*Frankton Jr. Sr. High School
610 Clyde St. Frankton, TN 46044*

Students and faculty gather around the flag pole for "See You At the Pole." The nation-wide event was Sept. 15

Welcome to Frankton Junior Senior High School where each student works together to make our world turn. The students pictured on page one have done special things for our world this year.

Seventh grader Blaise McPhearson won the junior high spelling bee. He advanced To the regional spelling bee, where he placed third. This was the best showing ever by a Frankton Student.

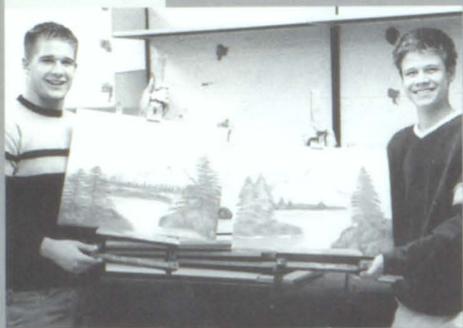

Eighth grader Shelby Morgan made a difference in our world by speaking to the high school at the "I Will" pledge convocation.

Freshman Maggie Downham brought the idea of the "I Will" pledge to the student council. She formed a committee and made her idea a reality that is making an impact in Our world.

Sophomore Briana Butcher made our world turn by playing Dorothy in this year's play, "The Wizard of Oz".

Junior Jennifer Veach was the manager for the successful girl's basketball team. Her hard work sometimes wasn't recognized, but it was appreciated.

Senior Amy Ochoa was the Co-President of Student Council. She led the student council to make many positive differences in the World around us.

Painting students Kyle Stevens and Oleg Skutsenya proudly display their latest works of art.

Eighth graders Angel Couch and Kayla Covell show their Eagle Spirit by supporting the Lady Eagles on Red and White Day.

Juniors Bobby Crawford, Wes McCord, and Lauren Flanders play their version of Chubby Bunny during the homecoming games.

Seniors Lyndsay Owen and Abbi Campbell distribute yearbooks during the yearbook dance. The dance was after the homecoming game.

Students cheer for the junior and senior girls in the powder puff game. The seniors defeated the juniors 13-7.

Eighth grader Nate McKeon rides on the junior high float in the homecoming parade. The parade took place prior to the game against Alexandria.

Joe Foster, Ed Brummett, Mr. Bond, Bryan Ashton, Kyle Stevens, and Nate Alexander take time during the day to show how close they really are. Mr. Bond was a student teacher in Government during the first semester. He also helped coach Varsity Basketball and was a substitute teacher throughout the second semester.

Eighth graders Erica Funk, Danielle Ward, Julie Prichard, and Megan Moore relax during the yearbook dance. The yearbook dance is a time to pick up yearbooks and get them signed by friends and faculty.

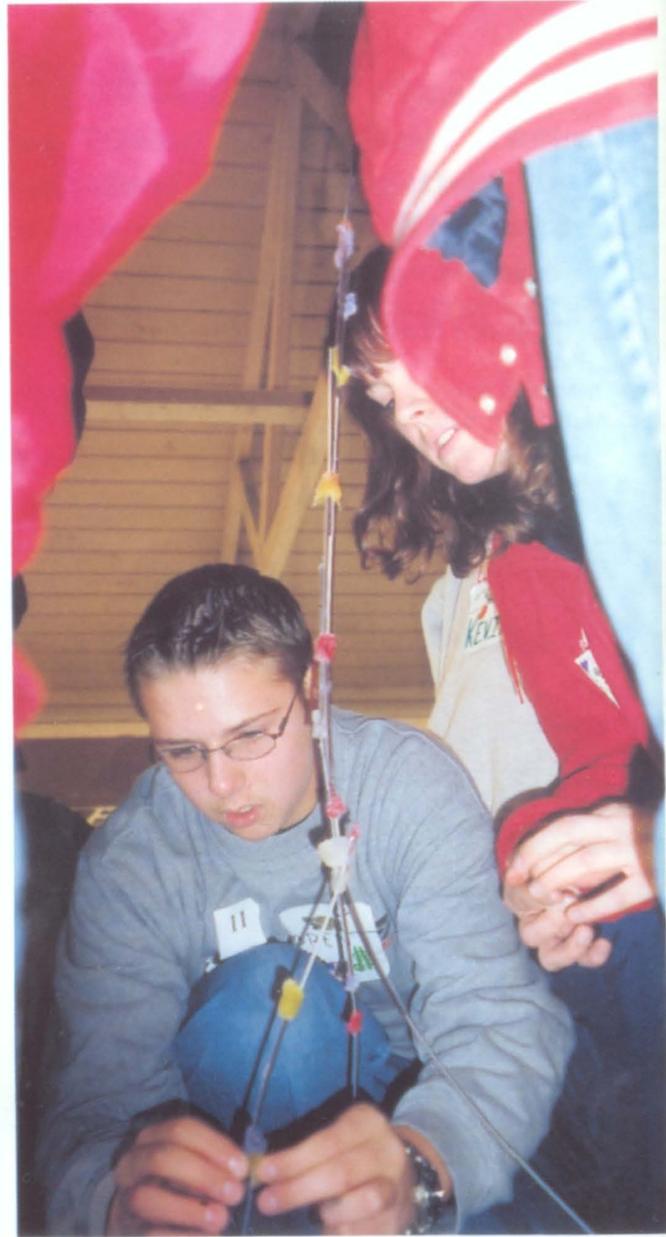

Ever so carefully, Freshmen Corrie Goshert and Billy Salazar pass the lifesaver. The lifesaver pass was a new addition to the homecoming games this year.

As The World Turns

Student Life

Brent Stinson carefully makes a move on his gumdrop tower at the leadership retreat. The object of the activity was to have the highest tower made of straws and gum drops that would withstand an earthquake.

Cheerleaders and fans wait anxiously for the outcome of the girl's semi-state game at Maconaquah. The Lady Eagles were defeated by North Judson, but had a very successful season.

Students at the leadership retreat sing in the rain as one of their activities. The leadership retreat was at Camp Kithawenund.

Megan Summers feeds Mr. Sipe another bite of ice cream during the blind ice cream feed at homecoming games. The duo represented the Sophomores who placed third overall in the games.

Eighth grader Doug Doan celebrates his victory in the musical chairs during homecoming games as Michael McDevitt watches. The eighth graders were victorious over the seventh graders in the games.

Stresses Of School

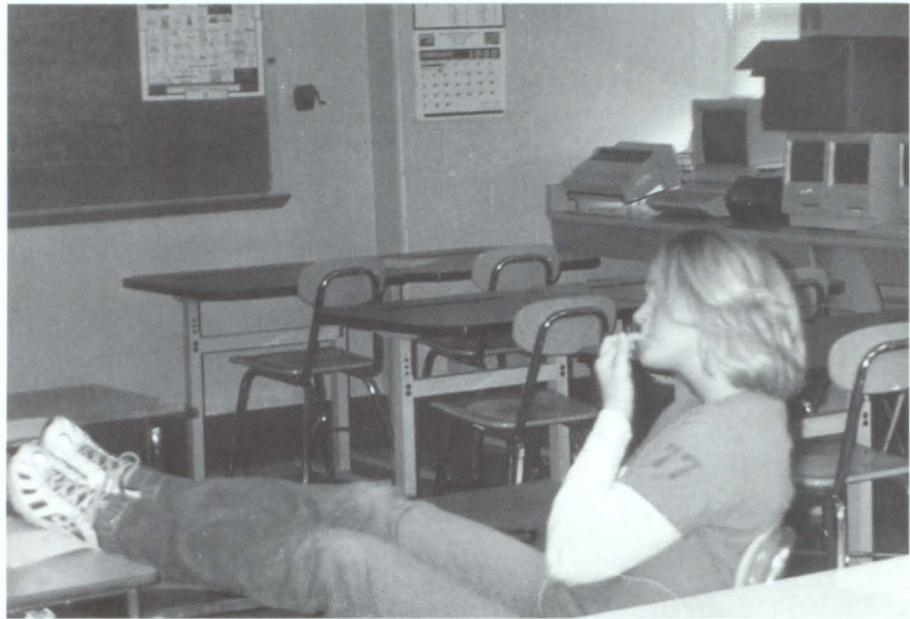

Monday morning. You're running late anyway, but you soon realize how fast the weekend just flew by, and how much sleep you DID'NT get. Anyway, despite fighting with your mom on letting you sleep in, you decide to tough it out and get ready for school. On your way to school a lightbulb strikes and you decide to blast the radio of your still freezing car, only to be blasting to commercials. You're finally at school, still very sleepy, so in your first hour class you decide to catch some lost Z's.

It's 9:22 and you're on your way to second block. A class you didn't show up to twice last week, so you get booted to the hall to finish some work you have missed. Then you realize one paper is a test, and you calmly think to yourself "What chapter are we in?"

Stress is a part of school no matter what the grade level. Whether it is driving yourself to school, catching a bus or waiting on a sibling or parent, not everyday goes smoothly. Tests, tardies, exams, homework and Mrs. Mills' killer term paper or Mrs. Andis' leaf collection. With all this, who wouldn't get stressed out!

Government boring? Well some people would say yes. Just ask Bronsen Smith.

Wake up! Wes Trimble is found sleeping in Mrs. Davis' class, while Joel Nichols wonders why.

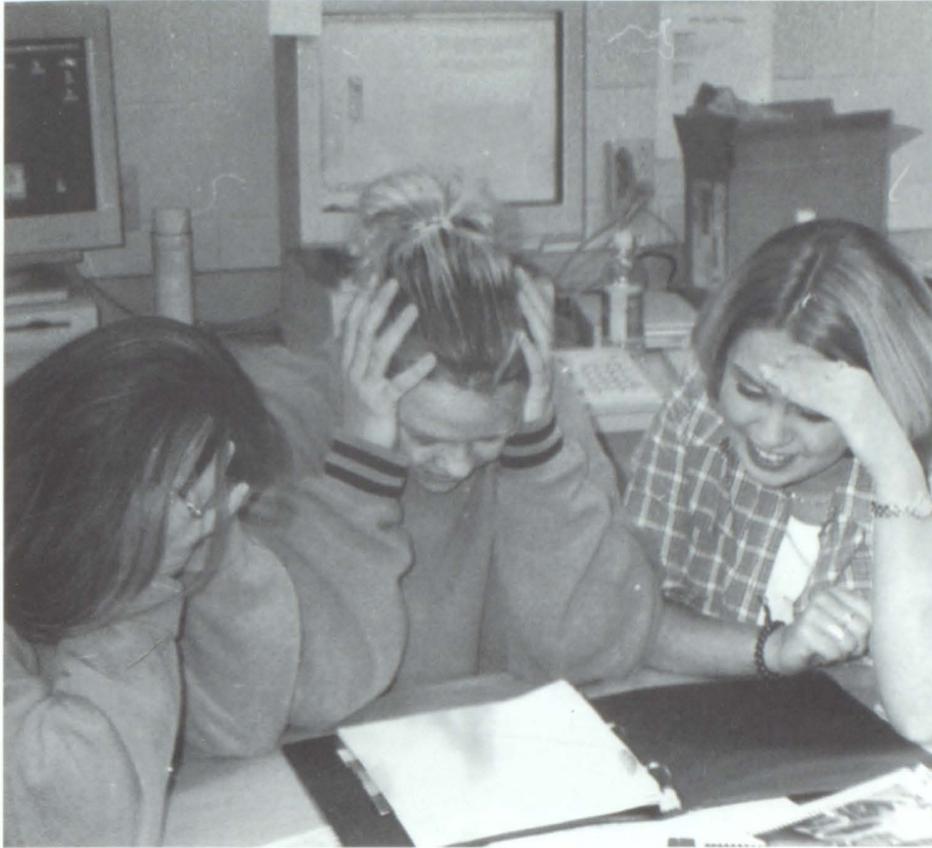

Senior Closeness. Shelly Barton a very stressed Senior gets a friendly massage from fellow classmate Josh Bell.

Erin McLaughlin stresses out trying to take a Spanish test.

