered by all the junior varsity wrestlers was the meet against Alex when we shut them out, and our wrestlers pinned every opponent," stated Coach Burdsall.

Chosen as M.V.P. for the junior varsity team was Brian Parker, who had 8 wins and 4 losses, because he's only a freshman. He could help the varsity in the future.

Next year the junior varsity hopes to improve by not getting pinned as often as they did this year. They also hope to do better in tourneys and in regular season meets. Coach Boley and Coach Burdsall are looking forward to next season, and they hope to see even more students wrestling next year.

Diane Mitchell, a junior, eyes the oncoming pitch. Diane had a batting average of .424, the highest on the team. Diane also had 14 hits and 7 R.B.I.'s.

Jenny Dewitt performs her routine on the uneven bars during a home meet. She also competed on the beam, vault, and floor exercise this season.

Girls' sports

A new sport, softball, is successful

The 1987 girls' gymnastics team finished the season with an 0-7 record. The problems seemed to arise from the lack of desire and dedication from the team members.

However, there were a few bright spots during the season. Julie Bastian was selected as the most improved player, and Amy Noone was selected as most valuable player for the season.

The goals for this year's team were to be able to compete at the optional level and for each girl to show improvement on her piece of apparatus.

The girls' softball team finished the season with a 4-7 record. "The softball team improved greatly and can look forward to success next year," stated Coach Yates. "After the poor effort against Eastbrook, the girls really turned things around in their last four games. They cut down on errors from averaging sixteen a game to averaging three a game. They really played as though they wanted to be there."

The players who showed the most leadership throughout the season were seniors Joani Smith and Rhonda Kantner, juniors Lynne Shepard and Diane Mitchell, and sophomore Debbie Foor. The most valuable player on the team was Diane Mitchell. She was very stable in the infield on defense and was the leading batter with a .424 batting average. Two freshmen, Michelle Welcher and Kristi Bobel, improved the most throughout the year. Rhonda Kantner was recognized for doing a good job as catcher and will be missed next year. Joani Smith and Rae Ann Curtis received special awards for their efforts. Joani received the softball award and was one of the best pitchers in the county and at the sectional. Rae Ann received an award for her outstanding outfielding.

"I enjoyed this year, especially the sectional game. I learned a lot," said Coach Yates. "The girls had a good season as a whole. It was their first year, and they took the twelfth-ranked team in the state down to the wire in the sectional, losing 0-3. If the girls work on their skills this summer, we'll be very strong competition next season."

1987 C.I.C. Champs

Golf team ends with 9-5 record

The 1986-87 varsity golf team finished with a 9-5 record and a C.I.C. championship crown. Along with winning the C.I.C. the team also set a new school record with a team total of 147 against Blackford. Throughout the season Coach Goyer saw the attitudes of his players change. He felt everyone's attitude was very competitive toward the end of the season. The team also seemed to show a lot of desire and dedication which helped the team achieve its goal of winning the C.I.C. crown. Coach Goyer felt that senior Trent Hicks, junior Shane Arnold, and sophomore Kent John displayed leadership and encouraged and helped their teammates throughout the season. Shane Arnold and Kent John were also credited as being the most valuable players on the team. Kent John was also voted the most improved player on the team. Shane Arnold received All Conference honors, and Kent John and Shane Arnold received golfer of the year awards.

Coach Goyer stated that consistency was the weakest part of this year's team. The team and Coach Goyer hope to repeat as C.I.C. champions next year, and they have a good chance as six players will be returning to the team.

The junior varsity team ended with a 6-4 record and set a new team score school record of 169. Brian Frazier was the leader for the junior varsity and also was noted as the most valuable. Coach Goyer hopes for an undefeated season for next year's junior varsity and varsity teams and hopes each team member will try to improve and be the best that he can be.

Young tracksters

Girls break many records

Once again the boys' and girls' track teams were set back by the youth of their teams. The girls were led by the point scoring of Julie Bastian, Ruby Simpson, and Stacey Hoppel. The girls' team finished its season with two wins and six losses. Even though the girls won only two meets, the team was very determined to win. The girls were talented in the running events and broke several school records including the 800 meter run, 1600 meter run, 3200 meter run, the 400 meter relay and the 1600 meter relay. Breaking the 800 meter record was Stacey Hoppel who was also a member of the 400 meter and the 1600 meter relay team. Also breaking records were Ruby Simpson who broke the record in the 1600 meter run and the 3200 meter run. Since these girls are still only freshmen and sophomores, these records could soon be broken again in the upcoming seasons. The team's only senior, Linda Simpson, participated in the 400 meter dash and was a member of the 1600 meter relay team. She also participated in the high jump during one meet.

The boys' track team was also a young team. The boys' team had no seniors and only five juniors. There was talent on the team, but they were still young. Jay Courtney, a junior, won first place in the pole vault during the C.I.C. meet. He also qualified for the sectional along with Jason Kleinbub in the long jump, Derek Paquin in the 100 and the high jump, Chris Noone in the long jump, and the 400 relay team of Jay Courtney, Jason Kleinbub, Chris Noone, and Derek Paquin.

The most improved member was sophomore Rich Tippey who participated in the low hurdles, high hurdles, and the high jump.

Coach Goins enjoyed coaching most of the time, but he hopes that more of the school's athletes will participate and take track more seriously.

Junior Jay Courtney clears a sectional qualifying height of 11 feet 6 inches. Jay took first place in the C.I.C. meet and won many blue ribbons in the pole vault during the season.

Baseball hysteria

Panthers finish one game shy of .500 mark

The young Panther baseball team finished the season with a 12-13 record. Coach Bomholt set three goals for the Panthers at the beginning of the season. Those were to have a winning season, to do well in the conference, and to win the sectional. Unfortunately, none of those goals were accomplished. Part of the reason for not having a winning season was that the Panthers couldn't seem to make the routine plays on defense. They tended to get down on themselves and lose their confidence. "That was something that we had to battle against all year," stated Coach Bomholt.

The Panthers did have a few bright spots during the season. One was beating Peru, 10-3, which probably was the best the Panthers played all year. Others were the improvement of Kevin Updegraff's playing, the pitching of Marc Bastian and David Tunnell, and the hitting of Charlie Stutzman.

The seniors on the team showed a lot of leadership throughout the season. One was Chuck Hoover. When he played well, the team tended to play well. Another was Bryan Phenix who played first base and designated hitter. The last senior was Marc Bastian. He pitched and played first base and in the outfield. He had the best attitude and was the most consistent player during the year.

The junior varsity ended their season a game under .500 with a 5-6 record. They were led throughout the season with the performances of many dedicated players.

There were many bright spots this year. One was the final game in which the junior varsity pounded out 22 hits and scored 16 runs against Mount Vernon. Gary Coston and Cale Martin also improved tremendously throughout the season. Eric Caldwell and Johnny Bunch led the Panther attack with their many fine performances. But most of all, the team seemed to come together and really learn a lot of fundamentals which allowed Coach Morris to have a great time coaching this team.

Cheerleaders

Work hard and spread spirit at E.H.S.!

The 1986-87 cheerleading squads were very busy this school season. There was a change this year as the varsity squad was increased from five to six girls. This seemed to work very well because the girls were able to build more mounts and have more cheers.

All the cheerleaders attended the UCA camp at Ball State University this summer. The cheerleaders received many awards. All three squads won the spirit stick every day and brought it home to present to Mr. Paquin. The varsity squad won one excellent ribbon and six superior ribbons. The junior varsity squad won two excellent ribbons and two superior ribbons while the freshman squad received four excellent ribbons, three superior ribbons, and two outstanding ribbons.

Several fund raisers were sponsored by the cheerleaders. They sold red and blue sunglasses and red and blue Panther pins. During football season they sponsored a chili supper which took place on senior night. A dance was held in the spring also.

The cheerleaders also did special activities for the teams. They had a pool party this summer for the football team and decorated the locker rooms during football and basketball season. The varsity squad made photo albums for the senior football players, brought cookies and punch after basketball practice, and decorated the basketball sectional team bus.

There was more spirit at the girls' sports events this year due to the participation of the cheerleaders. All three squads attended all of the home girls' varsity volleyball games. The frosh attended the girls' varsity basketball games and did a super job in leading cheers and getting the crowd involved.

Senior cheerleaders Teresa Mays, Angie Morrow, and Gina Hoffer stand for the National anthem before a home basketball game.

The varsity cheerleaders line up in front of the trophy case. Not only do they cheer for basketball and football but also other sports.

The cheerleaders do a cheer to get the crowd involved in one of the many exciting home basketball games.

