2004 Eaglite
Volume 55
Frankton Jr./Sr. High School
610 Clyde St. Frankton IN 46044

Welcome to Frankton Jr./Sr. High School! At Frankton we all have a lot in common. We are a group of people trying to make it through each day, live life to the fullest, graduate, and hopefully make something of our lives. But despite those similarities, we are also our own person. We have our own minds, our own ideas, and our own lives. We create our own memories and our own experiences. Our pictures are a way of keeping those memories. They evoke feelings inside us that only we can understand. Each picture speaks for itself. Now we would like to take this opportunity to show you just how...

A Picture Is Worth 2004 Words

Eric Davis, Chelsea Smith, Amy Huntsinger, Kassie Humphries, and Katey Betz present their ideas during a Teens Against Tobacco Use (T.A.T.U.) meeting.

These junior high students load the bus for the trip they were rewarded with after a 10 R.C. book reading goal.

The school year as you picture it:

Mrs. Caudill

"It's been hectic with our schedule and everything is very busy. There's so much going on you can't get to everything."

LuJuana May '04

"Having lots of fun, including almost being done with school."

Ashley Winconek '05

"People goofing off and having fun."

Jessica King and Lacey Curtis relieve themselves of all the stress and frustrations life has to offer by participating in a mud wrestling competition at Frankton Heritage Days.

We love our Eagles! These students show just how much pride they have by cheering at the Frankton vs. Lapel basketball game.

Freshmen Kelsey Cress and Katie Karel share the latest gossip in the hallway.

Junior, Jayda Rushton gives senior Angel Couch a hug of congratulations on senior night.

"Having classes with my friends and being able to talk to them more."

Matthew Powless '06

"Hanging out and goofing off in lunch"

Aaron Tuttle '07

"Junior high was eventful, but I am looking forward to high school."

Mandy Warner '08

"Meeting a lot of new people and having fun with my friends."

Haley Landon '09

Natassia Caldwell and Jessica King share a laugh as they work on decorating the freshman hallway for the Homecoming week.

Ambrielle Rosborough tries to focus on taking an RC Quiz while she awaits the day's Homecoming activities.

Calee Etchison, Michael Hodson, Josiah McWilliams, and James Murray gather to eat breakfast at Campus Life one morning.

Chris Cagle addresses Mr. Hoss after being asked the question of how the two of them came to be friends.

Courtney Reger does Kassie Humphries' hair in preparation for the powder puff competition against the seniors the next day.

Time of Your Life

These freshman, sophomore, and junior guys show their pride for the junior girls as they cheer them on during the annual powder puff games.

Homecoming Activities 2003

A week full of dress up days, games, powder puff, and a parade.

Both the juniors and the seniors look prepared as they line up to take on each other during the annual powder puff game.

Brittany Shively '04

"The pep session. That was awesome. And the games were cool 'cause we won them all...well, minus that whole powder puff thing."

These SADD members show their pride and dedication by walking through the parade despite the rain and cold weather.

Angel Couch and Jessica Paugh duel it out to see who can take over as champion of musical chairs. In the end, Angel Couch was the winner. This is her third consecutive year competing in this event.

These junior girls brave the rain so they can proudly show off all their hard work during the Homecoming parade.

This group of seniors is giving it their all to try to defeat the juniors in tug of war.

Austin Leisure and Blake Murrell look as if they might achieve a victory for the sophomores in the wheelbarrow race.

Seniors Come Out On Top

In the annual Homecoming games the seniors came in first place with 120 points, with the juniors following with a close second. In the junior high the 7th graders beat the 8th graders.

The Powder Puff game presented very tough competition, but in the end the juniors were victorious with a final outcome of 8-0.

Something new that was done was the change wars to raise money for Riley Hospital. Over 150 dollars were raised, and the seniors raised the most with over 72 dollars.

In the float competition the Juniors came in first place. The seniors came in dead last, but despite this defeat they still managed to win the overall competition with a total of 155 points.

Tyler Greenlee holds the pie for fellow classmate Tyler Long as they try to beat the 8th graders in the pie eating contest.

Michael Noble and Alex Oakley wrap up Kyndrick Hodson for the mummy wrap.

Angel Couch and Nick Stohler, 2003 Homecoming King and Queen, take a moment to share their first dance as royalty.

