Growing Pains...Headaches and Happiness in '64

It has been only five years since our building was completed and made ready for us. At that time, the halls looked endless. It seemed impossible to think that we would ever need more room. Yet this year, when the enrollment jumped to nearly five hundred pupils, we have been infected with a disease sometimes called "Growing Pains".

With more students comes an increase in the number of courses offered, greater competition, better equipment, more teachers, and, of course larger classes. Our organizations are expanding in membership also. The Latin Club, Home Economics Club, Future Farmers of America, and nearly all the other clubs have the largest membership roll they have ever had. Our band and choir have been growing both in quantity and quality. Growing pains are the headaches and happiness of F. H. S. 's 1964 year.

Every hour, on the hour, mass migration hits F. H. S.

Mr. Heniser has a busy schedule to keep up with 485 students.

Our Eaglite Queen and her Court reigns in '64

The Eaglite Queen this year was elected by the student body from a slate of candidates selected by a committee of Senior boys. They selected four Senior girls to be voted on. From this ballot, Ginger Knight was selected Queen, with Nila Huth and Jean Chambers as her princesses. The Queen and her court were announced at a convocation for the student body.

Her Majesty, Ginger Knight, was crowned by Mr. Heniser.

The queen, Ginger Knight, and princesses, Nila Huth and Jean Chambers, were escorted by John Johnson, Dan Swart, and Bob Anderson.

The annual Student Council Spring dance was held in April of 1963 at the Elks Lodge at Alexandria. A slate of candidates for the Queen was selected by the Senior Class and was voted on by the student body. The King candidates were voted on by penny votes that were put in the treasury for future use. The King selected was Mike Schuck and Queen was Vickie Beck. Everyone in attendance seemed to enjoy themselves, including the chaperones.

The Prom is the crowning event of Frankton High School Days!

Everyone enjoyed the banquet held at Mangas Cafeteria.

"With a song in my heart", a fitting theme for a wonderful prom. The 1963 Junior Senior Prom was held in the Elks Lodge of Elwood on May 3. "A night to remember", was the comment of those who enjoyed the evening's festivities. The banquet was held at the Mangas' Cafeteria in a setting which carried out the musical theme. Upon dismissal by Carolyn Wright, Mistress of ceremonies, the group proceeded down the main street of Elwood in a melodious atmosphere, prepared for a mystical evening of dancing and parties. Her Royal Highness Jennie Frazier and attendants Nila Huth and Karen Jarvis, reigned over an evening of moments to treasure forever.

Queen, Jennie Frazier, escorted by Dick McCord, with her court, Nila Huth, escorted by John Johnson, and Karen Jarvis escorted by Stan Busby, reigned supreme in '63.

Questions and answers, reports and essays, problems and experiments, these are the daily duties of a student of F. H. S. But it isn't all hard work. Ask the student who scared his lab partner half to death with his flaming test tube, or the boy in shop working on a fine lamp, or Trig. problems.

This year we have added three new teachers to our staff. Miss Collier, Spanish and English, Mrs. Hover, Physical Education and Health, and Mr. Payne, English and Mathematics.

and 485 students experience growing pains

Studying isn't the easiest thing to do. Just ask Wanda Adams, Dennis Beck, Bob Dailey, or Eddie Alvey.

The young freshmen get a new experience in math with first year Algebra. The sophomores got their first taste of geometry this year.

Third-year math students got an advancement in their first year algebra course. Those who had braved the winding way through three years of math went on to trigonometry and analytical geometry.

From simple factoring to determinants, multiplication of fractions to cosines and cosecants, FHS students get it all, worth all the sweat and "burning of the midnight oil."

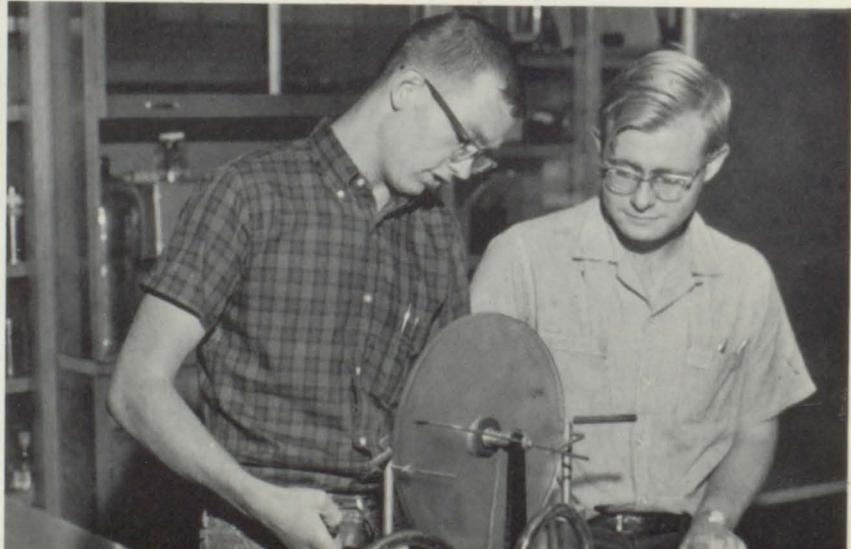

Chemistry isn't always as puzzling as Tom Hervy must think.

Future scientists and mathematicians form good

Eager beavers, the new freshmen dig into Algebra I.

Static electricity is being generated by two future physicists, John J. and John S.