Hours of hard work and stress occur before copy goes to

PRESS

The journalism class publishes the school newspaper, the Megaphone. Approximately seven issues were produced this year with approximately three hundred fifty papers sold each time. The staff members worked hard to have good features and special news stories. Mrs. Sullivan, teacher of the class, felt that the staff displayed great enthusiasm in doing its work. Students learn a lot in a journalism class. The skills used in interviewing, copy writing, photography, and designing layouts will be of great value. Dealing with adults in the community and interviewing those adults help students to gain confidence. There are several rewards that come from being a member of the Megaphone staff.

The yearbook class utilizes all the processes needed to publish a book: planning layouts, interviewing, copywriting, photography, film developing, and printing. New approaches were adopted this year. Four hundred and fifty yearbooks were sold in a one week sales campaign with a kick-off presentation by Kim Ash, Jostens's representative. Another new approach was the adoption of a smaller book and the use of prefab layout sheets which have proven to be very efficient. The editors not only showed much leadership in accomplishing numerous tasks, but they also taught new members the techniques. Several other students showed great loyalty to the class. Being a member of the yearbook staff is a great way to be involved in the school by recording the school's history.

Math, science and computer classes offer much for the future

Brain Games

The computer department is headed by Mr. Garner. He has a Master of Arts Degree in computer science from Ball State University. The plans for the computer lab were formulated approximately seven years ago. In early 1983 the computers for room 213 were purchased with assistance from Mr. Garner. "I enjoy the subject, especially the different computer languages of the advanced programming class," stated Mr. Garner.

Mr. Huffman and Mrs. Yates planned a fun-filled year for the science club members. The first event planned was a candy sale. All the money collected helped pay for buses and part of the students' expenses for field trips. A ski trip was planned but was cancelled due to the lack of snow. Mrs. Yates also took a field trip to the I.U. Medical Center on March 16th. The canoe trip in the spring was also a big success with many students participating. Next year the plans are very similar, but in a couple of years Mrs. Yates would like to take an educational field trip to Colorado.

Disecting pigs can't be as bad as some people say because Brian Phenis and Greg Zink find time for humor during this assignment.

In a chemistry lab Mrs. Yates helps Brent Slater and Carrie Dauenhauer set up their equipment for their lab procedures.

Music department scores record high in competition

The music department includes the band, guard, choir, choral company, and the girls performing group. The band and the guard had their most successful competitive season. In addition to placing high at contest, the band received the music award, and Angie Collins and Maria McCabe received the drum major award.

The band and guard also had other successes. In solo and ensemble they had 20 entries with two advancing to state. The band competed in the ISSMA organizational contest. The band guard added a lot of spirit at the basketball and football games. The annual awards banquet was attended by 300 people.

Choir had 30 members in class this year. In solo and ensemble they entered 25 events, and eight qualified for state. The students performed in the Christmas program and the variety show.

A new addition to the music department this year was the girls' performing group which entertained at many banquets and presented a variety of music. They also participated in choral auditions, the Christmas concert, and the variety show.

The music department, under the direction of Miss Simmons, offers many opportunities for our students and entertainment for the school and community.

EXPLORING

Elwood High School offers an excellent business program for high school students that offers a wide variety of courses such as keyboarding, accounting, office procedures, selling, and general business. The business courses teach students valuable skills and are especially popular with students entering the business field. Approximately 362 students were enrolled this year.

Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) is a club for students interested in business. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Barnett and Mr. Hoppel, participates in a great many activities such as the state contest in Indianapolis, several FBLA conventions, and the initiation ceremony for new members.

The social studies department tried something new this year, freshman world history honor classes. Planned by Mrs.

Merritt, this course outline includes activities that challenge above average students with higher thinking skills. Some highlights were the study of famous documents, problem solving, and a field trip to the state legislature.

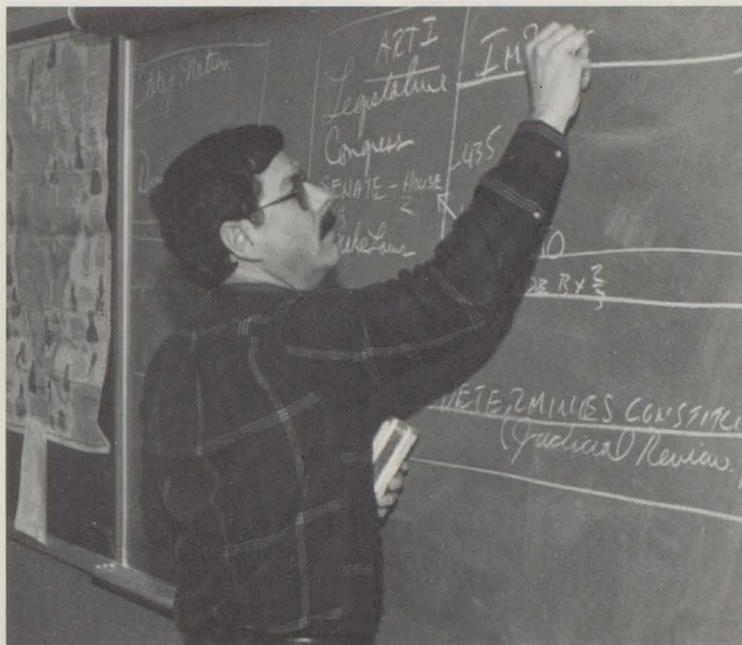

Mr. Brown designed and taught the new class, life skills. Some items taught were goal setting and dealing with authority. Approximately fifteen students enrolled.

At the chalkboard Mr. Hoffman teaches checks and balances of the Constitution to his U.S. history class.

Mr. Bomholt really loves his psychology students. Derek Paquin responds with a smile. Mr. Bomholt also teaches economics and U.S. history. He is Elwood's head baseball coach and assistant coach for the varsity basketball team.

Brian Parker, a freshman enrolled in the honors world history class, points to the Constitutions made by the world history classes. The study of famous documents was an important class project. The class was taught by Mrs. Merritt.

It's what they get out of it,
but also what they give

Action

At Elwood High School there are many interesting classes. Three classes that students find rewarding are physical education, health, and driver education.

Miss Personette, the Elwood volleyball coach, and Mr. Hughes, the Elwood football coach, teach these classes. Many activities such as volleyball and field hockey are co-ed, but there are certain classes for just the girls and some for just the boys. Some of the students' favorites include gymnastics, pillo-polo, handball, archery, volleyball, soccer, softball, field hockey, and aerobics.

Health, a one semester class, is taught by Miss Johnson, Mr. Hobbs, and Mr. Demuth. Each class deals with such topics as alcohol and drugs, sex education, smoking, and the human body structure. Two semesters of health are required for graduation.

A very challenging class for many students is driver education. Miss Johnson and Mr. Hobbs also teach this class. Students practice driving under many circumstances. These include city, highway, and interstate driving, parking, and driving under all weather conditions. An average of 70% receive their waivers which allows them to receive their license earlier.

Keeping fit with daily exercise and learning new physical activities are important for a student's education in the academic curriculum.

Showing us his ability to drive, Jason Hester, a first semester drivers education student, is leaving the parking lot to begin his driving period of the week.

During her driving time Stacey Gosnell does a shoulder check before proceeding with her turn. This is a very important part of learning to drive defensively.

Mike Hoffman is listening to a Spanish tape during lab. The Spanish students use the lab to become more familiar with the language, and they feel that practice makes perfect.

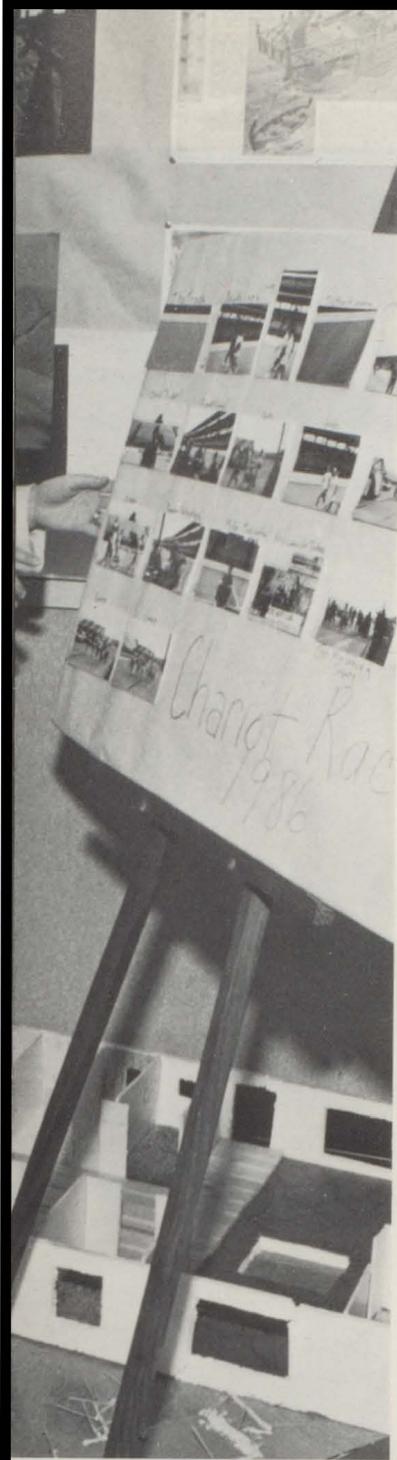

Mrs. Scharff is reviewing a Spanish lesson with a first year class. Myra Edgell and Mark Fernung are listening and following along as Mrs. Scharff reviews a lesson on numbers.

