THE 1945 BLACK and GOLD PRESENTED BY THE JOURNALISM CLASS OF FAIRMOUNT HIGH SCHOOL FAIRMOUNT, INDIANA

I pledge allegiance to the flag . . .

FOREWORD

This is your book. We, of the journalism class, planned it for your pleasure. Here are your school, your friends, and you.

In spite of the shortage of materials created by war needs, we have collected the evanescence of 1945 memories in words and pictures. We hope it aids you in maintaining an everlasting picture of your school, its classrooms, and its 385 pupils in their many activities.

In face of world-wide conflict and chaos we issue this annual hoping that in future years as you look back on your high school days you will remember its happiness and peace.

We, the members of the Black and Gold staff, gratefully dedicate this 1945 annual to those many students of Fairmount High School who are serving or have served in the armed forces of the United States paving the path for the Liberty of tomorrow.

"We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain" --LINCOLN

SCHOOL HISTORY

In 1884 rapid strides were made toward education. The society of friends constructed a nonsecretarian academy. This school, The Fairmount Academy, was regarded for many years as one of the best institutions of higher learning in the state of Indiana. Its first building occupied the ground where our high school buildings now stand but it moved in 1895 to the commodies structure which it used until merged with Fairmount High School in September, 1923. Although it did not receive its first state commission until April 25, 1899. It graduated its first class in 1900.

It was with this class that basketball and football sprang into popularity. A serious accident on the football field, however, led the board of education to outlaw the game with a law effected in 1911. Then after basket-ball was the main sport of Fairmount High School and such teams did we produce that Fairmount was the accepted champion of the county for many years. In the fall of 1921 Fairmount High School organized its first musical organization as a part of the regular curriculum with an orchestra of fourteen pieces.

The first regular publication issued by Fairmount High School the "Black and Gold," a monthly, was launched in 1911. Later, however, the paper encountered financial difficulties and was discontinued. In 1921 the first "Black and Gold" was put in the hands of the students. In 1927 the name was changed to "The Breeze."

In 1926 Fairmount High School became a member of the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges. This standard was met by having a nine month's school. The most outstanding qualifications for membership are that the teachers must meet certain very high standards, that the curriculum must be complete and extensive, and that the buildings must be adequate with a well-equiped library and laboratory.

Having to solve all the problems of the Fairmount public school system, Superintendent F. Stanton Galey carries on an endless task. He is always ready to discuss the problems of anyone who comes for help. To assist him is Madonna Kind, clerk, who performs cheerfully any tasks required by school board, faculty, or students.

Our school runs efficiently under the direction of our school board members. They determine the policies of the schools, approve all matters pertaining to budget and school finances, and promote public relations. They sacrifice time and effort to help the schools provide the democratic opportunities necessary to make ours a good wholesome education.

Nr. Stanley checks over the class schedule with Jeanne Compton. Scheduling school events, planning classes, and managing the athletics as well as teaching some classes make school days busy. This is Mr. Stanley's second year as our principal.

Mrs. Gilbreath, dean of girls, moved into her private office for the first time last fall. There she held personal interviews with the girls, giving them aptitude tests and assisting in their problems. She also took charge of the lost and found department which is located in her office.

SERVICE

Our two janitors, Ace Sellers and Clarence Clifford, keep our school clean and warm for our comfort. Mr. Sellers has been here four years. Mr. Clifford has been here since 1930.

MYRTLE GILBREATH teaches citizenship, vocations and social science. She is interested in writing and is working for her Ph.D. She has taught in Fairmount Schools for seventeen years. Two years as principal of North Ward, four years as principal of Junior High, and eleven years as principal of the High School.

RAYMOND ELLIOTT has his A.B. and M.A. degree. He obtained the A.B. degree from Franklin College, and in 1932, he received his M.A. degree from Indiana University. He teaches history, government, and is Hi-Y advisor. He has been here seventeen years.

MARIE YOUNG has her B.S. degree. She graduated from Purdue in 1938 where she earned her degree. She taught at the McCulloch school in Marion in 1938 and 1939. DONALD E. STANLEY is a graduate of Indiana State Teachers College with the class of 1931. He came to Fairmount to teach physics, chemistry, aeronautics, and general science, but after teaching a year he became the principal of Fairmount High and also the athletic manager.

ADELINE BROOKSHIRE has an A.B. and B.S. from Marion College. She teaches French, Spanish, and is dramatics coach and advanced speech teacher. She is the senior class sponsor and has taught in Fairmount five years.