Royalty for the night

Homecoming King and Queen were Nick Stohler and Angel Couch. Prince and Princesses for the 2003 Homecoming dance were:

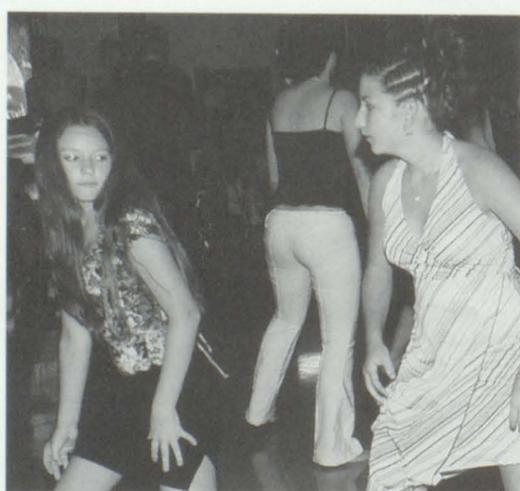

Freshmen: Blane Trinkle and Stephanie Steiner;

Sophomores: Samuel Jack and Ashlee Teders;

Juniors: Daniel Knotts and Jill Harrison.

This group of students takes time out of the fun to get their picture taken by the Prestige photographers.

Freshman Whitney Mason and Lacey Curtis show everyone how it's really done.

Shanna
Seegraves '06

"I liked it, and it was fun. But I hope it is better next year."

Seniors Brandon Howey and Julie Prichard share a moment together during a slow song.

Kristen
Kuntz '05

"I'm glad we did it again this year. It's so much fun and the donkeys are so cute."

Look at her go! Amanda Steiner sure does seem to have control of her donkey.

*Team mates, Jessica Paugh and Audrey Guthrie chase down
Shanna Seegraves as she attempts to take the ball down the floor.*

Who's pullin' who? Mr. Keck tries to be gentle with his big furry creature.

Mr. Hoss has an awesome time as he plays in his second donkey basketball game.

Jayda Rushton looks quite frightened as she rides along on her donkey.

After taking the shot, Amanda Veach waits in anticipation for the outcome.

Donkey Ball has a successful second year

Ready, set, ride! On October 29th, students and teachers piled into the gymnasium to participate in the 2nd annual donkey basketball competition.

Student Council was responsible for bringing this new activity to FHS last year. Over $720 was raised. This money went to help fund Riley Hospital, and other student activities.

Chelsea Smith looks like she's having a blast with her new friend as they travel down the court.

Family Ties

Family. The people you borrow money from, lock out of rooms, steal clothes from, share secrets with, bum rides off of, and grow and learn with. The person you can inflict pain on in one instant, and be caught kissing to heal the wounds in the next. Sometimes we wonder whether or not we share anything more than illnesses and toothpaste with these people. Too often we lead our daily lives as if we take our family for granted. But deep down most of us know that we would give our own life in an instant for the survival of a family member. By definition, a family is just a group of related things or individuals, but in reality it is so much more. Whether your family is biological or extended through adoption and second marriages, there is always that common thread that keeps everyone together.

To be part of a family is to truly know love.

The band shows their support as they play music during the days' festivities.

The Day's Events:

Friday, February 20 was the first ever Winter Homecoming celebration here. Student Council came up with the idea.

Mr. Buckingham and Ms. Hodges were crowned as the king and queen. For the outcome of the "powder puff" volleyball games; the 8th graders came out victorious over the 7th grade. The seniors were the overall winners for the high school, but were later defeated by the faculty and the girls varsity volleyball team.

These 8th graders wait patiently for the ball to be served.

Amanda
Thornberry '07

"I thought it was pretty interesting, and the teachers' part was really funny. I think one time was enough though, it's not something that should become a tradition."

7th grader, Chad Covell prepares to serve the ball to the anxiously awaiting 8th grade team.

Senior Traditions

Traditions. Whether they have been around forever or are just starting up, they are what you look forward to when you're a senior. This year the senior class carried on many traditions started in the previous years. Whether it was the senior girls walking around in their decked out chords, everyone hanging out at Ricker's after school, or sitting on the "senior side" of the gym during lunch, traditions have given the Class of 2004 a way to come together. Filling out college applications, scholarships, and voting for class selections gave a chance for every senior to participate. Although Homecoming was for the whole school, the seniors took special pride in dress up days, float decorations, and the powder puff game. This year's senior class added a special touch to the traditions at Frankton.

