Argylls Are Involved in it All

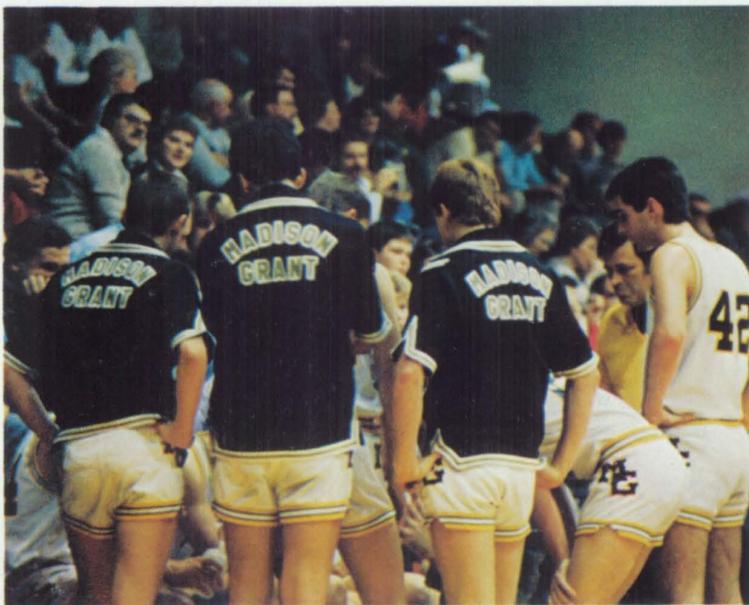

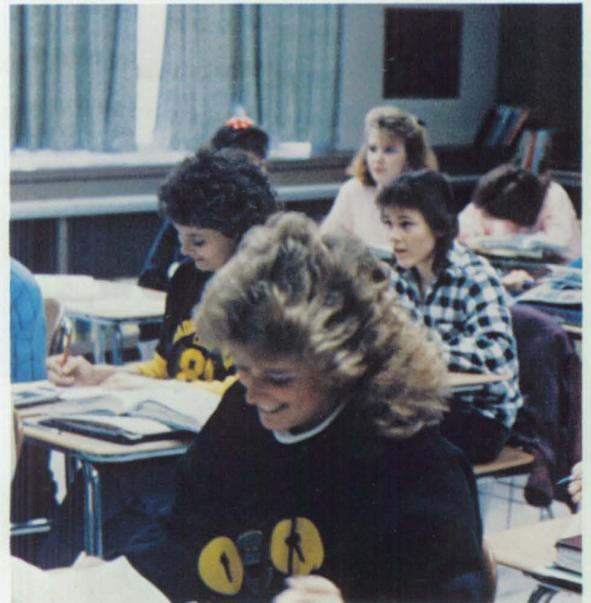

"TYING IT ALL TOGETHER" is a summary of the 1987-1988 school year. We, the ne-Obliviscaris yearbook staff, have worked hard to combine all of the memories of this school year in one yearbook.

Our theme demonstrates that if you get involved in your high school years, by tying all of the clubs, sports, academics, and other activities together, you will become a well rounded person.

Throughout this yearbook, there are pictures of friends, games, classes, club meetings, and other special activities. We hope that by tying all of these memories together, it will give you the whole picture of Madison-Grant High School 1987-1988.

Thank you,
Missy Harbit, Editor
Anita Marley, Asst. Editor

A Day at M-G

8:04
Artie Argyll enters the parking lot.

8:07
Artie Argyll comes into school through the big heavy doors by the auditorium.

8:08
Artie walks by the candy machines and sees Mr. Kildow, Mr. Harbit, and Mr. Summers talking about the big sporting event that took place the night before.

8:10
Artie Argyll goes to his locker, meets his friends, and starts out on his daily cruise of the halls.

8:25
Artie starts towards his first period class. He drops off his overdue library books that Mrs. Gough has been yelling at him about.

8:27
The first bell rings. Mr. Martin is yelling, "Let's be there when the bell rings!"

8:30
School begins.

8:50
Artie looks around the room to see how many kids have fallen asleep so far.

9:25
All the kids who have taken their nap are now awakened by the sound of the bell. One class down, Five to go.

11:30
It's time for "A" lunch. Artie and the rest of the Argylls storm the cafeteria. What will Artie get today? Fries? Cookies?

1:30
It's time for an activity period. Artie is going to the Ski Club meeting. He signs out and heads towards the cafeteria.

2:00
It's the last period of the day. Artie is ready for his sixth period class.

2:55
The day is almost done. Artie waits patiently for the afternoon announcements.

2:58
Artie is still sitting on the edge of his seat. When will this day end?

3:00
The bell finally rings. Artie and the rest of the students at M-G rush out of class and go to their lockers. To the parking lot they run.

3:05
Artie and the rest of the Argylls get in their cars and get in line. On the way out they pass Mr. Martin waving good-bye with his walkie-talkie in hand. An end to a day at M-G.

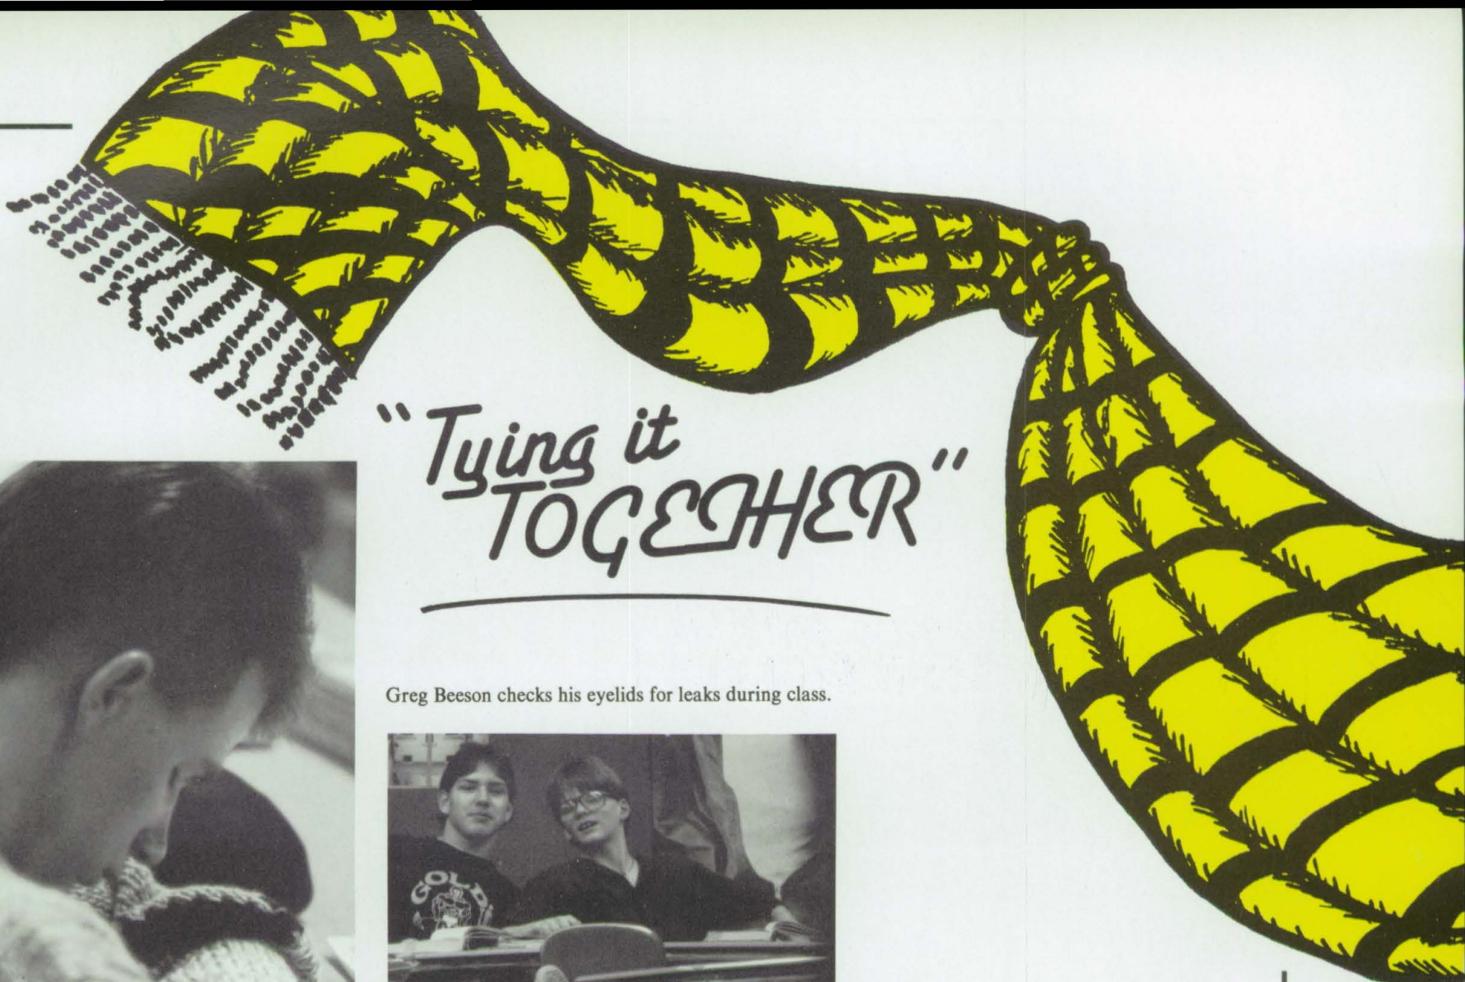

During a busy Ski Club meeting some members look away for a picture.

We "Argylls" show our spirit in many ways.

Every year M-G students put a great deal of work into homecoming. We have different spirit days during that week where we have contests between classes and staff. Dress up days are held regularly on days of big sporting events. Popular ones are black and gold day, shades day, and Hawaiian day.

The Madison-Grant cheerleaders are a big part of Argyll spirit, decorating team member's lockers, firing up the crowd at ball games and organizing pep sessions.

Here's a little Argyll history. Argyll was the name under which the Scottish clan, the Campbells, defended their homeland in the 17th and 18th centuries. In 1987-88 students fought to prove that "Argylls are #1!" Students gave all their effort athletically, academically, and dramatically. Whether students were cheering on the football and basketball teams or congratulating the wrestling team on where they placed in their matches, students back M-G through wins and losses!

Homecoming

The week of homecoming was filled with excitement for everyone. The competition between the classes was tough, but the seniors were able to capture the Argyll horse-shoe.

Students showed their spirit by participating in dress-up days, and working on hall decorations.

The seniors won the hall contest with the theme "Argyll Mash is a Panther Smash." The Junior class theme was "No Surrender." The sophomores used "Born to be Wild." The freshman theme was "Wipe Out."

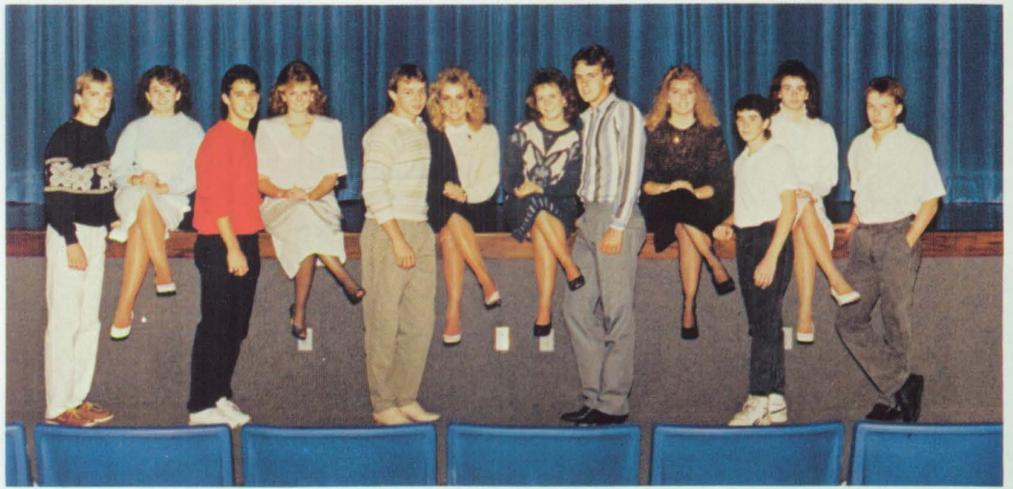

Thursday night the junior and senior girls went head-to-head in a powder-puff football game. A bonfire was held after the girls' game.

The pep session added more excitement to the week, as students cheered on their classmates during the class competitions. The seniors won four out of the five events, including the tug-of-war and squirt gun race.

Friday evening was cold and wet as the Argylls lost to Elwood. At halftime, Kari Toulis and Don Rhoads were crowned queen and king. The other senior candidates were Kim Hamilton, Christy Pulley, Eric Clevenger, and Brad Hiatt.

1987-1988 FASHIONS

As each year ends, many styles also diminish. This year, the ne Obliviscaris staff made a collection of popular styles at the North Park Mall.

The colors most frequently seen were earth tones and pastels consisting of peach, khaki, green, and pink.

Jeans were found in shades ranging from white-washed and frosted to deep black denim.

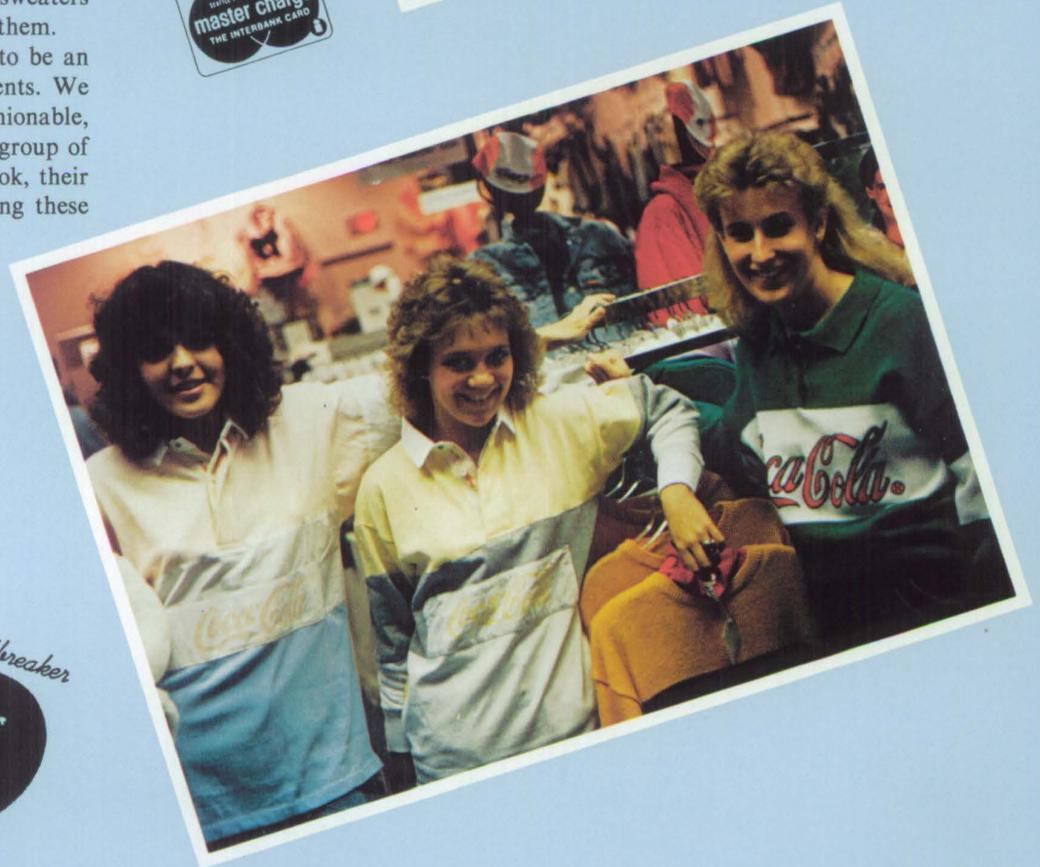

Girls and boys wore Reebok tennis shoes and hiking boots to school. And to keep warm, they were seen in many different styles of jean jackets.