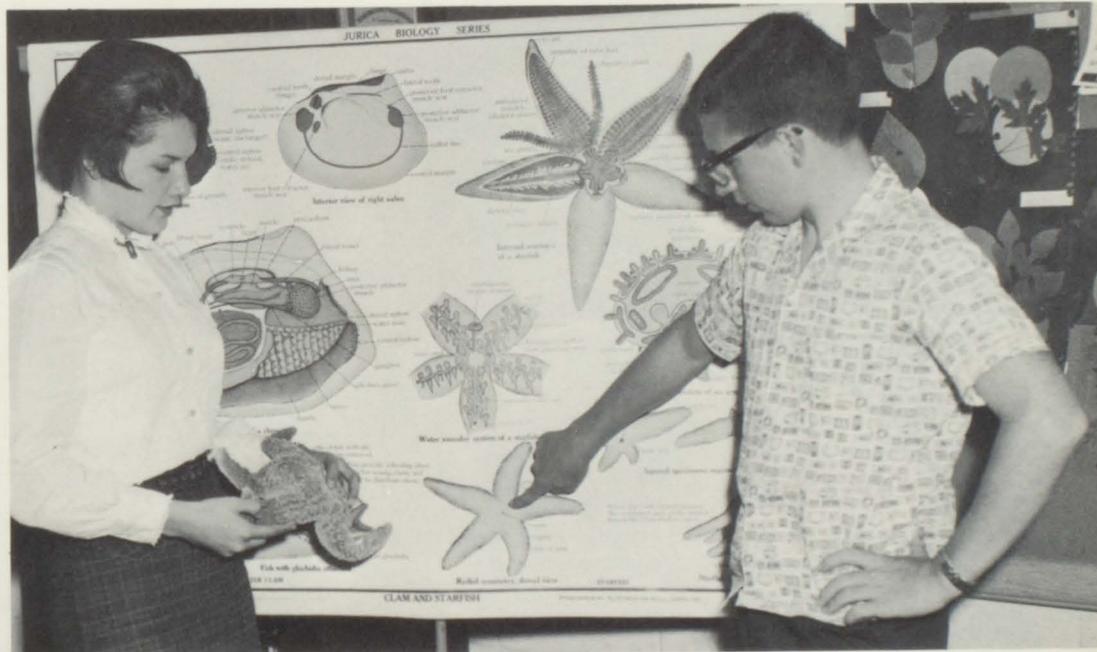

Larry Litsey and Gary Nash are stumped by a trig function being explained by Mr. Brown.

Future scientists and mathematicians struggled through many technical courses this year. It wasn't at all impossible to find some forty energetic chemists holding their noses while they tried to make an identification on some element. Anyone walking into physics class sixth period might have found himself shocked by 10,000 volts of electricity or strangely awakened by a blinding streak of light from the strobe flash. Dissecting crayfish and frogs, fish and worms, kept the students busy working in the bio lab.

With all these experiences, our students will have graduated with a wide knowledge of the various science fields.

foundations for a bright future.

Learning to distinguish the organs of a starfish is a major study for Linda Roby and Tim Heller.

"You must know the parts of speech before you can write a logical sentence." This is a familiar phrase around the F. H. S. language classes. We have a new language at Frankton this year, that is very interesting to many of our students. Toward the east end of the hall during the third period, you will be able to detect an air of Spain in the atmosphere. It no doubt will be Miss Kathleen Collier's Spanish class. Many of the students have realized the fact that taking a foreign language helps them understand the English language better.

Miss Collier helps enunciate the vocabulary in beginning Spanish class.

Language training develops FHS students.

Joann Smith eagerly gives Mr. Smith the answer to his question in Sophomore English.

Sharon Kleeburg has a puzzled expression as she listens to Mrs. Owens during second year Latin class.

Mr. Nash explains about the Call-Leader while Jennie Frazier, Anita Cooper, Melissa Schuck, and Larry Waltermire listen intently.

The two freshman English classes are taught by Mr. Tyrone Payne and Mrs. Cathyrn Lucas. The Sophomore classes are taught by Mr. Gene Smith and Mrs. Winifred Owens. Mrs.

Owens also teaches the two Latin language classes. Miss Collier also teaches the Junior English class, while Mr. Sterrett Nash teaches the Senior class.

Cindy Cooper, left, and Rose Marie Drake seem to be agreeing with Mr. Payne on their English assignment.

With 78 struggling young artists, Mrs. Catherine Lucas, our art teacher, keeps F. H. S. well supplied with works that help beautify our school. Two classes are being taught this year, with the students having studied various things ranging from architecture to still life drawings and three dimensional designs.

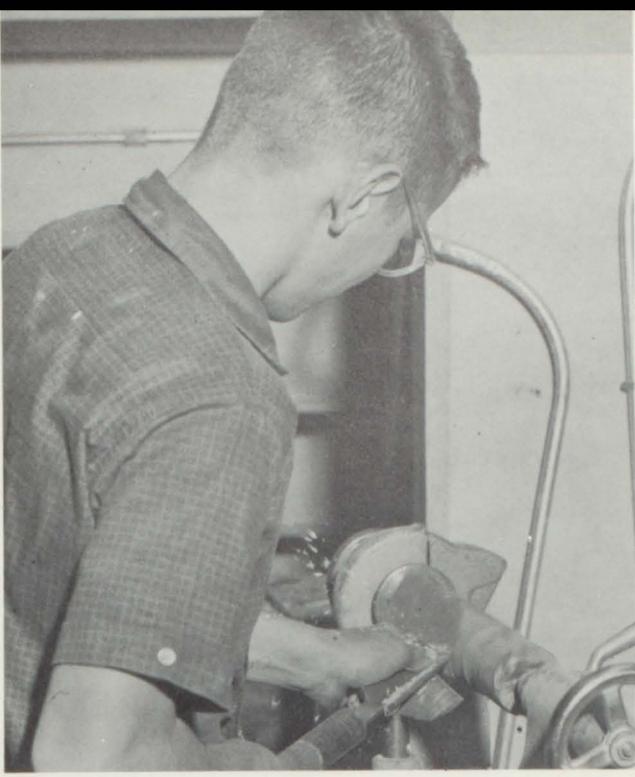

Wham! Blam! Buzz! Whiz! What could it be, but the shop classes. Mr. Billy J. French has 155 boys enrolled in his five industrial arts courses this year. Drafting, electronics, machine shop, forging and foundry are just a few of the areas being taught in the far end of the halls of F. H. S.