Jeremy Jones and Mrs. Garner reminisce the 1986 chariot race by viewing photographs. A model of a Roman dwelling, a recent assignment, is also exhibited.

Festival, a Christmas party, a trip to One Accord and Chi-Chi's, ice skating, the Belles and Beaus Valentine Dance, and the mini Pan Am Games. Mrs. Scharf, club sponsor, planned many enjoyable and cultural events for 100 members.

Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Garner, had 102 members this year. Activities included were the International Festival, a Christmas party, a "King and I" performance, a skating party, a toga party, a trip to Kings Island, certamen meets, a state convention, and a summer trip to England. The annual chariot race was great! The class finished fourth. Mrs. Garner enhances her Latin curriculum with many worthwhile experiences. Latin club members had fun and experienced a variety of learning experiences this year!

GREAT ART!

Art club has sponsored three major trips. A trip to Chicago took place in October. A group of students, including freshmen to seniors, attended. They visited the Museum of Science and Industry and the Omnimax Theatre too. Afterward the group viewed monumental sculptures downtown. St. Louis was the second destination. Members visited St. Louis Art Museum, Grants Farm, Gateway Arch, the Louisville Zoo, and Union Station. They stayed overnight at the Best Western Inn. The third trip took place on December 20th to Nashville, Indiana, for Christmas shopping and to the Indianapolis Art Museum.

The art club has had several fund raising projects in order to purchase art work for the new auditorium. The goal of the art club is to provide cultural opportunities and experiences for the students who enjoy social activities which originate from interest in the arts and to be of service to the school and community.

Mrs. McQuitty, club sponsor and teacher, dedicates much preparation and time to her classes as well as her 25 member club. This dedication is very much appreciated.

Brighton Beach Memoirs

The Lion in Winter

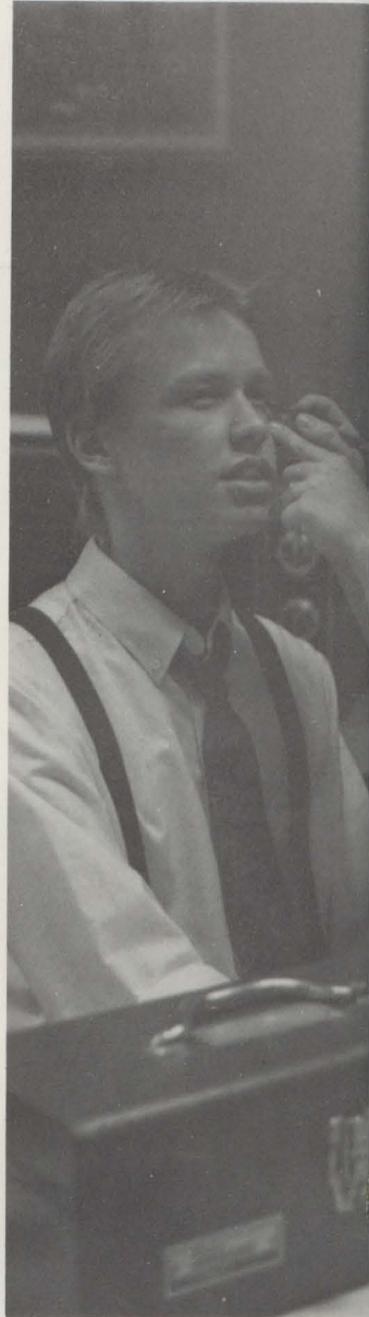

Thespians

Thespians Troupe #58 proudly presented two plays this year. Brighton Beach Memoirs, performed on November 15, 1986, was a Neil Simon autobiographical comedy. It was about a family's struggle to survive financially during the depression and the menace of World War II. The cast consisted of S. Barnes, S. Jones, L. Fowler, C. Paven, A. Dinken, M. Stone, and R. McCord. There were also many people behind the scenes who helped make this play a success. The play took weeks to prepare. Mrs. Herndon, Thespians sponsor, stated, "The play was very well received. The audience enjoyed it, thought it was funny, and said the actors did a good job." Approximately 225 people attended the play.

The Lion in Winter, a historical comedy by James Goldman, was a success on April 11, 1987. It was about King Henry II and Queen Eleanor of Aquitaine in the 12th century who were plot-ting to decide who would succeed them. King Henry II wanted John, and Queen Eleanor wanted Richard. The cast included R. McCord, A. Dinken, S. Jones, L. Christensen, S. Barnes, B. Slater, and M. Stone. This was a difficult play but very interesting. Miss Mercer, Mrs. McQuitty, Miss Winger, and Mrs. Merritt and their students helped a great deal. Mrs. Herndon thought everyone enjoyed the play.

Queen Eleanor, played by Amy Dinken, and King Henry II, played by Rob McCord, discuss family conflicts.

Amy Scott attempts to add years to Rob McCord's age. Rob portrays the father Jack Jerome.

Alais, played by Susan Jones, and Queen Eleanor, played by Amy Dinken, discuss with anger the affair of Alais and King Henry II, Queen Eleanor's husband.

Mrs. Herndon, director, and Leslie Fowler, student director, discuss ideas concerning the play.

Prince John, played by Brent Slater, and Prince Richard, played by Mike Stone, wait for permission to be released from the dungeon.

Combining scholarship, service,
leadership, character: HONOR

SOCIETY

One of the main goals of the National Honor Society was to recognize and promote service to our school and community. The criteria for membership in N.H.S. includes the completion of the N.H.S. service form, the completion of five semesters, and a 3.5 or higher grade point average. The nine member faculty committee votes for the students in the categories of scholarship, character, service, and leadership. The committee consists of Mr. Paquin, Mr. Patz, Mr. Watson, Miss Mercer, Mrs. Welker, Miss Abel, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Luurtsema, and Mrs. Merritt.

Activities for this year included planning and participating in Tap Day, the Lions Club Honor Banquet, the Induction Ceremony, and the purchase of Honor Society jackets, sweaters, and polos.

This year's sponsors for the Honors program were Mrs. Austin, Miss Mercer, Mrs. Merritt, and Miss Winger. Participants in This program provides an opportunity to be challenged in enrichment activities beyond the classroom. This year Honor enrichment students have had six seminars: B.S.U. Leadership, Turning Negative into Positive, How to Choose a College? What College Is Really Like? Financial Aide, and a S.A.T. Workshop. Field trips were taken to the Chicago Art Institute, PALS, I.U. summer school, the Indianapolis symphony, the state legislature, Benjamin Harrison's home, community concerts, mini-meutorships, and a Medieval pilgrimage and banquet.

Students Against Drunk Driving and Student Council

Students Against Drunk Driving and Student Council displayed true leadership and gave a very positive influence this year as they both were clubs that were very active.

Elwood High School's S.A.D.D. chapter sponsored many activities this year for our students. Along with the Spanish club, S.A.D.D. sponsored the Henry Lee Summer concert on October 5th. On April 3, 1987,

S.A.D.D. organized a lock-in where everyone spent twelve hours playing games, dancing, and having fun all night long. This event emphasized that students can have fun without using drugs or alcohol.

Student Council has been very busy this year sponsoring such activities as the annual Christmas cookie sale, dress up spirit days during sectional week, dances after basketball and football games, and the lip sync contest. All members of Student Council are selected at the beginning of each school year in homerooms.

These clubs provide our student body with a variety of activities with wide appeal. They do much to make us pause to remember.

Students use their abilities to learn and master new

Skills

The industrial arts curriculum was designed for students interested in skilled trades. Opportunities to learn these skills are available in a variety of classes including woods, drafting, blue print reading, and machine shop.

