Learning to Live

Is it not seeing the beauty,
With which we are so blessed?
The unfurling of Nature's own,
Creating such happiness.

Is it not our daily pace,
Down the street to school?
The art of our application
Of the universal Golden Rule?

Is it not learning,
When to follow and how to lead?
Is it not to dwell on today,
To Strive and Succeed?

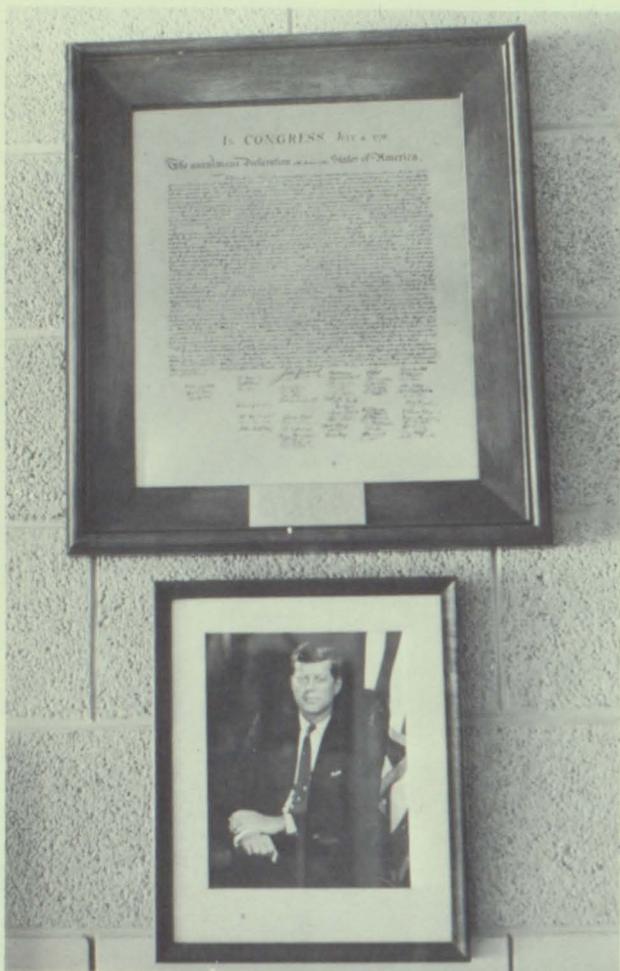

Is it not forgetting to take,
But remembering always to give?
Is it not all these things,
Learning to Live?

THROUGH SCHOOL LIFE, WE ARE FORMING

Character is illustrated in many small ways, such as friendship. Joe Isenburg lends a hand to Dave Vinson during lunch hour.

Advice, counsel, and instruction are given to the basketball squad by Coach Webb. His influence is shown by the team and their attitudes.

CHARACTER DESIGNED TO MEET THE FUTURE

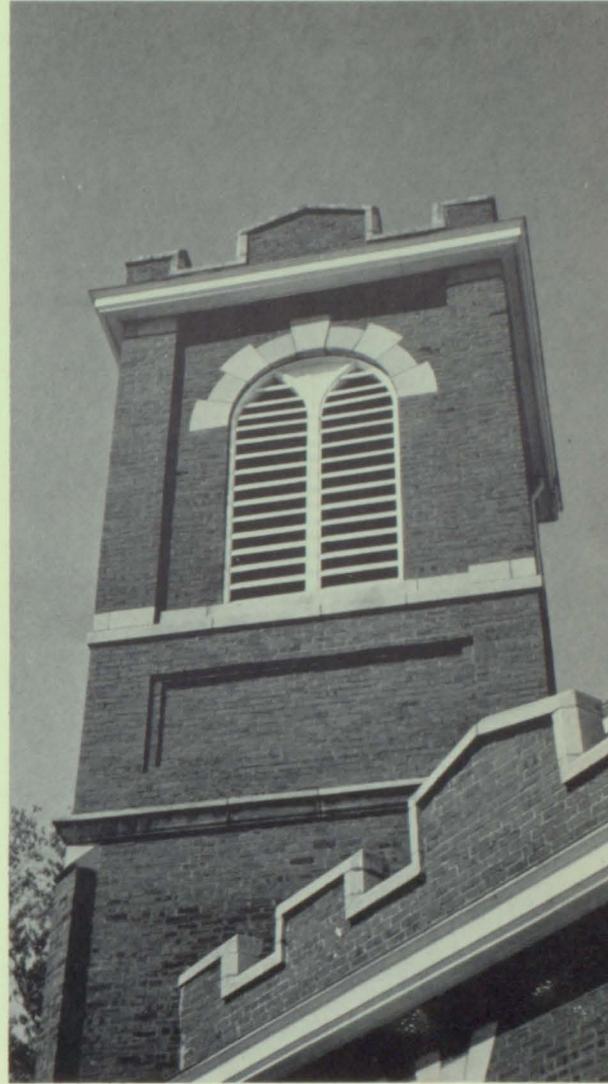

Character often reflects the home scene. The distribution of report cards calls for a family discussion at the Hiatt household.

An individual may be distinguished by his character. Superior qualities, intellectual and moral traits, and expression of our ideals combine to form a reputation of considerable value.

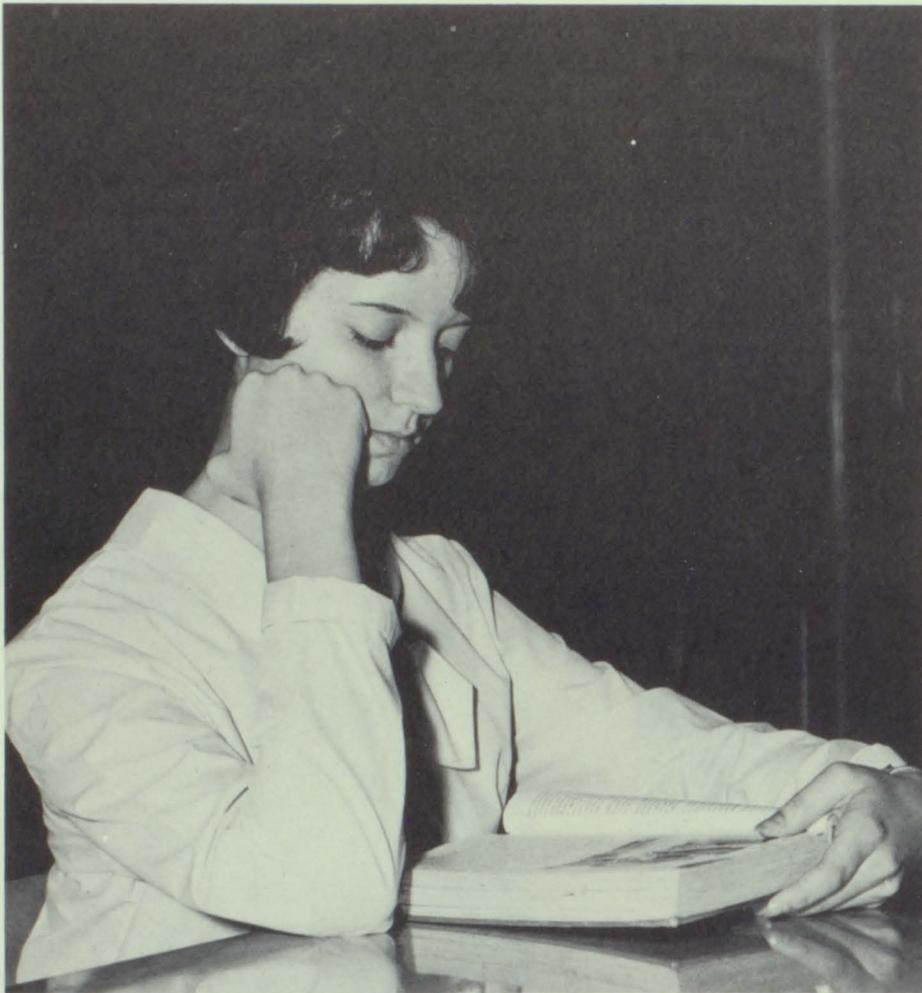

Our worth is developed in numerous ways. Daily influences leave a deep mark in our character, and self-discipline contributes immensely. School is a basis for our development, for here we are taught through influence and discipline. However, the growth of character in our school life is but a portion of its complete development.