Two vocational agriculture classes keep 92 future farmers in close touch with their chosen profession. Mr. Gordon Kerkhoff instructs the boys in dairy, grasses, judging, and the use of the tools, in helping them to understand principles of producing food.

workers get training in many fields.

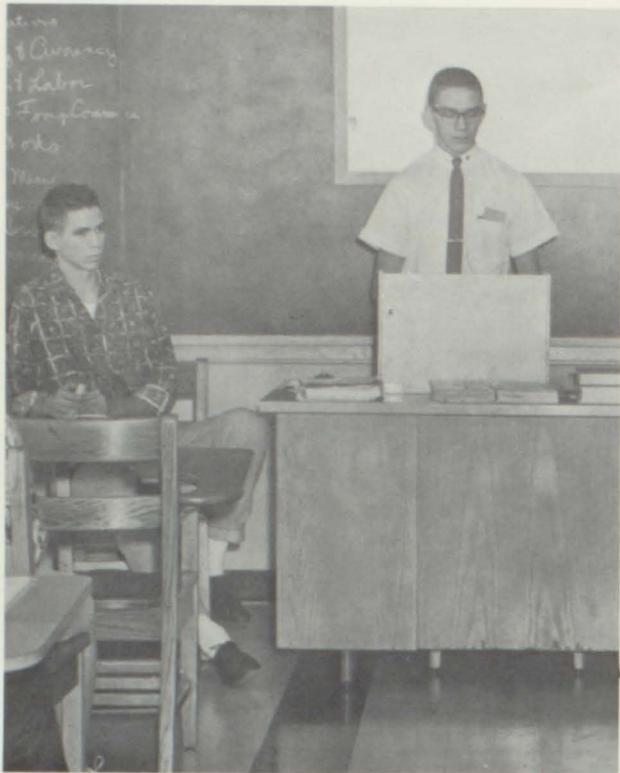

In the west end of the front hall at F.H.S. you may find mingled with the usually horrid odors of the chemistry and biology class some tantalizing aromas. The vocational homemaking classes, with 131 girls, being taught by Mrs. Marilyn B. Davis, may easily be found cooking up a storm. Cooking, nursing, child care, and sewing all are instilled in the mind of our housewives of tomorrow.

The business courses are taught by Mr. Ted Harbit, Mr. David Bartlow, and Mrs. Francis Sigler. Future executives get their first taste of the business world in their freshman year with general business. Typing, bookkeeping, short hand and office practice give our secretaries and exec's-to-be a well rounded training to move into the business.

This year's school paper, The F.H.S. Hi-Lites, was put out by the office practice class. The Editor, Janet McCarty, and her staff of some 25 classmates published 4 issues of the paper.

This year our girls' physical education and health teacher is Mrs. Carol Sue Hover. Mrs. Hover has 168 girls enrolled in her four classes.

Mr. Harbit and Mr. Mulford Davis have charge of the boys' physical education classes. Their major areas of study are individual sports, team sports, and body building.

Every person sometime or other in his life has had some type of social science and the students here are no different. Last year a new subject was added that presented new areas of learning to the students. Psychology, as taught by Mr. Paul Davis, gives the student more opportunity to understand himself and others better. Also, the Government, History, and World Geography help many pupils to learn more about our country and people as well as other nations of the world.

Growing and going, our staff and clubs make '64

This year, the year school reorganization took its hold on the adults, the students of F. H. S. spent many hours in club meetings, working on committees, and yelling at pep sessions. One new club was added to the list of activities this year. Under the direction of Miss Kathleen Collier, the Spanish Club became very active in its first year.

Some of our "oldsters", the traditional clubs, Latin, F. F. A. and Talon Club saw new growths this year. The Pep Club with the addition of boys and a new adviser, Mrs. Sue Hover, turned out to be one of the best in the county.

On October 21, 1963 the Senior Class of F. H. S. presented its Class Play, "Amazing Gracie," with a cast of 13 worked for six weeks at perfecting the play, that was put on with considerable success.

Mr. Robert Barker and assistants, Butch Condon and Phil Horn, lead a yell at the pep rally for the County Tourney.

Braving hot lights, memorizing of lines, and long hours of practice, the Senior class produced "Amazing Gracie".

National Honor Society

"Scholastic and citizenship aptitudes combine with morals"

"I promise . . ." new and old members take the oath of the National Honor Society.

The officers of the Chapter, Pam Smith, secretary; Larry Litsey, vice-president; and Gary Nash, president.

A student at Frankton High School has a great honor bestowed upon him when he or she is inducted into the Eureka Chapter of the National Honor Society. Any student, carrying an average of a "B" or above of the upper three classes, is eligible for membership. From this percentage a committee composed of the faculty choose the new inductees. Besides scholarship, their selection is based upon character, leadership, and service.

The Eureka Chapter is responsible for the coat check at home ball games and also serves as ushers for certain school activities. Our school building is gaily decorated during the Christmas season thanks to the Chapter.

Serving as officers during the school year of 1963-1964 were Gary Nash, president; Larry Litsey, vice-president; and Pam Smith, Secretary-treasurer. These students conduct the meetings whenever there is need to plan an activity.

Because of limited membership to fifteen per cent of the senior class, ten per cent of the junior class, and five per cent of the sophomore class, the Chapter is not very large. Nevertheless, it always seems to be well-represented.

Sterrett L Nash is Faculty advisor.

