Foreword

The past years have gone by quickly for most students at FHS. The seniors have especially noticed the rapid passing of their last year. For these seniors and for the faculty and underclassmen of Fairmount High School, the 1966 Whirlwind Staff has endeavored to prepare a record of this year at FHS.

We now present these two tickets to you, hoping that through our efforts you might attain enjoyment and satisfaction as you review the happenings of the 1965-66 school year. The curtain will soon be going up, so go right in and be seated and prepare to see "Life at FHS, 1966."

June Trice, Editor

Mrs. Wood sewed for pleasure.

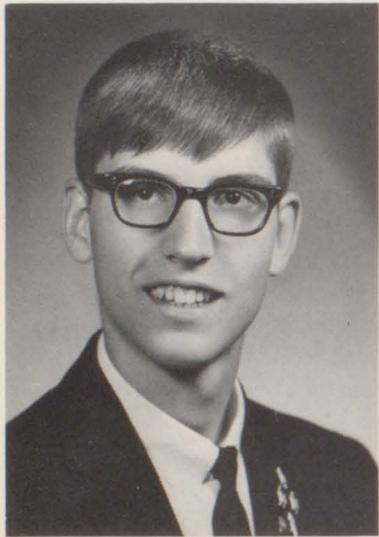

She was an active sponsor of the Booster Club.

Dedication

We, the Journalism Staff, wish to dedicate the 1966 Whirlwind to Florence Wood. During her nine years at Fairmount High School, she has instructed girls in the various aspects of home living so that they will be better citizens of tomorrow. She has helped to promote school spirit by sponsoring the Girls' Booster Club. Mrs. Wood also has been active in the community and has helped with 4-H. It is with great pride that we dedicate this yearbook to so deserving a teacher and friend.

Superintendent Dr. Karl Speckhard

Dr. Speckhard earned his Bachelor of Science degree at Valparaiso University and his Master's and Doctor's degrees at Indiana University. The Doctor of Education degree was conferred upon him in June, 1964.

Dr. Speckhard's first year of teaching was at Boone Grove. For the next five years, he coached and taught at Portage High School. He returned to Boone Grove where he was principal of Porter Township School for seven years.

Dr. Speckhard terminated his second year as Superintendent of the Madison-Grant United School Corporation in 1966.

Dr. Speckhard belonged to various education associations, the American Legion, and was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Superintendent, Principal

Superintendent's Secretaries

Donna Kind, Virginia Jones, and Opal Watts have been secretaries to Superintendent Speckhard. Their duties consisted of keeping books and serving as receptionist and secretaries.

*Principal
John Davison*

Mr. Davison was graduated from Ball State Teachers' College and Central Normal College. He has received his master's degree and has a superintendent's license. Prior to coming to Fairmount High, Mr. Davison taught and coached at Burlington and Kirklin High Schools for ten years. For the next five years, Mr. Davison served as principal at Windfall and Jackson Township Schools.

Mr. Davison completed his fifth year as principal of FHA in 1966. His duties included supervision of the faculty and school, determining the curriculum, hiring teachers, and representing the school in the community. Mr. Davison belonged to I.S.T.A., I.C.T.A., and N.A.S.S.P. Despite his busy schedule in the school, he also belonged to the Masons, Lion's Club, and was a member of the Friends Church.

Assumed Great Responsibility

*Secretary
Kathy Johnson*

Mrs. Kathy Johnson completed her third year as secretary to Mr. Davison. She kept the books and attendance records and took care of all the finances. She has been a great help to the Journalism Class of 1966.

School Board Planned New School

The Madison-Grant United School Corporation was operated by a seven member interim school board. The 1965-66 members held office until June 30, 1966. The township advisory boards in each of the six townships in our district appointed one board member, and the Fairmount Town Board appointed the seventh member.

The 1965-66 officers were: Walter Farley, President; Paul Baker, Vice-President; John Comer, Secretary; and Charles Yale, Treasurer. Other members were Harrold Forrest, John Hiatt, and Mary Waymire.

The regular board meetings were held on the second Monday of each month. This organization was important to our school system because it made, adopted, and enforced policies and rules for Fairmount and Summitville schools. The board made all the necessary plans for the new consolidated school.

In May of 1966 a permanent seven-member school board was elected by the six townships and the town of Fairmount. These members took office on July 1, 1966.

Personnel Worked Behind Scenes

The efforts of many of those who worked behind the scenes this year helped to make Fairmount High School function more smoothly. The administration, students, and faculty appreciated the contributions of the supervisors during this year.

Students gave up study halls to help work in the office--typing, filing, answering the telephone, recording attendance, and running errands. Two juniors and three sophomores volunteered time and effort to help in the cafeteria during the noon hour--serving, cooking, and dishwashing. The janitors spent many evenings at the school caring for the school during functions held at night. Mrs. Seacott planned very enjoyable meals, and Mr. Gossett kept a watchful eye over the grounds.

JANITORS-Abe Mitchener, Gib Mitchener

CAFETERIA SUPERVISOR - June Seacott.

COOKS - Naomi Glassburn, Margaret Satterthwaite.

GROUNDS SUPERVISOR - Don Gossett.

Seniors Left In Whirl Of Activities

Sponsors

Mrs. Dorothy Bennett, Mr. Robert Bach, and Mrs. Lucile Sicks.

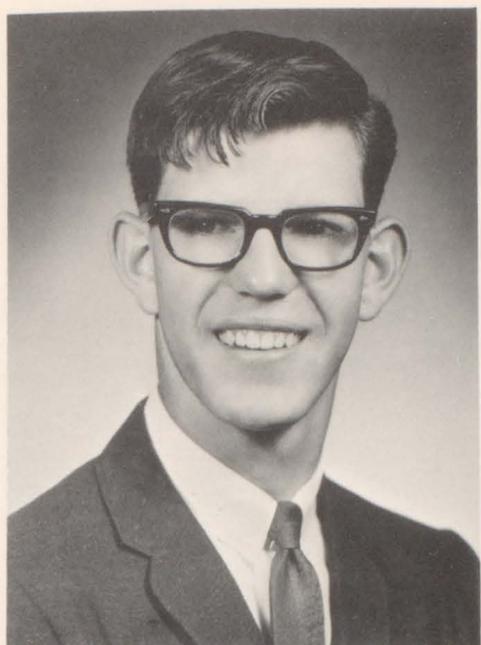

After twelve years of learning, the Class of '66 departed from Fairmount High School. During their last year at FHS many exciting and routine activities occurred. Winning first place in the homecoming float contest for four years was the outstanding characteristic of the 1966 senior class. The Class of '66 was the only class in the school's history that could boast of this record.