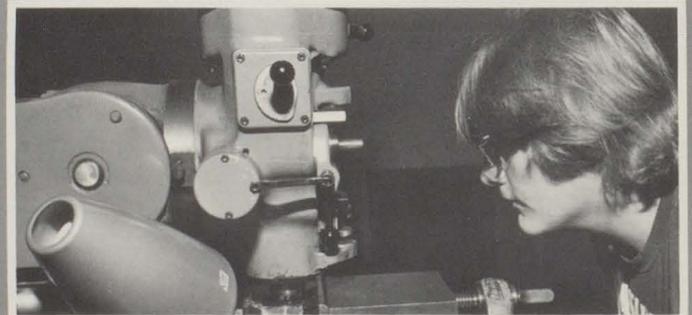

The home economics curriculum offers a wide variety of classes for students interested in home skills. Students can take foods, food service, clothing and textiles, relationships, child care, and home furnishings.

Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Miss Winger, held the district meeting, hosted their Christmas party, and corresponded with children in Haiti.

Mike Russell, sophomore, and Tonya McCray, freshman, work busily on their project in woods class taught by Mr. Knapp. Seeing a girl in this class is becoming more common in our high school.

Greg Hancock looks closely at the drill press in Mr. Pearson's machine shop class. This is a challenging but popular course.

Tammy Mead happily figures her sixth week grade in Miss Winger's clothing and textile class. This class was required for those on the home economics curriculum.

Pat Blackford is busy preparing something good to eat in the vocational food service class in the vocational building.

Mr. Knapp demonstrates sanding in the industrial arts woods class. Learning the process is Eric Smith, Mark Jones, and Matt Green.

Kathy Parker, Melissa Hollowell, Shannon Riley, and Mrs. Wittkamper get ready to try a new recipe in the vocational food service class.

Academic competition and English curriculum

EXCEL

The spell bowl team and the future problem solving teams were organized this year and sponsored by Miss Winger. These teams competed against other schools in academic competition.

The spell bowl team competed in the Hoosier Spell Bowl at Anderson High School in October. The competition was a written spelling competition in which each team member spelled eight words.

The future problem solving team, consisting of four members, were given a scenario of a situation which was twenty five years into the future. The team researched the problem, identified related problems, wrote a problem statement, identified solutions, evaluated them, chose the best solution, and wrote an explanation of how it would be carried out.

Next year Miss Winger hopes to have enough students interested in entering the competitions again. She hopes to have two more teams, an academic decathlon team and a super quiz bowl team.

All E.H.S. students are required to take four years of English to meet graduation requirements. This requirement was recommended by the school corporation two years before the state mandate.

In order to meet the needs of all students, the English department offers a variety of classes. Comprehensive classes are offered to freshmen and sophomores. At the junior and senior level, students may choose college preparatory classes: American fiction, advanced grammar, advanced composition, and humanities. Other students may choose community preparatory classes: modern novels, mass media, communication skills, and short story drama.

Spell Bowl Team — Front row: M. Pedro, S. Hofer, S. Gibbons, A. Brumett, L. Fowler, Miss Winger. Back row: R. McCord, T. Crandall, S. VanNess, M. McCabe, D. Stephens, A. Harper, N. Morita, D. Curry.

Future Problem Solving Team — Miss Winger (sponsor), Carrie Dauenhauer, Tiffany Crandall, Angela Brumett, and Rob McCord.

Sharon Gibbons and Crista Allen are carefully proofreading each other's theme in advanced composition class.

Bridget Dixon is showing Michelle Farr how to do her assignment in freshman Honors English class.

J. Bennett, S. Smith, E. Smith, J. Rivers, J. Riddle, C. VanBlair, G. Hancock, C. Conwell are working on an assignment over The Odyssey in Mrs. Paquin's freshman English class.

Working with smiles on their faces are Miss Mercer and Kim Brown while Cale Martin turns around attempting to assist.