DORIS WAYMIRE was graduated from Indiana University in 1940. This is her third year of teaching in Fairmount High. She is sponsor of the junior class and teaches Latin and mathematics.

HUCH CAUGHELL received a B.S. from Purdue in 1932 and earned his vocational agriculture license the following year. He taught in Reelsville and Helmsburg schools. This is his first year at Fairmount.

RUPERT KILCORE was graduated from DePauw in 1932 and studied at Ball State the following year. He has been teaching art and music in Fairmount High and North Ward since then. He is very active in many organizations. He sponsors the glee clubs, choir, band, and orchestra. He has been scoutmaster for three years. He has charge of the movies shown here at school and has served the journalism class by taking many of the pictures for the annual.

ROBERTA WILLS obtained her B.A. degree from Ball State. She teaches journalism, English, and is librarian. She is the sponsor of the eighth grade. This is her first year at F. H. S.

CHARLES MEYER received his B.A. degree from Ball State. This is his second year at F. H. S. He teaches shop and is sponsor of the eighth grade and radio club.

GEORGIA CULLEN teaches home economics and is the leader of the girls 4-H club. She was graduated in 1927 from Indiana State Teachers College where she later received her M.A. She has also attended Columbia and Purdue Universities. MARY ELIZABETH HAYS teaches typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping. She received her B.S. degree from Butler University. She is the sponsor of the seventh grade and has taught here for two years.

RALPH RAUTENKRANZ has been in Fairmount for two years. He obtained his B. A. degree from Manchester College in 1938. He teaches mathematics, is assistant scoutmaster, and is a junior class sponsor.

VIOLET MART received her B.S. and A.B. degree from Marion College and Ball State Teachers College. This is her first year here. She teaches English and is the freshman class sponsor.

ED JOHNSON obtained his B.S. degree from Central Normal College. He is the senior sponsor and teaches physical education and geography. Mr. Johnson is the coach who pulled our basketball team through a successful season. He is also the coach of other athletic activities.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 2, 1941, Fairmount High School was invaded by one hundred verdant freshmen. These green creatures soon learned their way around and on March 17 we held a chili supper in honor of the sectional winners of that year. We later held a class meeting to decide on Flag Day. April 2, was the day chosen. In that same year we held individual interviews with Mrs. Gilbreath, discussing vocational aspirations.

The next year this group came back to enroll in F. H. S. Several had dropped, leaving only eighty-one. This year we chose royal blue and white for our class sweaters which we presently ordered. Three one act plays were given on February 2, 1943.

The following year we came back as juniors. This is the year most students look forward to because they receive their class rings. Ours were available in December. "Don't Take My Penny" was chosen by a committee as the class play. A mixer was held in honor of the seniors in the gymnasium. The annual junior-senior banquet was held May 5, at the Spencer Hotel. Dancing and demonstrations from the magician "Murdock" were the main attractions.

Fifty-five members came back to conclude their schooling. The first party of the year was a hayride to John Seale's farm. Later in the year name cards and invitations were ordered. A senior class meeting was held to decide on what type of clothes to wear to baccalaureate and commencement. Caps and gowns were chosen. A Christmas dance was held at the Academy on Christmas night. Johnny Lambert's orchestra provided music. The play "Feathers in a Gale" was presented April 26.

It was decided to have the baccalaureate and commencement at the Weslyan Camp Ground.

The class sponsors for the last four years have been ninth grade, Everett Chapman and Adeline Brookshire; tenth grade, Forest Witsman and Adeline Brookshire; eleventh grade, Keith Stroup and Adeline Brookshire: twelfth grade, Ed Johnson and Adeline Brookshire.

Ninth grade officers were Virgil Kirkpatrick, president; Alice Richardson, Vice president; Don Reeves, secretary and treasurer; Doris Deeter, social chairman.

Tenth grade officers were Paul Haynes, president; George Beck, vice president; Betty Weaver, secretary and treasurer; Jim Davis, social chairman.

Eleventh grade officers were Thurman Mott, president; Betty Weaver, vice president; Irene Gaddis, secretary and treasurer; Treva Davis, social chairman.

Twelfth grade officers are Betty Weaver, president; George Beck, vice president; Charles Rhoades, secretary and treasurer; Irene Gaddis, social chairman.

And to the Republic for which it stands . . .

The Black and Gold staff has tried to produce for each of you a book representing your school; a book which you will treasure for years to come. First row: Phyllis Wigner, Dorothy Smith, Dorothy Hodson, Irene Gaddis, and Dorothy Powell. Second row: Miss Wills, Milford Daily, Keith Haisley, Paul Haynes, and Bernard Garinger.