Floats were not the only things on the minds of some of these serious students. College entrance examinations and the SAT were experiences none would ever forget. The Class of '66 presented "The Mouse That Roared" November 5. During the practice sessions for the play, the seniors ordered their name cards and invitations. They also discussed the colors of their caps and gowns for which they were measured November 17. The Class of '66 sported the traditional senior cords at ball games and made sure everyone knew that the seniors were the best.

Baccalaureate and commencement made the seniors realize they were now adults, and the Class of '66 left FHS prepared to face the future.

Mrs. Sicks counseled many seniors throughout their four years.

Senior English class was a prerequisite for college-bound seniors.

Seniors wore their cords with pride.

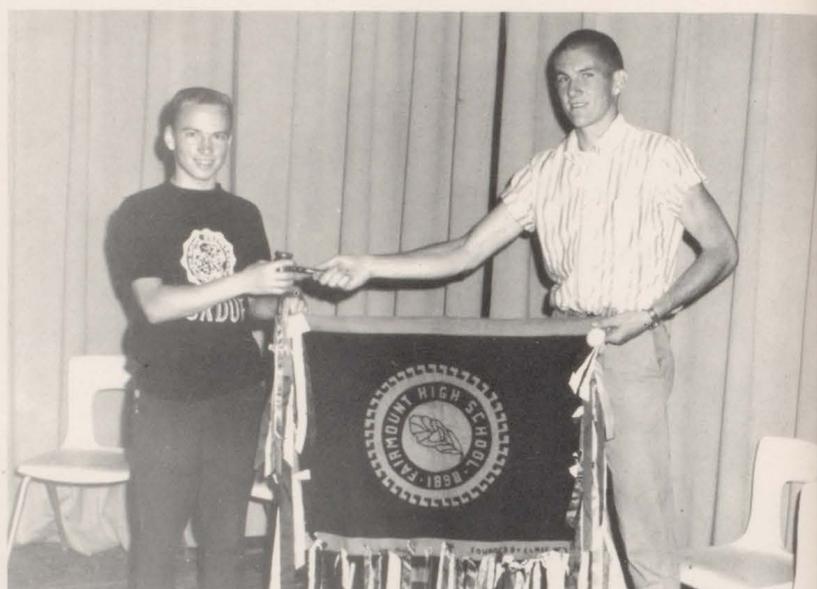

Seniors cherished this esteemed privilege.

What It Was To Be A Senior

The seniors escorted the players onto the court at every home basketball game.

Receiving the school flag began the duties of the final year.

Stapeling the Breeze was a weekly task.

Deadlines kept the staff constantly on the go.

The Seniors Performed Admirably

On the huge stage called "Life," the class of 1966 has performed favorably for the past four years. Now, presented to you, are the casts and plots contained in the four-act play "High School."

For the first act of the four-act play, the class chose able leads. Harold Dailey served as president, assisted by Kenny Jones as secretary-treasurer, and Terry Wilson and Carolyn Gift as social chairmen. The directors for this act were Mrs. Lois Resler, Mrs. Adeline Nall, Mr. Robert Bach, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wood. Cathy Curless was chosen as Homecoming Attendant, while her class took first in the float contest with the theme "Dial 'V' for Victory." Bobbie Howell was chosen as the candidate from the freshman class for the Sweetheart Dance.

Viewers of the second act found Harold Dailey once again in the lead. This year he was assisted by Terry Underwood as vice-president, Marie Niles as secretary, Sharon Harshman as treasurer, and Steve Hanlon and Carolyn Gift as social chairmen.

Karen Hiatt represented this cast in the Homecoming Court, and again the class was first in the float contest with the theme "Spread Those Warriors." Bobbie Howell was chosen to serve as their candidate to the Sweetheart Dance.

The costumes for this second act were class jackets. Royal blue jackets with white leather sleeves were sported by this class. Directors for this act were Mrs. Adeline Nall, Mr. Charles Kenworthy, and Mrs. Elizabeth Wood.

Harold Dailey once again took the lead of the class during their junior year, and Terry Underwood kept the vice-presidency. Sylvia Cline and Kenny Jones represented this class at Student Council meetings, while Steve Hanlon and Carolyn Gift planned the class party. Clويد Baker held the post of secretary, and Bobbie Howell was treasurer.

Susan Siegel represented this class as Homecoming Attendant while once again the class took first in the float contest with the theme "Beat 'Em." For the third consecutive year, Bobbie Howell went to the Sweetheart Dance as a candidate for queen.

"In the Misty Moonlight" was the theme of the Prom presented by this class as juniors to the seniors. An arched bridge and pools and fountains of water decorated the Ballroom at the Ball State Student Center.

This was also the year for the classmates to order their class rings. Several styles were shown to a committee who selected the style for the class of '66. Each individual chose the set he wanted. Mr. David Moore, Miss Jackie Lucas, and Mr. Robert Bach directed this act.

Plays within a play were the circumstance during this year. This class presented three one-acts entitled COMIN' ROUND THE MOUNTAIN, RICH MAN, POOR MAN, and THE MINISTER'S BLACK VIEL.

The lead of the four-act play changed hands the next year with Bobby Sparks taking over the presidency. His able assistants were Susan Siegel, vice-president; Janice Morris, secretary; and Larry Chapel, treasurer. Gary Hipes and Terry Underwood served as Student Council representatives, and Ken Jones and Peg Vetor were social chairmen. Carolyn Gift was class historian.