Kathy Lee and Mr. Nash receive refreshments at the annual tea held by the organization. Betty Conklin, Ellaine Heaton, Shirley Morris, and Joyce Kerkhoff served as waitresses for the occasion.

The Frankton High School Student Council is not an introverted or motionless organization. It is connected with the State and National Student Council and pays organization fees regularly.

The Student Council works, plans, and organizes to produce the best possible relationship and functions for the school government and the student body. Their high purpose and goal is to better the school morally and mentally, in education and physical training of body function or athletics. The Student Council Association discusses all business of the school, such as school cleanup.

They also sponsor and plan dances, homecoming organization, spring dances and this year they are introducing the school policies by use of the intercom.

There are eighteen student members who meet every two weeks. The officers of the club are as follows: President, Kathy Lee; Vice-President Dennis Beck; and Secretary-Treasurer, Joyce Kerkhoff.

These students work continuously, representing the other students, their opinions and ideas and co-ordinate them with the administration and school policy to provide Frankton with a more adequate school system.

Rush! Rush! Meet that deadline! These words became very familiar to the students of the staff of the 1964 Eaglite. While other students of F. H. S. were out of school, Mr. Sterrett L. Nash, Faculty advisor; Jerry Gordon, editor-in-chief; Irma Moore, junior editor; John Hoppes, sophomore editor; Maribeth Whetsel and Janet Whalen, copywriters; Janet McCarty and Sandra Hart, typists; Kathy Lee, activities roster; Basil Wisheart, Business manager; and Paula Starr, subscription manager, worked many hours in completing the yearbook.

A highlight of the N. S. P. A. convention was the Friday noon banquet for the more than 1500 students in Chicago.

The Eaglite staff worked even during the brief vacation between semester.

The F. H. S. Hi-Lites is a new organization at Frankton this year. There are sixteen staff members of the paper who work on Tuesdays during office practice class and at various intervals on their own time. The editor of the paper is Janet McCarty, and the art editor is Clea Mathews.

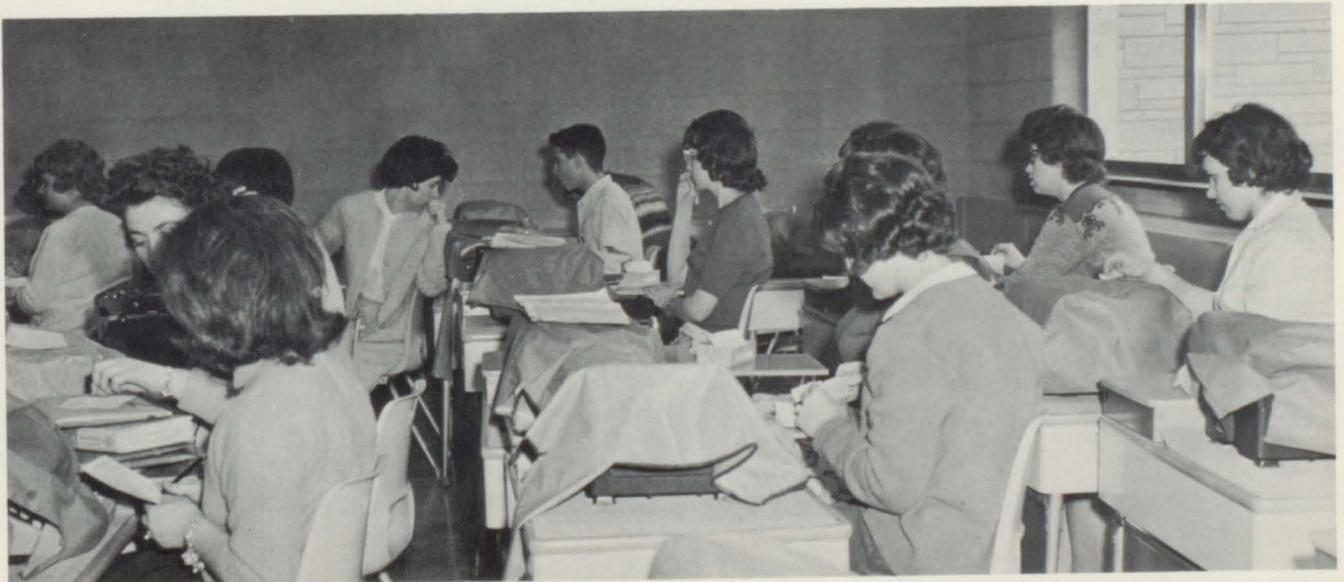

The goal and purpose of the paper is to provide practice in writing and typing for the office practice class.

Future Farmers obtain agricultural skills.

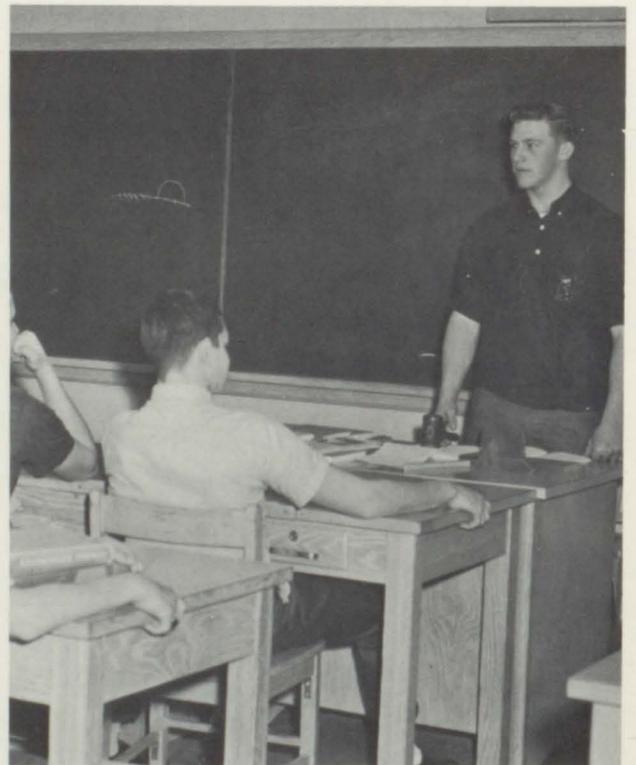

Conducting business at the bi-weekly meetings is just one of the tasks of a growing F. F. A.