No matter what college it is, every senior is stressed out with application deadlines.

"My favorite tradition is powder puff because I get to play football and hit other girls without getting in trouble."

- Shelby Morgan

"My favorite thing is hanging out with my friends, seeing them one last time."

-Jason Burns

"My favorite tradition is the sleepovers the night before powder puff."

-Christy Hoppes

"The freedom of being a senior. I like walking the halls."

-Nick Stohler

Seniors go to the scholarship wall to see if there are any new scholarships to apply for.

Holly Hampton proudly rides on the senior float. The "Once an Eagle, Always an Eagle" theme shows the spirit of the class of 2004.

The senior girls crowd around after the powder puff game for their last homecoming picture.

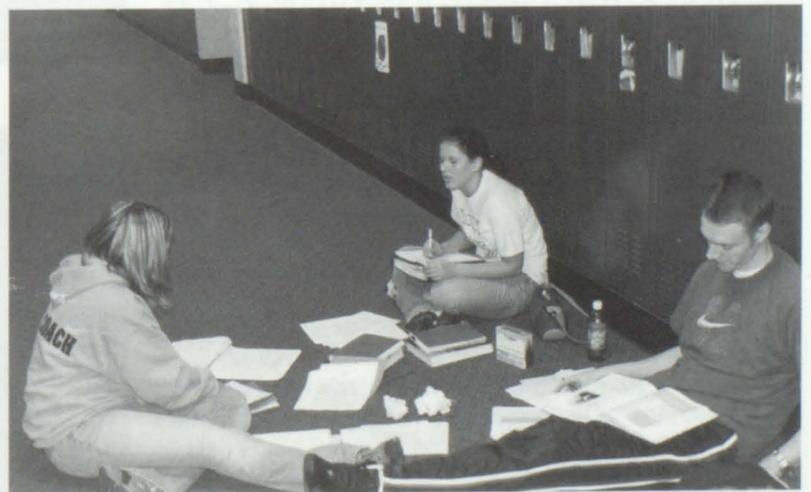

The ballot for the Class of 2004 was passed out early in the school year. Every senior voted on class song, colors, motto, and cap and gown color.

This group of seniors come together for a picture at Dairy Queen. Going out to eat after sporting events was common among seniors.

Senior chords were a tradition thought of long before the class of 2004, but this is one of the first years the trend is becoming popular once again.

Megan Hoffman and Charlie Breckenridge study in the hallway for a class. Study groups are seen more often during senior year.

Lean On Me

Grace Wakim, Amanda Veach, Britney Couch, Audrey Guthrie, Bethany Saulmon, and Erica Funk celebrate together in Mrs. Coryell's class.

It is by chance we met, by choice we became friends. Friendship is a strange thing... we find ourselves telling each other the deepest details of our lives that we don't even share with our families who raised us. But what is a friend? A confidant? A lover? A fellow email junkie? A shoulder to cry on? An ear to listen? A heart to feel? A friend is all of these things and more. No matter where we met, I call you friend. A word so small, yet so large a feeling, a word filled with emotion.

Friendship is a constant book always written, waiting to be read and enjoyed. We may have our disagreements, we may argue, we may concern one another, but friendship is a unique bond that lasts through it all.

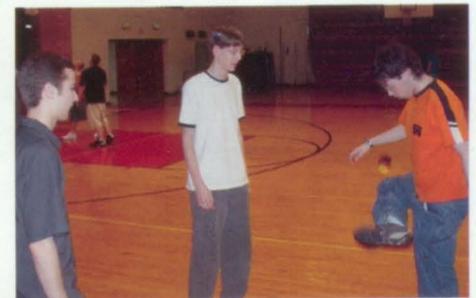

Friends, you and me, you brought another friend, and then there were three. We started our group, our circle of friends... and like that circle there is no beginning or end.