We are seeking to know ourselves in all aspects, in order to better meet our objectives. Our character determines the impression we leave with others.

Religion--an inescapable part of life.

OUR DAILY LIVES RELY UPON

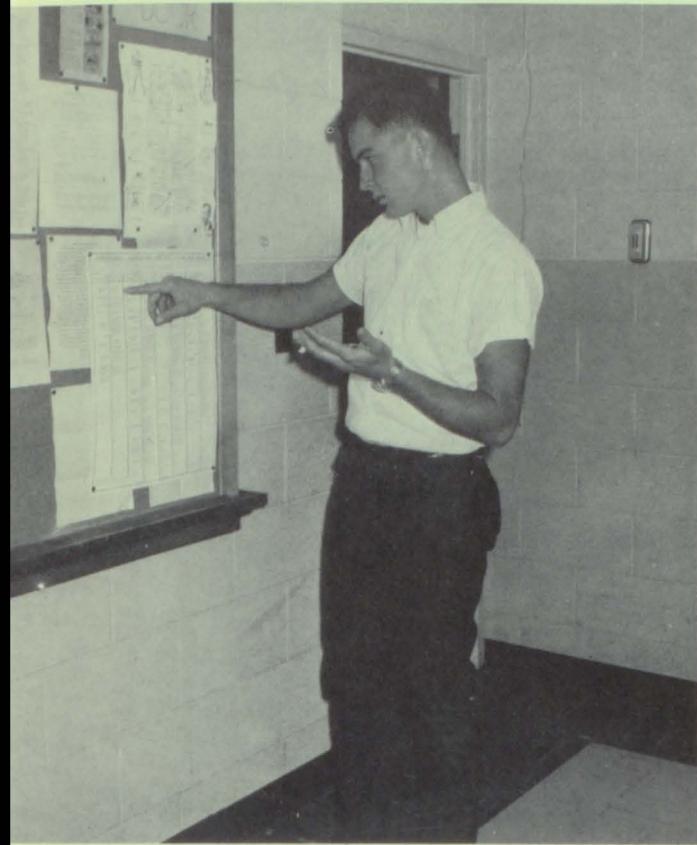

Becky shows us the face of learning.

Every day we experience and acknowledge new ideas and ideals to which we set our pace of life. Through our individual strife and exhaustion great boundries of learning are conquered but we have yet to achieve the efficiency of facing oncoming challenges. With the guidance from educated minds, our development grows as we gradually work for success. Upon reaching this goal satisfaction is our reward. Our lives rely upon the knowledge gained thus far as well as future preparation and experience.

KNOWLEDGE

The valedictorian trophy is the climaxing award.

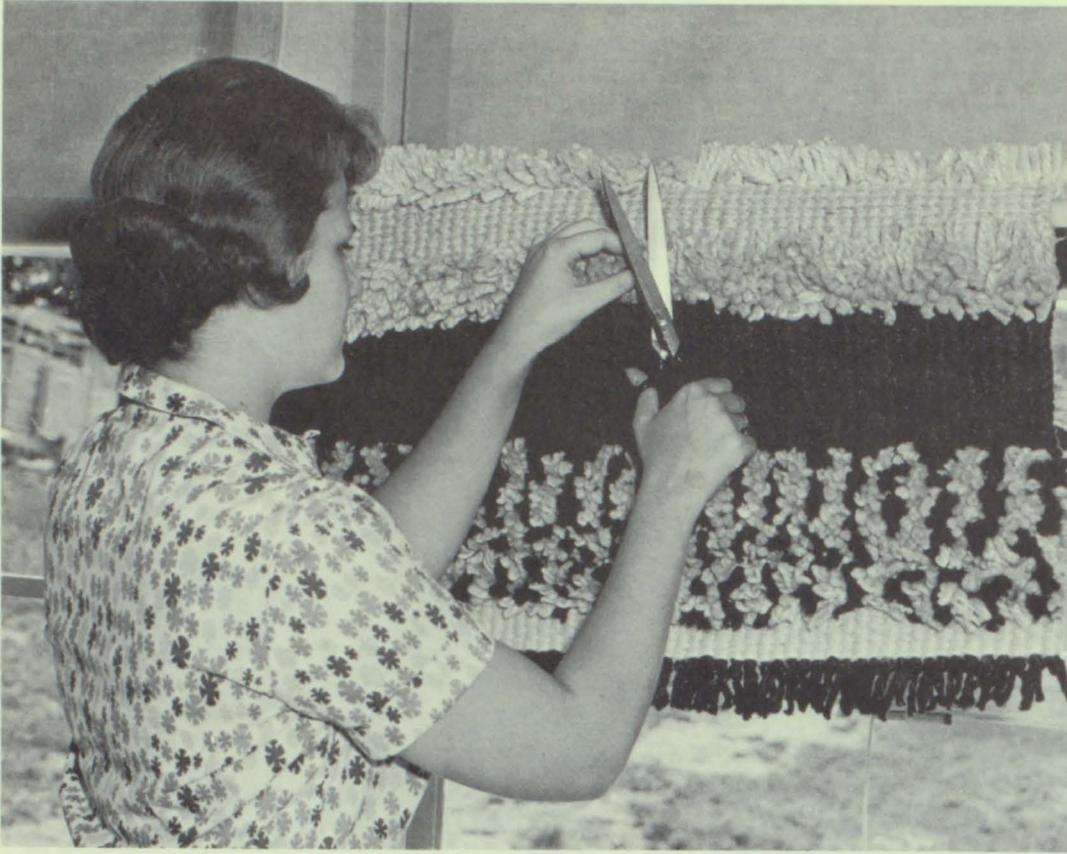

John scored high on the Air Force aptitude test.

Gloria wins the Spelling Bee.

National Honor Society stands for honest Labor and Learning.

Inhibited sources of talent are revealed in class

ENJOYING LIFE BY LEARNING

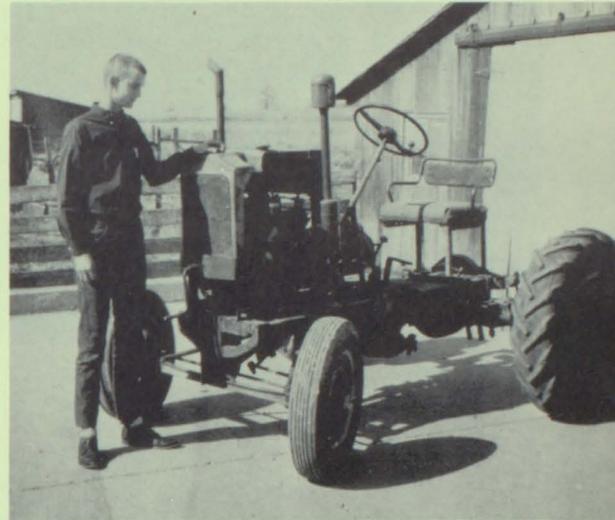

Everyone has some type of talent. No matter whether the abilities are large or small it is the duty of the individual to seek and find his own. It is his duty to use them for the betterment of himself and mankind while trying to attain a full life.

In the educational process the instructor attempts to uncover the talents of the student and guide him in the development of his skills. The development of such skills is essential in experiencing a productive and fruitful life.