The Frankton F. F. A. Chapter is composed of fifty-one members who hope to become future farmers or have some interest in agriculture.

Its purpose is to practice brotherhood, honor rural opportunities and responsibilities and develop those qualities of leadership which a Future Farmer should possess.

The chapter also takes a trip to the International Livestock Show, conducts a Pest Drive contest, holds judging contests, sponsors a Father-Son banquet and also has a swimming party.

The faculty advisor for the organization is Mr. Gordon Kerkhoff.

The twelve members of the Future Teachers of America are studying the technics of teaching as they develop a better understanding of classroom instruction.

The club meets every two weeks on club day and discusses regular business and activities. Guest speakers are often invited to talk to the club. The club also holds a party at Christmas and a tea in the spring.

The officers of the club are President Lucrecia Wells; vice-president, Jerry Gordon; and Sec. and Treas., Paula Starr.

The officers of F. T. A. meet with their sponsor Mrs. Andrew and principal, Gene Heniser.

Teachers of the future learn new techniques

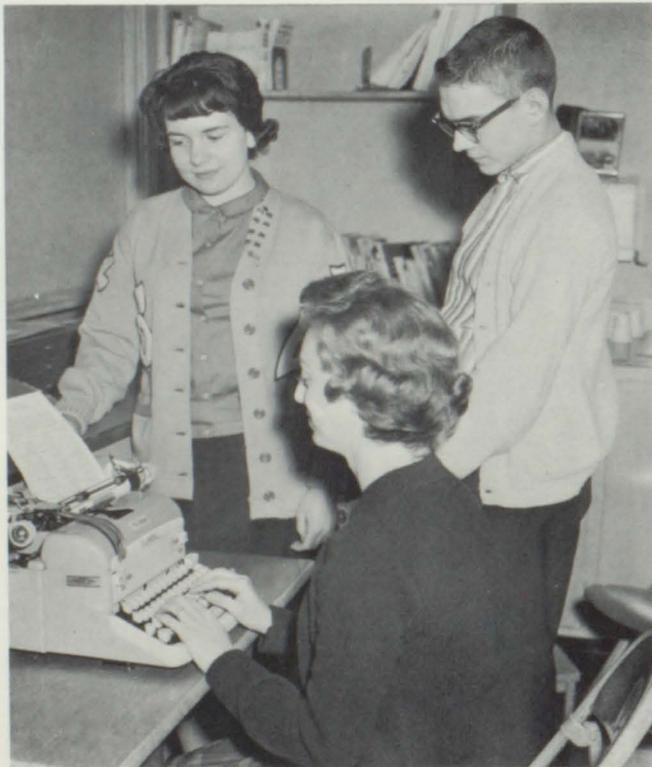

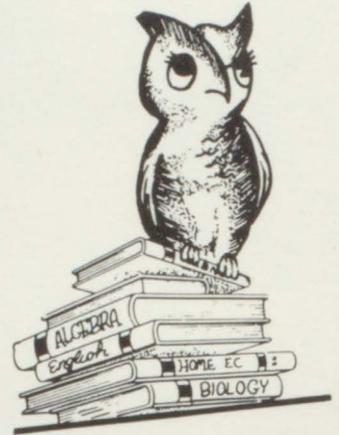

Lucrecia Wells presides over a F. T. A. meeting where teaching machines are examined and discussed.

Student aids make library more efficient.

Clea Mathews presides over one of the bi-weekly meets of the Magliabecchi.

Composed of seventeen student assistants in the library, the Magliabecchi's are led by Clea Mathews, president; Larry Litsey, vice-president; and Sandra Hart, secretary-treasurer.

The library is used very much and the purpose of the club is fulfilled with every book that is checked or magazine that is read. It is mainly to sponsor a greater interest among the students in the use of books and library service, to stimulate reading interests and to improve the library service of the school.

In the spring the Magliabecchi's plan special activities for National Library Week.

Miss Emma Alspaugh is faculty advisor.

Clerical work is a very large part of a library as the club's officers soon find out.

"Future Homemakers, Study and Prepare"

The Home Economics Club is primarily an interest group that works toward the promotion of better home-making. The club meets regularly to discuss the building and planning of a home.

Demonstrations and movies are often part of their curricular. They also sponsored a Christmas season sock hop.

Speakers to the club have been Mrs. Bailey, home economist from the gas company and Mrs. Karen Smith, the assistant county home demonstration agent.

Officers of the club are: president, Ginger Welborn, vice-president, Carolyn Wright; secretary, Janis Fetz; treasurer, Sharon Wilson; news reporters, Shirley Smith and Dianna Hunnicutt and Hostess-Linda Waymire.

The fine art of cooking can be the subject of a very interesting lecture as the Home Ec. Club found out.

Under the leadership of Ella Kay Rigsby, president; Larry Litsey, vice-president; Pam Smith, secretary; Cynthia McCarty, treasurer; and Susan Spoo, historian, the F. H. S. Latin Club has been very active.

They have sold sandwiches, cookies, and coffee at home basketball games as a project. They also go Christmas caroling to shut-ins and in the spring the club is served a full course meal in Roman style.

The purpose of the club, to create interest and promote scholarship, to gain additional knowledge of Roman life and customs, is acknowledged at club meetings.