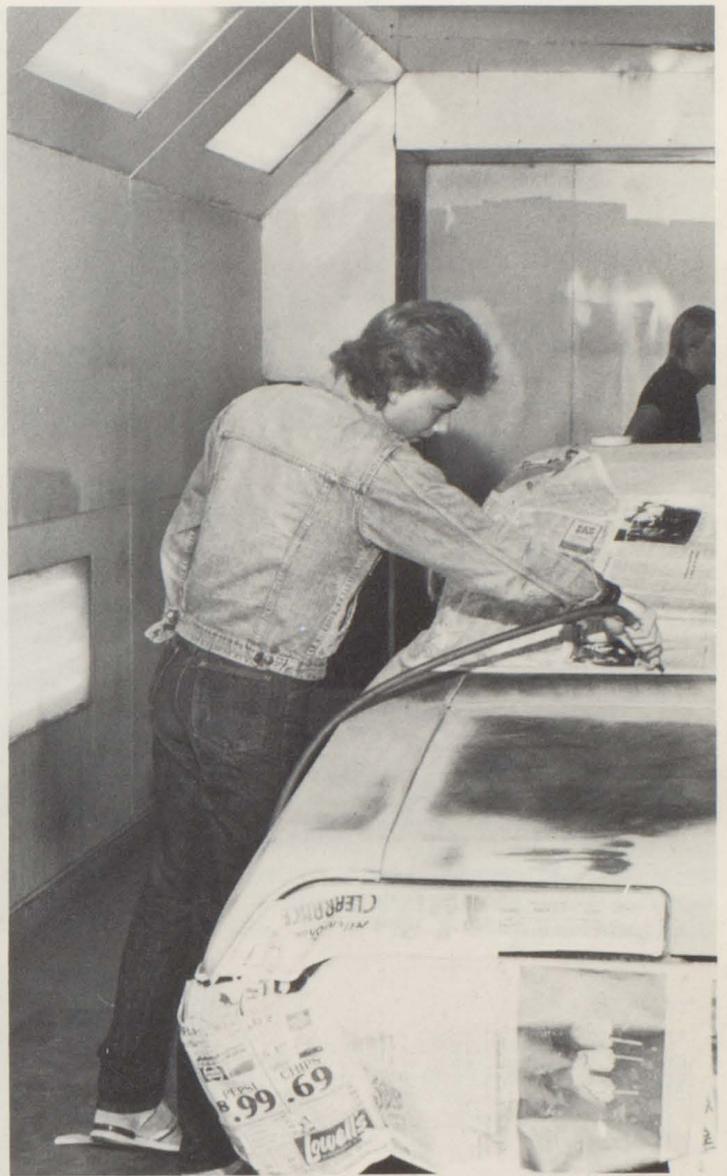

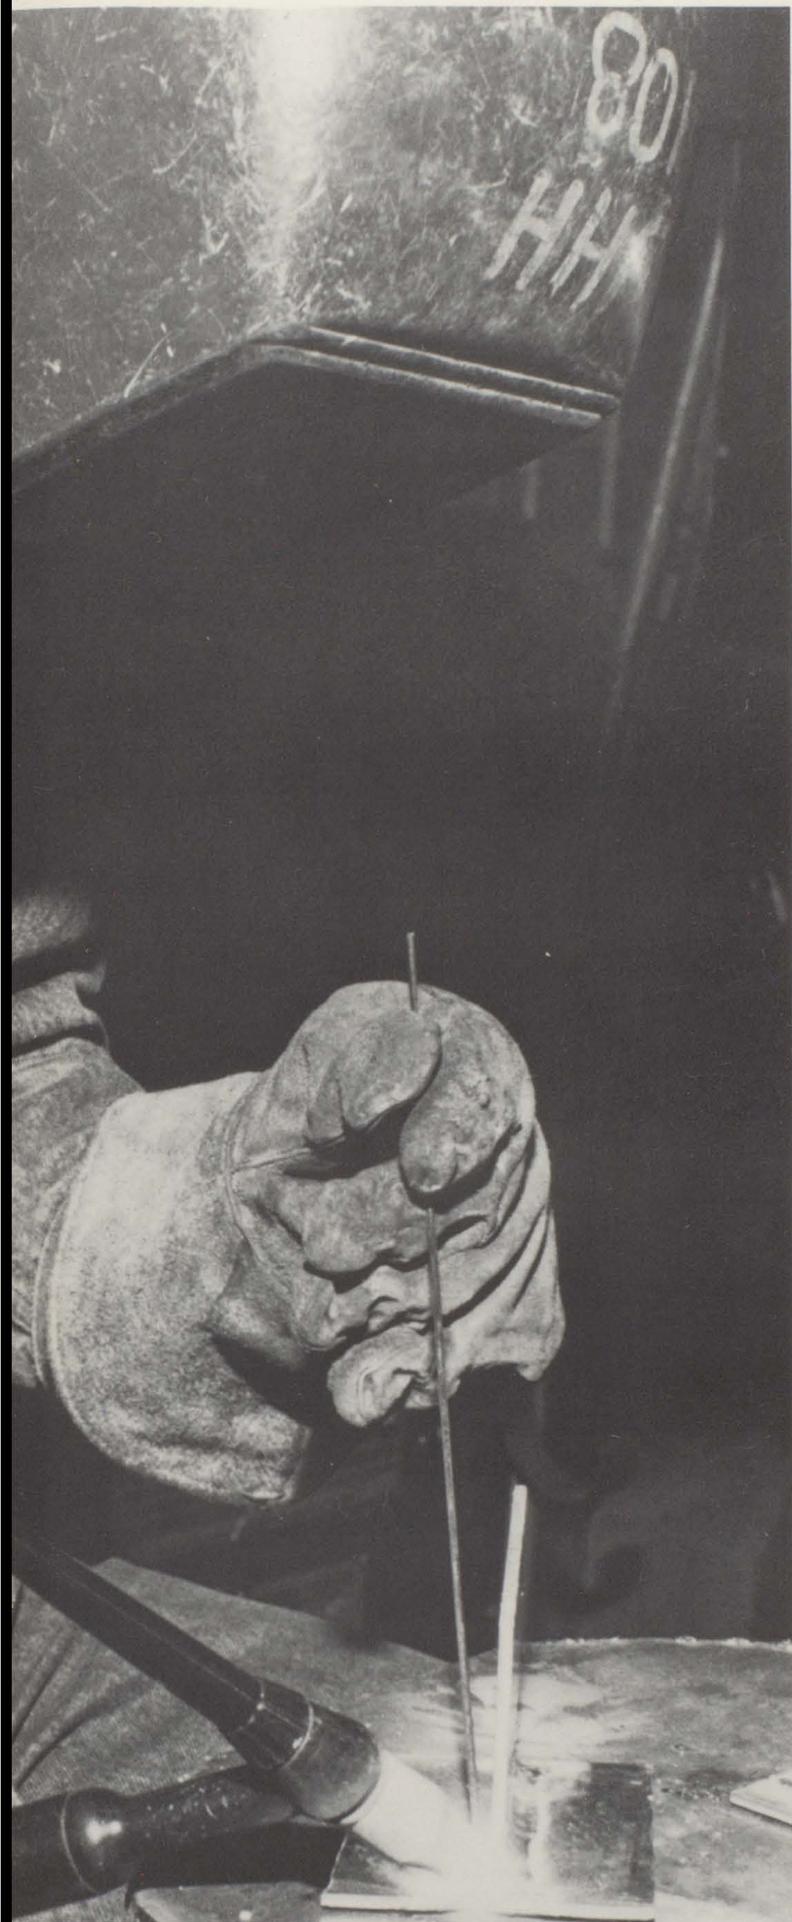

Working together in a discussion group in a freshman English class are H. Collier, L. Graham, J. Hardebeck, M. Alvarez, D. Allen, K. Amick, and T. Beckley.

Mrs. Welker speaks from her podium to the students in her modern novels class.

Accepting a challenge and receiving a reward is possible in freshman

HONORS CLASSES

Two years ago in 1985 the teachers and administrators decided that it was time for Elwood High School to start an honors enrichment program and classes. Visits were made to other schools, and a program was developed that would work in our system. This program became an extension of the existing C.L.U.E. program in elementary and junior high. Freshman honors world history and English students are selected by the following criteria: pre-test in world history and English, stanine and achievement scores, past performance, desire to be in the class, and a total of 18-22 students are admitted.

The classes strive to create challenging activities and stress higher order thinking skills. Both teachers planned a coordinated curriculum, and the classes take the humanities approach. Since these students read and write well, more material can be covered in a shorter time. Different activities are included in the honor classes and different material is covered. Writing and individual assignments are stressed. Debates are encouraged and guest speakers are invited. The highlight of the year was the Medieval pilgrimage and banquet.

The program constantly requires revision as the students change. It is a controversial emerging program that is mandated by the state of Indiana and our school system.

Mrs. Merritt comments, "Teaching this class has been challenging, interesting and requires much planning. After twenty three years of teaching, honors work has sparked a renewed interest in teaching."

The pilgrimage began at St. Joseph's Church. Father Raczek welcomed the students, presented information on the importance of the church in Medieval times, and shared much about Elwood's church. Mr. James Compton portrayed King Henry VIII, and Mrs. Beverly Austin played his wife, Anne Boleyn.

Kim Brown, the surveyor, announced the various activities at the banquet. The banquet was held at Mangus Cafeteria which was transformed into "Mangas Manor" and was decorated in a fashion appropriate to the time.

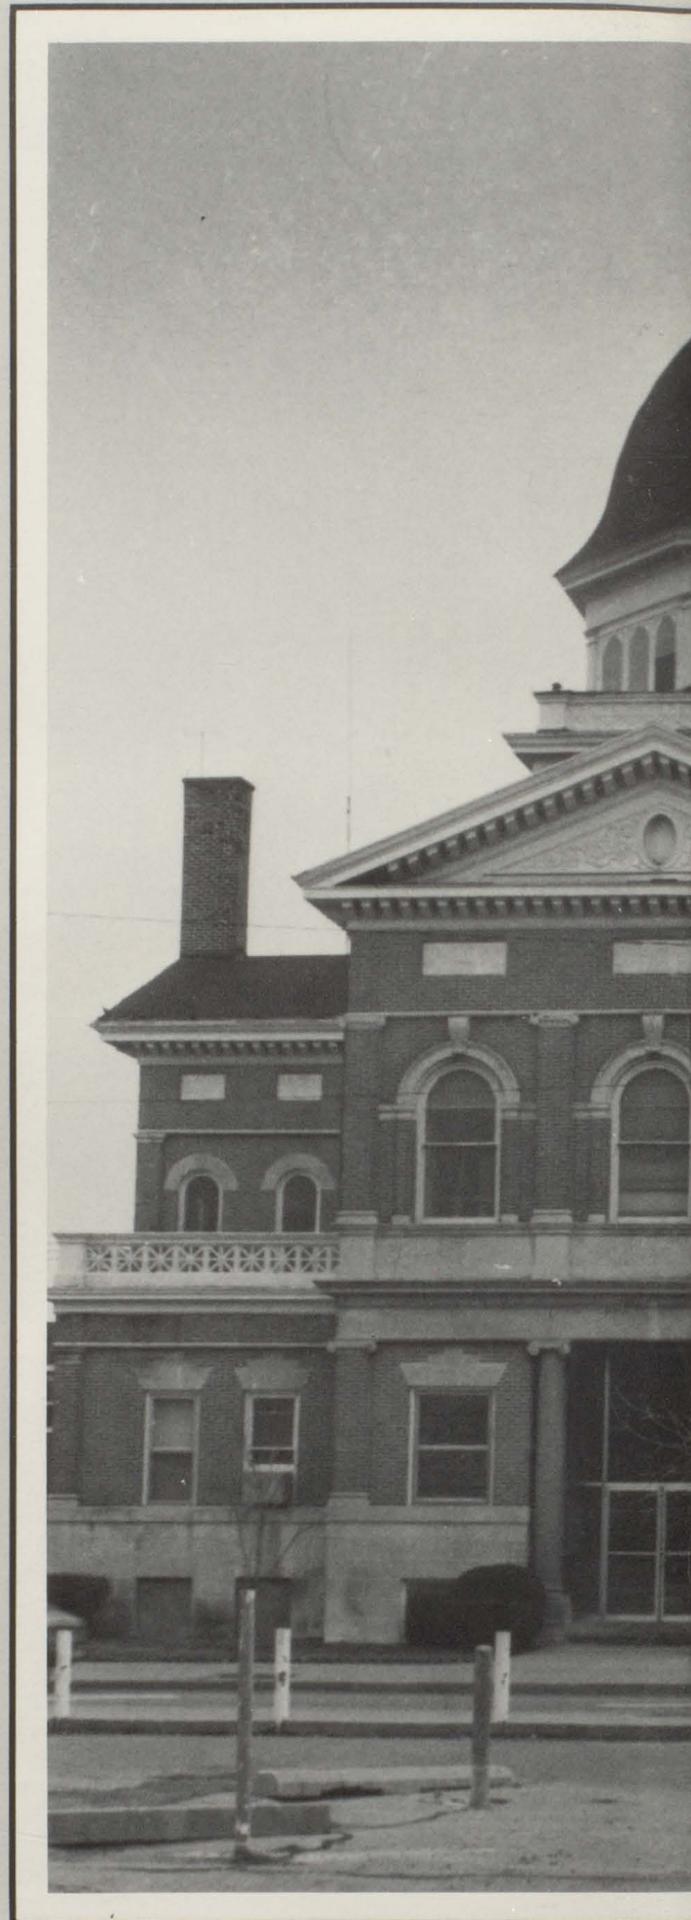

Miss Mercer comments, "Working with honor students has been a rich and rewarding experience. The students are interesting and add variety to each day. Preparation for these classes takes much more time, but it is well worth it."