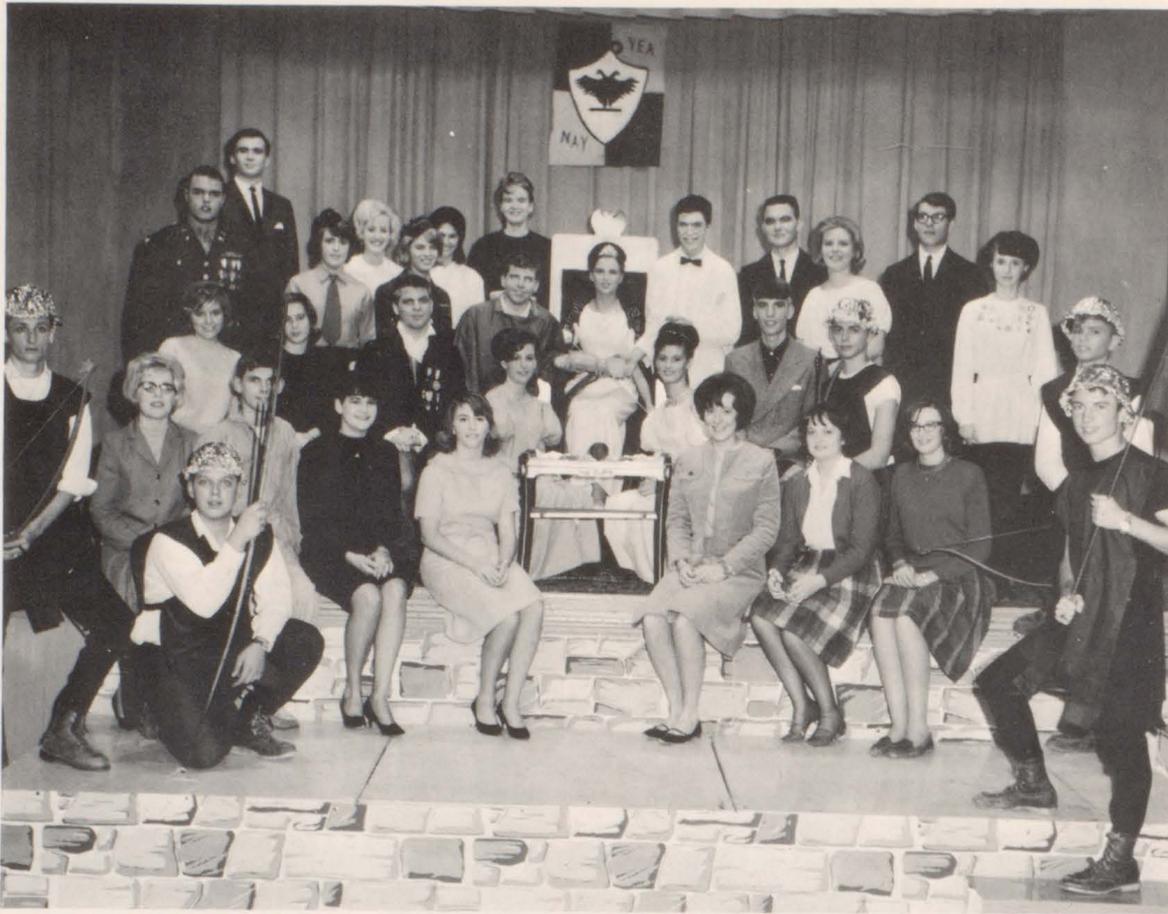

Susan Siegel, Janice Morris, and Sylvia Cline were chosen from the class to run for Homecoming Queen. Sylvia was chosen by the student body to reign over the Homecoming activities. She was happy to see that her class had set a record by taking the float contest for all four years. This year their theme was "Stomp Those Warriors."

Karen Hiatt, Susan Siegel, and Cathy Curless were the seniors chosen from FHA to compete for Christmas Ball Queen. Harold Dailey, Norman Love, and Larry Collins were chosen from FFA. Chosen by the couples attending were Karen Hiatt and Harold Dailey.

THE MOUSE THAT ROARED was the play within a play given by this class their senior year. The juniors treated the '66 graduates to a fine Prom at Ball State to end the year on a perfect note.

On graduation day, May 27, 1966, this class walked to the stand to receive their diplomas with a feeling of accomplishment and pride for their fine performance.

Director, Adeline Nall

After many nights of tryouts, the final cast was finally announced by the director, Mrs. Nall. In the weeks that followed, endless hours were spent trying to learn lines in time for the final performance, which was given November 5. Practices were tiring, but there were lighter moments, too. After hearing the applause of the audiences, the cast decided their efforts were worthwhile.

Chorus

The 1965 chorus was a very select group. Members were chosen by Mr. Kenworthy during tryouts which were held in the spring of 1964-65 school year. On several occasions the entire school was entertained by the efforts of the chorus at convocations. Their music was also enjoyed at the variety show which was held in the fall. As the Christmas season neared, members found themselves caught in a whirl of activities. These included singing on WTAF-TV in Marion, recording for WMRI radio, and caroling to various invalids and teachers in the Fairmount community. The talent of the group was much in demand. They also sang for various organizations and gave concerts for Fairmount churches. The 1965-66 chorus appeared lastly at commencement.

Officers: Dan Roth, vice president; Cathy Curless, secretary; Dave Brubaker, president; Sherry Butler, librarian; Pam Brewer, librarian.

Music Department Entertained

Band

This year's band played a very important part in the activities of Fairmount High School. Marching at many home football games and providing music for the Fairmount Quakerettes formed a part of the band's busy schedule. Practices were held during homeroom. The pep band assisted in arousing school spirit by entertaining at pep sessions and at home football and basketball games. Its music was also heard at many special school convocations. A joint concert given by the Summitville and Fairmount bands was enjoyed by the two communities during the second semester. The band also participated in the annual "Spring Is Sprung" concert given jointly by the music, dramatics, and art departments of Fairmount High School.

Christmas Ball

Queen Candidates: Susan Siegel, Cathy Curless, Karen Hiatt, and Sylvia Cline. King candidates: Larry Collins, Norman Love, Harold Dailey, and Gary Hipes. Last year's King and Queen: Jerry Collins and Mary Ann Hamilton.

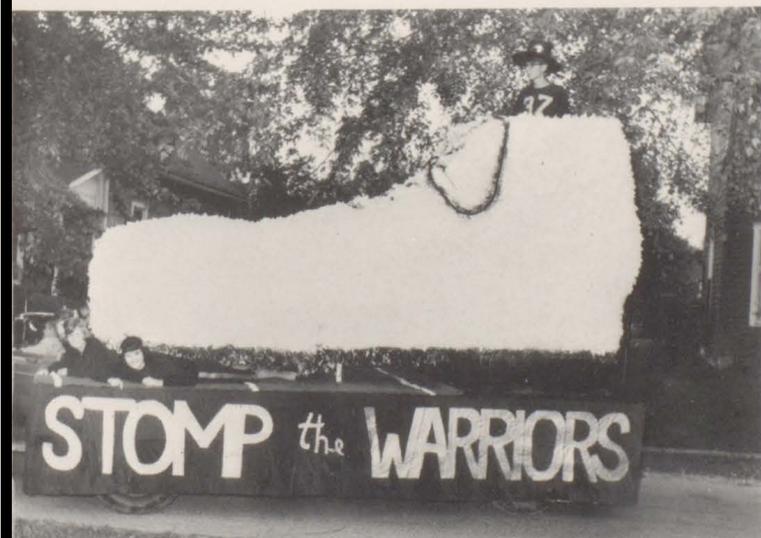

Queen Karen Hiatt and King Harold Dailey were chosen as Christmas Ball royalty.

The crowning of Miss Sylvia Cline highlighted the festivities of the 1965 FHS Homecoming. Last year's queen, Miss Margie Brewer, crowned Miss Cline at halftime of the game. Also at this time the float contest winners were announced. The winning float "Stomp the Warriors" scored another victory for the Class of '66 as they received first place float honors for the fourth consecutive year. The seniors worked hard each year and were proud of their record.