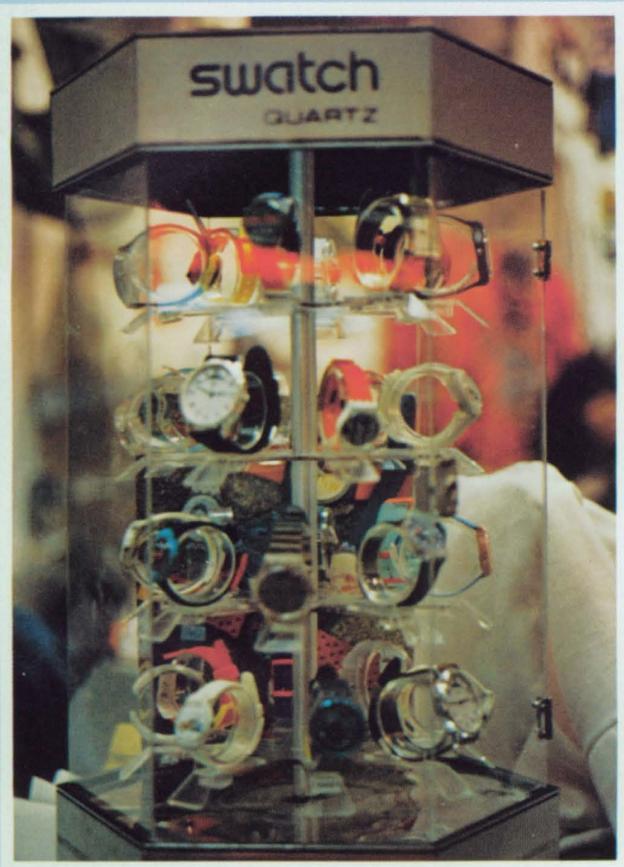

A major necessity among the teenagers was a swatch watch. Swatches came in many different colors and styles. And, of course, it had to be accented with a colorful swatch guard.

Midway through the season, a new style became very popular. The new cropped look became evident in sweaters, sweat-shirts, and blouses. It was long enough to be approved of by parents, but short enough to be loved by teenagers.

Miniskirts were also very popular again this season. The stores haven't failed the girls in providing new great-looking outfits. The guys weren't hurting either. There were many new and nice-looking sweaters and pants that were available to them.

The 1987-1988 season proved to be an extra special year for M-G students. We were not only comfortable, but fashionable, too. In years to come, when this group of students look back at this yearbook, their grandchildren may also be wearing these very same styles.

Seniors

SENIOR . . . a word that truly "ties it all together." As young first graders, graduation day was miles away. We saw our older brothers and sisters graduate, and thought, "Some day that's going to be me." But as we worked our way through our thirteen years of school to our Senior year, we realized that maybe the time had not passed so slowly. Suddenly, it was time to plan for the future and begin to turn our dreams into realities. As we received our diplomas on our graduation day, we discovered that all our experiences and memories of high school "tied together" to help us to prepare for the decisions we would have to make as we entered our adult lives.

Good luck in the future to the Madison-Grant High School graduating class of '88!

Exchange Students

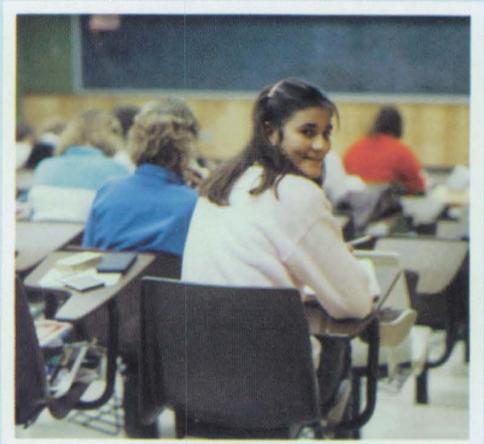

Every year Madison-Grant welcomes exchange students to our school. This gives an opportunity for our students to learn about the culture and customs of other countries, while showing our visitors the American way of life. This year six exchange students are attending Madison-Grant. They are: Laurent Briffaz of Switzerland; Anna Daussa from Spain; Rikke Hansen, Denmark; Sander Oom, Netherlands; Almudena Sanchez, Spain; and Martijn van Lawick van Pabst, Netherlands.

Laurent Briffaz concentrates intently on the basketball game.

Anna Daussa flashes a Spanish smile in study hall.

Juniors

As a junior, a M-G student takes on many more responsibilities. It is up to the junior class to provide the senior class with a nice prom, and in order to do so, they have to work together early in the year to raise enough money. In 1988, the junior class sold M-G Argyll seat cushions and worked in the concession stands at basketball games to raise the money needed.

The junior year is a time of decision making. Many students elect to begin vocational schools while other juniors take the PSAT test as preparation for the SAT they will take their senior year. Choosing a college is on the minds of many juniors.

A student's junior year is often the last worry-free year he will have. After being at M-G for three years, he is comfortable with the surroundings, yet after this year, he will be bogged down with future decisions.

Sophomores

Moving toward the halfway point of their high school years, sophomores are now planning for their futures. Many students are preparing for college by loading their schedule with academic classes. Other students are experimenting with vocational and business classes, but all are seeking an answer to the question, "What am I going to do when the next two years are over — when I graduate?" Thinking more about the present, a popular study for Sophomores as offered at M-G is Driver's Education. Many students already have their licenses thanks to this class.

A big purchase for the sophomores is a class jacket. The jacket has great symbolic value, showing the school's colors, the student's name, and the year the class graduates.

Freshmen

The school year would not be complete without the incoming Freshmen for the older grades to harass. They seem to help tie part of the traditions of high school together.

Along with putting up with this harassment, the incoming Freshmen also have to suffer through Mrs. Richard's speech class for at least one semester. They also find the building itself somewhat frightening and difficult to get around.

But among all of these bad aspects of being newcomers, Freshmen also have many opportunities opened up to them. There are many more clubs and sports which they may join just to name a few. The yearbook staff at M-G welcomes the class of 91. Good Luck!!

After having been injured in a four-wheeled vehicle accident in October, Dion Thomas died in an Indianapolis hospital on December 13. Although only here a short while, Dion made an impact on both students and faculty. Madison-Grant mourns the loss of Dion.

"MY BROTHER"

He was the one person I looked up to. He never had to "worry" about anything. For him it always worked out. So many times we hated each other. I thank God now that most of the times we said "I'm sorry." Maybe our lives were planned by God before we were born. Maybe that's how someone gets their personality and point of view. He could understand it if he knew he would not live long. Maybe that's why he wanted to do so much and he wanted to do it now. But it really hurts when I think about the things he wanted to do that he never got to do. So many times I was jealous of him. But now I'm envious of what a strong person he was. I think from Day One of his accident he knew death was coming. How he touched SO many hearts in so little time, I will never know until the day I meet him. This young boy of 16 touched so many people. I want so much to be like my brother. To be as brave as he was, to face his death the way he did, and leave the people he loved and who loved him behind. To me that is the greatest act of courage done by anyone, and it was done by MY BROTHER!

Organizations

The many different clubs are an important part of student life at MG. Through these clubs, students are given the chance to explore similar interests. Whether students are building piñatas, sponsoring a dance, or making crepes, they are all working together toward a common goal.

Activities of the clubs offered at MG consist of fundraising, helping needy children, bettering the community, and just having fun. Each member is given the opportunity to get to know others better by sharing his ideas and interests. To have a successful club, much time and patience is required by both students and sponsors. Each student leaving MG who has participated in an organization will have learned much about dedication to a goal and will have many fond memories.

Spanish Club

There were 105 students involved in the 1987-88 Spanish Club. Officers of the Spanish Club were President, Amy DeVault; Vice President, Stacey Chidester; Secretary, Dawn Bohlander; Treasurer, Gaye Jarvis; Recreation, Shanda Brown, Carlos Bryant, and Mellissa Reeves.

The Spanish Club enjoyed many activities during the school year. Among these activities were dining at Chi Chi's, sponsoring a Christmas party, and participating in National Foreign Language Week. The group sold T-shirts, buttons, bumper stickers, and nachos to encourage the use of foreign languages.

French Club

Dr. Calvert, the new French teacher at M-G, sponsored the 1987-88 French Club. The club participated in many different activities this year. Members enjoyed a fall party and a Christmas party. The group sold carnations for Valentine's Day. French Club members joined together with Spanish Club members to participate in various activities during Foreign Language Week. One of those activities was an after-school party at which our five foreign exchange students spoke. Members of the French Club were given the opportunity to try some delicious French delicacies on their field trip to La Tour restaurant in Indianapolis. Gummy bears were sold to raise money for this trip.

French Club officers were President, Craig Cole; Vice President, Jodie Hummel; Secretary, Vicki Sneed; Treasurer, Chris Jones; Recorder, Alice Gibson; and Recreational leaders, Stephanie Morrison and Sheila Barton.

Drill Team

M-G's Argylettes has almost doubled in size since last year. They coordinate dance and music to produce exceptional performances. The Argylettes practice almost daily to perfect their performance as best as possible. So at the next game be sure to applaud those girls for all their work.

Band

Mr. Donald Lamb, the director of M-G's bands has the final say so when it comes to music. M-G's band has never had a problem when it comes to getting the Argyll beat! Full of excitement and hot air, the M-G band is appreciated this year and every year. The band competes each year in several competitions.

Mr. Lamb directs the band through a song.

Young Artists

Young Artists is a group of talented M-G artists who are serious about their work. This is a by-invitation only group that puts many long hours into producing some excellent work. This club is conducted by Mrs. Susan McConnell who enjoys working with these people on their projects. This group meets after school one day a week. These people are the people responsible for the windows of the school being decorated at Christmas. They also take field trips to museums located nearby.

Rikke Hansen steps back to admire her work.

Hoosier Boys' & Girls' State

Boys' & Girls' State is held for one week each summer at Indiana State University at Terre Haute. Four Madison-Grant High School students attended Hoosier Girls' & Boys' State this past summer. The two girls were Jodie Hummel and Missy Harbit. The two boys were Craig Cole and David Chastain.

Boys' and Girls' State is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The delegates learn about government by participating in a city and a county on each floor and in each dorm. They learn how to run for office and carry out their responsibilities by participating in elections for the city and county offices of state level at Girls' or Boys' State.

Ski Club

Here are few ski club members stopping in a pose before eating some chow.

Ski Club is one of M-G's larger clubs. This club has been growing since it began only three years ago. The sponsors this year were Mrs. McConnell, Mr. Kildow, and Mr. Strasemeier. The club goes to Swiss Valley each year and a few other ski resorts near Indiana.

SPEECH TEAM

The 1987-88 "Talking Argyls" have gone through a readjustment period this year with their new coach, Menda Wright. Presently a Taylor University student, Menda hopes to one day become a speech/communications teacher. Carolyn McGee also helped the speech team by returning as their assistant coach.

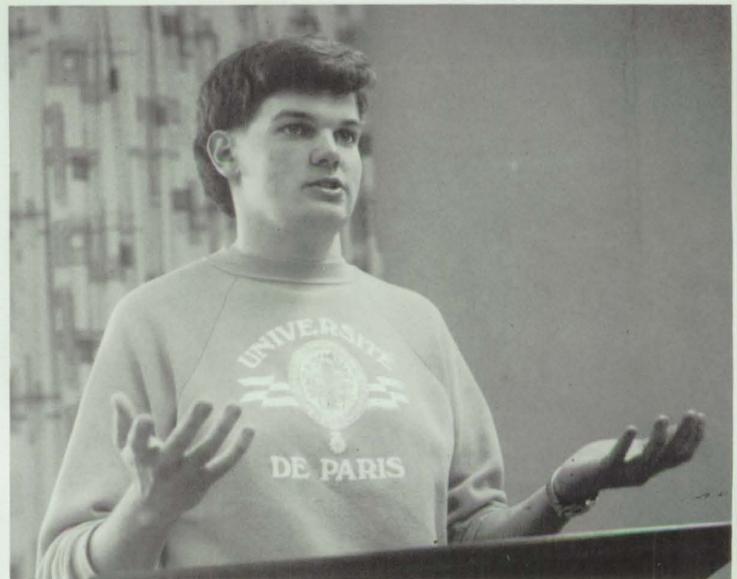

The officers of the 1987-88 "Talking Argyls" are: President, Vicki Sneed; Vice President, Craig Cole; Secretary, Janet Sickman; Treasurer, Lisa Key; and Historian, Tony Meiring.

Each of the 24 members of the speech team put in many hours of hard work and dedication. Their season begins and ends when school does. Most of their meets are on Saturdays. The members usually leave at 5:30 a.m. and return at 4:30 p.m.

Although the demands are great, the rewards are too. From being on the speech team, one can gain poise and self-confidence which is needed to succeed in the "real world."

Thespian Society

The Thespian Society began the year by electing its officers: President, Suzy Gordon, Secretary and Treasurer, Brad Fields, Reporter, Viki Rollins, and Historian, Vicki Sneed.

With the help of their sponsor, Mr. Sharkey, the club performed "Pillow Talk" and "People vs. Maxine Lowe." Dedicated members put in much time and hard work to make these performances a success. A cast party was enjoyed by all following "Pillow Talk."

ARGUYS N' GALS

Time, practice and effort are three of the main ingredients the Arguys N' Gals put into their group. The group, under the direction of Jane Sharkey, performed for various clubs, companies, nursing homes, churches, schools, and at contests.

The main attraction of the Arguys N' Gals is the show in the spring. The show includes a variety of singing, dancing, skits, and just plain fun.

The officers for the Arguys N' Gals this year were; President — John Coder, Vice President — Eric Clevenger, Secretary — Christy Pulley, Treasurer - Anita Marley, Librarian — Missy Harbit, Historian/Reporter — Garin Gough.

Campus Life

Good times, fun and fellowship are what Campus Life is all about. Discussing problems and giving solutions to teens, having parties and making new friends are some of the things that are done at Campus Life meetings. With the help of a staff from Taylor University and sponsor, Mr. Earnest, students discuss current happenings and have a lot of fun! This year's events included a Burger Bash, Lock-ins, and a Spring Break trip to Florida. The Florida trip, taken with other schools in the area, was a good time in the sun. With all this, no-one is ever bored.

SADD's officers for 1987-88 are, President — Brooke Soultz, Vice-President — Sheila Barton, Secretary — Holli Eastburn, Treasurer — Kristi Hiatt.

SADD sponsored the Henry Lee Summer concert on Sunday, November 22.

Mr. Dave Strasemeier is the advisor of M-G's SADD club. He was also in charge of the concert.

SADD club will also have a SADD week sometime during the year to help prevent other students from driving drunk.

Student Council

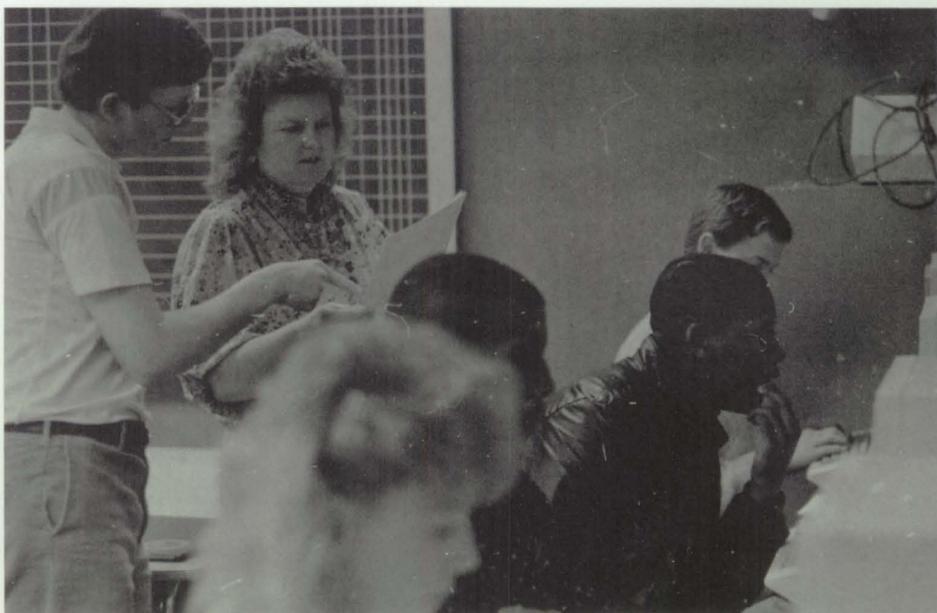

The Student Council went through many changes this year. The year began with the new sponsor, Miss McClurg. After she took a job at Ball State, Mrs. Brown, the new accounting teacher, took over.

Among the activities the Student Council participated in this year were Homecoming, an all school skating party, and a dance. Several members of the council attended the state Student Council convention and many participated in the Student Council exchange day, where members spent the day at another county school.

The officers this year were President, Katie Stitt; Vice President, Shannon Underwood; Secretary, Christy Pulley; and Treasurer, Christy Vetor.

Future Homemakers of America

Future Homemakers of America was designed to help students develop their skills in home economics. The club also works towards stressing the importance of the home by its service in the community.

This year the FHA held their annual Halloween party, Christmas children's party, bowling-pizza party, and Mother-Daughter banquet. Members also enjoyed a Jafra Cosmetic Demonstration, a teacher tea, and a field trip to Turkey Run State Park.

The officers of the Madison-Grant chapter of FHA are President, Lisa Fuller; Vice-President, Karen Watson; and Secretary, Lynn Hartley.

Members enjoyed many games at the FHA Halloween party.