We Specialize In Service
Serving The Elwood
Community For Over
16 Years.

I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all teachers and personnel of the Elwood School Corporation for assisting me throughout the many years that I taught. Most important I want to express my gratitude and best wishes to all of the students who I have had an opportunity to know, work with, and see them progress in the "world of work." It has been the greatest inspiration in my life. It gave me a chance to serve humanity and work "for the betterment of mankind." I will forever remember it for it was "my life."

Pause

remember

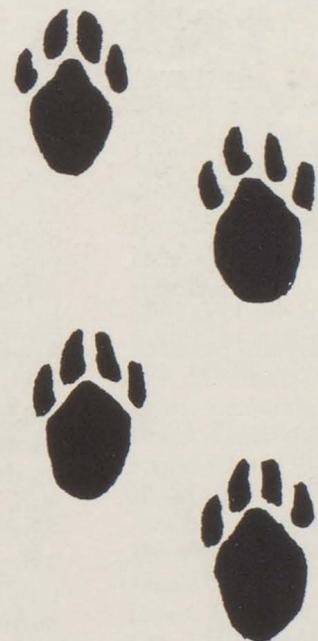

The members of the 1986-87 Crescent staff pause to thank all of the people who made this year's yearbook a big success. Without the support of the students, faculty, administrators, and community members, this book would not have been possible. The financial support of the many advertisers and patrons throughout the community is greatly appreciated. A special thanks goes to Kim Ash, Elwood's yearbook representative, who spent hours helping plan the book, smoothing out problems, and proofing pages. Steve Paul, Life Touch photographer, also deserves a thank you for his fine photography and assistance. Mr. Fortner, Mr. Compton, student Eric Collins, and the Call Leader also deserve credit as they were a big help to the photography department. Thanks once again to everyone who helped to Pause to Remember the 1986-87 school year.

The sponsor and editorial staff of the Crescent consisted of Kristin McQuitty (asst. editor),

Mrs. Paquin (sponsor), Gina Hoffer (asst. editor), and Kelly Keene (editor).