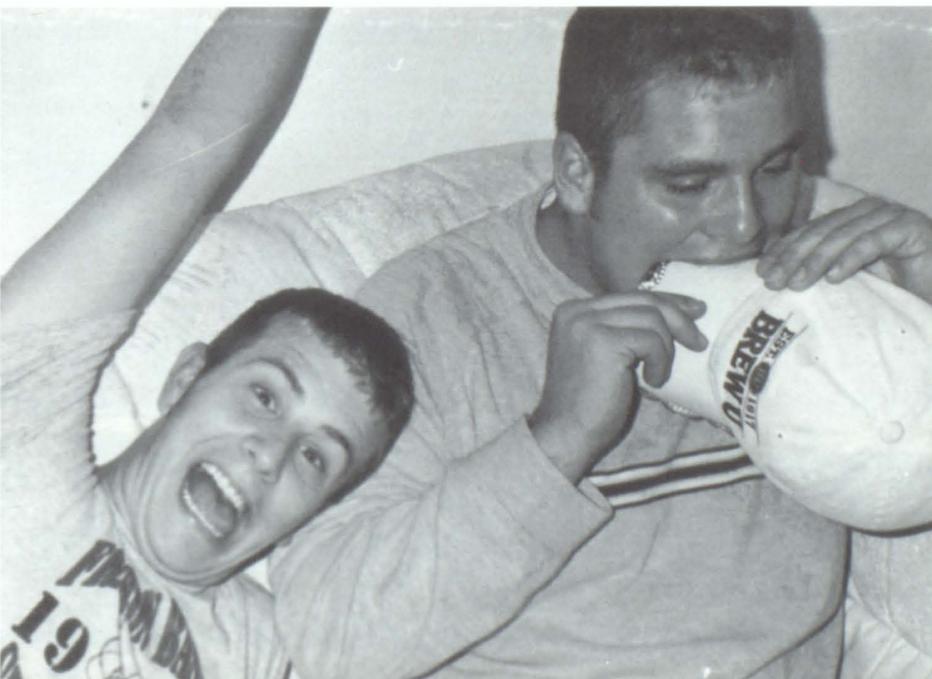

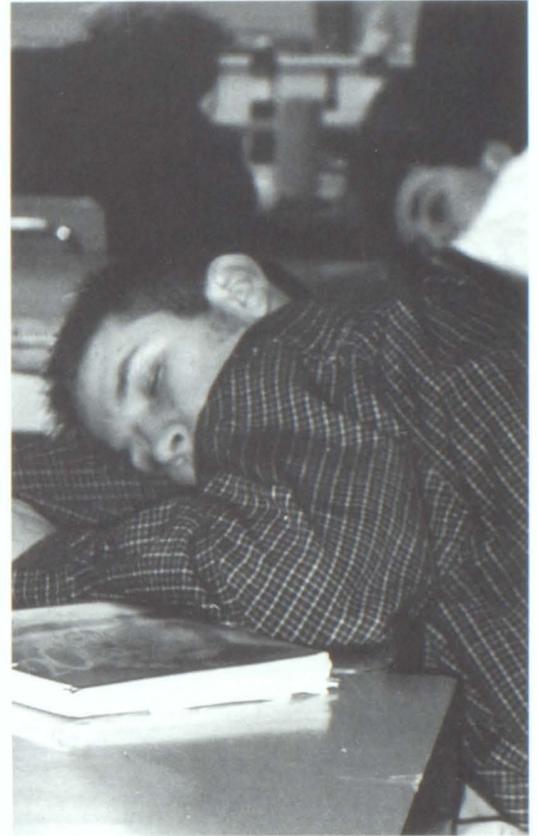

Some students need to just relax. Holly Webb is taking advantage of her free block.

Lyndsay Owen, Kelli Carter, and Abbi Campbell prove that even Mass Media can be Stressful.

Sleeping Beauties? No it's just Junior Kylie Schmink and Senior Lyndsay Owen catching a few winks during lunch.

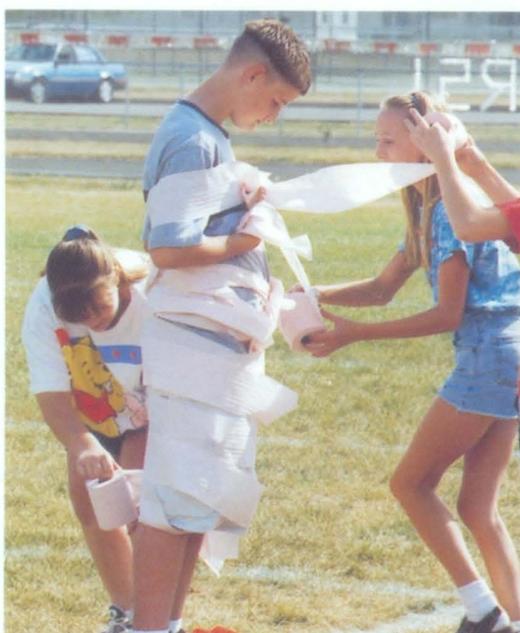

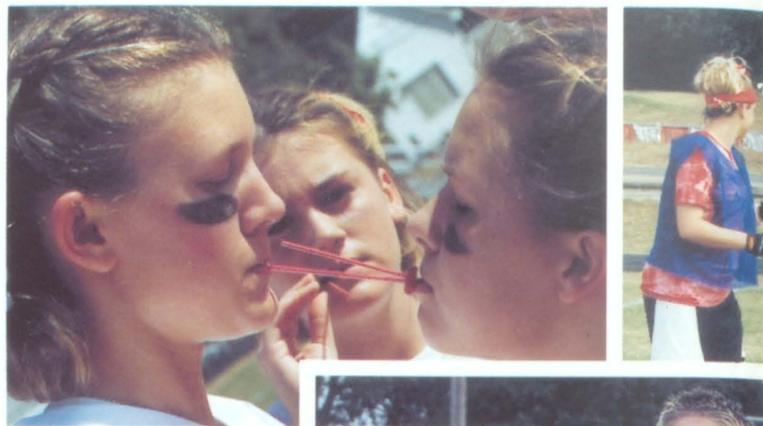

WOW! These two seniors Ed Brummett and Trent Marsh are totally stressed! Enough said.

Girls Turn Buff for Powder Puff

The annual Powder Puff and Homecoming games were during school Friday September 24. The games started off with the Seniors winning, they also won as Juniors last year. But this year wasn't as easy as they thought it would be.

The Juniors started off with a quick touchdown by Kylie Schmink and an extra point by Jilayne Whillhoite. But that was the end of the scoring frenzy by the Juniors. The second half was all Seniors. With two touchdowns by Shelly Barton and an extra point by Kelli Carter, the Seniors came out victorius.

Directly after the game everyone got ready to participate in the homecoming games. This year there were some new games, chug-a-lug, egg toss, catapiller crawl, mummy wrap, lifesavor pass, and musical chairs. Seniors won 1st, 11th took 2nd, 10th in 3rd, 9th got 4th. 8th beat 7th.

Students in the crowd cheer for the Junior and Senior girls during the Powder Puff game. The Seniors came out with 13-7 victory.

Trying to win the blind ice cream feed game, Emily Richie feeds Mr. Sims another scoop of Ice Cream. Unfortunately, this pair representing the Junior class wasn't successful in this homecoming game. But, the Juniors did place second overall in homecoming games.

1. Kelli Carter, Andrew Rodewald. 2. Amber Sheward, Tia Hamilton, Leah Crawford, Mr. Scholl. 3. Bobby Crawford, Lauren Flanders, Wes McCord. 4. Sara Rodewald, Todd Campbell, Ashley Smith. 5. Seniors celebrating their victory. 6. Tenishia Staples 7. Kelli Carter, Jenny Hendricks, Crystal Whiebrink, Michell Edwards, Lyndsay Owen, Matt Meiser. 8. David Revolinski, Brandy Courtney, Tammy Turner. 9. Kylie Schmink, Ashley Alford, Lyndsay Owen.

Homecoming Night

Homecoming was September 24. The night started with the Homecoming parade at 5:30. There were many floats in the parade including the winning Freshmen float and floats entered by the Frankton Christian and Methodist Churches. After the parade, there was a hog roast to raise money for Post Prom this year.

The football game was at 7:00 against the Alexandria Tigers. The Eagles were the first to score and made two touchdowns by Matt Boyland and Mark Baker. Their efforts just weren't enough to stop the Tigers, and the game ended with a score of 40-14.

At halftime the 1999 King and Queen Nate Alexander and Kandis Beardsley were crowned. The Prince and Princesses were also announced. The Juniors were: Ashley Alford and Adam Stohler. Sophomores: Chelsea Masterson and Joey Mahoney. Freshmen: Whitney Harrison and Jesse Beardsley.

The 1999 Homecoming King Nate Alexander and Queen Kandis Beardsley were crowned during halftime at the football game.

Joey Mahoney draws back to pass.

Arik Flanders blows by an Alexandria defender after his reception.

The band members step to the beat while marching in the parade.

True Friends Last Forever

We must ask ourselves who our true friends really are? They are the ones that make you laugh when you're upset. The ones that listen to your problems and want to help as much as they can. They are the ones who have been there for you through the good and bad times.

Friends should be the ones that make you happy. A friend is someone we depend on, someone we trust and someone we consider close to us.

Your school years quickly pass by and sometimes your group of friends might change, but keep in mind that your real friends will always be there.

A true friend knows you, accepts you for who you are and believes in you.

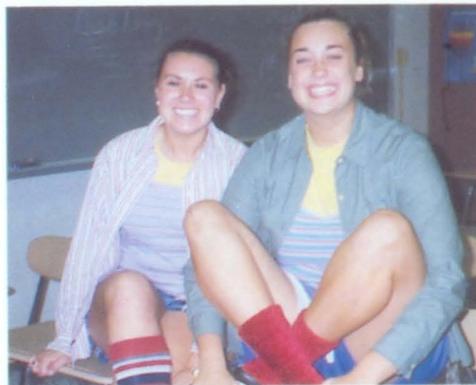

A true friend lasts forever.

Seniors Holly Webb, Leah Music, Kelli Carter, Shelly Barton, Kandis Beardsley and Lyndsay Owen proudly show off their cap and gowns.

Seniors Amy Davis and Ashley Schmiedel will be friends forever.

Seniors Amy Ochoa and Jenny Hendricks get crazy for clash day during girl's sectional week.

Blake Benefiel and Sandra Edgell aren't just in love they are the best of friends.

Seniors Abbi Campbell, Karalee Cage and Kinzie Hobbs show their school spirit during sectional.

This group of junior and senior friends play in a post elementary basketball league during lunch.

Juniors Kylie Schmink, Nikki Bressler, and Amber Sheward show just how close they are.

Freshmen Jacole Mattingly, Tiffany West, Kelsey Schmink, Whitney Harrison, Tara Holt, Claire Jenness, Erin McLaughlin, Shelly Hosier, Bailee Engle, and Kasey Combs take time during choice to show how close they are.

To my friends the ones who have been with me through thick and thin. Thank you for taking your time to care, for understanding me and just for being there.

The times that I've felt hurt, angry or sad, my feelings I didn't have to hide. You gave me someone to trust in, you stood by my side.

The time is nearing when we will all have to say good-bye. With each parting hug we will surely cry. We will reflect on all the times that we've shared throughout the years, all of the good times that we will never forget. Hold on to the friendships that were such a big part of our lives, for it's our memories together that will keep us strong inside. Even though we will all be going our own separate ways, I will never forget you, In my heart you will always stay.

Together Forever Whether You Like It Or Not!!

Knowing that your siblings are your closest relative, why are they the ones who always get on your nerves or in your way?

Does this sound familiar? It's 7:40 A.M.. You're ready for school, your sister is waiting in the car, but you are still waiting for you brother, who never seems to be ready. Hoping not to be late too school, this is a far too familiar scene for many students at FJSHS.

How about this one? Finally after a long and stressful day at school you come home to relax and stay home all night for the first time in a long time. Just as you start to doze off for a mid evening siesta, your mom calls to tell you "I am working over, I need you to pick up your brother from practice and take you sister to dance class."

Does this sound familiar? You've had a really tough day and to make it worse, you have a test in biology to study for. So, you take that dreaded trip down the hall to your older and smarter sister's room, to ask for some help. Assuming there is no possible way she will help you, you decide to ask anyway, but, to your surprise, she agrees to help you study.

We asked some brothers and sisters at FJSHS about what they liked and disliked about having a sibling in the same school. Eighth grader Dustin McPhearson said "I like having a sister at the same school because I know more people." His sister, Junior Desiree McPhearson, said "It is hard in the mornings because we always fight over the bathroom." Sophomore Erin Hendricks commented that "The hardest part about having a sister (Senior, Jenny Hendricks) is that we always fight over clothes."

So, the moral of this story is, be nice to your siblings, at least until graduation, you never know when you will need them.