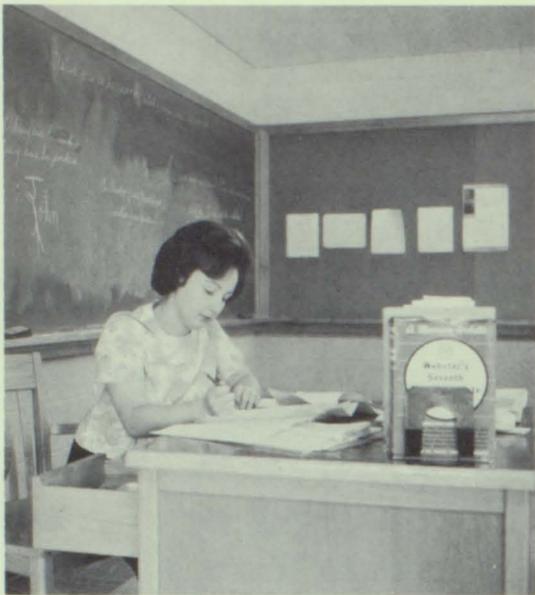

Extra-curricular activities are provided for natural abilities

"I made it myself" He has found the satisfaction of creating.

THROUGH DOING

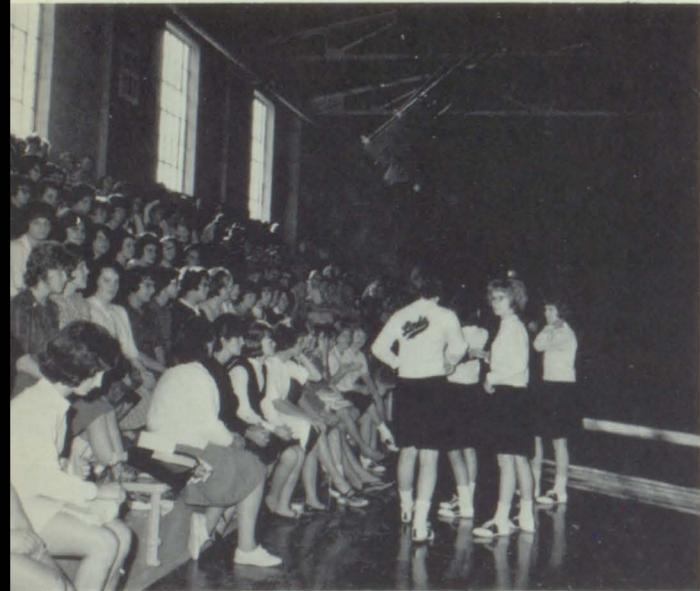

Mrs. Phelps spends hours checking papers.

Pam and Suzanne make the final check of the stencil for the Goblin Gazette.

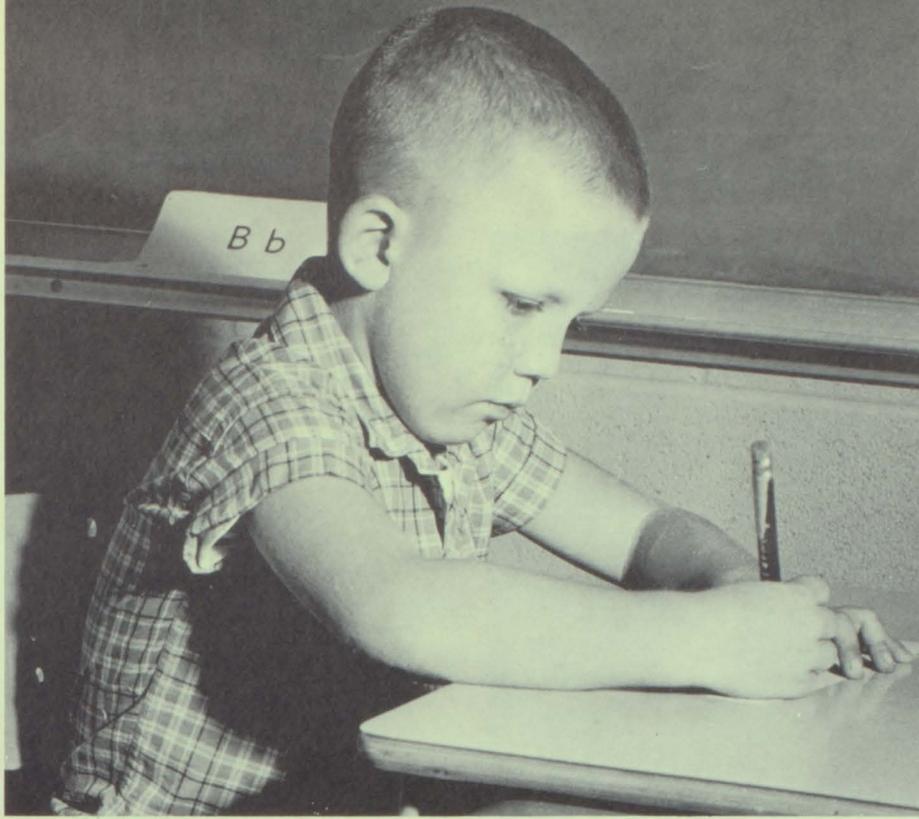

ACCOMPLISHMENTS GROW

Cheerleaders with cheerblock work to encourage school spirit.

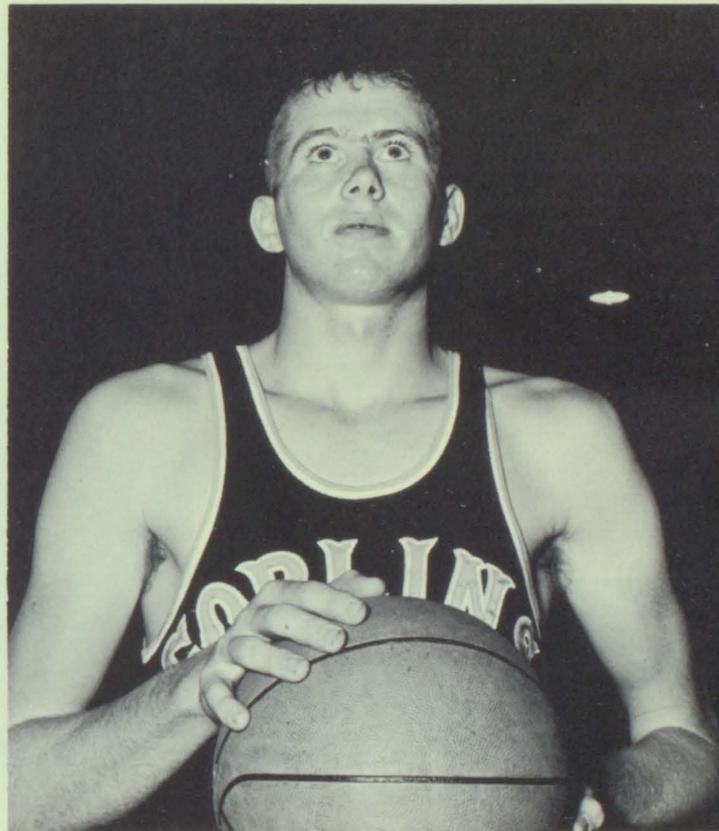

As top magazine salesman, Jim rang many doorbells.