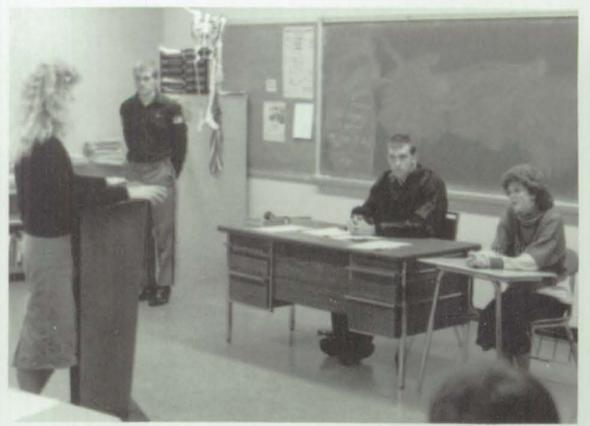

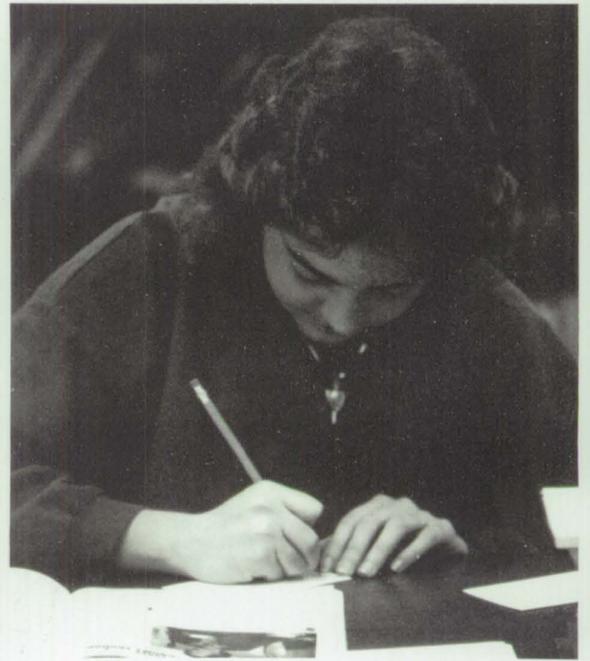

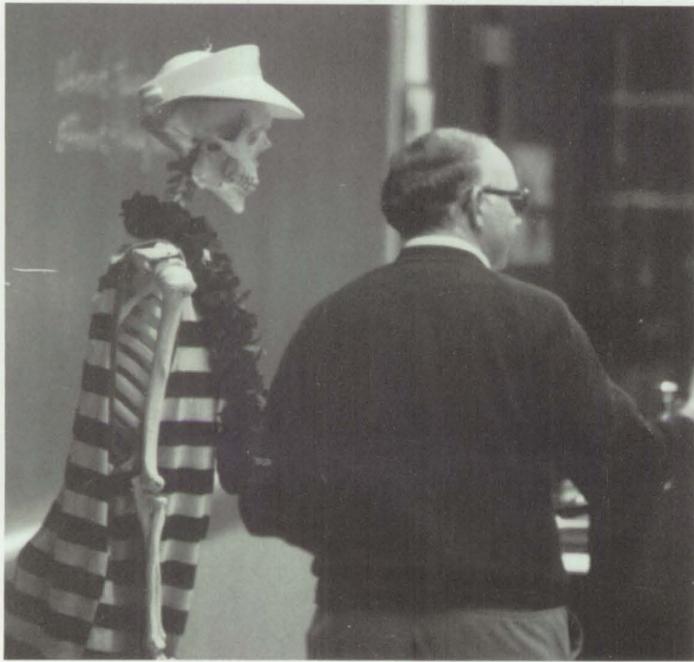

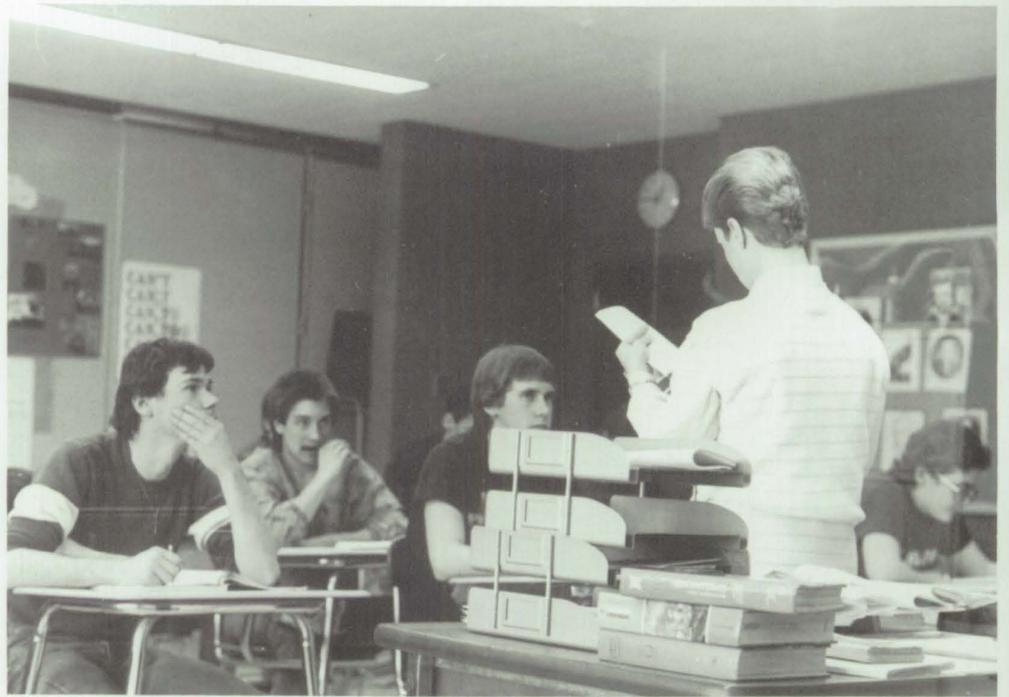

Mr. DeRossett and FFA member Judd Underwood smile for the camera.

Future Farmers of America

There are 25 students involved in the Madison-Grant chapter of Future Farmers of America. The leader of the group, Mr. Mason, guides the students through many projects. This year members competed in many different soil, crops, dairy, livestock, and poultry contests and judgments throughout the state.

Academics

Madison-Grant provides an excellent educational opportunity for the youth of this community.

The education a student receives at M-G prepares them for a future in college, vocational school, or a job. With a faculty of forty-five, M-G has a very good faculty to student ratio.

Because of the new state law, students are required to have thirty-eight credits to graduate, selecting classes from — English, math, science, p.e., health, and social studies. The class of 1989 must enroll in and successfully complete four years of English, two years of math, two years of science, two years of social studies, and one year of physical education.

Teachers and administrators have a great part in providing a good education, but it is up to the students themselves to take advantage of the educational opportunities at Madison-Grant.

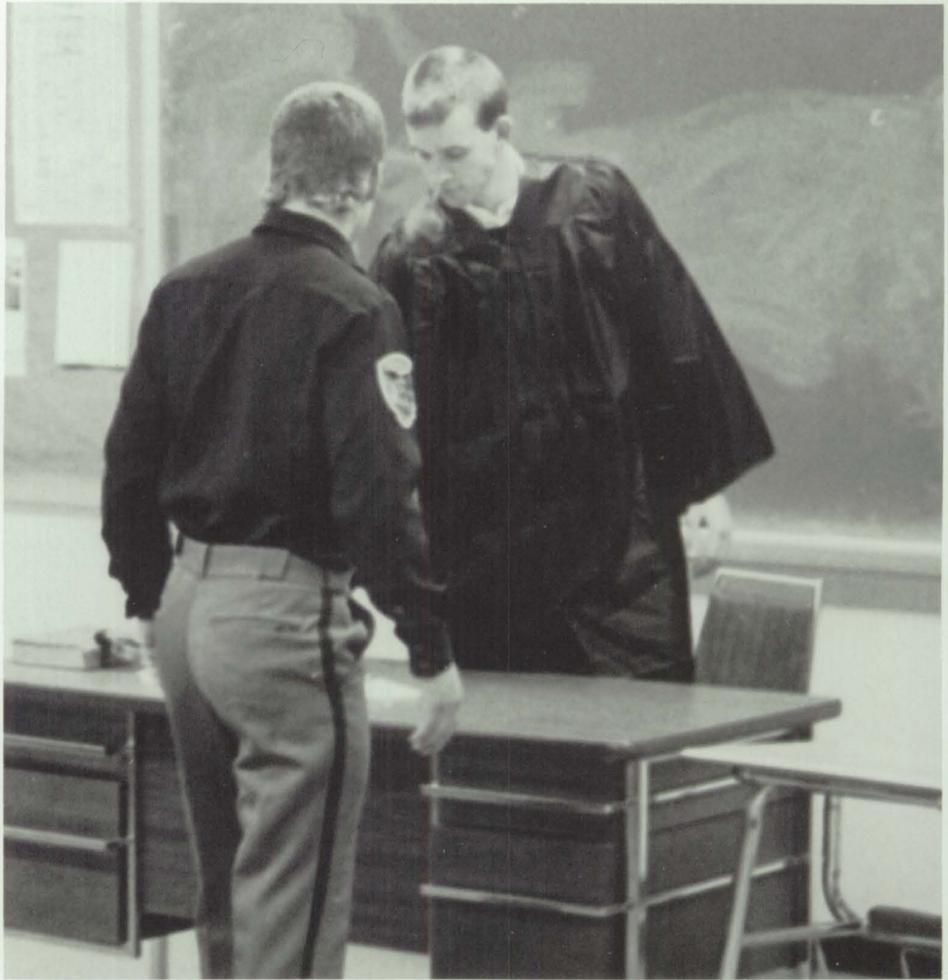

Business

The business department has seen many changes this year with the leaving of Miss McClurg, who went to work for the Ball Corporation as an executive. Miss McClurg was replaced by Mrs. Brown; Mrs. Brown has lived in the community for several years.

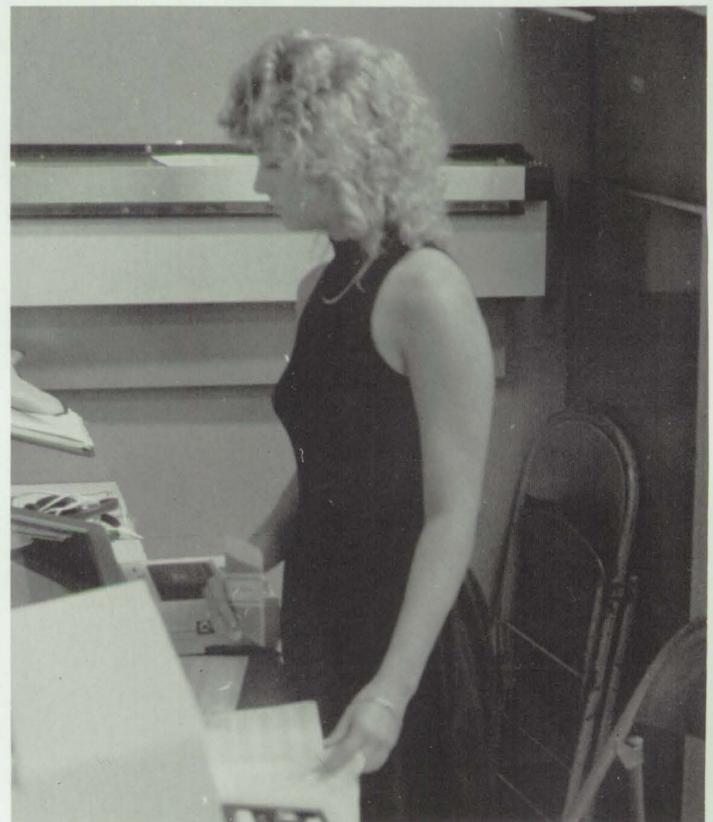

The business department offers a course for every student whether he is college-bound, technical-school bound, or job-bound. The department offers typing for each group of students. The business department also offers shorthand, computer literacy, business law, general business, record keeping, and accounting.

The teachers in the business department are Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Gallo, Mrs. Bragg, Mr. Holloway, and Mrs. McIntosh.

Rick Martin plays the part of a judge in business law while Eric Treon plays the part of court clerk.

Stephanie Morrison transcribes in Office Machines.

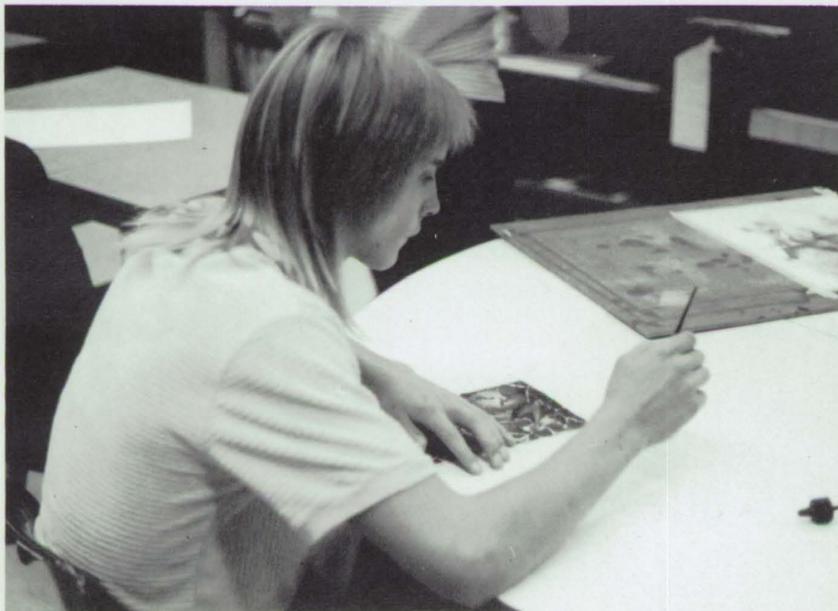

Christi Monts works on the word processor in Office Machines.

ART

This year Madison-Grant offered a stained glass class which along with Basic Art, Drawing, Ceramics and Painting are all taught by Mrs. McConnell. The painting class is two hours long. Students learned that it may take many tries and a lot of practicing before they reach the finished product. Students also develop their own special techniques. Students' artwork is featured in the display case out in the front of the cafeteria, and also at the Arguys 'n Gals spring show.

Staci Jefferies works as Mrs. McConnell's Assistant.

M-G windows show the talent of art students.

SCIENCE

The Madison-Grant Science department offers eleven different courses in all areas of Science. Courses range from General Science, Life Science and Biology for the beginning science students to Physics and Advanced Chemistry for the student who desires a stronger science curriculum. Students who take science classes have the opportunity to learn about the natural world plus science offers a challenge to those students seeking answers by experimentation and calculation.

Mr. Earnest explains the chemistry problems on the board.

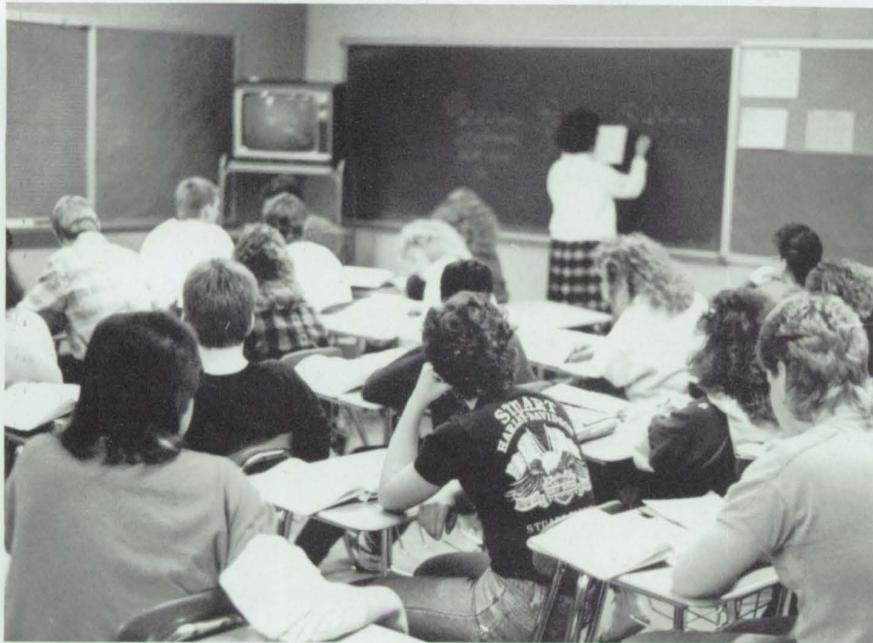

Students show different forms of study habits in biology class.

Students listen attentively in chemistry class.

Jenny Dunlap and Christy Vctor work on an experiment.