The Breeze staff brings to you the highlights of the school week by week. Seated: Irene Gaddis, Dorothy Hodson, Violet Scott, Bill Dowling, Wayne Williams, and Dorothy Smith. Standing: Don Reeves, Betty Ann Pattison, Barbara Winans, Doris Deeter, Phyllis Wigner, Dorothy Powell, Keith Haisley, Miss Wills, Kenneth Howard, Barbara Murray, Paul Haynes, Hubert Hughes, and Milford Daily.

Under the direction of Rupert Kilgore, the F. H. S. band took part in several activities during the past year. They played for all the home basketball games.

MUSIC . . .

This band, the largest since 1933, furnished the music for the seniors during the graduation exercises. Their annual spring concert was given to the school on May 11 and to the public April 29.

The band has learned many new numbers this year, including overtures, swing pieces, and marches. They first performed for the school when they led the procession to the fairgrounds to see the last baseball game of the season. Annabel Pattison is the drum majorette for the band.

Honor Society

Only juniors and seniors of high academic rating are selected to join this distinguished national organization. First row: Ruthann Davis, Rosemary Wright, and Shirley Harvey. Second row: Lee Haines, Mrs. Brookshire, and John Gerstorff.

Student Council

The student council meets every two weeks when, under parlimentary procedure, they discuss and consider motions and problems common to both the students and the faculty. First row: Mr. Stanley, Norma Jean Painter, Ruth Purviance, Jim Roth, Dorothy Ratliff, and John Gerstorff. Second row: Willard Rust, John Kinch, Earl Scott, Betty Holloway, Sarah Waddey, George Bryan, and Jim Harshbarger.

Debate Club

They debate with other schools on current topics and also participate in the District Debate Contest. First row: Martha Davis, Sarah Waddey, Cleo Siler, Ruthann Davis, Mrs. Brookshire, and Evelyn Davis. Second row: Mary Vetor, Hubert Hughes, Lee Haines, John Neel, Arthur Heuderson, and Deloris Voorhis.

Senior Play

"Feathers in a Gale"

First row: Treva Davis, Shirley Harvey, Carolyn Moon, Doris Deeter, Phyllis Wigner, and Dorothy Powell. Second row: Milford Daily, Jim Davis, Mrs. Brookshire, and Hubert Hughes.

Boys' Glee Club was organized last year by their director, Mr. Kilgore. It meets every Tuesday to practice old favorites and learn new selections.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y Club was founded in the fall of 1925. Its constitution was written by James DeWeerd in 1931 and was amended in 1944.

Its purpose is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. Its motto is "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living." Membership is open to all boys in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades who wish to subscribe to the standards of the organization.

Among the club's activities are the study of the Bible and discussions on the current events. They sponsor the sale of defense stamps and operate a book store for used books.

Ray Yale and James Wagner represented the club at the State Order of Boy's Conference held at Richmond last November.

The Second Degree ceremony for ten new members was held at the local Christian Church in April.

Officers are Milford Daily, president; James Wagner, secretary; Ray Yale and Lee Haines, program chairmen; Clair Street, sargeant-at-arms; Charles Rhoads, treasurer; Mr. Elliott, sponsor.

First row: Palmer Yale, Wilbur Williams, Carl Brookshire, Jim Davis, Charles Rhoads, Jack Kistler, and Gene Lewis.

Organizations...

Radio Club

The Radio Club meets each Tuesday during the activity period. The purpose of the club is to better acquaint the students with radio and electrical work. The club as a whole studies and learns the parts of the radio and its operation. Different members bring in radio sets which are in turn repaired by the members under the instruction of Mr. Meyer.

First row: Mr. Meyer, Carl Brookshire, George Bryan, Jay Dale, Palmer Yale, and Jay Buck.

Second row: John Cline, Max Smith, James Harshbarger, Bill Harvey, and Jay Adams.

The F Club was first organized in the fall of 1942 under the direct guidance of Forest Witsman. Coach Ed Johnson is their sponsor.

First row: Robert Middleton, James Davis, Charles Rhoads, and Bill Dowling. Second row: Joe Reynolds, James Dailey, George Beck, Adrian Seifert, Galen Mohoney, Francis Bright, and Eugene Huffman.

Third row: James Roth, Virgil Kirkpatrick, Paul Haynes, Don Reeves, Keith Haisley, Kenneth Howard, and Ralph Taylor.

F-Club

In order to gain admittance into this organization, one must have earned a chenille letter in basketball, baseball, or track.