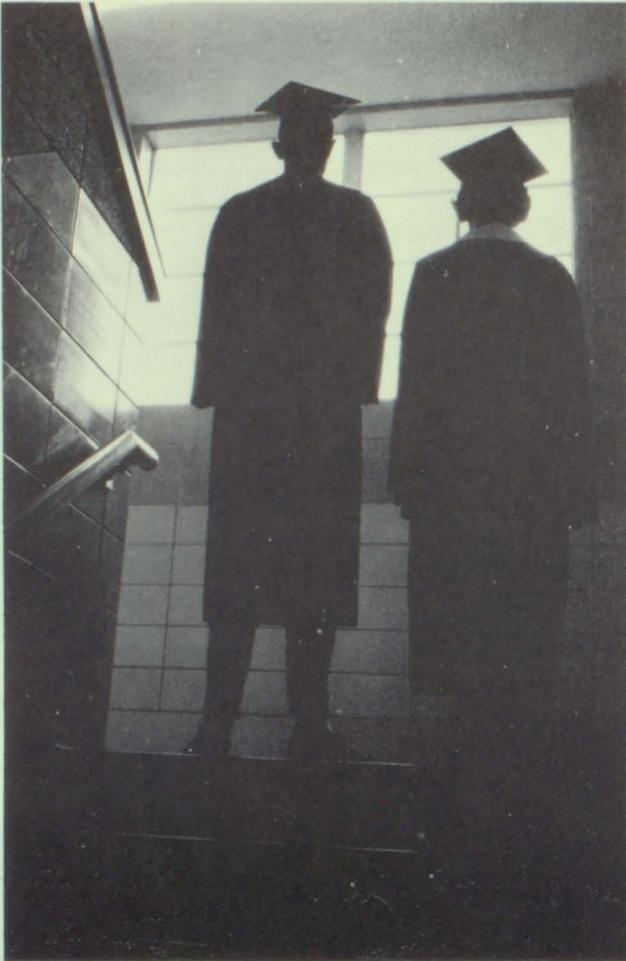

Writing your name takes concentration.

THROUGH EFFORT

Strenuous work is the result of hours of trial and toil. Everyone puts forth an undying effort to reach the ultimate goals in life. By striving to excel in a specific field, we enrich and develop our environment. These efforts are not only directed toward aiding ourselves, but toward benefiting others. Work and recreation long to be accomplished by the exertion thrust forth by all.

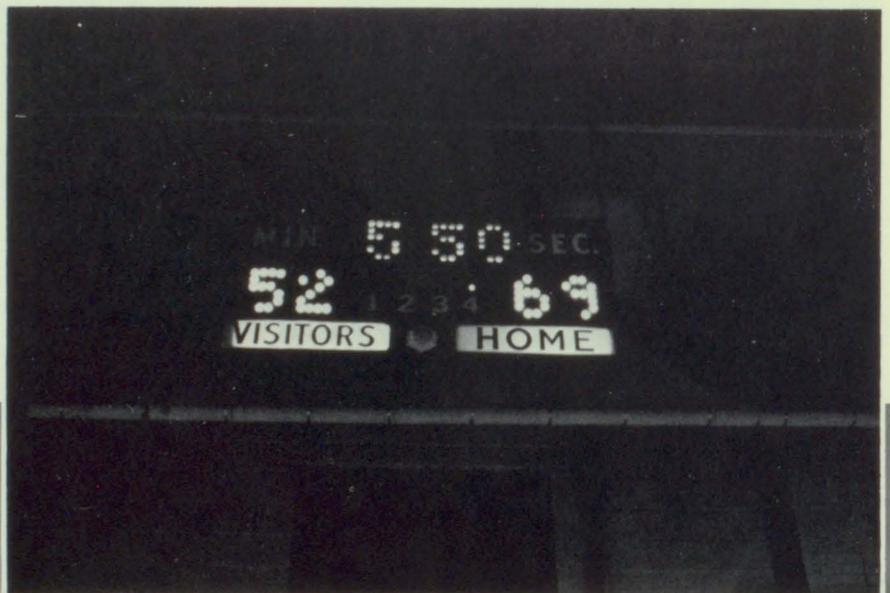

ATTAINING SUCCESS IN LIFE IS

In today's changing world success has come to mean numerous things. Most people in modern society base their success, as well as that of others, upon wealth and position. Yet, success is actually an individual effort. Everyone has an ultimate goal he hopes to reach. This is obtained by his own personal ability and effort. If one has completed a deed to the best of his ability he has truly succeeded.

During school each person sets certain goals which must be reached in order to obtain success. School prepares one for these future aims which he works hard to attain. Every achievement serves only as a small stepping stone in life. One should always be looking toward a future target which is harder to hit but much more rewarding.

Graduation marks the beginning of a new challenge.

Teamwork brings success.

A NEVER-ENDING GOAL

Looking to the future.

Throughout our twelve years at school we meet many different people. Both students and faculty members become a part of our life which will never be forgotten.

As the classes continue, all is not work but a balance of academic and social life essential to our fulfillment of satisfaction. We must remember to work together but retain our individualism.

PEOPLE

ADMINISTRATION LABOURS TO IMPROVE

Superintendent, Dr. Karl Speckhard, prepares for another board meeting.

The students of Summitville High School and the surrounding community owe a great deal of thanks to the new administration and Mr. Absher. They spend many endless hours working for the betterment of the school facilities and individual opportunities.

ALL ELEMENTS OF SCHOOL FOUNDATION

SKILLFUL PERSONNEL SERVES WILLINGLY

The secretarial duties which Agnes Moyer performs add up to hard work. But she attacks all tasks pleasantly and quite capably.

Charles Messler, Elementary Supervisor, often discusses the needs of the elementary students with Mr. Absher.

OFFICE HELP--Peggy Goacher, Pat Bogue, Suzanne Barley, Alice Petty, Pam Bogue, Linda Hendricks, Cheryl Watts, Sharon Armstrong, Janis Johnson, Judy King, and Linda Jones.

PERSONNEL WORK FOR THE EFFICIENCY OF

Nutritious meals are prepared daily by our cooks: Belva Forrest; June Seacott; supervisor; Margaret Leechman; and Doris Frazier.

"Behind-the-scene knowledge" is necessary to maintain the school's cleanliness. Our janitors, Mr. and Mrs. Ward, are always on the job, working for the betterment of S. H. S.

Pat Bogue, Mike Vinson, Dave Kirkwood, Linda Hendricks, Ralph Fields, Steve Smith, and Norma Spencer, find that working together as cafeteria helpers is also fun.

SCHOOL ORGANIZATION

Don Gossett was recently appointed to the position of Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds of the Madison-Grant School Corporation.

Our bus drivers, Tom Bair, Wilma Joyner, Art Watts, Betty Bogue, and Ralph Thurston, daily deliver their charges to the doors of S. H. S.

The Safety Patrol boys, Jerry Hughes, Steve Byrd, Gerald Elsworth, Paul Roberts, Gary Barnhart, Jim Treadway, Steve Streets, and Stanley Gibson, under the direction of Mr. Absher, help to insure the safety of the students.

SENIORS

Carol Robinson
President

As our Senior year ends we begin to drift into the adult world, but we pause a moment and look back with fond and pleasant thoughts to the many events which have made our high school years together such memorable ones.

Here we have learned that stepping toward success can be fun as well as work. Beginning with our Freshman year and the selection of our maroon and white sweaters and jackets, we scaled the ladder to the Sophomore level and to the selection of our rings with great excitement and pride. As Juniors we set a new school record for magazine sales; and our play "We Shook the Family Tree," along with our prom "Moon River", highlighted great moments to remember.

Finally, our much awaited Senior year arrived! Here we began with a record-breaking sale of yearbook advertisements. Ordering pictures, caps and gowns, and announcements left us with a "never again" feeling, adding sadness to our glory. The last long walk down the hall and the final slam of the old locker door just didn't seem the same. Graduation is here.

The 'Class of 1965' would like to express our deepest appreciation to the faculty members - especially to our devoted sponsor, Mrs. Phelps, our principal, Mr. Absher and our parents--for all their fine efforts in helping us "Learn to Live."

The most important phase of learning at school is our academic program which is the real reason for school attendance. Through group and class activities we learn and compete as individuals for our standing on the ladder of knowledge. Although much homework, numerous headaches, heavy schedules and tedious thinking, appear, many rewards are received. Among these are experience, self-satisfaction, and the much needed knowledge which forms a basis for our future.

As Mr. Kurtz stands before the U. S. History class, the juniors show intense interest.

SOCIAL STUDIES WIDEN SCOPE OF EVENTS

Peggy discovers that knowledge of foreign countries makes geography more enjoyable.

The Seniors listen as Mr. Stone explains the complications of our voting system.