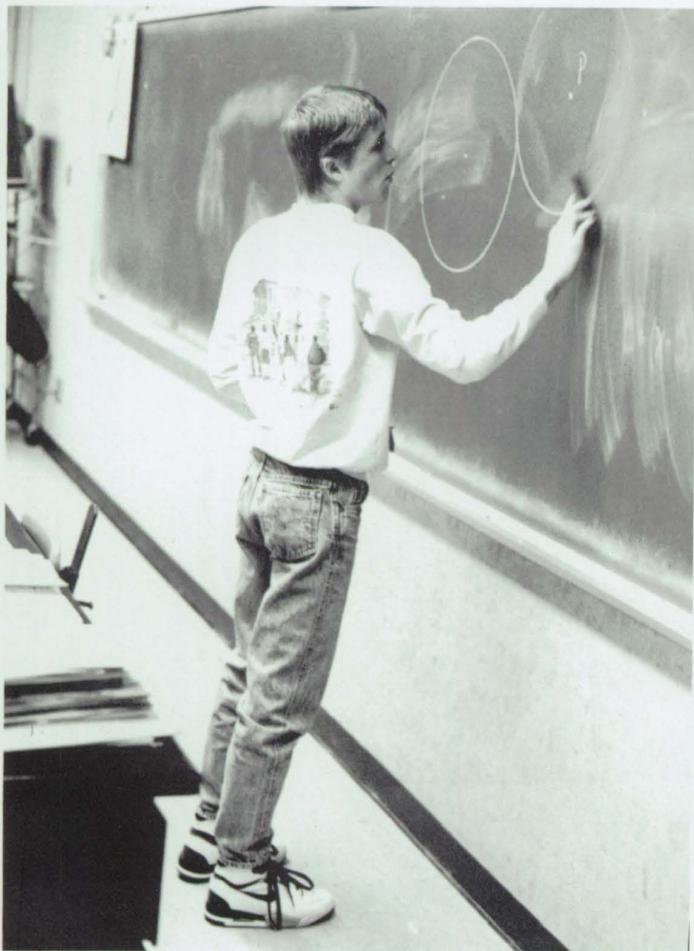

MATH

Mrs. Dunlap explains a problem while students look on.

Randy Ratliff works at the board in Mr. Bach's room.

A basic math background is a must in our daily lives. Students are taught many different methods of solving problems in math classes. Whether one is totaling up a grocery bill, figuring the interest on a mortgage, or working as an accountant, good math skills will be needed in the future. Madison-Grant students are required to take 2 years of math; with six teachers working full or part-time, the math department is able to offer a variety of courses from General Math to Calculus.

Jim Dunham and Lori Curless do their math homework.

Mr. Palmer helps Shane Jeffries with his math.

Mrs. Herring helps her college prep students with their term papers.

English

All Madison-Grant students are required to take eight semesters of English throughout their high school years. In English class students learn about all aspects of grammar usage, work on composition skills, writing themes and paragraphs, and read widely from many different areas of literature, both American literature and the writing of other countries. Classics and contemporary works are studied. Vocabulary study and spelling are also stressed.

There is also a college preparatory class available to seniors who plan on further education. These Seniors prepare a term paper and do advanced composition in preparation for college work.

Sophomores select books from the book fair sponsored by the English Department.

Mrs. Burnett lectures during English class.

Mrs. Hull and a group of juniors pose with her Christmas card display.

Mrs. Richards demonstrates to her students the proper way to give a speech.

Students study hard for the "big test."

April Haisley, Shawn Hollingsworth, Travis Davis, and Aaron Taylor take notes.

Mrs. Richards shows her admiration for James Dean with her poster display.

Speech

All freshmen are required to take Mrs. Richard's speech class. This semester class earns the student one credit and counts towards the four English credits needed for graduation.

In this class students learn the proper way to give speeches. They also learn about advertising, theatre, and basic communication skills.

Although many students are nervous at first about speaking in front of a class, they find later that this experience helps them with other classroom assignments.

Top students in the class who enjoy speaking often become members of the speech team.

Home Economics

In the past, Home Economics was for girls, but in today's modern society, Home Ec. appeals to the boys, also. Whether they will live in an apartment at college, on their own during their working years, or help their wives, the guys are realizing that home ec. skills are needed.

Various courses taught in the Home Economics department include Interpersonal Relations, Family Management, Handcrafts, Clothing, and Foods.

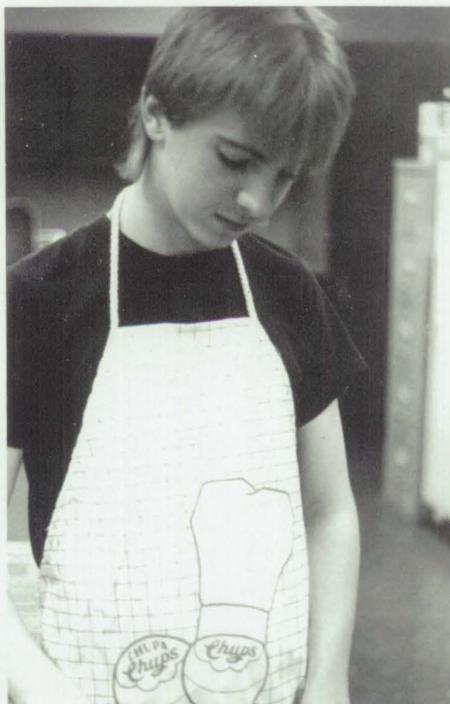

In clothing, students make simple clothing articles such as jackets, skirts and blouses. Handcrafts teaches skills such as knitting, crocheting, embroidery, counted cross-stitch. Various foods, such as quick breaks, yeast breads, meats, and pizza are prepared by the food classes.

Family relations and Interpersonal relations help the student to deal with the daily problems and stresses of everyday life.

Rachel Idlewine works on perfecting her craft.

Missy Pettigrew, Mrs. Clevenger and Cindy Day study a project.

Rob Holloway, Eddie Purvis, and Jeff Corliss work on the theory that men are the best cooks.

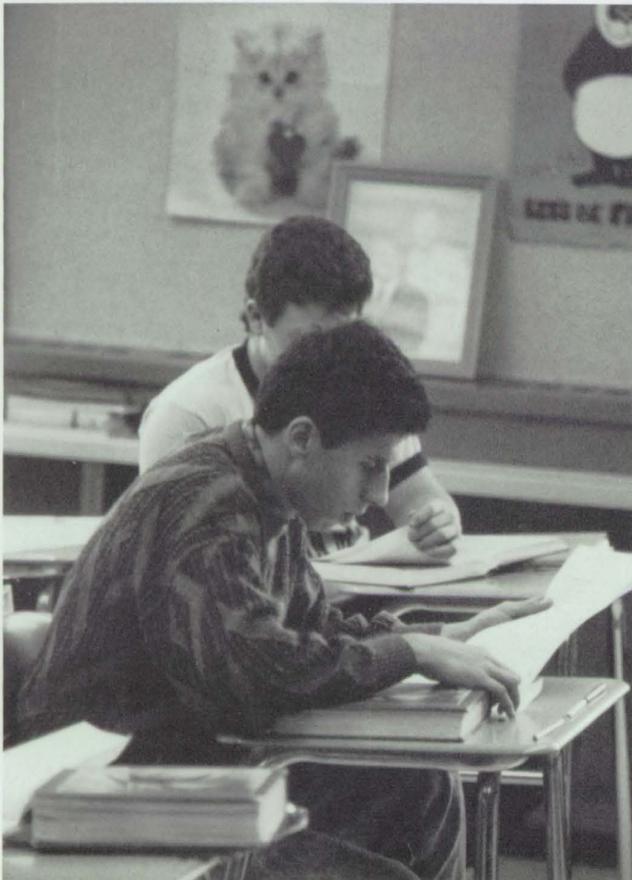

Social Studies

The Social Studies department welcomed back a familiar face, but to a different position, with the return of Mr. Brian Kirkwood. Mr. Kirkwood taught U.S. History and World History in the 1987-88 school year.

All Madison-Grant students are required to have two years of Social Studies. Fulfilling 1½ years of the requirement, students are required to take U.S. History and Government, but there has been a large increase in the number of students taking Psychology or Sociology as their Social Studies elective. It appears that students at Madison-Grant want to know how we act and why we act the way we do. Teachers in the Social Science department include: Mr. Badger, Mr. Bennett, Mrs. Burnett, Mr. Kirkwood, and Mr. Stone.

Mr. Kirkwood lectures as the class looks on.

Laurent Briffaz, and Trent Jones study in Mr. Badger's history class.

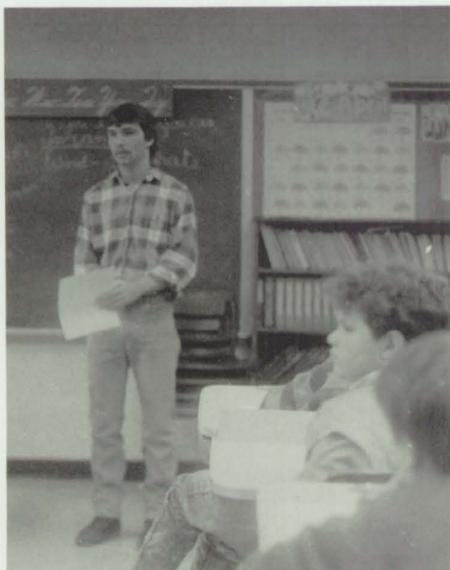

Seniors in Mr. Stone's Government class work on a test.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Stacy Chidester, Dawn Bohlander, and Amaranta Selby participate in a Spanish skit.

The foreign language department offers students a choice of studying either the French or Spanish language. The first year of both languages is centered around basic vocabulary and everyday conversation. First year classes consist of asking directions, speaking about the weather, using numbers and colors, as well as learning basic verbs and adjectives.

The goal of the advanced foreign language classes is to become fluent in their language. Students in advanced classes are given the opportunity to teach their language to elementary students.

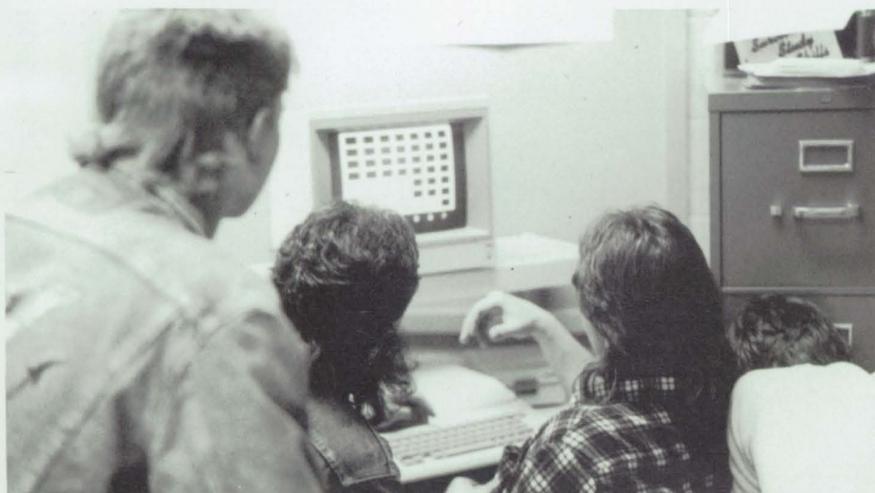

Tony Meiring teaches French to 5th graders at Park elementary school.

"Hey Chadd! Parlez Vous Francais?"

Janet Sickman points out something amusing.

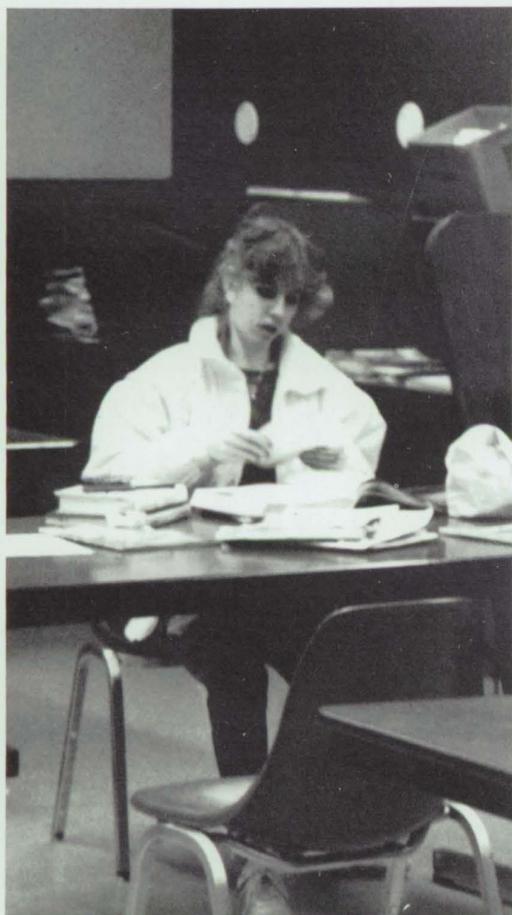

SPECIAL EDUCATION AND LEARNING DISABILITIES

Students with Learning Disabilities work out a problem on the computer.

Kim Felver works on her studies.

Mrs. Foshee is wrapped up in her work with her students while Miss Hellman assists.

Special Education is a class that aids M-G students with their learning difficulties. Besides special education there is also a class for learning disabilities. A learning disability doesn't mean that students can't adapt to other classes or subjects but that they have difficulties in certain subjects. Miss Hellman's special education students spend several hours each day in her classroom, but also take other classes such as Chorus, Home Ec. Industrial Arts, P.E. and Health. Mrs. Foshee works in the junior high in the morning and in the high school in the afternoon. She assists students with their homework.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS AND AGRICULTURE

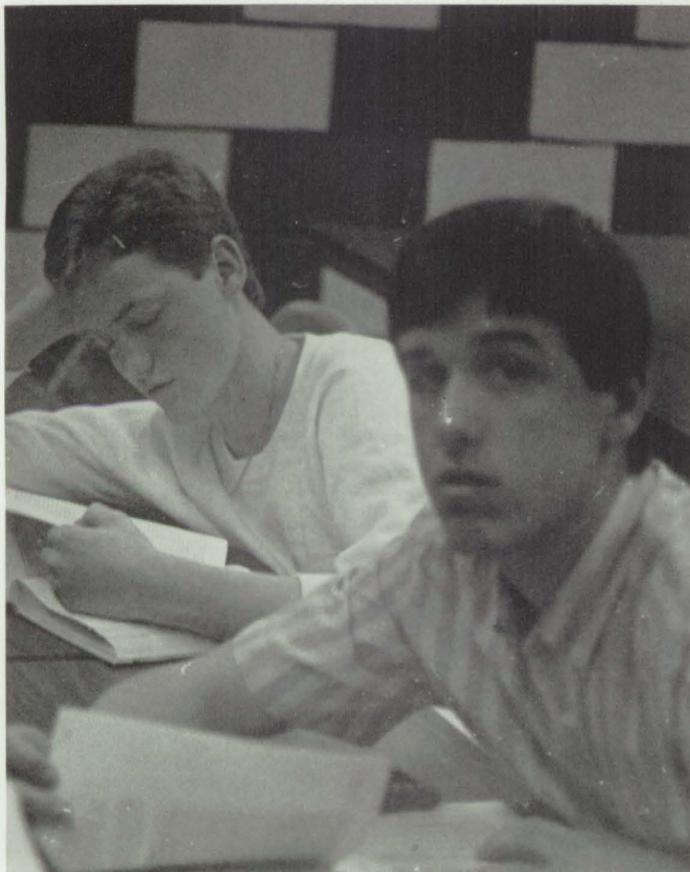

The Madison-Grant Agricultural department consists of four classes taught by Mr. Mason. The classes are: Farm Management, Farm Mechanics, Soils, and Crops. Students who plan an agriculturally related career might enjoy taking advantage of these classes. The Industrial Arts department consists of a variety of classes including Woodworking, Metals, Basic Electricity, Drafting, and Photography. These courses prepare students for careers in carpentry, welding, etc.

Students work on projects during drafting class.

Mr. Rickard watches as Robert Leach and Gene Brown work on a project in Woods class.

Ryan Retherford and Kent Phillippe show their enthusiasm for Ag. class.

A group of freshmen work on their Industrial Arts project.

BAND

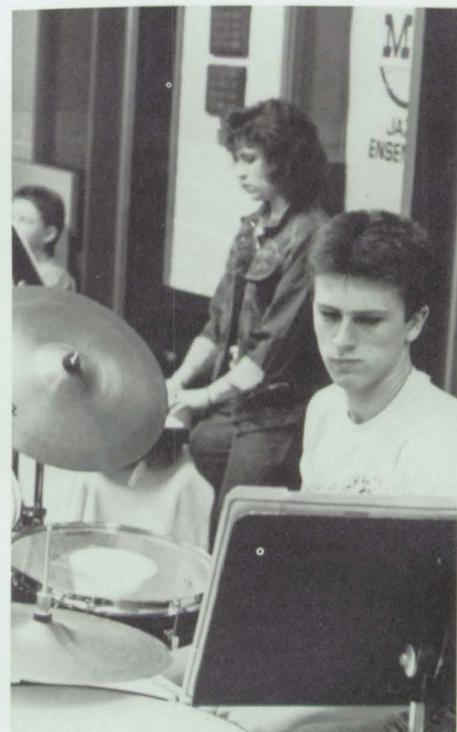

Many students who are musically inclined chose to express their talent in band. The band, directed by Mr. Lamb, participates in many contests and shows. Band members can elect to be part of the Jazz band, the Pep band, the Dixieland band, in addition to the Concert band. The band placed both at district and state contest and gave three shows for the public.