OUR FAVORITES

With a new year at Frankton comes new students, new trends, and new fashions. This year people were seen wearing everything from K-Swiss, Mossimo, Buckle Wear, Ralph Lauren, American Eagle Outfitters, Tommy Hilfiger, Lucky, Silver, Quick Silver, Nike, Adidas, and Abercrombie.

Bright colors were also one of our favorites. From orange to yellow, these bright colors were found on flannels, shirts, shorts, pants, even cell phones and pagers.

A new and popular trend this year were KARMA bracelets. These beaded bracelets could be seen on everyone from students to faculty. Each color represents a mood. In the upper right corner, the different colors and moods are listed.

Prom 2000 Style

On April 28 the class of 2001 hosted the 2000 prom. The prom site for this year changed though. Because of a Track Conference Banquet scheduled at the Paramount on April 28, this year's prom was moved to the Anderson Fine Arts Center.

The theme was: "From This Moment by Shania Twain."

The prom colors were forest green, maroon, and pink.

Rick Dellenger was the D.J.

2000 Prom King and Queen were Ashley Alford, and Adam Stohler. The prom court included Lauren Flanders, Katie Jones, Desiree McPhearson, and Kylie Schmink. The guys included Matt Boyland, John Collier, Andrew Rodewald, and Brandon Sanders.

Class sponsor Mrs. Pam Clark said, "I think the prom went nice, a little crowded but very nice."

The 2000 Prom candidates await the revealing of the 2000 Prom King and Queen.

"Yes Dear, I got your purse." says Junior Justin Pruitt to his date.

Senior Abbi Campbell laughs as her date Junior Brody Davis looks for their tickets.

Middle- Seniors Aaron Hymes and Hope Goshert dance the night away.

Above-Junior Betsy Busby and her date wait as Mr. Fry looks for their name on the list.

The 2000 Post Prom was held once again at Cooper's Sport Bowl. The Junior parents sponsored post prom by fund-raisers such as the hog roast during Homecoming night. and a soup supper.

Activities at post prom were Sumo wrestling, bungi run, bowling and the wedding chapel. The students could also eat for free at the snack bar that consisted of nachos, donuts, pretzels and cookies. There was also a cotton candy and snow cone machine.

Every student received a grab bag that contained a key-chain, photo album and Frankton Eagle towel. There were also prizes given away throughout the night. Some of the prizes given away were money , sessions at Total Tan, gift certificates and free massages at Hair Pros.

Junior Matt Stapleton said " I had fun at post prom because I got to teach my date how to bowl."

Junior Travis Smith shows off his sumo wrestling suit. But, underneath this suit, Travis entertained the students at Post Prom by dressing as Austin Powers.

Senior Abbi Campbell runs past Senior Karalee Cage in the bungee run. The bungee run was a favorite activity for students at post prom.

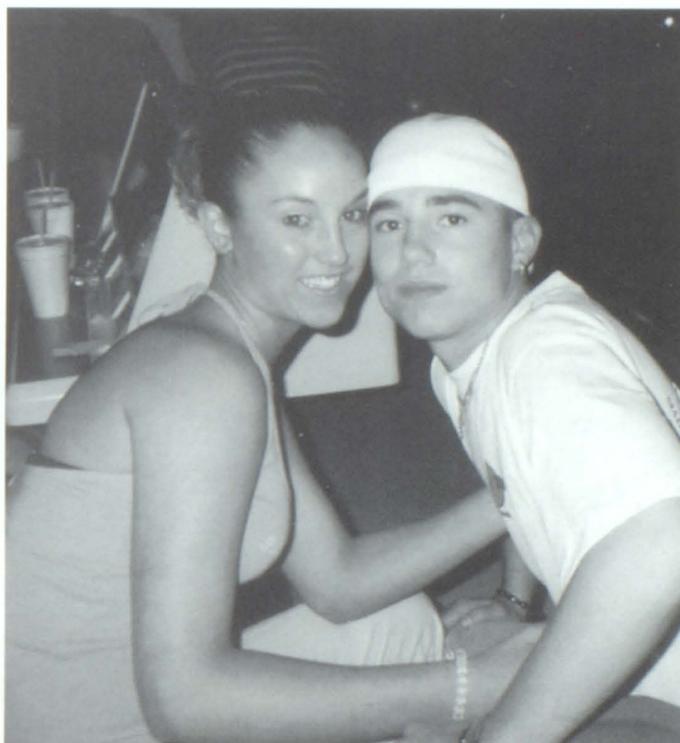

Chelsea Masterson, Zach Pascal, and Amy Ochoa are all smiles. Post Prom is a time to relax after the prom evening.

Juniors Alicia Bever, Jennifer Veach, Casey Clutch, Jilayne Wilhoite, Betsy Busby, Kacia Harrison, Ashley Alford, and Heather Davis take a moment to relax after their busy night.

The night's activities seemed to have worn out Jenny Hendricks, as she takes a break on her date Brandon Sanders' shoulder.

Kaci Brummett and Clint Schmink take a break after getting married at the Chapel of Love. Mr. Sims served his second year as the priest who married couples for the evening.

Lauren Flanders, Leah Music, Kandis Beardsley, and Shelly Barton, show their craziness during a bowling game. Bowling was the main activity offered for students during the evening.

Eighth Graders Take on Washington D.C.

The May trip to Washington D.C. is one that many eighth graders plan for for two years of chocolate and Market Day fund-raisers.

The May 16-20 journey began with loading the three buses in the parking lot here Thursday night. The first stop was the Gettysburg memorial battlefield and the last was the tour of the Annapolis Naval Academy.

Between these stops the group stayed at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, MD. They viewed many memorials: FDR, Iwo Jima, Jefferson, Korean, Lincoln, and Vietnam.

They toured the grounds of Mt. Vernon, visited the Smithsonian and Holocaust museums and witnessed a military Tattoo that featured music and representative units ranging from the Revolutionary War to Desert Storm.

The group witnessed the House of Representatives in session.

Alexandria, VA, was the site for the Mostly Ghostly tour. Teachers: Coryell, Russell, Miller and Warner joined other chaperones for the four day trip.

Zach Whitesel, Mr. Warner, and Holly Hampton prepare to lay the wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

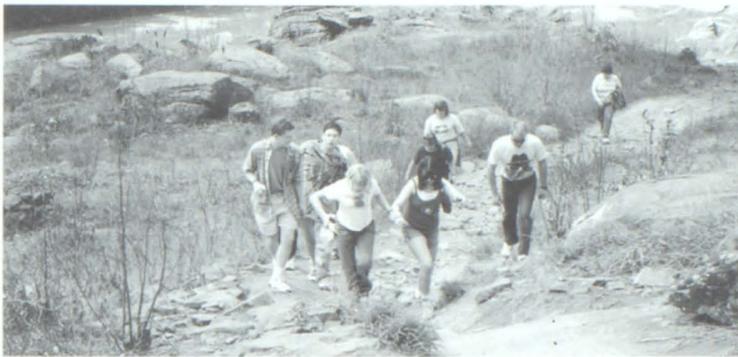

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Russell take a break at Gettysburg. Gettysburg was the first stop on the trip to D.C..

Megan Moore, Brittney Kunce, Audrey Guthrie, Mika Fountain, Whitney Lewis, and Amanda Nichols admire the reflecting pool at the Lincoln Memorial.

Tim Barnhill, Ryan McClintock, and Eric Davis admire scenic Gettysburg.

A group of eighth graders and their chaperones charge up Little Round Top at Gettysburg.

Heather Waymire, Kylie Hudson, and Xanthe Atchison pose in front of a scenic overlook while touring Gettysburg.

It sure looks like Jason Beck is enjoying his day at Gettysburg.

Several eighth graders tour the castle at Little Round Top in Gettysburg.

Members of the class of 2004 give their full attention to a Gettysburg tour guide. Gettysburg was the first stop on their five day trip.

Spring Fever

As the school year starts drawing to a close, students anxiously await the summer. The warm weather of spring means that June is just around the corner and school will soon be over, but first comes Spring Break. This year many students headed off to the beaches in Florida with family or friends while other students just stayed home and relaxed. Either way it was a break that everyone looks forward to. Panama City and Ft. Myers seemed to be the popular choice of students this year. As Spring Break ended students returned to school and spring sports began. With only two months of school left students now prepare for Prom which was held on April the twenty-eighth at the Fine Arts Center in Anderson. Then as the end of the year finally approaches sports began to end and seniors had to prepare for their final farewell at graduation on June the second.

For these Freshmen, Nick Lozo, Jimmy Harlan, Dustin Etchison, and Todd Campbell, part of spring fever was dying their hair blonde.

Leah Music and Lyndsay Owen grab a bite to eat at Kelli Carter's graduation open house. Open houses are a big spring activity.

Abbi Campbell, Kinzie, Hobbs, Karalee Cage, and Jenny Hendricks get ready for a night of fun at Ft. Myers Beach during their spring break trip.

Student Council Members Kacia Harrison and Alicia Bever participate in National Victim's Week. The empty seats represent victims of violence.

Matt Miller gets ready for a game of table tennis at the sophomore party. The sophomore party is an annual event held in spring.

The student council visited Riley in April to present the money they raised throughout the year at basketball games and other events.

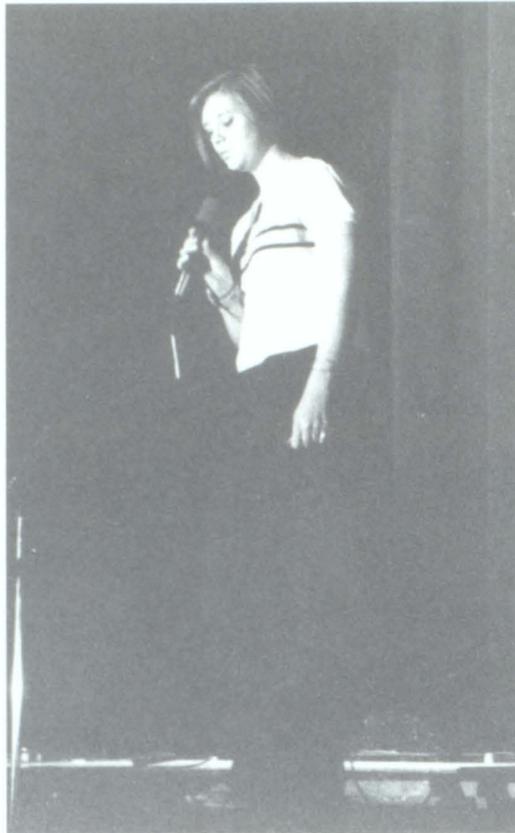

These seventh grade girls: Amy Huntsinger, Taylor Linville, Kayla Lacy, Whitney Carr, Cortney Reger, Shelby Borum, Nicole Heath, Sydney Borum, Kassie Humphries, Jessica Paugh, Brittney Sizelove, Chelsea Smith, Kristen Kuntz, Brittany Gardner, Jill Harrison, Maggi Campbell and Allison Sipe celebrate spring by enjoying some time outdoors.

Seniors Josh Bell, Blake Benefiel, and Eric Bailey soak up some Florida Sun.

Variety Show 2000

The Variety Show was on April 14 at 7 P.M. The new choir director Miss Bonecutter arranged the show.

Many choirs performed such as the Jr. High select choir who sang Siyahamba, 7th and 8th grade choirs, Sapphire Silhouettes and the Showstoppers. Eighth grader Amy Linville got the crowd going when she sang "With you". Throughout the night Seniors Aaron Hymes, Eric Bailey and Mark Baker hosted the show and did comical skits. Many Seniors performed for the last time. Hope Goshert was the narrator for "Storytime with Imported Oregano", written by Hope and Mr. Housholder. Kandis Beardsley sang "When You Believe", with Chelsea Masterson and sang "Reflection", as her last solo. The night ended perfectly after Karalee Cage played "Angel", on the piano while the audience watched a slide show dedicated to the class of 2000.