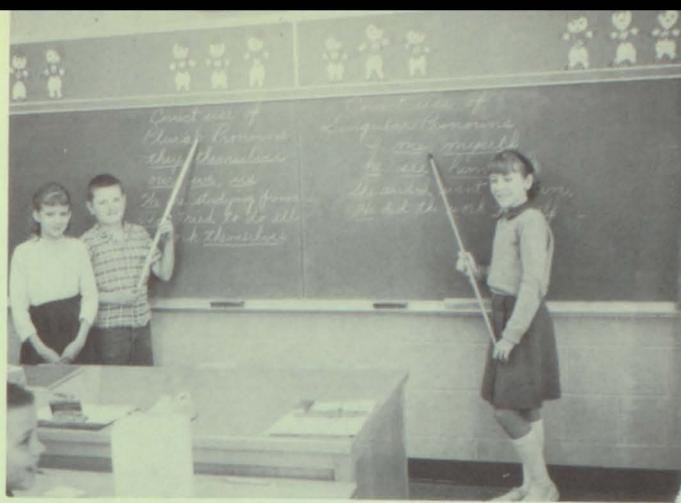

The group discussion of current events keeps the Sophomores informed on today's happenings.

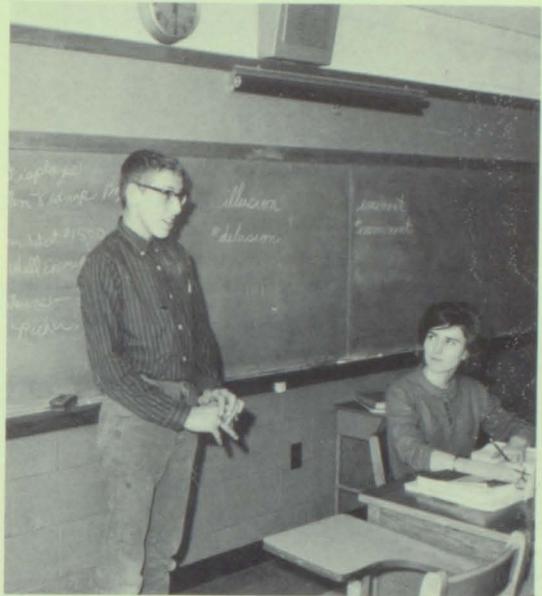

LANGUAGE LEARNING IN ACTION

These students find it easier to understand the Spaniards if they develop a knowledge of customs and cultures.

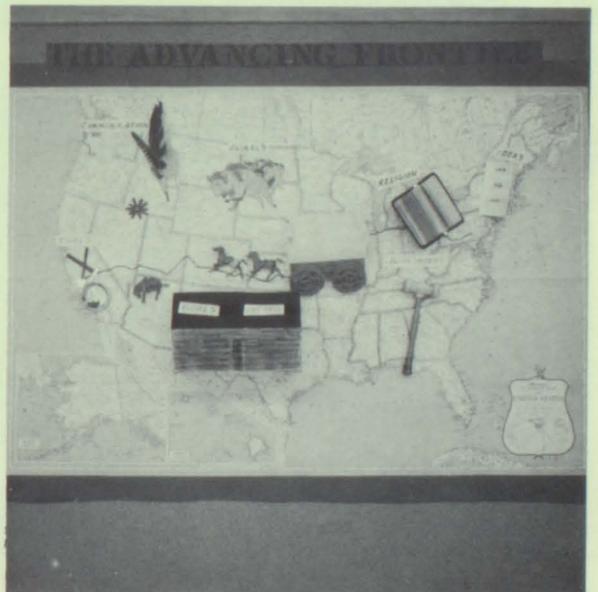

The fifth graders discover more difficult phases of English.

Miss Wasson displays her approval as Charles Hasty recites his speech.

These bulletin boards allow you to travel from a bullfight in Spain.

... to the Advancing Frontier.

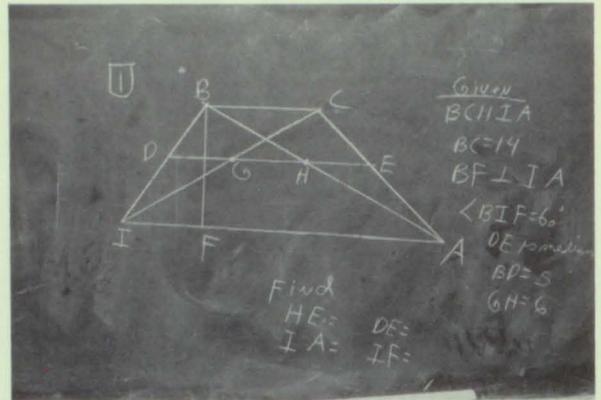

MATH PROVIDES GROUNDWORK FOR FUTURE

Trigonometry has its funnier moments, too.

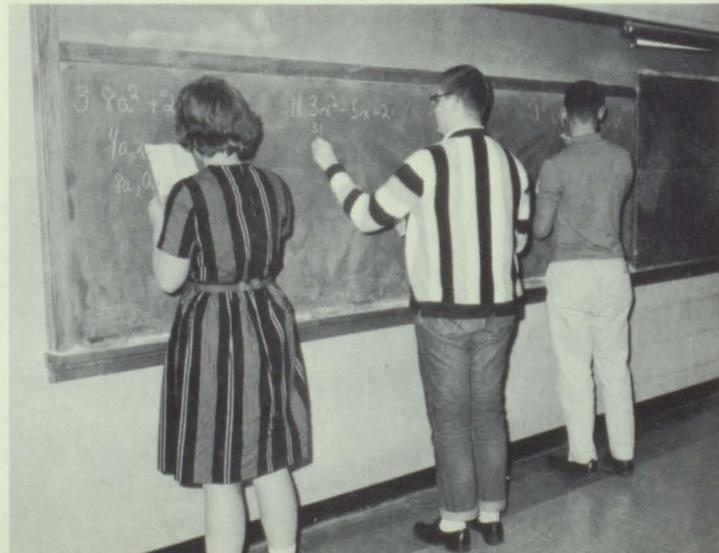

Learning a few fundamentals of geometry keeps seventh graders busy.

Knowing your A B C's is essential in geometry.

Boardwork provides a variation for Algebra I students.

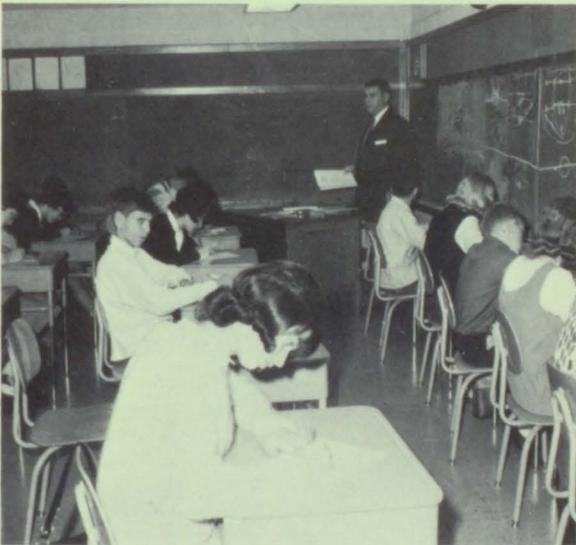

PREPARING FOR TOMORROW'S WORLD

Due to this two-way telephone Beverly Benton is able to communicate with her classmates and teachers.

Terry and Ken learn basics of mechanical drawing.

Mr. Webb helps eighth graders increase understanding of science.

Experiment aids understanding in chemistry.