Senior Trip

This year the senior class went to Cedar Point for their class trip. On May 16, 51 seniors, and chaperones, Jeff Thurston, Andrea Coryell, and Mr. and Mrs. Hoss loaded the bus on their way to Sandusky, Ohio. The seniors spent the day at Cedar Point riding rides and spending time with their friends. At the end of the day, the group headed for their final stop for the night, Great Bear Lodge. The lodge was filled with ways the seniors could have the time of their life. It had an indoor water park, an arcade, and a mall across the street. After departing Great Bear Lodge the group ate at Max & Erma's restaurant and left for home from there. The trip was very successful and every senior had a great time.

The 51 seniors that went on the trip come together in front of the Great Bear Lodge for one of their last pictures together as a group.

Senior's Last Memories

Since the start of highschool, these students have waited for the end of their senior year. Now that it is upon them, many things were planned to help make the end of their journey through high school as memorable as possible. End of the school year events included: Senior Cook-out, Baccalaurette, Honors Convo, and many others. While soaking in all the last moments they could, these seniors spent their final days in high school with their classmates.

Although some have gone and some have come in, the Class of 2004 will always remember their times spent together.

Graduation 2004

On Friday, May 28, 2004 the senior class was officially named Frankton alumni. The ceremony began with the playing of the class song, "The Scientist". After the song was finished the high school band played "Pomp and Circumstance" and the seniors began to file out to their seats. Brittany Shively, third in the class, gave the opening remarks. Following her speech Co- Valedictorians, Zach Whitesel, Holly Hampton, and Co-Salutatorian Brittney Kunce spoke about senior reflections. Next the class was presented their diplomas and Mr. Speicher made it official and the seniors traditionally turned their tassles. Co-Salutatorian, Eric Davis, made the closing remarks. Graduation 2004 was a time cherished by all who attended.

Nick Marsh escorts Cora Barker into the Muncie Civic Center to dance the night away.

The 2004 Prom Court included: Row 1: Alex Davis, King, Eli Whitesel; Queen, Kayla Lacy; Joel Beardsley. Row 2: Daniel Knotts, Jill Harrison, Kassie Humphries, Katey Betz, Shelby Borum, and Tommy Ochoa.

Eli Whitesel and Kayla Lacy were crowned King and Queen for the night this year at prom. After the ceremony they shared their first dance as royalty.

Prom 2004: "An Evening in Paris"

The prom was at the Muncie Civic Center, a change from the traditional Paramount. It featured an Eiffel Tower rising 17 feet as the center piece of the ballroom.

The students danced to the music played by DJ Heart-breaker until 10:30 when King Eli Whitesel and Queen Kayla Lacy were crowned.

The entire prom court included King candidates: Joel Beardsley, Alex Davis, Daniel Knotts, and Tommy Ochoa. Queen candidates were: Katey Betz, Shelby Borum, Jill Harrison, and Kassie Humphries.

Prom 2004 was a night enjoyed by all who attended.

The couples dance to the song "Heaven" by DJ Sammi. Although slow songs were not played often at the prom, they were the most popular for dancing.

Aaron Gardner and Maggi Campbell walk down the red carpet to enter the prom. Like this couple, many people decided to attend prom with friends.

Post Prom makes us try to "Survive."

This year's Post Prom was a experience that everyone enjoyed "surviving." The junior parents did a wonderful job planning this year's after-prom activities and they went on without hitch. Whether you were participating in the "Survivor Challenge" games, getting married underneath the Hawaiian theme alter, taking your chances in the wild money pit, or belting out tunes to your favorite song at the karaoke machine, no one left that night with their torch extinguished.

The obstacle course and human tug-of-war gave a challenge to those attendees with some competitive spirit in them. Many others enjoyed the refreshments, which included, pizza, chips, brownies, and fruit smoothies in a complementary cup with an umbrella. By the end of the evening as some were going home, others were loading up buses to go to King's Island. No matter what activity students were in, everyone attending post-prom "survived" and had a great time!

Dustin Hepfer, Nate McKeon, and Dustin McPhearson sing "Superman" by Eminem on the karaoke machine.

Angel Couch collects some cash in the money machine. Despite the fact that not all the money was real money it was still a big hit at post prom.

Drew Alexander '04

"I was proud with the season. We came together as a team and played our best."

Ryan McClintick '04

"We could have gone further if the underclass knew the significance of tourney play."