Kari Hasty, Michelle Sparks show their enthusiasm in band class.

Mr. Lamb conducts the band as they play.

Vicki Rollins, Shane Kirkpatrick and Brent Brewer practice their saxophones.

HEALTH

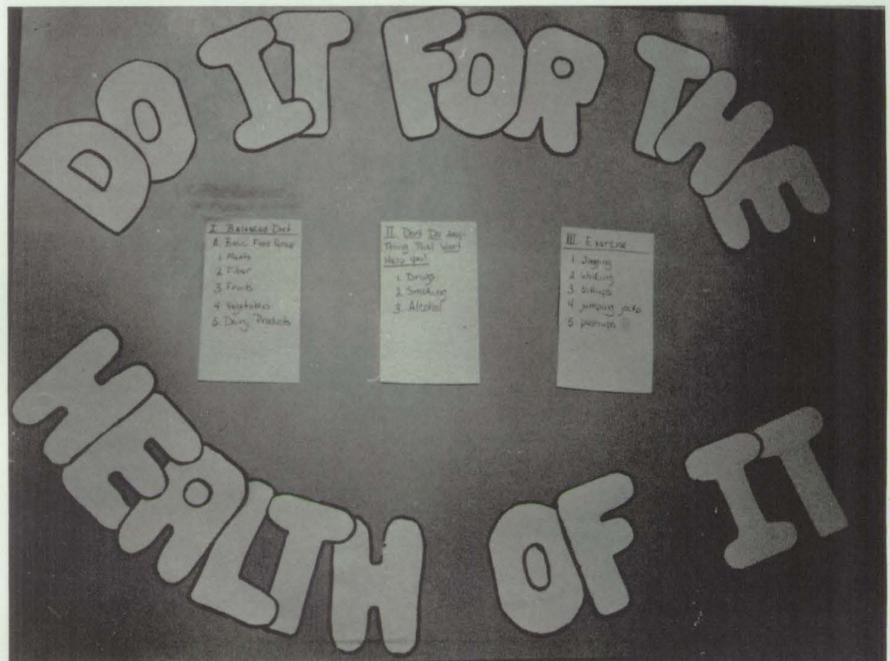

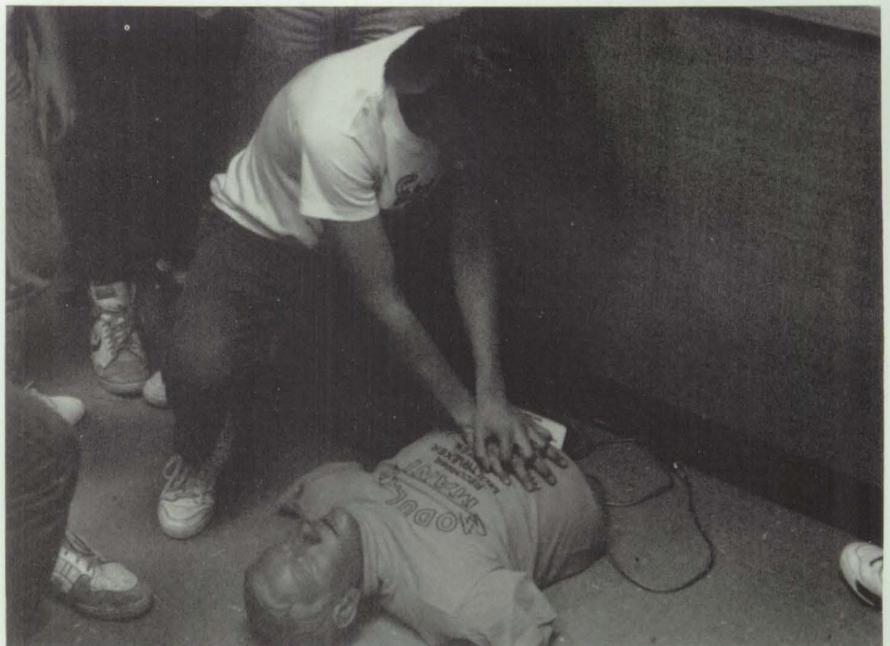

During their sophomore year students are required to take health class. In health students cover topics such as emotions, diseases, first aid, sex education, and the effects that drugs have on your body and mind. The students also perform CPR. Learning the right way to stay healthy is an important part in the health class.

Kyle Wallen practices his CPR techniques on Mani.

Bulletin board in health room features a helpful hint.

Susan Kellum lectures as the class looks on enthusiastically.

Susan Kellum explains the assignment as the class checks their work.

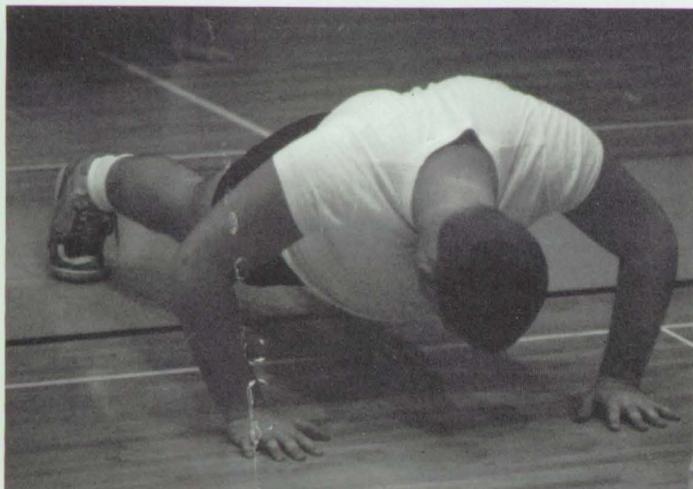

Mr. Kildow takes a little jog with his P.E. class.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

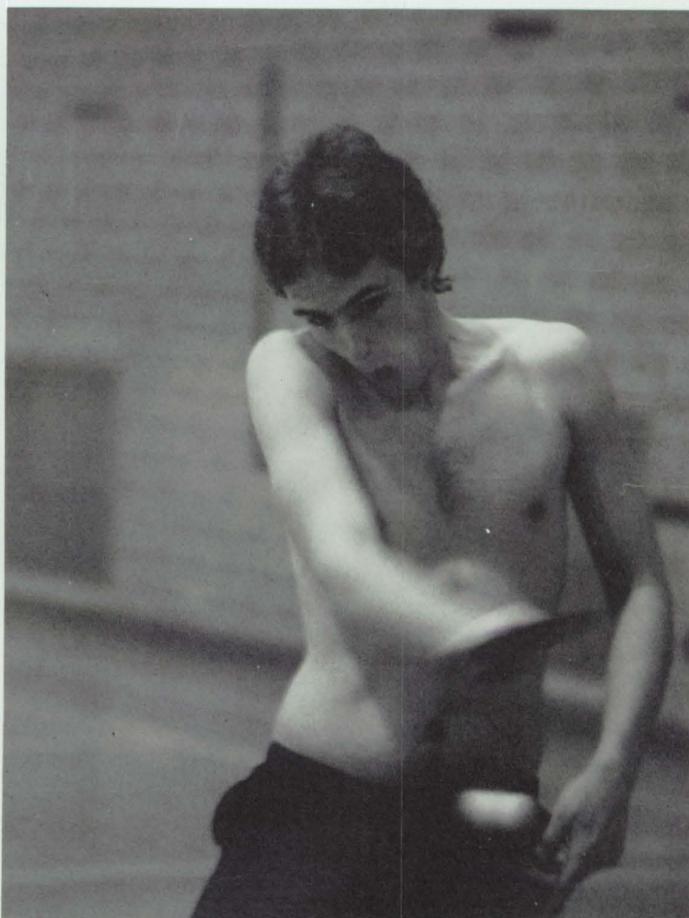

Physical development is just as important as academic development. Students should exercise on a regular basis throughout the school year. This is the purpose of the Physical Education class. Students are required to take two semesters of P.E. During this time students learn game strategies and benefit from the exercise. Students participate in basketball, track, baseball, gymnastics, golf, kickball, and volleyball. As a result of this participation, students not only develop individual skills but also team cooperation.

K. Miller does push-ups with great energy.

Students listen to guest speaker during P.E. class.

Brad Hiatt expresses the difficulties of ping pong.

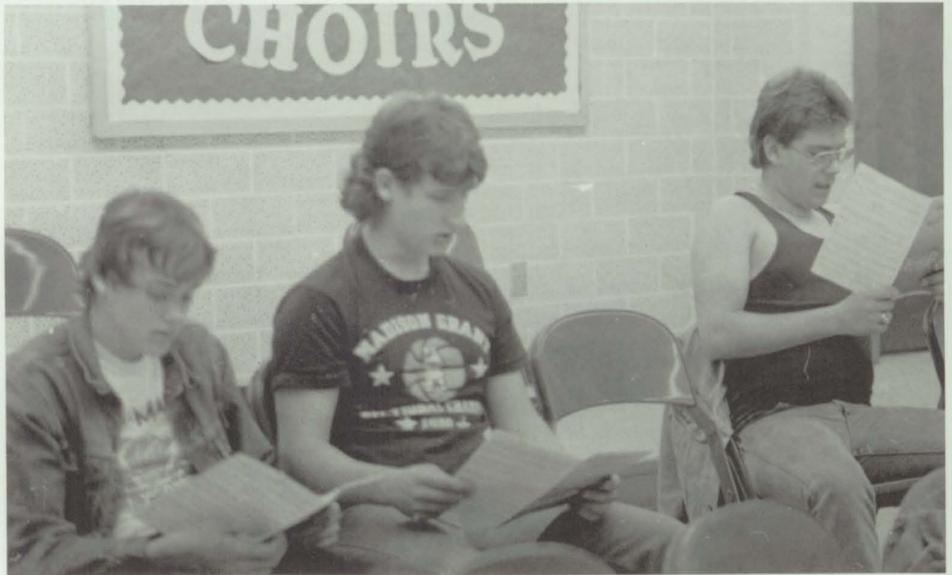

CHORUS

For some students choir class is a part of the daily schedule whether it's beginning choir, Girls choir, Concert choir, Varsity mixed choir or Arguys and Gals. Be it work or fun, the choir classes give students a chance to develop different talents and give them a change from the normal routines of the day. Students study vocal techniques, sight reading, and ear training using a variety of music.

Chorus members study their music.

This trio is bound to become famous someday.

Members of the girls' chorus class practice around the piano.

STAGE AND THEATRE

A new class offered this year was Stage and Theatre. Taught by Mrs. Richards it is a class designed to show students how to use the auditorium. The class learned to do lighting, sound, and sets for plays. They also presented their own play, GREATER TUNA, which was seen by some 4th hour classes and presented to the public in the evening. Students also assisted with the fall play "Pillow Talk."

YEARBOOK

Journalism is a class open to juniors and seniors, recommended by their English teachers, who have an interest in newspaper and yearbook production. Students are taught the basics of newsgathering, reporting, photography, newspaper lay-out and advertising. Through the year, the class is responsible for the production of eight newspapers and a 176 page yearbook. Each student must perform a wide variety of tasks, including selling advertisements, as well as the yearbook, itself. Each student is responsible for the completion of a section of the yearbook; these sections include academics, organizations, sports, class albums, and advertising. Students will find this class beneficial in preparing them for a career in the field of journalism.

The '87-'88 Argyll Action staff included: Editor, Garin Gough; Assistant Editor, Tony Meiring; Copyreaders, Jill Payne and Anita Marley; Layout, Dawn Thomas and Jason Thompson; Photographers, Scott Carpenter, Eric Clevenger, Martyn Van Lawick Van Pabst; Features, Missy Harbit, Kari Toulis, Scheri Stanley, Mark Hasty, Christy Pulley, Jenny McGibbon, Christa Cornwell; Adviser, Mrs. Janice Hanes.

TEACHERS TIE IT ALL TOGETHER

*"Tying it

Sports

Madison-Grant offers a variety of sports for both girls and boys. For the boys, M-G offers cross country, tennis, football, basketball, wrestling, track, baseball, and golf. For girls there is volleyball, basketball, tennis, and track.

About one-third of the students at Madison-Grant participate in sports and this number seems to be growing.

As a member of the CIC, M-G's greatest opponents seem to be Mississinewa, Alexandria, and Tipton.

Through victories and defeats, M-G students who participate in sports benefit from their hard work, dedication, and experience.

Cross Country

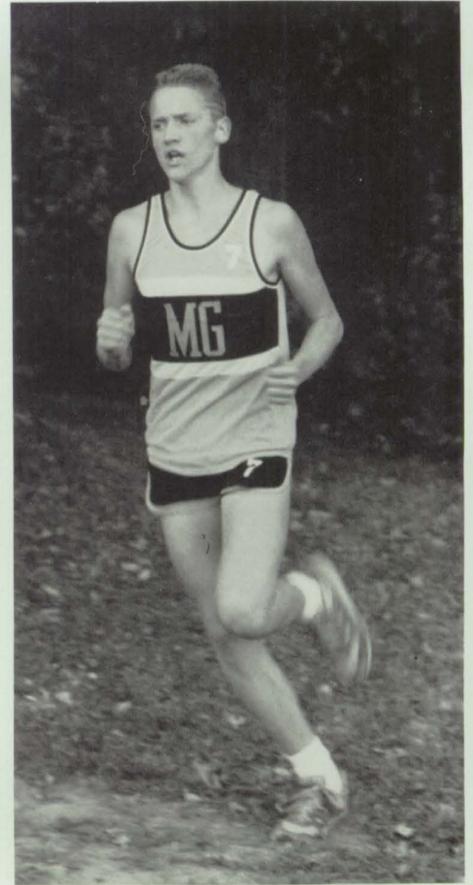

The Madison-Grant Cross Country team had a good season this year, under head coach Terry Martin.

The Argylls finished fifth in the sectional and advanced to the regional for the first time in the school's history. The team also finished second in the Grant Four meet.

Senior Mark Hasty paced the Argylls throughout the season, but the entire team contributed to its success. The team will have five varsity runners returning for next year's season.

Boys' Tennis

The Madison-Grant Varsity Tennis Team had a disappointing season, but the team is young and they need time to polish their skills.

The new coach this year was Terry Jeffries, taking over for George Fratus.

The members of the varsity were, Singles 1) Peter Selby 2) Marc Rosenthal 3) Greg Brummet. Doubles 1) Eric Clevenger and Scott Dailey 2) Doug Hanes and Cam Hindman.

The members of the reserve were, Singles 1) Scott Carpenter 2) Rick Williams 3) A.J. Riggs. Doubles 1) Bill Hart and Jeff Walker 2) Jim Dunham and Martyn van Lawick van Pabst.

Football

The 1987-1988 football team finished their season with a 5-5 record. This year's team had a lot of potential and most of the senior starters were in all conference. These seniors are as follows: Willie Stevenson, Jim Robinson, Ted Davis, and Donny Rhoades. Congratulations to all four of these guys on their accomplishment. The team captains were Jim Robinson, Donny Rhoades, and Jeff Kelich. There are a lot of underclassmen with great ability who will be stepping up there and taking their places. We are proud of our Argyll football team and wish them the best of luck in the years to come!

Volleyball

The 1987-1988 varsity volleyball team spent the year learning with their 13 wins and 18 losses. Coached by Miss Karen McClurg, the team will be losing three seniors, Jenny Dunlap, Amy Hoppess, and Stacie Treadway.

This year's varsity team consists of three seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores.

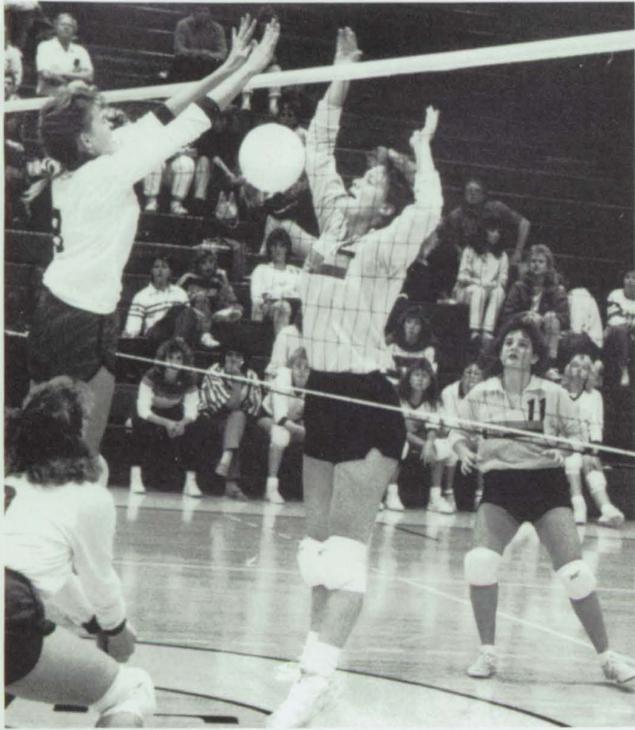

The junior varsity had a year full of learning experiences with 7 wins and 8 losses. The j.v. was coached by Cherie Solms. There is a lot of potential in the j.v. team and there is hope for more victories from both teams in the upcoming years.