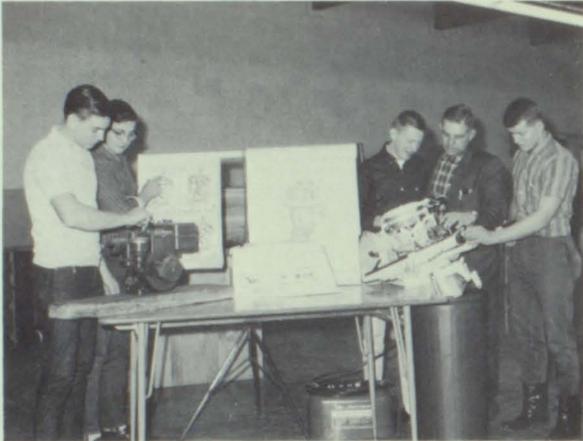

OUR VOCATIONAL

Mr. Gossett helps build the foundation of not only a bird house but a knowledge of agriculture.

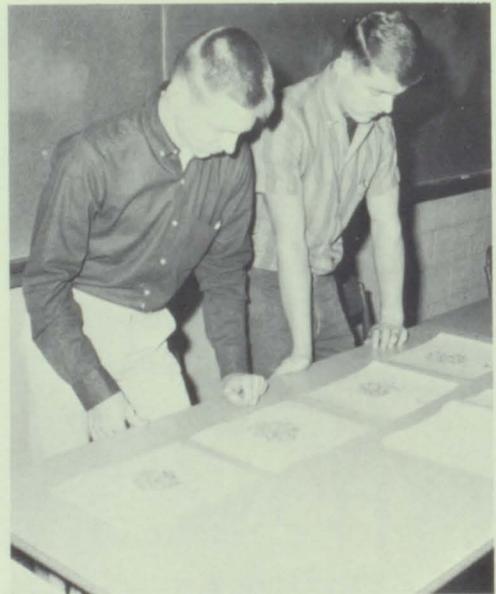

Mr. Coleman instructs busy Freshmen in caring for our school lawn.

Mr. Coleman reveals to the Farm Shop students the construction of a motor.

Accuracy is a must when working at the drawing board.

One of the fields of agriculture Tim and Bob must investigate, is the judging of seeds.

DEPARTMENTS

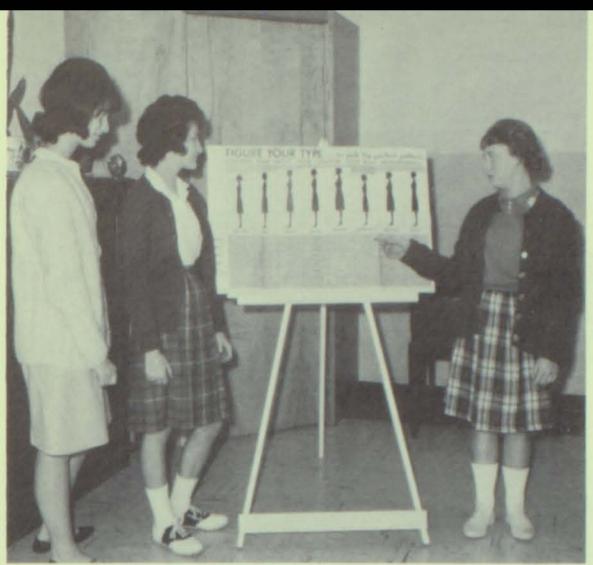

The seventh grade girls find it necessary to learn the location of needed ingredients.

Serving at Open House

A child care course prepares the Sophomore girls for future family roles.

The eighth grade girls must learn to distinguish their figure and pattern types.

Betty Farmer demonstrates the necessity of hand care to the Freshman class.

Senior home management class stresses the careful planning and furnishing of a house.

PREPARING FOR THE BUSINESS WORLD

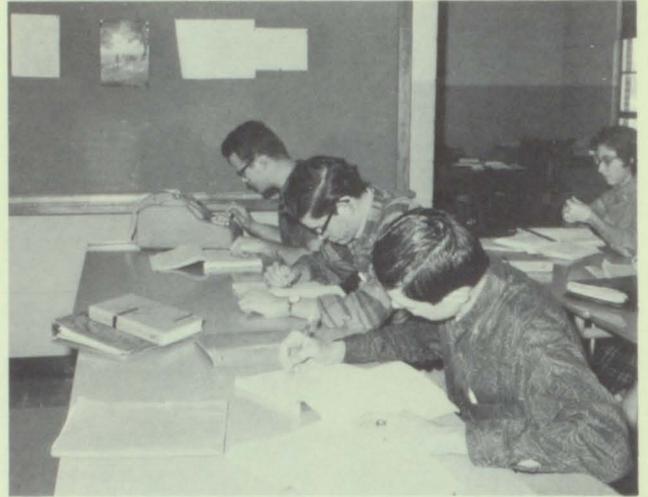

A Dictaphone offers Sarah a real office experience.

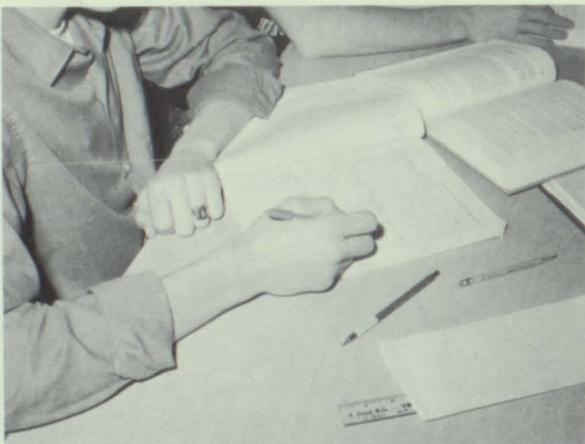

The mimeoscope, an illuminated drawing board, is used for preparing pictures in Gazette.

News in print.

Now Ralph can blame the adding machine for those errors.

Bookkeeping encourages a steady hand.

Perfection

smiles!

TALENTS DEVELOP THROUGH FINE ARTS

Mrs. Carter helps Terry with his "little man".

LaVonne, Darlene, and Karen smile after hearing their rates from ISMA Music Contest.

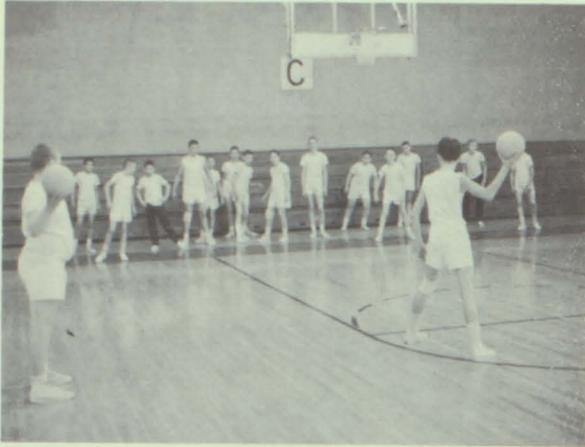

A handy name tree for Open House.

Future musicians, under the direction of Mr. Baker.

Also receiving glory for S.H.S. were Terry, Dwight, Jon, and Jim.

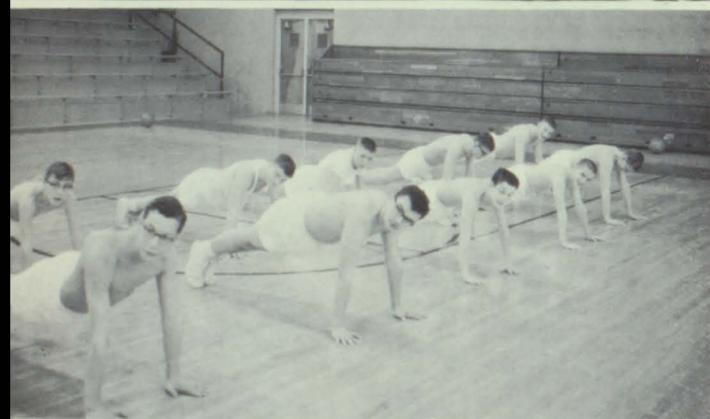

The seventh grade develops their stamina and sportsmanship during their first year of physical education.