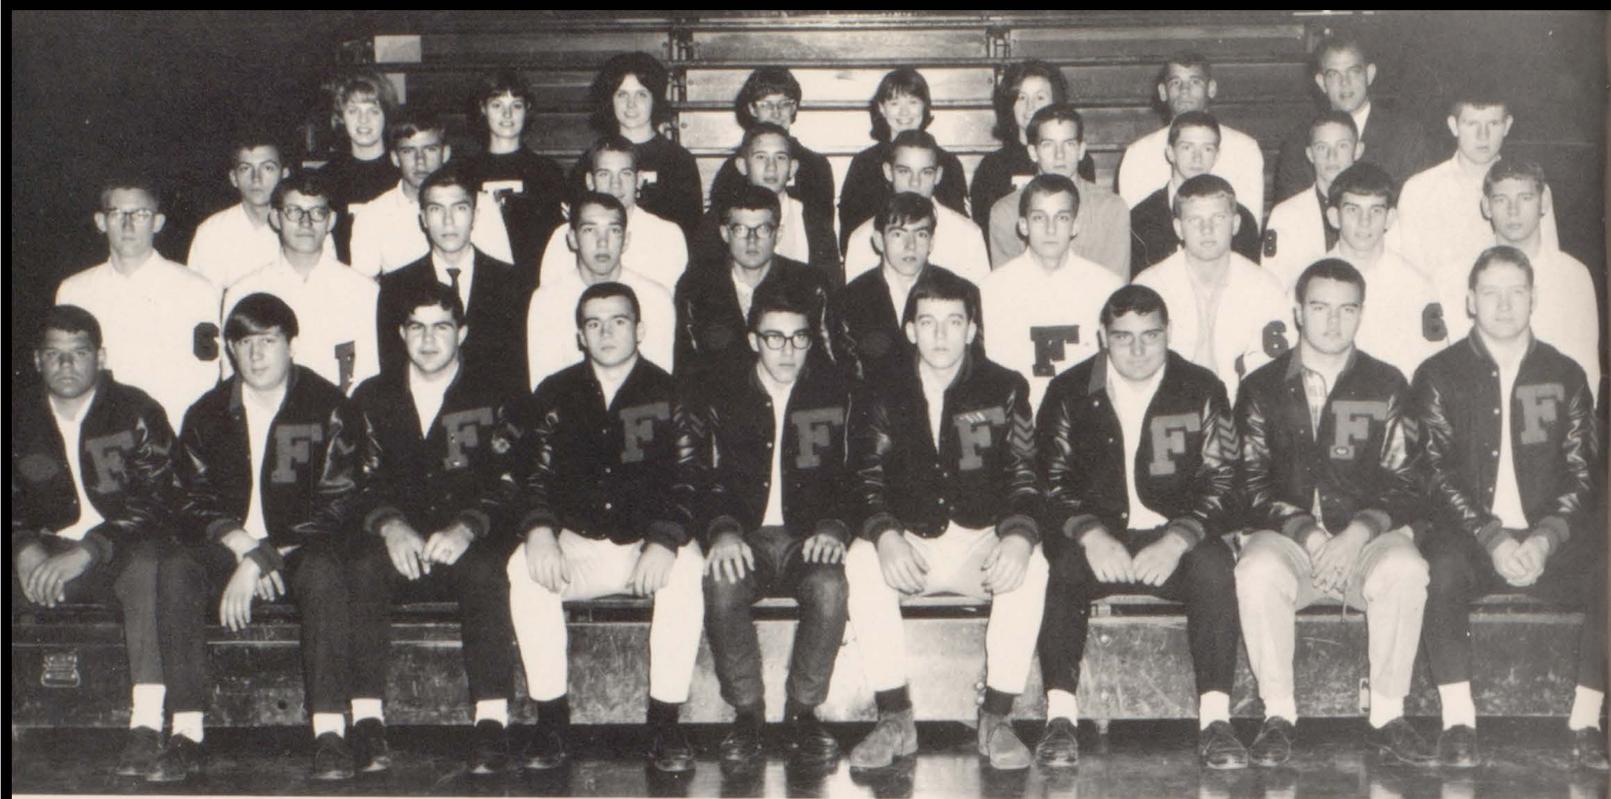

Fairmount High's band and majorettes led the annual Homecoming parade to the football field. They were followed by the queen candidates and the four class floats.

Adding to the excitement of the evening was FHS's victory over the North Miami Warriors. The annual homecoming dance topped off the evening with hard work, fun, excitement, and memories for all FHS students and alumni.

"Home for the Holidays" was the theme of the annually sponsored F.H.A., F.F.A. Christmas Ball held December 18. The crowning of Queen Karen Hiatt and King Harold Dailey by a cozy fireplace scene highlighted the memorable evening.

Seniors captured first place in float competition for the fourth consecutive year.

“Three On A Bench”

“The Balcony Scene”

Sophs Exhibited One-Act Plays

“The Cop And The Anthem”

This year Mrs. Nall's English classes presented the three sophomore plays. THREE ON A BENCH and THE BALCONY SCENE were enacted by the second period class, and the fifth period group produced THE COP AND THE ANTHEM.

This year the second season Quakers gave their plays a little differently. Instead of one day for all three plays, the plays were each presented on a different day, approximately a week apart.

The sophomores worked diligently on speaking techniques which will be of service to them next year, when offering their junior play, and in the more distant future.

Roger Jones, Judy Thein, Jim Rhoads, Mary Murphy, Spencer Bunch, Debbie Ricks, Ron Davis, Sharon McFarren, Dave Cole, Linda Justus, student director, Martin Mitchener, Lana Haynes, David Underwood.

Juniors Enacted Gay Comedy: "Connecticut Yankee In King Arthur's Court"

A month's practice of movements and lines brought to FHS's stage a well done, fanciful play, "Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court." The juniors found that there was work for all in this production. Besides the long hours put in by the actors and actresses, several students spent many hours working on staging, costuming, lighting, and make-up.

The twelve members of the Class of '67 brought Hank Bennett's trip back in time to light with imagination and spirit. Finding a death sentence hanging over his head, Hank used his yankee ingenuity to save his life, step up King Arthur's economy, and keep the audience in stitches.

PROJECTIONISTS: Robert Armstrong, Avery Hasty, Dan Hosier, Max Creek, Gary Stoffer, Richie Hodupp, Sponsor Mr. Robert Bach.

Groups Gave Time To FHS

Assisting students and faculty was the main goal of the librarians, projectionists, exploratory teachers, and HCC. These groups learned by helping and watching their sponsors and the faculty.

The librarians guided and instructed fellow students in the proper usage of the library. While the librarians were busily engaged with books, the projectionists got lost in miles of filmstrip. The job filled by these movie bugs was that of showing films for less mechanically inclined teachers.

Tuesday meetings and scrapbooks highlighted one credit course this year. The exploratory teachers investigated the field of teaching by observing and actually instructing, under the direction of a teacher, one class between the grades one and eight. Another group also worked with students; the Health Careers Club was found anywhere there were health tests being given.