The Frankton Football team had another stellar season under the helm of Otis Cress. The Eagles finished the year with a 9-3 record. Frankton was led this year by first team All State linebacker Nate McKeon. McKeon won many awards including All-Area along with Joe McPhearson, Drew Alexander, Billy Grinstead, Ryan McClintick, Tad Powless and Billy Whitworth. Frankton once again beat rival Lapel in week two with a 34-0 victory. The team also beat Tri-Central and Sheridan in the Sectional, before being defeated by Carroll (Flora) in the Sectional Final.

Coach Huntsinger gives a motivational speech to his team during this time-out.

Junior High football had another successful season under head coach Dennis Huntsinger. The seventh grade had a stellar first year, and the eighth graders used their experience to win 6 games this season.

Eighth grade awards presented were: Nathan Cress- Offensive Player of the Year, and Ivan Cole- Defensive Player of the Year. Both teams agreed that even with the good overall record, they could have done better. The seventh grades hopes to build on that next year, while the eighth graders prepare for their first two-a-day in the summer.

Jacob Blockson '08
"It started off slow, but we began playing more like a team and started winning games."

Kyle Overby '08
"We improved a lot, but we should have won more games."

Nate Cress was awarded the Offensive Player of the year. It has been indicated that Nate might see major minutes on the Varsity team next season.

WOLLESLY

What was your most memorable moment this year for volleyball?

Amy Huntsinger '05

"Our 'Pep Team' coming to the games to cheer us on."