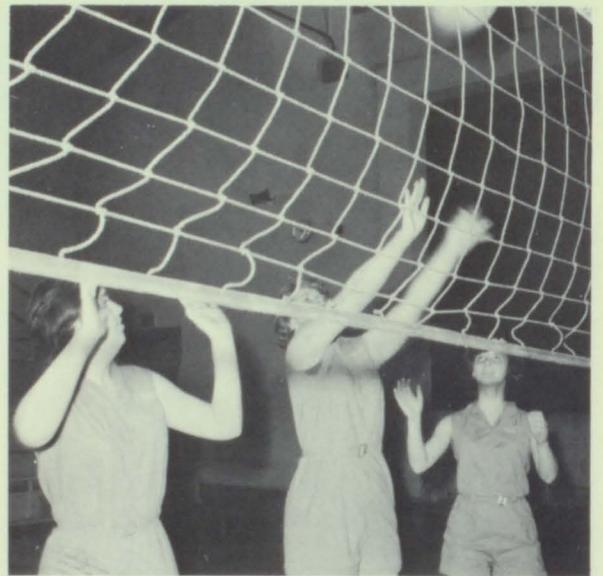

The aches and pains which accompany tumbling are soon forgotten after phys. ed. students become proficient in the art.

PHYSICAL FITNESS IS EMPHASIZED

Calisthenics enable the boys to display their skills while keeping their muscles in tune.

The mounting excitement of a volleyball tournament is merely one phase of the complete phys. ed. course.

CARS AND LIBRARIES BECOME CLASSROOMS

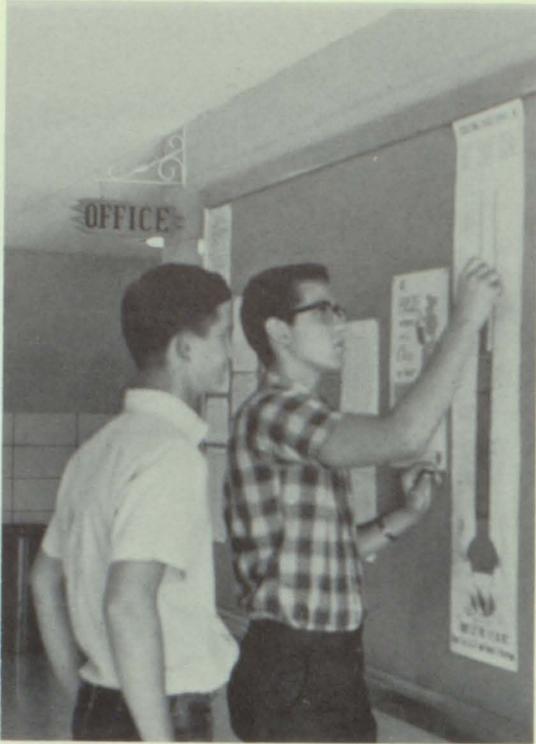

Janet Weesner, Mark Buroker, Dave Vinson, and Margo Waltz find that practice does not necessarily make a perfect driver, but it certainly helps in becoming a skilled one.

Among the duties of a librarian is checking out material to inquiring students.

Our lives are greatly enriched, not only through everyday studies and work, but also through our experience in individual and group activities. We receive discipline and guidance from our instructors. In addition, group activities help to develop those qualities necessary for our relationships with people.

Our own goals and accomplishments depend on personal projection of our abilities, creations, and desires. The variety of school organizations and elective courses offer some answers to our needs of recreation and recognition.

ACTIVITIES

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS GAIN HONORS

Chosen as representatives and alternates to Hoosier Girls and Boys State were Linda Jones, Paul Thurston, Gary Williams, and Judy King. During a week's stay at Indiana University, Linda and Gary participated with others from all parts of Indiana in an organized program of a political nature. As a result, they are more aware of their responsibilities and obligations as active citizens.

STUDENTS' VOICE HEARD THROUGH COUNCIL

"President Johnson" and assistants Sharon and Tim talley votes for Miss Gold and Mr. Black.

Carol Robinson and John Grimme reigned as Miss Gold and Mr. Black during the 1965 Sectional pep rally.

STAFF

Miss Slain, Sponsor

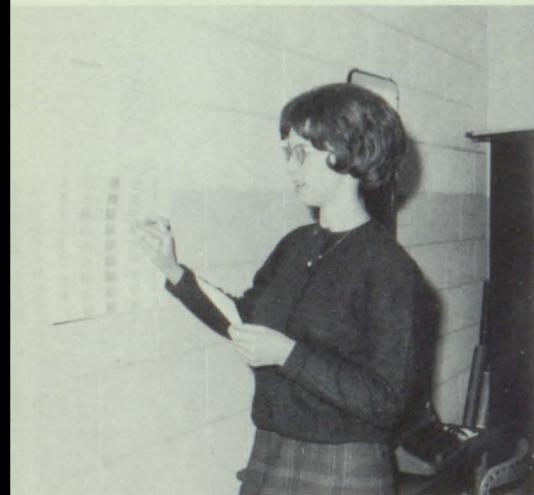

Mrs. Phelps, Adviser

This is our staff. We are not large in number nor are we great masterminds, but we have worked long, hard, and steady hours to bring you this publication of the 1964-65 Oak Leaves.

We are extremely grateful to those who helped us complete our task. A special note of thanks goes to the Senior Class for their hard work and success in selling advertisements, and to Mrs. Phelps for her time and the ink from her little red pen.

We would also like to express our deep appreciation to Miss Slain, our sponsor. Only she could have put up with the many setbacks and problems in our efforts to meet the ever-so-short deadlines. To her we owe more than can be expressed in these few words.

Our goal has been to present a book packed with meaning and memories. Our success is your decision.

NOT ONLY DID WE MAKE THE FAMILY TREE

Hildegard! All this for a man?

Freddie just can't understand why his knickers always introduce an outburst of laughter.

Cinda appears to have reverted to childhood fancies.

TREMBLE, BUT WE SHOOK PEMBROKE'S SCHOOL

A large audience was shaking with laughter as members of the Junior Class play went through crisis after crisis of "We Shook the Family Tree." This was the first play to be presented on the new stage and the Juniors were very elated at its success.

Then as Seniors, they presented "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick," a three-act comedy about a guidance counselor and his problems with teachers, pupils, and even a new female counselor. Although the stage floor was no longer new and shiny, the play cast retained its original glow.

After this brief encounter with the world of the stage, all agree that "There's no business like show business."

Some of Pembroke's faculty members consider the office a complaint department.

"Well, Mrs. Maggs, it looks like I'll have to give you an "F" on under-the-desk discipline."

Dreams come true for our Queen throughout the enchanting evening.

PROM

'64

M-oon light falls
O-n clouds, like a silver canopy
O-ver the enchanted night,
N-ever to be forgotten.

R-olling along, like a river, as
I-f there is never an end.
V-ibrant with life, an
E-verlasting evening,
R-eocurrence . . . never again.

Sharon Merrill passes on the sparkling Honor to Linda Jones, as the attendants, Suzanne Barley and Carol Robinson, look on.

As the evening's breeze brushed across their faces, smiles could only come.

Peggy Goacher and Janice Johnson serve sparkling punch to the guests.

"And the band played on . . ."

Like beauty, sports are only skin deep. Underneath that skin lies a lot of work. High school sports have become an important part of our society. It takes a lot of effort from a lot of people to make a team tick.

There are the "butlers of sports," the frantic student managers. They wash and they dry. They polish and they sweep. These boys do just about anything that has to be done in so little time. Why?