These four groups and their sponsors worked with enthusiasm and gave their time to the students and faculty of Fairmount High School.

EXPLORATORY TEACHERS: Dave Brubaker, Joe Davison, Jannell Vogel, Janice Jones, Sponsor Mrs. Lucile Sicks, Judy Venitz, Judy Stewart.

HCC: Phyllis James, Marilyn Kierstead, Linda Everhart, Connie Howard, Charla Compton, Joan McCurdy, Jill Relfe, Lynn Snipes, Karen Titus, Cheryl Moore, Sponsor Mrs. Ann Owens, Debbie Reeder.

Larry Embry

Larry's attitude was responsible for his being one of the most improved linemen. He was determined to be a dangerous tackle.

Terry Underwood

As flanker Terry was the smallest senior player. His downfield blocking was outstanding. He was responsible for four touchdowns with his two-at-a-time blocking. Terry was also a valuable defensive end.

Steve Hanlon

Brought from the line to fill the quarterback vacancy, Steve provided the leadership on the field that is so necessary for a football team to have. Along with the operation of the option position, his defense at end was outstanding.

Eight Senior Gridiron Players

Joe Boyle

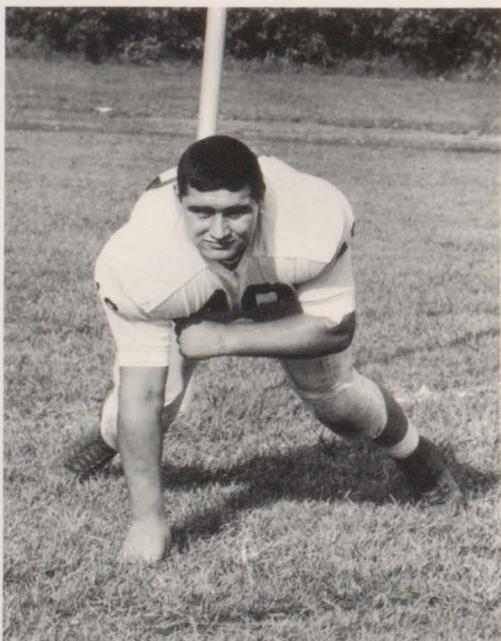

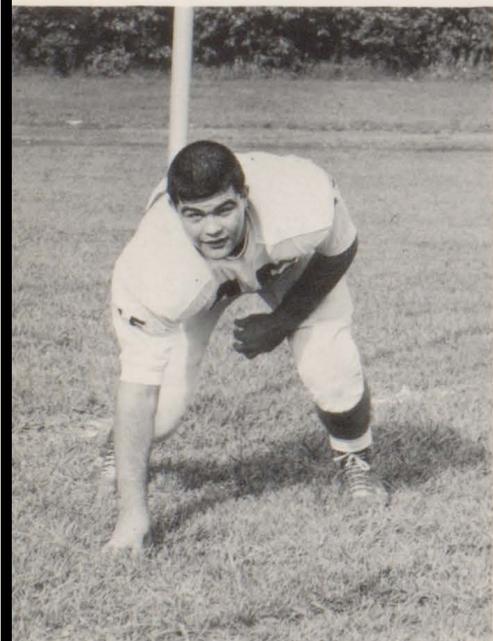

A transfer from Brownstown, Joe was a welcome addition to our football team. His cheerful attitude and willingness to work made him an effective tackle.

Gary Hipes

A four-year letterman, Gary showed great improvement this year--especially in pursuit. He defended his guard position very well.

Norman Love

Norman's best qualities being consistency and versatility, he played three positions of defense and played them well. Rarely did a bad snap come from Norman at his center position.

Harold Dailey

Leading the Quaker scoring with 43 points from his fullback spot, Harold was the workhorse of the backfield. "Moose", as he is called, also led in tackles at his linebacker position.

Kenny Jones

Kenny's four TD's this year came on runs of 53, 28, 20, and 40 yards. His good speed and tackling ability were put to good use at his halfback spot. Ken proved to be a determined and spirited player.

Terry Smalley

At his offensive end position, Terry blocked against the big tackles for the Quaker offense consistently and well. His efforts at blocking downfield showed him to be a worthy member of the team.

Earn All-Conference Positions

Doug Moore

His attitude and desire made Doug one of our best linemen. He devoted himself 100% to the mastering of his position.

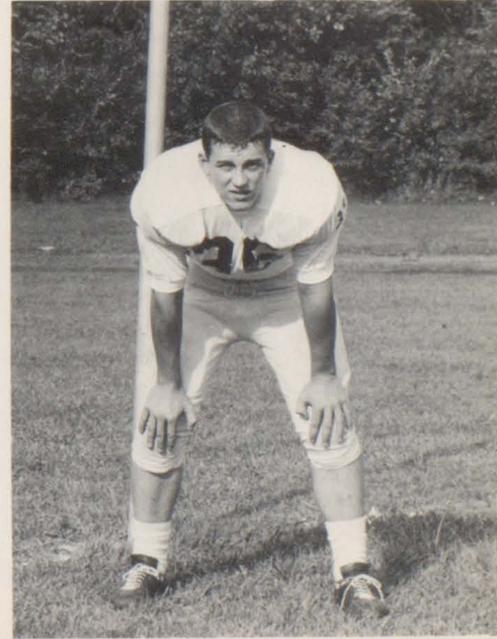

Ed Dodson

Potentially the best Quaker lineman, Ed played his tackle and linebacker positions effectively. He did a worthwhile job for the Quaker cause.

Randy Pernod

Guard was a new position for Randy. He missed early season workouts, but came on strong after mastering his new position.

Yet Posed Threat For Opponents

Fairmount's varsity netmen were short in height but tall in spirit and energy. Their almost inexhaustible energy made the games exciting from start to finish while their unyielding spirit inspired the onlookers.

Quakers Battled Through

Tim Titus 5'9" Senior Guard

Tim was a Quaker starter for three years and one of the top players in Grant County. He proved his versatility by playing forward for part of the season. In addition to being one of the leading scorers on the team, Tim also won the defensive award. His free throws found the mark about 75 per cent of the time. Tim was the Quaker captain during the past season.

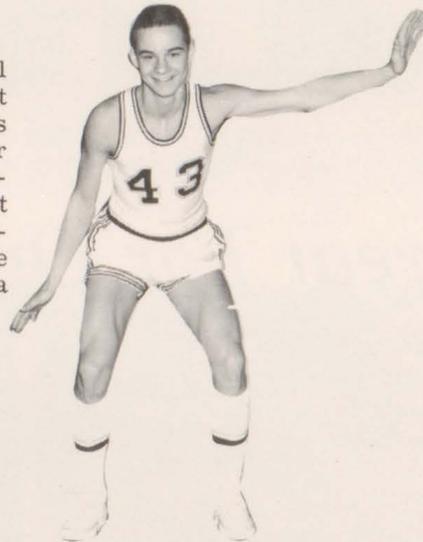

Dave Love 5'7" Junior Guard

Dave split his time between the varsity and "B" team. He was a very aggressive player on both defense and offense. If Dave can improve his ball-handling and retain his aggressiveness, he should be a top candidate for a guard position for next year.