The Spanish Club is working to promote a friendly attitude toward other peoples and to cultivate a healthy interest in them and their interests. At the meetings students learn more about the Spanish speaking people through special reports, games, music, etc.

The club also had a Christmas party where Pinata, tacos, and tortillas were served.

The officers are: president, John Hoppes, vice-president, Cheryl Barnett, treasurer, Roxanna Likens; secretary, Joyce Kerkhoff; publicity manager, Leila Harper.

Spanish Club officers Joyce Kerkhoff, Roxanna Likens, Leila Harper, Judy Thomas, Cheryl Barnett, John Hoppes, and Mike Rastetter look over pamphlets of Central America.

The question of club pins comes before the Spanish Club as John Hoppes presides at a current meeting.

The Boys Booster Association is an organized group of boys that work to promote school spirit and a wholesome aid to sportsmanship's code.

They have aided Mrs. Hover with skits and cheering which has caused the trend to spread throughtout various groups of boys at F. H. S.

Members include Larry Bardonner, Terry Hiatt, Terry George, Larry Storm, Tom True, Lee Riegal, Tom Singer, Jack Kimmerling, Eddie Folie, Jerry Gordon, and Bob Anderson.

“To provide Service, Enthusiasm, and Spirit”

The Ushers club is one that has been of real importance and assistance to Frankton High School. Their purpose is to work at home basketball games by showing the visiting team their dressing room, cleaning the floor at both halves and between the games. They also assist the coaches and officials by keeping people off the floor and by doing errands or odd jobs asked of them.

The president of the Ushers club is Ricky Elliot and vice-president is Basil Wisheart.

"Sportsmanship and Athletic Advancement"

Talon Club officers Dennis Beck, Tom Singer, Doug Drake, and Dick McCord discuss current business at club meeting.

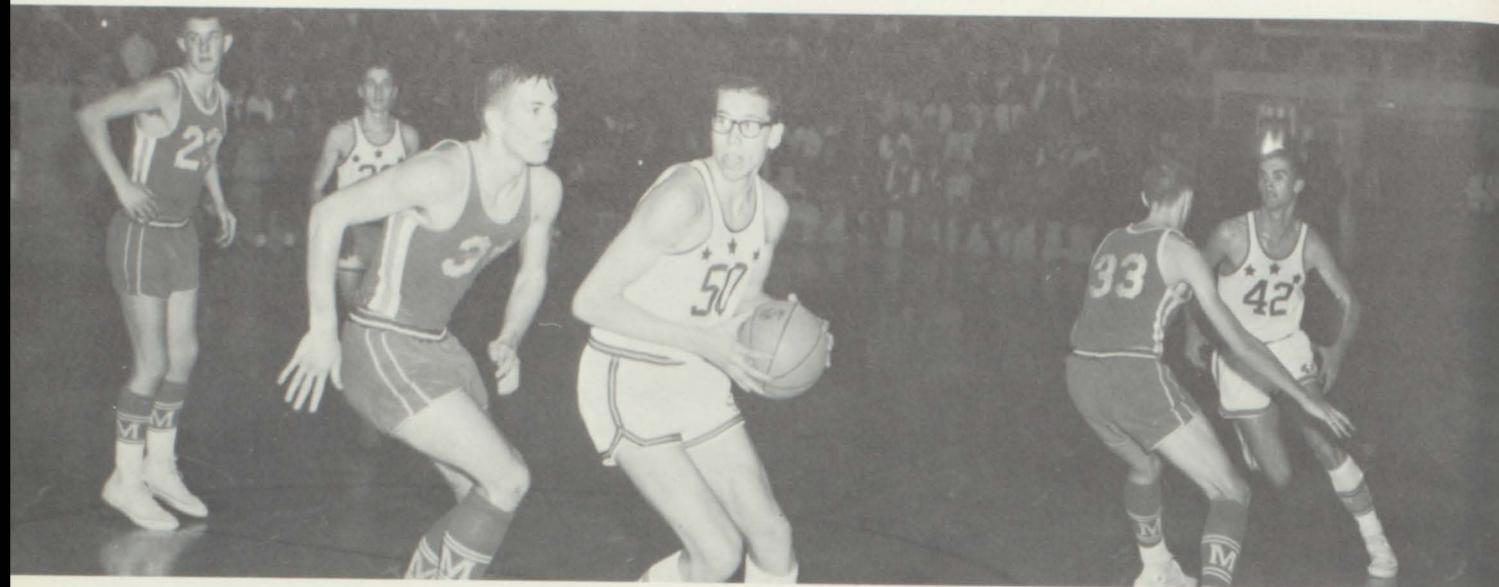

"To promote interest in athletics and to develop clean sportsmanship" is the purpose of the F. H. S. Talon Club. The club is composed of fifteen members who have earned a letter in any certain sport.

Each year they make plans for the annual sale of basketball photos and purchase Talon Club jackets. The money from these sales is used to buy trophies or sponsor a project such as a trip to a college basketball game.

The officers this year were Dick McCord, president; Tom Singer, vice-president; Doug Drake, secretary; and Dennis Beck, treasurer.

Dennis Beck attempts to drive past his man as teammate Larry Waltermire awaits a possible pass.

Cameraman Catches

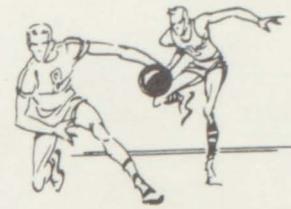

Dick Lugenbeal makes a dive for a loose ball in the Summitville reserve game as Steve Holt comes to aid some assistance.

Jerry Waltermire drives around a block by Butch Condon in the Markleville game only to find more Arabians in his way.

Coach Payne sets up his strategy in the huddle while Assistant Coach Brown gives the boys some encouragement.