BOY SCOUTS

The Boy Scout troop of Fairmount reorganized this year with thirty-two enrolled. January 31 ended a most successful scout year. The local troop was rated third among all Meshingomeshia council troops. This rating was graded on individual scout's advancement.

The troop continued its war effort by collecting scrap paper and distributing posters. The troop also attended a dedication for service boys, at the Christian Church, in which a large candle for the scouts in service, was lighted. One of the projects of 1945 was the window display during Scout Week. Scout Sunday found the boys at the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Two first place ribbons were won by David Sauder's Patrol and Bill Harvey's Patrol at the Boy Scout summer camp.

FUTURE FARMERS

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm boys between the ages of fourteen and twenty-one who are enrolled in vocational agriculture. The fundamental ideals upon which the organization is built include diligence in labor, just in dealings, courteous to everyone, and honesty and fairness in the game of life.

There are four degrees of membership: Green Hand, Future Farmer, State Farmer, and American Farmer. The local chapter determines the first two advancements, the State determines the third, and the National organization awards the fourth degree. Officers: president, James Dailey; vice-president, Paul Haynes; secretary, Charles Rhoads; treasurer, James Davis; and reporter, Keith Haisley.

First row: Keith Kirkwood, Jim Floyd, Willard Rust, David Sheets, Delbert Gaither, Albert Cline, and Fred Nelson.

Third row: Keith Haisley, Paul Reynolds, Ted Huston, Phillip Mason, Roy Taylor, Bruce Gossett, Bob Davis, Clarence Elliott, Frank Underwood, and Paul Havnes.

The Farm Shop

The boys' in the agricultural classes assisted in building and establishing the Farm Shop.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves, under the direction of Mrs. Young, had another successful year. They held their business meetings every Tuesday in the art room and sometimes met in the gymnasium for sports.

They were first organized in 1939. Last fall they held candle-light service for ten new members. At the same time they gave a banquet for their mothers.

At Christmas they bought and decorated a large Christmas tree for the school. They sponsored skating parties at Idyl Wyld and held a pot luck supper.

First row: Jean Bright, Leah Jane Cline, Gene Hardesty, Julia Cobler, Betty Ann Pattison, Edith Small, Ruth Mittank, Delores Voorhis.

.Third row: Mrs. Young, Gene Spahr, Lois Cassell, Vivian Telfer, Janet Mittank, Louise Cox, Norma Smith, Annabell Pattison, Mary Ann Pulley.

Farewell

It is with sadness in our hearts We turn to say good-bye, To all our troubles and our joys Of dear old Fairmount High.

T'was in the fall of '41 We started out as greenies, We were as fresh as they ever come And were we ever meanies!

Then one day in '42 As silly Sophs we came, We were the meanest in the school— And us they'd always blame.

When Jolly Juniors we became We studied hard all day; But we had fun, lots of it, With our banguet and class play

But as sophisticated Seniors We sure did take the prize, We stuck our noses in the air And made people think we were wise.

So now, as the long-looked forward day Of graduation comes so near We sigh for those joys, already gone, And wish that again they were here.

-KENNETH "SNAKE" HOWARD

Good-bye

No longer will you see our smiling faces, No longer will we roam the halls of F. H. S. Four years we have spent here—or maybe six; But they have been years of happiness.

Long we'll remember our school days Our study mixed with pleasure. We studied hard—we Seniors did, And still had time for leisure.

Some have already left, To service they have gone, They won't be here to say good-bye, So for them we'll say so-long.

Not forgotten are our teachers, We owe them many thanks, They were so often patient When we played our foolish pranks.

Underclassmen we will to you Our standing in Fairmount High; We wish you all the best of luck And now we say Good-bye.

COACH ED JOHNSON

The 1944-45 Fairmount Quakers, under the guidance of Ed Johnson, enjoyed the most successful season in the history of the schoo. They established a record of 23 wins against only two defeats.

The Quakers were first beaten in their second game of the year when they played Summitville. A foul shot in the final seconds of play provided the winning margin. Their second and final deficit was a two point loss to Wabash in the first game of the Regional tournament.

The Quakers first established themselves as a powerful team when they won the county tourney. It was the first Fairmount team to accomplish that task since 1939, and they had to do it by beating three of their strongest county opponents, Jonesboro, Gas City, and Swayzee.

From there on the opposition continued to grow tougher. Regardless of this, they continued to score win after win. By sectional time Fairmount had 19 straight wins to it's credit. Despite all of this previous success, there was no sign of any "cocksureness" in the Quaker camp. Only the will and determination to win were present.

The sectional tournament saw the Quakers beat Jonesboro and Gas City for the third time of the season, and then defeat St. Paul's to annex their third sectional crown.