Phil Kimes 5'11" Junior Forward

Phil played well for the Quakers all year. He was the team's most consistent scorer and leading rebounder. Phil's field goal shooting was near the 50 per cent mark, with his free throw percentage around 75 per cent. His jump shot and moves proved very difficult for opposing teams to defend. Phil needs more work on his defense, but should be a standout player on next year's team.

Randy Pernod 6' Senior Forward

Randy greatly improved during the latter part of the season to become a starter and give the Quakers a boost in the rebounding department. His fourteen rebounds in the last quarter of the Southwood game helped make a Quaker victory possible. Many of his points were gathered by tips from the offensive board.

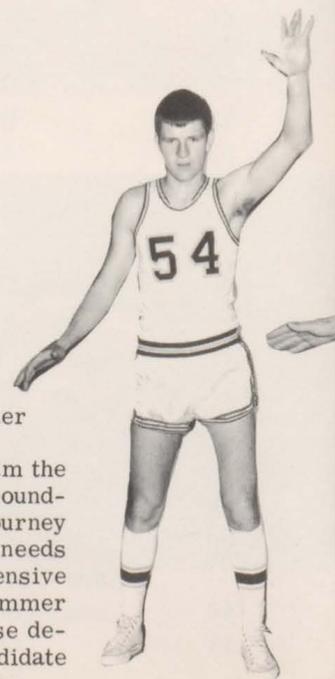

Mike Beck 5'6" Sophomore Guard

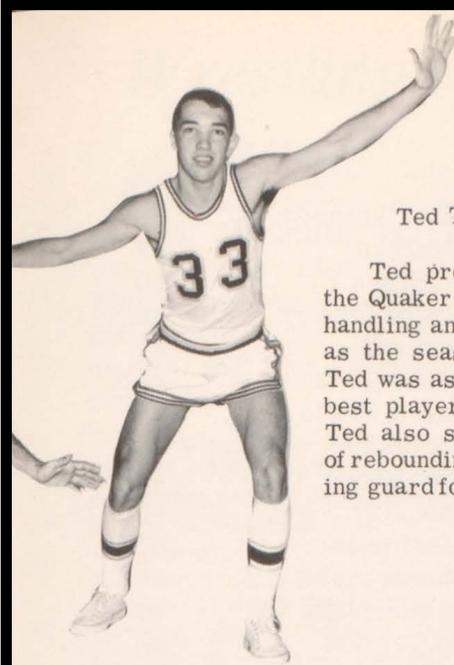

Mike played in almost all the varsity games the past season. He has a very accurate and soft touch from long-range shooting. Mike also began to drive and pass off more, which should make him a better player. If he can provide a more aggressive defense, Mike should be a standout guard for future Quaker teams.

Cass Sullivan 6'2" Junior Center

Cass played a lot on the "B" team the past year. He did a good job of rebounding, particularly in the County Tourney during the Southwood game. Cass needs to work on his shooting and defensive play to develop confidence. If summer work can bring improvement in these departments, he will be a strong candidate for the center position next season.

Rebuilding Season

Ted Titus 5'8" Junior Guard

Ted proved a very valuable man for the Quaker team the past year. His ball handling and moves developed very well as the season progressed. Many times Ted was asked to guard the opposition's best player and responded with success. Ted also scored well and did his share of rebounding. He should be an outstanding guard for the future Fairmount team.

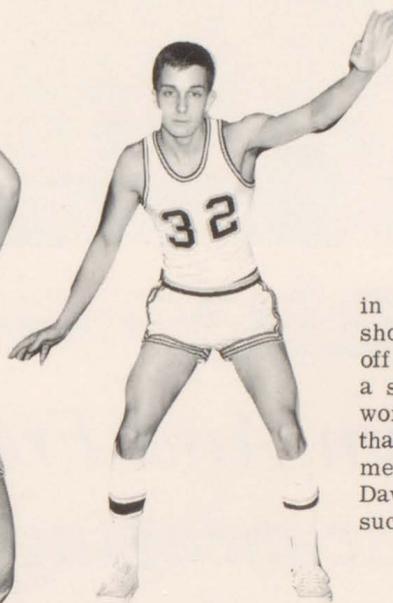

Steve Hanlon 5'11" Senior Center

Steve found himself looking up to almost all opposing centers during the season. However, he worked on a fade-away jump shot that was effective and seldom blocked. His sharp passes found the mark for many Quaker two-pointers by his teammates. Steve also played at forward and guard.

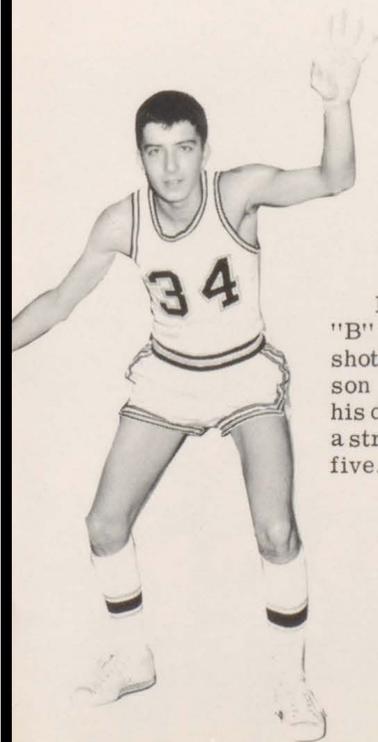

Mike Presnall 6'1" Junior Forward

Mike played better for the Quakers as the season progressed. His play in the Northwestern game helped the Quakers secure the victory in an overtime. With a lot of summer work to develop quickness and more aggressiveness, Mike will be a great asset to the Quakers for the coming season.

Dave Ribble 5'9" Junior Guard

Dave possesses a very accurate eye in shooting. Early in the season his shooting merged on the fantastic, but fell off during the latter games. He was also a sure dribbler and ball handler. Dave worked hard to improve his defense, and that phase of his game showed improvement. With more consistent shooting, Dave could be a vital factor in the team's success for next year.