Amy Chastain starts off the game with a powerful serve.

Golf

The golf team had a record of 4-8 this year. John Coder had the lowest average of 40 per nine holes.

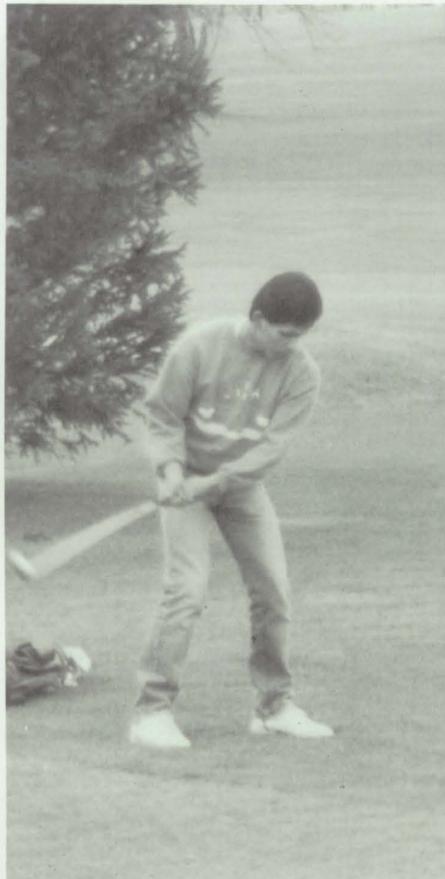

Members of the varsity were: Jeff McHenry, Steve Tudor, John Coder, Doug Hanes, Jeff Leckron, and Andy Pack, who played on the B-team also.

Members of the B-team were: John Callahan, Kevin Holland, Greg Fields, and Pat Fitzjarrald.

With only three seniors, John Coder, Kevin Holland, and Steve Tudor, next year's team should start out strong.

Girls' Tennis

Angie Armstrong attempts to return the ball.

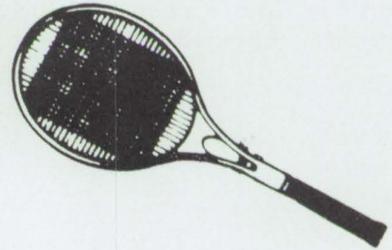

Amy Hoppes works on her form while her doubles partner, Amy Chastain, looks on.

The Girls' tennis team did not have the best season this year, but with only two seniors leaving, the team will have plenty of experience for next season.

The members of the varsity were: 1) Christy Pulley 2) Brooke Soultz 3) Jennifer Hoke. Doubles: 1) Amy Hoppes and Amy Chastain 2) Angie Armstrong and Amy Alexander.

The members of the B-team were: 1) Monica Bunch 2) Darcy Pierce 3) Michelle Kline. Doubles 1) Lisa Key and Kathy Hamilton 2) Jenny McGibbon and Hyla Chastain. Other members of the B-team who rotated in were: Angie Gross, Brandy Pyle, and Lauren Downing. The managers were Sherry Retherford and Sheila Barton.

Wrestling

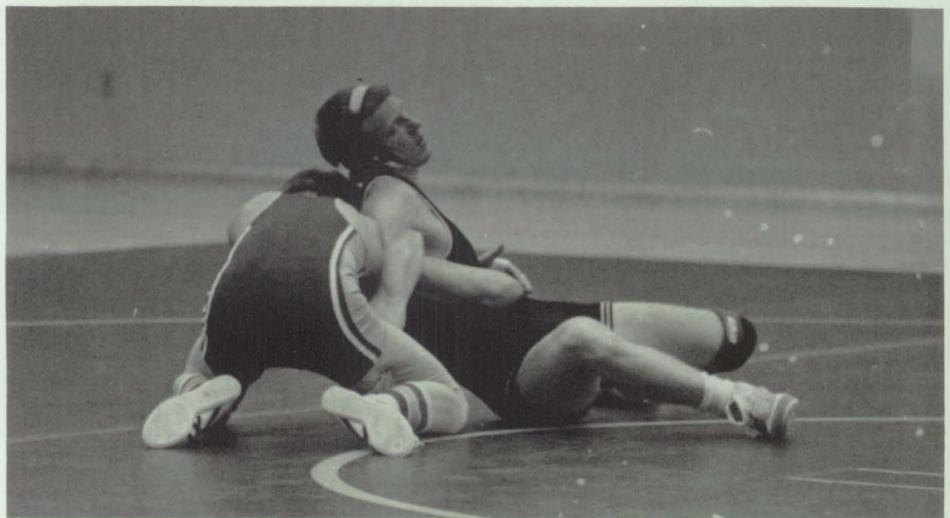

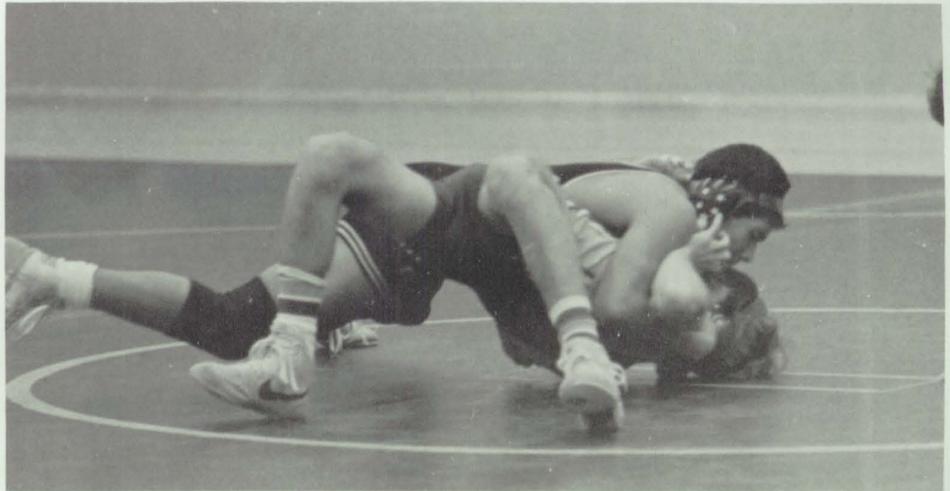

The wrestling team, coached by Mr. DeRossett and Mr. Snyder, had an impressive season this year with a record of 8-3. The j.v. only lost two meets all season. John Callahan led the team with a record of 25-5, 17 of those were won by pins.

John Puente, Rich Robbins, Jim Robinson, and Scott Sprinkle made it to regionals, and John Callahan made it all the way to semi-state.

Coach DeRossett was proud of the team. This was a young team and with a little work over the summer, and competing in more tournaments, the team will improve even more.

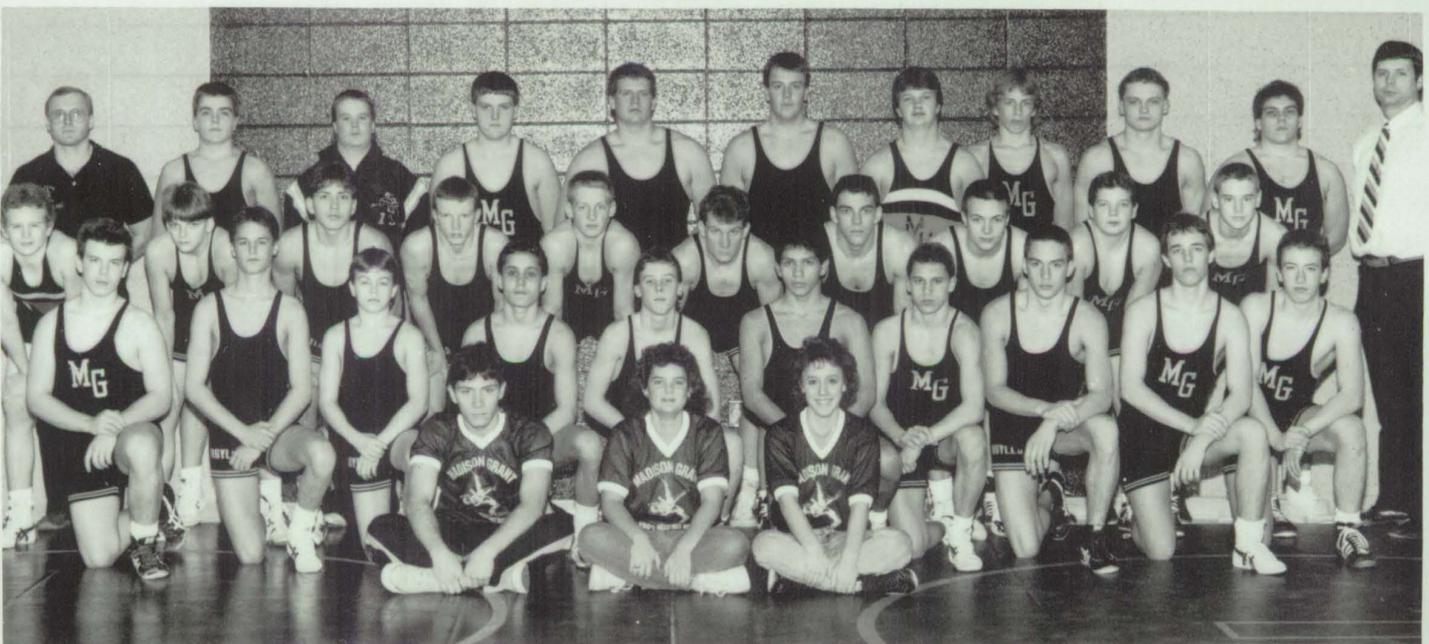

Eight members of the team were named to the all county all academic team.

The seniors this year were Matt Gallo, Curt Hull, Rich Robbins, Jim Robinson, and Judd Underwood.

Varsity Basketball

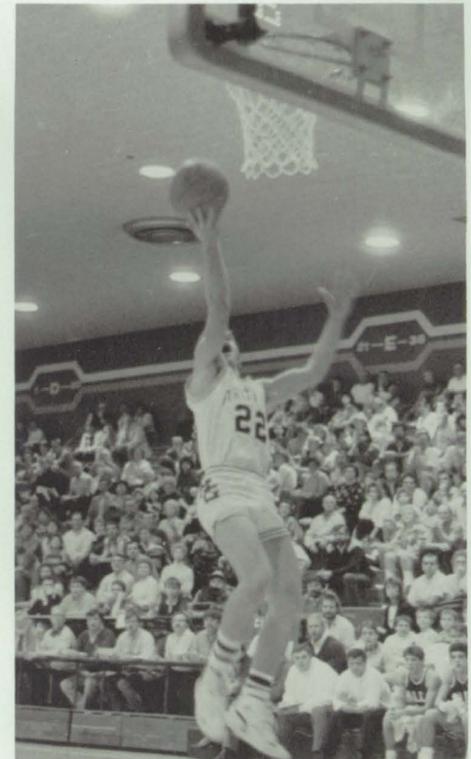

The Varsity Basketball team finished with a record of 12-11, and 4-3 in the CIC, but that does not indicate what an exciting year it was. The Argylls went to Bill Green Arena to play in the sectional and came home sectional champs. They beat Bennett and rival Mississinewa.

They went to regional ready to win, but their dreams were smashed when Norwell beat the Mighty Argylls in the first game.

This is a young team with only two seniors, Matt Rosenthal and foreign exchange student Laurent Briffaz. One can expect great things from this young team in the coming years.

Reserve Boys' Basketball

The Reserve team had an 8-12 record this year under Coach Summers.

Todd Butcher led the team in scoring with an average of 11.4 points a game. Bryan Carey, Ryan Retherford, and Brian Baldwin all averaged around 4 points a game.

Todd Butcher led the team in rebounds, Scott Love led the team in steals, Dave Blalock led the team in assists, and Chad Rudy led in defense.

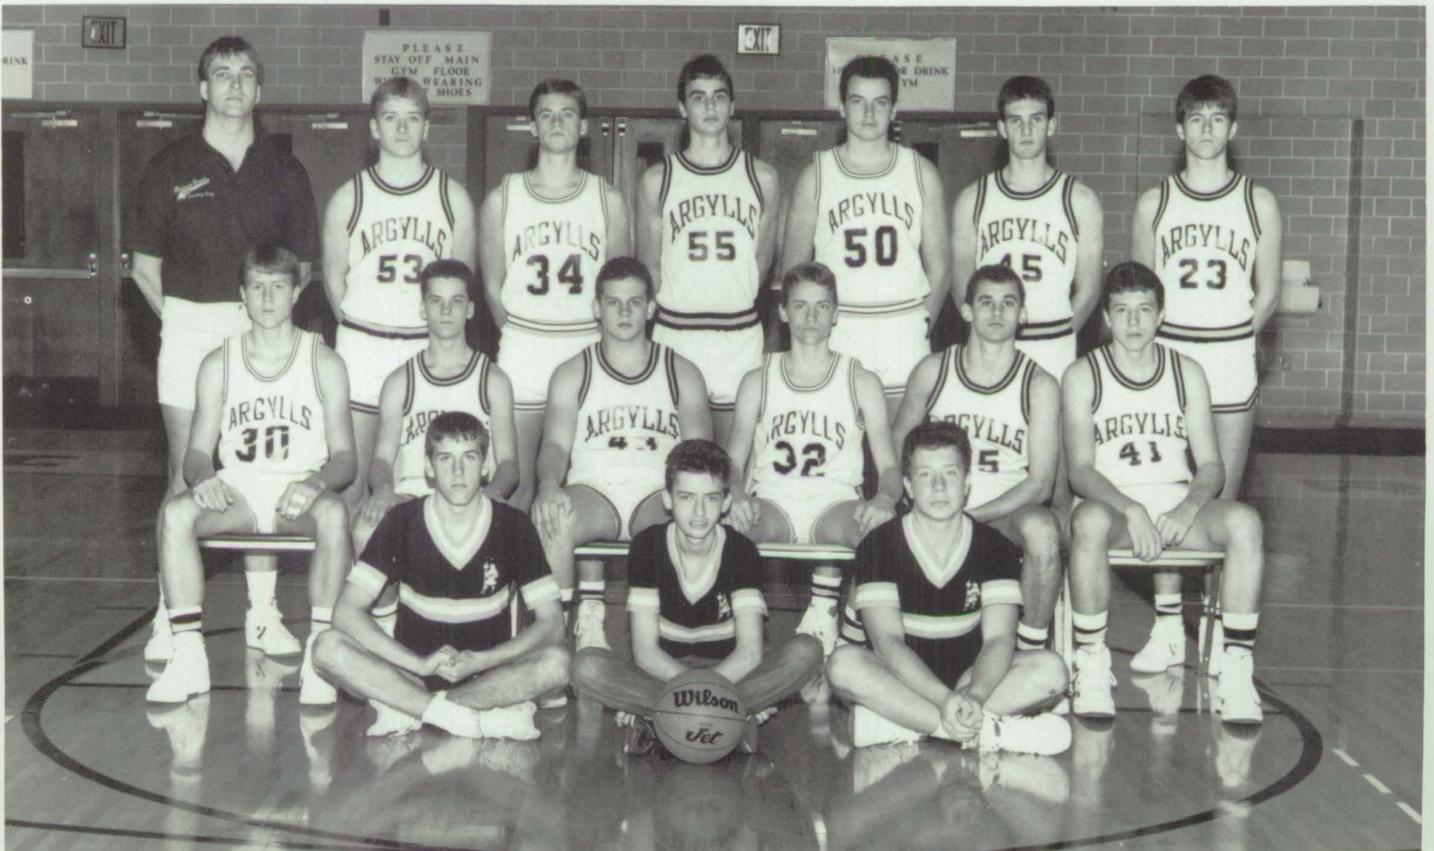

One of the greatest moments of the year was Brian Baldwin's sixty foot shot at the buzzer to beat Peru by one point.

Freshman Boys' Basketball

The Freshman A-team finished the season with a 6-10 record, and the B-team finished with a 7-4 record.