But the game with Gas City was no doubt the game of the year. Gas City obtained an early lead and held it all along until the final nine seconds of play, when Jimmy Roth hit a long shot to tie the score. The game entered the overtime, and from there on it was Fairmount's ball game.

Fairmount's colorful season came to a close against Wabash, but the Apaches had to go all out to beat them by a slim two point margin.

Together with all of these outstanding achievements, unusually good sportsmanship made the 1944-45 Quakers a team that the school will long remember.

BASKETBALL TEAM

PAUL HAYNES

A tall six foot guard started late in the season because of a foot injury. He is a senior with two years experience on the varsity. His guarding ability will be missed.

JIM ROTH

A fast, shifty forward who was the high scorer of the year. Jimmy, a veteran of two years, is a junior, six foot tall, and should show plenty of power next year.

GEORGE BECK

A senior guard who showed lots of speed and an unguardable left hand hook shot. He has served three years on the squad.

KENNY 'SNAKE' HOWARD

Played forward and his six foot two inches in height was helpful. He has played two years on the squad and will be missed next year.

KEITH HAISLEY

Held down the center position. Although this was his first year on the varsity, he proved his worth with his rebounding ability and good sportsmanship.

Jan

VIRGIL KIRKPATRICK

Six foot forward, has two years on the varsity to his credit. He played at any position and was a set-up shot artist. He is a senior.

RALPH 'MOOSE' TAYLOR

Played any position but was usually an understudy of Keith Haisley. He is a junior and should make a good center next year.

CHARLES 'CHOD' RHOADES

'Chod' is a senior and the shortest man on the squad. He was hampered by his height, but was an excellent shot from any place on the floor. 'Chod' played guard or forward.

JOHN TITUS

A junior forward with an excellent left handed shot. He should be hard to stop next year.

DICK PHILLIPS

A junior who did not see much first team action this year. However, he secured a lot of experience that should make him a mainstay of 1945-46.

JIM DAILEY

A junior who played both forward and center. He played mostly on the second team and his experience and height will be helpful next year.

Second row: Bill Beck, Richard Phillips, Jim Dailey, LeRoy Leckron, Joe Reynolds.

Second Team

Fairmount's Little Quakers, composed entirely of underclassmen finished the season with a record of 12 wins and 4 losses. During the season these boys showed plenty of promise for later years at F. H. S.

Mid-way in the season, the seconds hit a streak of bad luck, and lost their four games consecutively to Elwood, Gas City, Alexandria, and Van Buren. Following these defeats, the Quakers showed added strength in finishing out the season.

Baseball

First row: Jim Dailey, Joe Reynolds, Kenneth Howard, Bob Middleton, and John Titus.

Second row: Eugene Huffman, Charles Rhoads, Galen Mahoney, Ralph Taylor, Paul Haynes, George Beck, and Jim Roth.

Third row: Clifton Warner, Bill Dowling, Rodney Miller, Dick Carl, Roy Taylor, Willard Rust, and Jim Davis.

After two years without winning a baseball game, the 1944-45 Quaker nine won four tilts while losing five. They won from Sweetser, Swayzee, Lapel, and Summitville. They lost to Van Buren, Gas City, Jefferson Township, Jonesboro, and Lapel.

Even though Coach Johnson was handicapped by not knowing the boys, he proved his ability as a coach, as he led his team through an average season.

Fairmount had plenty of strength in their pitching with Galen Mahoney, Paul Haynes, and Ralph Taylor sharing mound duties. The Quakers were weakest at fielding.

At the plate, the Quakers had considerable strength with George Beck heading the batters with a season average of .408. Beck was at bat 27 times and made eleven hits, including two home runs, one triple, and three doubles. Bob Middleton hit the only other home run.

Because the home diamond was not in very good shape, all but two of the games were played away. Both of the home games were won however, against Lapel and Summitville.

Yell Leaders

IRENE GADDIS WAYNE WILLIAMS DOLORES VOORHIS

Our yell leaders led us through the cheers for the basketball boys and baseball boys at all of the games. They also conducted several pep sessions in the gymnasium or in the auditorium.

The twirler corps was formed in 1942 by Martha Jean Cooper who performed with the corps at the basketball games a few times this year. The twirler corps, accompanied by high school band, presented a floor show at each home basketball game. This year's twirling corps consisted of sixteen twirlers, two flag twirlers, and a majorette.

Twirlers

Kose Kinch, Joan Jones, Marjorie Holloway, Joyce Wigner, Wanda Lee Carr, Martha Jane Pully, and Annabelle Pattison.