Mike Hall 5'10" Junior Forward

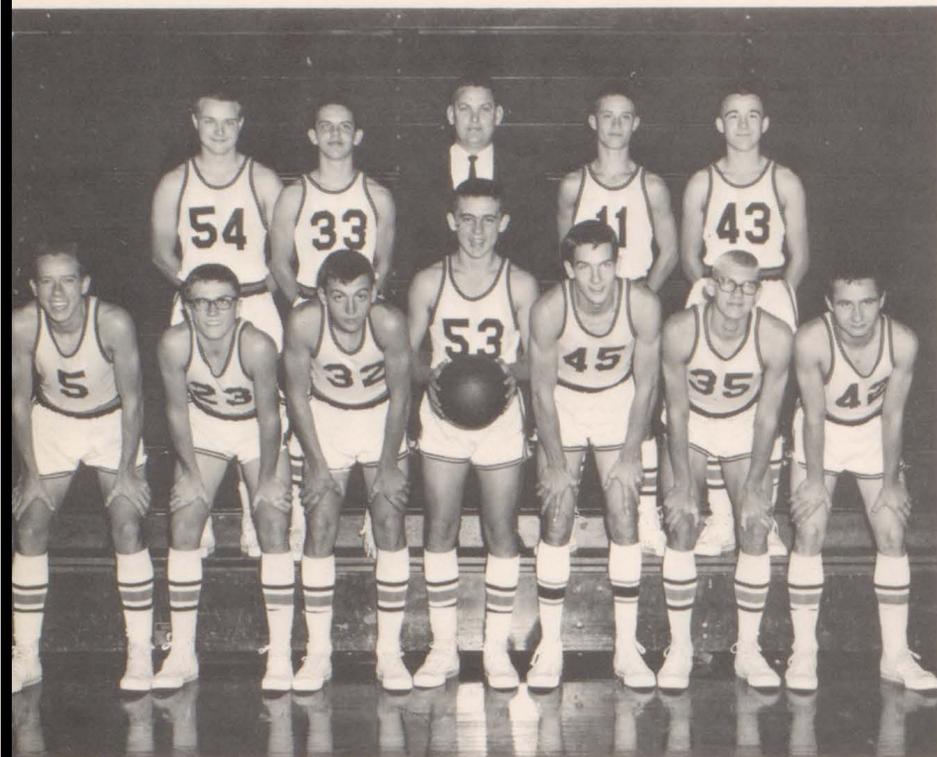

Mike played most of the season of the "B" team. He possessed a soft corner shot and began to drive more as the season progressed. If Mike can improve his defense and rebounding, he should be a strong candidate for next year's Quaker five.

Rick Everhart 5'10" Sophomore Forward

Rick showed much hustle and promise the past season. He could drive and use either hand very well for his shots. He was an exceptionally hard worker and had a fine attitude for a player. Rick needs only to improve his ball handling to be an outstanding forward in the season to come.

New Cheers Sparked The Year

Pep, enthusiasm, plus originality, hard work, and novel cheers were demonstrated by our varsity and freshmen cheerleaders this year.

The student body elected the six varsity cheerleaders at the end of the 1965 school year so they could prepare for the '65 football season. A rotating system was used during the basketball season.

The freshmen cheerleaders were elected at the beginning of the school year by their class.

The varsity cheerleaders attended Smith-Walbridge Camp at Syracuse, Indiana, during the summer. They competed with other cheerleading squads of similar size and received first-place ribbons every day. The varsity cheerleaders, along with a committee, also planned all the pep sessions during the basketball and football season, with the help of Miss Jackie Lucas, sponsor.

The freshmen and varsity cheerleaders worked hard and were always supporting the team with their representation of a high standard of school loyalty at all basketball and football games.

Freshmen Cheerleaders: Janet Hiatt, Penny Parker, Sheri Spence, Randi Presnall.

Booster Clubs Cheered

Coming early . . . staying late . . . wearing black and gold vests . . . Check 'em . . . Rough Tough Stuff. These were familiar phrases describing the large Booster Club of 1965-66. This year's club had the largest membership of any previous FHS Booster Club.

The Booster Club held its meetings every Friday morning during homeroom plus extra meetings during the evening through the year. The club also sat together in pep sessions and helped with the program. Different classes were assigned to make posters for each home game and dances sponsored by the organization.

These loyal girls boosted our Quakers through the football and basketball season and gave the team splendid support.

Peggy Vctor, secretary; Sharon McFarren, treasurer; Susan Siegel, president; Sherry Butler, Student Council representative; Jane Caughell, vice-president.

Kenworthy's Kats had a successful second year for 1965 season. The club was organized in 1964 for all loyal boys of FHS.