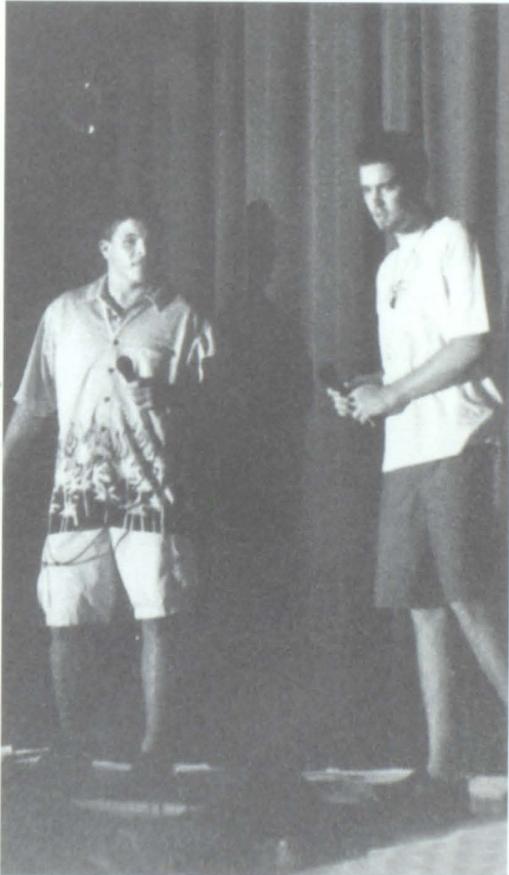

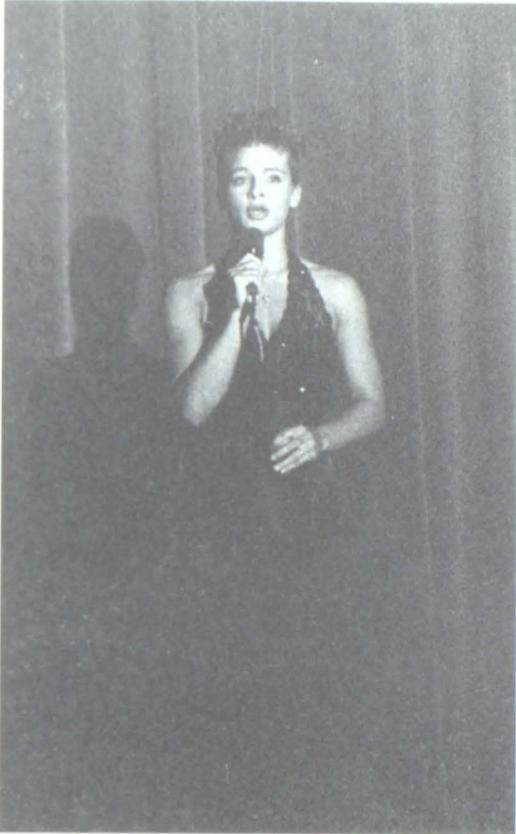

Laura Furst gave a wonderful performance as she sang "We can make a difference".

Pam Miller wows the crowd by singing "Journey to the past".

Graduation 2000 Style

On Friday June 2nd, 2000 at 7:00 P.M.. the graduation started. The last school day for Seniors as they knew it. The ceremony began by the High School Band playing the National Anthem. Then they followed that performance with the processional. The third ranked senior, Brandy Hobbs gave the opening remarks. The choir then followed with the song, "This Is The Place."

After the choir the class President Kinzie Hobbs, Valedictorian Jenny Hendricks, and Salutatorian Amy Ochoa gave commencement addresses. Mr. Warner then gave comments on the class and announced the senior award winners. Following that 4th ranked senior Amy Davis gave her closing remarks. Mr. Speicher gave comments on the class. Mr. Warner presented the class and finally Mrs. Folsom & Mrs. Cook (class sponsors) awarded the diplomas to the class of 2000.

CONGRATULATIONS
CLASS OF 2000!!!!

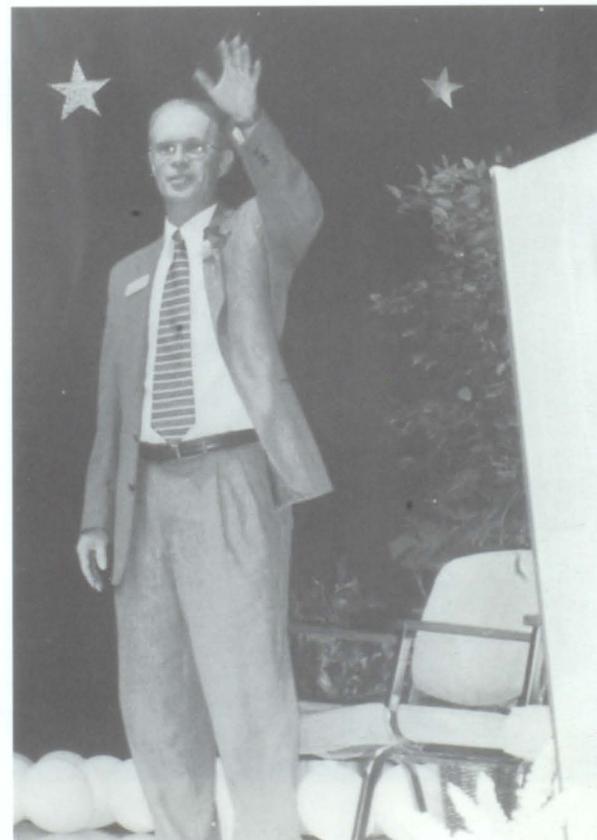

Marcos Invernici, Kevin Stotts, Kinzie Hobbs, Josh Bell, Abbi Campbell, Karalee Cage, Blake Benefiel, and Nate Alexander celebrate after receiving their diplomas.

Senior choir and band members sing "This Is The Place." This was an emotional time for these seniors as they gave their last high school performance.

Mr. Warner attended his last graduation as principal of Frankton Jr. Sr. High School. He received a standing ovation in appreciation of his hard work serving as principal for the last ten years.

Valedictorian and Salutatorian Jenny Hendricks and Amy Ochoa give their combined speech during graduation. In their speech, they commented on each member of the class of 2000 and what they learned from them.

Jennifer Chubb, Kim Welch, and Jenny Hammond prepare their caps and gowns in the new gym prior to graduation.

As the class of 2000 exited the old gym at the end of the ceremony, a balloon drop celebrated their success at Frankton Jr/Sr High School.

The End

The class of 2000, a year that seemed so far away to so many people is finally here. We are the class of the millennium! I think we can definitely say that our class is one of a kind. We've come a long way, and have a long way to go, but we've done everything in style, and have left our mark on this school.

We were the first class to have to pass a test in order to graduate. We had to have more credits than past classes, the last to have Mr. Warner as our principal, and we are also one of the smallest classes. The class of 2000 excels in all areas from sports to the arts. We definitely stand out as a class in our accomplishments and our uniqueness.

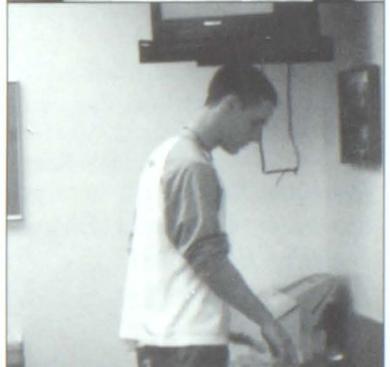

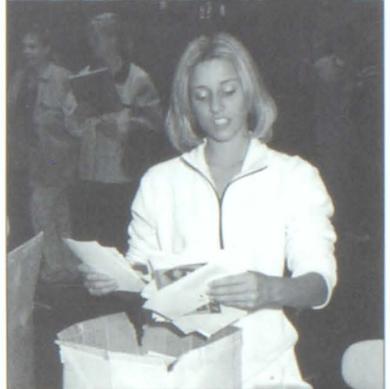

of Our World

Being a senior can be one of the most stressful years of your life. You have so many questions to ask like, do I have enough credits? Am I going to college? What college is right for me? What am I going to do with my life? Am I ever going to finish my term paper? Although there are a lot of things going on your senior year, it is still one of the best years of your life. I mean, we're seniors! Freshmen fear us, and we've all learned a few tricks of the trade by now about what we can and cannot get away with. We have laughed together and cried together for twelve or more years, and now we're finally done.

We will now go our separate ways, some of us to college, training, and some to work, and some may still be deciding what they are going to do. High school will soon be just a memory. Friends will go separate ways, but will have left an impact on our lives. Some will keep in touch, some won't, but they won't be forgotten. Congratulations to the class of 2000!

Nate Alexander and Kenny Kinnard spent their summer a little differently than most teenagers. They both decided to join the National Guard. 10 weeks of Kenny's and 11 weeks of Nate's summer were spent training at Ft. Knox. Although they were a block away from each other, they never saw one another. Kenny was ranked Private, and Nate was ranked Private 1st class.

A normal day at training would consist of waking up at 4 am, making their beds, shaving, dressing, preparing for 1st formation, eat breakfast and begin training for the day. They had 1 hour of free time, but in that hour they had to get sixty-four men through the shower, and clean and shine their boots. They were in bed by 10:30 or 11p.m.

During this training, they learned to operate an M16 A2 rifle, how to take apart and put back together a rifle, read maps and compasses and operate their radios. They learned basic skills for war and both agreed to was a good experience. Nate will go back July 4th, and Kenny will go to Ft. Jackson, South Carolina for additional training.

Wade Johnson knows how to keep himself busy. He has been a very active member of guard since 8th grade. Wade spends summer break practicing for guard with 180 people from all over the U.S. From November to April he also has practice with about 30 people every weekend in Ohio. To be involved in this, Wade had to make a commitment. He had to travel to New Jersey three times in the summer to tryout, and to Ohio to tryout for the winter team.

During the summer after 8 hours of an exhausting practice, Wade and the other members shake it off and put on an awesome show every night. They usually have their practices in high school gyms and football fields close to where they are performing. They've traveled up and down the East Coast, and as far west as Colorado. They travel and sleep on chartered busses during their trips. This guard team has won color guard awards, and also placed 4th at DCI (Drum Corps International).

"When things get hard, don't give up", this is what Wade has learned through this experience. He has made a lot of close friends throughout the U.S. and plans to continue doing this until he is what they call "aged out", or as we would say, too old.

SENIOR Advice

"Enjoy high school while you still have it, because once it's gone your life is changed forever and you can never get it back."~Hope Goshert

"Always have your work done so you will get all your credits in and don't have to worry when you are a senior."~Sam Burgan

"Learn to respect upper classmen, you'll be there one day, and always be yourself. Don't let what others say bring you down."~Kandis Beardsley

Respect elders and get in good with Mrs. Mills.~Mark Baker

"Do not talk back to upper classmen, it will make your year much better."~Kelli Carter

"Do not sleep in Mrs. Mills Class, and in Econ you will only need your book half the time."~Nicole Derexson

"Don't be sad because you don't have new shoes, be glad you still have your feet."~Adrienne Nabb

Hope Goshert has been on three mission trips to Mexico. While there, she does many things such as mixing cement, painting, digging trenches and building bathrooms and fences. The most important reason is Bible study. "We go to the main village Chankom and a side village called Yuctchae" Hope commented.

Hope has learned from her missions that "God is truly awesome and that everything she has is a blessing from him. We take so many things for granted it's unreal. When you're down there you really appreciate what you have" explained Hope.

Hope and her family stayed in the village of Xocenpich. She explained that the greatest thing is seeing the kids' faces and being able to speak to them. She played games with the children every day. The hardest thing was the language barrier and leaving those kids behind.

This year we have two foreign exchange students, Oleg Skutsenya from Ukraine and Marcos Invernici from Brazil. Oleg competed in a contest 2 years ago and the winner got to spend a year in an American high school. Back home in the Ukraine, Oleg has one younger brother in his home country. Oleg says the major difference from being here, and the Ukraine is the education. The things that he likes most about the U.S. are "the people. U.S. people are more outspoken, open-minded, crazy!" Oleg said he is glad to have this opportunity, and happy about all the friends he has made.

Marcos is from Joacaba, Brazil. He has 2 sisters, Juliana and Sabrina. "My accent gives me problems in English" Marcos explained. When asked about what he liked best he said, "I like the girls and the school, I dislike the weather."

Oleg and Marcos both were here from August, 1999 to June 2000. While they were students at Frankton, they were active in sports and extracurricular activities. Marcos was a part of the Tennis and Track teams, and Oleg was a part of the Drama Club and the Spring Play. They will definitely have some stories and memories to take back to their real homes.

What are your plans for after high school?

"I plan on going to Wilmington College and studying communications."
~Leeann Stahl.

JUNIORS

The class officers of the Junior Class of 2001 were President Ashley Alford, Vice President Adam Stohler, Secretary Jennifer Veach, and Treasurer Casey Clutch.

The Juniors hosted prom once again this year. It was at the Anderson Fine Arts Building on April 28, 2000. The change of location came after the class of 2001 learned there were not any available dates at the Paramount. This year the Queen Candidates were Kylie Schmink, Katie Jones, Desiree McPhearson, Ashley Alford, Lauren Flanders. The King Candidates were John Collier, Brandon Sanders, Matt Boyland, Andrew Rodewald, and Adam Stohler.