remember

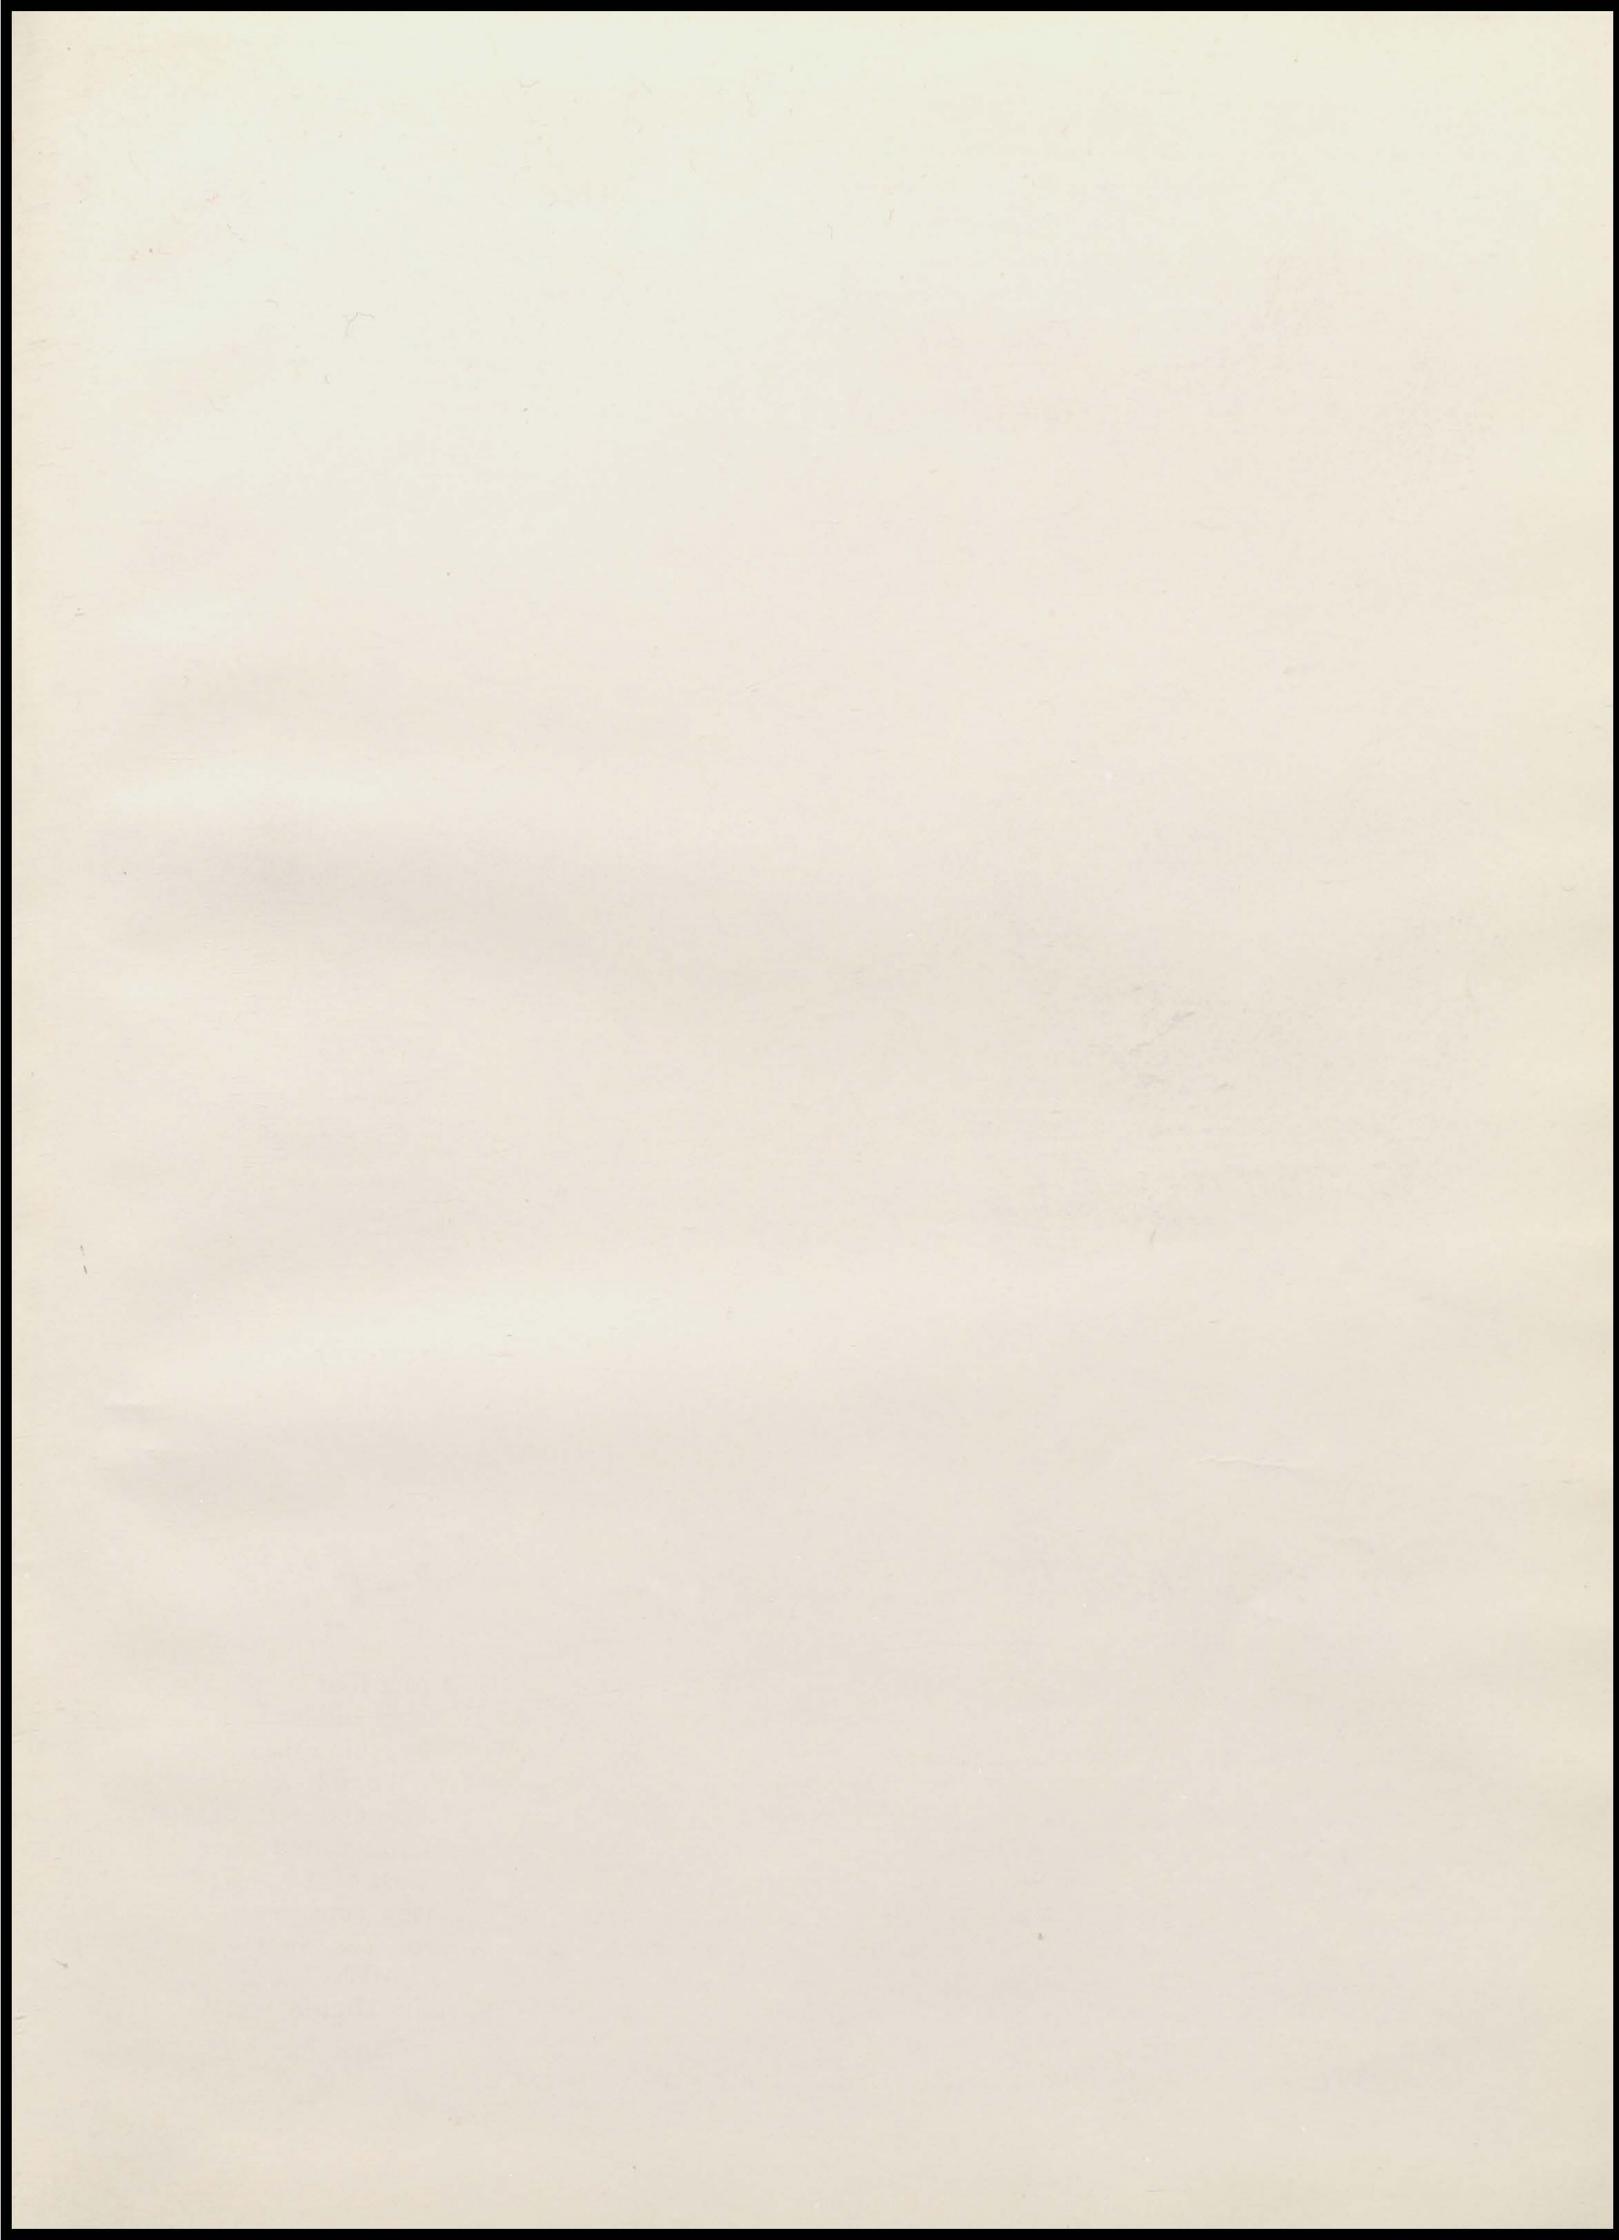

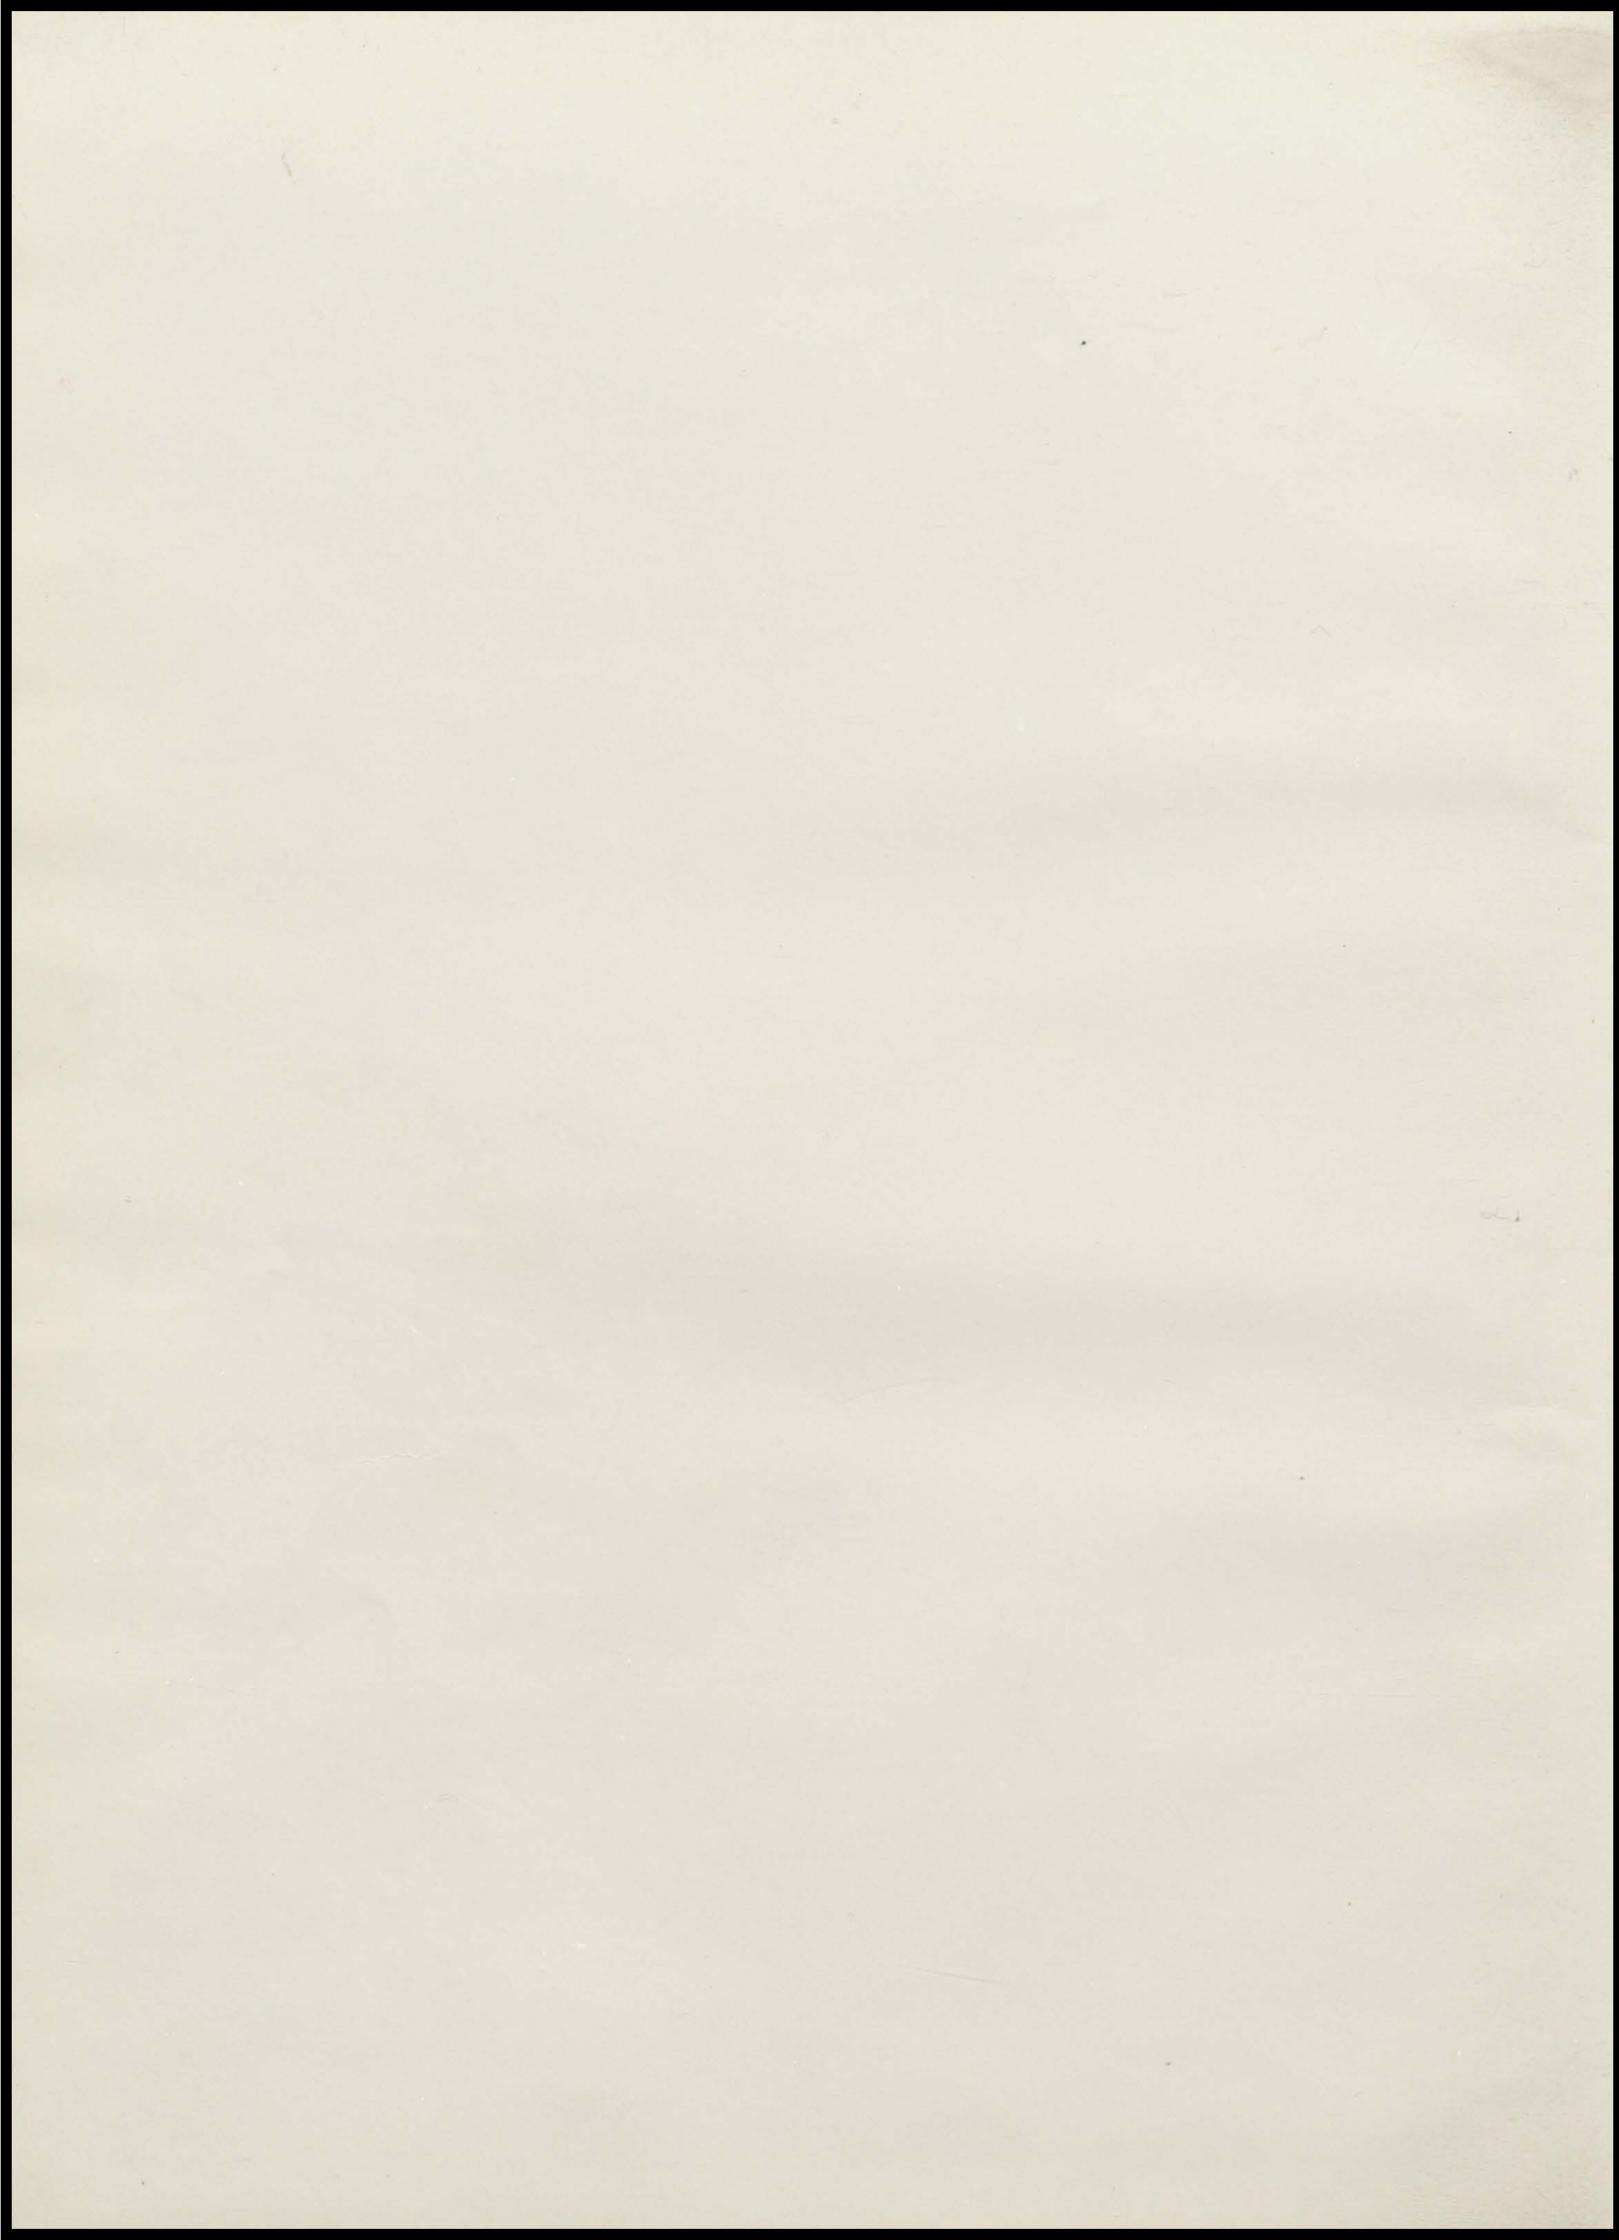

A special year — 1986-1987

As the year comes to an end, students will pause to remember the very special times. Panther paws have been busy in various activities which have made this year a very special one, and they have had pride in the year's events along with the memories of the year gone by. We know that time will pass and that our school will change, but our memories will remain forever. Our high school as a single unit will unite into a larger unit consisting of a middle school, an auditorium, three gymnasiums, a swimming pool, a shared music complex and new art and science facilities. The change will be a positive one affecting the educational system, but students will always remember our school the way it was before the building project began. The moments and memories for each student at E.C.H.S. during the 1986-1987 school year will be remembered. We know we have grown, matured, and learned during the past four years. The graduation speeches summed up the feelings in all the seniors' hearts on that special day. We felt appreciation for the teachers and staff, deep gratitude to our families, and love for our friends, the class of '87 and all of the other classes represented in our fine school. Yes, we will always PAUSE to REMEMBER . . . Elwood Community High School.