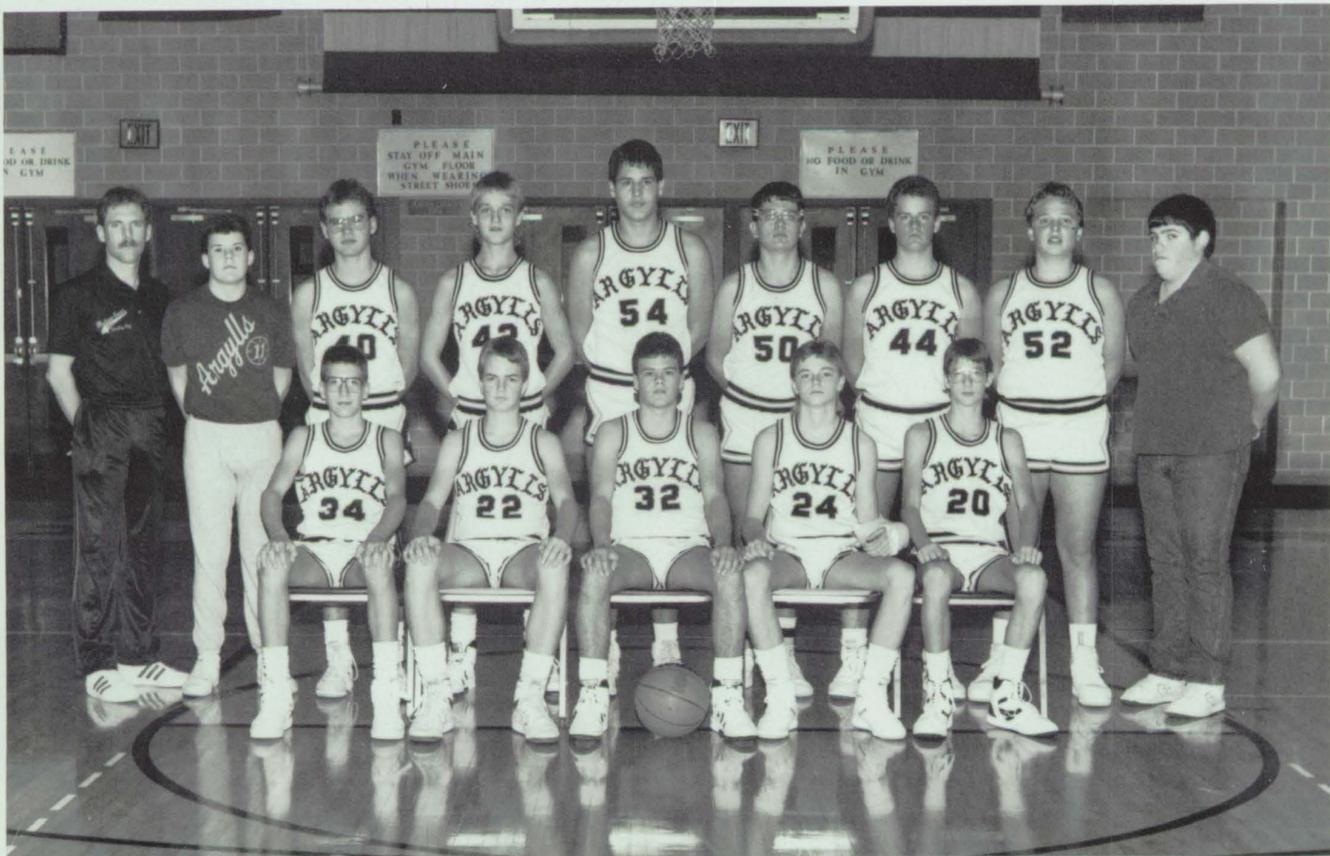

Coach Brian Kirkwood said that the kids put in a lot of hard work and effort throughout the year, and it was exciting to watch them progress through the season.

The high scorers for the year were: A-team — Skip Lewis, Ryan Hanlon, and Chad Hinshaw. B-team — Chad Dickerson and Eric Davidson.

Ryan Hanlon led the A-team in assists and Chad Hinshaw led them in rebounds. Dan Yeater led the B-team in assists and A.J. Riggs led them in rebounds.

With the great skills that the Freshmen hold, we're looking forward to great teams in the future.

Corey McDaniels grabs a rebound.

Girls' Basketball

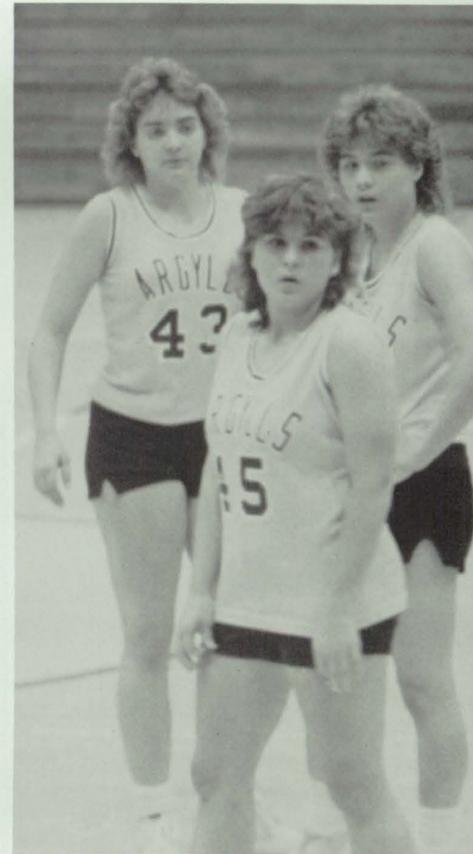

The Madison-Grant Girls' Varsity Basketball team finished their season with a 7-12 record under coach Robert Holloway. Although it wasn't their best record, they did upset two of the top-rated teams in our area: Alexandria and Eastbrook.

Jenny Dunlap led the Lady Argylls in scoring with an average of 18.2 points a game. Jenny was also named to the Grant Four All Tournament Team, the All County Team, the All Sectional Team, and the All Conference Team.

The seniors this year were Jenny Dunlap, Kim Hiatt, Mellissa Reeves, and Stacie Treadway.

The B-team finished the season with a 6-9 record.

Boys' Track

The M-G trackmen, under head coach Brian Kirkwood, ended their season with 5-6 record. Seven seniors will be leaving the team, but a lot of strong runners will be returning.

The team performed well at the CIC, with many individuals setting personal bests. Jeff Kelich won both the shot put and discus. He also set a new school record in the discus. Peter Selby won the 400 at the Grant Four and placed third at the Sectional.

Pete Selby, Jeff Kelich, and Matt Gallo advanced to the Regional.

Steve Vinson goes over the high jump bar.

Jon Bair gets ready for the gun.

Girls' Track

The girls' track team finished the season with a record of 5-5. Senior Katie Stitt placed first in the high jump at the Grant Four and Oak Hill Relays.

Jenny Dunlap set a new school record in the 3200 with a time of 15.25, and Mellissa Reeves lengthened her school record long jump mark to 19ft. 9½in.

The team finished 3rd in the Grant Four and 5th in the conference meet.

First year coach Bob Holloway will be losing eight seniors, but many experienced girls will return for next season.

Baseball

The 1988 Argyll baseball team had a fairly decent year. They had a lot of returning players, but they also gained talent from incoming underclassmen.

The team will be losing 3 seniors. These seniors consist of: Donny Rhoades, Tom Small, and Chris Hunt. Although the team will be at a loss, there are several juniors, sophomores, and freshmen that will be returning next year to make a name for themselves just as the seniors did. Through their season, the team has had their ups and downs, winning 5 games and losing 13. The Argylls will have time to grow as a team, so that one day they will all be able to smack one over the fence for a home run.

Chris Hunt is down and ready for the ball.

Argyll

The Madison-Grant Varsity and J.V. cheerleaders spent many long hours practicing for camp and competition last summer. The squads joined together to compete as a football varsity squad.

They received first place at the Madison County Fair in July and received many ribbons for their accomplishments at camp. They also competed at the Indiana State Fair, but did not place in the top 10.

The squads have been chosen for next year, and the girls are looking forward to making this summer as great as last summer was.

Hands up to the Argylls!

Freshman Cheerleaders: Lori Curless, Tisha Underwood, Mina Havens, Mary Ann Richards.

Varsity Cheerleaders: Jamie Curless, Brooke Soultz, Katie Stitt, Kim Hamilton, Leigh Ann Welborn, Shannon Underwood.

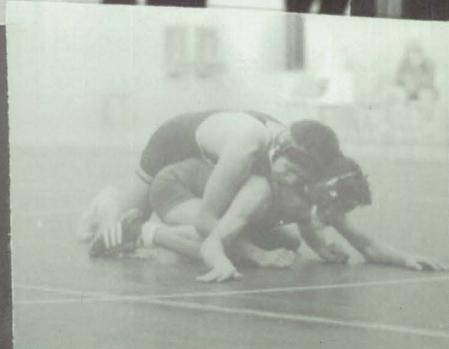

Cheerleaders

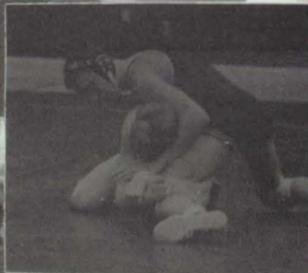

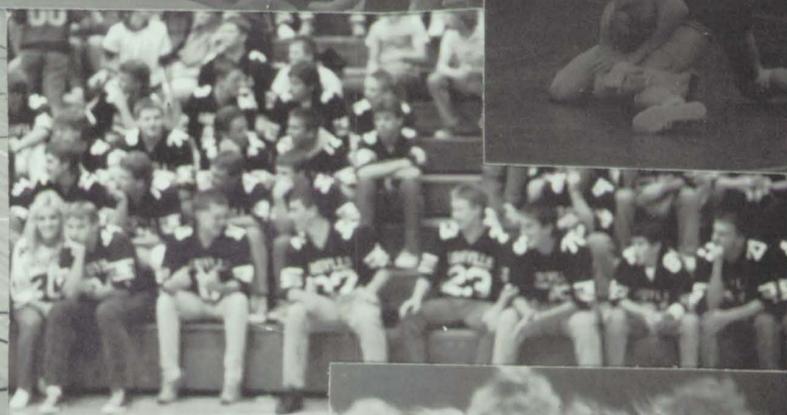

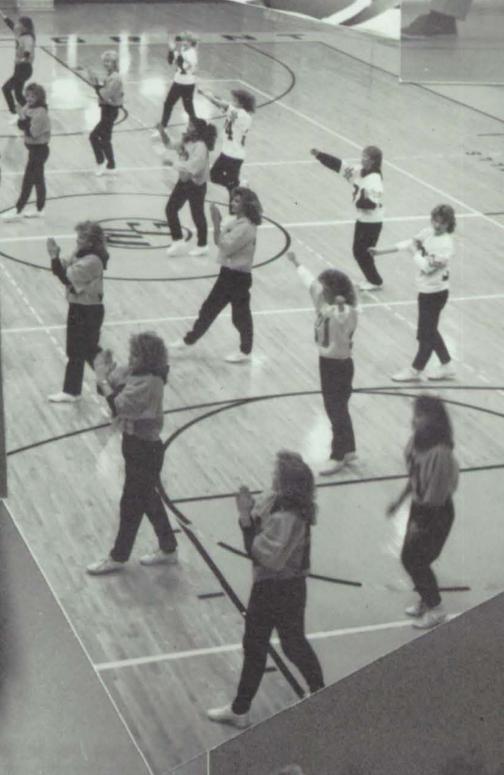

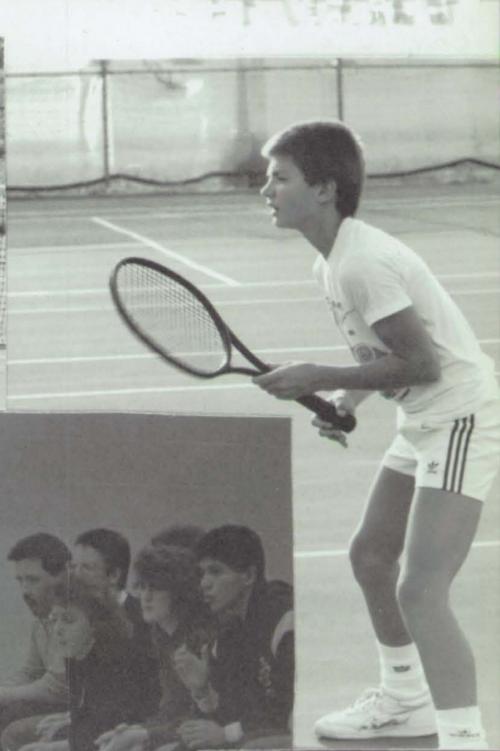

The squad shows their enthusiasm.

Sam Skeens and Mina Haven enjoy Kevin Holland's entertainment.

The school shows its Christmas spirit by putting up a Christmas tree.

The Art Club painted Christmas pictures on the windows.

Eddie Purvis and Tisha Underwood smile for the camera.

Spring Break

Spring Break is a time for students to get away from assignments and studying and concentrate on having fun.

Many spend their time catching rays, while others spend their time shopping or catching up on lost sleep.

Several M-G students went to Florida with Campus Life on their annual trip. While there, they went to Disney World, St. Augustine, and various beaches.

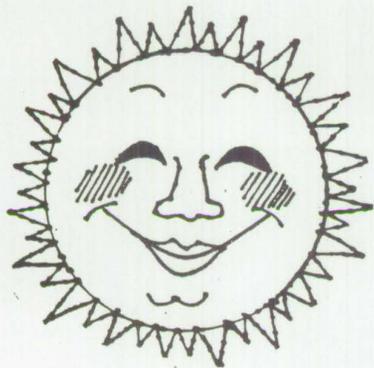

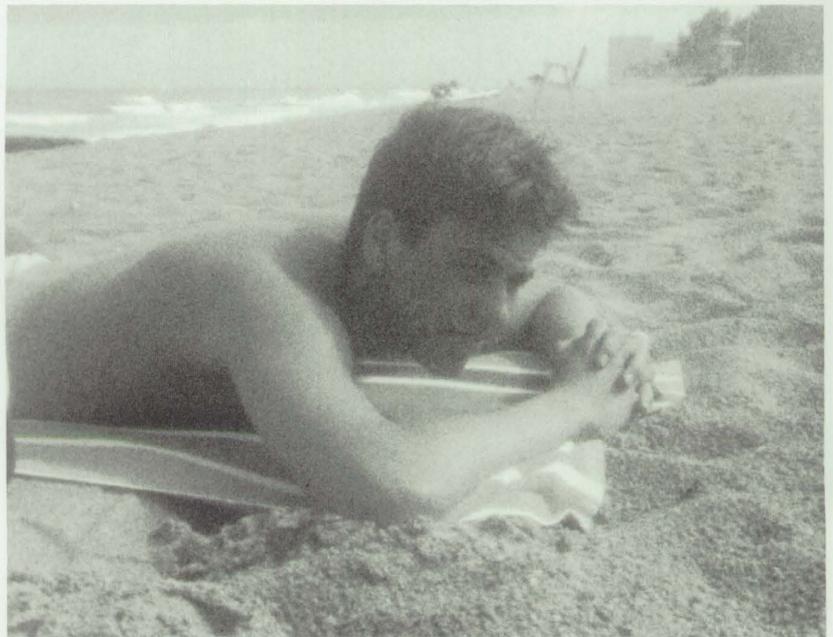

Other students went to visit relatives in other states to catch up on some serious sun bathing which could not be done here in rainy Indiana.

Wherever you were during Spring Break, the time was spent getting much needed relaxation. The school year would not have been the same without this week off.

A Campus Life staff member, John Coder, and Jeff Corliss show us their gymnastic ability while in Florida.

Chris Hunt relaxes on the beach.

Brad Hiatt tries to look cool as he looks over the water.

Campus Life members huddle together for a quick pic.

ACADEMIC

Each year two scholarship awards programs are held to honor students of outstanding academic achievement. The first banquet was held April 27. Thirty-one seniors and nineteen juniors received plaques, and the seniors were awarded paperweights.