Once again Post Prom was held at Cooper's Bowling Alley in Anderson, where kids can bungie run, bowl, get married, summo wrestle, or go through a blow up maze.

Earlier in the year, the juniors placed second in the annual Homecoming Games. They also suffered a loss to the seniors in the Powderpuff game by a score of 14-7. Kylie Schmink scored a touchdown and Jilayne Wilhoite scored the extra point.

Greg McCord, Cody Linville, Corbin Barbie, Brock McWilliams, Rachel Courtney, Craig Edwards, Danny Wilson, David Hobbs and some sophomores ride through the Frankton Heritage Days Parade.

Spotlight

Jacob Juday enjoys singing many different pieces of music. He sings gospel music in the Anderson Area Youth Choir, High School Choir, and church choir. He practices daily at The First United Methodist church and St. Matthew United Methodist church in Anderson. He does it because he loves to sing and is a lot of fun. Jacob says he would like to sing professionally some day.

Ashley Alford has been on five mission trips now, and by next fall she will have been on seven. Of the seven, three will be medical missions. Six of the seven have been to foreign countries where the mission team will provide medical help or construction help or conduct a Bible school for the people. She went on her first mission trip in the eighth grade. Ashley says, "My parents have been the ultimate influence, they were more anxious than I was to get me to go on a mission to another country." They went on their first mission to Haiti when she was in seventh grade. Five of the trips were in Haiti, one in Yakama, and one in Honduras.

Michael Norviel, Jilayne Wilhoite and Casey Clutch work on invitations for the prom.

Sophomores

The sophomores began their year by doing well in homecoming activities. They placed second in both the float and hallway decorating competitions and placed third overall in homecoming games. This is an improvement from the class of 2002's freshmen year, where they placed last in all events.

The prince and princess were Joey Mahoney and Chelsea Masterson. Sophomore Erin Hendricks said "Homecoming was really fun this year and we did well on our float and hallway."

In April, they held their class party at the YMCA to raise money for prom. The activities consisted of swimming, playing basketball, ping pong, and foos ball. The cost of admission was five dollars.

Leading the class of 2002 was president, Ashley Hymes, vice-president, Rachel Woodard, secretary, Chelsea Masterson, and treasurer, Erin Hendricks. The class was sponsored by Kevin Sipe and Cathy Huntsinger.

So, the sophomores had a good year, between raising money for prom, placing well in the homecoming games, getting their licenses, and having only two more years of school left, it seemed it couldn't get any better! Except for graduation of course. When asked about the favorite part of his sophomore year, Joey Mahoney said "Getting my license and only having two more years of school left."

Spotlight

Kelisha Brotherton has been clogging for four years now. It is actually a mix between line and tap dancing. Kelisha clogs to music like R&B and country.

She takes clogging classes on Mondays at the 4-H building in Alexandria and Tuesdays at the 4-H building in Tipton. Kelisha clogs in contests all over. Some of these contests are held at the mall, at county fairs, and at the state fair. She also enters talent shows with her clogging abilities.

Kelisha clogs with her mother and grandmother and says that she does it for the exercise. "I also do it for the fun, you meet lots of new people and have lots of fun." said Kelisha.

Erin Hendricks likes participating in the Madison County 4-H Fair in the summer. Erin shows pigs in the fair, which is held in the middle of July. The pigs are born around January or February on her uncle's farm. Her uncle takes care of the pigs until the middle of June. Then, when June comes around, Erin starts walking the pigs for their exercise, cleaning them, and cleaning their pens. Erin does these jobs once in the morning and once at night. In July, it is time for the fair. Erin takes sixteen pigs to show and has family members helping her show the pigs. When Erin and her family get the pigs there, they wash them and show them. After the fair is over, they take the pigs home, except for the ones they are going to sell. The pigs that they sell, stay at the fair until the auction. Erin only has three more years to participate in the fair, and plans to try to do her best.

FRESHMEN

Theatre in Indianapolis. These included The Tell Tale Heart, The Monkey's Paw, The Necklace, The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, and a humorous account by Mark Twain, The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County.

They finished out the year with elections for the class officers and student council representatives for the 2000-2001 school year.

The Freshmen got off to a really great start in high school. Their class was led by officers: President, Corrie Goshert; Vice President, Emily Barr; Secretary, Maggie Dowham; Treasurer, Ashley Clevenger.

They kicked off the year with all the activities of Homecoming, which was played against Alexandria. They put together a float for the parade with a theme of "Kick Those Tigers Back to the Jungle!" It consisted of a football player kicking a tiger over the field goal post and back into the jungle. Their decorated hall won first place with a theme of "Scare Their Stripes Off!" The Freshmen put together a successful Homecoming.

In the first few weeks of school, Herff-Jones representatives came to talk to the class about class rings. Many freshmen purchased their rings through the company, although some did not get rings at all.

During September all freshmen moved out of their old lockers for three to four days while new lockers were installed in their corridor. Some felt this was hassle while others enjoyed the change.

On May 3 the freshmen class took a field trip, sponsored by Mr. Sipe, to see five one-act plays at Walker

Emily Barr is a competitive cheerleader at Anderson Athletics on the senior squad. She goes to about six competitions each year. They do routines involving gymnastic skills, partner stunts, dance, and a cheer. She has been cheering since she was two. She started cheering competitively when she was nine. Her parents got her started at Anderson and still give her a lot of support. When asked what was the biggest influence for her cheerleading, Emily says, "I've always loved to cheer."

Josh Shepherd was born into agriculture. He has been active in agriculture nearly his whole life both with his family and their raising of American Bison and his work with surrounding farmers and neighbors. *

Josh has been an active member of FFA in high school and a member of 4-H since age ten. He shows livestock at the Madison County 4-H Fair. Josh also owns and has restored 2 antique Allis Chalmers tractors that have been seen in the local Heritage Days parade.

Eighth Grade

The class of 2004 made their last year in junior high the best. They participated in flex classes that included, jh publications, photography, art, geography. any many more. They had the opportunity in the jh publications class to along with the seventh grade publish The Eagles Beat, a junior high newspaper. "I really liked the publications class because, I got to pick my own stories and I learned a lot." said Mandy Harvey.

A big part of the eighth grade year was the Washington D.C. trip. They spent most of the year raising funds through market day and candy sales for the trip. The trip finally arrived when they boarded three buses in the parking lot on Thursday, May 16. Their four day journey included stops at Gettysburg, The Annapolis Naval Academy, Mt. Vernon, The Smithsonian and Holocaust Museums, Alexandria, Virginia, and the traditional sights of Washington. They were also able to witness the House of Representatives in session.

Class officers for the eighth grade are as follows, President, Drew Alexander, Vice President, Brittney Kunce, Secretary, Sarah Marshall (not pictured), Treasurer, Zach Whitesel. Peperentatives were: Audrey Guthrie, Brittney Simmons and Lujana May.

"It's fun to stay at the YMCA!" These eighth graders show just how much fun junior high dances really are.

Xanthe Atchison concentrates on finishing her health assignment. Eighth grade health was taught by Mrs. Seager.

Spotlight

Amy Linville enjoys clogging. According to Amy, clogging is defined as a mix of county line dancing and tap dancing. She decided to start clogging because she wanted to try something new and it sounded fun to her. She was influenced by one of her brother's friends who had clogged for twelve years.

This is Amy's fourth year to be involved in clogging with the 4-H club. She travels to fairs, including the state fair to perform her clogging. "I really enjoy clogging and hope to continue doing it for a long time." commented Amy.

Amanda Steiner's favorite thing to do is spend time with her family's horse, Max. She has been horseback riding for several years now. Amanda has the perfect place to participate in this activity, her four acre backyard.

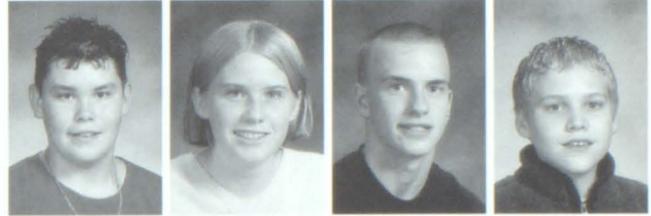

Amanda says that her father has influenced her the most in choosing this activity. She says her father really likes to rope the horse, while Amanda just really likes to spend time riding Max.

Amanda hopes to continue horsebackriding for the rest of her life. "Horseback riding is an activity that I really like." said Amanda.

Seventh Grade

Seventh grade is a big adjustment. Moving from the elementary school to the halls of the junior high can be a scary thing. But, the class of 2005 made the adjustment smoothly. They learned to adjust to four classes a day, no recesses, and more freedom.

Class officers for the class of 2005 were: President, Shelby Borum; Vice-President, Chelsea Smith; Secretary, Brittney Sizelove; and Treasurer, Max Hains. There were also several representatives serving the class. These representatives and officers planned dances, activities night, and cleaned up for track meets. Representative Maggi Campbell said, "My favorite part about being a class representative was planning activities night."

The seventh grade class took a field trip May 23 to the zoo to see the dolphin show, and then to the Cinedome to see a movie about dolphins. The seventh graders enjoyed the fun-filled educational trip out of school. Tyler Riddle said "I really enjoyed seeing the dolphins at the zoo and at the cinedome and I really liked getting a day out of school."

Chelsea Smith bakes cookies for Health Club, while sponsor Mrs. Huntsinger adds the finishing touch. Health Club was one of the clubs and activities the seventh grade class was able to participate in.

Tyler Riddle concentrates on his math assignment as Mr. Fry gives the day's lesson.

Kristen Kuntz has been dancing at the Anne Harmeson's School of Dance for ten years. Her mother enrolled her at the age of three. Kristen takes six different classes at the school: jazz, tap, ballet, tumbling, toe, and liturgical. She also has a tap routine that she performs with another student of the school. "Out of the six classes I take, tap is my favorite." said Kristen.

Anne Harmeson's School of Dance is located in downtown Anderson. In the spring, they have a two-night performance at the Paramount Theatre. Kristen is glad that her mother got her involved at an early age. She plans to continue dancing in the future.

Whitney Carr puts a new meaning to the word cowgirl. She has been raising cattle for all of her life and showing cattle for seven years. Raising the cattle consists of feeding, grooming, and keeping them healthy and ready for show. She shows the cows all over Indiana at county fairs and at the state fair.

Whitney says her dad has been her biggest influence to her. "He was born in to the business and he has raised cattle all of his life." said Whitney. Whitney soon plans to start showing her cattle all over the united states. She ended with the comment, "Showing cattle is a lot of fun and I really like it."

Faculty

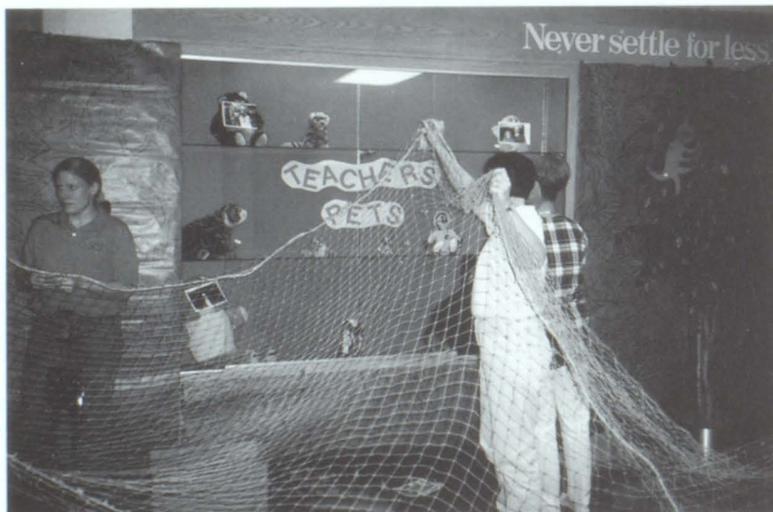

Mr. Warner leaves as principal

After serving as principal for ten years at Frankton Jr/Sr High School, Mr. Warner decided to move on. He accepted a position as director of buildings, grounds, safety, and security for Frankton Lapel School Corporation. This position was created due to the growing of violence in schools, and the Frankton Lapel Corporation felt they needed a full time position concerning these issues. Before coming to Frankton, Mr. Warner taught Industrial Arts for seventeen years in the Mt. Vernon School Corporation. "I will miss the daily interaction with students the most," said Warner.

Mr. Morton will step up to a higher role, replacing Mr. Warner, after serving his first year at Frankton as assistant principal. Before coming to Frankton, Mr. Morton taught social studies in Frankfort, Indianapolis, and Fulton High Schools.