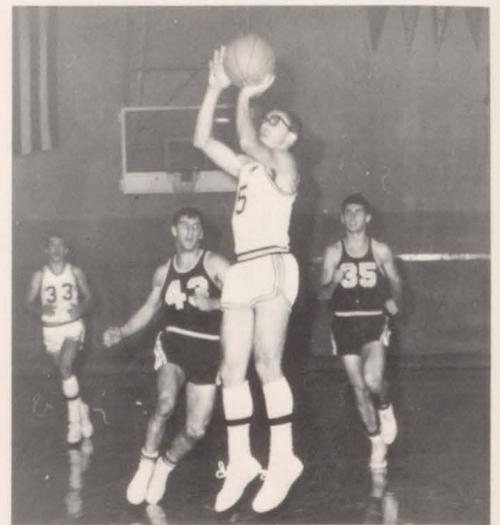

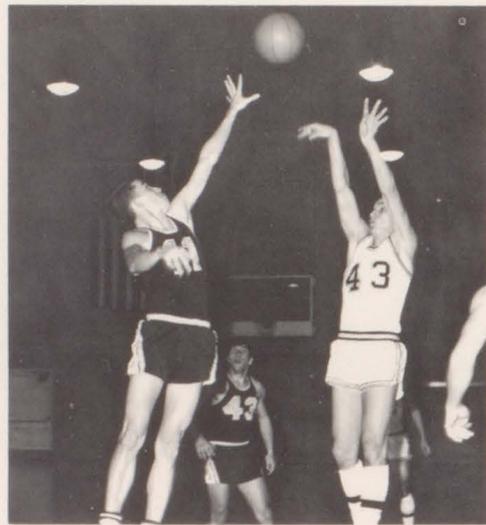

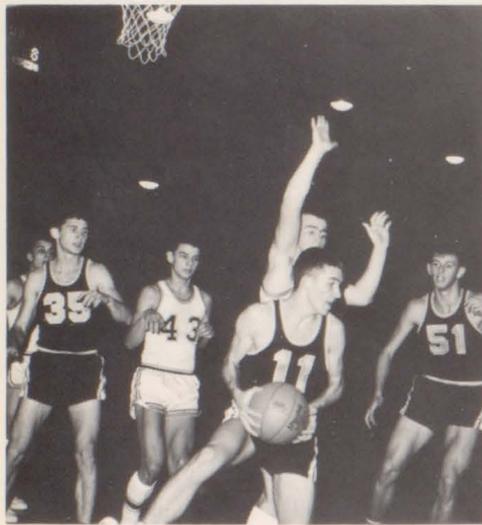

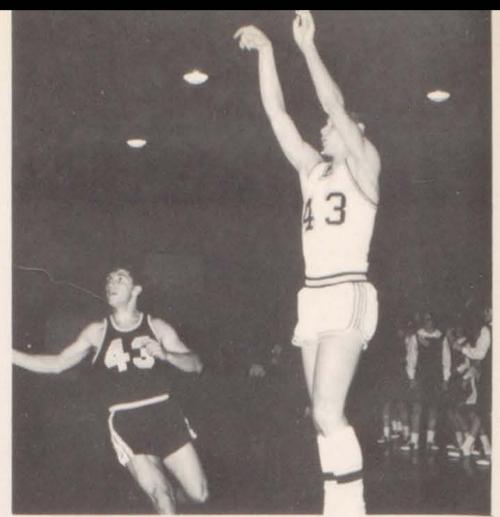

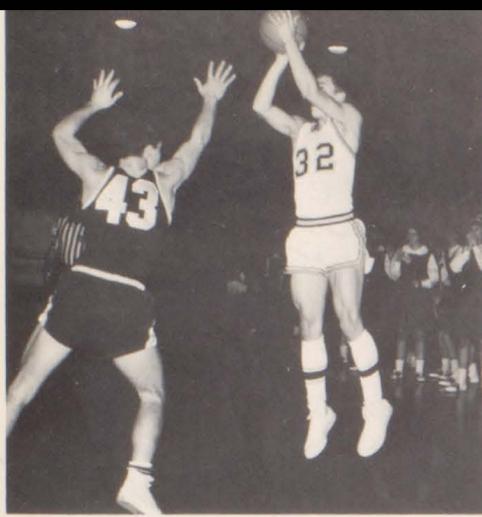

The group wore white shirts and all F-Club members wore letter sweaters or jackets. This boys' organization sat by the Girls' Booster Club and worked harmoniously to support the Quakers.

Top Cat, Harold Dailey; Kittens, Gary Hipes and Terry Underwood.

Juniors Entered Final Year

This year's Prom was held at Ball State University in the student center. Over one hundred couples danced on "cloud nine" until the magic hour of twelve o'clock. Then, as all good things, the annual Junior-Senior Prom came to an end.

Many other activities kept the Class of '67 busy. In September the juniors built their third homecoming float with the theme "Roast 'Em." For the third consecutive year the 111-member class won second place.

Other activities were ordering class rings, running the concession stand, and giving the junior plays. An oval set was chosen by the junior class in order to distinguish its ring from the rings of previous years.

Running the concession stand took up a great deal of this class's time. Juniors opened and operated the concession stand at all home football and basketball games. They also ran the Breeze Booth during the noon hour for the convenience of their schoolmates. Giving the three junior plays also helped to build up the class's bank account.

The juniors looked forward to their last year at FHS and to the final activities of a Fairmount High student before going forth into the world.

Sophs Passed Half-Way Mark

Returning to high school for the second year, the Sophomores knew their way around and began to find some of the excitement at FHS. They joined more clubs, walked with greater pride, and really began to feel that Fairmount High School was their Alma Mater. Headed by the only woman president, the class was a mighty army of 107. The first class meeting of the year saw the title of "Sophomore Homecoming Attendant 1965" given to Madame President, Linda Smith. "We Shell Win," featuring sand, a gigantic sea shell, and live mermaids, got the "second year greenies" third place.

Class colors were decided upon, and the class jackets were ordered. Like every other year, the Sophomores thought this year's jackets were the best yet, and they wore them with pride both outdoors and inside the classroom. The Sophs proved their acting ability by presenting the traditional three one-act plays. As they reached the half-way mark in their high school career, they journeyed on with the hope that the remaining half would be as exciting and worthwhile as the two years just completed.

Freshmen Entered Halls Of FHS

The newest members of the family of FHS were called "greenies." These amateurs had three more years of schooling before graduating in 1969. The youngest class at Fairmount High found safety in its number against the prevailing upperclassmen, particularly the mighty seniors. Being the largest class proved to be an advantage, as they found number builds might.

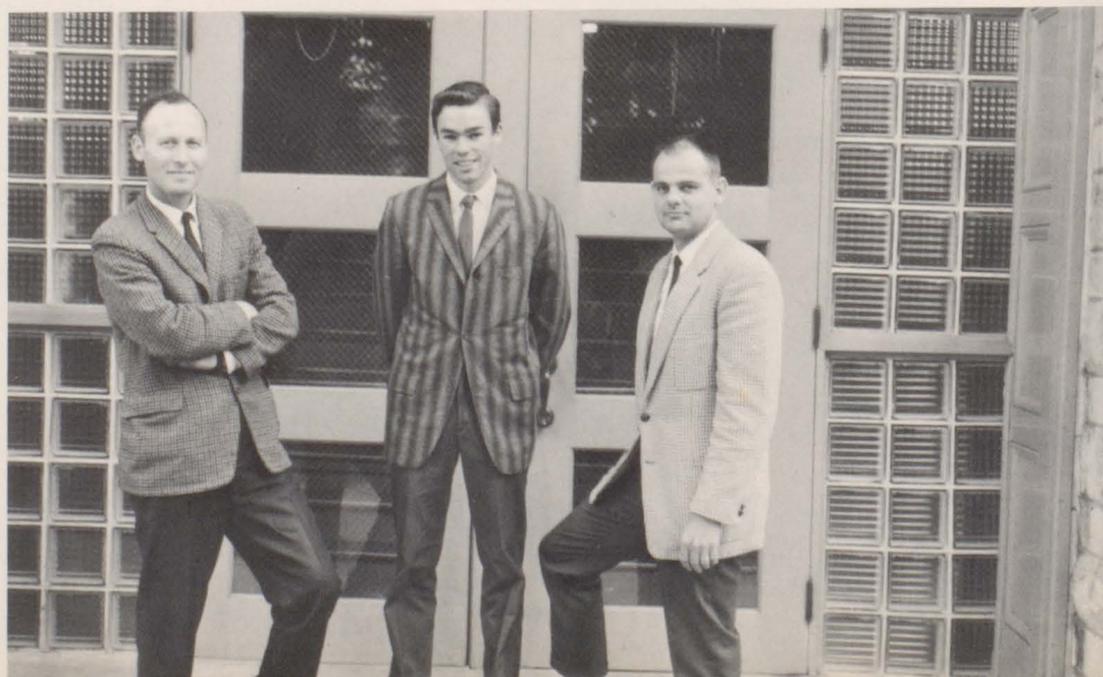

The first official activity of the Class of '69 was their class meeting in September. During this meeting they elected officers and chose Sharon Shane their Homecoming Queen attendant for 1965. "Scalp the Warriors," the theme of their homecoming float, won the 199-member class fourth place in the float competition.

This year the freshmen planned their first high school class party, giving them good training for future activities. As the year came to an end, the Frosh looked forward to the next three years of high school.