Candid Close-ups

Coach Payne leaves the bench to shout some encouragement and instructions to his charges while Larry Nash, Doug Drake (doubtful as to the final result), Jerry Cunningham, and Phil Davis view the outcome.

O-o-o-ps, that one is gone for good . . right off the page. Nick Waymire tries to block a pass in the Highland game while Butch Condon and Larry Waltermire keep their men out of the action.

12 Win Seven Loss Season to Win WRC Title for Baseball Men

This was a strange year for baseball as the Dodgers upset the Yankees in the World Series in four games. Around Frankton, the Eagles had a 12-7 record to win the White River Conference title. The team lost five games by one-run margins and Jerry Waltermire had the misfortune of losing all of them as Frankton just couldn't get him any runs.

Following the regular season of play, members of the team named Jerry Waltermire as the Most Valuable Player.

Phil Davis slides in home as he scores on a wild pitch during the St Mary's game.

Dick Lugenbeal heads for first in an attempt for an infield hit.

Mike Hannah scoops up the ground ball and fires to Bill Adams for the putout.

Eagle harriers rack up wins

The Eagle harriers under Coach Bill Brown had one of the best seasons in many as they defeated 22 teams and lost to 8 opponents.

Included in this total was a first in the Fishers' Invitational, a third in the Conference meet, and a third in the Daleville Invitational.

Freshman Tom Foland finished fourth in the White River Conference meet.

Doug Drake puts all he has into it as he approaches the finish line.

Bill Jarrett leads the pack in the 440 yard dash which he won in the regional meet in 50.3.

Stan Busby knocked off the bar in the high jump, but cleared 6' 3 1/2" on his next jump. He placed 5th in the State meet the following week.

Phil Davis heaves the shot in spite of an injury received during the basketball season.

Dennis Beck flies through the air to place in the broad jump during a spring meet on the F. H. S. field.

Track men make the most of season

Dick McCord, a senior, checks with the F. H. S. timer as he puts on the steam for the last lap of the race.

Mike Hannah strokes a long putt which he sank for his par.

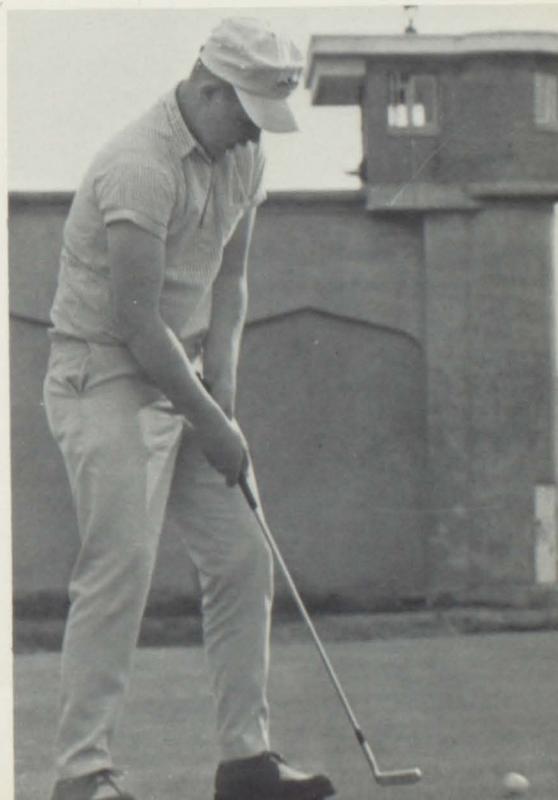

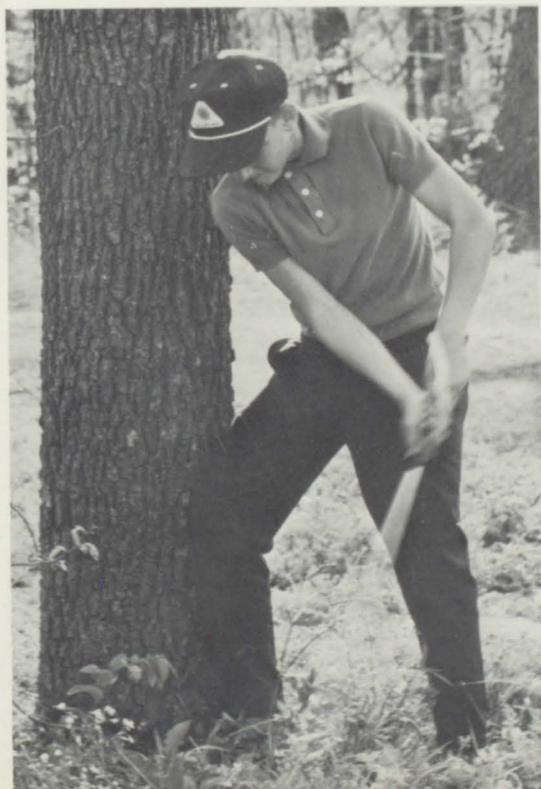

Frankton's golf team coached by Ted Harbit and composed of Dick Gross, Tom Sigler, Mike Lewellen, Mike Hannah, Tom Hervey, and Tony Jackson won three of twelve meets. Following are the scores of the meets:

F.H.S.	12	Lapel	3

Golfers swing cold scores

Tom Hervey decides to play his lie instead of take a penalty stroke.