Q. What does it mean to you to be in National Honor Society?

A. I think it's an honor to be in it because it takes a lot of hard work, and we are being recognized for our achievements.

Jed Baker

Q. What did you enjoy most about Quiz Bowl?

A. Being with Mrs. Fox.

Amber Turner seems to know the answer. Amber competed on both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity Quiz Bowl team.

The Quiz Bowl team works together to answer Mrs. Fox's questions. The teams competed in five different meets this year.

Drama Club

- Performed "the Wizard of Oz"
- First year to perform the play three days in a row.
- Presented a portion of the play to the entire student body and both elementaries in three productions on the same day.
- 400 people came to see the play on Friday night (March 24th), 300 people came Saturday night (March 25th) and 200 people came Sunday (March 26th).
- The drama club consisted of 35 crew members, 35 backstage members, many volunteers (parents of the actors) and one director, Mr. Flewelling.
- The drama club spent 6 hours a week on rehearsing, 4 hours on the set and additional time in January.
- The drama club is planning a musical for next year with the help of Ms. Bonecutter.
- As a 'good-job' reward, Mr. Flewelling took the drama club to Beef-N-Boards to see the play 'Grease'.
- Most of the setting for the play was handmade by the drama club, except for the costumes wore by the main cast.

High School Band

Michelle Borrer

Q. What did you like best about Band?

A. Band was a great time to be around your friends and improve musically.

The band is in full dress as they march in the Heritage Days parade. This was the last year for these uniforms.

Megan Church

The band performs their pre-game show at a football game. The band and cheerleaders would form a chute for the team to run through as they entered the field.

Q. Why did you take Band?

A. It gives me a chance to play different instruments and it's fun.

The band does a little shuffle routine as they march down Sigler St. in the Homecoming parade.

Director, Kris Harney, Aaron Hymes, Matt Hellems and Becky Welker complete some of the work in the band office. The office is often the center of activity for band leaders and directors.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Taking The Field

The 1999-2000 Frankton Eagle football team had its ups and downs this year. Despite a 3-7 record, the team had a year full of learning and enjoyment. Nate Alexander, one of the 11 graduating seniors said, "Even though we didn't win that many games, I still loved playing this year. I guess it's just because I love football so much!"

This year's team yielded an all-state center in Eric Bailey. Along with being an all-state center Eric also led the team with tackles. Sophomore, Arik Flanders led the county for most of the year in yards receiving. Sophomore, Joey Mahoney was one of the most highly acclaimed and rated quarterbacks in the county.

The young Eagle team should look forward to a strong season next year, with the returning of both parts of their backfield, most of their receiving unit, a strong offensive and defensive line, and a talented young quarterback.

Varsity Taking The Course Cross Country

The outlook for cross country team was very low after the loss of half of last year's varsity team. But with the team's hard work and the dedicated coaching of Brian Sanders, they exceeded everyone's expectations. Brian Sanders was very pleased with this team and is proud with how far they had come. The Eagles placed 2nd at Conference and tied for 1st at County.

Senior captains Blake Benefiel and Doug Huntsinger helped lead the team with their positive attitudes. Doug was a very important point getter and helped with the 6-3 ending record with his consistent times. Senior Blake Benefiel had a great year. He made All Conference, All County, placed 5th at Sectional, and was a Semi-State qualifier. Freshmen Justin Moore helped the Eagles become Regional qualifiers at Sectional with improving his time by 2 minutes.

The Frankton girls did very well this year considering how young and inexperienced they were. The girls with a little more experience are looking forward to a better season next year. Captain Katie Jones helped guide the team of 2 freshmen and 2 sophomores.

Brandon Sanders was one of the top runners for Frankton this year. Here he pulls away from the pack at the Anderson Invitational.

Andrew Rodewald, another returning letterman. Work's hard to finish out the long 3.1 mile race.

Claire Jenness, Sarah Rodewald, and Rachel Woodard try to relax before a meet. The girls with only five runners had a very hard season with no one to step up if another had a little trouble.

The Cross Country team usually runs at Shady Side on Thursdays to stay in shape. The girls try to stay together and push one another as they close in on the mile marker.

VARSITY Taking The Court Tennis

When you think of Frankton sports you don't think of country club sports. If you were on the tennis team, winning their matches was their goal, but improving was their main goal. The team was led by their two captains both seniors Josh Bell and Kevin Stotts. They were also the teams number one doubles team.

Frankton is fortunite enough to have foreign exchange students that participate in sports almost every year. Both exchange students, Marcos Invernici and Oleg Skutsenya, participated in tennis this year. Although they are from another country they were no strangers to the sport.

Even though the Eagles only finished the season with one win, they had fun and that's what really matters in high school sports. There were four seniors: Kevin Stotts, Josh Bell, Oleg Skutsenya, and Marcos Invernici. Juniors were Brody Davis, Adam Stohler, and Riley Alexander. The lone sophomore was Matt Miller. This team was really young, so look forward to greater things in the future.

VARSLITY Taking The COURT BASKETBALL

The varsity boys basketball team got off to a rough 0-4 start, but turned the season around to finish with eleven wins and ten losses. The turnaround was thanks in part to the senior leadership of Brandon Etchison, Kevin Nichols, Kyle Stevens and Matt Meiser. Together Stevens and Etchison dominated the low block offensively as well as defensively.

The backcourt was run by Nichols and junior Brandon Sanders who were among the county's top scorers. Sophomores, Matt Guthrie, Joey Mahoney, Arik Flanders, and Tony Marshall also played respective roles on the team.

In sectional play, the Eagles were defeated by the South Adams Starfires by a close score of 64-66. The game was tied at 64 with thirty seconds remaining. The Starfires let the clock run down to five seconds before taking a shot. The shot was missed, but tipped in with one second to go. The Eagles were unable to score with the remaining second. Etchison led the team with 26 points and 20 rebounds in his final game at FHS.

Key returning players next year include Brandon Sanders, Brody Davis, Arik Flanders, Joey Mahoney, Tony Marshall, and Billy Salazar.

JV-Freshmen Basketball Taking The Court

The junior varsity team ended their season with a 11-9 record, while the freshmen team came out with a 3-12 record on the season. The JV squad was coached by Mickey Foley and the freshmen by Mark Drake. Student teacher, Brent Bond, also helped out with both teams.

The freshmen team ended up 1-4 in the conference with their only victory over the Elwood Panthers. The team's other two victories for the season came over Daleville and Tri-Central. The freshmen romped Daleville by a score of 40-19, and defeated Tri-Central 36-29.

The JV team came out with big victories over Lapel 40-34, Wes Del 45-41, Elwood 44-33, and Madison Grant 64-47. The team lost close battles to Alexandria by a score of 41-49 and Pendleton with a score of 40-41.

One of the difficulties for both teams was sharing players. Freshmen Todd Campbell and Billy Salazar were moved up to play JV games. Junior varsity players Arik Flanders and Joey Mahoney were moved up to play at the varsity level. All of the boys have bright futures as they continue their years playing at Frankton.

Lady's Taking The Courtball

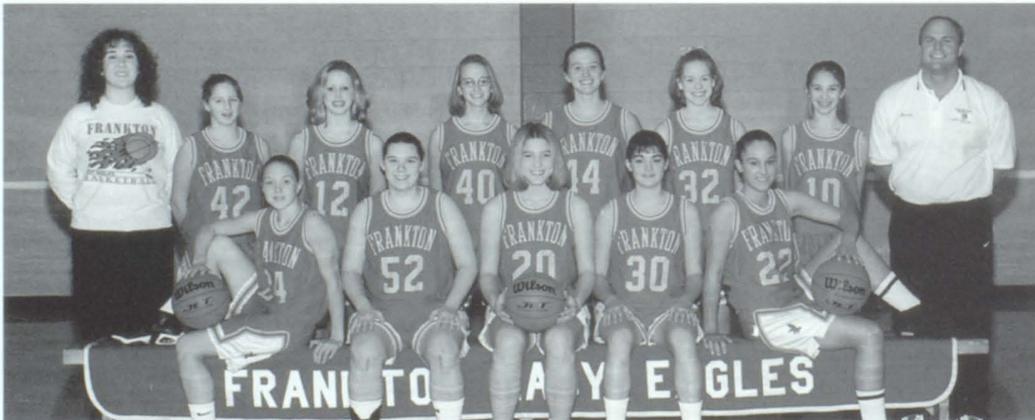

Another Cinderella Season, with a not so magical ending. This year the Lady Eagles had high goals. One goal was to reclaim the games they lost last year to Anderson twice, Madison Grant, Westfield, Highland, and #1 Fort Wayne Luers.

Sadly not all games were met. Though the Lady Eagles beat Anderson, Madison Grant, and Westfield they never got another chance at Highland or Fort Wayne Luers. The Lady Eagles only lost to 3 teams this year. In regular season they lost to 4A Carmel and 3A Pendleton. When tournament time came the girls were set for winning a state title, but were stopped in their tracks again in Semi-State against North Judson by a score of 59-56. The Lady Eagles were led by 5 seniors and the gifts they shared. With #10 Shelly Barton assisting everyone, #22 Amy Davis's defense, #42 Kelli Carter scoring, #24 Lyndsay Owen bombing 3's, and #54 Jenny Hendricks grabbing boards. These 5 seniors will be missed greatly.

Kelli Carter now holds all records for scoring: Nine three's in one game, 53 points in one game, 534 in one season and 1564 career points. Kylie Schmink, a versatile Junior who contributed much on the floor. Schmink said, "We had a great season and I will miss the seniors."

Quotes & MVP's Box

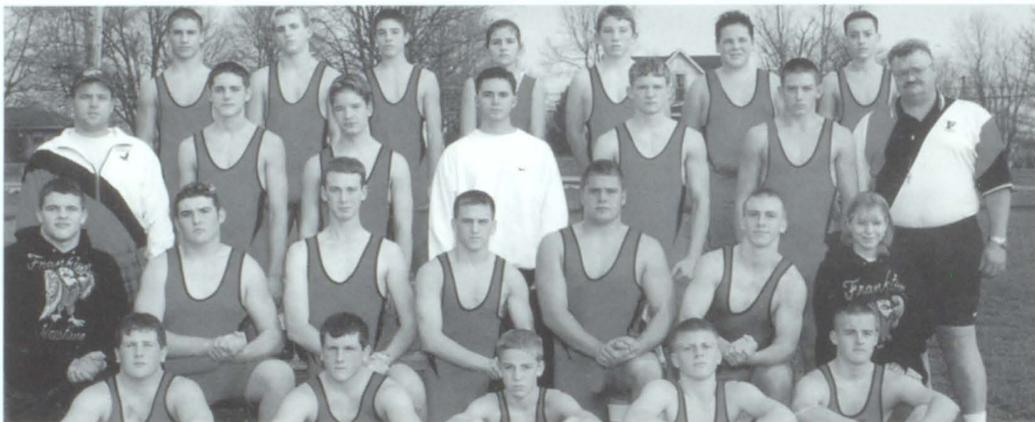

Nate Alexander and Trent Marsh ended their seasons on a high note. Nate and Trent have wrestled since they were freshmen on the varsity wrestling team. Each had great regular season records. Nate finished at 26-6, while Trent finished the season with only one loss.

Then it was on the road to the state championship. Nate went to the Delta Regional tournament after a second round pin to grasp a sectional championship at Frankton High School. He didn't quite make semi-state, but he finished with a modest fourth place at the regional tournament.

Trent earned both sectional and regional championships along with a fourth place semi-state finish to qualify for the state championship at Conesco Fieldhouse. Trent dropped two matches at semi-state to put his record at 31-3 heading into the state tournament in Indianapolis. He met his match at the state tournament and was defeated by Matt Hasbrook, the number one 215 pounder in the state of Indiana in the first round of State. Trent was one of the few wrestlers to wrestle for the state title at Conesco Fieldhouse for the first time ever and in the year 2000. Along with all of Trent's success he has won sectional all four years in high school.

Nate says, "I will miss hanging out with the team during the season and the feeling you have after winning." Nate has done very well in his four years. He has one sectional championship and was runner-up twice. Nate also has three conference runner-up titles and a third place title. He finished fourth in regional and has qualified twice. He has finish second through fifth at the Madison County Tournament.

Next year will be a year for stepping up. Frankton needs more guys like Nate and Trent to work hard and give four good years to the sport.