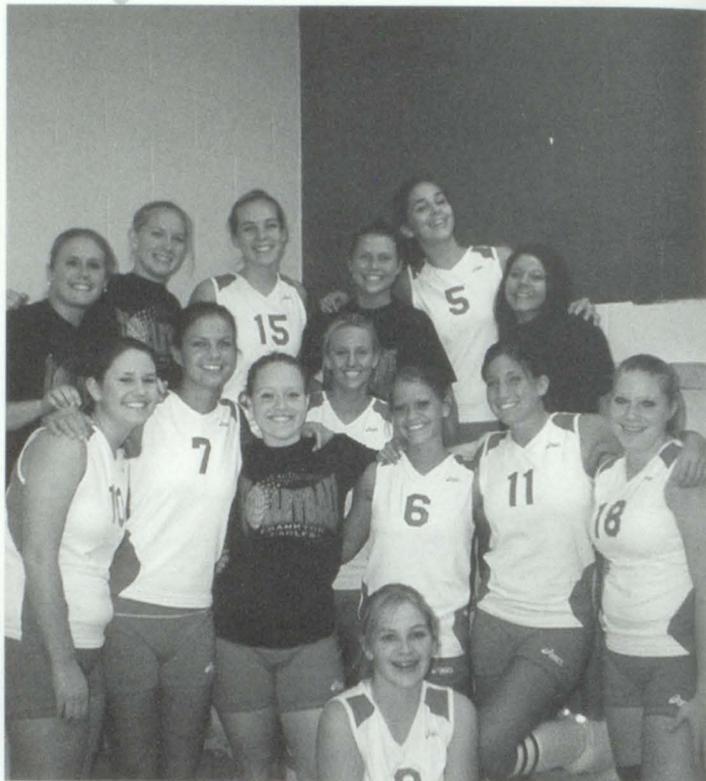

Jessica Paugh '05

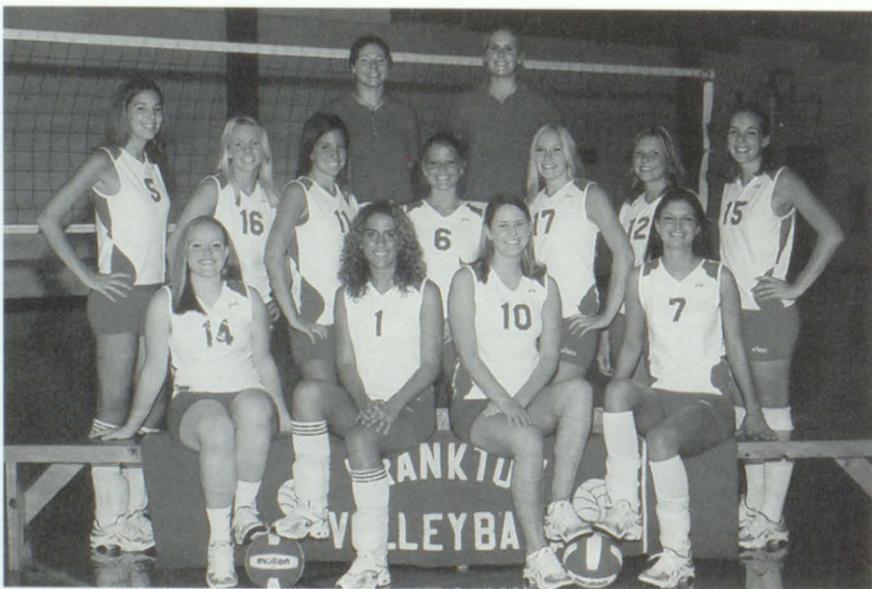

"I enjoyed our team swim party and diving on the floor before every game."

The Lady Eagles began their season with a good start, pulling in a victory to Anderson. Through the whole season the Lady Eagles had their struggles, but they never gave up, ending with a record of 8-17. Although it doesn't really show it, the Eagles had a pretty good season compared to previous years.

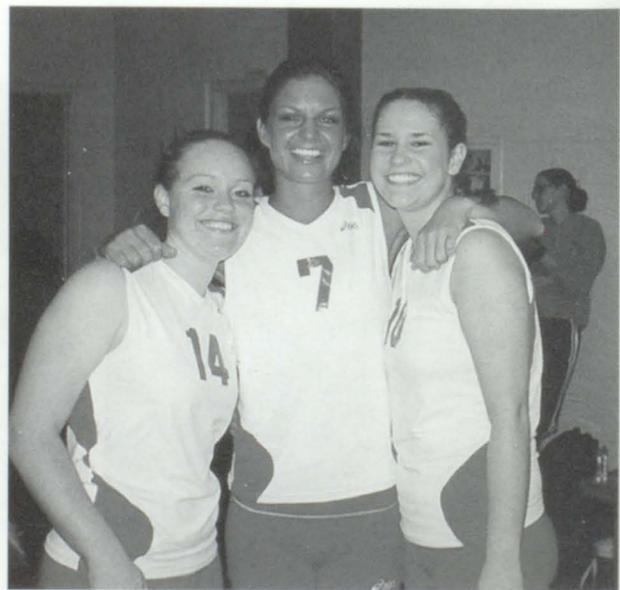

Awards were give to Amy Huntsinger for MVP/ All County, Jessica Paugh for Best Mental Attitude, and Kassie Humphries for Most Improved at the fall banquet. Nice job ladies!

The girls show their good sportsmanship by shaking hands with their opponents after the game.

Both the 7th and 8th grade volleyball teams were coached by Peggy Hendricks. For the most part, their season went well. Keep in mind, this was their first year for school volleyball and it was a time for learning and building skills. They came a long way from the beginning of the season. Awards were given to both 7th and 8th grade teams at the end of the season.

The 7th grade volleyball awards were: CO-MVP-Lauren Hendricks, Mollee Deckard; MVSpiker-Lauren Hendricks; MVSetter-Carissa Ward; MVServer-Mollee Deckard; Best Attitude-Kim Werline.

What are your hopes for next years playing season?

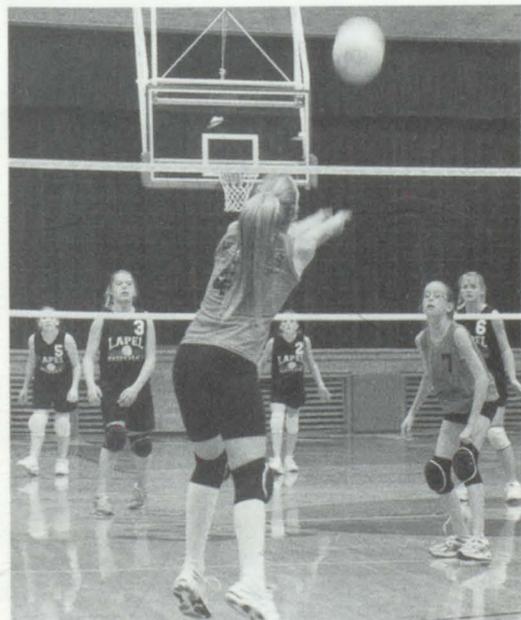

Paige Isaacs '09

"I really want to become a better spiker."