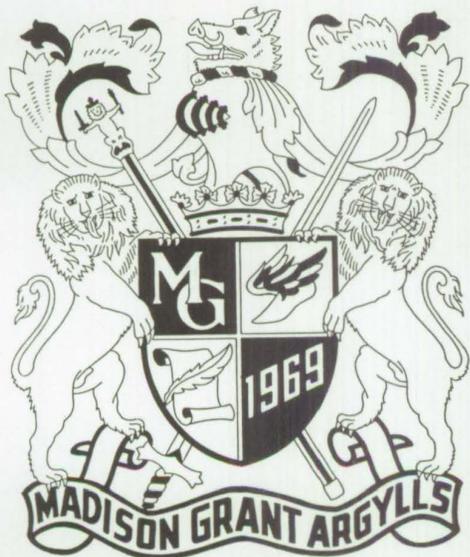

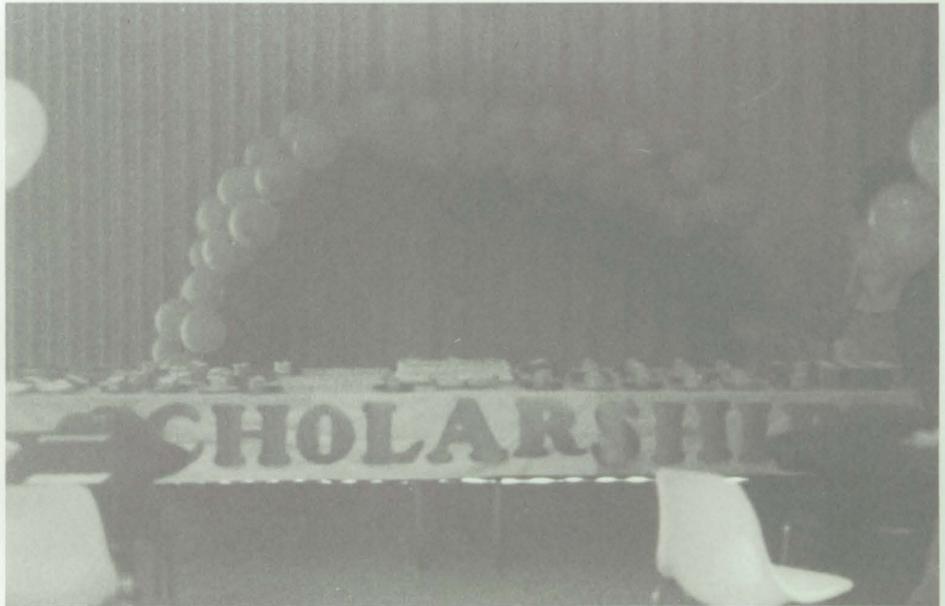

The second annual awards program was held on May 18. Many students were awarded scholarships and certificates for their achievements in various classes.

Congratulations to all of the M-G students who have worked hard for those high grade point averages.

Decorations at the scholarship awards banquet reflect the rainbow theme.

Parents and friends gather for the program.

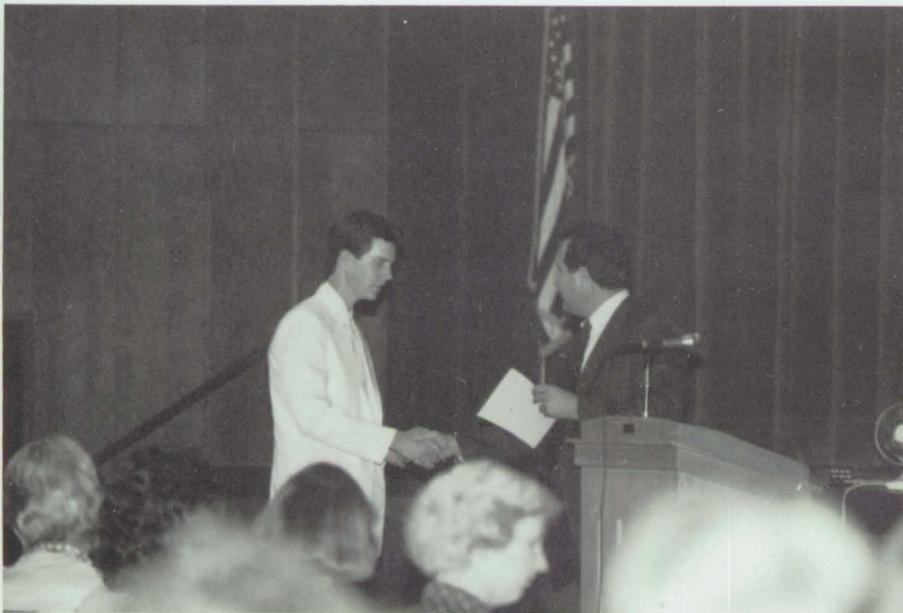

AWARDS

Mrs. Melson hands out awards to second year Spanish students.

Speech coach Menda Wright congratulates Vicki Sneed.

Seniors, Jenny Dunlap and Craig Cole are recognized by Mr. Earnest.

Mr. Earnest awards the Chemistry II certificate to Doug Hanes.

Holly Eastburn receives an art award from Mrs. McConnell.

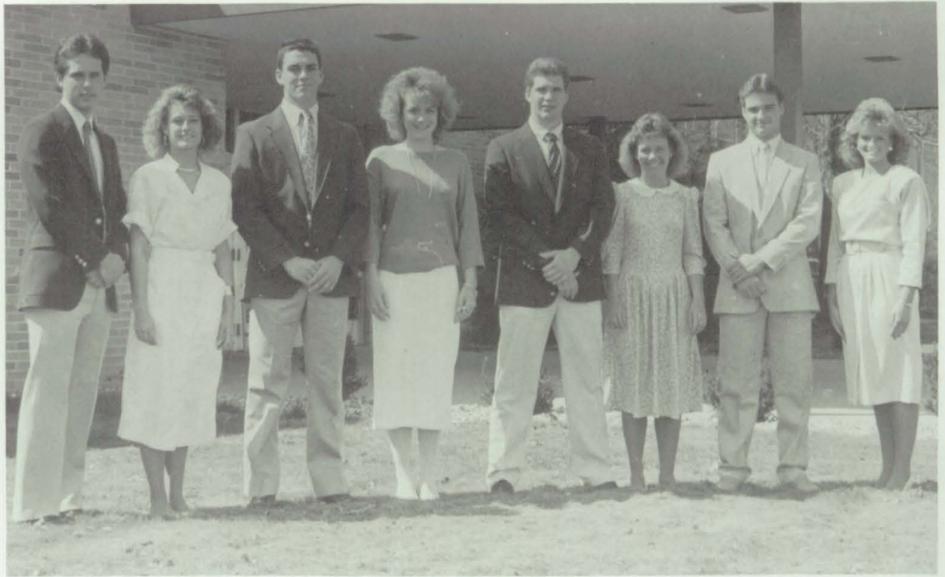

We've Had the Time

The junior class hosted the 1988 junior-senior prom. The formal prom was held at the Marion Inn from 9:00 to midnight on May 30. Over 300 tickets sold for $5.00 for seniors and $6.00 for juniors and guests.

The theme was "The Time of My Life," and the colors were royal blue, silver, and an accent of pink. The pool-side was decorated with balloons and candles. The tables were decorated with party favors consisting of glasses with mints, labeled napkins, and memory booklets.

Refreshments were served, and the Prom King and Queen were announced. Mark Watson was crowned king, and Christy Pulley was crowned queen.

Afterprom was held until 3:00 a.m. The Monte Carlo night consisted of swimming, dancing, and an auction. The students also received play money to be used in betting on horse races, playing black jack, and gambling at the craps table.

Graduation

Graduation is . . . "saying good-bye to your friends . . . expensive . . . when we have to wear those silly hats . . . a time of great joy and sadness . . . scary . . . an excuse to get presents . . . memories of long ago and just yesterday . . . frustrating . . . the times we've laughed, the times we've cried . . . hot . . . when we have to sit in alphabetical order like grade school . . . great!"

Graduation, 1988, took place on May 27 in the gymnasium. Class Valedictorians were Jenny Dunlap, Alice Gibson, and Stacie Treadway; Salutatorian was Christy Vctor. Speakers chosen by the Senior class were Vicki Sneed and John Coder.

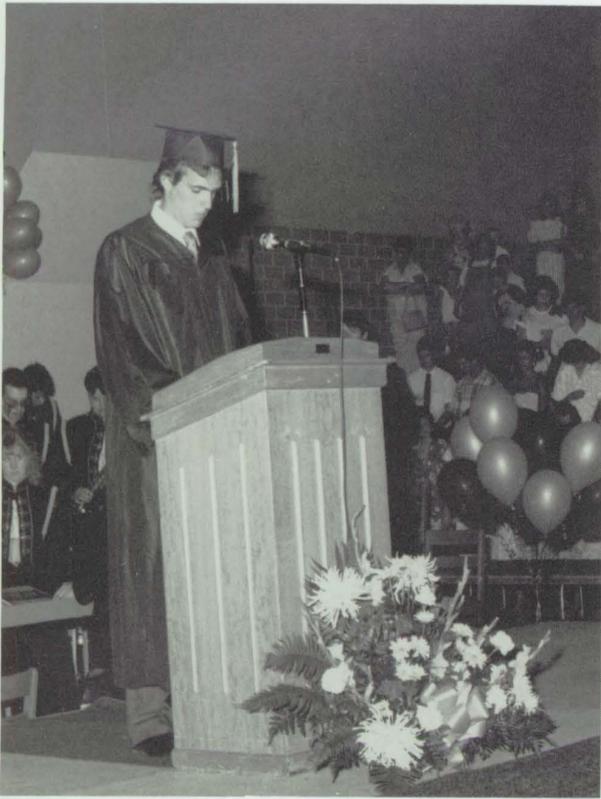

Mr. Bach says, "Move it right along, ladies and gentlemen."

Christa Cornwell gets some assistance while Mary Davis looks in the mirror for a last minute adjustment.

Mr. Bach and Dianne Miller share a thought, and Suzy Gordon helps Jason Embry with his cap.

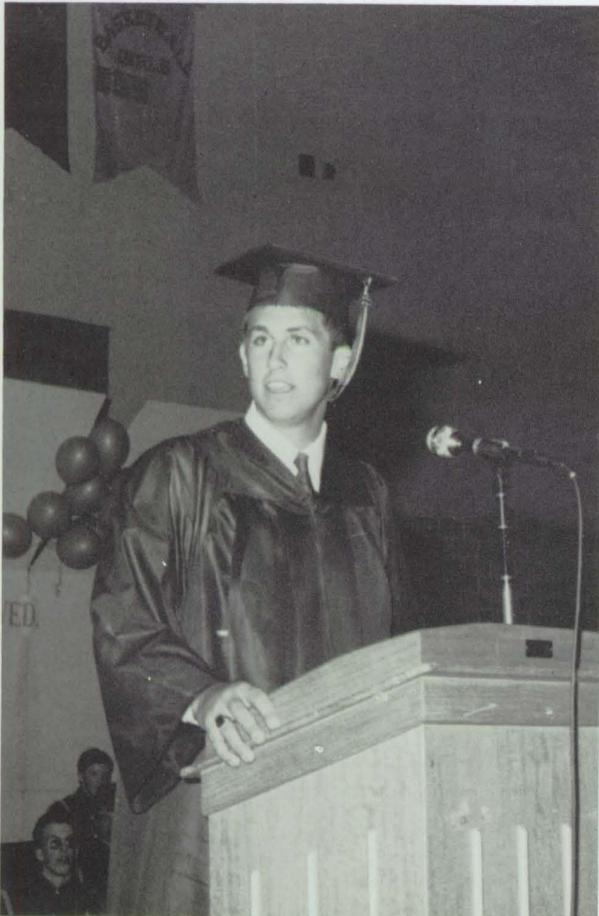

"Tying it TOGETHER"

Senior class president, Brad Hiatt, gives the invocation.

Juniors Brooke Soultz and Jay Bragg lead the processional.

John Coder challenges the class of 1988 to "soar like an eagle."

Dawn Bohlander receives her diploma from Superintendent, Dr. Robert Huff.

School Staff

The 1987-1988 board members take time out to get their picture taken. Clockwise: Mr. Simpson, Mr. Waymire, Mr. Rigsbee, Mrs. Allman, Mr. Hochenberger, Mr. Wood, Mrs. Nelson.

Dr. Huff, superintendent, smiles for the M-G photographer before a busy day begins.

Mr. John, assistant superintendent, relaxes for a minute, also.

“What’s for lunch?”; “Can anyone help get my locker open?”; “Do you know what the school schedule will be next year?”; “How do I know what bus to ride?” These and many other problems are solved by the administrative staff at the central office, the school board, and the other people who work and assist all of the students at Madison-Grant. While we may not see each of these people every day, they have an impact on our daily lives.

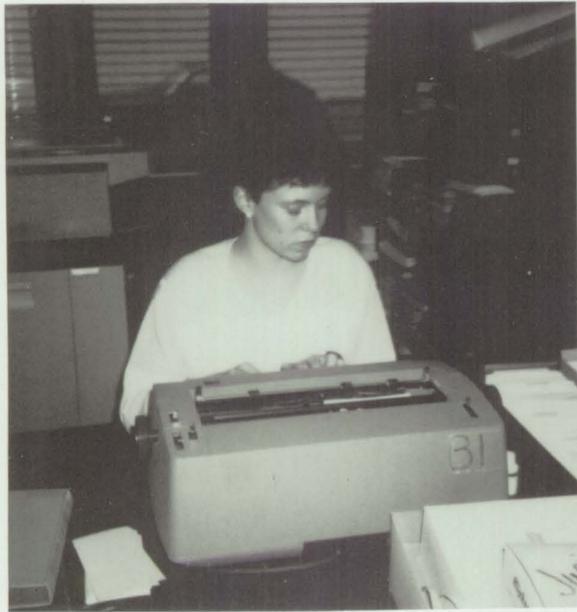

Some of the cafeteria staff stand and watch as the senior citizens come to visit M-G.

Mrs. Echelbarger works in the bookstore and also works for Mr. Harbit in the athletic office in her spare time.

Mrs. Sizelove spends her time working in the library.

Advertising

Each year, staff members of the neObliviscaris spend many hours soliciting ads from businesses and individuals.

The money that advertisers pay to have their ads shown in the neObliviscaris yearbook helps pay one-third of the cost of the yearbook. Without advertisers, our yearbook would be too expensive for most students to purchase.

Advertisers also help our community by providing jobs for M-G students, donating game balls to the athletic department, advertising in the sports programs, and helping to increase the growth of our community.

We salute and thank those businesses which support and encourage the activities at Madison-Grant High School.

Yearbook Staff

The 1987-1988 neObliviscaris yearbook staff would like to take this time to thank everyone who took part in making this yearbook possible. There are many people behind the scenes who do not get the thanks that they deserve.

Our yearbook is published by Herff Jones, the same company which supplies the freshmen with class rings, the sophomores with class jackets, and the seniors with graduation announcements. Each year the Herff Jones company sends the same representative, Mr. Larry Glaze, to help us, and each year he does an outstanding job.

The secretaries in the office also have a lot of patience with our staff, as we spend much of our time down there copying materials or making various phone calls.

Also, Mrs. Hanes, our yearbook advisor, should take much of the credit for this yearbook. She has spent numerous hours and headaches on each page. Without her help, dedication, patience, and knowledge, this yearbook would not have been possible.

We hope you, the M-G students, enjoy this book of memories. We have spent a lot of time and energy on this book and we think it was well worth it. We hope you think so, too.

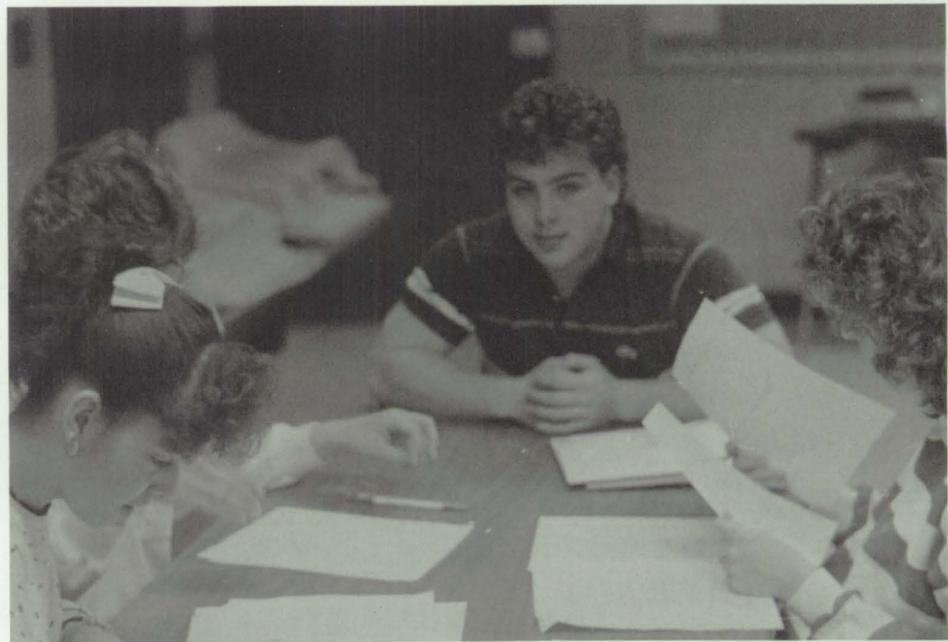

Thank you,

Editor, Melissa Ann Harbit

Asst. Editor, Anita Kay Marley

The neObliviscaris yearbook staff is as follows: Row one: Christy Pulley, Jenny McGibbon, Missy Harbit, Anita Marley, Kari Toulis, Christa Cornwell, and Sheri Stanley. Row two: Jason Thompson, Jill Payne, Scott Carpenter, Tony Miering, Dawn Thomas, and Martin vLvP. Row three: Garin Gough, Eric Clevenger, and Mark Hasty.

Jason Thompson supervises the work of Missy Harbit, Anita Marley, and Jill Payne.

Mrs. Hanes, the yearbook advisor, gives serious attention to a staff member's work.