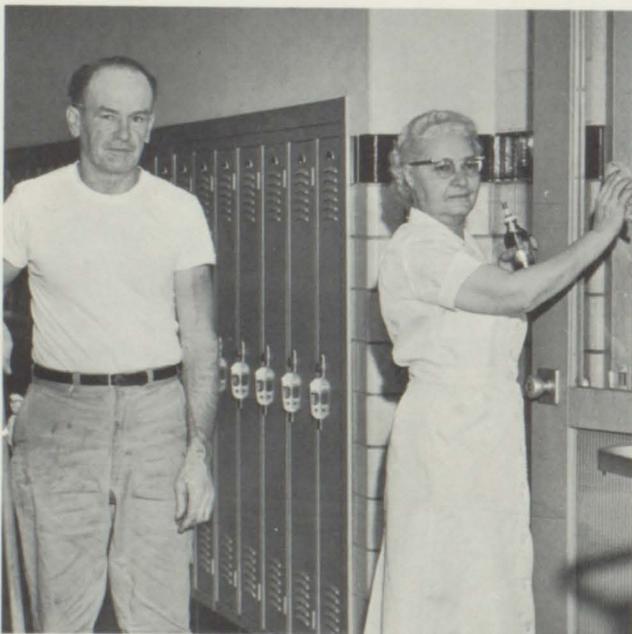

Tony Jackson lines up his putt as the Pendleton Reformatory looks on invitingly.

Mrs. Doris Waymire, math teacher, discusses the grades of a student with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beck, at the annual open house.

Pausing long enough for a picture, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henderson, custodians, are two very busy people at F. H. S.

Tasty meals are prepared in our cafeteria by Mrs. Selma Huth, Mrs. Alberta Land, and Mrs. Edith Waymire.

Students, students, and more students.

Students, students, students! That must have been what the faculty of F. H. S. must have thought when the students first started pouring in to school that first day. There have never been so many students in this school before.

Some of our classes show the increase in students. Take psychology for instance, there are about 90 students enrolled in the two classes that are taught.

The faculty at F. H. S. has been increased this year also. We have one new position filled by Mr. Payne, and two new teachers filling vacant positions, Mrs. Hover, and Miss Collier.

The Faulstich triplets, Jim, David, and Charles, give Doyle Fox, photographer, triple trouble.

Dick McCord, Karla Ehman, Lee Riegel, and Ginger Welborn discuss serious matters in the front hall at noon.

Mr. Waldo E. Canady

The Faculty and Administration "guides and leaders for our four years of high school"

The Frankton High School Administration is both able and competent in serving our students. Our trustee, Mr. Waldo E. Canaday, has duties that are many and varied, but it isn't unusual to see him taking time out to visit our school and our students.

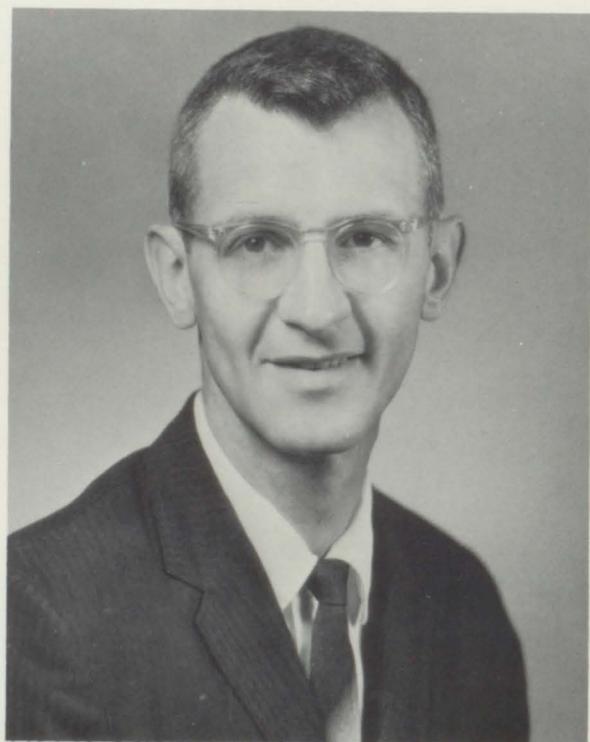

Mr. Heniser, our principal, works day and night to make our school one of the best in the county.

Mr. McNew is one of our busy administrators. As principal of the Elementary and Junior High School, he helps pave the way to the halls of F. H. S.

Seniors establish high goals for a promising future

FORWARD, FORWARD, the class of '64 is always pushing forward. September of 1960 saw them entering a new school with many strange faces to greet them. Then they were striving to get to know one another and to make a place for themselves in this new world. Upon entering their sophomore year they began to settle down and get to work. Then came the excitement of choosing class rings. The sophomore year went by in a flury and they soon found themselves as juniors. First, came the great day when they got their class sweaters and jackets. Then came the Prom and all of the excitement of planning and working together to prepare for the great event. Now they are seniors! The years have gone much too fast. Facing graduation and the future, they have a mixture of emotions - happiness and sadness. As they step into a new world, we hope it holds success and adventure for them.

Investing your savings with us is a duplicate experience of the photographer who takes the picture of Charles, David, and Jim Faulstick; one sees three and not just one or two. We pay 3% interest on all savings, to say nothing of our complete banking service. Too, we are a member of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Sure you do. (You just did.) You're curious. You have an inquiring mind. You're very fortunate. Inquiring minds have a lot more fun than if-it-was-good-enough-for-my-father-it's-good-enough-for-me-type minds. ■ Take a look at the young scientists at Delco-Remy's Research and Engineering Center in Anderson. They solve problems using everything from an electron microscope that can magnify the diameter of a human hair to a width of 150 feet to an instrument that can cut an inch of material into a million parts. They work side by side with other scientists who are developing things like electronic ignition systems for cars and control devices for missiles and rockets. ■ Beginning to think research can be fun? You're right. If you enjoyed your high school science courses, perhaps you should think about making a career in research. Don't get the idea that it'll be a snap, though. You'll need to tackle a lot of preparatory study and hard work in college. But if you've got what it takes, maybe we can get together sometime and play around with a new discovery or two.