"I plan on playing front row and not always the back row."

Cross Country

Daniel McMullen '05

"We had a great year despite low numbers."

Brooke Farley '04

"Although we didn't accomplish all of our goals, we still had fun."

This year was the first year that Cross Country teams ran Co-ed. The girls and boys teams both competed on the same day at the same location. The boys were led this year by junior Daniel McMullen. The girls were led by seniors Amanda Steiner, Mandy Mills, and Brooke Farley. The girls were a little more successful than the boys this year, but both teams had a fairly successful season. The girls also were runner-up in the Madison County and CIC tournaments. While the boys' best finishes were at Alexandria and Elwood.

Brooke Farley, Mandy Mills, and Cortney Reger "take-off" to start the Wabash Invitational.

Boys Cross Country: Daniel McMullen, Levi Howard, Thomas Pruitt, Matthew Powless, Derek Thurber, Alan Martin.

CROSS COUNTRY Junior High

Krista Revolinski takes a break from the action to take a picture.

The Junior High Cross Country team had a very successful season.

The team was coached again by Bobbi Seager. The team had a very impressive season with wins against teams such as: Northside, Eastside, Muncie Burris, Madison Grant, Tipton and Sheridan.

The team looks to improve even more in the coming years. If these students continue to run, the future looks bright for the high school cross country team.

TENNIS

Freshman Jeff Whitcomb charges the net for the over-hand winner.

The tennis team had to rebuild with the inexperience of the underclass this season. They did have among them two seniors, Nick Stohler, and Eric Davis.

Junior, Brett Sanders had the most successful year. He compiled a winning percentage of over .500 and playing number one singles. He also finished third in the conference meet, which was the best from the team.

Fellow junior Alex Davis played number two singles. With the addition of freshmen Jeff Whitcomb and Andy Harvey the team should be very good in future seasons.

Eric Davis '04

"We should have worked harder throughout the year."

Brett Sanders '05

"Like always, there's always next year."

Senior Eric Davis uses the forehand, Eric played No. 2 singles this year and was very successful.

Maggie Isaacs '07

"It was fun, but cheering for basketball is better."

With a new 2003 football cheerleading squad also came the direction of a new coach, 1998 Frankton graduate, Misty Hovermale. She had a lot to do because there was no assistant coach like there has been in the past, meaning she had to attend all Varsity and Junior Varsity games and practices.

The girls had a very successful season, accomplishing different stunts, learning new cheers, and cheering the boys on not only at all games, but at pep sessions as well.

Junior High

These 7th and 8th grade girls show their support for FJHS by spelling the letters out with their pom-poms.

The junior high football cheerleaders had a successful season. The 8th grade girls were coached by Jacki Hudson and the 7th grade girls were coached by Shelly Green. The coaches also helped assist each other.

According to Tiffany Trinkle, the best thing about being an 8th grade football cheerleader was getting to cheer on the guys and getting to be with her friends.

Sami Green said that by cheering for football they learned to understand the concept of the sport a lot more.

The girls cheered on the boys at their games, made many decorations and locker signs for them, and practiced new stunts throughout the season.

Jake Hudson '06

"We had a very good season. It was fun."

Joe McPhearson '04

"Even though we had a disappointing season, it was good to have a fan base at Frankton."

For the first time in recent history, the Boys Varsity basketball team compiled a 15-8 record. This under first year coach Brent Keck. Juniors Brett Sanders and Aaron Gardner shared Co-MVP honors. The team had a senior class that included four members: Charlie Breckenridge, Eric Davis, Billy Grinstead, and Joe McPhearson. The team won the support of the town of Frankton this year in that many of the home games, the gym was filled nearly to capacity and just as loud. The Eagles fell just short in the second round of Sectionals to Knightstown. But this team will not be forgotten any time soon. The seniors show the CIC travel trophy they won at Blackford. This is the first time Frankton has held the "Horseshoe".

Brittany Shively stands her ground against No. 1 in the state Tri-Central. The girls rallied around each other and were victorious.