Taking The Sidelines

If you were at any of the basketball games this year, you might have noticed a change in the cheerleaders. Some of the girls flew a little higher thanks to the six senior guy cheerleaders. These boys, along with the rest of the girls attended tumbling and stunting classes every week at Anderson Athletics in order to improve their stunts. Another change they had were the separate football and basketball cheerleaders for the freshmen. All the cheerleaders came to a summer camp here taught by Ball State Cheerleaders. They also started their summer practices in August. The coaches this year were Tami Davis and Julie Bennett, the captains were senior Karalee Cage, and junior Ashley Alford.

These girls worked hard all year to show more school spirit, have exciting stunts, and more pep sessions. They also had fund raisers to raise money for new uniforms. They had a very successful year and a great squad.

The Frankton Boys had a tough act to follow this year. After being 44-0 last year the boys had high hopes, but they knew it would be hard. The loss of a few good seniors last year made other runners move to different areas, spreading out the field. The Boys did really well this year, losing only to 3A Eastern by one relay and 4A Anderson in County and Sectional. "We beat many good teams due to the work ethic and refusal to be beaten by several of our juniors and seniors." said Coach Morehead. The team advanced two runners to the state meet. Senior Blake Benefiel placed 20th in the 1600 with a time of 4:30.04. Junior Brody Davis placed 17th in the high jump, clearing a height of 6 feet and 2 inches.

The girls team wasn't as successful, but did have a good season under first year coach Stacey Cawley. They finished with a 24-15 overall record. The team advanced many to regional competition, including the 4X400 relay of Amy Davis, Sandra Edgell, Rachel Woodard, and Claire Jenness. The 4X800 relay of Katie Jones, Jenny Hendricks, Ashley Hymes, and Sandra Edgell also advanced to regional. Betsy Busby advanced in the high jump and Claire Jenness in the 400 meter run. "This year's team had some exceptional individual performances, and toward the worst of the season we really pulled together." said coach Stacey Cawley.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Taking The Field

Although they started the season with a slow 0-5 start, the varsity baseball team was able to finish the season with a 17-11 record and a sectional championship. The team was led by first year coach Steve Guthrie along with Mike Lacey and Darren Sparks. Seniors on the team included Mark Baker, Matt Meiser, Kevin Nichols and Kyle Stevens. The team was also led by many young starters such as: Arik Flanders, Matt Guthrie, Joey Mahoney, Billy Salazar John Konkle and Kyle Lacey.

The team won seven out of their last nine games heading into sectional play. They went on to defeat Oak Hill in the first sectional game by a score of 4-3. In the championship game, the Eagles defeated Eastbrook for the second time in the season by a score of 9-5.

In Regional play, the boys defeated the seventh-ranked Lewis Cass team by a score of 2-11.

The team will return eleven varsity players, along with a talented junior varsity team next season. The team hopes to improve their record further on their new field at the Frankton Elementary site.

Taking Girls Softball To The Championship

The 2000 high school softball season will never be forgotten. The team had 4 high goals at the beginning of the season that they accomplished by the end of the year.

The first goal was to win the CIC conference for the first time. The Lady Eagles went undefeated in the conference and they achieved their first goal. As the regular season ended the girls had a record of 20-2. Their second goal was to bring back the sectional title that was taken from them in the previous year by Clinton Prairie. The Eagles got their revenge against the defending sectional champs and defeated them 2-1 in the championship game. The third goal the team had was to become regional champs. The Eagles accomplished this by playing two tough games in one day. The girls beat two ranked teams to take home the title of being regional champs and making the first ever appearance in the final four. Their fourth and highest goal of them all was to win the state championship. Since the girls had come this far their was no looking back for them now. They had their hearts set on bringing back the first ever state title in Frankton's history and the first in Madison County for softball. Their last goal was accomplished on June 17. The Eagles beat the defending state champs in the championship game 2-0. They ended the year with a 27-2 record. The most wins in Frankton's history. With eight returning starters, they plan on a repeat with another successful season. (See additional photos on pages 192-193)

VARSITY GIRL'S TENNIS

Taking The Court

With new coaches and new courts, the girls tennis team still struggled to find a victory. They ended their season with a loss to Anderson in sectional play to bring their record to 0-10. Brent Brobston was the girl's head coach, while Geep Harrison served as the assistant coach. The girls also became the first high school team to use the new facilities at the new elementary site. But these new changes didn't add to the success of their season.

The number one doubles team of Lyndsay Owen and Kacia Harrison proved to be the most successful and ended their season with a 6-4 record. At the number two doubles position, Leah Music and Amy Ochoa did earn one victory against Westfield in the first match of the season.

In singles play, Abbi Campbell, Kinzie Hobbs, and Chelsea Masterson shared the one, two, and three positions throughout the season. But, in sectional play, Senior Kinzie Hobbs played at number one, Senior Abbi Campbell played at number two, and Sophomore Chelsea Masterson played at number three sets, both losing in the third.

The team will return two varsity letters next year, along with a successful junior varsity team and hope to improve their record

Taking The Pool & Golf Course

For the fourth year, Senior Doug Huntsinger swam with the Elwood Swim Team. "I had a great year" said Doug "I reset almost all of the school records and set my personal best in quite a few events." This year Doug out-scored Westfield by 5 points to win the meet. In the conference meet Doug placed 1st in the 100 meter Breaststroke and 1st in the 100 meter Butterfly.

Until Sectional Doug remained undefeated in the 100 meter Breaststroke. In Sectional, Doug missed qualifications for state by one place. The records Doug broke this year include the 200 Individual Medley, 200 Free, 100 meter breaststroke, and 100 meter backstroke.

Doug Huntsinger swims the butterfly stroke during a meet. Doug placed first in the conference meet in the 100 meter butterfly.

The golf team had an up and down season. Led by second year coach Kris Harney, the team could only manage three wins. This was due to lack of experience.

Six freshmen, two sophomores, one junior, and three seniors made up this team. The Varsity consisted of Jeff Robinson, Zach Konkle, Matt Doan, Josh Polly, and Michael Reed. The JV team included Evan Baker, Dustin Imel, Doug Furnish, Zack Kiphart, Zach Paschal, and Kevin Stotts, most of whom played in a few varsity matches.

The future of the Frankton Eagles varsity football team, the 7th and 8th grade teams, had a year full of fun and especially learning. The 8th grade ended the season with a 4-4-1 record in which they tied with Alexandria. The 7th grade produced an 8-1 record falling only to Sheridan during their first game.

8th grader Billy Grinstead said the "the year was alright, but it could have been much better." Running back and Line backer Ryan McClintick was the 8th grade star and MVP.

The 7th grade team had an outstanding 8-1 record. "We really improved this year," said Nate McKeon. Max Hains, a running back and Line backer for the team, was the MVP. Both teams focused more on learning than anything else.

Both seventh and eighth grade teams had new coaches Erica Miller for 8th and Erin Miller for 7th. The seventh grade team had 10 players. Their record was 4 wins and 9 losses. The season was mainly a learning experience since it was their first year playing volleyball for Frankton. The eighth grade team had 12 players. They had 3 wins and 8 losses. Coach Erica Miller commented, "Seventh grades season started off slow, but they played tough and came through at tourney time. Eighth grade didn't play as well as they could. Overall it was a good season. We had some talented players on the team."

Outstanding players were selected from both teams based on playing ability, attitude, and improvement over the season. This season was the first time some of these girls have ever played volleyball. They had fun and learned while doing it. Both teams look forward to playing next year.

The Junior High basketball teams had a successful season. The eighth grade finished the season 12-6. The seventh grade had a terrific year record of 16-1.

The eighth grade was led mostly by its five starters: Tim Barnhill, Ryan McClintick, Billy Grinstead, Charlie Breckenridge, and Joe McPhearson. The seventh grade was led by: Tyler Riddle, Brett Sanders, and Max Hains.

The seventh graders were beat in the first round of the county tournament by Lapel. (The team's only loss before the tourney was handed to them by Lapel.) The eighth grade won the first two rounds, avenging a 40 point loss earlier in the season, to a 10 point victory against Madison-Grant. At the championship game the Eagles were defeated by Alexandria. They lost by only one point in overtime. "We had a pretty good year," said eighth grader Billy Grinstead.

These teams should be good when they rise to the High School Level. The teams have a lot of support and great attitudes to go along with their talent.

Jr. High Taking The Basketball

The Jr. High Girl's Basketball teams ended their seasons with opposite records. The 8th grade ended their season with a 6-11 record, while the 7th graders ended with a 11-6 record. The 8th grade team was coached by Dennis Huntsinger, and the 7th grade team by Shane Sumpter.

At the beginning of the season, the seventh grade team only had six players. Although this was enough for a team, there would only be one sub. So, the team moved two sixth grade basketball players up to the team. Their names were Kelsey Davis and Elizabeth Riddle. Kelsey and Elizabeth worked hard for the team and stepped up to bigger roles when seventh grader Maggi Campbell broke her arm during a game against Shenandoah.

Both teams played well throughout the season, but ended with losses to Elwood and Anderson Southside to bring the season to an end. The eighth graders look forward to playing at the next level, while the seventh graders hope to improve their record further as eighth graders.

Jr. Taking The Wrestling

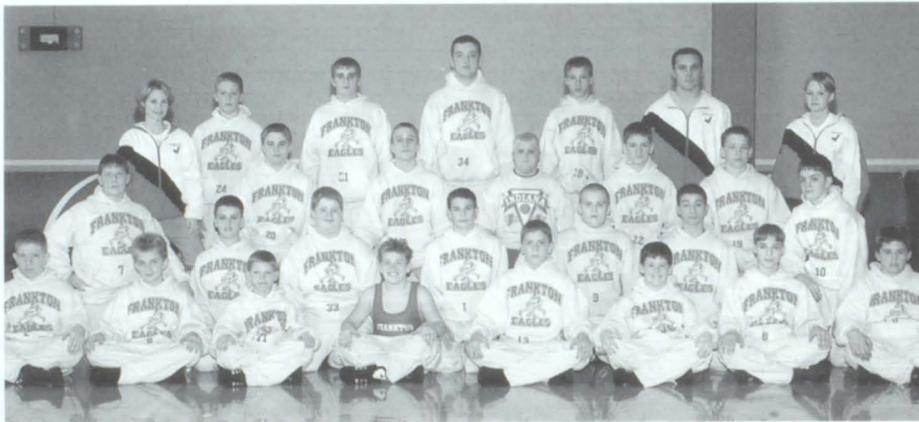

Junior High Wrestling

Three of the many junior high wrestlers completed the season with great records. Caleb Clymer, Nate McKeon, and Joe McPhearson all finished their junior high wrestling careers with less than five losses and placed in the top three at the Madison County Tournament and the Tipton Invitational.

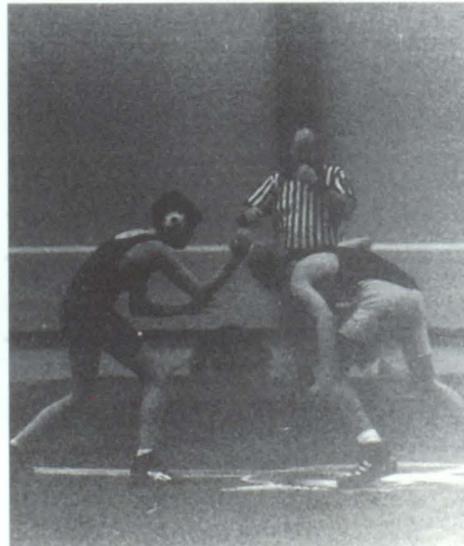

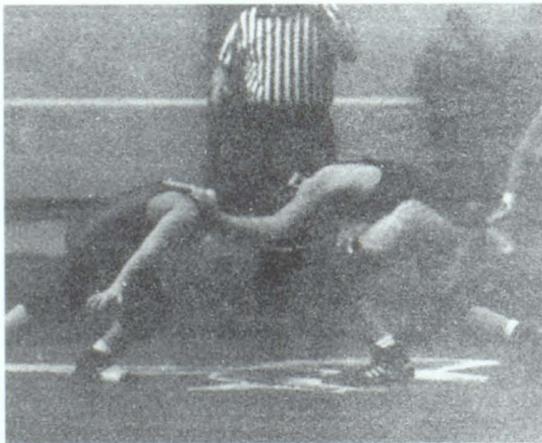

Caleb Clymer, the 100 pound wrestler for the Eagles finished his eighth grade year with five losses. He placed second at the Tipton Invitational and got a third place victory at the Madison County Tournament. Caleb also wrestled some of the year at the 95 pound weight class, but spent most of the year at 100 pounds.

145 pounder Nate McKeon finished his season with three losses, with an exceptional 13 pins. He placed second at both the Tipton Invitational and the Madison County Tournament. Nate also wrestled 140, but was 145 most of the season.