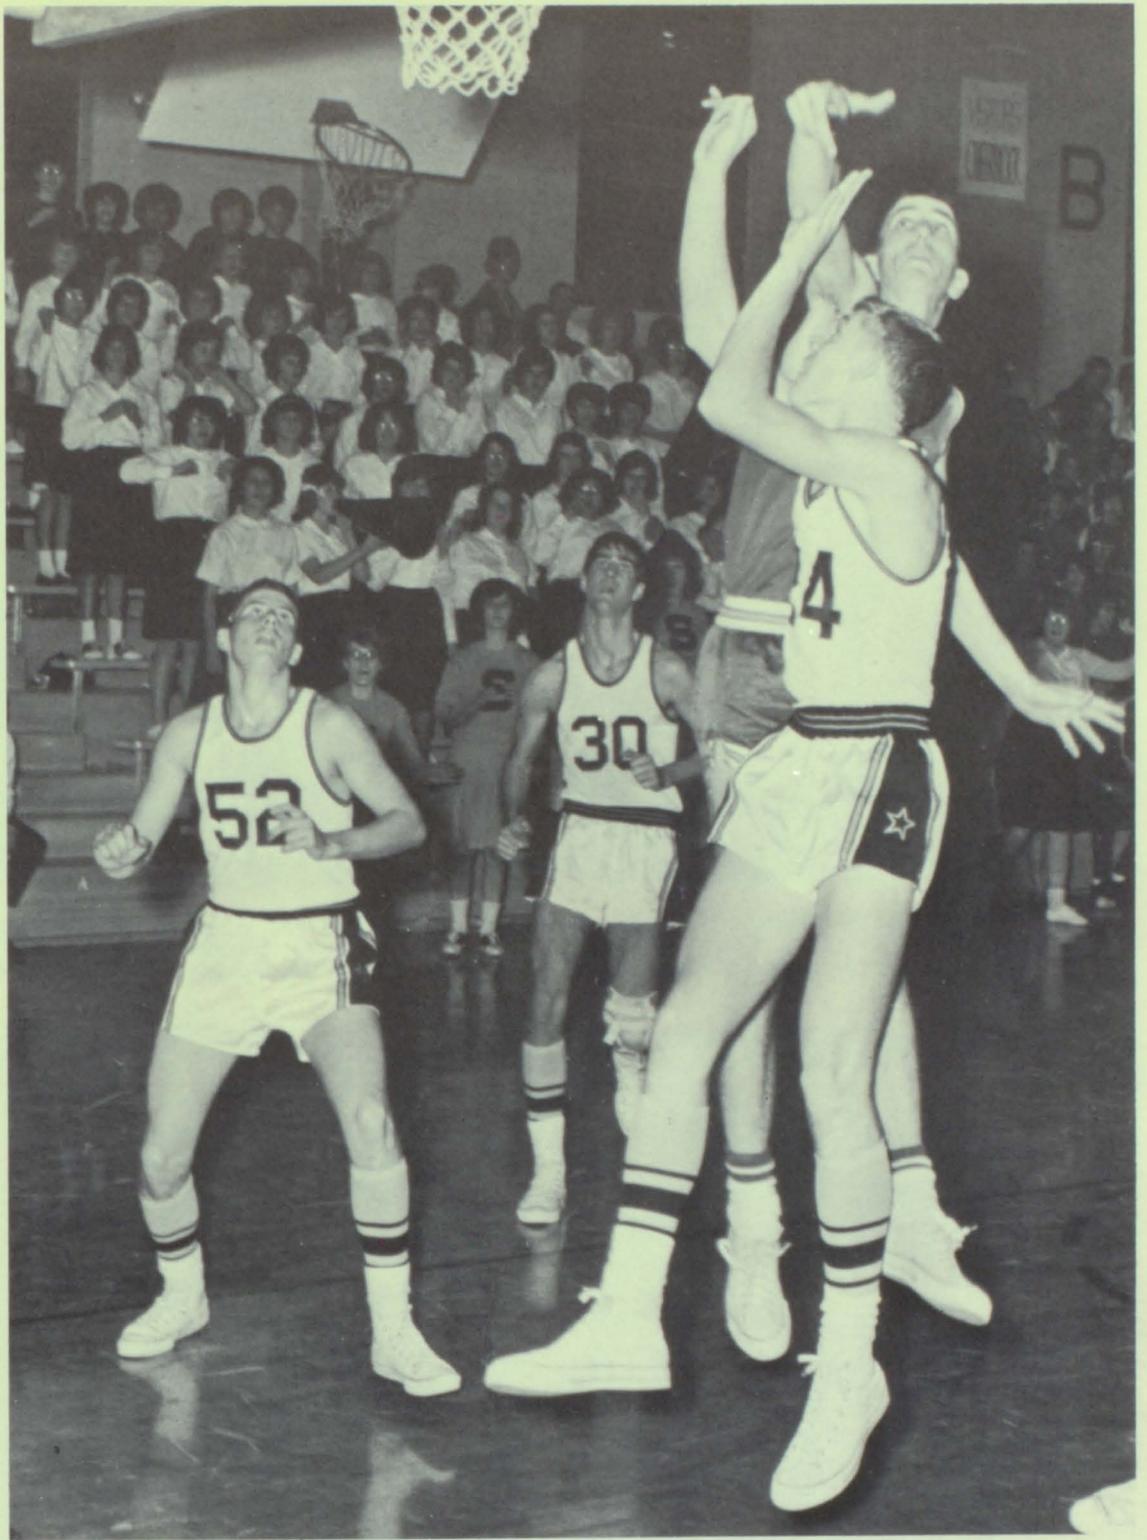

A coach is a team's second father, brother, or uncle. He is a manager's boss and a player's psychiatrist. He is a teacher, but a boy can bring his troubles to this teacher. A coach can push the team so hard that his boys will drive all the harder just to show him it can be done. On the night before the big event a coach may get five or six hours of sleep. Why?

The high school member of a squad is a cog in a great wheel. He must learn co-operation and a calm sense of sportsmanship. This boy "sweats out" his anger and displays a little disgust in a grueling practice session that often brings bruises and painful blisters. The lad is hard pressed to produce and under this necessary strain he eventually will. Why?

The answer to all three questions is approximately the same. The participants in our high school athletics gain a sense of pride and satisfaction that's inexplicable. They're the ones who can easily be spotted in a crowd. These are the men who walk tall because they wear the black and gold for S.H.S!

- 43. Natural ability or talent for a given work.
- 47. In support of.
- 54. A branch of study concerning the observation and classification of facts.

If you've correctly filled in the spaces above, you may have already answered "yes" to the question.

It's for sure you're curious. You're a self-starter who takes pleasure in tackling problems. (We know because you just did!) That gives us something in common.

We at Delco-Remy are always solving "puzzles," looking into the unknown for answers that can improve our products. And why not? We're geared for it.

Our new Engineering and Research facility in Anderson provides our problem-probing team with the most completely equipped center of its kind in the world—including an electron microscope that can magnify samples up to 200,000 diameters . . . and a spectrograph that enables us to analyze materials for their metallic elements to an accuracy of one part in a million.

Maybe you'd like to develop things like electronic ignition systems for cars or control devices for missiles. The challenge is great, of course. But so are the rewards and accomplishments.

If you feel at home in Indiana . . . and in a scientific atmosphere, you'll be right at home at Delco-Remy. Look us up after college. We'll keep a couple of problems on ice for you.

FAMILIAR FACES

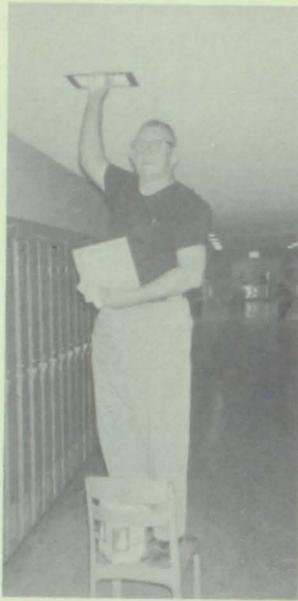

"Sure glad the day's over, I'm bushed!"

Genius at work.

Cheryl and Linda attended Indiana University last summer, organizing the 1965 Oak Leaves.

Watts in your hand, Mr. Ward?

--and they said it was a rough class!

The cafeteria help must be waiting for a white tomado!

A familiar face?

This proved to be a "double-take".