The girls basketball team had another successful season, doing so with new coach Mr. Tod Winland. The girls were led by junior MVP Amy Huntsinger. The girls had a very young team this year. The team rarely had the same starting lineup more than twice a year. This did help the younger girls gain some much needed experience for the future. Key wins for the girls this year were Tri-Central and Alexandria. With the win against Alexandria, the girls also won the CIC traveling trophy, the Belle, that remained with the team until their defeat against Elwood on senior night.

The girls track team had a very successful season this year. They were coached by Jennifer Fields for the third consecutive year. A major achievement for the girls was finishing third in the county meet at Alexandria High School. The only two teams to beat them had an advantage due to their number of team members, and according to senior Heather Waymire they looked at it as "getting first out of the small schools." "It was great and I enjoyed it. We had a lot of fun."

The Junior High Track members had a very successful season. The team consisted of boys and girls in grades 6th through 8th.

The teams were coached by Abby Hodges and Andre Lo. There were over 80 students between the two teams. They had a very successful season due to their large numbers.

They are looking forward to next year and the high school track coaches are looking forward to seeing a lot of the eighth graders come out for the team in high school.

A New Leader

In 1984, a student by the name of Darrin Michael Gustin graduated from Frankton Jr./Sr. High School. He then was accepted to Indiana University to earn a Bachelor's Degree in Education. After he finished his education at I.U., he moved on to Ball State University to earn a Master's in education. He would then start his career as an educator. At the age of 35, Mike Gustin became Principal Gustin for Anderson Community Schools, after teaching Social Studies for 10 years. Mr. Gustin was the leader of the Indians and then changed his course by coming here. When asked what kind of student he was, while at Frankton, he said, "I was a pretty good kid. I made mostly A's and B's." Beside academics, Mr. Gustin excelled in sports as well.

Participating in football, basketball, and track, Mr. Gustin would end his high school career with an amazing 10 varsity letters. During his freshman year of high school, he would receive one of his first varsity letters from a younger, learning teacher and coach, Mr. Phil Davis. "We had to get ten 'points' for the year, in order to letter. By the last couple of weeks I had only received nine. I asked Coach Davis what I had to do in order to earn another 'point'. He told me to keep pushing and doing what I was doing and that 'with hard work comes perseverance'."

Through this and many other experiences, Mr. Gustin was taught to do everything with every bit of effort. "By coming here," he says, "I feel like I belong and I already know the school." With his wisdom, experience, and leadership, Mr. Gustin will proudly guide the students of Frankton High School in a new direction.

The End is FINALLY Here!

It is so great to now be able to say those words. For the last year I can honestly say that this yearbook has been my life. Even if i was not in the classroom working on it my yearbook duties were always somewhere in the back of my mind.

I want to start by thanking all of my editors. Without you guys we wouldn't even have this book. You all worked very hard and did everything needed to get this book done. Some of you came in this with no clue what to do or what was expected of you, and you still managed to get it done. Thank you for putting up with me and my moods and for all your hard work. I want to give a special thanks to Megan Hoffman. Megan might as well have been my "assistant editor." I went to her for everything. She gave me her input, helped me with last minute things, and kept me sane this year. She came in early with me to get things started and stayed over this summer to get things finished. Thank you for being the best senior editor I could of asked for! I also want to thank Brynlee Engle, Holly Hampton, Zach Whitesel, and Billy Grinstead. They all came in this summer to help me finish things up and without them things would have been a disaster. I also want to thank and congratulate Shelby Morgan for working so hard and advertising this year. Thanks to her we sold a great amount of ads and it really helped out our book.

I want to thank all the faculty and staff here at Frankton that helped us with all the information we needed. I know the entire staff appreciated your help. Also thanks to you the students. Without you guys there would be no reason for us to make this book. Thank you for making memories at Frankton for us to capture and place in this book.

Most importantly I want to thank Mr. Sipe. I know he had to put a lot of faith in me by giving me this position. I am sure I was quite difficult to deal with at times, but he always did what he could to help me and never yelled at me for my mistakes. Instead, he would sit down and help me figure out a way to fix it. Together we made it through this.

Last, but not least, I want to thank my family and friends for putting up with me all year. I know I got way too stressed over things at times and I must have been a real pain to put up with. But they were always there to support me and help me come up with new ideas. I love all of you!

I hope you all have a book that you can keep for life and cherish and that we successfully captured all of your 2004 memories this year.