Finally, Joe McPhearson, the 215 pounder finished the best of the team with only one loss. Joe won the Madison County title at 215 pounds and the Tipton Invitational title.

The End Of Our World

The end of our world, the 2000 Eaglite, is finally here, the yearbook is complete. I am glad to finally say those words. It has been quite an experience being editor of the 2000 Eaglite. I have learned a lot and truly believe I am a better person because of it. We put together lots of new ideas that I hope everyone will enjoy.

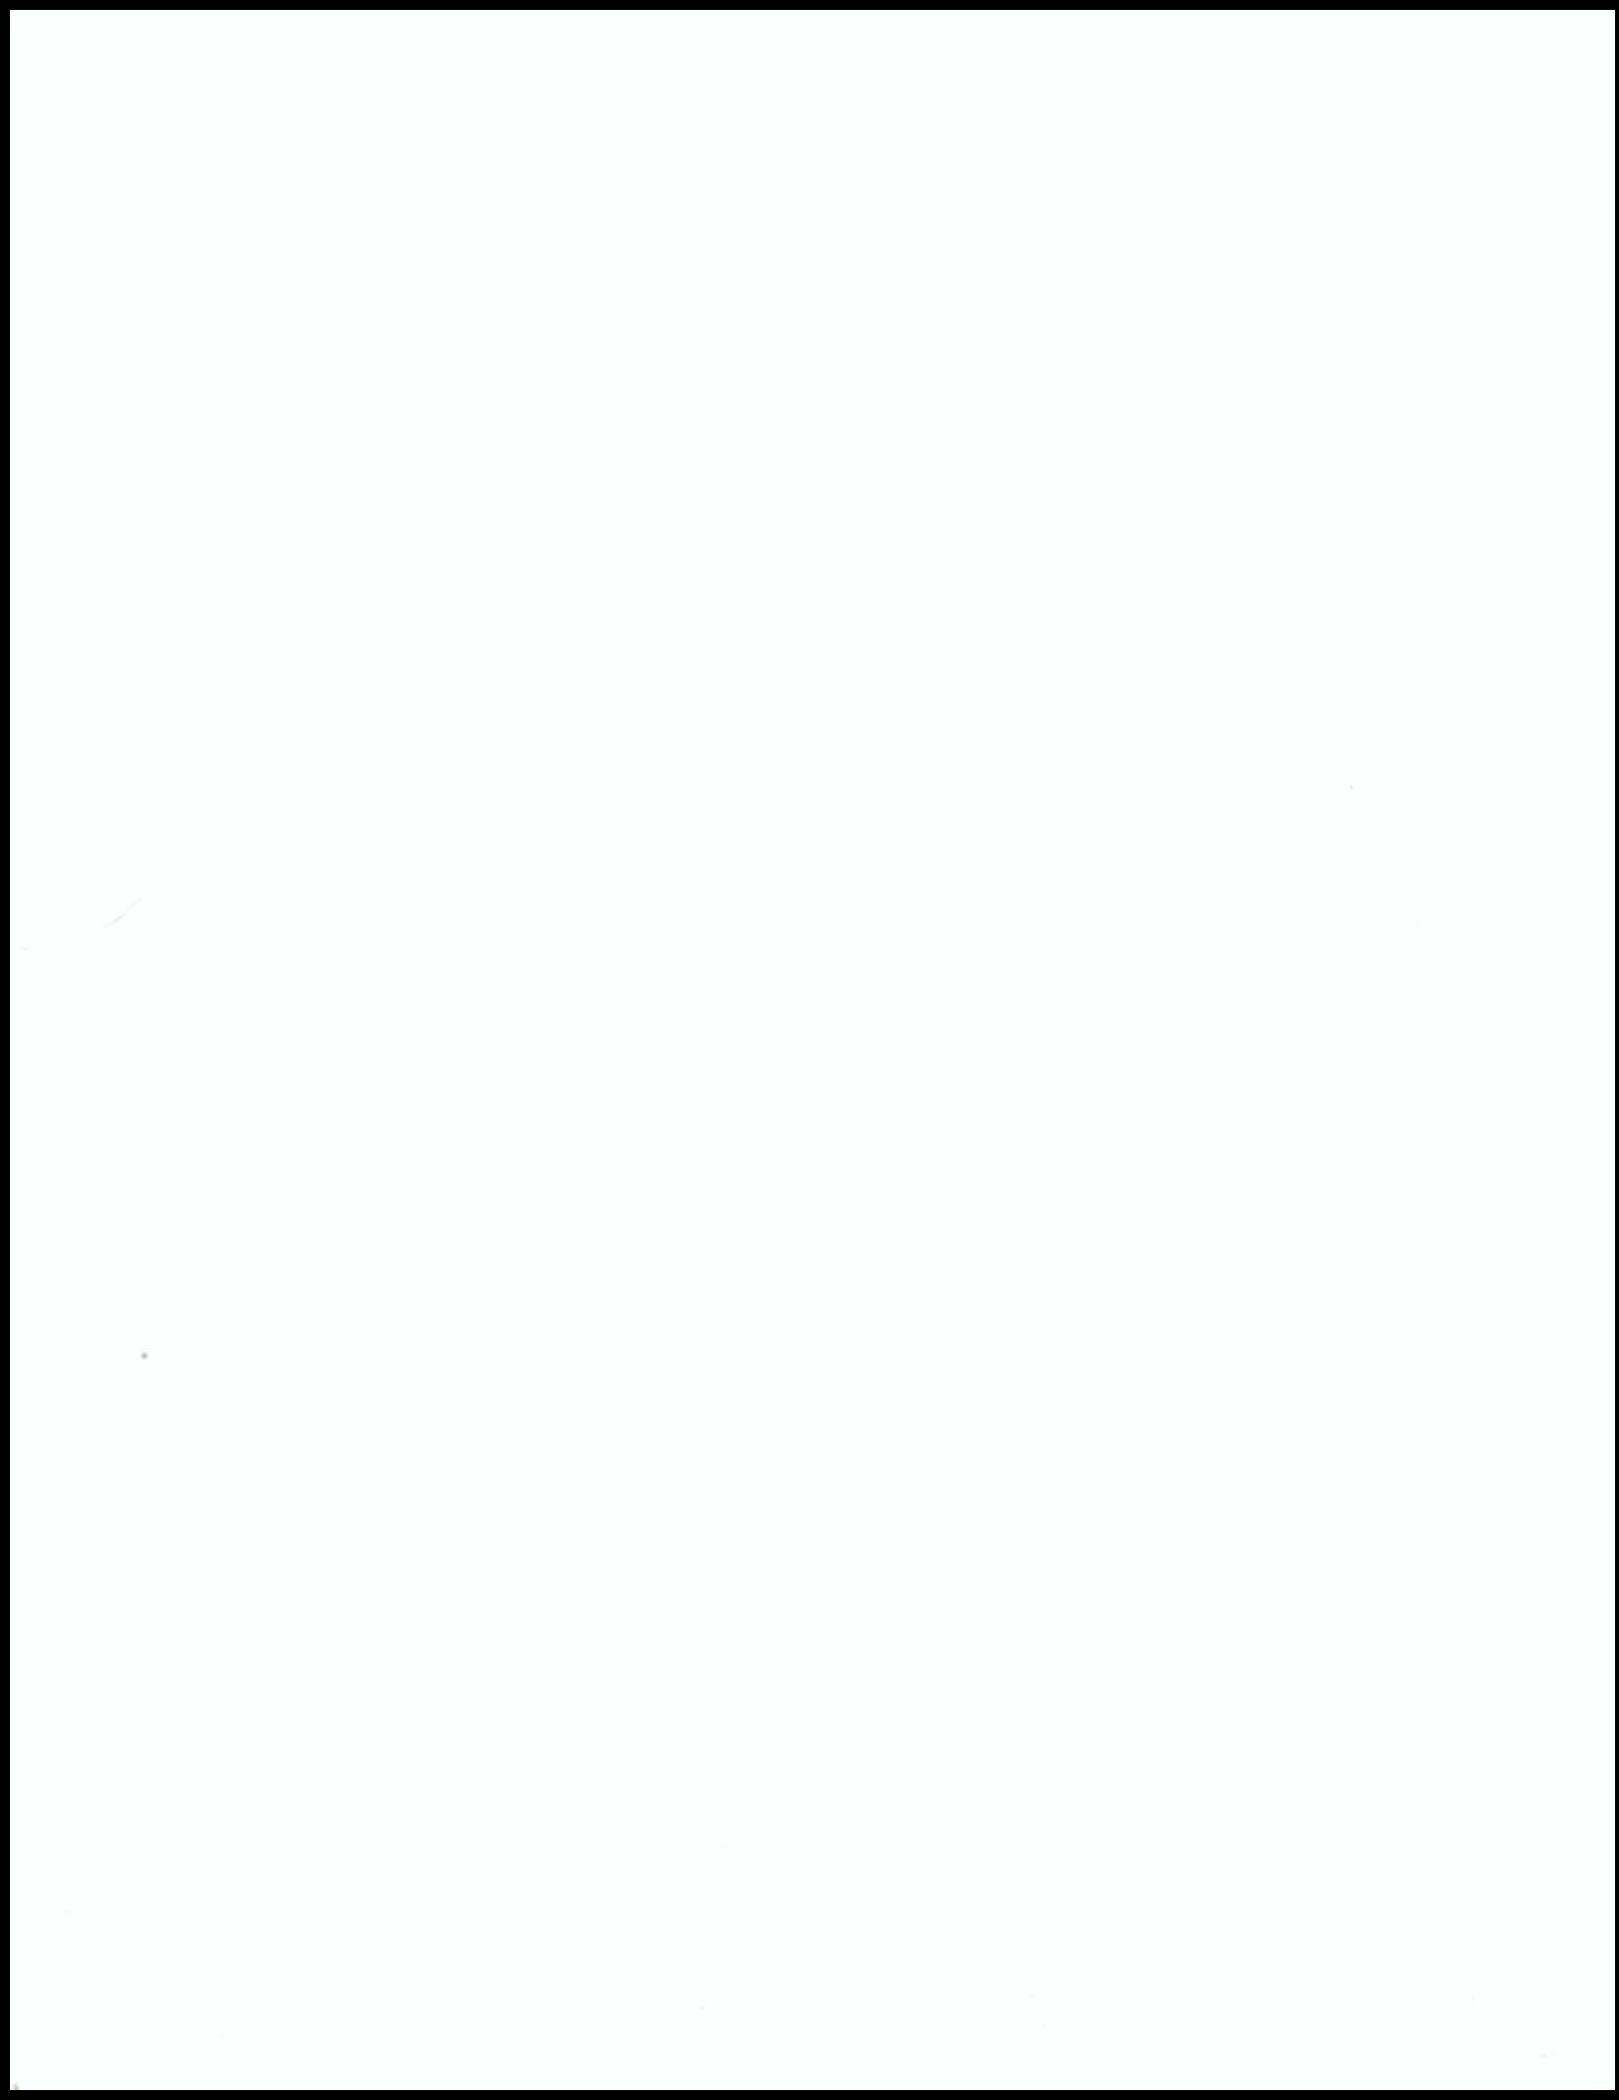

I couldn't have completed this task without the staff. Although we had our rough times, everyone managed to pull through in the end. I would like to thank Kandis Beardsley and Kelli Carter for putting together a creative student life section. I know we had tough times, but you guys came up with some new and interesting designs. Karalee Cage finally managed to meet our deadlines and did a wonderful job on the senior section. You did a good job and you are a great friend! Once Lyndsay Owen got started on the underclass section of the book, she did a great job with spotlights and the other new ideas for the section. Sarah Silvers and Barbara Best were rookies to the class, but managed to do a terrific job on the clubs and academics section of the book. Thanks for being great learners and hard workers girls! Kenny Kinnard was another rookie, who managed to do an excellent job on the sport section of the book. Jenny Hammond was also a first year staff member and did a great job on the advertisement section for the book. Leah Music was also a first year staff member who put together an interesting faculty section of the book which I hope you will enjoy. Thanks to Heather Davis, who although wasn't on the yearbook staff came in this summer to help us wrap up the book. Good Luck next year Heather. Thanks again to all of the staff for all of your hard work!

I would also like to thank The Elwood Call Leader for providing us with spring sports pictures, it helped us in many ways. Last but not least, I want to thank my friends and family for putting up with me when I was stressed out about this book. Without your support I wouldn't have made it.

Thanks Again,

Abbe Campbell
